

The Book of REMEMBRANCES

KITĀB AL-ADHKĀR

Imām Yahya ibn Sharaf an-Nawawī

Revised and edited by
MUHAMMAD ISA WALEY

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

The Book of REMEMBRANCES

KITĀB AL-ADHKĀR

The Book of
REMEMBRANCES

K I T Ā B A L - A D H K Ā R

Imām Yaḥya ibn Sharaf an-Nawawī

Revised and edited by

MUHAMMAD ISA WALEY

TURATH PUBLISHING

2014

© Copyright: 1435/2014, Turath Publishing

ISBN: 978-1-906949-19-8

Published by:

Turath Publishing

79 Mitcham Road

London SW17 9PD

+44-20-8767-3666

www.turath.co.uk

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in any retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or otherwise, without written permission of the publishers.

Author

Imam Yahya ibn Sharaf an-Nawawi

Translation/Proofreading

Idris Esau, Safaruk Chowdury and Abdassamad Clarke

Editor & Revision

Muhammad Isa Waley

Sub-Editor

Uthman Ibrahim-Morrison and Medina Whiteman

Hadith Referencing

Saleh Malik

General Editors

Yahya and Safira Batha

British Library Cataloguing in Publication Data

al-Nawawī, Yahyā ibn Sharaf

The Book of Remembrances: The Kitāb al-Adhkār

I. Title

Cover Design & Typesetting ARM (www.whitethreadpress.com)

Printed by

Mega Printing, Istanbul, Turkey.

export@mega.com.tr

Distributors for UK & Europe

Azhar Academy Ltd.

54-56 Little Ilford Lane

Manor Park

London E12 5QA

+44 (20) 8911 9797

sales@azharacademy.com

www.azharacademy.com

Distributors for America and Canada

White Thread Press

www.whitethreadpress.com

inf@whitethreadpress.com

Distributors for South Africa

Darul-Ihsan Research and Education Centre

www.darulihسان.com/shop +27 (31) 577 7868

bookshop@darulihسان.com

DEDICATION

For my grandparents: Ahmad Batha and Maryam Batha, Qari Mufti Mahmoud Pandor, Khadijah Pandor and Aisha Pandor.

And for my wife's grandparents who were her inspiration:
Hakim Ismail and Maryam Ismail Hakim.

In remembrance of my beloved father
Maulana Muhammad ibn Ahmad Batha whose constant encouragement enabled me to stay the course.

*May Allah illuminate their place of rest and raise them up in the company of those
He has completely forgiven, Amīn.*

Romanization Table

ā	آ	b	ب	t	ت
th	ث	j	ج	h	ح
kh	خ	d	د	dh	ذ
r	ر	z	ز	s	س
sh	ش	ṣ	ص	ḍ	ض
ṭ	ط	ẓ	ظ	‘	ع
gh	غ	f	ف	q	ق
k	ك	l	ل	m	م
n	ن	h	ه	h, t	ة
w, ū	و	y, ī	ي	a	أ
i, -’i	إ	u	أ	,	ء

al- (but following “sun letters”, ad-, ar-, as-, ash-, at-, az-, etc.) ال
 In du’ā or dhikr texts, elision is marked with hyphen instead of apostrophe; and long vowels have no macron sign (ˉ) where pronounced as short ones. Examples: ihdina-ṣ-ṣirāta-l-mustaqīm; Allāhumma-j’alnā muflīhīn.

Publisher's Preface

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

IN THE NAME of Allah, most merciful and compassionate. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, alone without partners; and that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger. I invoke the blessings of Allah and His peace upon on His final Messenger, Muhammad, his family and companions, along with all those who follow them in goodness till the Day of Rising.

Among the narrations that Imam at-Tirmidhī transmits in his collection is a hadith from Anas ؓ who relates that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Du‘ā’ is the very essence of worship.”

Worship itself, according to the text of the Qur’ān, is the meaning of our existence; and du‘ā’ lies at its core and is, in essence, a pure expression of utter neediness. A man resorts to du‘ā’ only when he realises that he has no one to turn to but Allah, and this is the fullest affirmation of tawhīd, or the Oneness of Allah, in the life of the believer.

In this book, Imam an-Nawawī gathers the du‘ā’s transmitted from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, encompassing every movement and stillness, from the great events of life—birth, marriage, death—to the seemingly mundane—waking up, dressing, eating—through to the distressing events—illness, danger, loneliness; all of these are presented as opportunities to turn to Allah in ‘ubūdiyyah, or submissive dependency, with du‘ā’. But this book is more than a simple collection of prayers. Interspersed amongst its chapters are passages expounding the etiquette of du‘ā’, how to guard the tongue from its deadly sins, and the moments of acceptance that the believer can seize upon.

We present the translation of each du‘ā’ in italicised text; this is then followed by the Arabic text of the du‘ā’ cited. Where the text of the du‘ā’ appears within a wider discussion, we present the Arabic at the end of the passage to avoid disrupting the natural flow of the text. A transliteration of the du‘ā’ into roman script appears immediately after the Arabic and we have included a guide to assist the reader in using the system of transliteration. Translations of the Qur'ān are presented in bold text.

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCES

It is my hope that the reader will find in this publication a rich source of spiritual nourishment that will see them through to the Next World in safety and well-being.

I am indebted to my dear friend, Mufti Abdur-Rahman Mangera of White Thread Press, for bringing this work to our attention and for the final layout and design. I also owe thanks to the translators, Idris Esau, Safaruk Zaman Chowdury and Abdasamad Clarke. Many thanks are due to Sheikh Bilal Patel for highlighting portions of the Adhkār which were omitted from the original translation and for ensuring the text remained faithful to the original text of Imam an-Nawawī. I would also like to thank Uthman Ibrahim-Morrison and Muhammad Isa Waley for their contributions in editing the text, especially the latter, for his painstaking revision of the entire text, Saleh Malik for producing takhrij references for each du'ā' in this collection, and all those who have contributed to making this work possible. I would also ask those readers who derive some benefit from this book to remember us in your supplications.

Finally, I ask Allah to bestow His mercy on Imam an-Nawawī, who in a short lifespan was the cause of tremendous blessings for the believers, among which is this book, which continues to bring us all benefit to this day. May Allah reward him well and unite us with him in the Hereafter.

YAHYA BATHA

Contents

IMĀM AN-NAWAWĪ	21
AUTHOR'S PREFACE	25

Kitāb al-Adhkār

1. What has been narrated about the virtue of dhikr and is not restricted to a specific time	37
2. Getting up from sleep	44
3. Putting on clothes	47
4. Putting on new garments, shoes etc.	47
5. What to say to one's companion when seeing him in new clothes	48
6. How to put on garments and shoes and how to take them off	49
7. What to say when taking off garments to wash, go to sleep etc.	50
8. What to say when leaving the house	50
9. What to say when entering one's house	51
10. What to say when waking up at night and leaving the house	53
11. What to say when entering the lavatory	54
12. The prohibition of doing dhikr or talking while in the lavatory	56
13. The prohibition of greeting a person who is sitting to relieve himself	56
14. What to say when coming out of the lavatory	57
15. What to say when pouring water to perform wuḍū'	57
16. What to say during wuḍū'	58
17. What to say when performing ghusl (major ablution)	62
18. What to say when performing tayammum	62
19. What to say when going to the mosque	62
20. What to say when entering and leaving the mosque	64
21. What to say in a mosque	66
22. The rejection and censure of someone who looks for lost property in the mosque or sells in it	67
23. Censuring someone who chants poetry in the mosque in which there is no praise for Islam or for abstemiousness, nor any encouragement of the noble qualities of character and the like	68
24. The merit of the adhān	68
25. The description of the adhān	69

26.	Description of the iqāmah	70
27.	What to say upon hearing the adhān and the iqāmah	72
28.	The du'ā' to be said after the adhān	77
29.	What to say after the two sunnah rak'āt of ṣubḥ	77
30.	What to say when coming to the prayer line	78
31.	What to say when intending to stand up for ṣalāh	79
32.	The du'ā' to be said during the iqāmah	79
33.	What to say when ṣalāh begins	79
34.	The takbīrāt al-iḥrām	80
35.	What to say after the takbīrāt al-iḥrām	81
36.	Seeking protection from shayṭān after the opening du'ā'	85
37.	Recitation of Qur'ān after seeking protection	86
38.	The adhkār of rukū'	92
39.	What to say when raising the head from rukū' and standing upright	95
40.	The adhkār of sujūd	98
41.	What to say when raising the head from sujūd and while sitting between the two sujūds	102
42.	The adhkār of the second rak'ah	104
43.	The qunūt in the ṣubḥ ṣalāh	104
44.	The tashahhud in ṣalāh	108
45.	Invoking blessings upon the messenger of Allah ﷺ after the tashahhud	114
46.	The du'ā' after the last tashahhud	115
47.	The greeting to end ṣalāh	118
48.	What to say to a person who speaks to one whilst one is engaged in ṣalāh	119
49.	Adhkār to be performed after ṣalāh	120
50.	Encouragement to do dhikr of Allah after the ṣalāh of ṣubḥ	125
51.	What to say in the morning and the evening	127
52.	What to say on friday mornings	144
53.	What to say when the sun has risen	144
54.	What to say after the sun has risen	146
55.	What to say between midday and 'aṣr	146
56.	What to say between 'aṣr and sunset	147
57.	What to say upon hearing the adhān of maghrib	148
58.	What to say after the ṣalāh of maghrib	148
59.	What to recite in and after the ṣalāh of witr	150
60.	What to say when one intends to sleep and is lying in bed	151
61.	The disapproval of sleeping without the dhikr of Allah	160
62.	What to say when waking up at night and wishing to sleep afterwards	161
63.	What to say when unable to sleep	163
64.	What to say when startled in one's sleep	164
65.	What to say after seeing something one likes or dislikes in a dream	165
66.	What to say when told about a dream	166
67.	Du'ā' and repentance in the second half of the night	167
68.	Du'ā' in all hours of the night, hoping to coincide with the moment of acceptance	167
69.	The most beautiful names of Allah	168

70.	Recitation of Qur'ān	169
71.	Praise of Allah ﷻ	179
72.	Praying for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ	183
73.	The order to those in whose presence the Messenger ﷺ is mentioned to pray for blessings and salutations upon him	184
74.	How to pray for blessings upon the messenger of Allah ﷺ	185
75.	Beginning du'ā' by invoking blessings upon the Messenger ﷺ	186
76.	Praying for blessings upon the prophets and their descendants in succession	187
77.	The du'ā' of istikhārah	188
78.	Du'ā' against affliction and du'ā' for important concerns	190
79.	What to say when frightened	193
80.	What to say when afflicted with worry or grief	194
81.	What to say when in a fix	195
82.	What to say when afraid of any group of people	195
83.	What to say when afraid of a ruler	196
84.	What to say upon seeing the enemy	196
85.	What to say if a shaytān appears to one or one is afraid of him	197
86.	What to say when overcome by weakness	198
87.	What to say when finding something to be difficult	199
88.	What to say when earning one's livelihood becomes difficult	199
89.	What to say to ward off calamity	200
90.	What to say when visited by misfortunes, be they few or many	200
91.	What to say when burdened by debts which one is unable to repay	201
92.	What to say when afflicted with loneliness	201
93.	What to say when troubled by satanic disturbance	202
94.	What to say over the insane or someone who has been stung	204
95.	Seeking protection for children and others	208
96.	What to say over abscesses, pimples and suchlike	208
97.	Recommendation to remember death much	209
98.	Approval of asking the relatives of a sick person about his health, and of replying to the question	209
99.	What the sick should say, what should be said and recited near them, and how to ask after their health	210
100.	In commendation of advising the families of the sick and those tending them to be kind and bear patiently the difficulties in their affairs; also, advising those whose death is imminent because of a legal sentence	215
101.	What to say a person who has a headache, fever or other pain	216
102.	The permissibility of a sick person saying: 'I am in severe pain' or 'unwell' or 'Oh, my head!' and things like that; and explanation that there is nothing disapproved of in that if none of it is an expression of discontentment or impatience	216
103.	The disapproval of hoping for death because of physical harm, but its permissibility if one fears jeopardy in his religion	217
104.	The recommendation of a man making du'ā' that his death be in the noble land	217
105.	The desirability of comforting the sick	218

106. Praising a sick person, when seeing him to be fearful, by mentioning his good deeds, in order to alleviate his fear and give him a good opinion of his lord	218
107. Giving the sick person what he craves	219
108. Visitors seeking the du'ā' of the sick	219
109. Exhorting and reminding an invalid, after he is healed, to fulfil the repentance that he promised Allah	220
110. What to say to someone who has lost hope of surviving	220
111. What to say after closing the eyes of the deceased	223
112. What to say near the deceased	224
113. What to say to the bereaved	224
114. What to say upon hearing the news of the death of one's companion	226
115. What to say upon being told of the death of an enemy of Islam	226
116. The prohibition of wailing over the deceased and crying out with the cries of the days of ignorance (before Islam)	227
117. Condolence	229
118. The permissibility of informing companions and relatives of the death of the deceased, and the disapproval of announcing the death publicly	235
119. What to say while washing and shrouding the deceased	236
120. The adhkār of the funeral ṣalāh	236
121. What to say whilst walking with the bier	243
122. What to say when a bier passes or on seeing one	244
123. What those who lay the deceased in the grave should say	244
124. What to say after the burial	246
125. On the deceased leaving a special request that a specific person perform his funeral ṣalāh or that he be buried in a certain manner or in a specific place, or concerning his shrouding, or other things that should or should not be done	248
126. How the deceased benefits from the words of others	250
127. The prohibition of abusing the dead	251
128. What visitors to graveyards should say	252
129. Those visiting graveyards should discourage those they see weeping from being distraught at the graveside and tell them to be patient and discourage them from doing other things which the law forbids	254
130. Weeping and feeling fear when passing by graves; also, seeing the destruction of oppressors, displaying humility before Allah, and being on guard against forgetfulness	255
131. Adhkār recommended to be recited on Friday during the day and night, and du'ā'	255
132. The adhkār for the two 'īds	257
133. The adhkār for the first ten days of Dhū al-Ḥijjah	261
134. The adhkār prescribed for eclipses	262
135. Adhkār for seeking rain	264
136. What to say when the wind blows	268
137. What to say when stars fall	271
138. Not pointing to, or looking at, falling stars or lightning	271

139. What to say on hearing thunder	272
140. What to say when it rains	273
141. What to say after it has rained	273
142. What to say when there is a great deal of rain and one fears harm from it	274
143. The adhkār of the tarāwih ṣalāh	275
144. The adhkār of the ṣalāh of need	276
145. The adhkār of the ṣalāh of tasbiḥ	277
146. The adhkār related to zakāh	279
147. What to say upon seeing the new moon and what to say on seeing the moon	281
148. The adhkār that are mustahabb while fasting (intention)	283
149. What to say when breaking the fast	284
150. What to say when breaking the fast with people	285
151. The supplication to say on laylat al-qadr (the night of the decree)	286
152. The adkhār of i'tikāf	286
153. the adkhār of pilgrimage (hajj)	287
154. the recommendation of asking for martyrdom	308
155. The imam should encourage the leader of a delegation to fear Allah, and also teach him what he needs [to know] concerning matters of fighting the enemy and entering into pacts with them	309
156. The sunnah for the imam and the leader of the army to feign taking another direction when intending to go on an expedition	310
157. The du'ā' for those who do battle or work at anything that helps with it; also saying things to inspire people and rouse them to battle	310
158. Du'ā' , humility, and takbīr in battle, and asking Allah to fulfil his promise to help the believers	311
159. The prohibition of needlessly raising the voice in battle	316
160. Saying 'I am so-and-so' in battle in order to terrify the enemy	316
161. The desirability of reciting poetry during combat	316
162. The desirability of displaying patience and strength to a person who has been wounded	318
163. The what to say when the muslims are victorious and defeat their enemy	319
164. What to say when seeing the muslims defeated, may Allah the most generous be our refuge	320
165. Encouragement for the imam to praise those who have displayed skill in battle	321
166. What to say upon returning from an expedition	321
167. Istikhārah and consultation	321
168. Adhkār to perform after deciding to travel	322
169. Adhkār to say when intending to leave home	323
170. The adhkār to perform when leaving	325
171. The desirability of seeking advice from the righteous	327
172. The desirability of someone remaining behind asking a traveller for du'ā' at blessed places	327
173. What to say when mounting an animal	328
174. What to say when boarding a ship	331
175. The desirability of making du'ā' whilst travelling	332

176. The desirability of a traveller saying takbīr when ascending a hill, and tahmīd and tasbīḥ when descending into a valley	332
177. The prohibition of raising the voice exaggeratedly in takbīr and suchlike	334
178. Setting a pace, reviving the spirits, relaxing, and making the journey easy for other travellers	334
179. What to say when one's animal runs away	334
180. What to say when on a difficult and recalcitrant animal	335
181. What to say upon seeing a village which one does, or does not, wish to enter	335
182. What to say when apprehending harm from some people	336
183. What travellers should say when confronted by an ogre	337
184. What to say when dismounting	337
185. What to say upon returning from a journey	338
186. What travellers should say after the ṣalāh of ṣubḥ	339
187. What to say upon sighting one's homeland	340
188. What to say when returning from a journey and entering one's home	340
189. What to say to someone who is returning give thanks I will certainly from a journey	341
190. What to say to someone returning from an expedition for the cause of Allah	341
191. What to say to someone who is returning from ḥajj	342
192. What to say when food is brought	342
193. The desirability of a host saying 'eat' and similar things to his guests when food is presented	343
194. Mentioning the name of Allah when eating and drinking	343
195. Not finding fault with food	345
196. The permissibility of saying 'I do not have an appetite for this food' or 'I do not ordinarily eat it' and the like if necessary	346
197. Praising the food that one eats	346
198. What to say when present at a meal and one is fasting, in the case when one does not break his fast	347
199. What to say when one is invited for a meal and others follow	347
200. How to admonish and instruct someone who errs when eating	348
201. The desirability of talking whilst eating	349
202. What someone who eats without becoming satiated should say and do	349
203. What to say when eating with someone who has a bodily defect	349
204. The desirability of a host saying 'eat' to his guests and others when they lift their hands from the food and saying it repeatedly until he has ascertained that they have had enough; and that of doing the same with drink, perfume, etc.	350
205. What to say when one has finished eating	350
206. The du'ā' of invitees and guests for their host when they have finished eating	354
207. Making du'ā' for somebody who gives one water or milk to drink	355
208. Du'ā' and encouragement for someone who entertains a guest	356
209. Praise for someone who entertains a guest	356
210. The desirability of welcoming guests and praising Allah for having found a guest to entertain; also, being happy and extolling him for enabling one to do this	357

211. What to say after eating	358
212. The merits of greeting and the order to extend greetings	359
213. The mode and method of greeting	360
214. The disapproval of gesturing when greeting, without any verbal expression	363
215. The rulings on greeting	364
216. Situations in which it is mustahabb to greet and in which it is makrūh , and those in which it is permissible	369
217. Who may be greeted and who may not, and who may be answered and who may not	370
218. Courtesies and rulings on greeting	375
219. Seeking permission to enter a house	379
220. Matters Related to Greeting	382
221. Responding when someone sneezes, and the rulings on yawning	388
222. Praise	396
223. Praising oneself and mentioning one's own good qualities	398
224. Questions Related to the Preceding Subject	400
225. What to say when asking for a woman's hand in marriage from her family, for himself or for someone else	402
226. A man offering his daughter's hand in marriage to virtuous people	402
227. What to say when making the marriage contract	403
228. What to say to the groom after the contract has been made	406
229. What the groom should say when his bride comes to him on the wedding night	407
230. What to say to the groom after his marriage has been consummated	408
231. What to say during intercourse	408
232. A man playing with his wife and joking and talking gently to her	409
233. The etiquette for a husband speaking to his relatives by marriage	409
234. What to say during childbirth and when a woman is in labour	410
235. Saying the adhān in the ear of a newborn baby	412
236. Supplicating and performing taḥnīk for a baby	412
237. Naming a newborn baby	413
238. Naming a stillborn baby	414
239. The desirability of giving beautiful names	414
240. The names dearest to Allah	414
241. The desirability of congratulating and what to say when congratulated	415
242. The prohibition of giving repulsive names	416
243. A man calling a subordinate, such as a son, servant, or student, by an ugly name in order to retrain him from doing vile deeds and to train him	416
244. Calling out to a person whose name one does not know	417
245. The prohibition of a son, student or pupil calling his father, teacher or mentor by name	418
246. The desirability of changing a name to a better one	418
247. The permissibility of shortening a person's name, as long as he is not offended by it	420
248. The prohibition of giving a person a nickname that he dislikes	420
249. The acceptability and desirability of giving a person a nickname that he likes	421

250. The acceptability of kunyahs and the desirability of addressing people by them	422
251. The kunyah of a man [normally] coming from his eldest son	422
252. Giving a man who has sons a kunyah which does not come from his son	422
253. Giving a kunyah to someone who has no children, and to a minor	423
254. The prohibition of using the kunyah Abū al-Qāsim	423
255. The permissibility of giving a kunyah to a disbeliever, innovator or sinner if he is not known by any other name, or there is a risk of trouble from calling him by his name	424
256. The permissibility of giving a man a kunyah 'father of so-and-so' or a woman the kunyah 'mother of so-and-so'	425
257. The desirability of praising Allah on receiving good news	426
258. What to say upon hearing a cock crow, a donkey bray or a dog bark	426
259. What to say upon seeing a fire	427
260. What to say when standing up to leave a gathering	427
261. The du'ā' of a person sitting in a gathering, for himself and those with him	428
262. The disapproval of rising or leaving a gathering without remembering Allah	429
263. The remembrance of Allah in the street	430
264. What to say when angry	430
265. The desirability of telling a man that one loves him, and what to say in reply	432
266. What to say when seeing someone whom Allah has afflicted with sickness	433
267. The desirability of praising Allah when asked about the health of oneself or one's beloved, if the reply is positive	434
268. What to say when entering the marketplace	434
269. The desirability of saying to a person who has entered into a good marriage, or bought or done something commanded in Shari'ah : 'you have done the right thing' or 'you have done well', etc.	435
270. What to say when looking into the mirror	436
271. What to say when cupping	436
272. What to say if one's ear rings	437
273. What to say if one's foot becomes numb	437
274. The permissibility of supplicating against those who oppress the Muslims or oneself in particular	438
275. Disowning the followers of innovation and sin	440
276. What to say when eradicating falsehood	441
277. What to say if one's tongue is vulgar	441
278. What to say when one's animal stumbles	442
279. The desirability of the elders of the land addressing their people on the death of the leader, calming them, exhorting them and commanding them to have patience and to be steady in what they were already doing	442
280. Supplicating for those who treat one well, or for all people or some people, and praise and encouragement for doing so	443
281. The desirability, when giving a gift, of rewarding the receiver's du'ā' for one by making du'ā' for him in return	444
282. The desirability of making an excuse when returning a gift for some reason required by Shari'ah , such as being qāḍī or ruler or because there is something doubtful about it or for some other reason	445

283. What to say to somebody who safeguards one from harm	445
284. What to say upon seeing the first fruit of the year	446
285. The desirability of moderation in admonition and teaching	447
286. The merit of pointing out good and encouraging it	448
287. Encouragement for someone who is asked for knowledge he does not possess, but which he knows that someone else does, to point him out	448
288. What to say when called to the judgement of Allah	449
289. Turning away from the ignorant	451
290. Admonishing those who are more eminent than oneself	452
291. Keeping a promise or a pact	453
292. The recommendation to make du'ā' for a person who offers one wealth or something else	454
293. What a muslim should say to a non-muslim subject who treats him well	454
294. What to say upon seeing something in oneself, one's child, property or anything else which pleases one so that one fears afflicting it with one's eye and harming it	455
295. What to say when seeing something one likes or dislikes	457
296. What to say when looking at the sky	458
297. What to say when looking for omens	458
298. What to say when entering a public bath (ḥammām)	459
299. What to say when buying a slave or animal, or when repaying a debt	459
300. What to say when one is unable to keep steady on a horse and what supplication is to be made for one	460
301. The prohibition of scholars and others speaking to people about matters that they do not understand	460
302. A scholar and orator telling the people who attend his assembly to keep quiet and listen so that they will listen attentively	461
303. What a role model should say when doing something which appears to be improper although it is in fact proper	461
304. What a follower should say to the person he is following if he does [something of that kind]	462
305. Encouragement of mutual consultation	463
306. Urging good words	464
307. The desirability of making one's speech clear for those addressed	464
308. Joking	465
309. Interceding	466
310. The desirability of giving good news and congratulations	467
311. The permissibility of expressing surprise with words of tasbiḥ , tahlil , and suchlike	469
312. Enjoining what is good and forbidding evil	471
313. Safeguarding the tongue	473
314. The unlawfulness of backbiting and talebearing	477
315. Important matters related to backbiting	480
316. How to prevent oneself from backbiting others	482
317. What backbiting is permissible	483

318. The command that whoever hears their teacher or companion being slandered should refute it or show that it is false	485
319. Backbiting with the heart	487
320. Atonement and repentance for backbiting	489
321. Talebearing	491
322. Not communicating information to those in authority unless there is a need to because of fear of disorder or something similar	493
323. The prohibition of defaming people's lineages	493
324. The prohibition of arrogance	494
325. The prohibition of rejoicing at the misfortune of a muslim	494
326. The unlawfulness of belittling or mocking muslims	494
327. The strict prohibition of bearing false witness	496
328. The prohibition of reminding people about charity one has given them	497
329. The prohibition of cursing	497
330. Prohibition of driving away the poor and weak, orphans, beggars, and so on; one must speak gently to them and act humbly towards them	501
331. Words which it is deplorable to use	502
332. The prohibition of lying, and an explanation of types of lie	528
333. Exhortation to be certain of what one says, and prohibition of passing on all that one hears	530
334. Insinuation and dissemblance	531
335. What to do if one has said something ugly	533
336. Words which some of the 'ulamā' say are makrūh but which are not	534
337. Supplications (da'awāt) which are mustahabb at all times	539
338. The etiquettes of du'ā'	554
339. A person's du'ā' and using his pious deeds as a means of imploring Allah ﷻ	557
340. Raising the hands in du'ā' and passing them over the face	558
341. Repetition of du'ā'	559
342. Keeping the heart attentive in du'ā'	559
343. The merit of making du'ā' for people in their absence	559
344. The desirability of making du'ā' for those who treat one well, and a description of that du'ā'	560
345. The desirability of seeking du'ā' from virtuous people, even if the one who requests is of a higher station than the one who is asked, and du'ā' in noble places	561
346. The prohibition of supplicating against oneself, one's children, servants, wealth, etc.	561
347. Proof that a muslim will be granted his request when he makes du'ā' , and that he should not be impatient about its acceptance	562
348. Seeking forgiveness	563
349. The prohibition of staying silent all day	568
350. Conclusion	575
CHAIN OF TRANSMISSION	578
INDEX	581

Imām an-Nawawī

A BRIEF INTRODUCTION

ONE OF THE MOST LEARNED and saintly men of the medieval Muslim world was the compiler of the present work, Hilyat al-abrār wa shi'ār al-akhyār fi talkhīṣ ad-da'āwāt wa al-adhkār al-mustaḥabbah fī al-layl wa an-nahār ("The Robe of Honour of the Dutiful and the Hallmark of the Élite, being a Summary of Approved Supplications and Invocations for Night and Daytime")—generally known simply as Kitāb al-Adhkār. Muḥyī al-Dīn Yaḥyā ibn Sharaf an-Nawawī was born in 631/1233–4 in the Syrian village of Nawā, south of Damascus. At the age of 17 or 18 he arrived in the capital to study the religious sciences, such as fiqh (jurisprudence), hadith studies, doctrine, and Arabic grammar. These studies were interrupted after a few months, by which time he had already memorised a treatise on fiqh of the Shāfi'ī school, when Yaḥyā left with his father to perform the Ḥajj. They then spent several weeks at al-Madīnah before returning to Damascus.

It was soon evident that this student from Nawā was a young man of exceptional potential. Years later, Ibn al-'Aṭṭār, one of his students, would record the names of Imam an-Nawawī's first teachers and the texts that he studied with them, often attending as many as thirteen classes in a single day. His masters included the 'ālim (religious scholar) 'Abd al-'Azīz al-Anṣārī and the famous grammarian Ibn Mālik. Imam an-Nawawī would later recall that during an entire period of six years he never wasted a single moment, keeping himself busy with studying and worship day and night. Then, and thereafter for the rest of his life, he would take only the bare minimum of food and sleep, fasting on most days of the year. He was similarly abstemious with regard to clothing, and indeed in every aspect of worldly life. Lastly, he was renowned for his scrupulous observance of the Sharī'ah and his zealous devotion to the disciplines of spiritual purification.

After completing his studies an-Nawawī was ready, and well equipped, to serve the Muslim community as a jurist and as a teacher. His distinguished students included the hadith scholar al-Mizzī. For eleven years he worked, accepting no form of payment, as Principal of Damascus's Dār al-Ḥadīth al-Ashrafiyyah, having succeeded his teacher Abu Shāmah upon the latter's death in 665/1266–7. Kitāb al-Adhkār, incidentally, was completed the previous year. The great hadith master and historian al-Ḥāfiẓ adh-Dhahabī described him as an accomplished scholar of hadith and its sciences, narrators, the authentic and the defective, and a leading authority of the Shāfi'ī madhhab. Later authorities have endorsed these opinions regarding an-Nawawī's stature in both disciplines. Attentive readers of Kitāb al-Adhkār will note the high proportion of hadiths which the author relates personally, via his own teachers, from the most authentic collections. In the present translation, his statements to that effect have been rendered in full.

Imam an-Nawawī, who never married, devoted his entire life to the pursuit and the teaching of sacred knowledge. He died at Nawā in 676/1277–8, at the young age of 45 in solar years, leaving a great legacy of 'ilm in the form of his students and over forty books. His tomb at Nawā continues to this day to be visited by many Muslims.

Imam an-Nawawī's major works include the following, in addition to al-Adhkār, on hadith and hadith sciences: Riyāḍ aṣ-Ṣāliḥīn, one of the most renowned of all general compilations of Prophetic Traditions; al-Arba'ūn Ḥadīthan, the favourite selection of forty; Sharḥ Saḥīḥ Muslim (full title al-Minhāj fī sharḥ Saḥīḥ Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj), a compendious commentary on Muslim; his commentary on two chapters of al-Bukhārī; al-Ījāz fī sharḥ Sunan Abī Dāwūd, on Abū Dāwūd; Irshād ṭullāb al-ḥaqā'iq ilā ma'rifah Sunan Khayr al-Khalā'iq, an abridgement of the Muqaddimah fī 'ulūm al-ḥadīth on hadith sciences of Ibn aṣ-Ṣalāḥ; Imam an-Nawawī also made a further abridgement of the Irshād, entitled at-Taqrīb wa-t-taysīr. Among the numerous contributions of an-Nawawī in the field of Shāfi'ī jurisprudence was al-Majmū' sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab, a lengthy and masterly treatise which was unfinished when the author died but was later continued in eighteen volumes by Tāj ad-Dīn as-Subkī. On the same subject, but on a smaller scale, is Minhāj aṭ-ṭālibīn. Tahdhīb al-asmā' wa-l-lughāt is a reference work on biography, geography, and lexicography. Finally, further testimony to Imam an-Nawawī's spiritual eminence are his own daily Wird of du'ā' (supplication) and adhkār (invocations), which is well known and is still widely used; and also Bustān al-'ārifīn fī az-zuhd wa-t-taṣawwuf, a compilation of quotations concerning asceticism and Sufism.

Let us now return to the subject matter of the Kitāb al-Adhkār itself. Imām an-Nawawī was not of course the first author to write on the subject, for dhikr and du'ā' are matters that lie at the very heart of Islam, and indeed of all religion; the basic scope and meaning of the latter is the relationship between the creature and the Creator. The word du'ā' (supplicatory prayer) is derived from an Arabic root which means 'to call'. The practice of du'ā' is prescribed, and the attitude and spiritual etiquette (ādāb) appropriate in such prayer is described, in several passages in the Noble Qur'ān and in the Sunnah of the Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ in numerous authentic hadiths.

Among the great authors to treat this subject before Imām an-Nawawī was Ḥujjat al-Islām Abū Hāmid al-Ghazālī, in the ninth book of his masterpiece Iḥyā' 'ulūm al-dīn, the title of which is Kitāb al-Adhkār wa-d-da'awāt ('The Book of Invocations and Supplications'); there is an English translation of this book, by K. Nakamura (Cambridge: Islamic Texts Society, 1990). Al-Ghazālī lists ten rules of courtesy that apply when making supplication (tr. Nakamura, pp. 32–46). Also noteworthy are the opening chapters of Qūt al-qulūb ('Sustenance for hearts'), the treatise on spirituality and iḥsān by al-Ghazālī's great predecessor Shaykh Abū Ṭālib al-Makkī, from which he borrowed extensively in writing the Iḥyā', as he acknowledges in the heading of the fourth chapter of Kitāb al-Adhkār wa-d-da'awāt. Abū Ṭālib's eighth section (faṣl), for example, is devoted to night-time awrād, and his thirteenth to what one should say when rising for tahajjud prayer at night and on awakening in the morning. Neither of these works, however, gives the hadith sources from which the adhkār and ad'iyah are derived, as an-Nawawī does.

A number of authors, some of them famous figures, have written works relating to the Kitāb al-Adhkār. The task of tracing the sources of the hadiths in detail was undertaken by no less a figure than Ibn Hajar al-'Asqalānī, in his Natā'ij al-afkār fī takhrīj aḥādīth al-Adhkār, better known as al-Amālī. Among those who produced abridgements of al-Adhkār were Taqī'd-Dīn Ibn Taymiyah (al-Kalim at-ṭayyib), Aḥmad ibn Ḥusayn ar-Ramlī (Mukhtaṣar al-Adhkār), Jalāl ad-Dīn as-Suyūṭī (Adhkār al-Adhkār), and more recently Muḥammad 'Alī aṣ-Ṣābūnī. The most important commentary on the book is al-Futūḥāt ar-Rabbāniyya 'alā-l-Adhkār an-Nawawīyyah, by Ibn 'Allān aṣ-Ṣiddiqī.

A lengthy passage in Ibn 'Allān's preface, composed in saj' (rhyming prose), is devoted to praise of Imām an-Nawawī and his work. He calls Kitāb al-Adhkār:

... a book of immense stature and lofty preeminence, described by the author—not out of conceit but by way of sincere good counsel—as being indispensable to the goodly who seek the Hereafter. . . ; and of which it is said by other leading masters that he who has not read al-Adhkār is not worth mentioning (laysa yudhkar); it is sufficient for the initiate in his present state, and a means of arrival to his final goal and his ultimate aspirations, containing as it does, besides invocations (adhkār), the adornment of the awliyā' and many of the hallmarks (shī'ār) of the élite (akhyār); for which reason groups of the righteous have clung to it, and the spiritually prosperous have drunk of its pure waters. . . ; the secrets behind many of the adhkār are described, and the pearls found in those oceans are expounded.

The ādāb of du'ā and dhikr are described in detail and with eloquence by our author in his own preface, in the first chapter, and again elsewhere in the book. There is no need to enumerate them here; and the same applies to the practice of dhikr, an Arabic word that has two root meanings: to remember, and to invoke. Finally, it may be worth mentioning that Muslims have reason to be enormously thankful that the divine Providence has preserved intact to this day a means both of approaching Allah Most High for all their needs and of using all the moments of their daily life to strengthen their living of tawḥīd, the existential dimension of Unity that is the hallmark of the Islam brought and taught to us by the Seal of the Prophets ﷺ.

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCES

May Allah Most High be well pleased with Imam an-Nawawī, a true Muḥyī al-Dīn or Reviver of the Dīn. May He grant that all who read this book with the intention of worshipping their Lord, seeking His acceptance and good pleasure, may benefit as he intended.

MUHAMMAD ISA WALEY.

Author's Preface

"My success is only by Allah."¹
Lord, make things easy, O Helper!

وَمَا تَوْفِيقِي إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ، رَبِّ يَسِّرْ يَا مُعِينُ.

PRAISE BE TO Allah, the One, the Conqueror, the Mighty, the Most Forgiving, Who manages all affairs, Who rolls the day into the night to enlighten those who have hearts and perception, Who awakens those He chooses from among His Creation and enters them into the company of the most excellent, Who grants guidance and ability to those He has selected, bringing them near to Him and making them pious. He shows them what will incur His wrath and warns them of the punishment of Hell-Fire. And those who dedicated themselves to His worship, and made mention of Him both in the evening and the morning, in different states and throughout the day and night, and whose hearts He has illuminated with flashes of light.

I praise Him with the highest praise for all His blessings, and I ask Him for increase in His bounty and generosity.

And I bear witness that there is no god but Allah the Great, the One, the Everlasting Sustainer of all, the Almighty and the All-Wise; and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger, His friend, His beloved intimate companion, the most excellent of all creation, and the most honoured of those who have come and those who shall follow. Allah's salutations and blessings upon him as well as all of the Prophets and their families as well as the Righteous.

Allah ﷻ says: "So remember Me and I will remember you."²

﴿فَاذْكُرُونِي أَذْكُرْكُمْ﴾

¹ Qur'ān 11:88.

² Qur'ān 2:152.

Allah ﷻ also says: "And I have not created the jinn and mankind except to worship Me."¹

﴿وَمَا خَلَقْتُ الْجِنَّ وَالْإِنْسَ إِلَّا لِيَعْبُدُونِ﴾

From this we know that among the best conditions—if not the best—for Allah's servants is the remembrance of the Lord of the Worlds, and engaging in the adhkār that have been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, the chief of the Messengers.

The scholars have written many books about meritorious deeds for the daytime and the night and the *da'awāt*² and *adhkār*³ which are known to the learned. However, these are made lengthy by mention of chains of narrators and by repetition, and therefore weaken the enthusiasm of students. I have endeavoured to make this easy for those who want them. I started to compose this book, summarising the points which I have mentioned, in order to attract those who are concerned and interested. Most of the time I omit the chains of narrators for the sake of brevity, as I have already mentioned, because this book has been written for those who seek to worship and who have no need of knowing the chains of narrators. In fact most readers dislike it, even if it be concise, since the purpose of those who seek guidance is to know the adhkār and to practice them at the proper time and place.

I will also mention—if Allah Most High wills—in place of the chains of narrators something more important, and that is to indicate the ṣaḥīḥ, ḥasan, da'īf, and munkar. For although most people need not know these, apart from specialist hadith scholars, it is most important for those who seek to be exact in it as well, as for the student who seeks to master it from the God-conscious ḥuffāz and well-versed and reliable scholars.

I will also add—if Allah the Generous wills—some valuable statements from the science of hadith, the intricate points of fiqh, its important principles, training of the ego and knowledge of the points of etiquette emphasised by those upon the wayfaring path. I will express all this clearly so it is easy to understand for both laymen and specialist.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, may Allah have mercy upon him, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever invites people to guidance will get a reward equivalent to all those who follow him, without that reducing their own reward in the least."⁴

My wish is to assist good people by making the way easy, by calling attention to it, and by clarifying and pointing out the way. In the first part of the book I discuss those subjects which are of particular importance and of which the author of this book and those who study it are in need.

When I quote any of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ who are not well-known, I indicate this by saying: 'It is reported by So-and-so, who is a Companion,' so that there can be no doubt about him being a Companion of the Messenger of Allah.

1 Qur'ān 51:56.

2 du'ā دعاء means supplication.

3 adhkār أذكار is the plural of dhikr ذكر.

4 Muslim (2674), Abū Dāwūd (4609), at-Tirmidhī (2676), and al-Muwaṭṭa' (1/218).

I have restricted myself to hadiths which are in the famous and well-known books and which are the basis of Islam: the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī. I occasionally quote from other well-known books.

I rarely quote from the juz' collections and musnads, except in a few places, while the weak hadiths from the famous and primary books I only cite occasionally, and always with a mention of their weakness. I generally mention the ṣaḥīḥ (authentic).¹ I hope, therefore, that this book will be a reliable source. Furthermore, I cite only those hadiths which are relevant to the subject matter.

I ask Allah the Generous for ability, repentance, assistance, guidance and protection. I ask Him to make all the good that I intend easy for me, and to grant me persistence in all types of noble deeds, and that He unite me with those I love in His abode of honour; and I ask Him for every kind of happiness.

Allah is sufficient for me; Most Excellent a Guardian is He. There is no power or strength except through Allah, the Mighty, the Wise. As Allah wills, so shall it be. There is no power except with Allah. In Allah I trust and in Allah I seek refuge, from Allah I seek help and to Allah I entrust my affairs. I assign the protection of my religion, myself, my parents, my brothers, my loved ones, and all those who have treated me and all the Muslims well, and all whom He has favoured me with in matters of this world and the Hereafter, to Allah. For, when entrusted with something, He ﷻ looks after it; and He is the Most Excellent Guardian.

SINCERITY AND GOOD INTENTION IN DEEDS BOTH PUBLIC AND PRIVATE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And they were not commanded but to worship Allah, to be sincere in their worship of Him and to following the pure religion."²

﴿وَمَا أُمِرُوا إِلَّا لِيَعْبُدُوا اللَّهَ مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ حُنَفَاءَ﴾

Allah ﷻ also said: "Their flesh and blood does not reach Allah but your piety does."³ According to Ibn 'Abbās ﷺ this means that your intention reaches Him.

﴿لَنْ يَنَالَ اللَّهَ لُحُومُهَا وَلَا دِمَاؤُهَا وَلَكِنْ يَنَالُهُ التَّقْوَىٰ مِنْكُمْ﴾

Our Shaykh, the Imam, the Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Baqā' Khālid ibn Yūsuf ibn Sa'd ibn al-Ḥasan ibn al-Mufarrij ibn Bakkār al-Maqdisī an-Nābulusī, later of Damascus, informed us: Abū al-Yumn al-Kindī informed us: Muḥammad ibn 'Abd al-Bāqī al-Ansārī informed us: Abū Muḥammad al-Ḥasan ibn 'Alī al-Jawharī informed us:

¹ Ibn 'Allān states that what is meant here is that which includes what is ṣaḥīḥ because of other hadiths that confirm it (ṣaḥīḥ li-ghayrihi) and even ḥasan, so what is meant by ṣaḥīḥ is maqbul, and many have referred to it (maqbul) as ṣaḥīḥ.

² Qur'ān 98:5.

³ Qur'ān 22:37.

Abū al-Ḥusayn Muḥammad ibn al-Muẓaffar al-Ḥāfiẓ informed us: Abū Bakr ibn Muḥammad ibn Muḥammad ibn Sulaymān al-Wāsiṭī informed us: Abū Nuʾaym ʿUbayd ibn Hishām al-Ḥalabī narrated to us: Ibn al-Mubārak narrated to us from Yahyā ibn Saʿīd—who was an Anṣārī—from Muḥammad ibn Ibrāhīm at-Taymī from ʿAlqamah ibn Waqqāṣ al-Laythī that ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ said:

The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Deeds are judged according to their intention, and every man shall receive what he intended. So whoever migrates to Allah and His Messenger, his migration will be for Allah and His Messenger and whoever migrates for the world, in order to obtain it, or to a woman, in order to marry her, then his migration will be for that which he migrated for.”¹

This hadith is authentic, there is agreement among the scholars on its authenticity, and they are unanimous as to its great status and importance. It is one of those hadiths which make up the foundation of Islam. The early scholars and those who followed them liked to begin their writings with this hadith, to make students aware of [the merit of] good intention and that they should attach importance and pay attention to it.

We have related that Imam Abū Saʿīd ʿAbd ar-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī, may Allah have mercy on him, said: “Anyone who sets out to write a book should begin with this hadith.” Imam Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī said: “Our first teachers liked to put the hadith about actions being judged by their intention before all matters of religion, because of its universal applicability.” It has been conveyed to us that Ibn ʿAbbās said: “A man’s [hadiths] are only memorised to the extent of his intention.” Others say: “Men are only granted according to their intention.”

We have related that the eminent master Abū ʿAlī al-Fuḍayl ibn ʿIyāḍ said: “To refrain from an action on people’s account is showing off, and to perform an action on people’s account is idolatry. Sincerity is that Allah protects you from both of these.” Imam al-Ḥārith al-Muḥāsibī said: “The sincere person is he who, because of the profound rightness of his heart, does not care if all esteem for him is removed from the hearts of creation, and who does not want people to become aware of even an atom’s weight of his good deeds, yet who does not dislike people knowing about his evil deeds.” Ḥudhayfah al-Marʾashī said: “Sincerity is that one’s deeds be the same outwardly and inwardly.”

We have related that the Imam and master (ustādh) Abū al-Qāsim al-Qushayrī, may Allah be merciful to him, said: “Sincerity is to single out the Truth² ﷻ for obedience by means of intention: that is, for a person to intend his obedience to bring him closer to Allah ﷻ and nothing else such as dissembling to people, earning their praise, liking to be praised by people, or any other intent apart from drawing closer to Allah ﷻ.”

The eminent master Abū Muḥammad Sahl ibn ʿAbdullāh at-Tustarī ؓ said: “The intelligent have looked into sincerity and found nothing but this: that one’s activity and inactivity, in secret and in public, be for Allah ﷻ. It should not be combined with any personal desire, passion or worldly consideration.”

1 Al-Bukhārī (1), Muslim (1907), Abū Dāwūd (2201), at-Tirmidhī (1647), and an-Nasāʾī (1/59–60).

2 الحق al-Haqq—The Truth, The Real—is one of the attributes and names of Allah.

We have related that Abū 'Alī ad-Daqqāq   said: "Sincerity is to protect oneself from people's regard and notice. Truthfulness is to be cleansed and purified of regard for the self. A sincere person has no showing off, and a truthful one no conceit." Dhū an-Nūn al-Miṣrī, may Allah be merciful to him, said: "There are three signs of sincerity: not distinguishing between praise and rebuke from ordinary people; forgetting that one's deeds might be seen; and not demanding a reward for one's deeds in the Hereafter."

We have related that al-Qushayrī said: "The bare minimum of sincerity is that one's private and public actions be the same." And Sahl at-Tustarī said: "Anyone who flatters himself or others will not get the slightest taste of sincerity." Authorities' opinions on this are innumerable. What I have quoted is sufficient for those who have been given the ability and are successful.

Anyone to whom the merit of a given good deed is conveyed ought to practice it, at least once, so that he may be counted as one of its adherents. He ought not to miss it entirely, but should do whatever is easy for him, because the Messenger of Allah   said in a hadith the authenticity of which is agreed upon: "When I command you to do anything, practise as much of it as you can."¹

According to scholars of hadith, jurists and others, it is permissible and even preferable, in matters relating to virtue, encouragement and discouragement, to act on weak hadiths, as long as they are not fabricated.² As for laws and rulings regarding matters such as the lawful and the unlawful, trade, marriage and divorce, nothing but the ṣaḥīḥ and the ḥasan should be practiced, except with caution. When a weak hadith is found that conveys disapproval of certain transactions or marriages, it is then preferable to refrain from [applying] it, but not compulsory. I have only mentioned this because I will mention whether a hadith cited in this book is ṣaḥīḥ, ḥasan, or da'if, although occasionally I may forget or neglect to do so. I wanted to establish this rule for those studying this book.

Just as the remembrance of Allah is highly desirable, it is also desirable to sit in the circles of those who remember Him. There are ample proofs and evidence to support this. We will mention them in the appropriate places, if Allah wills. The hadith from Ibn 'Umar is sufficient. He reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "If you pass by the meadows of Paradise, then graze." The Companions asked: "What are the meadows of Paradise, Messenger of Allah?" He replied: "The circles of dhikr. Allah has angels who are continually moving, seeking out the circles of dhikr, and when they come to them they surround them."³

1 Al-Bukhārī (7288), Muslim (1337), at-Tirmidhī (2681), and an-Nasā'ī (5/110), with a similar wording.

2 According to Ibn 'Allān this also includes extremely weak hadiths, and therefore it is not permissible to act upon a narration reported only by someone accused of lying. There remain two more conditions for acting upon a weak hadith: it must have a basis which bears witness to it, such as it being included in a general principle; and one must not believe when acting upon it of its being authentically proven. Al-Futūḥāt (1/84).

3 Ibn Hajar states in his Amālī upon the Adhkār: "I did not find this among the hadiths of Ibn 'Umar, nor [did I find] a portion of it in the well-known books or hadith collections (al-ajzā' al-manthūrah); however, I did find it among the hadiths from Anas, with the same meaning in an abridged form." As-Suyūṭī

We conveyed from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Mu'āwiyah ؓ narrated: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out to a group of his Companions and asked: 'What made you sit here?' They replied: 'We sat here in order to remember Allah, and to praise Him for guiding us to Islam and for all that He has favoured us with.' The Prophet ﷺ asked: 'By Allah, has nothing else made you sit here?' They said: 'By Allah, nothing else has made us sit here.' He said: 'I did not make you swear an oath because I was suspicious of you, but Jibrīl came to me and informed me that Allah is boasting about you to the angels.'"¹

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim² that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī and Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Never do a group of people sit remembering Allah without the angels surrounding them, mercy shrouding them, peace and tranquillity descending upon them, and Allah mentioning them among those who are with Him."

Dhikr may be done with the heart or with the tongue. The best is that it be done with both heart and tongue. If one must restrict oneself to one of them, then [doing dhikr] with the heart is better. It is not befitting to cease dhikr with the tongue as well as the heart for fear of being suspected of showing off. As we have mentioned, al-Fuḍayl said: "To refrain from acting because of people is showing off." If someone opens the door of outside scrutiny and attention to himself, admitting people's false suspicions, he will close most of the doors of goodness against himself and will deprive himself of an enormous share of the important duties of religion. And this is not the way of the ʿārifūn (gnostics).

It is reported in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim³ that 'A'ishah ؓ said, "The verse: 'Be not loud in your prayer, nor be silent in it'⁴ was revealed concerning du'ā."

﴿وَلَا تَجْهَرُ بِصَلَاتِكَ وَلَا تُخَافِتُ بِهَا﴾

Know that the merit of dhikr is not restricted to tasbīḥ,⁵ tahlīl,⁶ taḥmīd,⁷ takbīr,⁸ and suchlike. Rather, anyone who does an act of obedience for the sake of Allah is remembering Allah. This is the opinion of Sa'īd ibn Jubayr and other scholars. 'Aṭā' said: "Gatherings for dhikr include gatherings to discuss the lawful and the lawful, and also how one buys, sells, performs ṣalāh, fasts, marries, divorces, performs pilgrimage, and the like."

Allah ﷻ says: "For Muslim men and women, for believing men and women, for states in Tuhfat al-abrār bi-nukat al-Adhkār (p. 3): "He (meaning an-Nawawī) meant to say 'the hadith of Anas', but he accidentally wrote 'Ibn 'Umar'."

1 Muslim (2701), at-Tirmidhī (3376), an-Nasā'ī (8/249).

2 Muslim (2700) at-Tirmidhī (3587).

3 Al-Bukhārī (4723) Muslim (447) al-Muwatta' (1/218).

4 Qur'ān 17:110.

5 Tasbīḥ is to say: "سبحان الله—Subḥāna-llāh—Glory be to Allah".

6 Tahlīl is to say: "لا إله إلا الله—Lā ilāha illa-llāh—There is no god but Allah".

7 Taḥmīd is to say: "الحمد لله—Al-ḥamdu li-llāh—All praise is due to Allah".

8 Takbīr is to say: "الله أكبر—Allāhu akbar—Allah is greater".

devout men and women, for true men and women, for men and women who are patient and constant, for men and women who humble themselves, for men and women who give in charity, for men and women who fast, for men and women who guard their chastity, and for men and women who engage in Allah's remembrance abundantly for them, has Allah prepared forgiveness and an immense reward.”¹

﴿إِنَّ الْمُسْلِمِينَ وَالْمُسْلِمَاتِ وَالْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ وَالْقَانِتِينَ وَالْقَانِتَاتِ وَالصَّادِقِينَ وَالصَّادِقَاتِ وَالصَّابِرِينَ وَالصَّابِرَاتِ وَالْخَاشِعِينَ وَالْخَاشِعَاتِ وَالْمُتَصَدِّقِينَ وَالْمُتَصَدِّقَاتِ وَالصَّائِمِينَ وَالصَّائِمَاتِ وَالْحَافِظِينَ فُرُوجَهُمْ وَالْحَافِظَاتِ وَالذَّاكِرِينَ اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا وَالذَّاكِرَاتِ أَعَدَّ اللَّهُ لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةً وَأَجْرًا عَظِيمًا﴾

And we have related from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim² from Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The mufarridūn (the solitary) are the winners.” [The Companions] asked: “Who are the mufarridūn, Messenger of Allah?” He said: “Men and women who engage in Allah's remembrance abundantly.”

I say: it has been narrated as ‘al-mufarridūn’ with or without the doubling of the letter ra. The better known, which is the position of the majority, is with the emphasis.

The reader of this book should attach great importance to the noble verse quoted above. There is, however, disagreement about its meaning. Imam Abū al-Ḥasan al-Waḥīdī related that Ibn ‘Abbās رضي الله عنه held that it means remembering Allah after the ṣalāh, in the morning and the evening, in bed, every time one wakes up from sleep and every time one goes out and returns home. Mujāhid said: “One does not remember Allah abundantly unless one remembers Allah standing and sitting and lying on one's bed.” Aṭā' said: “Whoever performs the five ṣalawāt in the proper manner is [one of those referred to] in the verse ‘men and women who engage in Allah's remembrance abundantly.’”

It is narrated in a hadith of Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī رضي الله عنه that he said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘When a man wakens his wife at night and both of them pray—or he prays—two units of prayer together, they are recorded as being of the men and women who engage in Allah's remembrance.’” This is a well-known hadith narrated by Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah in their Sunans.³

Shaykh Imam Abū 'Amr Ibn aṣ-Ṣalāḥ was asked about the point at which a person becomes one of the men and women who remember Allah abundantly. He said: “If a person is regular in the adhkār that have been conveyed to him and established [as being] from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, in the morning and the evening and at the

1 Qur'ān 33-35.

2 Muslim (2676) at-Tirmidhī (3590).

3 Abū Dāwūd (1309) an-Nasā'ī in al-Kubrā and Ibn Mājah (1335). Ibn Hajar states that what the Shaykh means by ‘a well-known hadith’ is its being well-known upon the tongues of people, not that it is well-known according to its technical meaning, as it is from the singular reports of 'Alī ibn al-Aqmar from al-Aghar; see Futūḥāt (1/122).

different times and circumstances during the day and the night'—as described in the books of good deeds for the day and night—they will be one of the men and women who remember Allah abundantly."

The scholars agree on the permissibility of dhikr with the heart and the tongue for people in the state of minor or major ritual impurity, and for women during menstruation and afterbirth. This applies to tasbiḥ, tahlīl, taḥmīd, takbīr, invoking blessings on the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, supplications, and so on. But recitation of the Qur'ān is ḥarām whilst in a state of major ritual impurity and during menstruation and afterbirth, whether one recites a little or a large amount, or even a part of a verse. In such circumstances it is permissible to recite the Qur'ān within one's heart without articulating it [with the tongue], or to look at the text of the Qur'ān and make it pass through the heart. Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues say that it is permissible for those in a state of major impurity or menstruation to say, when suffering: 'Verily we are from Allah and to Him do we return.'²

﴿إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ﴾

Innā li-llāhi wa innā ilayhi rāji'ūn

Or when mounting an animal: 'Glory be to Him Who has subjected this to our (use), though we were not able to do so.'

﴿سُبْحَنَ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ لَنَا هَذَا وَمَا كُنَّا لَهُ مُقْرِنِينَ﴾

Subḥāna-lladhī sakhkhara lanā hādhā wa mā kunnā lahu muqrinīn.

Or when making du'ā: 'Our Lord, grant us good in this world and in the Hereafter and save us from the punishment of Hell-Fire';⁴ if one does not intend thereby to recite Qur'ān.

﴿رَبَّنَا آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ﴾

*Rabbanā ātinā fī-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fī-l-ākhirati
ḥasanatan wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.*

A person [in a state of major impurity and during menstruation and afterbirth] may also say 'In the name of Allah' and 'Praise be to Allah' if they do not intend to recite Qur'ān. This applies regardless of whether they intended to do dhikr or not. They will not be sinning unless they intended to recite Qur'ān. It is permissible for them to recite verses whose recitation has been abrogated, such as: 'An old man and an old woman: if they commit adultery, then stone them.' If one says to a man: 'Take hold of ¹ Two examples being the books, both entitled 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah', by an-Nasā'ī and by Ibn as-Sunnī.

² Qur'ān 2:156.

³ Qur'ān 43:13.

⁴ Qur'ān 2:201.

the Book with vigour,¹ or: 'Enter in peace and safety,'² intending something other than the recitation of Qur'ān, it is not ḥarām.

If people cannot find water, they should perform tayammum and it will then be permissible for them to recite. If they nullify their ablution thereafter it will not be ḥarām for them, just as if they had a bath and then nullified their ablution. There is no difference between tayammum made because of a lack of water in town or on a journey. They may recite the Qur'ān thereafter, even if they break their wuḍū'. Some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that if a man is in a town, he may perform ṣalāh with [tayammum] and recite [Qur'ān] in ṣalāh, but that it is not permissible for him to recite [Qur'ān] outside of ṣalāh. The correct view is that it is permissible, as we stated previously. This is because tayammum takes the place of ghusl (major ablution). If a person in a state of major impurity makes tayammum and then sees water, it is imperative for him to use it, for it is now ḥarām for him to recite Qur'ān, or do anything that is ḥarām for a person in the state of major impurity, until he has performed ghusl. If he performs tayammum, then performs ṣalāh and recites, and then intends to perform tayammum for minor impurity or for another compulsory act, then recitation is not ḥarām for him.

This is the correct and preferred view. Some of our colleagues are of the opinion that it is ḥarām, but that is a weak opinion.

However, if a person in a state of major impurity cannot find water or dust, he has to perform ṣalāh in that condition, because of the sacrosanct nature of the time of ṣalāh. Recitation is ḥarām for him outside of ṣalāh and it is ḥarām for him to recite more than the Fātiḥah, the opening chapter of the Qur'ān in ṣalāh. Is reciting the Fātiḥah ḥarām for him?

There are two opinions. The more correct one is that it is not ḥarām but compulsory, because ṣalāh is not valid without it. Just as ṣalāh is permissible [in such a state] because of exigency, recitation is also permissible. The second opinion is that it is ḥarām, and that one should instead recite the adhkār which a person who does not know how to recite anything from the Qur'ān recites. These are subsidiary rulings which I wanted to establish because they are related to what I have mentioned. I have touched on them only briefly because they are discussed in detail and with evidence [cited from] the books of jurisprudence. And Allah knows best.

Anyone making dhikr ought to be in the most perfect state. If he is sitting somewhere he should face the qiblah with humility, submissiveness, serenity and dignity, bowing one's head. If one remembers Allah in any other state it is still permissible, without any disapproval; but if there is no excuse for doing so one would be forfeiting something most excellent. The proof that [making dhikr in an imperfect state] is not disliked lies in the saying of Allah: "Verily in the creation of the heavens and the earth and the succession of day and night are signs for people of understanding—those who remember Allah standing and sitting and lying on their sides."³

1 Qur'ān 19:11.

2 Qur'ān 15:46.

3 Qur'ān 3:190–191.

﴿إِنَّ فِي خَلْقِ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَاخْتِلَافِ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ لَآيَاتٍ لِأُولِي
الْأَلْبَابِ * الَّذِينَ يَذْكُرُونَ اللَّهَ قِيَمًا وَقُعُودًا وَعَلَىٰ جُنُوبِهِمْ﴾

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī and Muslim¹ that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ؐ used to recline on my lap and recite Qur'ān while I was menstruating." According to another report she said: "His head was in my lap while I was menstruating."² And in another narration "His head was in my lap". It is also reported that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "I recite my litany whilst lying in bed."

The place in which dhikr is done ought to be clean and free of distractions, for that is the best way to show respect for the dhikr and for the One Who is remembered. That is why dhikr in the mosque and in honourable places is praised. The eminent Imam Abū Maysarah said: "Allah should only be invoked in goodly places." It is also imperative that the mouth be pure and clean. If there is any change in that, then it should be cleaned with a siwāk, and if there is any impurity in it, one should remove it with water. If a person does dhikr without having rinsed [his mouth], it is reprehensible but not ḥarām. It is makrūh to recite Qur'ān with any impurity in the mouth. Our Shāfi'ī colleagues have two opinions as to whether it is ḥarām. The more correct view is that it is not ḥarām.

Dhikr is dear [to Allah] under all circumstances and conditions, except in those circumstances which the Sharī'ah has excluded. We will mention a few of them here and allude to the rest, which we will mention in the relevant chapters, if Allah wills. Among the circumstances in which it is makrūh [to do dhikr] are when sitting to relieve oneself, during sexual intercourse, when a preacher is delivering a sermon and one can hear his voice, when standing in ṣalāh—instead, one should engage in recitation of the Qur'ān—or when sleepy. It is not makrūh in the street or in the lavatory. And Allah knows best.

The purpose of dhikr is attention, devotion and presence of the heart. It is imperative that this be the purpose of anyone performing dhikr, and one should be eager to achieve it. One should contemplate what one is saying and [try to] understand its meaning. Contemplation is the objective of dhikr, just as it is the objective of reciting Qur'ān, since they share this important goal. Therefore, the correct and preferred view is that anyone doing dhikr should do so at length, saying: 'There is no god but Allah', because it induces contemplation.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh.

The opinions of the earlier and more recent scholars on this are well-known. Anyone who has a daily litany of dhikr in the night or day or after ṣalāh or under any other circumstance, and then misses it and later remembers it, ought to make it up when he is able to, so as not to neglect it. If one is consistent in practicing it, he will not find himself missing it; but if he is lax in fulfilling it, it will become easy to neglect it at its proper time.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (297) and Muslim (301).

² Al-Bukhārī (7549).

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim¹ that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a person sleeps through his litany, or a part of it, but recites it between the ṣalāh of Fajr and the ṣalāh of Zuhr, it will be recorded for him as if he had recited it at night."

In certain situations it is mustaḥabb for a person engaged in dhikr to discontinue the dhikr and return to it after the situation has changed. Among them are the following: when greeted, he should reply to the greeting and then return to the dhikr; when a person sneezes, he should respond to him and then return to the dhikr; when he hears the preacher, or the mu'adhdhin, he should respond to them with the words of the adhān and then return to the dhikr. Similarly, if he sees [some] evil he should eliminate it, and if he sees good he should offer guidance towards it; and if asked for guidance he should respond and then return to the dhikr. The same applies if he is overcome by slumber or suchlike.

Those adhkār which form part of ṣalāh—whether the ṣalāh is compulsory or not—will not be counted or taken into consideration unless they are uttered in such a way that one can hear oneself, provided one is of sound hearing and there is no impediment.

A number of Imams have written valuable books on meritorious deeds to be done at various times of the day and the night. They have cited the chains of narrators for the hadiths mentioned in them, and have related [hadiths] from many sources. Among the best of these works is 'Amal al-yawm wa-l-layl' (The Deeds of the Day and the Night) by Imam Abū 'Abd ar-Raḥmān an-Nasā'ī. Better than this, and more beneficial, is the work of the same name by his colleague Imam Abū Bakr Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn Ishāq as-Sunnī. I have heard the entire book of Ibn as-Sunnī [read by] our mentor Imam Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Baqā Khālīd ibn Yūsuf ibn Sa'd ibn al-Ḥasan,² who said: Imam Abū al-Yumn Zayd ibn al-Ḥasan ibn Zayd ibn al-Ḥasan al-Kindī narrated to us in 602/1205–6; he said: Shaykh Imam Abū al-Ḥasan Sa'd al-Khayr Muḥammad ibn Sahl al-Anṣārī narrated to us; he said: Shaykh Imam Abū Muḥammad

1 Muslim (747) Abū Dāwūd (1313) at-Tirmidhī (581) al-Muwatta' (1/200).

2 Imam, Muḥaddith, Ḥāfiẓ, an-Nabulusī and then ad-Dimashqī. Born in 858/1189, he heard hadiths from al-Qāsim ibn 'Asākir, Muḥammad ibn al-Khasīb, Ḥanbal ar-Rasafi and others. Those that heard hadiths from him include an-Nawawī, Taqī ad-Dīn al-Qushayrī, Abū 'Abdullāh Ibn al-Mulaqqin and adh-Dhahabī. He died in 663/1264. See adh-Dhahabī's Ṭabaqāt al-Ḥuffāẓ 4/1447. If one analyses Ibn Ḥajar's referencing and grading of the hadiths of the book al-Adhkār one will find that this principle does not apply to all the hadiths which Abū Dāwūd does not comment on. There are a number of reasons: according to as-Sakhāwī, the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd has a number of transmissions from the author, there being a difference between them—not least the transmission of Abū al-Ḥasan in al-'Abd, which contains additional comments on other transmissions. It is therefore essential to check Abū al-Ḥasan's edition of Abū Dāwūd before concluding that he has nothing to say about a hadith. It may, on the other hand, be due to the hadith clearly being weak. Abū Dāwūd's not weakening a hadith may be due to leniency on his part, as stated by al-Mundhirī in the introduction to at-Targhib wa-t-tarhib. See al-Futūḥāt ar-Rabbāniyyah (1/170–172) and at-Targhib wa-t-tarhib (1/35–38).

'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Sa'd ibn Ḥamd ibn al-Ḥasan ad-Dūnī narrated to us; he said: al-Qāḍī Abū Naṣr Aḥmad ibn al-Ḥusayn ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Kassār ad-Dīnawarī narrated to us; he said: Shaykh Abū Bakr Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn Ishāq as-Sunnī narrated to us. I have mentioned this chain of narrators here because I will quote extensively from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, if Allah wills. I wanted to mention the chain of narrators first because this is approved of by scholars of hadiths and others. I have singled out the chain of narrators of this work because it is the most comprehensive one on this science. All that I mention in my book has a complete chain of narrators, except in rare cases. Among those [with complete chains] are those I have cited from the five books which are the foundation of Islam: the Ṣaḥīḥs (x 2) of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī. I have also referred to the Musnads and sunan books such as the Muwaṭṭā' of Imam Mālik, the Musnads of Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and Abī 'Awānah, and the Sunans of Ibn Mājah, ad-Dāraquṭnī, al-Bayhaqī and others; and from the juz' collections, which you will see, if Allah wills.

The hadiths that I have quoted in this work I trace to the well-known books and other sources mentioned earlier. Those that are in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim I have restricted myself to attributing to those sources my purpose, being to show their authenticity, because all the narrations in them are authentic. Any hadiths from other sources I trace to the books of the Sunan compilations or similar works, explaining whether they are ṣaḥīḥ (rigorously authenticated), ḥasan (sound), or ḍa'īf (not soundly supported)—if there is weakness—in most places; but I may [sometimes] pass over their standing as ṣaḥīḥ, ḥasan, or ḍa'īf.

Note that I transmit most of my narrations from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd. We have narrated from him that he said: "I have cited in my book [only] that which is authentic or resembles it and is close to it; but where there is anything seriously weak in it I have said so. Those on which I have refrained from commenting are sound, but some parts are more authentic than others."

These are the words of Abū Dāwūd and they contain great benefit which the author of this book and others are in need of: whatever Abū Dāwūd narrates in his Sunan without mentioning any weakness in the transmission is either ṣaḥīḥ or ḥasan. In his view, either can be used to derive rulings (aḥkām), or, a fortiori, meritorious actions (faḍā'il).

That said, whenever you see a hadith narrated by Abū Dāwūd without any ascription of weakness, you will know that he did not consider it weak. And Allah knows best.

I thought I should preface the book with a chapter on the unqualified merit of dhikr (remembrance, invocation), in which I would mention some matters preparing the way for what is to come later in this work, and then mention the purpose of the book with respect to its chapters and conclude the book—if Allah, Exalted is He, wills—with the chapter on seeking forgiveness, as an auspicious form of conclusion. And Allah is the One Who grants success. My trust is in Him, my dependence and reliance are on Him, and to Him are all concerns entrusted.

WHAT HAS BEEN NARRATED ABOUT THE VIRTUE OF DHIKR AND IS NOT RESTRICTED TO A SPECIFIC TIME

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And the remembrance of Allah is greater."¹

﴿وَلَذِكْرُ اللَّهِ أَكْبَرُ﴾

Allah ﷻ also said: "So remember Me and I will remember you."²

﴿فَاذْكُرُونِي أَذْكَرْكُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Had it not been that he glorified Allah, he would certainly have remained inside its belly until the Day they are resurrected."³

﴿فَلَوْلَا أَنَّهُ كَانَ مِنَ الْمُسَبِّحِينَ * لَلَبِثَ فِي بَطْنِهِ إِلَى يَوْمِ يُبْعَثُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "They celebrate His praises night and day, and never do they slacken."⁴

﴿يُسَبِّحُونَ اللَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ لَا يَفْتُرُونَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of the Imams of hadith, Abū 'Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn Ismā'il ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Mughīrah al-Bukhārī al-Ju'fī, and Abū al-Ḥusayn Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj ibn Muslim al-Qushayrī an-Nisābūrī, may Allah be pleased with them, with their isnāds from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, whose name is 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Ṣakhr according to the soundest of almost thirty statements, and who narrated more hadiths than any other Companion, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Two phrases that are light on the tongue but heavy in the scale and beloved to the All Merciful are Glory

1 Qur'ān 29:45.

2 Qur'ān 2:152.

3 Qur'ān 37:143-144.

4 Qur'ān 21:20.

*be to Allah and with His praise, and Glory be to Allah the Tremendous.*¹ This hadith is the last thing in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi, subḥāna-llāhi-l-ʿAẓīm.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Dharr رضي الله عنه reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked me: 'Shall I not inform you of the dearest words to Allah ﷻ? The dearest words to Allah are Glory be to Allah and with His praise.'" According to another report, he said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked: "Which words are the best?" He replied: "Those which Allah has chosen for His angels and His slaves: Glory be to Allah and with His praise."² سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim also that Samurah ibn Jundab رضي الله عنه reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The phrases most beloved to Allah are four: Glory be to Allah, Praise be to Allah, There is no god but Allah, and Allah is greater. No harm will befall you whichever of them you begin with.'"³

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa lā ilāha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu akbar.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Mālik al-Ashʿarī رضي الله عنه said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Cleanliness is half of faith; Praise be to Allah fills up the scales; and Glory be to Allah and all praise is due to Allah fill up—or it fills up—what is between the heavens and the earth.'"⁴ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh.

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Juwayriyah رضي الله عنها, the Mother of the Believers, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ once left her early, after performing the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ, while she was in her place of prayer. Then he returned at mid-morning and she was still sitting there. He asked: "Have you been in that same position since

¹ Al-Bukhārī (7563), Muslim (2694), at-Tirmidhī (3463).

² Muslim (2731), at-Tirmidhī (3587).

³ Muslim (2137), Abū Dāwūd (4958), at-Tirmidhī (2838).

⁴ Muslim (223), at-Tirmidhī (3512), an-Nasāʾī (5/5-6), Ibn Mājah (270).

I left you?" She replied: "Yes." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "After I left you, I said four things, thrice each. If they were weighed against what you have said, they would outweigh it. They are: Glory be to Allah and with His praise, according to the number of His creations and to His pleasure and according to the weight of His throne and the ink of His words."¹ سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ، عَدَدَ خَلْقِهِ وَرِضَا نَفْسِهِ وَزِنَةَ عَرْشِهِ وَمِدَادَ كَلِمَاتِهِ.

Subhāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi, 'adada khalqihi wa riḍā nafsīhi wa zinata 'arshihi wa midāda kalimātih.

According to another report he said: "Glory be to Allah, according to the number of His creations, and Glory be to Allah according to His own pleasure; and Glory be to Allah according to the weight of His throne; and Glory be to Allah according to the ink of His words."

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ خَلْقِهِ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رِضَا نَفْسِهِ، سُبْحَانَ

اللَّهِ زِنَةَ عَرْشِهِ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مِدَادَ كَلِمَاتِهِ.

Subhāna-llāhi 'adada khalqihi, subhāna-llāhi riḍā nafsīhi, subhāna-llāhi zinata 'arshihi, subhāna-llāhi midāda kalimātih.

And we have narrated it in the book of at-Tirmidhī, where the wording is: "Shall I not teach you some phrases for you to say? Glory be to Allah, according to the quantity of His Creation (3 times), Glory be to Allah, according to His own pleasure (3 times), Glory be to Allah, according to the weight of His Throne (3 times), Glory be to Allah, according to the ink of His Words (3 times)."²

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ خَلْقِهِ (٣)، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رِضَا نَفْسِهِ (٣)، سُبْحَانَ

اللَّهِ زِنَةَ عَرْشِهِ (٣)، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ مِدَادَ كَلِمَاتِهِ (٣).

Subhāna-llāhi 'adada khalqihi (x 3), subhāna-llāhi riḍā nafsīhi (x 3), subhāna-llāhi zinata 'arshihi (x 3), subhāna-llāhi midāda kalimātih (x 3).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "To say Glory be to Allah, all praise is due to Allah, there is no god but Allah and Allah is greater is dearer to me than all that the sun rises over."³

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

1 Muslim (2726), Abū Dāwūd (1503), at-Tirmidhī (3550), an-Nasā'ī (4/77).

2 At-Tirmidhī (3499) and al-Futūḥāt (1/200). The repetition of this dhikr three times, as mentioned in the hadith of Juwayriyah as well as in this transmission, is valid, since the additional narration of a trustworthy narrator is acceptable. Ibn Hajar states that this hadith has a supporting shahīd (witnessed) narration among the hadiths of Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqāṣ which an-Nawawī mentions later.

3 Muslim (2695), at-Tirmidhī (3591).

Subhāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa lā ilāha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu akbar.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of Muslim and al-Bukhārī that Abū Ayyūb al-Anṣārī reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says There is no god but Allah, One without partners. His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things ten times will receive the reward of freeing four of the descendants of Ismā'il."¹

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh, waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulku wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of Muslim and al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ stated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says one hundred times a day There is no god but Allah, One without partners; His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things will be like someone who has set free ten slaves. One hundred good deeds will be written for him, one hundred of his sins will be forgiven, and it will be a shield for him against Shayṭān for that day until the evening. No one can produce anything better than it, except a man who does more than him. And whoever says Glory be to Allah and with His praise one hundred times a day will have his sins forgiven, even if they be [as abundant] as the foam of the sea."²

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ،

وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ. سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh, waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulku wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr. Subhāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi.

And we relate from the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "The best dhikr is to say: There is no god but Allah."³ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "He who remembers his Lord, compared to him who does not remember Him, is like the living compared to the dead."⁴

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ reported that a Bedouin came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: "Teach me something to ² Al-Bukhārī (6403), Muslim (2691), at-Tirmidhī (3464), al-Muwatta' (1/209), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (26).

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6404), Muslim (2693), at-Tirmidhī (3584), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (24).

³ At-Tirmidhī (3380), who states that this is a ḥasan gharīb hadith. We only know of it from the hadith of Mūsā. It is also reported by Ibn Mājah (3800).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6407), Muslim (779), with a similar wording and meaning.

say.” He replied: “Say: There is no god but Allah, One, without partners. Allah is vastly greater and abundant praise is due to Allah. Glory be to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds. There is no power and no strength except through Allah, the Mighty, the All-Wise.” The man said: “Those words are for my Lord. But what is for me?” He replied: “O Allah, forgive me, have mercy on me, guide me and sustain me.”¹

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ كَبِيرًا وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ
كَثِيرًا، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَزِيزِ
الْحَكِيمِ. اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَارْحَمْنِي وَاهْدِنِي وَارْزُقْنِي.

*Lā ilāha illa-llāhu, waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, Allāhu akbaru kabīran wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīrā, subḥāna-llāhi Rabbī-l‘ālamīn, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-‘Azīzi-l-Ḥakīm.
Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa-rḥamnī wa-hdinī wa-rzuqnī.*

Again, we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Sa’d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ reported: “While we were with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ he asked: ‘Are any of you unable to earn a thousand good deeds a day?’ Somebody in the gathering asked: ‘How can any one of us earn a thousand good deeds?’ He answered: ‘If he glorifies Allah one hundred times, a thousand good deeds will be written for him or one thousand wrong actions will be eliminated for him.’”²

The Imam and Ḥāfiẓ Abū ‘Abdullāh al-Ḥumaydī said: It is thus in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim in all the narrations with the wording aw yuḥaṭṭu (or He reduces, erases or eliminates). Al-Burqānī said: Shu‘bah, Abū ‘Awānah and Yaḥyā al-Qaṭṭān narrated it from Mūsā, from whom Muslim narrated it with wa yuḥaṭṭu (and He reduces. . .) without the letter alif.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Dharr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Every morning there is charity due on every joint of your bodies. Extolling the glory of Allah is charity, praising Allah is charity, declaring the oneness of Allah is charity and saying ‘Allah is greater’ is charity. To command good and forbid evil is charity. The equivalent of that is two rak’ahs of ṣalāh performed in the forenoon.”³ I say: the word as-sulāmā with a ḍammah on the letter sīn and no doubling of the letter lām means a member or limb (‘uḍw), and the plural is sulāmayāt with fathah on the letter mīm and no doubling on the letter yā.

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of Muslim and al-Bukhārī that Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to him: “Shall I show you one of the treasures of Paradise?” He said: “Yes, Messenger of Allah.” He said: “Say: There is no power and no strength except by Allah.”⁴

1 Muslim (2696).

2 Muslim (2698), an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (152), at-Tirmidhī (3459), and Aḥmad (1/174).

3 Muslim (720).

4 Al-Bukhārī (6484) and Muslim (2704).

لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ narrated that he went with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ to a woman, and in front of her were date stones or pebbles which she was using to make tasbīḥ. He said: "Should I not show you something that is easier and better than this? Glory be to Allah, equal to what He has created in the heavens; Glory be to Allah, equal to what He has created on Earth; Glory be to Allah, equal to the amount of what is between them; Glory be to Allah, equal to what He will create. And Allah is greater, equal to that, and All praise is due to Allah, equal to that; and There is no god but Allah, equal to that; and There is no power and no strength [except by Allah], equal to that."¹ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا خَلَقَ فِي السَّمَاءِ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا خَلَقَ فِي الْأَرْضِ،
وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ، وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ عَدَدَ مَا هُوَ خَالِقٌ، وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ مِثْلَ
ذَلِكَ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ مِثْلَ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ مِثْلَ ذَلِكَ، وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ مِثْلَ ذَلِكَ.

Subḥāna-llāhi 'adada mā khalaqa fi-s-samā', subḥāna-llāhi 'adada mā khalaqa fi-l-ard, wa subḥāna-llāhi 'adada mā bayna dhālik, wa subḥāna-llāhi 'adada mā Huwa khāliq, wa-llāhu akbaru mithla dhālik, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi mithla dhālik, wa lā ilāha illa-llāhu mithla dhālik, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata mithla dhālik.

And we relate from both,² with an isnād that is ḥasan, that Yusayrah ؓ, a female Companion and Emigrant, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ commanded them (the women Companions) to pay attention to doing takbīr, taqdīs and tahlīl and to count them on their fingers, for [their fingers] will be questioned and examined about them.³

And we relate from both and from the Sunan of an-Nasā'ī, with an isnād that is ḥasan, that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ؓ said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ counting the tasbīḥ,"⁴ and in another narration "with his right hand".

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū Sa'id al-Khudrī ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says: I am pleased with Allah as Lord, ¹ At-Tirmidhī (3564), Abū Dāwūd (1500), and al-Futūḥāt (1/244–245). Ibn Ḥajar said that the hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; its narrators are the narrators of ṣaḥīḥ hadiths, except for Khuzaymah, whose lineage and condition are unknown; and that no-one quotes his narration except Sa'id ibn Abī Hilāl, who is mentioned by Ibn Ḥibbān in ath-Thiqāt.

² The Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī.

³ Abū Dāwūd (1501) and at-Tirmidhī (3577).

⁴ An-Nasā'ī (3/74–75), Abū Dāwūd (1502), and at-Tirmidhī (3482).

with Islam as religion, and with Muḥammad as Messenger, Paradise will be obligatory for him.”¹ رَضِيتُ بِاللّٰهِ رَبًّا وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِينًا وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ رَّسُولًا.

Radītu bi-llāhi Rabban, wa bi-l-Islāmi dīnan, wa bi-Muḥammadin Rasūlā.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that ‘Abdullāh ibn Busr—with a ḍammah on the bā’ and a sukūn on the sīn—the Companion ؓ, reported that a man said: “O Messenger of Allah, the decrees of Islam have become too numerous for me, so tell me something that I can adhere (atahabbathu) to.” He ؓ replied: “Let your tongue always be moist with dhikr of Allah ؓ.”² At-Tirmidhī said, described this as a ḥasan hadith.”

I say that the verb atahabbathu, with the letters tā’ and thā’ followed by bā’, all with fathah means ‘I adhere to’ as well as ‘I cling to’.

And we relate from it (the book of at-Tirmidhī) that Abū Sa’id al-Khudrī ؓ said: “The Messenger of Allah ؓ was asked: ‘Which form of worship will be the best in rank in the sight of Allah on the Day of Judgment?’ He said: ‘Men and women who engage in Allah’s remembrance abundantly’, I asked: ‘O Messenger of Allah, more than him who goes on military expeditions in the Way of Allah ؓ?’ He said: ‘Even if he strikes the kāfirūn and the mushrikūn with his sword until it breaks and is stained with blood, the one who remembers Allah will still be superior to him in rank.’”³

And we relate from it and from the book of Ibn Mājah from Abū ad-Dardā’ ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؓ asked: “Shall I inform you of the best of your deeds, the purest in the sight of your King, the highest in your ranks, and better than spending gold and silver in charity, and better than you meeting the enemy and striking their necks and them striking yours?” [Those present] said: “Yes.” He ؓ replied: “The remembrance of Allah ؓ.”⁴ Al-Ḥākim Abū ‘Abdullāh says in his book al-Mustadrak ‘alā aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn that this hadith has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

And we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn Mas’ūd ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ؓ said: “I met Ibrāhīm on the night I was taken to Heaven, and he said: ‘O Muḥammad, convey my greetings to your Ummah, and inform them that Paradise has fertile soil and sweet water, but it is barren. Its plantations are: Glory be to Allah, praise be to Allah, there is no god but Allah, and Allah is greater.’”⁵ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa lā ilaha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu akbar.

1 Abū Dāwūd (1529), and an-Nasā’i in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (5). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan. It is also mentioned in the Mustadrak of al-Ḥākim (1/518), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

2 At-Tirmidhī (3372) and al-Futūḥāt (1/257). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

3 At-Tirmidhī (3373); he also described this as a gharīb hadith.

4 Ibn Mājah (3790), at-Tirmidhī (3374), and al-Ḥākim (1/496), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees. It is also reported in al-Muwaṭṭa’ (1/211) in a mawqūf form from Abū ad-Dardā’.

5 At-Tirmidhī (3458).

We also relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Jābir ؓ stated that the Messenger ﷺ said: “Whoever says Glory be to Allah the Great and to Him belongs all praise will have a date palm planted for him in Paradise.”¹ At-Tirmidhī described the hadith as ḥasan.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ.

Subhāna-llāhi-l-‘Azīmi wa bi-ḥamdihi.

Again, we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Dharr ؓ said: “I asked: ‘O Messenger of Allah, which words are most beloved to Allah ﷻ?’ He replied: ‘What He has chosen for His angels: Glory be to my Lord and to Him belongs all praise. Glory be to my Lord and to Him belongs all praise.’”² According to at-Tirmidhī, this is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ وَبِحَمْدِهِ، سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ وَبِحَمْدِهِ.

Subhāna Rabbī wa bi-ḥamdih, subhāna Rabbī wa bi-ḥamdih.

I shall discuss the subject matter contained in this book in order. I will start with what one should say when he first gets up from sleep, and then move on sequentially until one goes to sleep at night, as well as when he wakes up at night. And from Allah comes all ability and success.

2

GETTING UP FROM SLEEP

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of two Imams of hadith, Abū ‘Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn Ismā‘īl ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Mughīrah al-Bukhārī al-Ju‘fī and Abū ‘l-Ḥusayn Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj ibn Muslim al-Qushayrī an-Naysābūrī, may Allah be pleased with them, with their isnāds from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Shayṭān ties three knots on the nape of a person while he is sleeping, putting each knot in place. He says: ‘You have a long night, so sleep.’ When the person wakes up and remembers Allah ﷻ, one knot is untied; when he performs wuḍū’ one knot is untied; and when he performs ṣalāh all three knots are untied. Then he gets up [feeling] energetic and in good spirits. If he does not do this, he gets up in bad spirits and lazy.”³ That is the wording from al-Bukhārī’s narration, whereas Muslim has ‘qāfiyat ar-ra’s, ‘the end’ (i.e. the nape) ‘of the neck’.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3460), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/501–502), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² At-Tirmidhī (3587).

³ Al-Bukhārī (1142) and Muslim (776).

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ḥudhayfah ibn al-Yamān ؓ and Abū Dharr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say when he went to his bed, "In Your name, O Allah, I live and I die."

بِسْمِكَ اللَّهُمَّ أَحْيَا وَأَمُوتُ.

Bismika-llāhumma ahyā wa amūt.

And when he awoke he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who has given us life after causing us to die, and to Him is the Resurrection."¹ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَحْيَانَا بَعْدَ مَا أَمَاتَنَا وَإِلَيْهِ النُّشُورُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī ahyānā ba'da mā amātanā wa ilayhi-n-nushūr.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When you wake up you should say: Praise be to Allah Who has returned my soul to me, given me good health in my body, and permitted me to remember Him."² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي رَدَّ عَلَيَّ رُوحِي وَعَافَانِي فِي جَسَدِي، وَأَذِنَ لِي بِذِكْرِهِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī radda 'alayya rūḥī wa 'āfānī fi jasadī wa adhina lī bi-dhikrih.

We also relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no-one who, when Allah returns his soul to him [i.e. after sleep], says: There is no god but Allah alone without partner; His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things without Allah forgiving his sins, even if they are [as abundant] as the foam of the sea."³

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh, waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No man says, when he wakes up, Praise be to Allah, Who created sleep and wakefulness; praise be to Allah, Who has resurrected me healthy and sound. I bear witness that Allah gives life to the dead and that He has power over all things without Allah saying: 'My slave has spoken the truth.'⁴

1 Al-Bukhārī (6312).

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (9), an-Nasā'ī (791), at-Tirmidhī (3398), who narrates part of the hadith, and al-Futūḥāt (1/291). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (10) and al-Futūḥāt (1/292). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is very weak.

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (13).

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي خَلَقَ النَّوْمَ وَالْيَقَظَةَ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي بَعَثَنِي سَالِمًا
سَوِيًّا، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يُحْيِي الْمَوْتَى وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī khalaqa-n-nawma wa-l-yaqazah, wal-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī ba'athanī sāliman sawiyyā. Ashhadu annā-llāha yuhyi-l-mawtā wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ woke up in the night he would say "Allah is greater" ten times, "Praise be to Allah" ten times, "Glory be to Allah and with His praise" ten times, and "Glory be to the Holy King" ten times. Then he would ask for forgiveness ten times and say "There is no god but Allah" ten times and say "O Allah, I seek Your protection from anxiety in this world and anxiety on the Day of Judgment" ten times, and then he would begin the ṣalāh.¹

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ. الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ. سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ. سُبْحَانَ الْمَلِكِ الْقُدُّوسِ. لَا
إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ. اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ ضِيقِ الدُّنْيَا وَضِيقِ يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ.

*Allāhu akbar. Al-ḥamdu li-llāh. Subḥāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi.
Subḥāna-l-Maliki-l-Quddūs. Lā ilāha illa-llāh. Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min ḍiqi-d-dunyā wa ḍiqi Yawmi-l-Qiyāmah.*

We relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Ā'ishah ؓ also reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ woke up at night he would say: "There is no god but You. Glory be to You, O Allah, and to You belongs all praise. I ask Your forgiveness for my sins and I ask You for Your Mercy. O Allah, increase me in knowledge, and do not lead my heart astray after You have guided me. Bestow on me Your Mercy, for You are the Ever-Bestowing One."²

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ لِذَنْبِي وَأَسْأَلُكَ رَحْمَتَكَ، اللَّهُمَّ
زِدْنِي عِلْمًا وَلَا تُزِغْ قَلْبِي بَعْدَ إِذْ هَدَيْتَنِي، وَهَبْ لِي مِنْ لَدُنْكَ رَحْمَةً، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْوَهَّابُ.

Lā ilāha illā Ant, subḥānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik, astaghfiruka li-dhanbī wa as'aluka raḥmatak, Allāhumma zidnī 'ilman wa lā tuzigh qalbī ba'da idh hadaytanī, wa hab lī min ladunka raḥmah, innaka Anta-l-Wahhāb.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5080) and an-Nasā'ī (2/284); also in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (871).

² Abū Dāwūd (5061), an-Nasā'ī (568) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah, and al-Ḥākim (1/540), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

PUTTING ON CLOTHES

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say 'In the name of Allah' [when putting on clothes]. Likewise, it is mustaḥabb to mention the name of Allah in all actions.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ, whose name was Sa'd ibn Mālik ibn Sinān, reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ put on clothes he would name each item—whether it was a shirt, pair of trousers or turban—and say: "O Allah, I ask You for the good of it and the good of what it is meant for, and I ask Your protection from the evil of it and the evil of what it is meant for."¹ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ خَيْرِهِ وَخَيْرِ مَا هُوَ لَهُ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهِ وَشَرِّ مَا هُوَ لَهُ.

Allāhumma innī aṣ'aluka min khayrihi wa khayri mā huwa lah, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihi wa sharri mā huwa lah.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Mu'ādh ibn Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever puts on a garment and says: 'Praise be to Allah, Who has clothed me with this garment and granted it to me without any power or might on my part,' Allah will forgive all his past sins."² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي كَسَانِي هَذَا الثَّوْبَ وَرَزَقَنِيهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّي وَلَا قُوَّةَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī kasānī hādha-th-thawba wa razaqanihi min ḡhayri ḥawlin minnī wa lā quwwah.

PUTTING ON NEW GARMENTS, SHOES ETC.

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say what was mentioned in the previous chapter.

And we relate that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ reported that whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ put on new clothing he would mention its name—whether it was a turban, shirt or pair of trousers—and then say: "O Allah, to You belongs all praise. You have clothed me with this. I ask You for the good of it and the good for which it was created, and

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (14), Abū Dāwūd (4020), at-Tirmidhī (1767), and al-Ḥākim (1/192), who regards it as fulfilling the criteria of Imam Muslim; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (272). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

I seek Your protection from the evil of it and the evil of that for which it was created."¹ The hadith is ṣaḥīḥ and was narrated by Abū Dāwūd Sulaymān ibn al-Ash'ath as-Sijistānī, Abū 'Isā Muḥammad ibn 'Isā ibn Sawrah at-Tirmidhī, and Abū 'Abd ar-Raḥmān Aḥmad ibn Shu'ayb an-Nasā'ī in their Sunans. According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ، أَنْتَ كَسَوْتَنِيهِ، أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهُ وَخَيْرَ مَا صَنَعَ لَهُ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهِ وَشَرِّ مَا صَنَعَ لَهُ.

Allāhumma laka-l-ḥamd, Anta kasawtanīh, as'aluka khayrahu wa khayra mā ṣunī'a lah, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihi wa sharri mā ṣunī'a lah.

And we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Umar رضي الله عنه reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Whoever puts on new clothes and says 'Praise be to Allah, Who has dressed me in something with which to conceal my private parts and adorn myself while alive,' and then goes to the garment that he has worn out and gives it away in charity, will be under the protection, shelter and care of Allah in life and death.'"² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي كَسَانِي مَا أُوَارِي بِهِ عَوْرَتِي وَأَتَجَمَّلُ بِهِ فِي حَيَاتِي.

*Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī kasānī mā uwārī bi-hi
'awratī wa atajammalu bi-hi fī ḥayātī.*

5

WHAT TO SAY TO ONE'S COMPANION WHEN SEEING HIM IN NEW CLOTHES

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Umm Khālid bint Khālid رضي الله عنها said, "Several garments were brought to the Messenger of Allah, one of which was a black shirt. He ﷺ asked: 'To whom do you think we should give this shirt to wear?' Those present said nothing. He said: 'Bring me Umm Khālid.' I was brought to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he clothed me in it with his hand, and said: 'Wear it and wear it out' twice."³ أَبْلِي وَأَخْلِقِي.

Ablī wa akhliqī.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4020), at-Tirmidhī (1767), and an-Nasā'ī (309) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan. It is the same hadith, reported by Ibn as-Sunnī, that was cited above.

² At-Tirmidhī (3555), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

³ Al-Bukhārī (37). This is a prayer that she have a long life, meaning "May you live long and wear it out."

We relate in the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunni that Ibn ‘Umar ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw a garment on ‘Umar and asked: “Is this new or washed?” He said: “It is washed.” So he ﷺ said: “Wear new things, live laudably, and die as a shahīd, blessedly.”¹ الْبَسْ جَدِيداً، وَعِشْ حَمِيداً، وَمُتْ شَهِيداً سَعِيداً.

Albis jadīdā, wa ‘ish ḥamīdā, wa mut shahīdan sa‘īdā.

6

HOW TO PUT ON GARMENTS AND SHOES
AND HOW TO TAKE THEM OFF

IT IS MUSTAḤABB, when putting on clothes, shoes, trousers and the like, to begin with the right sleeve or the right leg or foot. One should take off the left [part of the garment] first and then the right. The same applies when putting on kohl, using a toothstick (siwāk), cutting the nails, trimming the moustache, plucking the armpits, shaving the head, greeting in ṣalāh, entering the mosque, coming out of the lavatory, doing wuḍū’, bathing, eating and drinking, shaking hands, kissing the Black Stone, taking something from someone or giving it to someone, and so on. All these things should be done with the right. Their opposites should be done with the left.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Abū al-Ḥusayn Muslim ibn al-Ḥajjāj ibn Muslim al-Qushayrī an-Naysābūrī that ‘Ā’ishah ؓ said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ liked to begin with the right side in all that he did—in his ablution, combing his hair and putting on shoes.”²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that ‘Ā’ishah ؓ said that the right hand of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was used for his ablution and eating and drinking, and his left hand was used for the lavatory and for anything harmful.³

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī that Ḥafṣah ؓ said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ would use his right hand for eating, drinking and putting on clothes, and his left hand for other things.⁴

We relate in Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When you put on clothes or make ablution, start with your right.”⁵ The hadith is 1 Ibn Mājah (3558) and Ibn as-Sunni (269). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan gharīb.

2 Al-Bukhārī (168) and Muslim (268).

3 Abū Dāwūd (33). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

4 Abū Dāwūd (32) and al-Bayhaqī (1/86).

5 Abū Dāwūd (4141), Ibn Mājah (402), al-Bayhaqī (1/86), and at-Tirmidhī (1766), who states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ṣaḥīḥ gharīb.

ḥasan, according to Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, Abū ‘Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn Yazīd, Ibn Mājah and Abū Bakr Aḥmad ibn al-Ḥusayn al-Bayhaqī.

There are many other narrations on the same subject. And Allah knows best.

7

WHAT TO SAY WHEN TAKING OFF GARMENTS
TO WASH, GO TO SLEEP ETC.

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The way to conceal the private parts of the sons of Adam from the eyes of the jinn is to say, when about to take off one’s clothes: ‘In the name of Allah, besides Whom there is no god.’”¹ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ.

Bismi-llāhi-lladhī lā ilāha illā Hū.

8

WHAT TO SAY WHEN LEAVING THE HOUSE

WE RELATE FROM Umm Salamah ؓ—whose given name was Hind—that whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ left his house he used to say: “In the name of Allah, I depend on Allah. O Allah, I seek Your protection from going astray or leading others astray; from slipping or letting others slip; from being oppressed or oppressing others; and from acting ignorantly or others acting ignorantly towards me.”² This hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah narrated it. At-Tirmidhī described it as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. This is in Abū Dāwūd’s version: “from me going astray and me leading others astray”, “from slipping and letting others slip” and likewise with the rest of the wording, in singular form. At-Tirmidhī’s version has: “I seek refuge in You from us slipping” and, likewise, “us leading astray” and “us oppressing others” and “us acting ignorantly” in the plural form.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (274).

² Abū Dāwūd (5094), at-Tirmidhī (3423), Ibn Mājah (3884), and an-Nasā’ī—(8/268) in al-Mujtabā and (85) in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

Abū Dāwūd's version states: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ never left his house without lifting his head to the sky and saying: 'O Allah, I seek refuge in You. . .'. Another version states: 'When he used to leave his house, he would say. . .', as already mentioned. And Allah knows best".

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، تَوَكَّلْتُ عَلَى اللَّهِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ أَنْ أَضِلَّ أَوْ أُضَلَّ،
أَوْ أَزِلَّ أَوْ أُزَلَ، أَوْ أَظْلِمَ أَوْ أُظْلِمَ، أَوْ أَجْهَلَ أَوْ يُجْهَلَ عَلَيَّ.

Bismi-llāh, tawakkaltu 'ala-llāh, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika an aḍilla aw uḍalla, aw azilla aw uzalla, aw aẓlima aw uẓlama, aw ajhala aw yujhala 'alayy.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and others from Anas ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says [when leaving his house]: In the name of Allah, I depend on Allah, there is no power and no strength except by Allah, will be told: 'You have been provided for, you have been protected, and you have been guided', and Shayṭān will withdraw from him."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan. Abū Dāwūd adds in his narration: "He says, i.e. the Shayṭān says to another Shayṭān, 'How is it for you if a man has been guided, sufficed and protected?'" بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، تَوَكَّلْتُ عَلَى اللَّهِ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Bismi-llāh, tawakkaltu 'ala-llāh, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

We relate in the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Hurayrah ؓ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ left his house he would say: "In the name of Allah, dependence is on Allah, there is no power or strength except by Allah."² بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، التَّكْلَانُ عَلَى اللَّهِ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Bismi-llāh, at-tuklānu 'ala-llāh, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

9

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ENTERING ONE'S HOUSE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say: 'In the name of Allah,' to remember Allah ﷻ a great deal and to call out greetings, whether or not there is a human in the house because of ¹ Abū Dāwūd (5095) and at-Tirmidhī (3422), who states that it is ḥasan gharīb. We only know of it by this chain. Ibn Ḥajar states that its narrators are narrators of ṣaḥīḥ hadiths.

² Ibn Mājah (3885) and Ibn as-Sunnī (176).

the words of Allah ﷻ: "If you enter a house then greet one another, a greeting from Allah, blessed and pure."¹

﴿فَإِذَا دَخَلْتُمْ بُيُوتًا فَسَلِّمُوا عَلَى أَنْفُسِكُمْ تَحِيَّةٌ مِّنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ مُبَرَكَةٌ طَيِّبَةٌ﴾

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Anas ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: "O my son, when you come to your family, greet them, for it will be a blessing on you and on the members of your family."² At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū Mālik al-Ash'arī ؓ, whose name was al-Hārith—but some say 'Ubayd, some say Ka'b and some say 'Amr—reported that the Messenger of Allah said: "When a man enters his house he should say: O Allah, I ask You for the best entrance and the best exit. In the name of Allah do we enter and in the name of Allah do we leave, and in Allah our Lord do we trust. Then he should greet his family."³ Abū Dāwūd did not consider this hadith weak.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ الْمَوْلَجِ وَخَيْرَ الْمَخْرَجِ، بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ
وَلَجْنَا، وَبِاسْمِ اللَّهِ خَرَجْنَا، وَعَلَى اللَّهِ رَبِّنَا تَوَكَّلْنَا.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayra-l-mawlj, wa khayra-l-makhraj, bismi-llāhi walajnā wa bismi-llāhi kharajnā, wa 'ala-llāhi Rabbinā tawakkalnā.

We relate in Abū Umāmah al-Baḥilī ؓ, whose name was Ṣuday ibn 'Ajlān ؓ, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Three people are under the protection of Allah ﷻ: a man who goes out striving for the Cause of Allah ﷻ will be the responsibility of Allah ﷻ and under His protection until he passes away and He enters him into Paradise, or He brings him back with whatever reward and booty he may attain; a man who goes out to the mosque will be the responsibility of Allah ﷻ and under His protection until he passes away and He enters him into Paradise, or He brings him back with whatever reward and booty he may attain; and a man who enters his house with a greeting will be under the protection of Allah ﷻ."⁴ This hadith is ḥasan and was narrated by Abū Dāwūd, with a ḥasan isnād, as well as by others.

The meaning of 'protected by Allah' is to have 'protection' or be the owner of protection. 'Protection' means stewardship over something. For example, one says 'dates and milk', meaning somebody who has dates and milk. So, its meaning is that he is under the stewardship of Allah Most High. And how abundant this gift is! O Allah, grant us provision of it!

We relate that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "If a man enters his home and remembers Allah when entering and eating,

1 Qur'ān 24:61.

2 At-Tirmidhī (2699). In some editions of at-Tirmidhī it is stated that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ gharīb. Ibn Hajar collated numerous chains of transmission for the hadith, which strengthen it.

3 Abū Dāwūd (5096).

4 Abū Dāwūd (2494).

Shayṭān says: 'There is no bed and no supper for you [with me]. If he enters and does not remember Allah on entering, Shayṭān says: 'You have found lodgings [with me]. If he does not remember Allah when he eats he says: 'You have found lodgings and supper [with me].'¹ Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Āṣ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ returned to his house during the day he would say: "Praise be to Allah, Who has sufficed me and given me refuge; all praise is due to Allah, Who has fed me and quenched my thirst; all praise is due to Allah, Who has favoured me. I ask You to protect me from Hell-Fire."² The isnād of this hadith is weak.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي كَفَانِي وَأَوَانِي، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَطْعَمَنِي وَسَقَانِي، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي مَنَّ عَلَيَّ، أَسْأَلُكَ أَنْ تُجِيرَنِي مِنَ النَّارِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī kafānī wa āwānī, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī aṭʿamanī wa saqānī, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī manna ʿalayy, asʾaluka an tujīranī mina-n-nār.

We relate from Mālik who reports in his Muwatṭāʾ that it had reached him that it is mustaḥabb, upon entering an uninhabited house, to say: "Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah."

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ.

As-salāmu ʿalaynā wa ʿalā ʿibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

10

WHAT TO SAY WHEN WAKING UP AT NIGHT AND LEAVING THE HOUSE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB, when waking up at night and going out of one's house, to look at the sky and recite the last verses of Sūrah Āl Imrān, from "Verily in the Creation of the heavens and the earth"³ to the end of the sūrah.

﴿إِنَّ فِي خَلْقِ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ...﴾

Inna fī khalqī-s-samāwāti wa-l-ard. . .

1 Muslim (2018), Abū Dāwūd (3765), and an-Nasāʾī (178) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (157), with a slight change in the wording. Ibn Hajar mentioned supporting narrations for it, which raise it to the level of ḥasan.

3 Qurʾān 3:190–200.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to do this. His looking at the sky is mentioned in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, not in that of Muslim.¹

It is recorded in the same two Ṣaḥīḥs that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ got up in the night to perform the Tahajjud ṣalāh he would say: "O Allah, to You belongs all praise. You are the Everlasting Sustainer of the heavens and the earth and all who are in them. To You belongs all praise; You are the King of the heavens and the earth and all who are in them. To You belongs all praise; You are the Light of the heavens and the earth and all who are in them. To You belongs all praise; You are the Truth, Your promise is true, meeting You is true, Your Word is true, Paradise is true, Hell is true, Muḥammad ؐ is true and the Hour is true. O Allah, to You I submit and in You I believe and on You I depend and to You I turn in repentance, and by You I contend and to You I refer judgment. Forgive me my past and future sins, those which I have done in secret and those which I have done openly. You are the One Who brings near and You are the One Who puts far away. There is no god but You." Some of the narrators add: "And there is no power or strength except by Allah."²

اَللّٰهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ، اَنْتَ قَيِّمُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْاَرْضِ وَمَنْ فِيْهِنَّ، وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، لَكَ مُلْكُ
السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْاَرْضِ وَمَنْ فِيْهِنَّ، وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، اَنْتَ نُورُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْاَرْضِ وَمَنْ فِيْهِنَّ،
وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، اَنْتَ الْحَقُّ، وَوَعْدُكَ الْحَقُّ، وَلِقَاؤُكَ حَقٌّ، وَقَوْلُكَ حَقٌّ، وَالْجَنَّةُ حَقٌّ، وَالنَّارُ
حَقٌّ، وَمُحَمَّدٌ حَقٌّ، وَالسَّاعَةُ حَقٌّ، اَللّٰهُمَّ لَكَ اَسْلَمْتُ، وَبِكَ اَمَنْتُ، وَعَلَيْكَ تَوَكَّلْتُ، وَإِلَيْكَ
اَنْبَتُ، وَبِكَ خَاصَمْتُ، وَإِلَيْكَ حَاكَمْتُ، فَاغْفِرْ لِي مَا قَدَّمْتُ وَمَا أَخَّرْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَرْتُ
وَمَا أَعْلَنْتُ، اَنْتَ الْمُقَدِّمُ وَاَنْتَ الْمُؤَخِّرُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ. وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللّٰهِ.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ENTERING THE LAVATORY

IT IS RECORDED in the two Ṣaḥīḥs that Anas ؓ reported that on entering the lavatory the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from male and female devils."³

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4569) and Muslim (763).

² Al-Bukhārī (1120) and Muslim (769).

³ Al-Bukhārī (142) and Muslim (375).

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّىْ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْخُبْثِ وَالْخَبَائِثِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-khubuthi wa-l-khabā'ith.

One can say either al-khubuth with a u on the bā' or a sukūn on it, and the ruling of those who repudiate the sukūn is not correct.

And we relate from another source that he would say: "In the name of Allah. O Allah, I seek Your protection from male and female devils."¹ بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّىْ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْخُبْثِ وَالْخَبَائِثِ.

Bismillāh, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-khubuthi wa-l-khabā'ith.

And we relate from 'Alī ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "What veils the private parts of the son of Adam from the eyes of the jinn when he enters the lavatory is to say: In the name of Allah."² At-Tirmidhī narrated it but said that the isnād is not strong. We have already discussed the fact that meritorious acts (faḍā'il) can be done on the basis of weak narrations.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues hold that this dhikr is mustaḥabb whether one is in a building or outdoors. Our colleagues, may Allah have mercy upon them, also hold that one should first say In the name of Allah and then O Allah, I seek Your protection from male and female devils.

We relate from Ibn 'Umar ؓ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the lavatory he used to say: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from the filthy, impure, wicked and malicious Shayṭān the rejected."³ Ibn as-Sunnī narrated it, as did aṭ-Ṭabarānī in Kitāb ad-du'ā'.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّىْ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنَ الرَّجْسِ النَّجِسِ، الْخَبِيثِ الْمُخْبِثِ، الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيْمِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika mina-r-rijsi-n-najis, al-khabīthi-l-mukhbith, ash-Shayṭāni-r-raḥīm.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (5), Abū Dāwūd (4), an-Nasā'ī (1/20), who gives a similar wording, and al-Futūḥāt (1/379). The basmalah at the beginning of this dhikr is reported by aṭ-Ṭabarānī, ad-Dāraqutnī, and Ibn as-Sunnī.

² At-Tirmidhī (606), who also said that this is a gharīb hadith which is only known of through this route, and its chain is not strong. However, Ibn Ḥajar mentioned a supporting narration for it, reported by al-Bazzār.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (18), from Anas ؓ. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan gharīb.

THE PROHIBITION OF DOING DHIKR OR TALKING WHILE IN THE LAVATORY

BOTH DHIKR AND talking are makrūh whilst relieving oneself, whether outdoors or in a building. This applies to dhikr and speech except what is necessary, so much so that some of our colleagues state that even if a person sneezes he should not praise Allah ﷻ, nor should he respond to one who sneezes, return a greeting, or respond to the mu'adhdhin. Anyone who greets him will be neglectful [of this ruling] and will not deserve a reply. All such talk is makrūh in order to be free of imperfection but it is not ḥarām. If one sneezes and praises Allah in his heart without moving the tongue there is no harm; one should do likewise during sexual intercourse.

And we relate from Ibn 'Umar ﷺ that a man passed by the Messenger of Allah ﷺ while he was urinating and greeted him, but he did not reply. Muslim narrated it in his Ṣaḥīḥ.¹

Al-Muhājir ibn Qunfudh ﷺ said: "I came to the Prophet ﷺ while he was urinating and I greeted him. He did not reply until he had performed ablution. Then he apologised to me and said: 'I dislike making mention of Allah when I am not in a state of purity (ṭuhr)' – or else he said, 'ritual purity (ṭahārah)'."² This hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. Abū Dāwūd narrated it, as did an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds.

THE PROHIBITION OF GREETING A PERSON WHO IS SITTING TO RELIEVE HIMSELF

OUR SHAFI'Ī COLLEAGUES say that it is makrūh to greet a person in this state, and if one does so then one is not entitled to a reply. This is because of the hadith from Ibn 'Umar and Muhājir cited in the previous chapter.

¹ Muslim (370) and an-Nasā'ī (1/36).

² Abū Dāwūd (17), an-Nasā'ī (1/37), and Ibn Mājah (350).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN COMING OUT OF THE LAVATORY

ONE SHOULD SAY: *I seek Your forgiveness. Praise be to Allah, Who has removed from me impurity and given me good health.*¹ غُفْرَانُكَ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَذْهَبَ عَنِّي الْأَذَى وَعَافَانِي.

Ghufrānak, al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī adhhaba ‘anni-l-adhā wa ‘āfānī.

It is recorded in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: “I seek Your forgiveness.” And an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah narrated the rest.

And we relate from Ibn ‘Umar ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out of the lavatory he would say: “Praise be to Allah, Who has let me enjoy its taste, made its strength remain in me and removed from me its harm.”² Ibn as-Sunni and at-Ṭabarānī narrated it.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَذَاقَنِي لَذَّتَهُ، وَأَبْقَى فِيَّ قُوَّتَهُ، وَدَفَعَ عَنِّي أَذَاهُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī adhāqanī ladhdhatah, wa abqā fiyya quwwatah, wa dafa’a ‘annī adhāh.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN POURING WATER TO PERFORM WUḌŪ’

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say In the name of Allah, as we mentioned above.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (30), at-Tirmidhī (7), and Ibn Mājah (300), from ‘Ā’ishah ؓ. Imam an-Nawawī states in al-Majmū’ that it is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

² Ibn as-Sunni (25) and al-Futūḥāt (1/405). Ibn Ḥajar said that its chain contains two weak narrators and a break; nevertheless, there are supporting narrations for this hadith.

WHAT TO SAY DURING WUḌŪ'

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful at the beginning. It is sufficient to say In the name of Allah. Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues hold that if one leaves out the name of Allah at the beginning of wuḍū' one should say it during it, and if one has still not said it when one has finished then one should not say it, because one has neglected the proper place for it; but the wuḍū' will be valid. This applies whether one leaves it out intentionally or out of forgetfulness. That is our view, and that of the majority of scholars. Weak hadiths have been reported about saying the name of Allah in wuḍū'. Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said: "I do not know of any established hadith about mentioning the name of Allah in wuḍū'." Among those weak hadiths is the following.

Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no wuḍū' for anyone who has not mentioned the name of Allah over it." Abū Dāwūd and others narrated it. We relate this from the narration of Sa'id ibn Zayd, Abū Sa'id, 'Ā'ishah, Anas ibn Malik and Sahl ibn Sa'd رضي الله عنه. We relate them all from the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī as well as others. Al-Bayhaqī and others consider them all to be ḍa'if.

One of our colleagues, Shaykh Abū al-Faṭḥ al-Maqādisī the zāhid (abstinent), said: "It is mustaḥabb for someone making wuḍū' to say at the beginning, after [saying] the name of Allah, I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, the One Who has no partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger." There is no problem with what he said, except that this has not been established from the perspective of the Sunnah and we do not know any of our other colleagues or anyone else who have said this. But Allah knows best.

After completing wuḍū' one should say: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, One without partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. O Allah, make me one of those who repent and make me one of those who purify themselves. Glory be to You, Allah, and to You belongs all praise. I bear witness that there is no god but You. I ask Your forgiveness and I repent to You.

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ
وَرَسُولُهُ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي مِنَ التَّوَّابِينَ، وَاجْعَلْنِي مِنَ الْمُتَطَهِّرِينَ، سُبْحَانَكَ اَللّٰهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْكَ.
Ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa rasūluh, Allāhumma-j'alnī mina-t-

1 Abū Dāwūd (101). According to al-Mundhirī, none of the chains of narration for the hadiths on this topic are above criticism; collectively however, they strengthen each other. See at-Targhīb wa-t-tarhīb (1/164).

tawwābīn, wa-j'alnī mina-l-mutaṭahhirīn, subḥānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik, ashhadu an lā ilāha illā Ant, astaghfiruka wa atūbu ilayk.

And we relate from 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever makes ablution and then says I bear witness that there is no god but Allah alone without partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger, the eight doors of Paradise will be opened for him, and he may enter by any of them that he wishes."

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

Ashhadu al-lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa rasūluh.

Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ. At-Tirmidhī narrated it and added: O Allah make me one of the repentant and make me one of those who purify themselves.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي مِنَ التَّوَّابِينَ، وَاجْعَلْنِي مِنَ الْمُتَطَهِّرِينَ.

Allāhumma-j'alnī mina-t-tawwābīn, wa-j'alnī mina-l-mutaṭahhirīn.

He also narrated: Glory be to You, Allah! Praise belongs to You. . . to the end. An-Nasā'ī in al-Yawm wa al-laylah, and others, reported this with a weak isnād.

We relate in the Sunan of ad-Dāraquṭnī from Ibn 'Umar ؓ that the Messenger ﷺ said: "Whoever performs wuḍū' and says I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger before he speaks will be forgiven for whatever happens between the two ablutions."¹ Its isnād is weak.

We relate in the Musnad of Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, the Sunan of Ibn Mājah and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger ﷺ said: "Whoever performs wuḍū' and does so faultlessly, and then says thrice I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, One without partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger will have the eight doors of Paradise opened for him, and may enter by any of them that he wishes."² The isnād of this hadith is weak.

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

Ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa rasūluh.

We relate also the repetition of the declaration There is no god but Allah thrice in the book of Ibn as-Ṣunnī on the authority of 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān. Its isnād is weak. ؓ.

1 Muslim (234), at-Tirmidhī (55), Ibn Mājah (470), and an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (84).

2 Sunan ad-Dāraquṭnī (1/93). Ibn Ḥajar describes this hadith as gharīb.

3 Aḥmad (3/265), Ibn Mājah (469), Ibn as-Sunnī (32), and al-Futūḥāt (2/21-22). Ibn Ḥajar said that this is a gharīb hadith reported by Aḥmad, Ibn Mājah, Abū Ya'la, Ibn as-Sunnī and aṭ-Ṭabarānī. Its chain of narrators includes Umar ibn 'Abdullāh ibn Wahb, who is exceedingly truthful (ṣadūq), who narrated from Zayd al-Ummī, who came from Basra and whose narration is weak according to the majority.

According to Shaykh Naṣr al-Maqdisī one should say along with these dhikrs: O Allah, send blessings and salutations upon Muḥammad and upon the family of Muḥammad, and add to them and grant peace.

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ وَسَلِّمْ

Allāhumma ṣalli 'alā Muḥammadin wa 'alā āli Muḥammadin wa sallim.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues hold that one should say these adhkār facing the qiblah after the completion of wuḍū'.

As for the du'ā' to be said while washing the hands, arms and feet during wuḍū', there is nothing that has been conveyed from the Messenger ﷺ. The jurists say that the supplications that have been conveyed from early Muslims are mustaḥabb, to which they added some things and from which they removed some. The upshot of what they said is that after saying the name of Allah one should say: Praise be to Allah, Who has made water pure and purifying.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي جَعَلَ الْمَاءَ طَهُورًا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī ja'ala-l-mā'a ṭahūrā.

After rinsing the mouth one should say: O Allah, give me a cup to drink from the pool of Your Prophet after which I will never thirst again.

اللَّهُمَّ أَسْقِنِي مِنْ حَوْضِ نَبِيِّكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ كَأْسًا لَا أَظْمَأُ بَعْدَهُ أَبَدًا.

Allāhumma asqinī min ḥawḍi Nabīyyika ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallama ka'san lā aẓma'u ba'dahu abadā.

After cleaning the nose one should say: O Allah, do not deprive me of the fragrance of Your bounty and Your Gardens.

اللَّهُمَّ لَا تَحْرِمْنِي رَائِحَةَ نَعِيمِكَ وَجَنَّاتِكَ.

Allāhumma lā taḥrimnī rā'iḥata na'imika wa jinānik.

After washing the face one should say: O Allah, make my face white on the day when some faces will be whitened and some will be blackened.

اللَّهُمَّ بَيِّضْ وَجْهِي يَوْمَ تَبْيِضُ وُجُوهُ وَتَسْوَدُ وُجُوهُ.

Allāhumma bayyiḍ wajhī yawma tabyaddu wujūhun wa taswaddu wujūh.

After washing the hands one should say: O Allah, give me my book in my right hand. O Allah, do not give me my book in my left hand.

اللَّهُمَّ أَغْنِنِي كِتَابِي بِيَمِينِي. اللَّهُمَّ لَا تُعْطِنِي كِتَابِي بِشِمَالِي.

Allāhumma a'ṭinī kitābī bi-yamīnī. Allāhumma lā tu'ṭinī kitābī bi-shimālī.

After wiping the head one should say: O Allah, forbid my hair and skin to Hell-Fire, and grant me shade beneath Your Throne on the day when there will be no shade except the shade You grant.

اللَّهُمَّ حَرِّمْ شَعْرِي وَبَشْرِي عَلَى النَّارِ، وَأَظِلَّنِي تَحْتَ عَرْشِكَ يَوْمَ لَا ظِلَّ إِلَّا ظِلُّكَ.

Allāhumma ḥarrim sha'rī wa basharī 'alā-n-nār, wa aẓillanī taḥta 'arshika yawma lā ẓillā illā ẓilluk.

After wiping the ears one should say: O Allah, make me one of those who listen to the Word and follow the best of it.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي مِنَ الَّذِينَ يَسْتَمِعُونَ الْقَوْلَ فَيَتَّبِعُونَ أَحْسَنَهُ.

Allāhumma-j'alnī mina-lladhīna yastami'ūna-l-qawla fa-yattabi'ūna aḥsanah.

After washing the feet one should say: O Allah, make my feet firm on the Bridge. And Allah knows best.

اللَّهُمَّ ثَبِّتْ قَدَمَيَّ عَلَى الصِّرَاطِ.

Allāhumma thabbit qadamayya 'alā-ṣ-ṣirāt.

An-Nasā'ī and his colleague Ibn as-Sunnī in their books Kitāb 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ said: "I brought the Messenger of Allah ﷺ water for wuḍū' and he performed wuḍū'. I heard him say: 'O Allah, forgive me my sins, give me expansion in my home, and bless me in my sustenance.' I said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I heard you supplicate saying such-and-such.' He replied: 'Have these words left anything out?'"¹ Ibn as-Sunnī comments on this hadith in the section on what to say in wuḍū', and an-Nasā'ī includes it in the section on what to say when completing wuḍū'; and both are acceptable.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي ذَنْبِي، وَوَسِّعْ لِي فِي دَارِي، وَبَارِكْ لِي فِي رِزْقِي.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī dhanbī, wa wassi' lī fī dārī, wa bārik lī fī rizqī.

¹ An-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (80), Ibn as-Sunnī (28), and al-Futūḥāt (2/33). Ibn Hajar said that all of the narrators in the chain for this hadith are narrators of ṣaḥīḥ hadiths, except for Ubad ibn Ubad.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN PERFORMING GHUSL (MAJOR ABLUTION)

it is mustaḥabb, when taking a ghusl, to say all that we have mentioned in connection with wuḍū', such as the name of Allah and other things. It makes no difference whether one is doing ghusl because of ritual impurity or [after] menstruation. Some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that people should not mention the name of Allah while in a state of major ritual impurity or menstruating. The correct view is that it is mustaḥabb for them, as for others; but it is not permissible for them if they intend thereby [to recite] the Qur'ān.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN PERFORMING TAYAMMUM

it is mustaḥabb to say In the name of Allah when beginning [tayammum], even if one be in a state of ritual impurity or during menstruation, as we have mentioned in regard to making ghusl. As for the declaration of faith after it, and the rest of the adhkār of wuḍū' and the da'awāt of washing the face and hands which we have mentioned previously with respect to wuḍū', we have not heard anything different from the opinions of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues or anyone else. It is obvious that the same ruling applies as in wuḍū', because tayammum, like wuḍū', is purification.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN GOING TO THE MOSQUE

WE HAVE ALREADY mentioned what one should say when leaving the house to go anywhere. When a person leaves to go to the mosque it is mustaḥabb to add the following.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim the long hadith of Ibn 'Abbās ؓ about a night he spent in the house of his aunt Maymūnah ؓ. He mentions the hadith about the Tahajjud prayer of the Messenger ﷺ and says: "The mu'adhdhin called the adhān for Ṣubḥ, and he went out to the mosque saying: 'O Allah, put light in my heart, light in my tongue, light in my hearing, and light in my sight. Put light behind me and put light in front of me. Put light above me and put light beneath me. O Allah, grant me light.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْ فِي قَلْبِي نُورًا، وَفِي لِسَانِي نُورًا، وَاجْعَلْ فِي سَمْعِي
نُورًا، وَاجْعَلْ فِي بَصَرِي نُورًا، وَاجْعَلْ مِنْ خَلْفِي نُورًا، وَأَمَامِي نُورًا، وَاجْعَلْ مِنْ فَوْقِي نُورًا، وَمِنْ تَحْتِي نُورًا، اللَّهُمَّ أَعْظِنِي نُورًا.

Allāhumma-j'al fī qalbī nūrā, wa fī lisānī nūrā, wa-j'al fī sam'ī nūrā, wa-j'al fī baṣarī nūrā, wa-j'al min khalfī nūrā, wa amāmī nūrā, wa-j'al min fawqī nūrā, wa min taḥtī nūrā, Allāhumma a'ṭinī nūrā.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Bilāl ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out to ṣalāh he would say: “In the name of Allah. I believe in Allah, I trust in Allah, there is no power and no strength except by Allah. O Allah, by the right that supplicants have over You and by the right of my going out now, I have not gone out in arrogance or pride, or for show and pomp. I have gone out seeking Your pleasure and to ward off Your wrath. I ask You to protect me from Hell-Fire and let me enter Paradise.”² This hadith is weak. One of the narrators, al-Wāzi' ibn Nāfi' al-'Uqayli, is agreed by all to be so weak as to be rejected in hadith transmissions.

We also relate the same meaning from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī in 'Aṭīyyah al-'Awfi's narration from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. 'Aṭīyyah, too, is regarded as weak.

بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ، آمَنْتُ بِاللَّهِ، تَوَكَّلْتُ عَلَى اللَّهِ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.
اللَّهُمَّ بِحَقِّ السَّائِلِينَ عَلَيْكَ، وَبِحَقِّ مَخْرَجِي هَذَا، فَإِنِّي لَمْ أَخْرُجْهُ
أَشْرًا وَلَا بَطْرًا، وَلَا رِيَاءً وَلَا سُمْعَةً، خَرَجْتُ ابْتِغَاءَ مَرْضَاتِكَ، وَاتِّقَاءَ سُخْطِكَ.. أَسْأَلُكَ أَنْ تُعِيدَنِي مِنَ النَّارِ وَتُدْخِلَنِي الْجَنَّةَ.

Bismi-llāh, āmantu bi-llāh, tawakkaltu 'ala-llāh, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

Allāhumma bi-ḥaqq-s-sā'ilīna 'alayk, wa bi-ḥaqqi makhrajī hādha, fa innī lam akhrujhu asharaan wa lā baṭarā, wa lā riyā'an wa lā sum'ah, kharajtu-btighā'a mardātik, wa-ttiqā'a sakhatik, as'aluka an tu'idhanī mina-n-Nāri wa tudkhillani-l-Jannah.

¹ Muslim (763), Abū Dāwūd (58), and an-Nasā'ī (2/218).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (83) and al-Futūḥāt (2/40–41). Ibn Hajar mentions a similar narration from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī, reported by Ibn as-Sunnī (84), who states that it is a ḥasan hadith reported by Aḥmad, Ibn Mājah, Ibn Khuzaymah in Kitāb at-Tawḥīd, and Abū Nu'aym al-Aṣbahānī.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ENTERING AND LEAVING THE MOSQUE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say: I seek protection with Allah the Tremendous and with His Noble Countenance and His Pre-eternal Sovereign Might from Shayṭān the rejected. Praise be to Allah. O Allah, send blessings and salutations upon Muḥammad and upon the family of Muḥammad. O Allah, forgive me my sins and open for me the doors of Your Mercy. Then one should say In the name of Allah. He should enter with his right foot first. He should leave with his left foot first and say all that we mentioned above, except that he should say the doors of Your Favour instead of Your Mercy.

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ، وَبِوَجْهِهِ الْكَرِيمِ، وَسُلْطَانِهِ الْقَدِيمِ، مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ
الرَّجِيمِ. الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، اَللّٰهُمَّ صَلِّ وَسَلِّمْ عَلٰى مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلٰى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ،
اَللّٰهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِيْ ذُنُوْبِيْ، وَاَفْتَحْ لِيْ اَبْوَابَ رَحْمَتِكَ، بِاسْمِ اللّٰهِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi-l-'Aẓīm, wa bi-wajhihi-l-karīm, wa sulṭānihi-l-qadīm, mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-rajīm. Al-ḥamdu li-llāh. Allāhumma ṣalli wa sallim 'alā Muḥammadin wa 'alā āli Muḥammad. Allāhummaghfir li dhunūbī wa-ftaḥ li abwāba raḥmatik. Bismi-llāh.

We relate from Abū Ḥumayd, or Abū Usayd ؓ, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any one of you enters the mosque, he should invoke blessings upon the Messenger ﷺ and then say: O Allah, open for me the doors of Your Mercy. And when he leaves he should say: O Allah, I ask of You from Your bounty."¹ Muslim relates this in his Ṣaḥīḥ. Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah and others also relate it, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād. In Muslim's narration there is no sentence: 'So, send greetings upon the Prophet ﷺ', although it is in the narrations of the rest.

اَللّٰهُمَّ افْتَحْ لِيْ اَبْوَابَ رَحْمَتِكَ. اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّیْ اَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ فَضْلِكَ.

Allāhumma-ftaḥ li abwāba raḥmatik. Allāhumma innī as'aluka min faḍlik.

Ibn aṣ-Ṣunnī adds in his narration: "And when he leaves he should greet the Prophet ﷺ and say: O Allah, protect me from Shayṭān the rejected." Ibn Mājah, Ibn Khuzaymah and Abū Ḥātim ibn Ḥibbān—with kasrah on the letter ḥā—all narrated it in their Ṣaḥīḥs.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اَعِزَّنِيْ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

Allāhumma a'idhnī mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-Rajīm.

¹ Muslim (713), Abū Dāwūd (465), an-Nasā'ī (2/53), Ibn as-Sunnī (85), Ibn Mājah (772), al-Ḥākim (1/207), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (90).

We relate in ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ that when the Prophet ﷺ entered the mosque he would say: “I seek protection in Allah the Tremendous, His Noble Countenance, and His Pre-eternal Sovereign Might from Shayṭān the rejected.” He remarked that if one says this then Shayṭān says: “He has gained protection from me for the whole day.”¹ This hadith is ḥasan and is narrated by Abū Dāwūd with a good isnād.

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ، وَبِوَجْهِهِ الْكَرِيمِ، وَسُلْطَانِهِ الْقَدِيمِ، مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

*A‘ūdhu bi-llāhi-l-‘Aẓīm, wa bi-wajhihi-l-karīm, wa
sulṭānihi-l-qadīm, mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-rajīm.*

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ narrated that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the mosque he would say: “In the name of Allah. O Allah, send blessings upon Muḥammad.” And when he left he would say: “In the name of Allah. O Allah, send blessings upon Muḥammad.”²

We have also related the prayers upon the Prophet ﷺ as narrated by Ibn ‘Umar in the section about entering and leaving the mosque.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ.

Bismi-llāh, Allāhumma ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammad.

We also relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that ‘Abdullāh ibn al-Ḥasan reported from his mother that his grandmother said: “When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the mosque he would praise Allah, mention His name, and say: ‘O Allah, forgive me and open for me the doors of Your Mercy.’ When he left he would say the same, then add: ‘O Allah, open for me the doors of Your Bounty.’”³ اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي، وَافْتَحْ لِي أَبْوَابَ رَحْمَتِكَ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa-ftaḥ lī abwāba raḥmatik.

اللَّهُمَّ افْتَحْ لِي أَبْوَابَ فَضْلِكَ.

Allāhumma-ftaḥ lī abwāba faḍlik.

We relate in Abū Umāmah that the Messenger ﷺ said: “When any of you go out

1 Abū Dāwūd (466) and al-Futūḥāt (2/47). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a ḥasan gharīb hadith, all of whose narrators but two—Ismā‘īl ibn Bishr and ‘Uqbah ibn Muslim—are trustworthy and are narrators of ṣaḥīḥ hadiths.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (78) and al-Futūḥāt (2/48). As-Sakhāwī states that the chain of this hadith includes unknown narrators. It is also narrated by Ibn as-Sunnī (88) from Ibn ‘Umar ؓ but here too it is very weak.

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (86), at-Tirmidhī (314), Ibn Mājah (771), and Aḥmad (5/425). Ibn Ḥajar states that the narrators of the chain are trustworthy, but that there is a break in it. Abū ‘Isā at-Tirmidhī states that the hadith of Fāṭimah is ḥasan, but its chain of narration is not continuous. Fāṭimah bint al-Ḥusayn did not meet Fāṭimah al-Kubrā, as the latter only outlived the Prophet ﷺ by a few years. Ibn Ḥajar states that Ḥusayn’s age at the time of his mother’s death was less than eight years.

of the mosque, the army of Shayṭān call to one another and gather together as bees gather around their leader. So when any one of you stands at the door of the mosque he should say: O Allah, I seek Your protection from Iblīs and his armies. If he says this, then they will not harm him.”¹ The meaning of al-ya'sūb is either male bees or their leader.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ إِبْلِيسَ وَجُنُودِهِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min Iblīs wa junūdih.

21

WHAT TO SAY IN A MOSQUE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to remember Allah abundantly and to say tasbīḥ, tahlīl, taḥmīd, takbīr and other adhkār. It is also mustaḥabb to recite Qur'ān abundantly, to read hadiths of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and to study jurisprudence and all other sciences of the Sharī'ah. Allah ﷻ says: “In houses which Allah has permitted to be erected, and His Name to be exalted therein, and in which He is glorified in the morning and in the evening, by men. . .”²

﴿فِي بُيُوتٍ أَذِنَ اللَّهُ أَنْ تُرْفَعَ وَيُذْكَرَ فِيهَا اسْمُهُ يُسَبِّحُ لَهُ فِيهَا بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “And whoever honours the symbols of Allah, that comes from piety of the heart.”³

﴿وَمَنْ يُعَظِّمْ شَعَائِرَ اللَّهِ فَإِنَّهَا مِنْ تَقْوَى الْقُلُوبِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “Whoever honours that which Allah has made sacrosanct, it is best for him in the sight of his Lord.”⁴

﴿وَمَنْ يُعَظِّمْ حُرْمَتِ اللَّهِ فَهُوَ خَيْرٌ لَهُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِ﴾

We relate from Buraydah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Mosques were only built for what they were built for.”⁵ Muslim related it in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate from Anas ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told the Bedouin man who urinated in the mosque: “These mosques are not suitable places for any of this

1 Ibn as-Sunnī (154).

2 Qur'ān 24:36.

3 Qur'ān 22:32.

4 Qur'ān 22:30.

5 Muslim (569).

urination or filth. They are only [meant] for the remembrance of Allah ﷻ, [ṣalāh], and the recitation of the Qur'ān,"¹ or however it was the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said it. Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

It is imperative for anyone sitting in the mosque to make the intention for I'tikāf. This is valid, in our [Shāfi'ī] opinion, even if one only stays for a moment. One of our colleagues says that I'tikāf is valid even if one simply enters the mosque and passes through it without staying at all. Anyone passing through [a mosque] ought to make the intention for I'tikāf so that he may gain the merit of it, according to this person. It is best to stand for a while and then pass on. Anyone sitting in the mosque ought to enjoin whatever good he sees and prevent whatever evil he sees. We are enjoined to do this in places other than the mosque, so in the mosque it is even more essential in order to protect, glorify, dignify and honour it. Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues hold that if one enters the mosque but is unable to perform the ṣalāh of greeting the mosque, because of impurity, being busy or any other reason, he should say four times: Glory be to Allah, all praise is due to Allah, there is no god but Allah and Allah is greater. Such was the opinion of one of our righteous predecessors, and there is no harm in it.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subḥāna-llāh, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh, wa lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa-llāhu akbar.

22

THE REJECTION AND CENSURE OF SOMEONE WHO LOOKS FOR LOST PROPERTY IN THE MOSQUE OR SELLS IN IT

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever hears a man raising his voice looking for his lost property in the mosque should say to him: May Allah not return it to you, because this is not what mosques were built for."²

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Buraydah ﷺ related that a man was raising his voice [searching for a stray animal of his] in the mosque, saying: "Who will call the red camel for me?" The Messenger ﷺ said: "May you not find it. Mosques were only built for what they were built for."³

And we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī, at the end of the chapter on transactions, that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If you see someone buying and selling in the mosque then say: May Allah not make your trade profitable. And if you see someone raising his voice searching for his stray [animal] in the mosque then say: *May Allah not return it to you.*¹ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as good.

¹ Muslim (284).

² Muslim (568), Abū Dāwūd (473), and at-Tirmidhī (1321).

³ Muslim (569).

23

CENSURING SOMEONE WHO CHANTS POETRY IN THE MOSQUE IN WHICH THERE IS NO PRAISE FOR ISLAM OR FOR ABSTEMIOUSNESS, NOR ANY ENCOURAGEMENT OF THE NOBLE QUALITIES OF CHARACTER AND THE LIKE

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Thawbān ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If you see someone reciting poetry in the mosque then tell him: May Allah make your mouth dumb" thrice.²

24

THE MERIT OF THE ADHĀN

WE RELATE FROM Abū Hurayrah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If people knew what was in the call [to prayer] and in the front prayer line and then they had to draw lots for it, they would draw lots."³ Al-Bukhārī and Muslim narrated it in their Ṣaḥīḥs.

Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When the call is made for the ṣalāh Shayṭān flees, breaking wind so that he cannot hear the adhān."⁴ Al-Bukhārī and Muslim narrated it.

Mu'āwiyah ؓ said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'The people who call the adhān will have the longest necks [owing to their uprightness] on the Day of Judgment.'"⁵ Muslim narrated it.

Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Nothing comes

1 At-Tirmidhī (1321), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (152). Ibn Ḥajar describes this hadith as gharīb.

3 Al-Bukhārī (615), Muslim (437), and an-Nasā'ī (2/23).

4 Al-Bukhārī (608), Muslim (389), al-Muwatta' (1/69-70), Abū Dāwūd (516), and an-Nasā'ī (2/21-22).

5 Muslim (387).

within earshot of the voice of the mu'adhdhin—jinn, man, or anything else—that will not bear witness for him on the Day of Judgment.”¹ Narrated by al-Bukhārī.

The hadiths on its merit are numerous.

Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues disagree about which is the more meritorious: calling the adhān, or leading the prayer. They have four opinions. The most authoritative is that calling the adhān is better; the second is that leading the ṣalāh is better; the third is that they are equal; the fourth is that if one knows how to fulfil the duties of leading ṣalāh and has the [right] qualities, then leading the ṣalāh is better, but if not, then calling the adhān is the better.

25

THE DESCRIPTION OF THE ADHĀN

THE WORDS OF the adhān are well-known. The practice of tarjī' is Sunnah, in our opinion: it means that after calling at the top of his voice: Allah is greater, Allah is greater, Allah is greater, Allah is greater [the mu'adhdhin] should say quietly, so that he and those nearby can hear: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that there is no god but Allah. I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah, I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah. Then he should return to the top of his voice, saying: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that there is no god but Allah. I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah, I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ،
حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ،
حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ، حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ،
اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, Ashhadu a-l-lā ilāha illa-llāh, ashhadu a-l-lā ilāha illa-llāh,

¹ Al-Bukhārī (609).

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCES

*Ashhadu anna Muḥammada-r-Rasūlu-llāh,
ashhadu anna Muḥammada-r-Rasūlu-llāh,
Ḥayya 'alā-ṣ-ṣalāh, hayya 'alā-ṣ-ṣalāh,
Ḥayya 'alā-l-falāh, hayya 'alā-l-falāh,
Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar,
Lā ilāha illa-llāh.*

Tathwīb is also Sunnah in our view. This means saying in the adhān of Ṣubḥ, after Come to success, come to success: "Prayer is better than sleep, prayer is better than sleep."

الصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنَ النَّوْمِ، الصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنَ النَّوْمِ.

Aṣ-ṣalātu khayrum-min an-nawm, aṣ-ṣalātu khayrum-min an-nawm.

There are various hadiths confirming the validity of tarjī' and tathwīb, and these are well-known. If [the mu'adhdhin] leaves out tarjī' and tathwīb, the adhān will be valid but he will be leaving out [the practice] that is more meritorious. An adhān called by a child who has not yet reached the age of rational thought is not valid, nor that of a woman or that of a disbeliever. The adhān of a rational child [i.e. after he has reached puberty] is valid. If a disbeliever calls the adhān and [in doing so] utters the declaration of faith, it is considered as acceptance of Islam, according to the authoritative and acknowledged opinion. Others say that his acceptance of Islam [in that form] is not valid. There is no disagreement that this adhān would be invalid, because it was first uttered before the ruling of Islam applied. There are many related rulings on this subject, which are set down in the books of jurisprudence, but this is not the place to relate them.

26

DESCRIPTION OF THE IQĀMAH

ACCORDING TO THE authoritative and acknowledged position, which is supported by authentic hadiths, the iqāmah is made up of eleven phrases: Allah is greater, Allah is greater. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah. Come to ṣalāh, come to success. The ṣalāh has been established, the ṣalāh has been established. Allah is greater, Allah is greater. There is no god but Allah.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،

أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ،
حَيَّ عَلَى الصَّلَاةِ،
حَيَّ عَلَى الْفَلَاحِ،
قَدْ قَامَتِ الصَّلَاةُ، قَدْ قَامَتِ الصَّلَاةُ.
اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar,
Ashhadu a-l-lā ilāha illa-llāh,
Ashhadu anna Muḥammada-r-Rasūlu-llāh,
Ḥayya 'alā-ṣ-ṣalāh,
Ḥayya 'alā-l-falāh,
Qad qāmati-ṣ-ṣalāh, qad qāmati-ṣ-ṣalāh.
Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar,
Lā ilāha illa-llāh.

Know that the adhān and iqāmah are both Sunnahs, in our view, according to the authoritative and acknowledged position, whether the adhān be for Jumu'ah or for something else. Some of our colleagues are of the view that they are a communal obligation.¹ Some of them say they are only a communal obligation for Jumu'ah and not for other ṣalāh. If we say that they are a communal obligation and the people of a town omit them, then they should be fought for refusing to perform them. If we say that it is Sunnah, then they should not be fought, according to the authoritative and acknowledged view, just as they will not be fought for abandoning the Sunnah ṣalāh of Zuhr etc. Some of our colleagues say that they should be confronted, because it is one of the manifest symbols of Islam.

It is mustaḥabb to chant the adhān and to raise the voice. It is mustaḥabb to utter the iqāmah rapidly and to make the voice quieter than for the adhān. It is mustaḥabb for the mu'adhdhin to have a beautiful voice and that he be reliable, trustworthy, competent and knowledgeable about the times of ṣalāh and that he do it voluntarily without thought of compensation. It is mustaḥabb that the adhān and the iqāmah be made while standing in a state of purity and in a high place, facing the qiblah. If a person calls the adhān and the iqāmah with his back to the qiblah, sitting, lying down or in a state of minor or major impurity, his adhān will be valid, but will be makrūh. The sinfulness of a person in major impurity will be greater than that of the one in minor impurity. The sinfulness of an iqāmāh called by a person in a state of major impurity will be more severe.

¹ فرض كفاية—Farḍ kifāyah—communal obligation. This means that it is the responsibility of the entire community, but if just one of them fulfils it, the whole community is absolved of the responsibility. If no one does it, it is a sin which applies to the whole community.

The adhān is only required for the five ṣalawāt: Ṣubḥ, Zuḥr, ʿAṣr, Maghrib, and ʿIshā and it is the same for the ṣalāh performed in its proper time, and for a missed ṣalāh which is being made up. It is the same whether at home or on a journey, and it is the same if one prays alone or in congregation. If one person calls the adhān, it will suffice for the rest. If a person performs a number of missed ṣalawāt at one time, he should call the adhān for the first and the iqāmāh for each ṣalāh. If he combines two ṣalāhs, then he should call the adhān for the first and the iqāmāh for both. For ṣalawāt other than the five [main] ṣalawāt there is no adhān; this opinion is unanimous. In the same category there are ṣalawāt before which, when one wants to do them in congregation, it is mustaḥabb to say The ṣalāh has assembled, such as the ʿId ṣalāh, the eclipse ṣalāh, and the ṣalāh of asking for rain. For some prayers it is not mustaḥabb, such as the ṣunan prayers and all the optional prayers. There are some over which there is disagreement, like the Tarāwīḥ and the funeral prayer. The correct view is that [the iqāmāh] should be called before Tarāwīḥ but not before the funeral prayer.

The iqāmāh is not valid except in its proper time and when one intends to proceed to the ṣalāh; and the adhān is not valid until the time of the ṣalāh has arrived, except for Ṣubḥ for which it is permissible to call the adhān before the time comes in. There are differences of opinion as to the time at which it is permissible. The most correct view is that it is permissible after half the night has passed. Other opinions are that it is permissible in the pre-dawn (saḥar); that it is permissible all night, but this [view] is of no consequence; and that it is permissible after two-thirds of the night have passed. The preferred view is the first-mentioned.

A woman or ambivalent hermaphrodite may call the iqāmāh [for themselves]. They may not call the adhān because it is prohibited for them to raise their voices.

27

WHAT TO SAY UPON HEARING THE ADHĀN AND THE IQĀMAH

IT IS MUSTAḤABB for anyone who hears the adhān and the iqāmāh to repeat [each phrase], except when [the muʾadhdhin] says: Hasten to ṣalāh and Hasten to success, when he should say: There is no power or strength except by Allah.

لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

And when he says: Prayer is better than sleep one should reply: You have spoken the truth and you have been honest.

صَدَقْتَ وَبَرَرْتَ.

Ṣadaqta wa barart.

It is also said that one should say: The Messenger of Allah ﷺ has spoken the truth: Prayer is better than sleep.

صَدَقَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، الصَّلَاةُ خَيْرٌ مِنَ النَّوْمِ.

Ṣadaqa Rasūlu-llāhi ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallam, aṣ-ṣalātu khayru-m-mina-n-nawm.

After the two words of the iqāmah, one should respond: May Allah establish it and perpetuate it.

أَقَامَهَا اللَّهُ وَأَدَامَهَا.

Aqāmaha-llāhu wa adāmahā.

After his words: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah one says: and I bear witness that there is no god but Allah. After his words: I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah, one says: and I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah. Then he should say: I am pleased with Allah as Lord, with Muḥammad as Messenger, and with Islam as religion.

رَضِيتُ بِاللَّهِ رَبًّا، وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَسُولًا وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِينًا.

Raḍītu bi-llāhi Rabbā, wa bi-Muḥammadin ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallama Rasūlā, wa bi-l-Islāmi dīnā.

When one has finished responding to the whole adhān one should say: May He bless and grant peace to the Prophet, may Allah bless him and grant him peace. And then one says: O Allah, Lord of this perfect call and established prayer, grant Muḥammad status and virtue and resurrect him to the praiseworthy station that You have promised him. Then one should supplicate for whatever one wishes by way of things of this world or the Hereafter.

صَلَّى وَسَلَّمَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ رَبِّ هَذِهِ الدَّعْوَةِ التَّامَّةِ، وَالصَّلَاةِ الْقَائِمَةِ، اٰتِ مُحَمَّدًا الْوَسِيْلَةَ وَالْفَضِيْلَةَ، وَابْعَثْهُ مَقَامًا مَّحْمُودًا الَّذِي وَعَدْتَهُ.

Ṣallā wa sallama ‘ala-n-Nabiyyi ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallam. Allāhumma Rabba hādhihi-d-da‘wati-t-tāmmah, wa-ṣ-ṣalāti-l-qā‘imah, āti Muḥammadani-l-wasīlata wa-l-faḍīlah, wa-b’athhu maqāma-m-maḥmūdani-lladhī wa’adtah.

We relate from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When you hear the call then repeat what the mu'adhdhin says."¹ Narrated by al-Bukhārī and Muslim in the ṣaḥīḥ.

'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ ؓ narrated that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: "When you hear the mu'adhdhin, say what he says, and then pray for blessings upon me. Whoever prays for blessings upon me, Allah will send ten blessings upon him. So ask Allah for intercession for me, for it is a rank in Paradise that only one servant of Allah is entitled to, and I hope that I will be that person. Whoever asks for intercession for me will enjoy my intercession."² Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If, when the mu'adhdhin says Allah is greater, any of you says Allah is greater, Allah is greater; and when he says I bear witness that there is no god but Allah he says I bear witness that there is no god but Allah; and when he says I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah he says I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah; and when he says Come to ṣalāh he says There is no power and no strength but with Allah; and when he says Come to success he says There is no power and no strength but in Allah; and when he says Allah is greater, Allah is greater he says Allah is greater, Allah is greater; and when he says There is no god but Allah he says from his heart There is no god but Allah, he shall enter Paradise."³ Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ،
لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ،
لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ،
اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ،
لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar,
Ashhadu a-l-lā ilāha illa-llāh,
Ashhadu anna Muḥammada-r-Rasūlu-llāh,
Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh,
Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh,
Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar,
Lā ilāha illa-llāh.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (611), Muslim (383), al-Muwaṭṭaʿ (1/67), Abū Dāwūd (522), at-Tirmidhī (208), and an-Nasā'ī—(2/23) in al-Mujtabā and (34) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

² Muslim (384), Abū Dāwūd (523), at-Tirmidhī (3619), and an-Nasā'ī (2/25).

³ Muslim (385), Abū Dāwūd (527), and an-Nasā'ī (40) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ   reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "Whoever says, on hearing the mu'adhdhin: I bear witness that there is no god but Allah Who is One and has no partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. I am pleased with Allah as Lord, with Muḥammad as Messenger and with Islam as religion, will have his sins forgiven."¹

According to another account he said: "Whoever says when he hears the mu'adhdhin: And I bear witness." Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.
رَضِيتُ بِاللَّهِ رَبًّا، وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ رَسُولًا، وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِينًا.

Ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa Rasūluh. Raḍītu bi-llāhi Rabbā, wa bi-Muḥammadin Rasūlan ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa bi-l-Islāmi dīnā.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Ā'ishah   reported that when the Messenger of Allah   heard the mu'adhdhin make the declaration of faith he would say: "And I [also bear witness], and I [also bear witness]."²

Jābir   reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "Whoever, on hearing the call to ṣalāh, says O Allah, Lord of this perfect call and established prayer, grant Muḥammad status and virtue and resurrect him to the praiseworthy station that You have promised him, my intercession will be available to him on the Day of Judgment."³ Al-Bukhārī narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

اَللّٰهُمَّ رَبَّ هَذِهِ الدَّعْوَةِ التَّامَّةِ وَالصَّلَاةِ الْقَائِمَةِ، اٰتِ مُحَمَّدًا الْوَسِيْلَةَ وَالْفَضِيْلَةَ، وَابْعَثْهُ مَقَامًا مَّحْمُوْدًا الَّذِي وَعَدْتَهُ.

Allāhumma Rabba hādhihi-d-da'wati-t-tāmmati wa-ṣ-ṣalāti-l-qā'imah, āti Muḥammadan-il-wasilata wa-l-faḍīlah, wa-b'athhu maqāma-m-maḥmūdān-illadhī wa'adtah.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Mu'āwiyah   that when the Messenger of Allah   heard the mu'adhdhin say: Come to success, he would say: "O Allah, make us successful."⁴ اَللّٰهُمَّ اجْعَلْنَا مُفْلِحِيْنَ.

Allāhumma-j'alnā mufliḥīn.

1 Muslim (386), Abū Dāwūd (525), at-Tirmidhī (210), Ibn Mājah (721), and an-Nasā'ī (2/26) and (73) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

2 Abū Dāwūd (526) and al-Futūḥāt (2/128). Ibn Ḥajar states that an-Nawawī mentions that Abū Dāwūd reports it with a ṣaḥīḥ chain, and that is correct.

3 Al-Bukhārī (614), Abū Dāwūd (529), at-Tirmidhī (211), and an-Nasā'ī (2/27).

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (90) and al-Futūḥāt (2/130). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb, as its chain contains a narrator whose transmissions are disregarded.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Abū Umāmah, or another of the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ, that once when Bilāl ؓ began the iqāmah and said: “The ṣalāh has been established,” the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “May Allah establish it and perpetuate it.”¹ And he said with respect to all the other expressions of the iqāmah just as is mentioned in the hadith of ‘Umar with respect to the adhān.

أَقَامَهَا اللَّهُ وَأَدَامَهَا.

Aqāmahā Allāhu wa adāmahā.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that when Abū Hurayrah ؓ heard the mu’adhdhin call the iqāmah he said: “O Allah, Lord of this perfect call and established prayer, bless Muḥammad and grant him his petitions on the Day of Resurrection.” اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّ هَذِهِ الدَّعْوَةِ التَّامَّةِ، وَالصَّلَاةِ الْقَائِمَةِ، صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ وَآتِهِ سُؤْلُهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ.

Allāhumma Rabba hādhihi-d-da‘wati-t-tāmmah, wa-ṣ-ṣalāti-l-qā‘imah, ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammadin wa ātihi su’lahu Yawma-l-Qiyāmah.

If one hears the mu’adhdhin or the iqāmah whilst engaged in ṣalāh one should not respond until one has finished ṣalāh. After one has said the salām to end the ṣalāh, he should respond as one who is not in ṣalāh responds. If one responds in ṣalāh, it is makrūh but the ṣalāh is not invalid. Likewise, if one hears him whilst in the lavatory, one should not respond immediately but when one comes out. If, however, one is reciting the Qur’ān, glorifying Allah, or reading hadith or some other [form of sacred] knowledge, he should interrupt all this and respond to the mu’adhdhin, and then return to what he was doing. This is because [the time for] the response would otherwise be lost, but what one is occupied with will usually not be lost. If one fails to follow the mu’adhdhin while he is calling the adhān it is mustaḥabb to make it up, unless a long time has elapsed.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (528) and al-Futūḥāt (2/131). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharīb. It was reported with this wording by Abū Dāwūd and he did not comment on it. Its chain contains an unknown (mubham) narrator, and there is some criticism of Shahr ibn Ḥawshab; but his hadiths are considered ḥasan as long as they do not conflict with other narrations.

THE DU‘Ā’ TO BE SAID AFTER THE ADHĀN

WE RELATE FROM Anas ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “A supplication between the adhān and the iqāmah is never rejected.”¹ Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī and Ibn as-Sunnī narrated it, as well as others. At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. At-Tirmidhī added in his version in the Book of Prayers from his Jāmi’: They asked: “What should we say, Messenger of Allah?” He said: “Ask Allah for well-being in this world and the Hereafter.”

And we relate from ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ ؓ that a man said: “O Messenger of Allah, the callers of the adhān are superior to us.” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Say what they say; and when you have finished, ask and you will be given.”² Abū Dāwūd narrated it and did not consider it weak.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, again from the chapter on Jihād with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Sahl ibn Sa’d ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Two supplications are never rejected”—or “Are rarely rejected”: “one at the time of the call to prayer, and one at the time of strife when some do battle with others.”³

In some reliable texts, the word yulḥimu with the letter ḥā’ appears, whereas other narrations have the letter jīm. Both are clear in their meaning.

WHAT TO SAY AFTER THE TWO SUNNAH RAK‘ĀT OF ṢUBḤ

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū al-Maliḥ, whose name was ‘Āmir ibn Usāmah, reported from his father [from his grandfather Usāmah ibn ‘Umayr] that he performed the two rak‘ahs of Fajr and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed two quick rak‘ahs near him. Then he heard him say thrice while sitting: “O Allah, Lord of Jibrīl, Isrāfīl, Mikā’il and Muḥammad the Prophet ؐ, I seek refuge with You from Hell-Fire.”⁴

¹ Abū Dāwūd (521), at-Tirmidhī (212), Ibn as-Sunnī (100), al-Futūḥāt (2/135), and an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

² Abū Dāwūd (524) and al-Futūḥāt (2/137). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a ḥasan hadith, reported by Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā’ī in al-Kubrā, and that all of its narrators are trustworthy ṣaḥīḥ narrators except for one, regarding whom there is disagreement. However, there is another narrator to replace him in narrating it.

³ Abū Dāwūd (2540) According to Ibn Ḥajar this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (101) and al-Futūḥāt (2/139). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّ جِبْرِيلَ وَإِسْرَافِيلَ وَمِيكَائِيلَ وَمُحَمَّدٍ النَّبِيِّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma Rabba Jibrīla wa Isrāfīla wa Mikā'ila wa Muḥammadin in-Nabiyyi, ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, a'ūdhu bika mina-n-nār.

We relate in it [the book of Ibn as-Sunnī] from Anas ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Whoever says thrice on Friday morning before the early morning ṣalāh: I ask the forgiveness of Allah, besides Whom there is no other god, the Living, the Self-Subsisting, and I repent to Him, Allah will forgive his sins even if they be as abundant as the foam of the sea."¹ أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْهِ.

Astagfiru-llāha-lladhī lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Hayyu-l-Qayyūmu wa atūbu ilayh.

30

WHAT TO SAY WHEN COMING TO THE PRAYER LINE

WE RELATE FROM Sa'd ibn Abi Waqqāṣ ؓ, who said that a man came to the ṣalāh while the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was performing ṣalāh. He said when he came to the prayer line: "O Allah, grant me the best that You grant Your pious slaves." When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ completed the ṣalāh he asked: "Who spoke?" [The man] replied: "I, Messenger of Allah." He said: "Then your horse will be hamstrung and you will become a shahīd in the Way of Allah."² An-Nasā'ī and Ibn as-Sunnī narrated it. Al-Bukhārī also narrated it in his Tārīkh, under the entry for Muḥammad ibn Muslim ibn 'Ā'idh.

اللَّهُمَّ آتِنِي أَفْضَلَ مَا تُؤْتِي عِبَادَكَ الصَّالِحِينَ.

Allāhumma ātinī afḍala mā tu'tī 'ibādaka-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (82) and al-Futūḥāt (2/142). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a gharīb hadith and its chain is weak; however, it does have supporting narrations which are ḥasan.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (104), an-Nasā'ī in as-Sunan al-kubrā and al-Futūḥāt (2/143). Ibn Ḥajar classifies it as ḥasan.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN INTENDING TO STAND UP FOR ṢALĀH

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Umm Rafī' ؓ said: "Messenger of Allah, show me a deed for which Allah ؓ will reward me." He said: "Umm Rafī', when you stand up for ṣalāh glorify Allah ؓ ten times, say There is no god but Allah ten times, praise Him ten times, say Allah is greater ten times, and ask His forgiveness ten times. For when you glorify Allah He says: 'This is for Me.' When you say There is no god but Allah He says: 'This is for Me.' And when you praise Allah He says: 'This is for Me.' When you say Allah is greater He says: 'This is for Me.' And when you ask Him to forgive you He says: 'I have done so.'"¹

THE DU'Ā' TO BE SAID DURING THE IQĀMAH

IMĀM ASH-SHĀFI'Ī NARRATES in al-Umm a hadith with an isnād that is mursal, according to which the Messenger of Allah ؓ said: "Seek acceptance of du'ā' when armies meet, when the iqāmah for ṣalāh has been called, and when rain falls." Ash-Shāfi'ī said: "I have memorised from more than one person [reports enjoining] the seeking of acceptance when rain falls and at the time of the iqāmah for ṣalāh."²

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ṢALĀH BEGINS

know that this subject is very extensive. Many different authentic hadiths have been narrated about it. There are numerous subsidiary discussions in the books of jurisprudence, so we will discuss the basics and the objectives without discussing details or uncommon rulings. I have omitted most of the evidence for the sake of brevity, because this book has not been composed to explain the evidence but merely to explain what should be practiced. And it is Allah ﷻ who grants ability and success.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (105) and al-Futūḥāt (2/144). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

² Imam ash-Shāfi'ī in Kitāb al-Umm (1/223-224). Ibn Hajar states that this is a good maqṭū' narration (i.e. attributed to one of the Tābi'ūn, the generation after the Companions) which falls into the category of a mursal narration (i.e. lacking a Companion's name in the chain of transmission).

34

THE TAKBĪRĀT AL-IHRĀM

KNOW THAT ṢALĀH is not valid without the takbīrāt al-ihrām, whether the ṣalāh be compulsory or supererogatory. According to the Shāfi'is and some others, the takbīr is part of the ṣalāh and is one of its essential elements. According to Abū Ḥanīfah, it is a precondition of ṣalāh but not a part of it.

Know that the words of the takbīr are Allah is greater. The two forms that are permissible are: Allah is greater or Allah is the Greatest.

اللهُ أَكْبَرُ or اللهُ الْأَكْبَرُ.

Allāhu akbar or Allāhu-l-akbar.

Both of these forms are permissible according to ash-Shāfi'i and Abū Ḥanīfah. According to Imam Mālik, only the first is permissible. As a precaution, one should use the first in order to avoid controversy. Takbīr is not permissible with any other words. If one said: 'Allah is the Sublime,' 'Allah is the Most High,' 'Allah is the Most Magnificent,' or anything like that, the ṣalāh would not be valid, according to ash-Shāfi'i and the majority [of scholars], although according to Abū Ḥanīfah it would be valid. If one said: 'The Greatest is Allah'—reversing the order of the words—it would not be valid according to what is the correct position in our view. Some of our colleagues say that it would be valid, as it is valid, according to the correct position, to say: 'Upon you be peace' at the end of ṣalāh.

Know that the takbīr and all other adhkār [in ṣalāh] are not valid unless one utters them with the tongue so that he can hear himself, provided that there is no impediment. We have already explained this in the sections at the beginning of this book. If a person is mute or has some defect in his tongue, then he should move his tongue as much as he is able to and his ṣalāh will be valid.

Know that takbīr is not valid in any other language, if one is able to utter it in Arabic. If one is unable to do so, it will be valid but it will be compulsory to learn [the necessary] Arabic. If someone is negligent in learning it, his ṣalāh is not valid. It will be compulsory for him to repeat all the ṣalawāt that he performed while he was negligent.

Know that the correct and preferred view is that the takbīrat al-ihrām should not be elongated, but should be kept short and said quickly. Some say that it should be elongated; but the first view is correct. It is mustahabb to extend the rest of the takbīrāt until one reaches the element or part of ṣalāh after them, according to the correct and preferred view. It is also said that it should not be elongated. If one elongates what should not be elongated and fails to lengthen what should be lengthened, one's ṣalāh will not be invalid, but one will forfeit the merit [of correctness].

Note that the place to elongate the alif is after the lām in Allāh and nothing else should be lengthened.

It is Sunnah for the Imam to say the takbīrat al-iḥrām and the other takbīrāt aloud so that those following can hear him. Those following should say it softly in such a manner that they can hear themselves. If a follower says it loudly and the Imam says it softly the ṣalāh is not invalidated; but one should strive to make one's takbīr correct. If one elongates the initial alif in Allāh or lengthens the bā' in akbar so that it becomes akbār, one's ṣalāh will be invalid.

Know that in a ṣalāh which comprises two rak'ahs, eleven takbīrāt are prescribed. Those which comprise three rak'ahs have seventeen takbīrāt, while those which comprise four rak'ahs have twenty-two takbīrāt. Every rak'ah has five takbīrāt: one for the rukū' and four for the prostration and coming up from it, besides which there are the takbīrāt al-iḥrām and the takbīr for the first tashahhud.

Know also that all of these takbīrāt are Sunnah. If a person omits one, whether intentionally or out of forgetfulness, his ṣalāh will not be invalid and it is not ḥarām for him. He does not have to perform the prostration of forgetfulness, unless he has omitted the takbīrat al-iḥrām, for the unanimous opinion is that the ṣalāh does not begin to take place without it. And Allah knows best.

35

WHAT TO SAY AFTER THE TAKBĪRĀT AL-IḤRĀM

THERE ARE MANY hadiths which collectively require one to say: Allah is greater, abundant praise is due to Allah and glory be to Allah in the morning and in the evening. I turn my face towards the One Who created the heavens and the earth, following the true religion as a Muslim; I am not one of the idolaters. Verily my ṣalāh and my sacrifice and my life and my death are for Allah, Lord of the Worlds, Who has no partners. Thus I have been commanded to do, and I am one of the Muslims. O Allah, You are the King; there is no god but You. You are my Lord and I am Your slave. I have wronged myself and I admit my sin; so forgive me all my sins, for no one forgives sins but You. Guide me to the best of character, for no one guides to the best of it but You; and turn the evil of it away from me, for no one turns it away except You. I am present and at Your command, and all good is in Your hands and no evil is attributed to You. I am from You and [am returning] to You; Blessed are You and You are Most Exalted. I ask for Your forgiveness and repent to You.

Then one should say: O Allah, put a distance between me and my sins like the distance between the East and the West.

O Allah, purify me of sin as a white robe is purified of dirt.

O Allah, wash me of sin with snow, water and ice.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ كَبِيرًا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا، وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ بُكْرَةً وَأَصِيلًا، وَجَّهْتُ وَجْهِيَ لِلَّذِي
فَطَرَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ حَنِيفًا مُسْلِمًا وَمَا أَنَا مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِينَ، إِنَّ صَلَاتِي وَنُسُكِي
وَمَحْيَايَ وَمَمَاتِي لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَبِذَلِكَ أُمِرْتُ، وَأَنَا مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِينَ. اللَّهُمَّ
أَنْتَ الْمَلِكُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، أَنْتَ رَبِّي وَأَنَا عَبْدُكَ، ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي وَاعْتَرَفْتُ بِذُنُوبِي، فَاعْفُ
لِي ذُنُوبِي جَمِيعًا، لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَاهْدِنِي لِأَحْسَنِ الْأَخْلَاقِ لَا يَهْدِي لِأَحْسَنِهَا
إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَاصْرِفْ عَنِّي سَيِّئَهَا لَا يَصْرِفُ سَيِّئَهَا إِلَّا أَنْتَ، لَبَّيْكَ وَسَعْدَيْكَ، وَالْخَيْرُ كُلُّهُ
فِي يَدَيْكَ، وَالشَّرُّ لَيْسَ إِلَيْكَ، أَنَا بِكَ وَإِلَيْكَ، تَبَارَكْتَ وَتَعَالَيْتَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْكَ.

اللَّهُمَّ بَاعِدْ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَ خَطَايَايَ كَمَا بَاعَدْتَ بَيْنَ الْمَشْرِقِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ.

اللَّهُمَّ نَقِّنِي مِنْ خَطَايَايَ كَمَا يُنْقِي الثَّوْبُ الْأَبْيَضُ مِنَ الدَّنَسِ.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْسِلْنِي مِنَ خَطَايَايَ بِالثَّلْجِ وَالْمَاءِ وَالْبَرَدِ.

Allāhu akbaru kabīrā wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīrā, wa subḥāna-llāhi bukratan wa aṣīlā, wajjahtu wajhī li-lladhī faṭara-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍa ḥanīfan musliman wa mā anā mina-l-mushrikīn, inna ṣalātī wa nusukī wa maḥyāya wa mamātī li-llāhi Rabbī-l-‘ālamīn, lā sharīka lah, wa bi-dhālika umirt, wa anā mina-l-muslimīn, Allāhumma Anta-l-Maliku lā ilāha illā Ant, Anta Rabbī wa anā ‘abduk, ḥalamtu nafsī wa-taraftu bi-dhanbī, fa-ghfir lī dhunūbī jamī‘ā, lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant, wa-hdīnī li-aḥsani-l-akhlāq lā yahdī li-aḥsanihā illā Ant, wa-ṣraf ‘annī sayyi‘ahā, lā yāṣrifu sayyi‘ahā illā Ant, labbayka wa sa‘dayk, wa-l-khayru kulluhu fī yadayk, wa-sh-sharru laysa ilayk, anā bika wa ilayk, tabārakta wa ta‘ālayt, astaghfiruka wa atūbu ilayk.

Allāhumma bā‘id baynī wa bayna khaṭāyāya kamā bā‘adta bayna-l-mashriqi wa-l-maghrib.

Allāhumma naqqinī min khaṭāyāya kamā yunaqqi-th-thawbu-l-abyaḍu mina-d-danas.

Allāhumma-ghsilnī min khaṭāyāya bi-th-thalji wa-l-mā‘i wa-l-barad.

All that we have mentioned has been established from authentic narrations from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. There are other hadiths on this subject, including the following.

‘Ā’ishah ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ started the ṣalāh he said: “Glory be to You, Allah, and with Your praise, and blessed is Your Name and exalted Your Majesty; there is no god other than You.”¹ This is narrated by at-Tirmidhī, Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah with weak isnāds. Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and al-Bayhaqī and others consider it weak.

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، وَتَبَارَكَ اسْمُكَ، وَتَعَالَى جَدُّكَ، وَلَا إِلَهَ غَيْرُكَ.

Subhānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik, wa tabāraka-smuk, wa ta‘ālā jadduk, wa lā ilāha ghayruk.

Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī, Ibn Mājah and al-Bayhaqī quote from the narration of Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī but they consider it weak. Al-Bayhaqī said: “Commencing with ‘Glory be to You, Allah, and blessed be Your Name!’ is narrated from Ibn Mas‘ūd and Anas in marfū‘ form and all of the narrations are weak. The most authentic is that narrated by ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ.”

Al-Bayhaqī narrates, with his isnād from ‘Umar, that [the Prophet ﷺ] performed the tabkīr and then said: “Glory be to You, O Allah, and with Your praise, and blessed is Your name, and lofty is Your majesty, and there is no god but You.” And Allah knows best.

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، تَبَارَكَ اسْمُكَ، وَتَعَالَى جَدُّكَ، وَلَا إِلَهَ غَيْرُكَ.

Subhānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik, tabāraka-smuk, wa ta‘ālā jadduk, wa lā ilāha ghayruk.

We relate in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī that ‘Alī ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ began the ṣalāh he would say: “There is no god but You. Glory be to You. I have wronged myself and I have done evil, so forgive me, for none forgives sins except You. I have turned my face” and so on.² This is a weak hadith, since the narrator, al-Ḥārith al-A‘war, is agreed by all to be weak. Ash-Sha‘bī calls al-Ḥārith a liar. Allah knows best.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ سُبْحَانَكَ، ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي وَعَمِلْتُ سُوءًا فَأَغْفِرْ لِي، إِنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَجَّهْتُ وَجْهِي...

Lā ilāha illā Anta subhānak, ḥalamtu nafsī wa ‘amiltu sū‘an fa-ghfir li, innahu lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant, wajjahtu wajhī. . .

Concerning the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying “And no evil is attributable to You”, you should know that it is the opinion of the people of truth among hadith scholars, ¹ Abū Dāwūd (776), at-Tirmidhī (243), Ibn Mājah (806) from ‘Ā’ishah ؓ, Abū Dāwūd (775), at-Tirmidhī (243), and Ibn Mājah (804) from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī ؓ. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan. This hadith is also mentioned in the Mustadrak (1/235) of al-Ḥākim, who classes it as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² Al-Bayhaqī (2/33) and al-Futūḥāt (2/178–179). Ibn Ḥajar mentions that the narrator, al-Ḥārith al-A‘war, was declared trustworthy by some hadith scholars.

jurists from among the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, the generation that followed them, and the 'ulamā' of the Muslims, that all creation—good and bad, beneficial and harmful—comes from Allah ﷻ. It is by His Will and His Decree. Once this is established, then it is essential to interpret and understand this hadith. The 'ulamā' have mentioned some answers to this.

Firstly, and this is the best-known, an-Nadhdhār ibn Shumayl and the Imams after him say it means: 'One cannot come close to You with evil.' The second interpretation is 'It cannot go up to You' as only good words go up. Thirdly, 'It is not associated with You.' So one should not say: 'O Creator of evil', although He is its Creator, or: 'O Creator of pigs', although He is their Creator. Lastly, 'It is not evil in relation to Your Wisdom, because You do not create anything in vain.' And Allah knows best.

It is mustaḥabb for a person performing ṣalāh alone and for the Imam, if the followers allow him, to recite in the opening supplication all of the adhkār mentioned above. If the followers do not give the Imam permission, he should not make the ṣalāh long but should restrict himself to some of those adhkār. It is best for him to confine himself to saying: *I turn my face . . . one of the Muslims.*¹ Similarly, a person praying alone should also confine himself to this.

Know that these adhkār are mustaḥabb in both the compulsory and voluntary ṣalawāt. If a person leaves them out in the first rak'ah, whether intentionally or unintentionally, he should not do them afterwards because he has omitted them from their proper place. If he does so, it will be makrūh but his ṣalāh will not be invalid. If he leaves them out after the takbīr until after starting the recitation and the seeking of protection, then he has missed their place and he should not recite them, although if he does recite it [then], his ṣalāh will not be invalid. If he comes in late to join the ṣalāh and he finds the Imam in one of the rak'ahs, he should recite the adhkār, unless he fears that he will miss al-Fātiḥah (the opening chapter) by reciting them. He should instead engage in reciting al-Fātiḥah, as it is more important, being compulsory, while these adhkār are Sunnah. If a late comer joins the Imam in rukū', prostration or sitting, he should perform the takbīrat al-iḥrām and recite the dhikr that the Imam is occupied with. He should not recite the opening du'ā' at that point or after it.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues disagree as to whether or not the opening du'ā' is mustaḥabb in the funeral ṣalāh. The more correct view is that it is not mustaḥabb, because the prayer is based on brevity. The opening du'ā' is Sunnah and not compulsory, and if one leaves it out he does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. It is Sunnah to say it softly. To say it aloud is makrūh but does not invalidate the ṣalāh.

The majority of [our colleagues] say that ash-Shāfi'i has two maṣ'alahs. The first is that he makes no difference between silent and loud recitations; and this is found in [Kitāb] al-Umm. The second is that he deems it Sunnah to recite aloud; this is found in [the book] al-Imlā'. Others hold that there are two opinions: the first is that it is better to recite out loud and the second that it is better to recite silently.

¹ "I turn my face towards the One Who created the heavens and the earth, following the true religion as a Muslim; I am not one of the idolaters. Verily my ṣalāh, my sacrifice, my life and my death are for Allah the Lord of the Worlds. He has no partners. Thus I have been commanded to do, and I am one of the Muslims." For the Arabic see the beginning of the chapter.

The correct view in general is that one should recite out loud. This was pronounced correct and authentic by Shaykh Abū Ḥāmid al-Isfarā'inī, the Imam of our colleagues from Iraq, and that is what Abū Hurayrah used to do. Ibn 'Umar, however, used to recite softly, and this is the most correct view, according to the majority of our colleagues, and is to be preferred. Allah knows best.

36

SEEKING PROTECTION FROM SHAYṬĀN
AFTER THE OPENING DU'Ā'

KNOW THAT TO seek protection from Shayṭān after the opening du'ā' is Sunnah by agreement [of Shāfi'ī scholars]. It is a prelude to recitation. Allah ﷻ says: "And when you recite the Qur'ān, seek protection from Shayṭān the rejected."¹

﴿فَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ﴾

Fa-idhā qara'ta-l-Qur'āna fa-sta'idh bi-llāhi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

The meaning of this, according to the majority of the 'ulamā', is: "If you intend to recite the Qur'ān, seek the protection. . ." The preferred words for seeking protection are: I seek protection in Allah from Shayṭān the rejected. One may also say: I seek protection in Allah, the All-Hearing and the All-Knowing, from Shayṭān the rejected; there is no harm in this, but the better-known and preferred of these formulae is the first.

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ. أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ السَّمِيعِ الْعَلِيمِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm. A'ūdhu bi-llāhi-s-Samī'i-l-'Alīmī mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah, al-Bayhaqī and others that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said before his recitation in ṣalāh: "I seek protection in Allah, from Shayṭān the rejected; from his conceit, his [obscene] poetry and his slander."² Another narration has: "I seek refuge in Allah the All-Hearing and All-knowing from the accursed Shayṭān, his [obscene] poetry, his pride and his madness."

¹ Qur'ān 16:98.

² Abū Dāwūd (764), at-Tirmidhī (242), al-Bayhaqī, and an-Nasā'ī in al-Kubrā. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan and mentions narrations which support it.

in [the book] al-Imlā'. Others hold that there are two opinions: the first is that it is better to recite out loud and the second that it is better to recite silently.

The correct view in general is that one should recite out loud. This was pronounced correct and authentic by Shaykh Abū Ḥāmid al-Isfarā'inī, the Imam of our colleagues from Iraq, and that is what Abū Hurayrah used to do. Ibn 'Umar, however, used to recite softly, and this is the most correct view, according to the majority of our colleagues, and is to be preferred. Allah knows best.

36

SEEKING PROTECTION FROM SHAYṬĀN AFTER THE OPENING DU'Ā'

KNOW THAT TO seek protection from Shayṭān after the opening du'ā' is Sunnah by agreement [of Shāfi'ī scholars]. It is a prelude to recitation. Allah ﷻ says: "And when you recite the Qur'ān, seek protection from Shayṭān the rejected."¹

﴿فَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ﴾

Fa-idhā qara'ta-l-Qur'āna fa-sta'idh bi-llāhi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

The meaning of this, according to the majority of the 'ulamā', is: "If you intend to recite the Qur'ān, seek the protection. . ." The preferred words for seeking protection are: I seek protection in Allah from Shayṭān the rejected. One may also say: I seek protection in Allah, the All-Hearing and the All-Knowing, from Shayṭān the rejected; there is no harm in this, but the better-known and preferred of these formulae is the first.

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ. أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ السَّمِيعِ الْعَلِيمِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm. A'ūdhu bi-llāhi-s-Samī'i-l-'Alīmi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah, al-Bayhaqī and others that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said before his recitation in ṣalāh: "I seek protection in Allah, from Shayṭān the rejected; from his conceit, his [obscene] poetry and his slander."² Another narration has: "I seek refuge in Allah the All-Hearing and All-knowing from the accursed Shayṭān, his [obscene] poetry, his pride and his madness."

¹ Qur'ān 16:98.

² Abū Dāwūd (764), at-Tirmidhī (242), al-Bayhaqī, and an-Nasā'ī in al-Kubrā. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan and mentions narrations which support it.

أَعُوذُ بِاللّٰهِ السَّمِيعِ الْعَلِيمِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ، مِنْ نَفْخِهِ وَنَفْثِهِ وَهَمْزِهِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi-s-Samī'i-l-'Alīmi mina-sh-shayṭāni-r-rajīm, min nafkhihi wa nafathihi wa hamzihi.

The commentary on this verse, as stated, has been narrated in the hadith that 'hamzuhu' means 'his madness', 'nafkhuhu' means 'his arrogance' and 'nafathuhu' means 'his poetry' and Allah knows best.

Know that seeking protection (ta'awwudh) is mustahabb and not compulsory. If one leaves it out he is not sinning and his ṣalāh is not invalid. If one does not say it in the first rak'ah, he should say it in the second, and if one does not say it then, he should do so after that. If one seeks protection in the first, does he have to say it in the second? There are two opinions. The more correct view is that it is mustahabb but is more emphasised in the first. If one seeks protection in those ṣalawāt which are silent, he should do so silently. If one does so in those in which the recitation is aloud, should he say it aloud? There is disagreement on this. Some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that one should say it softly. The majority say that ash-Shāfi'i had two rulings on the issue. The first is that saying it aloud and silently are equal, and that is from the text that is in al-Umm. The second is that saying it aloud is the Sunnah, and that is from text of al-Imlā'. Some of them say that the two rulings are: first, out loud, and second, silently.

The sound position overall is that one should say it out loud, and Shaykh Abū Ḥāmid al-Isfarā'inī, the imam of our Iraqi colleagues and the companion of al-Maḥāmili and others, corroborated this. That is what Abū Hurayrah ؓ used to do, and Ibn 'Umar ؓ used to do it silently, which is the more correct position according to the majority of our colleagues and is the chosen position; and Allah knows best.

RECITATION OF QUR'ĀN AFTER SEEKING PROTECTION

KNOW THAT IT is compulsory to recite Qur'ān in ṣalāh according to the consensus, which is supported by the Qur'ānic text. This is our view and the view of the majority. The recitation of the opening chapter (al-Fātiḥah) is compulsory and nothing else will suffice instead on the part of those who have the ability to recite it. This is because of the authentic hadith in which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Ṣalāh does not take place without the Fātiḥah of the Book." Ibn Khuzaymah and Abū Ḥātim ibn Ḥibbān—with an i after the h—both narrated it in their Ṣaḥīḥs. In both Ṣaḥīḥs, this is related from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "There is no ṣalāh without the Fātiḥah of the Book."

To say 'In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful' is compulsory because it is a complete verse at the beginning of al-Fātiḥah.

﴿بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ﴾

Bismi-llāhi-r-Raḥmāni-r-Raḥīm.

It is compulsory to recite al-Fātiḥah with all of the doubled consonants (tashdīd). There are fourteen: three in the name (basmalah) and the rest after it. If a person fails to pronounce one of the tashdīds, his recitation is invalid [according to the Shāfi'ī position]. It is mandatory to recite it uninterrupted and in order. If a person changes the order or interrupts it, his recitation is not valid. He is excused for remaining silent for as long as it takes to draw a breath. If a person following the Imam in ṣalāh makes the prostration for recitation with the Imam, or hears the Āmīn of the Imam and says Āmīn because of his Āmīn, or asks for mercy or seeks protection from Hell-Fire because of the recitation of the Imam, that [ruling about interrupting the recitation] does not apply. The recitation of a follower in ṣalāh who is in the process of reciting al-Fātiḥah is not unacceptable in these two instances because he has an excuse.

If a person recites al-Fātiḥah ungrammatically in a way that distorts its meaning, his ṣalāh is invalid. If it does not distort its meaning, his recitation is valid. Examples of mispronunciation that distort the meaning are saying: an'amtu (I have favoured) or an'amti (You [fem.] have favoured), or iyyāki na'budu (You [fem.] alone do we worship). Among the things which do not distort the meaning is saying: Rabbu-l-'ālamīn or Rabba-l-'ālamīn with a u on the bā' or an a. If a person says: wa la-ḡ-ḡāllīn his ṣalāh is invalid according to the weightier of two views, unless he is unable to pronounce the ḡād even after receiving instruction, in which case he is excused.

If a person has not perfected [his pronunciation of] al-Fātiḥah, he may recite other verses of the Qur'ān which are equivalent to it [in length]. If he has not perfected [his knowledge of] anything from the Qur'ān he may recite any dhikr, like tasbīḥ or tahlīl, which is equivalent to reciting the verses of al-Fātiḥah. If he has not perfected any dhikr and the time to learn any is restricted, then he should stand for as long as it takes to recite and then bow. His ṣalāh will be accepted provided he has not been neglectful and negligent in learning. If he has been neglectful in learning al-Fātiḥah, it will be compulsory for him to repeat it. When he is able to learn, it is compulsory for him to learn al-Fātiḥah. If he has perfected al-Fātiḥah in any language other than Arabic but he has not learnt it in Arabic, it will not be permissible for him to recite it. He should substitute for it one of the things mentioned above.

After al-Fātiḥah, one should recite a chapter or part of a chapter. This is Sunnah and if a person omits it, his ṣalāh is still valid and he does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness, whether his ṣalāh was compulsory or supererogatory. It is not mustaḥabb to recite a chapter in the funeral ṣalāh, according to the most authoritative view, because it is based on brevity. One has a choice: if he wants he may recite a chapter, and if he wants he may recite part of a chapter. A short chapter is better than its equivalent from a longer chapter. It is mustaḥabb to recite the chapters according to their order in the Qur'an. One should recite in the second rak'ah a chapter that comes after the chapter recited in the first rak'ah, so that they be sequential. If he goes against this order it is still permissible. It is Sunnah to recite this chapter after al-Fātiḥah, so if one recites it before al-Fātiḥah he will not be considered as having recited a chapter.

It is mustaḥabb to recite the *sūrah*s according to the order of the muṣḥaf and to recite in the second a sūrah after the first sūrah that follows it. If he diverges from this, it is valid. It is Sunnah that the sūrah come after al-Fātiḥah, but if it comes before al-Fātiḥah it is not reckoned that one has recited a sūrah.

Know that what we have mentioned about recitation of the sūrah being mustaḥabb applies to the imam, a person who reciting alone and a person who follows the imam in that which the imam recites silently. As for that in which the imam recites aloud, then the person who follows the imam does not do more than recite al-Fātiḥah if he has heard the imam's recitation. But if he has not heard him or has heard him recite so quietly that he cannot understand him, then it is mustaḥabb for him to recite a sūrah, according to the soundest view, as long as he does not disturb others.

It is Sunnah that the chapter in Ṣubḥ and Zuhr be one of the longer chapters,¹ in ʿAṣr and ʿIshā' one of the medium-length chapters² and in Maghrib one of the shorter chapters.³ The Imam should recite the shorter ones, unless he knows that the followers prefer them to be longer. It is Sunnah to recite Sūrat as-Sajdah in the first rak'ah of Ṣubḥ on Friday and Sūrat al-Insān in the second. One should recite them in their entirety. What some people do, reciting part of them, is contrary to the Sunnah. It is Sunnah, in the ṣalāh of ʿId and the ṣalāh asking for rain, to recite Qāf in the first rak'ah after al-Fātiḥah and al-Qamar in the second. If one wishes, he may recite al-A'lā and in the second al-Ghāshiyah. Both of these are Sunnah. It is Sunnah to recite al-Jumu'ah in the first rak'ah of the ṣalāh of Jumu'ah and al-Munāfiqūn in the second. If one wishes one may recite al-A'lā in the first and al-Insān in the second. Both are Sunnah.

One should beware of confining himself to part of a sūrah in these places, but if he wishes to lighten it, he should proceed slowly in his recitation without such a haste as would lead to him mispronouncing the letters.

It is Sunnah to recite Say, 'We believe in Allah and what has been sent down to us. . . (2:135) after al-Fātiḥah in the first rak'ah of Sunnah ṣalāh of Fajr and Say, 'People of the Book, come to a common declaration . . . (3: 64) in the second. If a person wishes he may recite Sūrat al-Kāfirūn in the first and Sūrat al-Ikhlāṣ in the second. It is authentically recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did both.

قُولُوا آمَنَّا بِاللَّهِ وَمَا أُنْزِلَ إِلَيْنَا . . .

Qūlū āmannā bi-llāhi wa mā unzila ilaynā . . .

قُلْ يَا أَهْلَ الْكِتَابِ تَعَالَوْا إِلَى كَلِمَةٍ سَوَاءٍ . . .

1 طوال المفضل—The Ṭiwāl al-Mufaṣṣal are the chapters from al-Ḥujurāt to al-Burūj.

2 أوساط المفضل—The Awsāṭ al-Mufaṣṣal are from aṭ-Ṭāriq to al-Bayyinah.

3 قصار المفضل—The Qisār al-Mufaṣṣal are from az-Zalzalah to an-Nās.

In the two Sunnah rak'ahs of Maghrib and the two rak'ahs of ṭawāf and istikhārah, one should recite al-Kāfirūn in the first and al-Ikhlāṣ in the second.

In the Witr ṣalāh one should recite Sūrat al-A'lā after al-Fātiḥah in the first rak'ah, al-Kāfirūn in the second, and al-Ikhlāṣ in the third, together with the Mu'awwidhatayn (Surahs 113–114). All of this that we have mentioned has been narrated in hadiths from the Ṣaḥīḥ collections and elsewhere which are well-known and because of their fame we have no need to mention them. And Allah knows best.

If a person leaves out Sūrat al-Jumu'ah in the first rak'ah of Jumu'ah, he should recite it in the second with Sūrat al-Munāfiqūn. Likewise, in the ṣalāh of ʿId or the ṣalāh for rain, in Witr and the Sunnah of Fajr and others that we have mentioned, those things that are of the same sense, if one leaves out what is Sunnah in the first he should recite it with what is Sunnah in the second, so that his ṣalāh is not devoid of those two chapters. If a person recites al-Munāfiqūn in the first rak'ah of Jumu'ah he should recite al-Jumu'ah in the second and not repeat al-Munāfiqūn. The proof of this has been discussed in the commentary on al-Muhadhdhab.

It has been established in authentic narrations that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to make the first rak'ah of Ṣubḥ and other ṣalāhs longer than the second. Most of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues prefer to interpret this, and they say that the first should not be longer than the second. The people of precise investigation take the position that lengthening the first is mustaḥabb because of this authentic hadith. They agree that the third and the fourth rak'ahs should be shorter than the first and the second. The soundest position is that reciting a chapter of the Qur'ān in them is not mustaḥabb, but if we say that it is mustaḥabb then the soundest position is that the third should be like the fourth, but some have said that it should be made longer than it.

The ulamā' agree unanimously that recitation should be audible in the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ and in the first two rak'ahs of Maghrib and ʿIshā'; and that recitation should be silent in Zuhr and ʿAṣr, in the third rak'ah of Maghrib and in the third and fourth rak'ahs of ʿIshā'. They agree that recitation should be audible in Jumu'ah, the two ʿIds, Tarāwīḥ, and the Witr after it. This is mustaḥabb for the Imam and for anyone performing ṣalāh alone. There is consensus that when following the Imam one should not recite any of this aloud. It is Sunnah to recite audibly in the ṣalāh for lunar eclipse and silently in the ṣalāh for solar eclipse, and to recite audibly in the ṣalāh for rain and in the funeral ṣalāh, whether it be performed in the day or the night. The daytime Nawāfil prayers should not be recited out loud, except those for the ʿId and for rain.

Our colleagues disagree about Nawāfil prayers at night: some say that they should not be recited out loud, while others say that they should. The third view—which is the view of al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn and al-Baghāwī—is that they should be recited somewhere between loud and silent. If a person misses a prayer at night he should make it up during the day, or [if he misses a prayer] during the day he should make it up at night. Does one take into consideration the loud or silent recitation of the time he missed the ṣalāh or the time he fulfils it? There are two opinions. The more obvious is that one should take into consideration the time of fulfilling it. Another version is that one should recite it silently under all circumstances. Reciting out loud or silently according to circumstances is Sunnah and not wājib. So if a person recites out loud when he should have recited silently, or vice versa, his ṣalāh is still valid, and although this is makrūh he will not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. We have stated previously that in the silent recitation during Fajr, the Qur'ān and the adhkār that are prescribed in ṣalāh have to be loud enough so that the reciter can hear himself. If he cannot hear himself and there is no impediment, his recitation and his dhikr are not valid.

According to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues: "It is mustaḥabb for the Imam in ṣalāh performed out loud to make four silent pauses. The first is after the takbīrat al-ihrām, so that one may recite the opening du'ā'. The second is a slight pause between the completion of al-Fātiḥah and the Āmīn so that it may be known that the Āmīn is not part of al-Fātiḥah. The third pause is after the Āmīn so that the follower may recite al-Fātiḥah. The fourth is after the recitation of the chapter so that he may separate the recitation from the takbīr of going into rukū'.

When one has finished al-Fātiḥah it is mustaḥabb to say Āmīn. There are many authentic and well-known hadiths about its virtue and great reward. This Āmīn is mustaḥabb for everyone who recites, whether in ṣalāh or outside it. There are four variants, the most eloquent and the best known of which is Āmīn with an elongation and without doubling of the letter [mīm]. The second is Amīn without elongation and without doubling of the letter [mīm]. The third is Āmīn with *imālah*¹. The fourth is Āmmīn with an elongation and with doubling of the letter [mīm]. The first two are well-known. Al-Wāḥidī cited the third and the fourth at the beginning of al-Basīṭ. The first is the most preferable one.

The Āmīn is mustaḥabb for the Imam, those following him, and those performing ṣalāh alone in any ṣalāh in which recitation is done out loud. The correct view is that the follower should say the Āmīn whether the congregation be large or small. It is mustaḥabb that the Āmīn of those following should coincide with the Āmīn of the Imam, and not come before him or after him. There is no place in the ṣalāh where the utterance of a follower may coincide with that of the Imam except when saying Āmīn; the rest should come after the Imam.

It is Sunnah for anyone reciting [Qur'ān], whether in ṣalāh or outside it, when he hears or recites a verse about mercy, to ask of Allah ﷻ from His bounty; and when he hears or recites a verse about punishment to ask His protection from Hell-Fire or from punishment, or from evil and iniquity, or to say: O Allah, I ask You for well-being or something like that.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْعَافِيَةَ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-'āfiyah.

¹ Pronouncing the a inclining towards an i like Aymīn where the first vowel is like the sound of the English word 'eh'. Saying Āmīn aloud is makrūh for Mālikīs following an Imam (Editors).

Kitāb al-Adhkār

If one hears or recites a verse that glorifies Allah ﷻ, he should glorify Him and say: Peerless and Exalted is He.

سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى

Subhānahu wa ta'ālā.

He may also say: Blessed is Allah, Lord of the Worlds.

تَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ

Tabāraka-llāhu Rabbu-l-'ālamīn.

He may also say: Glorious is the Vastness of our Lord.

جَلَّتْ عَظَمَةُ رَبِّنَا

Jallat 'aẓamatu Rabbīnā.

Ḥudhayfah ibn al-Yamān ؓ said: "I performed ṣalāh with the Messenger ﷺ one night and he started al-Baqarah. I said to myself: 'He will perform rukū' after one hundred verses.' Then he continued and I said: 'He will pray the rak'ah with it.' He continued. I said to myself: 'He will perform rukū' with it.' Then he started an-Nisā' and recited it all. Then he started Āl 'Imrān and recited it all. He recited slowly, when he came to a verse in which there was glorification he glorified Allah, when he came to a request he made a supplication, and when he came to a verse of seeking protection he sought protection."¹ Muslim narrated it in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

Our Shāfi'i colleagues say that this glorification, asking and seeking protection is mustaḥabb whether reciting in ṣalāh or outside it, and for the Imam, a follower and a person performing ṣalāh alone, because it is a du'ā' and they are equal in it as they are in saying Āmīn.²

It is mustaḥabb [for Shāfi'is], when one recites: "Is not Allah the wisest of judges?"³ to say: Yes, and I am one who testifies to that.

﴿أَلَيْسَ اللَّهُ بِأَحْكَمِ الْحَكَمِينَ﴾

بَلَى، وَأَنَا عَلَى ذَلِكَ مِنَ الشَّاهِدِينَ

A-laysa-llāhu bi-aḥkami-l-ḥākimīn.

Balā, wa anā 'alā dhālika mina-sh-shāhidīn.

It is mustaḥabb [for Shāfi'is], when one recites: "Has not that One the power to give life to the dead?"⁴ to say: Yes indeed; I bear witness.

¹ Muslim (772), Abū Dāwūd (871), and an-Nasā'i (2/176).

² In the Ḥanafī madhhab, however, to do so invalidates the ṣalāh.

³ Qur'ān 95:8.

⁴ Qur'ān 75:40.

﴿أَلَيْسَ ذَلِكَ بِقَادِرٍ عَلَىٰ أَنْ يُحْيِيَ الْمَوْتَىٰ﴾

بَلَىٰ، أَشْهَدُ.

A-laysa dhālika bi-qādirin ‘alā an yuḥyiya-l-mawtā.

Balā, ashhadu.

It is mustahabb [for Shāfi‘is], when one recites: “So in what message after this will they believe?”¹ to say: I believe in Allah.

﴿فَبِأَيِّ حَدِيثٍ بَعْدَهُ يُؤْمِنُونَ﴾

آمَنْتُ بِاللَّهِ.

Fa-bi-ayyi ḥadīthin ba’dahu yu’minūn.

Āmantu bi-llāh.

It is mustahabb [for Shāfi‘is], when one recites: “Glorify the name of your Guardian-Lord, the Most High,”² to say: Glorious is your Lord, the Most High.

﴿سَبِّحْ اسْمَ رَبِّكَ الْأَعْلَىٰ﴾

Sabbiḥi-sma Rabbika-l-‘Alā.

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْأَعْلَىٰ.

Subḥāna Rabbiya-l-‘Alā.

One should, if following the Shāfi‘i madhhab, say all of the above, whether reciting in ṣalāh or not. I have explained the proof for this in the book at-Tibyān fī ādāb ḥamalāt al-Qur’ān.

THE ADHKĀR OF RUKŪ‘

AUTHENTIC REPORTS OF the Messenger of Allah ﷺ support the view that he used to pronounce takbīr for each rukū‘, and that it is Sunnah. Leaving it out is makrūh tanzīhī; it does not invalidate the ṣalāh and one does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. That is the ruling for all the takbīrat of ṣalāh except the takbīrat al-ihrām, which is an essential part of the ṣalāh without which it is not valid. We have discussed the number of the takbīrat in the first chapter on entering into ṣalāh.

¹ Qur’ān 7:186.

² Qur’ān 87:1.

Imam Aḥmad has a report which states that all these takbīrat are compulsory. Is it mustaḥabb to prolong this takbīr? Ash-Shāfi'ī has two opinions. The later and more authoritative is that it is mustaḥabb to prolong it until one reaches the point of rukū', and then one should engage in the adhkār of rukū' so that no part of his ṣalāh is devoid of the remembrance of Allah. This is unlike the takbīrat al-ihrām. The correct view is that one should not prolong it, for that requires the formulation of intention; if one prolongs it, it will become difficult, but if he shortens it, it will be easy. The same ruling applies to the rest of the takbīrat. We have already discussed this in the chapter on the takbīrat al-ihrām. And Allah knows best.

When a person has bowed fully in rukū', he should engage in the adhkār of rukū' and say: Glory be to my Lord, the Tremendous. Glory be to my Lord, the Tremendous. Glory be to my Lord, the Tremendous.

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْعَظِيمِ، سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْعَظِيمِ، سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْعَظِيمِ

Subhāna Rabbiya-l-'Azīm, subhāna Rabbiya-l-'Azīm, subhāna Rabbiya-l-'Azīm.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ḥudhayfah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, in his long rukū'—which was as long as the recitation of the chapters al-Baqarah, an-Nisā' and Āl-'Imrān—said: “Glory be to my Lord, the Great.” This means that he ؓ repeated “Glory be to my Lord, the Tremendous” in it, as is explained in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd.

It is reported in the Sunan books that he ؓ said: “When any of you says Glory be to my Lord, the Tremendous thrice, he has made his rukū' complete.”²

It is recorded in both Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said in his rukū' and sujūd: “Glory be to You, Allah our Lord, and to You be all praise. O Allah, forgive me.” He interpreted the Qur'ān.³

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا وَبِحَمْدِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي

Subhānaka-llāhumma Rabbanā wa bi-ḥamdik, Allāhumma-ghfir li.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Alī ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed rukū' he used to say: “O Allah, to You have I made rukū', in You I believe, and to You have I submitted. My hearing, sight, brain, bones and nerves are humble to You.”⁴

1 Muslim (772), Abū Dāwūd (871), and an-Nasā'ī (3/226).

2 Abū Dāwūd (886), at-Tirmidhī (261), and Ibn Mājah (890) from Ibn Mas'ūd. At-Tirmidhī states that its chain of narration is not continuous, because 'Awn never met Ibn Mas'ūd.

3 Al-Bukhārī (794), Muslim (484), Abū Dāwūd (877), and an-Nasā'ī (2/219).

4 Muslim (771).

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ رَكَعْتُ، وَبِكَ آمَنْتُ، وَلَكَ أَسْلَمْتُ، خَشَعَ لَكَ
سَمْعِي وَبَصَرِي وَمُخِّي وَعَظْمِي وَعَصَبِي.

Allāhumma laka raka't, wa bika āmant, wa laka aslamt, khasha'a laka sam'i wa baṣarī wa mukhkhī wa 'azmī wa 'aṣabī.

In the books of the Sunan it reads: "My hearing, sight, brain, bones, nerves and all that my feet rise are humble to Allah, Lord of the Worlds."

خَشَعَ سَمْعِي وَبَصَرِي وَمُخِّي وَعَظْمِي، وَمَا اسْتَقَلْتُ بِهِ قَدَمِي لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

Khasha'a sam'i wa baṣarī wa mukhkhī wa 'azmī wa mastaqallat bihi qadamī li-llāh Rabbī-l-'ālamīn.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in his rukū' and sujūd: "Most Glorious and Most Holy, Lord of the angels and the Spirit."¹ Scholars of the Arabic language say that 'Subbūhun Quddūsun', with the ḍammah on the first of the two but sometimes fathah, and these are two variants, the best, most well-known and most often used is that with the ḍammah.

سُبُّوحٌ قُدُّوسٌ رَبُّ الْمَلَائِكَةِ وَالرُّوحِ.

Subbūhun Quddūsun Rabbu-l-malā'ikati wa-r-rūh.

We relate from 'Awf ibn Mālik ؓ who said: "I stood with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he stood up and recited Sūrat al-Baqarah (the Chapter of the Cow). He did not come to any verse of mercy without stopping and asking for it, and he did not come to any verse of punishment without stopping to seek protection from it. Then he bowed for the same length of time as he stood. He said in his rukū': 'Glory be to the Owner of might, dominion, grandeur and immensity.' Then he said the same in his sujūd."² This hadith is ṣaḥīḥ and Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī narrated in their Sunans as well as at-Tirmidhī in his Shamā'il with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds.

سُبْحَانَ ذِي الْجَبَرُوتِ وَالْمَلَكَوتِ وَالْكِبْرِيَاءِ وَالْعَظَمَةِ.

Subḥāna Dhi-l-jabarūti wa-l-malakūti wa-l-kibriyā'i wa-l-'aẓamah.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "As for the rukū', magnify the Lord in it."³

Know that this last hadith expresses the essence of this chapter, which is to magnify and glorify the Lord ﷻ in rukū' using any words and expressions. However, the best thing is to combine all of these adhkār, if possible, in such a manner as not to cause difficulty to others. Preference should be given to the tasbīḥ. If one wishes to limit oneself [to one dhikr], then tasbīh is mustaḥabb. The minimum required is three tasbīhāt. If a person limits himself to saying it once, he will have fulfilled the essence of tasbīh. It is mustaḥabb, if one limits oneself to only a few, to employ the others at other times. In this way one will employ all of them. One should do the same with the adhkār mentioned in the other chapters.

¹ Muslim (487), Abū Dāwūd (872), and an-Nasā'ī (2/224).

² Abū Dāwūd (873) and an-Nasā'ī (2/191).

³ Muslim (479), Abū Dāwūd (876), and an-Nasā'ī (2/189).

Know that the dhikr in rukū' is Sunnah in our opinion and according to the majority of 'ulamā'. If a person leaves it out, whether intentionally or out of forgetfulness, his ṣalāh will not be invalid, he will not be sinning, and he will not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and others are of the opinion that it is wājib. Therefore it is imperative for the worshipper to be mindful of it, because of the authentic and explicit hadiths that command one to do it, such as the saying of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "As for the rukū', magnify the Lord in it." This should be done in order not to be unaffected by the difference of opinion between the 'ulamā', may Allah have mercy on them. And Allah knows best.

It is makrūh to recite Qur'ān in rukū' and sujūd, although if one recites anything besides al-Fātiḥah his ṣalāh is not invalidated. Likewise, if one recites al-Fātiḥah his ṣalāh will not be invalidated, according to the most reliable opinions. Some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues are of the opinion that it is invalidated.

We relate from 'Alī ؓ, that he said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ forbade us to recite [Qur'ān] whilst in rukū' and sujūd."¹

Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "I have been forbidden to recite the Qur'ān whilst in rukū' and sujūd."²

39

WHAT TO SAY WHEN RAISING THE HEAD FROM RUKŪ' AND STANDING UPRIGHT

IT IS SUNNAH to say when lifting the head: Allah has heard the one who praised Him. It is also permissible to say: The one who praised Allah, He has heard him, as ash-Shāfi'i stated in al-Umm.

سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ.

Sami'a-llāhu li-man ḥamidah.

When standing upright one should say: O our Lord, to You belongs praise, praise that is good and blessed—praise to fill the heavens and the earth and all that is between them, and to fill whatever You desire besides. You are most worthy of adulation and praise; You are entitled to whatever the servant says, and all of us are servants to You. O Allah, none can withhold what You grant and none can grant what You withhold. The might of the mighty does not avail him before You.

¹ Muslim (480), Abū Dāwūd (4044), and an-Nasā'i (2/188-189).

² Muslim (480).

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ حَمْدًا طَيِّبًا مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ، مِلْءُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَمِلْءُ الْأَرْضِ وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا، وَمِلْءُ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ، أَهْلُ الثَّنَاءِ وَالْمَجْدِ، أَحَقُّ مَا قَالِ الْعَبْدُ وَكُلُّنَا لَكَ عَبْدٌ لَا مَانِعَ لِمَا أُعْطِيتَ، وَلَا مُعْطِي لِمَا مَنَعْتَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ.

Allāhumma Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamd ḥamdan ṭayyiban mubārakan fih, mil'a-samāwāti wa mil'a-l-arḍi wa mā baynahumā, wa mil'a mā shi'ta min shay'in ba'd. ahla-th-thanā'i wa-l-majd, aḥaqqu mā qāla-l-'abdu—wa kullunā laka 'abdun—lā māni'a li-mā a'ṭayt, wa lā mu'ṭiya li-mā mana't, wa lā yanfa'u dha-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd.

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "Allah has heard the one who praised Him" when he rose from rukū'. Then he used to say, when he stood up: "Our Lord, to You belongs praise." According to another report he said: "And to You belongs praise", adding the word "And". Both of these are good; they have been reported by a number of the Companions رضي الله عنهم.¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Alī رضي الله عنه and Ibn Abī Awfā رضي الله عنه reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ rose from rukū' he would say: "Allah has heard the one who praised Him. O our Lord, to You belongs praise—praise to fill the heavens and the earth, and whatever You desire besides."²

سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ، رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ، مِلْءُ السَّمَوَاتِ
وَمِلْءُ الْأَرْضِ وَمِلْءُ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ.

Sami'a-llāhu li-man ḥamidah, Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamd, mil'a-samāwāti wa mil'a-l-arḍi wa mil'a mā shi'ta min shay'in ba'd.

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī رضي الله عنه reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ raised his head from rukū' he would say: "O Allah, our Lord, to You belongs praise—praise to fill the heavens and the earth and all that is between them, and whatever You desire besides. You are worthy of adulation and praise. You are best entitled to whatever the servant says, and all of us are servants to You. O Allah, none can withhold what You grant and none can grant what You withhold. The might of the mighty does not avail him before You."³

1 Al-Bukhārī (784) and Muslim (392).

2 Muslim (476), Abū Dāwūd (846), and at-Tirmidhī (3541).

3 Muslim (477), Abū Dāwūd (847), and an-Nasā'ī (2/198–199).

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ مِلْءُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ، وَمِلْءُ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ
بَعْدُ، أَهْلُ الثَّنَاءِ وَالْمَجْدِ، أَحَقُّ مَا قَالَ الْعَبْدُ—وَكُلُّنَا لَكَ عَبْدٌ—اللَّهُمَّ لَا مَانِعَ
لِمَا أَعْطَيْتَ، وَلَا مُعْطِيَ لِمَا مَنَعْتَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ.

Allāhumma Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamdu mil'a-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍ, wa mil'a mā shi'ta min shay'in ba'd, Ahl ath-ṭhanā'i wa-l-majd, aḥaqqu mā qāla-l-'abdu—wa kullunā laka 'abd—Allāhumma lā māni'a li-mā a'tayt, wa lā mu'ṭiya li-mā mana't, wa lā yanfa'u dhā-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reports that he ؓ said: "O our Lord, to You belongs praise—praise to fill the heavens and the earth and all that is between them, and to fill whatever You desire besides."¹

رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، مِلْءُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَمِلْءُ الْأَرْضِ وَمَا
بَيْنَهُمَا، وَمِلْءُ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ.

Rabbanā wa laka-l-ḥamdu mil'a-s-samāwāti wa mil'a-l-arḍi wa mā baynahumā, wa mil'a mā shi'ta min shay'in ba'd.

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ar-Rifā'ah ibn Rāfi' az-Zuraqī ؓ narrated: "One day we were performing ṣalāh with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he said: 'Allah has heard the one who praised Him.' A man said: 'O our Lord, to You belongs praise, praise that is abundant, good and blessed.' When he ﷺ turned around he ﷺ said: 'Who was it who spoke?' The man said: 'It was I.' He ﷺ said: 'I saw about thirty angels hastening to see which of them would write it first.'"² رَبَّنَا وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، حَمْدًا كَثِيرًا طَيِّبًا مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ.

Rabbanā wa laka-l-ḥamdu ḥamdan kathīran ṭayyiban mubārakan fih.

Know that it is mustaḥabb to combine all the adhkār mentioned, as we stated about the adhkār of rukū'. If one wishes to shorten them, he should shorten them to: Allah has heard the one who praised Him. Our Lord, to You belongs praise—praise to fill the heavens and the earth and all that is between them, and to fill whatever You desire besides.

سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ، رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ مِلْءُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَمِلْءُ الْأَرْضِ وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا، وَمِلْءُ مَا شِئْتَ مِنْ شَيْءٍ بَعْدُ.

Sami'a-llāhu li-man ḥamidah, Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamdu mil'a-s-samāwāti wa mil'a-l-arḍi wa mā baynahumā, wa mil'a mā shi'ta min shay'in ba'd.

¹ Muslim (478) and an-Nasā'i (2/198).

² Al-Bukhārī (799), al-Muwatta' (1/212), Abū Dāwūd (770), at-Tirmidhī (404), and an-Nasā'i (2/196).

If one wants to shorten them even more, he should say: Allah has heard the one who praised Him. Our Lord, to You belongs praise.

سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ، رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ.

Sami'a-llāhu li-man ḥamidah, Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamd.

Know that these adhkār are mustaḥabb for the Imam and those following, and for those praying alone. However, the Imam should not utter all of them unless he knows from the condition of the followers that they prefer prolongation. Note also that this dhikr is Sunnah and not wājib; so if one leaves it out, that is makrūh but one does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. It is makrūh to recite Qur'ān while standing up at this point of the prayer, just as it is makrūh in rukū' and sujūd. And Allah knows best.

40

THE ADHKĀR OF SUJŪD

AFTER COMPLETING THE adhkār of standing, one should pronounce takbīr and go down into sujūd, prolonging the takbīr until he places his forehead on the ground. We have already mentioned the ruling that this takbīr is Sunnah, and that if one leaves it out his ṣalāh will not be invalidated and he does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness. When he prostrates, he should utter the adhkār of sujūd, of which there are many:

Such as that which we have related in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from the preceding narration of Hudhayfah ؓ about rukū' in the description of the ṣalāh of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when he recited the chapters al-Baqarah and Āl 'Imrān in a single rak'ah. He did not come to any verse about mercy without asking for it and he did not come to any verse of punishment without seeking protection from it. Then he performed sujūd and said "Glory be to my Lord, the Most High." His sujūd was close to his standing [in duration].¹

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْأَعْلَى.

Subḥāna Rabbiya-l-A'lā.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in his rukū' and sujūd: "Glory be to You, Allah our Lord, and to You be all praise. O Allah, forgive me."²

¹ Muslim (772).

² Al-Bukhārī (794) Muslim (484).

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا وَبِحَمْدِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي.

Subhānaka-llāhumma Rabbanā wa bi-ḥamdik, Allāhumma-ghfir li.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that according to ‘Ā’ishah رضي الله عنها, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in his rukū’ and sujūd: “Most Glorious and Most Holy, Lord of the angels and the spirit.”¹ سُبُّوحٌ قُدُّوسٌ، رَبُّ الْمَلَائِكَةِ وَالرُّوحِ.

Subūḥun Quddūsun, Rabbu-l-malā’ikati wa-r-rūḥ.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim as well as from ‘Alī رضي الله عنه that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prostrated he said in his sujūd: “O Allah, to You have I prostrated and in You I believe and to You I submit. My face has prostrated to the One Who created and shaped it and formed my hearing and sight. Blessed is Allah, the Best of Creators.”²

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ سَجَدْتُ، وَبِكَ آمَنْتُ، وَلَكَ أَسْلَمْتُ، سَجَدَ وَجْهِي لِلَّذِي
خَلَقَهُ فَصَوَّرَهُ، وَشَقَّ سَمْعَهُ وَبَصَرَهُ، فَتَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ أَحْسَنُ الْخَالِقِينَ.

Allāhumma laka sajadat, wa bika āmant, wa laka aslamat, sajada wajhī li-lladhī khalaqahu fa-ṣawwarah, wa shaqqa sam’ahu wa baṣarah, fa-tabāraka-llāhu Aḥsanu-l-Khāliqīn.

We relate a ṣaḥīḥ hadith from the Sunan books mentioned previously that ‘Awf ibn Mālik رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ made his rukū’ long and said in it: “Glory be to the Owner of might, dominion, grandeur and immensity.” Then he said the same in his sujūd.³

سُبْحَانَ ذِي الْجَبَرُوتِ وَالْمَلَكَوتِ وَالْكِبْرِيَاءِ وَالْعَظَمَةِ.

Subhāna Dhi-l-jabarūti wa-l-malakūti wa-l-kibriyā’i wa-l-‘aẓamah.

In the Sunans it is reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any of you prostrates, let him say: Glory be to my Lord, Most High thrice; and that is the least [he should do].”⁴ سُبْحَانَ رَبِّيَ الْأَعْلَى.

Subhāna Rabbiya-l-A’lā.

1 Muslim (487).

2 Muslim (771), Abū Dāwūd (760), at-Tirmidhī (3417), an-Nasā’ī (2/130).

3 Abū Dāwūd (873), an-Nasā’ī (2/191), and at-Tirmidhī.

4 Abū Dāwūd (886), at-Tirmidhī (261), and Ibn Mājah (890), from ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas’ūd. At-Tirmidhī states that this is the practice of the people of knowledge, and that they regard it as advisable that a person say no less than three tasbīḥāt each in rukū’ and sujūd.

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Ā'ishah   said: "One night, I could not see the Messenger of Allah  , so I searched for him. He was performing rukū' or sujūd and saying: 'Glory be to You and to You be praise. There is no god but You.'"

سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Subhānaka wa bi-ḥamdik, lā ilāha illā Ant.

According to a report in Muslim, [ʿĀ'ishah   said]: "I laid my hands on the soles of his outstretched feet whilst he was in the mosque. He was saying: 'O Allah, I seek protection in Your pleasure from Your wrath and in Your forgiveness from Your punishment. I seek protection from You through You. I cannot enumerate Your praise. You are as You have praised Yourself.'"

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّیْ اَعُوْذُ بِرِضَاكَ مِنْ سَخَطِكَ، وَاَعُوْذُ بِمُعَاْفَاتِكَ مِنْ عُقُوْبَتِكَ، وَاَعُوْذُ
بِكَ مِنْكَ، لَا اُحْصِیْ ثَنَاءً عَلَیْكَ اَنْتَ كَمَا اَنْتَ عَلٰی نَفْسِكَ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bi-riḍāka min sakhaṭik, wa a'ūdhu bi-mu'āfātika min 'uqūbatik, wa a'ūdhu bika mink. Lā uḥṣī thanā'an 'alayk. Anta kamā athnayta 'alā nafsik.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās   reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "As for the rukū', magnify the Lord in it and as for the sujūd, exert yourself in du'ā', for it is most likely (qaman) to be accepted."²

One says 'qaman' with fathah or [qamin' with] kasrah on the letter mīm. One may also pronounce it 'qamīn'. Its meaning is 'deserving' or 'worthy'.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah   reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "The closest that the slave can be to his Lord is when he is prostrating, so make abundant supplication."³

And we relate from Abū Hurayrah   that the Messenger of Allah   used to say in his sujūd: "O Allah, forgive me my sins, the minor and the major thereof, the first and the last thereof, the open and the hidden thereof."⁴ The words diqqahu and jillahu (with the kasrah on the first part) mean 'little' and 'much'.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِيْ ذَنْبِيْ كُلَّهُ، دِقَّةً وَجِلَّةً، وَاَوَّلَهُ وَاٰخِرَهُ، وَعَلَانِيَّتَهُ وَسِرَّهُ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī dhanbī kullah, diqqahu wa jillah, wa awwalahu wa ākhirah, wa 'alāniyatahu wa sirrah.

Know that it is mustaḥabb to combine in sujūd all that we have mentioned. If one is not able to utter them all at once, he should utter them at different times, as we have stated in the previous chapters. If one shortens this dhikr, he should shorten it

¹ Muslim (486), al-Muwatta' (1/214), Abū Dāwūd (879), at-Tirmidhī (3491), and an-Nasā'ī (2/225).

² Muslim (479), Abū Dāwūd (876), and an-Nasā'ī (2/189).

³ Muslim (482).

⁴ Muslim (483) and Abū Dāwūd (878).

to tasbīh and a little du'ā. He should first utter the tasbīh. The ruling about recitation of the Qur'ān is the same as that which we have mentioned about rukū'.

The 'ulamā' disagree as to whether sujūd is better than standing in ṣalāh. Ash-Shāfi'i and those who agree with him say that standing is better, because of the saying of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "The best ṣalāh is that in which the worshipper stands for a long while." This is because the dhikr of standing is the Qur'ān and the dhikr of sujūd is tasbīh; and the Qur'ān is superior. That which is lengthened is better.

Some of the 'ulamā' are of the opinion that sujūd is better, because of the saying of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in the hadith mentioned earlier: "The closest that the slave can be to his Lord is when he is prostrating."

Imam Abū 'Isā at-Tirmidhī says in his book: "On this point, some of the people of knowledge have said that prolonging the standing in the prayer is better than a great many rukū's and sujūds. Others have said that a great many rukū's and sujūds are both better than prolonging the qiyām (standing). Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said that two hadiths have been narrated from the Prophet ﷺ on this matter. Ibn Ḥanbal did not give his ruling on it. Ishāq said: 'During the day, many rukū's and sujūds are preferable; but at night, prolonging the qiyām is preferable, except if there is a part of the night that one completes, in which case many rukū's and sujūds in this regard are preferable, in my view, because one has completed his portion and has gained the reward for doing many many rukū's and sujūds.'"

According to at-Tirmidhī, Ishāq only said this because the Prophet's ﷺ prayer at night was described as 'prolonging the qiyām'.

As for prolonging the qiyām during the day, he ﷺ has not been described as doing this in his prayer as he did in the night.

When one prostrates during recitation of the Qur'ān, it is mustaḥabb to say in sujūd what we have mentioned about the sujūd for ṣalāh. It is mustaḥabb to say with it: O Allah, make it a treasure for me in Your keeping, magnify my reward for it with You, remove from me my sins because of it, and accept it from me as You accepted it from Dāwūd, upon him be peace.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهَا لِي عِنْدَكَ ذُخْرًا، وَأَعْظِمْ لِي بِهَا أَجْرًا، وَضَعْ عَنِّي بِهَا وِزْرًا، وَتَقَبَّلْهَا مِنِّي كَمَا تَقَبَّلْتَهَا مِنْ دَاوُدَ عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ.

Allāhumma-j'alhā lī 'indaka dhukhrā, wa a'ẓim lī bi-hā ajrā, wa ḍa' annī bi-hā wizrā, wa taqabbalhā minnī kamā taqabbaltahā min Dāwūd 'alayhi-s-salam.

Ash-Shāfi'i held that it is also mustaḥabb to say: "Glory to our Lord! Truly the promise of our Lord is ever fulfilled."¹

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّنَا إِنْ كَانَ وَعْدُ رَبِّنَا لَمَفْعُولًا

Subhāna Rabbīnā in kāna wa'du Rabbīnā la-maf'ūlā.

¹ Qur'ān 17:108.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī that 'Ā'ishah   reported that the Messenger of Allah   used to say in sujūd when reciting Qur'ān: "My face has prostrated to the One Who created it and formed its hearing and sight by His Might and His Power."¹ At-Tirmidhī said this is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith. Al-Ḥākim added: 'Tabāraka-llāhu Aḥsanu-l-Khāliqīn' (blessed be Allah, the Best of Creators) and said that this addition complies with the qualifications of both Ṣaḥīḥs.

سَجَدَ وَجْهِي لِلَّذِي خَلَقَهُ، وَشَقَّ سَمْعَهُ وَبَصَرَهُ بِحَوْلِهِ وَقُوَّتِهِ.

Sajada wajhī li-lladhī khalaqah, wa shaqqa sam'ahu wa baṣarahu bi-ḥawlihi wa quwwatih.

Al-Ḥākim adds: "So blessed is Allah, the Best of Creators."²

﴿فَتَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ أَحْسَنُ الْخَالِقِينَ﴾

Fa-tabāraka-llāhu Aḥsanu-l-Khāliqīn.

His words 'O Allah, make it a treasure from me to You. . .' are narrated by at-Tirmidhī in marfū' form from Ibn 'Abbās   with a ḥasan isnād. According to al-Ḥākim, this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. And Allah knows best.

41

WHAT TO SAY WHEN RAISING THE HEAD FROM SUJŪD
AND WHILE SITTING BETWEEN THE TWO SUJŪDS

IT IS SUNNAH to pronounce takbīr when starting to rise, and to prolong the takbīr until sitting upright. We have previously explained the number of takbīrāt, the difference of opinion about prolonging it, and the kind of prolongation which nullifies it. When one has completed the takbīr and sits up straight, it is Sunnah to make du'ā'.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and al-Bayhaqī, as well as others, that Ḥudhayfah  , in the hadith cited earlier, described the long ṣalāh of the Messenger of Allah   in which he recited the Sūrahs al-Baqarah, an-Nisā' and Āl 'Imrān and in which his rukū' and his sujūd were as long as the time he spent standing. He   said between the two prostrations: "Lord forgive me, Lord forgive me", and he sat for as long as his sujūd.³

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1414), at-Tirmidhī (580), an-Nasā'ī (2/222), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/220), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² Qur'ān 23:14.

³ Muslim (772), Abū Dāwūd (871), and an-Nasā'ī (3/226).

رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي، رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي.

Rabbi-ghfir lī, Rabbi-ghfir lī.

We relate in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī that Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ narrated the hadith about spending the night with his maternal aunt Maymūnah ؓ and the ṣalāh of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ at night. [Ibn ‘Abbās] recounted that when he ؓ lifted his head from sujūd he said: “Lord, forgive me, have mercy on me, be charitable to me, elevate me, sustain me and guide me.”¹ رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي، وَارْحَمْنِي، وَاجْبُرْنِي، وَارْفَعْنِي، وَارْزُقْنِي، وَاهْدِنِي.

Rabbi-ghfir lī, wa-rḥamnī, wa-jburnī, wa-rfa’nī, wa-rzuqnī, wa-hdinī.

According to a report by Abū Dāwūd he added: “And grant me health and well-being”; and the isnād is ḥasan. And Allah knows best.

وَعَافِنِي.

Wa ‘āfinī.

When performing the second sujūd, the worshipper should say whatever he said in the first. When he lifts his head he should rise pronouncing takbīr and sit in a relaxed position, coming to a complete stop. Then he should stand up for the second rak‘ah and prolong the takbīr in which he rises from sujūd until he stands upright. The prolongation should be after the lām in Allah. This is the most correct of views from our [Shāfi‘ī] colleagues. They also have another view, which is that one should raise one’s head without making takbīr sitting in the istirāḥah position so that as he begins to rise, he pronounces the takbīr. A third view is that one should rise from sujūd saying takbīr so that when he sits, he stops the takbīr and then rises without saying takbīr. It makes no difference if one does not complete two takbīrs in this position. Our colleagues say that the first view is the most correct, so that no part of the prayer is forgotten.

Know that sitting in repose during ṣalāh is a Sunnah established from the practices of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī and others. Our doctrine is that it is mustaḥabb because of this authentic Sunnah. Then it is Sunnah after the second sujūd of every rak‘ah after which one stands up. It is not mustaḥabb after the sujūd of recitation in ṣalāh.² And Allah knows best.

¹ Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/122).

² In one of the manuscripts of the Adhkār of Imam an-Nawawī it states: “I have also explained this in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab and Sharḥ al-Bukhārī. My intention in [writing] this book is to mention only specific adhkār.” The commentary on the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī which Imam an-Nawawī refers to was started by him, but he passed away before he could complete it.

THE ADHKĀR OF THE SECOND RAK'AH

know that the adhkār in the first rak'ah which we have mentioned should also be performed in the second, in both the compulsory and the supererogatory ṣalāh. The other rulings also apply. However, there are certain secondary factors. First, the first rak'ah has the takbīrat al-ihrām, which is a vital element of ṣalāh. That is not the case in the second; the previous takbīr is done while coming up from sujūd, and is Sunnah. Second, the opening du'ā' is not prescribed in the second, unlike the first. Third, as we have already previously mentioned that protection should be sought in the first about which there is no disagreement. As regards the second there is disagreement; the more authoritative view is that one should seek protection in it. Fourth, the preferable view is that there should be less recitation in the second rak'ah than in the first, about which there is the disagreement already discussed. And Allah knows best.

THE QUNŪT IN THE ṢUBḤ ṢALĀH

KNOW THAT QUNŪT is a Sunnah in the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ because of the ṣaḥīḥ hadith concerning qunūt from Anas رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ continued to supplicate with qunūt in Ṣubḥ until his death.¹

In our [Shāfi'is'] opinion, qunūt supplication is prescribed in Ṣubḥ and is an emphasised Sunnah. If a person omit it, that does not nullify his ṣalāh but one must prostrate for forgetfulness, whether one omitted it intentionally or unintentionally. As for the other ṣalawāt besides Ṣubḥ, should one supplicate with qunūt in them? Ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him, has three opinions. The most authoritative and well-known is that when a calamity befalls the Muslims they may supplicate with qunūt; otherwise they may not. The second is that they may supplicate with qunūt in any circumstances. The third is that they may not supplicate with qunūt. And Allah knows best.

It is mustaḥabb, in our opinion, to supplicate in the last rak'ah of the Witr ṣalāh during the latter half of the month of Ramaḍān. There is also an opinion that one may supplicate in it throughout the month of Ramaḍān. And a third point of view is that it may be done throughout the year, and that is the position of Abū Ḥanīfah; but what is most recognized in our [Shāfi‘ī] madhhab is the first, and Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Ḥākim (1/225) and al-Futūḥāt (2/286). Ibn 'Allān states that an-Nawawī said in al-Khulāṣah that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ, being reported by groups of the ḥuffāz (plural of ḥāfiẓ) who grade it as ṣaḥīḥ. Among those who declared it to be ṣaḥīḥ are Abū 'Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn 'Alī al-Balkhī, al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak, and al-Bayhaqī in one of his books. It is also reported by ad-Dāraqutnī via various routes with ṣaḥīḥ chains.

Know that the correct place for the qunūt in the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh is after rising from rukū‘ in the second rak‘ah. According to Mālik, one should supplicate before the rukū‘. Our colleagues hold that if a person following the Shāfi‘ī madhhab supplicates before the rukū‘ it is not to be taken into consideration. According to another opinion, however, it is taken into consideration. The most authoritative view is that the worshipper should repeat it after the rukū‘ and prostrate for forgetfulness, but some say one should not prostrate. The preferred wording is given below.

We relate a ṣaḥīḥ hadith from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā‘ī, Ibn Mājah, al-Bayhaqī and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from al-Ḥasan ibn ‘Alī ʿ who narrated: “The Messenger of Allah ʿ taught me what to say in Witr: O Allah, guide me among those whom You have guided; grant me health and well-being among those whom You have granted well-being; and take charge of my affairs among those whose affairs You have taken charge of. Bless me in that which You have granted me, and protect me from the evil that You have decreed. For You decree and You are not decreed against, and those whom You have protected are not humiliated. Blessed are You, our Lord, and Exalted.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ اهْدِنِي فِيمَنْ هَدَيْتَ، وَعَافِنِي فِيمَنْ عَافَيْتَ، وَتَوَلَّنِي فِيمَنْ
تَوَلَّيْتَ، وَبَارِكْ لِي فِيمَا أَعْطَيْتَ، وَقِنِي شَرَّ مَا قَضَيْتَ، فَإِنَّكَ تَقْضِي وَلَا يُقْضَى عَلَيْكَ، وَإِنَّهُ لَا يَذِلُّ مَنْ وَالَيْتَ، تَبَارَكْتَ رَبَّنَا وَتَعَالَيْتَ.

Allāhumma-hdinī fī-man hadayt, wa ‘āfinī fī-man ‘āfayt, wa tawallanī fī-man tawallayt, wa bārak lī fī-mā a‘ṭayt, wa qinī sharra mā qaḍayt, fa-innaka taqḍī wa lā yuqḍā ‘alayk, wa innahu lā yadhillu man wālayt, tabārakta Rabbanā wa ta‘ālayt.

At-Tirmidhī declared this hadith to be ḥasan. He said: “We do not know of anything conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ʿ about the qunūt that is better than this.”

According to a report by al-Bayhaqī on the authority of Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥanafīyya, the son of ‘Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib ʿ, he said: “This du‘ā is the du‘ā that my father used to supplicate with in the qunūt of Fajr ṣalāh. It is mustaḥabb to say after this du‘ā: O Allah, send blessings and salutations upon Muḥammad and upon the family of Muḥammad.”

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ وَسَلِّمْ

Allāhumma ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammadin wa ‘alā ‘ālī Muḥammadin wa sallim.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1425), at-Tirmidhī (464), an-Nasā‘ī (3/248), and Ibn Mājah (1178). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

It is narrated in another report by an-Nasā'i of this hadith with a ḥasan isnaḍ:
 "And may Allah bless the Prophet."

وَصَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ

Wa ṣalla-llāhu 'ala-n-Nabiyyi .

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that it is good to supplicate with the qunūt that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ supplicated with. He used to supplicate in Ṣubḥ after rukū', saying:
 "O Allah, we seek Your help, we beg Your forgiveness, we are not ungrateful to You, we believe in You and we abjure those who sin against You. O Allah, You alone do we worship, to You do we pray and prostrate and for You we strive and hasten. We hope for Your Mercy and we dread Your punishment. Surely Your just punishment will befall the unbelievers. O Allah, punish the disbelievers who hinder Your path, deny Your Messengers, and fight Your friends. O Allah, forgive the believing men and women and the Muslim men and women. Rectify their affairs and put mutual love, faith and wisdom in their hearts. Make them firm in the nation of the Messenger of Allah ؓ and inspire them to fulfil Your pact which You have taken with them, and assist them against Your enemies and their enemies, O God of Truth. And make us to be among them."²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَسْتَغْفِرُكَ، وَنَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَلَا نَكْفُرُكَ، وَنُؤْمِنُ بِكَ، وَنَخْلَعُ مَنْ يَفْجُرُكَ، اللَّهُمَّ
 إِيَّاكَ نَعْبُدُ، وَلَكَ نُصَلِّي وَنَسْجُدُ، وَإِلَيْكَ نَسْعَى وَنَحْفِدُ، نَرْجُو رَحْمَتَكَ وَنَحْشَى عَذَابَكَ،
 إِنَّ عَذَابَكَ الْجِدَّ بِالْكَفَّارِ مُلْحِقٌ، اللَّهُمَّ عَذِّبِ الْكَفَرَةَ الَّذِينَ يَصُدُّونَ عَنْ سَبِيلِكَ،
 وَيُكَذِّبُونَ رُسُلَكَ، وَيُقَاتِلُونَ أَوْلِيَاءَكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ، وَالْمُسْلِمِينَ
 وَالْمُسْلِمَاتِ، وَأَصْلِحْ ذَاتَ بَيْنِهِمْ، وَأَلْفَ بَيْنَ قُلُوبِهِمْ، وَاجْعَلْ فِي قُلُوبِهِمُ الْإِيمَانَ
 وَالْحِكْمَةَ، وَثَبِّتْهُمْ عَلَى مِلَّةِ رَسُولِكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَأَوْزِعْهُمْ أَنْ يُوفُوا بِعَهْدِكَ
 الَّذِي عَاهَدْتَهُمْ عَلَيْهِ، وَانْصُرْهُمْ عَلَى عَدُوِّكَ وَعَدُوِّهِمْ، إِلَهَ الْحَقِّ، وَاجْعَلْنَا مِنْهُمْ.

Allāhumma innā nasta'inuk, wa nastaghfiruka wa lā nakfuruk, wa nu'minu bik, wa nakhla'u man yafjuruk. Allāhumma iyyāka na'budu wa laka nuṣalli wa nasjud, wa ilayka nas'ā wa nahfid, narjū raḥmatāka wa nakhshā 'adhābak, inna
 'adhābaka-l-jidda bi-l-kuffāri mulḥiq. Allāhumma 'adhdhibi-l-kafarata-lladhīna yaṣuddūna 'an sabilik, wa yukadhdhibūna Rusulak, wa yuqātilūna awliyā'ak.
 Allāhumma-ghfir li-l-mu'minīna wa-l-mu'mināt, wa-l-muslimīna wa-l-muslimāt, wa aṣliḥ dhāta baynihim, wa allif bayna qulūbihim, wa-j'al fi qulūbihimu-l-īmāna

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (2/299). Ibn Ḥajar states that the basis of this hadith is ḥasan. It was reported via numerous chains from al-Ḥasan; however, the additional wording in this chain is gharibah (unusual) and not well-established. Furthermore, the chain contains unknown narrators and has a break in its continuity, which means that this chain does not fulfil the criteria of ḥasan hadiths.

² Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/210-211).

wa-l-ḥikmah, wa thabbit-hum 'alā millati Rasūlika ṣallā'llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa awzi'hum an yūfū bi-'ahdika-lladhī 'āhadtahum 'alayh, wa-nṣurhum 'alā 'aduwwika wa 'aduwwihim, Ilāha-l-Ḥaqq, wa-j'alnā minhum.

Know that what is transmitted from 'Umar is [the wording] 'punish the disbelievers of the People of the Book' because the struggle at that time was with the disbelievers of the People of the Book. However, today it is better to say 'punish the disbelievers. . .', as this is more general.

His saying 'we abjure' (nakhla'u) means 'we reject'; 'those who sin against You' means 'those who disbelieve in Your attributes'; 'we hasten' means 'we urge and hurry'; 'stern' (al-jidd) with kasrah on the letter jīm means 'rightful'; 'befalling' (mulḥiq) has a kasrah on the letter hā' as is well-known, or [mulḥaq] with fathah as mentioned by Ibn Qutaybah and others; 'rectify their affairs' means 'rectify their concerns and relationships'; 'wisdom' means 'avoiding any repugnant thing that is prohibited'; 'inspire them' means 'arouse them'; and 'make us amongst them' means 'amongst those who possess such characteristics'.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues hold that to combine the qunūt of 'Umar and the one quoted before it is mustaḥabb. If one combines the two, he should defer the qunūt of 'Umar. If one shortens it, he should shorten it to the first. It is only mustaḥabb to combine them when praying alone or if one is the Imam of people who prefer it to be prolonged. And Allah knows best.

Know that no du'ā' is specified in the qunūt according to the preferred madhhab. Any du'ā' that one supplicates with will suffice for qunūt, even if one supplicates with a verse or verses of the Qur'ān which contain da'awāt. However, the best is that which is conveyed from the Sunnah. One group of our colleagues are of the opinion that it is specified and nothing else will suffice.

Know that if the person praying is the Imam it is mustaḥabb for him to use the plural and say: 'O Allah, guide us.' If he says: 'O Allah, guide me,' the qunūt will have effect but it is makrūh, because it is makrūh for the Imam to single himself out in du'ā'.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Thawbān ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "One should not lead people in ṣalāh and single himself out in du'ā', so excluding them. If he does, then he has cheated them."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues have three opinions about lifting the hands in the qunūt and passing them over the face. The most authoritative is that one should raise his hands but not pass them over the face. The second opinion is that one should raise them and pass them over the face. The third is that one should neither raise them nor pass them over the face. They agree that one should not pass the hands over anything but the face, such as the chest. They consider that to be makrūh.

About reciting the qunūt loudly or softly, our colleagues have expressed the following opinions. According to the first, if the worshipper prays alone he should recite it silently, but if he is the Imam then he should recite it loudly. This is the preferred and correct view, which is held by the majority. The other opinion is that one should recite it silently like all the other da'awāt in ṣalāh. Even if the Imam does not recite the qunūt aloud, the followers should recite it silently, like all the da'awāt in ṣalāh. They should follow the Imam's words silently. If the Imam recites the qunūt loudly and the follower can hear him, he should say Āmīn to his du'ā' and join him in the praise at the end of it. If he cannot hear him, he should recite it silently. One view is that he should say Āmīn. Another is that he should join him, together with those who can hear him. The first view is preferable.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (90) and at-Tirmidhī (357). It is also reported by Aḥmad in al-Musnad (5/250) from the hadith of Abū Umāmah.

As for saying qunūt in a ṣalāh other than Ṣubḥ, if it is to be said aloud—that is, in Maghrib or 'Ishā'—then it will be the same as in Ṣubḥ. In Zuhr and 'Aṣr one recites the qunūt silently. Others say that it is the same as Ṣubḥ. The authentic hadith about the qunūt of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ for the reciters of the Qur'ān who were killed at Bi'r Mā'ūnah indicates that he said the qunūt aloud in all of the ṣalawāt. In the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, in the chapter of the commentary on the verse "You have nothing to do with the matter", Abū Hurayrah states that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ recited the qunūt aloud in the qunūt because of some disastrous occurrence.¹

44

THE TASHAHHUD IN ṢALĀH

KNOW THAT IF the ṣalāh has only two rak'ahs, like the Ṣubḥ or supererogatory (nāfil), then there is only one tashahhud. If it has three or four rak'ahs, then there are two tashahhuds: the first and the last.

A person who arrives late for ṣalāh may conceivably perform three tashahhuds. It is also conceivable that he may perform four tashahhuds in Maghrib. If he joins the Imam after rukū' in the second rak'ah, he follows him in the first and second tashahhud but he has completed only one rak'ah of the ṣalāh. When the Imam pronounces the salām, he should rise to complete the rak'ahs that remain. He prays one rak'ah and says tashahhud after it, for it is his second. Then he prays the third and says tashahhud after it. If he offers a nāfil ṣalāh and performs more than four rak'ahs, even if he makes the intention to pray one hundred rak'ahs, the preferred view is that he should restrict himself to two tashahhuds. He should perform all that he intended to perform except for two rak'ahs, then say tashahhud, then perform the final two rak'ahs and say tashahhud again and salām. A group of our colleagues say that it is not permissible to say more than two tashahhuds and it is not permissible that there be more than two rak'ahs between the first and the second rak'ah. It is permissible that there be only one rak'ah. If a person prays more than two rak'ahs or there are more than two rak'ahs between them, his ṣalāh is invalid. Others say that it is permissible to say tashahhud in every rak'ah. The correct view is that it is permissible after every two rak'ahs, not every one. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4560).

The last tashahhud is wājib according to ash-Shāfi'ī, Aḥmad and the majority of the 'ulamā'. It is Sunnah according to Abū Ḥanīfah and Mālik. The first tashahhud is Sunnah according to ash-Shāfi'ī, Mālik, Abū Ḥanīfah and many other 'ulamā'. According to Aḥmad it is wājib. So, according to ash-Shāfi'ī, if a person leaves it out his ṣalāh will be valid but he must prostrate for forgetfulness, whether he left it out intentionally or unintentionally. And Allah knows best.

As for the wording of the tashahhud, there are three tashahhuds that have been reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

First is the report of Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Greetings (taḥiyyāt) belong to Allah, as do prayers (ṣalawāt) and good things (ṭayyibāt). Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger."¹ Al-Bukhārī and Muslim reported this in their Ṣaḥīḥs.

التَّحِيَّاتُ لِلَّهِ، وَالصَّلَوَاتُ وَالطَّيِّبَاتُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ
وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

*At-taḥiyyātu li-llāh, wa-ṣ-ṣalawātu wa-ṭ-ṭayyibāt, as-salāmu 'alayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa rahmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu
'alaynā wa 'alā 'ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa Rasūluh.*

The second is the report of Ibn 'Abbās ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "Blessed greetings and excellent prayers belong to Allah. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah."² Muslim narrated this hadith in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

التَّحِيَّاتُ الْمُبَارَكَاتُ الصَّلَوَاتُ الطَّيِّبَاتُ لِلَّهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا
النَّبِيُّ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ

At-taḥiyyātu-l-mubārakātu-ṣ-ṣalawātu-ṭ-ṭayyibātu li-llāh, as-

¹ Al-Bukhārī (831), Muslim (402), Abū Dāwūd (968), at-Tirmidhī (289), and an-Nasā'ī (2/237).

² Muslim (403), Abū Dāwūd (974), at-Tirmidhī (290), and an-Nasā'ī (2/242-243).

salāmu ‘alayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa rahmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā ‘ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlu-llāh.

The third is the report of Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī رضي الله عنه from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Beautiful greetings and prayers belong to Allah. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah.
I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger.” Muslim narrated this in his Ṣaḥīḥ.¹

التَّحِيَّاتُ الطَّيِّبَاتُ الصَّلَوَاتُ لِلَّهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ وَرَحْمَةُ
اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ، أَشْهَدُ
أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

At-taḥiyyātu-ṭ-ṭayyibātu-ṣ-ṣalawātu li-llāh, as-salāmu ‘alayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa rahmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā ‘ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan ‘abduhu wa Rasūluh.

And we relate from the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī, with a good isnād from al-Qāsim who reported that ‘Ā’ishah رضي الله عنها taught him: “This is the tashahhud of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: ‘Greetings belong to Allah, and the prayers and good things. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger.’”²

التَّحِيَّاتُ لِلَّهِ وَالصَّلَوَاتُ وَالطَّيِّبَاتُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ
وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

At-taḥiyyātu li-llāhi wa-ṣ-ṣalawātu wa-ṭ-ṭayyibāt. As-salāmu ‘alayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa rahmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā ‘ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan ‘abduhu wa Rasūluh.

¹ Muslim (404), Abū Dāwūd (972), and an-Nasā’ī (2/242).

² Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/144) and al-Futūḥāt (2/327). Ibn Ḥajar states: “The chain for this hadith includes Muḥammad ibn Ṣāliḥ ibn Dīnār, about whom there is a difference of opinion. Aḥmad, Abū Dāwūd and others declare him to be trustworthy, while Abū Ḥatīm ar-Rāzī states that his transmission is not strong. Likewise, ad-Dāraquṭnī casts doubts on his reputation, and I could find neither praise nor criticism for his son Ṣāliḥ, who therefore falls into the category of mastūr narrators. I do not know the basis for Imam an-Nawawī describing this chain as good, since al-Bayhaqī states after relating it: ‘ṣaḥīḥ from ‘Ā’ishah in a mawqūf form’, indicating the irregularity (shudhūdh) of the additional wording. But Allah knows best.”

In this there is a great benefit, which is that his tashahhud ﷺ is in the wording of our tashahhud. We relate in the Muwattaʿ of Mālik, the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī, and others with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from ʿAbd ar-Raḥmān ibn ʿUmar al-Qāriyy— with a doubled yā—that he heard ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ say, while he was on the minbar teaching the people the tashahhud: “Greetings belong to Allah. Pure actions belong to Allah. Good words and prayers belong to Allah. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger.”¹

التَّحِيَّاتُ لِلَّهِ، الزَّكَايَاتُ لِلَّهِ، الطَّيِّبَاتُ الصَّلَوَاتُ لِلَّهِ. السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا
النَّبِيُّ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ

At-taḥiyyātu li-llāh, az-zākiyātu li-llāh, aṭ-ṭayyibātu-ṣ-ṣalawātu li-llāh.
As-salāmu ʿalayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ʿalaynā wa ʿalā ʿibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan ʿabduhu wa Rasūluh.

We relate, again in the Muwattaʿ and the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī and others as well, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, from ʿĀʾishah ﷺ who used to say in her tashahhud: “Greetings, good words, prayers, pure actions belong to Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah.”²

التَّحِيَّاتُ الطَّيِّبَاتُ الصَّلَوَاتُ الزَّكَايَاتُ لِلَّهِ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،
وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ.

At-taḥiyyātu-ṭ-ṭayyibātu-ṣ-ṣalawātu-z-zākiyātu li-llāh, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan ʿabduhu wa Rasūluh, as-salāmu ʿalayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ʿalaynā wa ʿalā ʿibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

According to another account she said: “Greetings, good words, prayers, pure actions belong to Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah, the One Who has no partner, and that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. Peace be upon you, O Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us, and upon the righteous servants of Allah.”

¹ Al-Muwattaʿ (1/90), Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/142).

² Al-Muwattaʿ (1/91), Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/142).

التَّحِيَّاتُ الطَّيِّبَاتُ الصَّلَوَاتُ الزَّكَايَاتُ لِلَّهِ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ
وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ
وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ.

At-taḥiyyātu-ṭ-ṭayyibātu-ṣ-ṣalawātu-z-zākiyātu li-llāh, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan ‘abduhu wa Rasūluh, as-salāmu ‘alayka ayyuha-n-Nabiyyu wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā ‘ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

And we relate in the Muwatta’ and the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, from Mālik from Nāfi‘ that Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه used to say when he made tashahhud: “In the name of Allah. Greetings belong to Allah. Prayers belong to Allah. Pure actions belong to Allah. Peace be upon the Prophet, and the mercy and blessings of Allah. Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. I have borne witness that there is no god but Allah and I have borne witness that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah.”¹

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، التَّحِيَّاتُ لِلَّهِ، الصَّلَوَاتُ لِلَّهِ، الزَّكَايَاتُ لِلَّهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَى
النَّبِيِّ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ،
شَهِدْتُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، شَهِدْتُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ.

Bismi-llāh, at-taḥiyyātu li-llāh, aṣ-ṣalawātu li-llāhi, az-zākiyātu li-llāh, as-salāmu ‘ala-n-Nabiyyi wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh, as-salāmu ‘alaynā wa ‘alā ‘ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, shahidtu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, shahidtu anna Muḥammadan Rasūlu-llāh.

And Allah knows best.

These are the different forms of the tashahhud. There are three hadiths which have been established to be from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: those of Ibn Mas‘ūd, Ibn ‘Abbās and Abū Mūsā رضي الله عنه. That is the pronouncement of al-Bayhaqī. Others say that all three are authentic but the most rigorously authentic is the hadith of Ibn Mas‘ūd رضي الله عنه.

It is permissible to make tashahhud with any of the above-mentioned forms of tashahhud that one wishes. This was stated by ash-Shāfi‘ī and other ‘ulamā’. The best, according to ash-Shāfi‘ī, is the hadith of Ibn ‘Abbās رضي الله عنه because of the addition of the word al-mubārakāt. Ash-Shāfi‘ī and other ‘ulamā’ say that the words of the narrators differ because the matter is one of scope and choice. And Allah knows best.

The preferred view is that one should recite [one of] the first three tashahhuds completely. Would it suffice to leave out some of it? The position in detail is as follows. The words blessings, goodness and pious deeds are Sunnah and not a condition of tashahhud. If one leaves out all of it and says: Greetings are for Allah, peace be upon you, O Prophet to the end, that will suffice. There is no difference of opinion about this. As for the rest of the wording, such as 'Peace be upon you, O Prophet. . .', to the end, this is wājib and one is not permitted to omit anything of it except for the phrase 'and Allah's mercy and blessings. . .' There are three views, according to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues. The first and most correct one is that it is not permitted to omit anything from it. This is what is necessitated by the evidence that is agreed upon. The second view is that it is permitted to omit, and the third view is that it is permitted to omit 'His blessing' but not 'Allah's mercy'.

¹ Al-Muwatta’ (1/91) and Sunan al-Bayhaqī (2/142). Ibn Hajar classifies this hadith as mawqūf ṣaḥīḥ.

Abū al-'Abbās ibn Surayj, one of our colleagues, said that it is permitted to confine oneself to saying [in tashahhud]: 'Greetings belong to Allah. Peace upon you, O Prophet, Peace upon the righteous servants of Allah. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and that Muḥammad is His Messenger'.

التَّحِيَّاتُ لِلَّهِ، سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكَ أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ، سَلَامٌ عَلَى عِبَادِ اللَّهِ
الصَّالِحِينَ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا رَسُولُ اللَّهِ

At-taḥiyyātu li-llāh, salāmun 'alayka ayyuha-n-Nabī, salāmun 'alā 'ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn, ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa anna Muḥammadan Rasūlu-llāh.

As for the wording 'peace', most of the versions have 'peace upon you, O Prophet', as well as 'peace be upon us' with the definite article. Some versions it have merely 'peace', both [letters of the definite article] being omitted.

According to our colleagues, both are permitted, although the better one is 'peace' with the definite article, owing to its preponderance [in the narrations] as additions.

As for the tasmiyah before the tashahhud, we have related a marfū' hadith from the Sunans of an-Nasā'i, al-Bayhaqī and others, establishing its [veracity] in the narration of Ibn 'Umar, as previously cited. However, al-Bukhārī and an-Nasā'i as well as other scholars of hadith say that the addition of tasmiyah is not authenticated from the Prophet ﷺ. Therefore, the majority of scholars hold that tasmiyah is not mustaḥabb. Others of our colleagues hold that it is mustaḥabb. The preferred view is that it should not be performed, because the majority of the Companions that narrated the tashahhud did not do so.

The sequence in tashahhud is Sunnah and not wājib. It is permissible to say some things before others. This is the correct and preferred view of the majority, as ash-Shāfi'i states in al-Umm. Some hold that it is not permissible, as with the wording of al-Fātiḥah. Its permissibility is indicated because in some reports the words of greeting come before the bearing of witness and in others they come after. The words and their order in al-Fātiḥah are a divine miracle and it is not permissible to change them. It is not permissible to say the tashahhud in another language if one has the ability to recite Arabic. Anyone who is unable to should say the tashahhud in his own language and learn [the Arabic], as we have already explained about the takbīrat al-iḥrām.

It is Sunnah to say the tashahhud silently, according to the consensus of the Muslims, as is indicated by the hadith which we related in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and al-Bayhaqī from ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd ؓ said: “It is Sunnah to say the tashahhud silently.”¹ At-Tirmidhī said the hadith is ḥasan and al-Ḥākim said it is ṣaḥīḥ. One [Shāfi‘ī] colleague says that this is Sunnah,” which is like saying: “The Messenger of Allah ؓ said such-and-such.” This is the preferred and correct view held by the majority of ‘ulamā’, jurists, and scholars of hadith (may Allah have mercy on them), experts in juristic principles (uṣūl) and scholars of theology (kalām). Reciting it aloud, although disliked, does not nullify the ṣalāh and one does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness.

45

INVOKING BLESSINGS UPON THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH ؓ AFTER THE TASHAHHUD

KNOW THAT TO pray for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ؓ after the last tashahhud is wājib according to ash-Shāfi‘ī. If one leaves it out, his ṣalāh is invalid. It is not wājib to pray for blessings upon the family of the Messenger of Allah ؓ in it, but it is mustaḥabb. The best salutation on the Prophet ؓ is to say: O Allah, send salutations upon Muḥammad, Your servant and Messenger, the unlettered Prophet, and upon the family of Muḥammad, as You sent salutations upon Ibrāhīm and the family of Ibrāhīm. And bless Muḥammad, the unlettered Prophet, and the family of Muḥammad, as You blessed Ibrāhīm and the family of Ibrāhīm in [all] the worlds. Truly You are most Praiseworthy, most Majestic.

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ عَبْدِكَ وَرَسُولِكَ النَّبِيِّ الْأُمِّيِّ، وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ
وَأَزْوَاجِهِ وَذُرِّيَّتِهِ، كَمَا صَلَّيْتَ عَلَى إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَعَلَى آلِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، وَبَارِكْ
عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ النَّبِيِّ الْأُمِّيِّ، وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ وَأَزْوَاجِهِ وَذُرِّيَّتِهِ، كَمَا بَارَكْتَ
عَلَى إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَعَلَى آلِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ، فِي الْعَالَمِينَ إِنَّكَ حَمِيدٌ مَجِيدٌ.

Allāhumma ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammadin ‘Abdika wa Rasūlika-n-Nabiyyi-l-ummiyyi, wa ‘alā āli Muḥammadin wa azwājihī wa dhurriyyatih, kamā ṣallayta ‘alā Ibrāhīm wa ‘alā āli Ibrāhīm, wa bārik ‘alā Muḥammadi-n-Nabiyyi-l-ummiyyi, wa ‘alā āli Muḥammadin wa azwājihī wa dhurriyyatih, kamā bārakta ‘alā Ibrāhīma wa ‘alā āli Ibrāhīm, fi-l-‘ālamīna, innaka Ḥamīdun Majīd.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (986), at-Tirmidhī (291), al-Bayhaqī (2/146), and al-Ḥākim (1/230), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

We have narrated this method in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ except for a part of it, but it is ṣaḥīḥ in narrations other than that of Ka'b. Details will be provided in the Book of Sending Blessings on the Prophet ﷺ, Allāh willing. And Allah knows best.

The compulsory part of it is to say: O Allah, send salutations upon Muḥammad.

اَللّٰهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلٰى مُحَمَّدٍ.

Allāhumma ṣalli 'alā Muḥammad.

If a person wishes he may say: May Allah send salutations on Muḥammad. One may also say: May Allah send salutations on His Messenger, or: May Allah send salutations on the Prophet.

صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلٰى مُحَمَّدٍ.

صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلٰى رَسُوْلِهِ.

صَلَّى اللّٰهُ عَلٰى النَّبِيِّ.

Ṣallā-llāhu 'alā Muḥammad.

Ṣallā-llāhu 'alā Rasūlih.

Ṣallā-llāhu 'alā-n-Nabī.

We have a viewpoint that it is not valid to say anything but O Allah, send salutations upon Muḥammad, we have a viewpoint that it is valid to say And may Allah send salutations on Aḥmad; and a viewpoint that one says May Allah bless him.

In the first tashahhud it is not wājib to pray for blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ. Is it mustaḥabb? There are two opinions. The more correct view is that it is mustaḥabb to do so but it is not mustaḥabb to pray for blessings upon his family. It is not mustaḥabb to make du'ā' in the first tashahhud in our opinion. Some of our colleagues hold that it is makrūh because it is based on brevity, unlike the second tashahhud. And Allah knows best.

THE DU'Ā' AFTER THE LAST TASHAHHUD

KNOW THAT DU'Ā' IS prescribed after the last tashahhud, there being no disagreement about that.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught his Companions the tashahhud and said afterwards:

"Then one may make one's choice of supplication." According to a report by al-Bukhārī he said: "Whatever appeals to a person he may supplicate with." According to a report in Muslim he said: "Then he may choose whichever he wishes by way of supplication."¹

Know that this du'ā is mustahabb and not wājib, and that it is mustahabb to prolong it, unless one is the Imam. A person may supplicate for what he wants by way of things of the Hereafter and this world. He may use the supplications that have been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ or he may use supplications that he has conceived and devised for himself. That which has been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ is best.

On this topic many du'ā's have been established, among them:

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you has completed the last tashahhud, let him seek protection from four things: from the punishment of Hell, from punishment in the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the evil of the anointed Dajjāl [Antichrist]."²

Muslim narrated this through many chains, and one of the related reports is that he ؓ said: "When any of you says the tashahhud then he should seek protection from four things. He should say: O Allah, I seek Your protection from the punishment of Hell, from punishment in the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the evil trials of the anointed Dajjāl."

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ جَهَنَّمَ، وَمِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَمِنْ
فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ، وَمِنْ شَرِّ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi Jahannam, wa min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa min fitnati-l-maḥyā wa-l-mamāt, wa min sharri fitnati-l-masiḥi-d-Dajjāl.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to make du'ā in ṣalāh saying: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from the punishment in the grave, I seek Your protection from the trials of the anointed Dajjāl, and I seek Your protection from the trials of death and life. O Allah, I seek Your protection from misdeeds and debt."³

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ،
وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْمَأْثِمِ وَالْمَغْرَمِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-l-masiḥi-d-Dajjāl, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-l-maḥyā wa-l-mamāt, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-ma'thami wa-l-maghrām.

1 Al-Bukhārī (831), Muslim (402).

2 Al-Bukhārī (1377), Muslim (588), Abū Dāwūd (983), and an-Nasā'ī (3/58).

3 Al-Bukhārī (832), Muslim (589), Abū Dāwūd (880), and an-Nasā'ī (3/56).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Alī ؑ narrated that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed ṣalāh, the last thing he would say between the tashahhud and the salutation was: “O Allah, forgive me for what I have done in the past and for what I have delayed, for what I have done in secret and for what I have done in public, for what I have squandered and for that which You know better than I. You are the One Who brings forward and the One Who puts behind, and there is no god but You.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي مَا قَدَّمْتُ وَمَا أَخَّرْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَرْتُ وَمَا أَعْلَنْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَفْتُ
وَمَا أَنْتَ أَغْلَمُ بِهِ مِنِّي، أَنْتَ الْمُقَدِّمُ وَأَنْتَ الْمُؤَخِّرُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī mā qaddamtu wa mā akhkhart, wa mā asrartu wa mā a'lant, wa mā asraftu wa mā Anta a'lamu bihi minnī, Antal-Muqaddimu wa Anta-l-Mu'akhkhiru lā ilāha illā Ant.

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Ās narrated that Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ؓ reported that he asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Teach me a du‘ā that I may supplicate with in my ṣalāh.” He said: “Say: O Allah, I have wronged myself greatly and no-one forgives sins except You; so grant me forgiveness from You, and have mercy on me. You are the Most Forgiving and the Most Merciful.”²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي ظُلْمًا كَثِيرًا، وَلَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، فَاعْفُرْ
لِي مَغْفِرَةً مِنْ عِنْدِكَ، وَارْحَمْنِي، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Allāhumma innī ḡalamtu nafsī ḡulman kathīran, wa lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant, fa-ghfir lī maghfiratan min ‘indik, wa-rḡamnī, innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḡīm.

This is how we spell the term ‘much wrong’ (ḡulman kathīran) with the letter thā in most narrations, although some narrations of Muslim use the word ‘great’ (kabīr) with bā. Both are good, so one ought to combine them to give ‘many great sins’ (ḡulman kathīran kabīran). Al-Bukhārī, in his Ṣaḥīḥ, and al-Bayhaqī as well as other Imams have used this hadith for the du‘ā at the end of the ṣalāh, and this is valid reasoning. His saying ‘in my ṣalāh’ generalises the whole and the appropriate time for du‘ā in ṣalāh is in this place.

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Abū Ṣāliḥ Dhakwān from one of the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ who asked a man: “What do you say in the ṣalāh?” He replied: “I say the tashahhud and then I say: ‘O Allah, I ask you for Paradise and I seek refuge in You from Hell-Fire’, but I do not do the murmuring (dandanah) very well which you and Mu‘ādh do.” The Prophet ﷺ replied: “About them we murmur (ḡawlahā nudandinu).”

¹ Muslim (771) and at-Tirmidhī (3417).

² Al-Bukhārī (834), Muslim (2705), at-Tirmidhī (3521), and an-Nasā’ī (3/53).

"Then one may make one's choice of supplication." According to a report by al-Bukhārī he said: "Whatever appeals to a person he may supplicate with." According to a report in Muslim he said: "Then he may choose whichever he wishes by way of supplication."¹

Know that this du'ā' is mustahabb and not wājib, and that it is mustahabb to prolong it, unless one is the Imam. A person may supplicate for what he wants by way of things of the Hereafter and this world. He may use the supplications that have been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ or he may use supplications that he has conceived and devised for himself. That which has been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ is best.

On this topic many *du'ā'*s have been established, among them:

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you has completed the last tashahhud, let him seek protection from four things: from the punishment of Hell, from punishment in the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the evil of the anointed Dajjāl [Antichrist]."²

Muslim narrated this through many chains, and one of the related reports is that he ؓ said: "When any of you says the tashahhud then he should seek protection from four things. He should say: O Allah, I seek Your protection from the punishment of Hell, from punishment in the grave, from the trials of life and death, and from the evil trials of the anointed Dajjāl."

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ جَهَنَّمَ، وَمِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَمِنْ
فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ، وَمِنْ شَرِّ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi Jahannam, wa min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa min fitnati-l-maḥyā wa-l-mamāt, wa min sharri fitnati-l-masiḥi-d-Dajjāl.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to make du'ā' in ṣalāh saying: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from the punishment in the grave, I seek Your protection from the trials of the anointed Dajjāl, and I seek Your protection from the trials of death and life. O Allah, I seek Your protection from misdeeds and debt."³

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَسِيحِ الدَّجَالِ،
وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْمَأْثِمِ وَالْمَغْرَمِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-l-masiḥi-d-Dajjāl, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-l-maḥyā wa-l-mamāt, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-ma'thami wa-l-maghram.

1 Al-Bukhārī (831), Muslim (402).

2 Al-Bukhārī (1377), Muslim (588), Abū Dāwūd (983), and an-Nasā'ī (3/58).

3 Al-Bukhārī (832), Muslim (589), Abū Dāwūd (880), and an-Nasā'ī (3/56).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Alī عليه السلام narrated that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed ṣalāh, the last thing he would say between the tashahhud and the salutation was: “O Allah, forgive me for what I have done in the past and for what I have delayed, for what I have done in secret and for what I have done in public, for what I have squandered and for that which You know better than I. You are the One Who brings forward and the One Who puts behind, and there is no god but You.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي مَا قَدَّمْتُ وَمَا أَخَّرْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَرْتُ وَمَا أَعْلَنْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَفْتُ
وَمَا أَنْتَ أَعْلَمُ بِهِ مِنِّي، أَنْتَ الْمُقَدِّمُ وَأَنْتَ الْمُؤَخِّرُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

*Allāhumma-ghfir li mā qaddamtu wa mā akhkhart, wa mā asrartu
wa mā a'lant, wa mā asraftu wa mā Anta a'lamu bihi minnī, Anta-
l-Muqaddimu wa Anta-l-Mu'akhkhiru lā ilāha illā Ant.*

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ narrated that Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq رضي الله عنه reported that he asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Teach me a du‘ā that I may supplicate with in my ṣalāh.” He said: “Say: O Allah, I have wronged myself greatly and no-one forgives sins except You; so grant me forgiveness from You, and have mercy on me. You are the Most Forgiving and the Most Merciful.”²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي ظُلْمًا كَثِيرًا، وَلَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، فَاعْفِرْ
لِي مَغْفِرَةً مِنْ عِنْدِكَ، وَارْحَمْنِي، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

*Allāhumma innī ḡalamtu nafsī ḡulman kathīran, wa lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant, fa-ghfir li maghfiratan min
'indik, wa-rḡamnī, innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḡīm.*

This is how we spell the term ‘much wrong’ (ḡulman kathīran) with the letter thā in most narrations, although some narrations of Muslim use the word ‘great’ (kabīr) with bā. Both are good, so one ought to combine them to give ‘many great sins’ (ḡulman kathīran kabīran). Al-Bukhārī, in his Ṣaḥīḥ, and al-Bayhaqī as well as other Imams have used this hadith for the du‘ā at the end of the ṣalāh, and this is valid reasoning. His saying ‘in my ṣalāh’ generalises the whole and the appropriate time for du‘ā in ṣalāh is in this place.

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Abū Ṣāliḥ Dhakwān from one of the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ who asked a man: “What do you say in the ṣalāh?” He replied: “I say the tashahhud and then I say: ‘O Allah, I ask you for Paradise and I seek refuge in You from Hell-Fire’, but I do not do the murmuring (dandanah) very well which you and Mu‘ādh do.” The Prophet ﷺ replied: “About them we murmur (ḡawlahā nudandinu).”

¹ Muslim (771) and at-Tirmidhī (3417).

² Al-Bukhārī (834), Muslim (2705), at-Tirmidhī (3521), and an-Nasā’ī (3/53).

'Murmuring' (dandanah) means speech whose meaning is not understood. The phrase 'hawlahā nudandinu' means [murmuring] about Paradise and Hell-Fire, or about asking for them. The first is asking in the sense of seeking [Paradise] and the second is asking in the sense of seeking refuge [from Hell-Fire]. And Allah knows best.

It is mustahabb, under all circumstances, to make du'ā by saying: 'O Allah, I ask You for forgiveness and well-being. O Allah, I ask You for guidance, piety, modesty, and independence.'

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْعَفْوَ وَالْعَافِيَةَ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْهُدَى وَالتُّقَى وَالْعَفَافَ وَالْغِنَى.

*Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-'afwa wa-l-'āfiyah, Allāhumma
innī as'aluka-l-hudā wa-t-tuqā wa-l-'afāfa wa-l-ghinā.*

And Allah knows best.

47

THE GREETING TO END ṢALĀH

KNOW THAT THE salām to end ṣalāh is an obligatory element of the ṣalāh, without which it is not valid. Such is the opinion of ash-Shāfi'ī, Mālik, Aḥmad, and the majority of scholars of the past and the present. Authentic hadiths are unequivocal about this.

Know that the complete salām is to say to the right 'May peace and the mercy of Allah be upon you' and to the left side 'May the peace and mercy of Allah be upon you.'

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum wa raḥmatu-llāh.

It is not mustahabb to add: 'and His blessings' as this is contrary to what is well-known from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ even if it does occur in a narration by Abū Dāwūd. A number of our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues have mentioned it, among them Imām al-Ḥaramayn, Zāhir as-Sarakhsī and ar-Rūyānī in al-Ḥilyah, but it is an irregular narration (shādhah) and what we have presented is the well-known position. And Allah knows best.

This applies whether one is the Imam or follower or is praying alone, whether in a small or large congregation, and whether in a compulsory or nāfil ṣalāh. In all of these there are two greetings in which one turns to both sides. One salām is wājib. The second is Sunnah, and if one omits it it will not harm him. That which is wājib to utter is 'As-salāmu 'alaykum'—Peace be upon you. If one says: 'Salāmun 'alaykum'—Some peace be upon you—it does not suffice according to the most correct view. If one says 'Alaykum as-salām'—Upon you be peace—it suffices according to the most correct view. If one says 'As-salāmu 'alayka'—Peace be upon you (singular) or 'Salāmī 'alayka'—My peace be upon you (singular) or 'Salāmī 'alaykum'—My peace be upon you (plural) or 'Salāmu-llāhi 'alaykum'—The peace of Allah be upon you or 'Salāmu 'alaykum'—Peace be upon you without nunation (i.e., instead of saying 'Salāmun') or he says 'As-salāmu 'alayhim'—Peace be upon them, then none of that suffices and there is no disagreement about that. It invalidates the prayer if it is said deliberately and knowingly in all of that apart from 'As-salāmu 'alayhim'—Peace be upon them, which does not invalidate the prayer because it is a du'ā'. If it is said out of forgetfulness that does not invalidate the prayer, but one has not said what is necessary to finish the prayer: one is then required to do a new greeting of salām and to do it correctly. If the Imam confines himself to a single salām, those following him should say two.

One of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, the Qāḍī Abū 'ṭ-Ṭayyib aṭ-Ṭabarī, and others hold that when the Imam has said the salām, the follower has a choice: he may say the salām immediately or he may continue sitting for du'ā' and prolong it for as long as he wishes. And Allah knows best.

48

WHAT TO SAY TO A PERSON WHO SPEAKS TO ONEWHILST ONE IS ENGAGED IN ṢALĀH

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Sahl ibn Sa'd as-Sa'dī رضي الله عنه, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If anyone is disturbed by something in his ṣalāh, he should say: Glory be to Allah." According to an authentic report, he also said: "If anything occurs to any one of you [in ṣalāh], let the men glorify Allah and let the women clap their hands." According to another report: "Saying Subḥāna-llāh is for men and clapping the hands is for women."¹

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ

Subḥāna-llāh.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (684), Muslim (421), al-Muwattaʿa (1/163–164), Abū Dāwūd (940), and an-Nasāʾī (2/77–78).

ADHKĀR TO BE PERFORMED AFTER ṢALĀH

THE 'ULAMĀ' AGREE unanimously that it is mustaḥabb to do dhikr after ṣalāh. There are many authentic hadiths on this subject, of which we will mention a few.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from Abū Umāmah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked: "Which du'ā' is most likely to be accepted?" He replied: "That which is made in the last part of the night or after a farḍ ṣalāh." at-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan.

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ said: "I used to recognise when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had ended the ṣalāh because of his takbīr." In a narration of Muslim it reads, "We used. . ." According to another report in the same *Ṣaḥīḥ*s he [Ibn 'Abbās] ؓ said: "In the time of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, when people had finished the farḍ ṣalāh they would raise their voices in dhikr." Ibn 'Abbās ؓ said: "I knew they had finished it when I heard them doing that."

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Tawbān ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ended his ṣalāh, he asked for forgiveness thrice and said: "O Allah, You are Peace and from You comes peace. Blessed are You, Lord of Majesty and Honour."³ اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ السَّلَامُ وَمِنْكَ السَّلَامُ، تَبَارَكْتَ يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ.

Allāhumma Anta-s-Salāmu wa minka-s-salām, tabārakta yā Dha-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrām.

Al-Awzā'i, one of the narrators of these hadiths, was asked: "How is the asking for forgiveness?" He replied: "I ask Allah for forgiveness, I ask Allah for forgiveness."

أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ.

Astaghfiru-llāh, astaghfiru-llāh.

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from al-Mughīrah ibn Shu'bah ؓ, that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had completed his ṣalāh and invoked salutations [upon himself] he would say: "There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, and He has

1 At-Tirmidhī (3494), al-Futūḥāt (3/30), and an-Nasā'i (108) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan gharīb hadith. Ibn Hajar says that at-Tirmidhī's statement needs looking into as the chain has some defects, among them the break between Ibn Thābit and Abū Umāmah, the 'an'ānah of Ibn Jurayj from Ibn Thābit and its irregularity (shudhūdh). Ibn Hajar goes on to say that it is ṣaḥīḥ, with witnessed narrations for the first part of the hadith.

2 Al-Bukhārī (841) and Muslim (583).

3 Muslim (591), Abū Dāwūd (1513), at-Tirmidhī (300), and an-Nasā'i (3/68).

power over all things. O Allah, none can withhold what You have granted and none can grant what You withhold; and the riches of the rich do not avail him against You.”¹

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ،
اللَّهُمَّ لَا مَانِعَ لِمَا أَعْطَيْتَ، وَلَا مُعْطِيَ لِمَا مَنَعْتَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa ‘alā kulli shay’in qadīr, Allāhumma lā māni’a li-mā a’ṭayt, wa lā mu’ṭiya li-mā mana’ta, wa lā yanfa’u dha-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from ‘Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr ؓ who used to say after every ṣalāh, after pronouncing the salām: “There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, and He has power over all things. There is no power and no strength except with Allah. There is no god but Allah and we worship none but Him. To Him belongs grace and to Him belongs bounteousness and to Him belongs noble praise. There is no god but Allah. We shall fulfil our religion sincerely for Him, even if the disbelievers dislike it.” Ibn az-Zubayr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to glorify Allah with these words after the ṣalāh.²

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ،
لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَلَا نَعْبُدُ إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ، لَهُ النِّعْمَةُ وَلَهُ الْفَضْلُ،
وَلَهُ الثَّنَاءُ الْحَسَنُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ وَلَوْ كَرِهَ الْكَافِرُونَ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa ‘alā kulli shay’in qadīr, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh, lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa lā na’budu illā iyyāh, lahu-n-ni’matu wa lahu-l-faḍl, wa lahu-th-thanā’u-l-ḥasan, lā ilāha illa-llāhu mukhliṣīna lahu-d-dīna wa law kariha-l-kāfirūn.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ that the poor Muhājirūn came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: “The men of wealth have taken the high ranks and the everlasting bounties. They pray as we pray, they fast as we fast, they have their excess wealth with which they perform Hajj and ‘Umrah, and they strive for the Cause of Allah and give charity.” He replied: “Should I not teach you something that will enable you to catch up with those who have surpassed you and make you surpass those who are behind you, so that no-one will be better than you except for those who do the same as you do?” They said: “Yes, Messenger of Allah.” He said: “Glorify Allah, praise Allah and magnify Allah thirty-three times after every ṣalāh.” Abū Ṣāliḥ, the narrator of the hadith, reported that when Abū Hurayrah ؓ was asked how this should be done he said: “Say: Glory be to Allah, Praise be to Allah, and Allah is Greatest, until each of them has been said thirty-three times.”¹ The word ad-duthur is the plural of dathr with fathah on the letter dāl and sukūn on the letter thā, which means ‘abundance’.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (844), Muslim (593), Abū Dāwūd (1505), and an-Nasā’ī (3/70) in al-Mujtabā and (129) in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

² Muslim (594), Abū Dāwūd (1506), and an-Nasā’ī (3/75) in al-Mujtabā and (155) in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subhāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa-llāhu akbar.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The tasbīḥs said sequentially are such that no-one who says them after every farḍ ṣalāh will be disappointed: thirty-three times tasbīḥ, thirty three times taḥmīd and thirty-four times takbīr.”²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever glorifies Allah thirty-three times after every ṣalāh, praises Allah thirty-three times and magnifies Allah thirty-three times and says, to finish, one hundred times There is no god but Allah. He is One and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty, to Him belongs all praise, and He has power over all things, his sins will be forgiven even if they be [as abundant] as the foam of the sea.”³

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ. الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ. اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Subhāna-llāh. Al-ḥamdu li-llāh. Allāhu akbar.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī in the first part of the Book of Jihād from Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to seek protection after ṣalāh with these words: “O Allah, I seek Your protection from cowardice, I seek Your protection from being brought back to a miserable old age, I seek Your protection from the trials of the world, and I seek Your protection from punishment in the grave.”⁴

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنِّىْ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْجُبْنِ، وَاَعُوْذُ بِكَ اَنْ اُرَدَّ اِلَى اُرْدَاىِ الْعُمْرِ،
وَاَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الدُّنْيَا، وَاَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ.

1 Al-Bukhārī (843), Muslim (595), al-Muwatta'a (1/209), and Abū Dāwūd (1504).

2 Muslim (596), at-Tirmidhī (3409), and an-Nasā'ī—(3/75) in al-Mujtabā and (155) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

3 Muslim (595).

4 Al-Bukhārī (6374), at-Tirmidhī (3562), and an-Nasā'ī—(8/266) in al-Mujtabā and (131) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. Al-Bukhārī's version has a slight addition to the wording.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-jubn, wa a'ūdhu bika an uradda ilā ardhalī-l-'umur, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnatī-d-dunyā, wa a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There are two practices (khaṣlah)—or two habits (khallah)—which, if a Muslim slave keeps to them, he will enter Paradise. They are easy but those who perform them will be few. He should glorify Allah ﷻ ten times, praise Him ten times and magnify Him ten times after every ṣalāh. That will be one hundred and fifty on the tongue and one thousand five hundred on the scales. He should magnify Allah thirty-four times and praise Allah thirty-three times and glorify Him thirty-three times when he goes to bed. That will be one hundred on the tongue and one thousand on the scales." He ﷺ said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ counting them with his hand." Those present asked: "O Messenger of Allah, how is it that they are so easy yet so few people perform them?" He said: "He (that is, Shayṭān) comes to you before you go to sleep and he puts you to sleep before you can say them; and he comes to you in your ṣalāh and he reminds you of your needs before you can say them."¹ The isnād of this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ except that 'Atā' ibn as-Sayyib is in it, and there is disagreement over him and his confusion in narrating (ikhtilāf). Ayyūb as-Sakhtiyānī has alluded to the authenticity of this narration.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and others that 'Uqbah ibn 'Āmir reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ instructed me to recite the Mu'awwidhatayn after every ṣalāh." In the narration of Abū Dāwūd it is the Mu'awwidhāt. So one ought to recite: "Say: He is Allah, One," "Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of the dawn" and "Say: I seek protection in the Lord of men."²

﴿قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ...﴾

Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās. . .

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī from Mu'adh ibn Jabal reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took him by the hand and said: "Mu'adh, by Allah, I love you. So do not neglect to say after every ṣalāh: O Allah, assist me in remembering You and in thanking You and in goodly worship of You."³

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5065), at-Tirmidhī (3407), an-Nasā'ī (3/74), and al-Futūḥāt (1/51). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

² Abū Dāwūd (1532), at-Tirmidhī (2905), an-Nasā'ī (3/68), and al-Futūḥāt (3/53). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

³ Abū Dāwūd (1522), al-Futūḥāt (3/55), and an-Nasā'ī: (3/53) in al-Mujtabā and (109) in ʿAmal al-yawm اللَّهُمَّ أَعِنِّي عَلَى ذِكْرِكَ وَشُكْرِكَ وَحُسْنِ عِبَادَتِكَ.

Allāhumma a'inni 'alā dhikrika wa shukrika wa ḥusni 'ibādatik.

And we relate from the Kitāb of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ؓ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ completed the ṣalāh he wiped his face with his right hand and said: "I bear witness that there is no god beside Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. O Allah, remove worry and grief from me."¹ أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الرَّحْمَنُ الرَّحِيمُ، اللَّهُمَّ أَذْهَبْ عَنِّي الْهَمَّ وَالْحُزْنَ.

Ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāhu-r-Raḥmānu-r-Raḥīm, Allāhumma adhhab 'anni-l-hamma wa-l-ḥuzn.

We relate from [Ibn as-Sunnī], from Abū Umāmah ؓ who said: "I never came near the Messenger of Allah ﷺ after an obligatory or nāfil ṣalāh without hearing him say: 'O Allah, forgive all my sins and transgressions. O Allah, invigorate me, restore me and guide me to virtuous deeds and character, for none guides to the virtue thereof and none wards off the evil thereof but You.'"² اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي ذُنُوبِي وَخَطَايَايَ كُلَّهَا، اللَّهُمَّ انْعَشْنِي وَاجْبُرْنِي وَاهْدِنِي لِصَالِحِ الْأَعْمَالِ وَالْأَخْلَاقِ، إِنَّهُ لَا يَهْدِي لِصَالِحِهَا وَلَا يَضُرُّ سَيِّئَهَا إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma-ghfir li dhunūbī wa khaṭāyāya kullahā, Allāhumma-n'ashni wa-jburnī wa-hdinī li-ṣālihi-l-a'māli wa-l-akhlāq, innahu lā yahdī li-ṣālihihā wa lā yaṣrifu sayyi'ahā illā Ant.

We relate from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ that he reported: "When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ completed his ṣalāh—I do not know whether it was before or after the salām—he used to say: 'Glorified is your Lord, the Lord of Sovereign Might, above what they ascribe to Him. And peace be on the Messengers. And praise be to Allah, Lord and Cherisher of the worlds.'"³

سُبْحَانَ رَبِّكَ رَبِّ الْعِزَّةِ عَمَّا يَصِفُونَ * وَسَلَامٌ عَلَى الْمُرْسَلِينَ * وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ

*Subḥāna Rabbika Rabbi-l-'izzati 'ammā yaṣifūn, wa salāmun
'ala-l-mursalīn, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.*

We relate from Anas ؓ that he said: "After completing ṣalāh the Prophet ﷺ used wa al-laylah. Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (110), with a slight change of wording.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (114).

³ Qur'ān 37:180–182.

to say: 'O Allah, make the best part of my lifespan the last of it, and the best of my deeds the last of them, and make the best of my days the day I meet You.'¹ اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْ خَيْرَ عُمْرِي آخِرَهُ، وَخَيْرَ عَمَلِي خَوَاتِمَهُ، وَاجْعَلْ خَيْرَ أَيَّامِي يَوْمَ أَلْقَاكَ.

Allāhumma-j'al khayra 'umuri ākhirah, wa khayra 'amali khawātimah, wa-j'al khayra ayyāmi yawma alqāk.

We relate from Abū Bakr ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said when he had finished ṣalāh: "O Allah, I seek protection in You from unbelief, poverty and punishment in the grave."² اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْكُفْرِ وَالْفَقْرِ وَعَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika mina-l-kufri wa-l-faqri wa 'adhābi-l-qabr.

We relate with a weak isnād from Fuḍālah ibn 'Ubayd ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any one of you has performed ṣalāh, let him begin by praising Allah and then praying for blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ, and then let him make du'ā for whatever he wants."³

50

ENCOURAGEMENT TO DO DHIKR OF ALLAH AFTER THE ṢALĀH OF ṢUBḤ

KNOW THAT THE most momentous time for dhikr during the day is after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ.

We relate in Anas ؓ in the book of at-Tirmidhī and elsewhere that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever performs [the ṣalāh of] Fajr in congregation, then sits and remembers Allah ﷻ until the sun rises and then performs two rak'ahs of ṣalāh, will get the reward of a Hajj and an 'Umrah which are complete, which are complete, which are complete."⁴ At-Tirmidhī described this as a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī and others that Abū Dharr reported that the

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (119).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (109) and al-Futūḥāt (3/60–61). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a ḥasan hadith reported by Aḥmad, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Abi Shaybah. It was also reported by Ibn as-Sunnī from an-Nasā'ī with his chain. It is strange that an-Nawawī references only Ibn as-Sunnī when this hadith is present in one of the well-known Sunan compilations.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (111) and al-Futūḥāt (3/62). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ṣaḥīḥ.

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (586) and al-Futūḥāt (3/64). This hadith is gharīb, as Ibn Ḥajar states. However, it is strengthened by its supporting narrations.

Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says ten times, after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ, whilst sitting in the position of tashahhud and before speaking: There is no god but Allah, He is One and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, He gives life and He gives death, and He has power over all things will have ten good deeds written for him, ten of his sins will be forgiven and ten stages will be raised for him. It will be a shield for him against all repulsive things, he will be guarded from Shayṭān, and no sin will be allowed to reach him that day unless it be from assigning partners to Allah ﷻ." At-Tirmidhī declared this to be a ḥasan hadith and in some texts ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ،
يُحْيِي وَيُمِيتُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, yuhyī wa yumīt, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, from Muslim ibn al-Ḥārith at-Tamīmī ؓ, a Companion, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ secretly told him: "When you end the ṣalāh of Maghrib say: 'O Allah protect me from Hell-Fire,' seven times. If you say that and then die during the night, it will be a protection for you from [Hell-Fire]. And after praying Ṣubḥ say the same. If you die on that day, it will be a protection for you from [Hell-Fire]."² اللَّهُمَّ أَجِرْنِي مِنَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma ajirni mina-n-nār.

We relate in the Musnad of Imam Aḥmad, the Sunan of Ibn Mājah and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Umm Salamah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had prayed Ṣubḥ he said: "O Allah, I ask You for beneficial knowledge, acceptable deeds and goodly sustenance."³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ عِلْمًا نَافِعًا، وَعَمَلًا مُتَقَبَّلًا، وَرِزْقًا طَيِّبًا.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka 'ilman nāfi'ā, wa 'amalan mutaqabbalan, wa rizqan ṭayyibā.

And we relate from Ṣuhayb ؓ who said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to move his lips to say something after the ṣalāh of Fajr. I asked: 'O Messenger of Allah, what

1 At-Tirmidhī (3470), who also states that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ gharīb hadith. It was also graded as ḥasan by Ibn Ḥajar owing to its narrations by witnesses.

2 Abū Dāwūd (5079). Ibn Ḥajar states that it is ḥasan.

3 Al-Musnad (6/294), Ibn Mājah (925), Ibn as-Sunnī (108), and an-Nasā'ī (102) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan by virtue of its supporting narrations.

is this that you are saying?' He replied: 'O Allah, by You I strive, by You I conquer, and by You I do battle.'¹ اللَّهُمَّ بِكَ أَحَاوِلُ، وَبِكَ أَصَاوِلُ، وَبِكَ أَقَاتِلُ.

Allāhumma bika uḥāwil, wa bika uṣāwil, wa bika uqātil.

The hadiths for the occasions that I have mentioned are many. They will be related in the chapter on the adhkār to say at the beginning of the day, if Allah wills.

We relate from Abū Muḥammad al-Baghāwī who said in Sharḥ al-Sunnah: "Alqamah ibn Qays said: 'It has reached us that the earth cries out to Allah vociferously when a learned man sleeps after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ.'" And Allah knows best.

51

WHAT TO SAY IN THE MORNING AND THE EVENING

KNOW THAT THIS chapter is very extensive and there is no lengthier chapter in this book. Allah ﷻ willing, I shall mention some concise sentences. If anyone is granted the ability and guidance to act on all of them it will be because of the favour and bounty that Allah has bestowed upon him. Congratulations to him! Anyone who is unable to act on all of them should limit themselves to what is concise, even if it be only one dhikr.

The foundation of this chapter is from the Noble Qur'ān. Allah ﷻ says: "And celebrate the praise of your Lord before the sun rises and before it sets."²

﴿وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "And celebrate the praise of your Lord in the evening and in the morning."³

﴿وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ بِالْعِشِيِّ وَالْإِبْكَرِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And remember your Lord in your soul with fear and humility, and speaking quietly, in the mornings and evenings."⁴ Linguists say that evenings (āṣāl) is the plural of aṣīl, and means the time between Aṣr and Maghrib.

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (3/71) and Ibn as-Sunnī (115), who states that this hadith is ḥasan owing to its supporting narrations.

² Qur'ān 20:130.

³ Qur'ān 40:55.

⁴ Qur'ān 7:205.

﴿وَاذْكُرْ رَبَّكَ فِي نَفْسِكَ تَضَرُّعًا وَخِيفَةً وَدُونَ الْجَهْرِ مِنَ الْقَوْلِ بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Do not send away those who call on their Lord morning and evening, seeking His Face."¹ Linguists say that evening ('ashī) is the time between the sun's declination from the meridian up until sunset.

﴿وَلَا تَطْرُدِ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ رَبَّهُمْ بِالْغَدَاةِ وَالْعَشِيِّ يُرِيدُونَ وَجْهَهُ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "In houses which Allah has allowed to be raised, in order that in them His name may be celebrated. In them is He glorified in the morning and in the evening, by men whom neither trading nor selling can distract from the remembrance of Allah."²

﴿فِي بُيُوتٍ أُذِنَ لِلَّهِ أَنْ تَرْفَعَ وَيُذْكَرَ فِيهَا اسْمُهُ يُسَبِّحُ لَهُ فِيهَا بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ * رِجَالٌ لَا تُلْهِيهِمْ تِجَارَةٌ وَلَا بَيْعٌ عَنْ ذِكْرِ اللَّهِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "We made the hills extol (Us), in unison with him, at evening and at break of day."³

﴿إِنَّا سَخَّرْنَا الْجِبَالَ مَعَهُ يُسَبِّحْنَ بِالْعَشِيِّ وَالْإِشْرَاقِ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Shaddād ibn Aws رضي الله عنه, from the Prophet ﷺ who said: "The chief formula for seeking forgiveness is: O Allah, You are my Lord; there is no god but You. You created me and I am Your slave; and I am under Your covenant and pledge [to fulfil it] to the best of my ability. I seek Your protection from the evil that I have done, acknowledging Your favour on me and admitting my sin. So forgive me, for none forgives sins but You. Whoever says it during the day and then passes away before the evening will be one of the people of Paradise. And whoever says it during the night and then passes away before the morning will be one of the people of Paradise."⁴ The meaning of 'I return' (abū'u) is 'I affirm or 'I acknowledge'.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبِّي، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، خَلَقْتَنِي وَأَنَا عَبْدُكَ، وَأَنَا عَلَى عَهْدِكَ
وَوَعْدِكَ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا صَنَعْتُ، أَبُوءُ لَكَ بِنِعْمَتِكَ
عَلَيَّ وَأَبُوءُ لَكَ بِذُنُوبِي، فَاعْفِرْ لِي، فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

*Allāhumma Anta Rabbī, lā ilāha illā Ant, khalaqtanī wa anā
'abduk, wa anā 'alā 'ahdika wa wa'dika mā'staṭa't, a'ūdhu bika min*

1 Qur'ān 6:52.

2 Qur'ān 24:36-37.

3 Qur'ān 38:18.

4 Al-Bukhārī (6306), at-Tirmidhī (3390), and an-Nasā'ī (8/279).

sharri mā šana't, abū'u laka bi-ni'matika 'alayya wa abū'u laka bi-dhambī, fa-ghfir lī, fa-innahu lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If anyone says one hundred times in the morning and in the evening: Glory be to Allah and with His praise, no-one will come up with anything better than what he has produced except for someone who has said the same as he said or added more to it." In the narration of Abū Dāwūd, it reads: Glory be to Allah the Tremendous and with His praise.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ.

Subḥāna-llāhi-l-'Aẓīmi wa bi-ḥamdih.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'i, as well as others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from 'Abdullāh ibn Khubayb ؓ who narrated: "We went out on a dark and rainy night looking for the Prophet ﷺ to lead us in ṣalāh. We found him and he said: 'Speak' but I did not say anything. Then he said: 'Speak' but I did not say anything. Then he said: 'Speak.' I asked: 'O Messenger of Allah ﷺ, what should I say?' He replied: 'Say, "Say: He is Allah, One" and the Mu'awwidhatayn (*Sūrah*s 112-114) thrice in the morning and in the evening, and they will suffice for you in everything."² According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, Ibn Mājah and others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ woke up he used to say: "O Allah, by You we have woken up in the morning and by You we have met the evening, by You we live and by You we die, and to You is the Resurrection"; and in the evening he said, "O Allah, by You we have seen evening come, by You we live and by You we die; and to You is the Resurrection."³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ بِكَ أَصْبَحْنَا، وَبِكَ أَمْسَيْنَا، وَبِكَ نَحْيَا، وَبِكَ نَمُوتُ، وَإِلَيْكَ النُّشُورُ.
اللَّهُمَّ بِكَ أَمْسَيْنَا، وَبِكَ نَحْيَا، وَبِكَ نَمُوتُ، وَإِلَيْكَ النُّشُورُ.

Allāhumma bika aṣbaḥnā, wa bika amsaynā, wa bika naḥyā, wa bika namūt, wa ilayka-n-nushūr. Allāhumma bika amsaynā, wa bika naḥyā, wa bika namūt, wa ilayka-n-nushūr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was on a journey he used to say in the last part of the night: "May a listener hear the praise of Allah and hear about His good favour towards us. O Lord, accompany us and confer Your bounty upon us. We seek the protection of Allah from Hell-Fire.”¹

¹ Muslim (2691) and Abū Dāwūd (5091).

² At-Tirmidhī (3570) and Abū Dāwūd (5082).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5068), Ibn Mājah (3868), and at-Tirmidhī (3388). Ibn Ḥajar considers this hadith to be ṣaḥīḥ gharīb.

سَمِعَ سَامِعٌ بِحَمْدِ اللَّهِ وَحُسْنِ بَلَاءِهِ عَلَيْنَا، رَبَّنَا صَاحِبِنَا، وَأَفْضَلُ عَلَيْنَا. عَائِذَا بِاللَّهِ مِنَ النَّارِ.

Samma'a sāmi'un bi-ḥamdi-llāhi wa ḥusni balā'ihī 'alaynā, Rabbanā ṣāhibnā, wa afdil 'alaynā, 'ā'idhan bi-llāhi min an-Nār.

Al-Qādi 'Iyāḍ, and the author of al-Maṭālī, and others say that samma'a with an a on a doubled mīm means: “May whoever hears convey my words to others”, exhorting them to do dhikr before dawn and to make du'a.

According to al-Khaṭṭābī and some others, the verb sami'a has an i on the un-doubled letter mīm. Imam Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī said that 'sami'a sāmi'un' ('a listener hears') means 'shahida shāhidun' ('a witness witnesses') and its real meaning is: “Let the listener listen and the onlooker witness our praise of Allah Most High for His blessing and His good favour.”

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who reported that when it became evening the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: “We have seen evening come and the Kingdom belongs to Allah this evening. Praise be to Allah. There is no god but Allah alone without partner.” The narrator said: I believe he said: “His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things. O my Lord, I ask You for the good that is in this night and the good that comes after it. O my Lord, I ask Your protection from the evil that is in this night and the evil that comes after it. I seek Your protection from laziness, senility and the harm of old age. [Lord] I seek Your protection from punishment in Hell-Fire and punishment in the grave.” When he got up in the morning he also said: “We have seen morning come, and the Kingdom belongs to Allah this morning.”²

أَمْسَيْنَا وَأَمْسَى الْمُلْكُ لِلَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ. لَهُ
الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، رَبِّ أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ مَا فِي هَذِهِ اللَّيْلَةِ
وَحَيْرَ مَا بَعْدَهَا، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا فِي هَذِهِ اللَّيْلَةِ وَشَرِّ مَا بَعْدَهَا، رَبِّ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْكَسَلِ وَسُوءِ الْكِبَرِ، رَبِّ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ النَّارِ وَعَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ.

Amsaynā wa amsā-l-mulku li-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh, wa lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in Qadīr. As'aluka khayra mā fī hādhihi-l-laylati wa khayra mā ba'dahā, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharri mā fī hādhihi-l-

¹ Muslim (2718), Abū Dāwūd (5086), and an-Nasā'ī (536) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

² Muslim (2723), Abū Dāwūd (5071), at-Tirmidhī (3387), and an-Nasā'ī (23) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

laylati wa sharri mā ba'dahā. Rabbi a'ūdhu bika min al-kasali wa sū'i-l-kibar. Rabbi a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-n-Nāri wa 'adhābi-l-qabr.

Aṣḥānā wa aṣḥā-l-mulku li-llāhi. . .

We relate from Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who narrated that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: "Messenger of Allah ﷺ, what I have endured from the scorpion that stung me yesterday!" He replied: "If you had said in the evening: I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from the evil that He created, it would not have harmed you." Muslim narrated this with a continuous chain from a hadith reported by Khawlah bint Ḥakīm ؓ. And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, who said in it: "Say three times 'I seek refuge in the perfect words of Allah from the evil He has created' and you will not be harmed."

أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا خَلَقَ.

A'ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min sharri mā khalaq.

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ؓ once said: "Messenger of Allah, instruct me with some words to say in the morning and in the evening." He ؓ replied: "Say: O Allah, Creator of the heavens and the earth, Knower of the Unseen and the Seen, Lord and Sovereign of all things, I bear witness that there is no god but You. I seek refuge with You from the evil of my soul and the evil and polytheism of Shayṭān." He continued: "Say this when you get up in the morning and in the evening and when you go to bed."² At-Tirmidhī described this as a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ فَاطِرَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ، عَالِمَ الْغَيْبِ وَالشَّهَادَةِ، رَبِّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ وَمَلِيكُهُ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ نَفْسِي وَمِنْ شَرِّ الشَّيْطَانِ وَشَرِّكِهِ.

Allāhumma Fāṭira-s-samāwāti wa-l-ard, 'Ālima-l-ghaybi wa-sh-shahāda, Rabba kulli shay'in wa Malikah, ashhadu an lā ilāha illā Ant, a'ūdhu bika min sharri nafsī wa min sharri-sh-Shayṭāni wa shirkih.

We also relate something similar from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, in the narration of Abū Mālik al-Ash'arī ؓ who related that people said: "Messenger of Allah ﷺ, teach us some words to say in the morning and in the evening when we go to bed. . ." He mentioned [what was said in the previous] hadith and added, after "his polytheism": "Or that we should inflict evil upon ourselves or bring evil upon a Muslim."³

¹ Muslim (2709).

² At-Tirmidhī (3389) in ad-Da'awāt, grading it as ṣaḥīḥ, Abū Dāwūd (5067), Ibn as-Sunnī (45), an-Nasā'ī (11), both in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah, and al-Ḥākim (1/513), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ and adh-Dhābi agrees. Ibn Ḥajar indicated that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. It is also reported by Aḥmad (1/9), ad-Dārimī (2292), Ibn Ḥibbān in Mawārid az-zamān (3349), al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad (1202), al-Futūḥāt (3/96), and others.

³ Abū Dāwūd (5083). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a gharīb hadith reported by Abū Dāwūd, whose nar-

وَأَنْ نَقْتَرِفَ سُوءًا عَلَى أَنْفُسِنَا أَوْ نَجُرَّهٖ إِلَى مُسْلِمٍ

Wa an naqtarifa sū'an 'alā anfusinā aw najurrahu ilā muslim.

His words ﴿And his polytheism﴾ (wa shirkihi) are related in two ways. The clearer and more obvious of the two is with kasrah on the letter shīn and a silent vowel on the letter rā' in the sense of 'ishrāk' (association); this means the associating others with Allah Most High which he calls one to or insinuates. The second is 'sharakihi' with fathah on the letters shīn and rā', which means 'his snares and traps' (ḥabā'ilihi wa maṣā'idīhi). The singular form is sharakah with fathah on the letters shīn and rā' and hā' as the last letter.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān ﴿who reported that the Messenger of Allah﴾ said: "If one says thrice every morning and every evening: In the name of Allah, against Whose name nothing on the earth or in the heavens can do harm; and He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing, nothing will harm him."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. The above hadith is in at-Tirmidhī's wording. Abū Dāwūd's narration reads 'and he will not be afflicted by sudden tribulation'.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الَّذِي لَا يَضُرُّ مَعَ اسْمِهِ شَيْءٌ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلَا فِي السَّمَاءِ وَهُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ

Bismi-llāhi-lladhī lā yaḍurru ma' ismihī shay'un fī-larḍi wa lā fī-s-samā'i, wa Huwa-s-Samī'u-l-'Alīm.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Thawbān ﴿reported that the Messenger of Allah﴾ said: "If a person says in the evening: I am pleased with Allah as Lord, with Islam as religion and with Muḥammad﴾ as Prophet, it will be an obligation for Allah to make him happy and pleased."² Its isnād includes Sa'īd ibn al-Marzubān Abū Sa'd al-Baqqāl—with bā'—of Kūfa, who was the freed slave of Ḥudhayfah ibn al-Yamān and who is considered a weak narrator by all the major memorisers and authorities. At-Tirmidhī, however, considered this to be a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith which is unusual in this narration; so perhaps it was ṣaḥīḥ in his view from another narration.

رَضِيتُ بِاللَّهِ رَبًّا، وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِينًا، وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ ﴿ نَبِيًّا.

rators are all trustworthy except for Muḥammad ibn Ismā'il ibn 'Ayyāsh, who was deemed a weak narrator by Abū Dāwūd. Abū Ḥātim ar-Rāzī states that he did not hear anything from his father; however, this hadith has a shāhid narration (i.e. from a witness) reported by at-Tirmidhī (3526) from Abū Rashīd al-Ḥibrānī.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5088, 5089) and at-Tirmidhī (3385), who states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ, Ibn Mājah (3869), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (15). Its chain is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ, as mentioned in al-Futūḥāt (3/99).

² Abū Dāwūd (5083) Ibn Ḥajar considered this a gharīb hadith reported by Abū Dāwūd, its narrators being trustworthy except for Muḥammad ibn Ismā'il ibn 'Ayyāsh, whom Abū Dāwūd considered weak. Abū Ḥātim ar-Rāzī said: He did not hear anything from his father; but it has a witnessed narration (shāhid) reported by at-Tirmidhī (3526) from Abū Rashīd al-Ḥibrānī.

Raḍītu bi-llāhi Rabbā, wa bi-l-Islāmi dīnā, wa bi-Muḥammadin—ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa-sallam—Nabiyyā.

Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā’ī narrated the same hadith with a good isnād from a man who served the Prophet ﷺ, from the Prophet ﷺ with the same wording. The sound basis of the hadith is thus assured, praise be to Allah.

Al-Hākim Abū ‘Abdullāh states in al-Mustadrak ‘ala-ṣ-Ṣaḥīhayn that the isnād of this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

A different version of Abū Dāwūd and others has the wording: “And with Muḥammad as Messenger”; and at-Tirmidhī’s version has “As Prophet”. It is preferable to combine the two narrations and so to say: “As Prophet and Messenger”. If one does restrict himself to only one of the narrations, he will have acted according to the hadith.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a good isnād which he did not consider weak, that Anas reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whenever a person says in the morning or the evening: O Allah, I have arisen calling on You to witness and calling on the bearers of Your Throne and Your angels and all of Your Creation to witness that You are Allah, there is no god but You, and Muḥammad is Your slave and Messenger, Allah will liberate one quarter of him from Hell-Fire. If he says it twice, Allah will liberate half of him from Hell-Fire. If he says it thrice, Allah will free three quarters of him from Hell-Fire. If he says it four times Allah will liberate all of him from Hell-Fire.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَصْبَحْتُ أَشْهَدُكَ وَأُشْهِدُ حَمَلَةَ عَرْشِكَ وَمَلَائِكَتَكَ وَجَمِيعَ
خَلْقِكَ أَنَّكَ أَنْتَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُكَ وَرَسُولُكَ.

Allāhumma innī aṣbahtu ushhiduka wa ushhidu ḥamalata ‘arshika wa malā’ikataka wa jamī’a khalqika annaka Anta-llāhu lā ilāha illā Ant, wa anna Muḥammadan ‘abduka wa Rasūluk.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a good isnād which he did not consider weak from ‘Abdallāh ibn Ghannām—with ghayn and a doubled nūn—al-Bayāḍī, a Companion, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If one says in the morning: ‘O Allah, all the favours that I have received in the morning are from You Alone; You have no partner. To You belong all praise and all thanks,’ then he has fulfilled the thanks [that are due] for that day. If he says it in the evening, then he has fulfilled the thanks [that are due] that night.”² اللَّهُمَّ مَا أَصْبَحَ بِي مِنْ نِعْمَةٍ فَمِنْكَ وَحَدِّكَ لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ، فَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ، وَلَكَ الشُّكْرُ.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5078), at-Tirmidhī (3501), an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (9), Aḥmad in al-Musnad (2/354, 522), and al-Futūḥāt (3/105). Ibn Hajar states that the description of this chain as good (jayyid) needs to be reassessed. Abū Dāwūd does not mention it, perhaps because it was reported via another route from Anas. For this reason I describe it as ḥasan.

² Abū Dāwūd (5073), and an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (7).

Allāhumma mā aṣbaḥa bī min ni'matin fa-minka waḥdaka lā sharika lak, fa-laka-l-ḥamd, wa laka-sh-shukr.

And we relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah from Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه, who said that the Prophet ﷺ never failed to say these words when he got up in the morning or in the evening: "O Allah, I ask You for well-being in this world and in the Hereafter. O Allah, I ask You for forgiveness and well-being in my religion, my worldly life, and my family and wealth. O Allah, hide my faults and grant me security from my fears. O Allah, protect me from what is in front of me and from what is behind me, and from what is to my right and my left and above me. I seek Your protection in Your Vastness from being misled from below me." According to al-Wakī, this last phrase refers to 'shame' (al-khasf). According to al-Hākim Abū 'Abdullāh, this is a hadith with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْعَافِيَةَ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْعَفْوَ
وَالْعَافِيَةَ فِي دِينِي وَدُنْيَايَ وَأَهْلِي وَمَالِي، اللَّهُمَّ اسْتُرْ عَوْرَاتِي وَآمِنْ
رَوْعَاتِي، اللَّهُمَّ احْفَظْنِي مِنْ بَيْنِ يَدَيْ وَمِنْ خَلْفِي، وَعَنْ يَمِينِي وَعَنْ
شِمَالِي، وَمِنْ فَوْقِي، وَأَعُوذُ بِعَظَمَتِكَ أَنْ أُغْتَالَ مِنْ تَحْتِي.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-'āfiyata fi-d-dunyā wa-l-ākhirah, Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-'afwa-l-'āfiyata fi dīnī wa dunyāya wa ahli wa māli, Allāhumma-stur 'awrātī wa āmin raw'ātī, Allāhumma-ḥfaznī min bayni yadayya wa min khalfī, wa 'an yamīnī wa 'an shimālī, wa min fawqī, wa a'ūdhu bi-'aẓamatika an ughtāla min taḥtī.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from 'Alī رضي الله عنه, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, when it was time to go to bed: "O Allah, I seek protection by Your Noble Countenance and by Your Perfect Words from the evil of all those whom You hold by the forelock. O Allah, You Alone remove debt and sin. O Allah, Your army is not defeated and Your promise is never broken. The power of the mighty does not avail him against You. Glory be to You, Allah, and to You belongs all praise."²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِوَجْهِكَ الْكَرِيمِ وَكَلِمَاتِكَ التَّامَّةِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا أَنْتَ آخِذٌ

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5074), Ibn Mājah (3871), al-Futūḥāt (3/109), and al-Hākim in al-Mustadrak (1/517), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees. Ibn Hajar states that this is ḥasan gharīb hadith which we only know from the hadith of 'Ubādah ibn Muslim. He also says that the statement of an-Nawawī that it was reported with a number of ṣaḥīḥ chains, gives the impression that it has a number of routes of transmission (ṭuruq) from Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه, which is not the case.

² Abū Dāwūd (5052), al-Futūḥāt (3/112), and an-Nasā'ī in as-Sunan al-kubrā. Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is ḥasan; its chain contains two defects, which bring it below the level of ṣaḥīḥ.

بِنَاصِيَّتِهِ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ تَكْشِفُ الْمَغْرَمَ وَالْمَأْتَمَ، اللَّهُمَّ لَا يُهْزَمُ جُنْدُكَ، وَلَا يُخْلَفُ وَعْدُكَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ، سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bi-wajhika-l-karīmi wa kalimātika-t-tāmmati min sharri mā Anta ākhidhun bi-nāṣiyatih, Allāhumma Anta takshifu-l-maghrama wa-l-ma'tham, Allāhumma lā yuhzamu junduk, wa lā yukhlafu wa'duka, wa lā yanfa'u dha-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd. Subhānaka wa bi-ḥamdik.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah with excellent isnāds from Abū 'Ayyāsh—with a shīn—, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says in the morning: There is no god but Allah. He is One and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, and He has power over all things will receive a reward like that given for freeing a slave who is of the progeny of Ismā'il, ten good deeds will be written for him, ten of his sins will be expunged, ten stages will be raised for him and it will be a protection for him from Shayṭān until the evening. If he says it in the evening, he will have the same until the morning."

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh, Waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with an isnād that he did not consider weak, from Abū Mālik al-Ash'arī who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you get up in the morning, let him say: We have risen in the morning and the Kingdom this morning belongs to Allah, Lord of the Worlds. O Allah, I ask You for the good of this day, its victory, its assistance, its light, its blessings and its guidance. And I seek Your protection from the evil that is in it and the evil that is after it."² Then in the evening he should say the same.

أَصْبَحْنَا وَأَصْبَحَ الْمُلْكُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ هَذَا الْيَوْمِ فَتَحَهُ وَنَصْرَهُ وَنُورَهُ وَبَرَكَتَهُ وَهُدَاهُ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا فِيهِ وَشَرِّ مَا بَعْدَهُ.

Aṣbahnā wa aṣbaḥa-l-mulku li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn, Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayra hādha-l-yawmi faṭḥahu wa naṣrahu wa nūrahu wa barakatahu wa hudāh, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharri mā fihi wa sharri mā ba'dah.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakrah

1 Abū Dāwūd (5077), Ibn Mājah (3867), an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (27) and in al-Musnad (4/59), and al-Futūḥāt (3/114). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. An-Nawawī's statement that it was reported with a number of chains needs to be reassessed, since Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah both describe the chain as consisting of the same narrators from Ḥammād to the end of the chain.

2 Abū Dāwūd (5084) and al-Futūḥāt (3/115). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a gharīb hadith. An-Nawawī states that Abū Dāwūd declares it to be weak.

ﷺ, who said to his father: "Dear father, I hear you supplicating every morning: 'O Allah, give me health in my body, O Allah, give me health in my hearing, Allah, give me health in my sight. O Allah, I seek protection in You from disbelief and poverty. O Allah, I seek protection in You from punishment in the grave. There is no god but You.' You repeat it thrice in the morning and thrice in the evening." He said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ making these supplications and I love to follow his Sunnah."¹

اللَّهُمَّ عَافِنِي فِي بَدَنِي، اللَّهُمَّ عَافِنِي فِي سَمْعِي، اللَّهُمَّ عَافِنِي فِي بَصَرِي، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي
أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْكُفْرِ وَالْفَقْرِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma 'āfinī fī badanī, Allāhumma 'āfinī fī sam'ī, Allāhumma
'āfinī fī baṣarī, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-kufri wa-l-faqr, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr, lā ilāha illā Ant.

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ who said: "Whoever says in the morning: 'So glory be to Allah when you reach evening and when you rise in the morning; and to Him be praise, in the heavens and on Earth, and at eventide and at noontide. He brings out the living from the dead, and brings out the dead from the living. And He gives life to the earth after it is dead; and thus shall you be brought back out [from the dead]'² will attain what he may have lost in that day. Whoever says it in the evening will attain all that he may have missed that night."³ Abū Dāwūd did not consider the narration weak but al-Bukhārī did so in his Tārīkh as well as in his book Kitāb aḍ-ḍu'afā.

﴿فَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ حِينَ تُمْسُونَ وَحِينَ تُصْبِحُونَ * وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضِ وَعَشِيًّا وَحِينَ تُظْهِرُونَ * يُخْرِجُ الْحَيَّ مِنَ الْمَيِّتِ وَيُخْرِجُ
الْمَيِّتَ مِنَ الْحَيِّ وَيُحْيِي الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا * وَكَذَلِكَ تُخْرَجُونَ﴾

Fa-Subḥāna-llāhi hīna tumsūna wa hīna tuṣbiḥūn, wa lahu-l-ḥamdu fi-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍi wa 'ashiyyan wa hīna tuẓhirūn, yukhrijul-ḥayya min al-mayyiti wa yukhriju-l-mayyita mina-l-ḥayyi wa yuḥyi-l-arḍa ba'da mawtihā, wa kadhālika tukhrajūn.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd who reported that one of the daughters ؓ of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said that the Prophet ﷺ taught them: "Say when you get up in the morning: Glory be to Allah and with His praise. There is no power and no strength except with Allah. What Allah wills shall be and what He does not will shall not be. I know that Allah has power over all things and that Allah encompasses everything in ¹ Abū Dāwūd (5090), an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (22), and Ibn as-Sunnī (79). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

² Qur'ān 30:17-19.

³ Abū Dāwūd (5076) and Natā'ij al-afkār (174). Ibn Hajar states that this is a gharīb hadith whose narration was deemed weak by al-Bukhārī in at-Tārīkh and aḍ-ḍu'afā.

His knowledge.¹ Whoever says this in the morning will be protected until the evening, and whoever says it in the evening will be protected until the morning.”

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَبِحَمْدِهِ، لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ، مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ كَانَ وَمَا لَمْ يَشَأْ لَمْ يَكُنْ،
أَعْلَمُ أَنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ قَدْ أَحَاطَ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عِلْمًا.

Subhāna-llāhi wa bi-ḥamdihi, lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi, Mā shā'a-llāhu kāna wa mā lam yashā' lam yakun, a'lamu anna-llāha 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr, wa anna-llāha qad aḥāṭa bi-kulli shay'in 'ilmā.

We relate again from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ۞ reported that the Messenger of Allah ۞ entered the mosque one day and found there Abū Umāmah, one of the Anṣār. He ۞ asked: “Abū Umāmah, why do I see you sitting in the mosque when it is not time for ṣalāh?” He replied: “Worries that cling to me and debts, Messenger of Allah.” He ۞ said: “Should I not teach a expression which, if you say it, will cause Allah to take away your worries and remove your debt?” He answered: “Yes, Messenger of Allah.” He said: “Say morning and evening: O Allah, I seek Your protection from worries and grief. I seek Your protection from feebleness and laziness; I seek Your protection from cowardice and avarice; and I seek Your protection from the oppression of debts and the tyranny of men.” Abū Umāmah said: “I did so, and Allah removed my worries and concerns and settled my debts.”²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْهَمِّ وَالْحُزْنِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْعَجْزِ وَالْكَسَلِ، وَأَعُوذُ
بِكَ مِنَ الْجُبْنِ وَالْبُخْلِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ غَلَبَةِ الدَّيْنِ وَقَهْرِ الرِّجَالِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-ḥammi wa-l-ḥazan, wa a'ūdhu bika min al-'ajzi wa-l-kasal, wa a'ūdhu bika min al-jubni wa-l-bukhl, wa a'ūdhu bika min ghalabati-d-dayni wa qahri-r-rijāl.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from 'Abdullāh ibn Abzī ۞, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ۞ said in the morning: “We have woken up in the natural disposition of Islam, and following words of sincerity, and in the religion of our Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ and following the way of our father Ibrāhīm ؑ, a man by nature upright and a Muslim; and who was not one of the idolaters.”¹

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5075), an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (12), Ibn as-Sunnī (46), and al-Futūḥāt (3/122). Al-Ḥāfiẓ states that this hadith is gharīb: 'Abd al-Ḥamīd, who is one of the narrators in the chain, is unknown, as is Umm 'Abd al-Ḥamīd. Ibn Ḥajar adds: “I do not know her name or circumstances, but she was probably a female Companion, as all the daughters of the Prophet ۞ died during his lifetime, except for Fāṭimah ۞, who outlived him by six months or less. It is related that she (Umm 'Abd al-Ḥamīd) served those that she reported from, but did not name them. If the narrator were other than Fāṭimah ۞ then the probability of her (being a female Companion) grows stronger; if not, then it is possible that she lived after the passing away of the Prophet ۞. But Allah knows best”. I say: “This hadith has supporting narrations (shawāhid) with the same meaning, some of which will be mentioned in this chapter.”

² Abū Dāwūd (1555) and al-Futūḥāt (3/123). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb; Ghassān ibn 'Awf is mentioned by as-Sājī and al-'Uqaylī in ad-Du'afā'. The du'ā is also narrated by witnesses, but without the story.

I say: Thus it is in [Ibn as-Sunnī’s] book “And the religion of our Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ” and this is not impossible. Perhaps he ﷺ said it aloud so that someone else could hear it and learn it. But Allah knows best.

أَصْبَحْنَا عَلَى فِطْرَةِ الْإِسْلَامِ، وَعَلَى كَلِمَةِ الْإِخْلَاصِ، وَعَلَى دِينِ
نَبِيِّنَا مُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَعَلَى مِلَّةِ أَبِيْنَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ حَنِيفًا مُسْلِمًا وَمَا أَنَا مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِينَ.

Aṣḥabnā ‘alā fiṭrati-l-Islām, wa ‘alā kalimati-l-ikhhlāṣ, wa ‘alā dīnī Nabīyyinā Muḥammadin ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallam, wa ‘alā millati abinā Ibrāhīma ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallama ḥanīfan, Musliman, wa mā kāna min al-mushrikīn.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Awfā ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in the morning: “We have woken up this morning and the Kingdom belongs to Allah this morning. Praise be to Allah. Grandeur and Majesty belong to Allah. The Creation and the Command, night and day and all that lives in them belong to Allah, Most High. O Allah, make the first part of this day righteousness, the middle of it success and the end of it prosperity, O Most Merciful of those who show mercy.”²

أَصْبَحْنَا وَأَصْبَحَ الْمُلْكُ لِلَّهِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَالْكَبْرِيَاءُ وَالْعَظَمَةُ لِلَّهِ، وَالْخَلْقُ
وَالْأَمْرُ وَاللَّيْلُ وَالنَّهَارُ وَمَا سَكَنَ فِيهِمَا لِلَّهِ تَعَالَى، اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْ أَوَّلَ هَذَا النَّهَارِ صَلَاحًا، وَأَوْسَطَهُ نَجَاحًا، وَآخِرَهُ فَلَاحًا يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

Aṣḥabnā wa aṣḥaba-l-mulku li-llāh, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh, wa-l-kibriyā’u wa-l-‘azamatu li-llāh, wa-l-khalqu wa-l-amru wa-l-laylu wa-n-nahāru wa mā sakana fihimā li-llāhi ta‘ālā. Allāhumma-j‘al awwala hādhā-n-nahāri ṣalāḥā, wa awṣaṭahu najāḥā, wa ākhirahu falāḥan yā Arḥama-r-rāḥimīn.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn as-Sunnī with an isnād that has weakness in it, from Maqāl ibn Yasār who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If anyone says thrice when he wakes up: I seek protection in Allah, the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing from Shayṭān the rejected, and then recites three verses from Sūrat al-Ḥashr, Allah will appoint seventy thousand angels to pray for him until the evening.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (33), an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa-l-laylah (1), and Aḥmad (3/406). It is graded as ḥasan by Ibn Ḥajar and as-Suyūṭī, and as ṣaḥīḥ by al-‘Irāqī in Takhrīj aḥādīth al-Iḥyā’.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (38).

If he dies that day, he will die as a *shahīd*¹. Whoever says it in the evening will also have that status [should he die].”

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ السَّمِيعِ الْعَلِيمِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi-s-Samī'i-l-'Alīmi mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Muḥammad ibn Ibrāhīm from his father ʿ who said: “The Messenger of Allah ʷ sent us out on an expedition and instructed us to recite in the morning and evening: ‘Did you suppose, then, that We had created you in jest?’² We recited it, and we won booty and were safe.”³

﴿أَفَحَسِبْتُمْ أَنَّمَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ عَبَثًا...﴾

A-fahasibtum annamā khalaqnākum 'abathan. . .

And we relate from Anas ʷ that the Messenger of Allah ʷ would say these supplications in the morning and the evening: “O Allah, I ask You for unexpected good and I seek Your protection from unexpected evil.”⁴ اللَّهُمَّ أَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ فَجَاءَةِ الْخَيْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فَجَاءَةِ الشَّرِّ.

Allāhumma as'aluka min fujā'ati-l-khayr, wa a'ūdhu bika min fujā'ati-sh-sharr.

We also relate from (the book of Ibn as-Sunnī) from Anas ʷ that the Messenger of Allah ʷ asked Fāṭimah ʷ: “What prevents you from hearing what I advise you to do? Say in the morning and in the evening: ‘O Living and Everlasting, from You I seek help. Set right all my affairs and do not entrust me to myself for the blink of an eye.’”⁵

يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّوْمُ بِكَ أَسْتَغِيْثُ فَأَصْلِحْ لِيْ شَأْنِيْ كُلَّهُ،
وَلَا تَكِلْنِيْ إِلَى نَفْسِيْ طَرْفَةَ عَيْنٍ.

Yā Hayyu yā Qayyūmu bika astaghīthu fa-aṣliḥ lī sha'nī kullah, wa lā takilnī ilā nafsī ṭarfata 'ayn.

We also relate from (the book of Ibn as-Sunnī), with an isnād that has some weak-

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2923) states that this hadith is gharīb; we only know of it by this route (wajh), Ibn as-Sunnī (79), ad-Dārimī (2/458), and Aḥmad (5/26). The chain of this hadith contains Khālid ibn Tahmān, whom al-Mundhirī describes as a truthful Shī'i; his transmission was declared to be weak by Ibn Ma'in, but is regarded as trustworthy by Abū Ḥātim. Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb (177).

² Qur'ān 23:115.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (76) and Natā'ij al-afkār (177). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb.

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (39). The author of Majma' az-zawā'id (10/115) said that this hadith was reported by Abū Ya'la. Its chain includes Yūsuf ibn 'Aṭīyyah, who is a disregarded (matrūk) narrator. Shaykh Yaḥyā al-Mullā, in his notes on the abridgement of al-Adhkār, says that as-Suyūṭī described it in al-Jāmi' aṣ-ṣaḡhīr as ḥasan.

⁵ Ibn as-Sunnī (48) and Natā'ij al-afkār (178). Al-Mundhirī states that this hadith was reported by an-Nasā'i and al-Bazzār with a ṣaḥīḥ chain, as well as by al-Ḥākim, who states that it is ṣaḥīḥ according to the criteria of al-Bukhārī and Muslim. It was also graded as ḥasan by Ibn Ḥajar.

ness, from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, who reported that a man complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that afflictions were befalling him. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ then told him: "Say in the morning: In the name of Allah over my soul, family and wealth, and nothing will be lost to you." The man said that, and his afflictions went away.¹

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ عَلَى نَفْسِي وَأَهْلِي وَمَالِي.

Bismi-llāhi 'alā nafsī wa ahlī wa mālī.

And we relate from the Sunan of Ibn Mājah, as well as from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Umm Salamah ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said in the morning: "O Allah, I ask You for beneficial knowledge, good sustenance, and good deeds that are acceptable [to You]."² اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ عِلْمًا نَافِعًا، وَرِزْقًا طَيِّبًا، وَعَمَلًا مُتَقَبَّلًا.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka 'ilman nāfi'ā, wa rizqan ṭayyibā, wa 'amalan mutaqqabalā.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If one says thrice in the morning and evening: O Allah, I have awoken having from You abundance, good health and protection; so complete that abundance, good health and protection in this world and the Hereafter, it is obligatory for Allah ﷻ to complete it for him."³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَصْبَحْتُ مِنْكَ فِي نِعْمَةٍ وَعَافِيَةٍ وَسِتْرٍ، فَأَتِمَّ نِعْمَتَكَ عَلَيَّ وَعَافِيَتَكَ وَسِتْرَكَ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ.

Allāhumma innī aṣbahtu minka fī ni'matin wa 'āfiyatin wa sitr fa-atimma ni'mataka 'alayya wa 'āfiyataka wa sitraka fī-d-dunyā wa-l-ākhirah.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn as-Sunnī from az-Zubayr ibn al-'Awām ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no morning on which [Allah's] servants wake up without a caller calling out 'Glory to the All-Holy King.'" According to another report from Ibn as-Sunnī it is said: "without an announcer announcing: 'Glory to the All-Holy King.'"⁴ سُبْحَانَ الْمَلِكِ الْقُدُّوسِ.

Subhāna-l-Maliki-l-Quddūs.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (50).

² Ibn Mājah (925) and Ibn as-Sunnī from the client (mawlā) of Umm Salamah. In az-Zawā'id it is mentioned that all the narrators of the chain are trustworthy except for the mawlā of Umm Salamah, who did not hear the hadith herself. I have not seen anyone who has written regarding unknown narrators mention him, so his trustworthiness is not known.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (54), Aḥmad (3/406), and ad-Dārimī (2/262).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (62) and at-Tirmidhī (3564), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Buraydah رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says morning and evening: My Lord is Allah; I rely on Him. There is no god but Him; on Him I rely, and He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but Allah, the Most High, the Mighty. What Allah wills shall be and whatever He does not will shall not. I know that Allah has power over all things and that Allah encompasses everything with His knowledge, and then passes away will enter Paradise."¹

رَبِّيَ اللَّهُ، تَوَكَّلْتُ عَلَيْهِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ، عَلَيْهِ تَوَكَّلْتُ، وَهُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ،
لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْعَلِيُّ الْعَظِيمُ. مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ كَانَ وَمَا لَمْ يَشَأْ لَمْ يَكُنْ، أَعْلَمُ
أَنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ قَدْ أَحَاطَ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عِلْمًا.

Rabbiyya-llāhu, tawakkaltu 'alayh, lā ilāha illā Hū, 'alayhi tawakkalt, wa Huwa Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'azīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-'Aliyyu-l-'Azīm. Mā shā'a-llāhu kāna wa mā lam yashā' lam yakun, a'lamu anna-llāha 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr, wa anna-llāha qad aḥāṭa bi-kulli shay'in 'ilmā.

We relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked: "Are any of you unable to be like Abū Ḍamḍam?" They asked: "Who is Abū Ḍamḍam, Messenger of Allah?" He replied: "He used to say in the morning: 'O Allah, I have given myself and my honour to You.' So he did not curse those who cursed him; he did not wrong those who wronged him; and he did not beat those who beat him."² اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي قَدْ وَهَبْتُ نَفْسِي وَعِرْضِي لَكَ.

Allāhumma innī qad wahabtu nafsī wa 'irdī lak.

And we relate from it (the book of Ibn as-Sunnī) from Abū ad-Dardā', who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever says seven times in the morning and the evening: Allah is sufficient for me, there is no god besides Him, in Him have I put my trust, and He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne, Allah will remove from him all that worries him about his affairs in this world and the Hereafter."³ حَسْبِيَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ، عَلَيْهِ تَوَكَّلْتُ وَهُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ.

Hasbiya-llāhu lā ilāha illā Hū, 'alayhi tawakkaltu wa Huwa Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'azīm.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (42) and Natā'ij al-afkār (179). Ibn Hajar states that all of the narrators of this hadith are trustworthy except for 'Alī ibn Qadīm and Ja'far al-Aḥmar, whose transmissions are weak because they are Shī'ī.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (64) from Anas and Natā'ij al-afkār (176). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharīb.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (70) and Abū Dāwūd (5081) in a mawqūf form to Abū ad-Dardā'. The text contains some gharābah (rarity).

And we relate from the books of at-Tirmidhī and of Ibn as-Sunnī with a weak isnād, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites [Sūrah] Hā Mīm al-Mu'min up to He is the final destination and the Verse of the Throne in the morning will be protected by them until the evening. Whoever recites them in the evening will be protected by them until morning."¹

"Hā Mīm. The revelation of the Book is from Allah, the Powerful, the All-Knowing, the Forgiver of Sin, Acceptor of Repentance, Severe in Punishment, and All-Bountiful. There is no god but He; to Him is the final return."²

﴿حَمَّ * تَنْزِيلُ الْكِتَابِ مِنَ اللَّهِ الْعَزِيزِ الْعَلِيمِ * غَافِرِ الذَّنْبِ وَقَابِلِ
التَّوْبِ شَدِيدِ الْعِقَابِ ذِي الطَّوْلِ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ إِلَيْهِ الْمَصِيرُ﴾

Hā Mīm. Tanzīlu-l-Kitābi mina-llāhi-l-'Azīzi-l-'Alīm, Ghāfiri-dh-dhanbi wa Qābili-t-tawb, Shadīdi-l-'iqābi Dhi-ṭ-ṭawl, lā ilāha illā Hū, ilayhi-l-maṣīr.

"Allah! There is no god but He, the Ever-Living, the Self-Subsisting. No slumber can seize Him, nor sleep. His are all things in the heavens and on Earth. Who can intercede in His presence except as He permits? He knows what is before or behind them; nor shall they compass any of His knowledge except as He wills. His Throne extends over the heavens and the earth, and He feels no fatigue in guarding and preserving them, for He is the Most High, the Supreme."³

﴿اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ لَا تَأْخُذُهُ سِنَّةٌ وَلَا نَوْمٌ لَهُ مَا فِي
السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ مَنْ ذَا الَّذِي يَشْفَعُ عِنْدَهُ إِلَّا بِإِذْنِهِ يَعْلَمُ مَا
بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ وَلَا يُحِيطُونَ بِشَيْءٍ مِّنْ عِلْمِهِ إِلَّا بِمَا شَاءَ وَسِعَ
كُرْسِيُّهُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ وَلَا يَئُودُهُ حِفْظُهُمَا وَهُوَ الْعَلِيُّ الْعَظِيمُ﴾

*Allāhu lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Hayyu-l-Qayyūm, lā ta'khudhuhu sinatun wa lā nawm, lahū mā fī-s-samāwāti wa mā fī-l-arḍ, man dhā'lladhī yashfa'u
'indahū illā bi-idhnih, ya'lamu mā bayna aydihim wa mā khalfahum, wa lā yuḥīṭūna bi-shay'im-min 'ilmihī illā bi-mā shā', wasi'a kursiyyuhu-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍ, wa lā ya'ūduhu ḥifẓuhumā, wa Huwa-l-'Alīyyu-l-'Azīm.*

That is the sum of the hadiths which we intended to mention. It is sufficient for anyone to whom Allah ﷻ gives the capacity. We ask Allah the Exalted for the ability to practice it and all the ways of goodness.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, from Talq ibn Ḥabīb ؓ who narrated that a man came to Abū ad-Dardā' ؓ and said: "Abū ad-Dardā', your house has burnt down." He replied: "It has not burnt down. Allah ﷻ will not do that, because of the words that I heard from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Whoever says them in the morning will be safe from calamity until the evening, and whoever says them in the evening will be safe from calamity until the morning: Allah, You are my Lord. There is no god but You. In You I do trust and You are the Lord of the Mighty Throne. What Allah wills shall be, and what He does not will shall not. There is no power or strength but by Allah, the Most High, the Mighty. I know that Allah has power over all things and that He encompasses everything with His knowledge. O Allah, I seek protection with You from the evil of my soul and from the evil of every beast that You hold by the forelock. Verily my Lord is on a straight path.”¹

1 At-Tirmidhī (2882) and Ibn as-Sunnī (75). At-Tirmidhī states that this hadith is gharīb.

2 Qur'ān 40:1-3.

3 Qur'ān 2:255.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبِّي، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، عَلَيْكَ تَوَكَّلْتُ، وَأَنْتَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، مَا شَاءَ
اللَّهُ كَانَ وَمَا لَمْ يَشَأْ لَمْ يَكُنْ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَلِيِّ الْعَظِيمِ، أَعْلَمُ أَنَّ
اللَّهَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ قَدْ أَحَاطَ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عِلْمًا، اللَّهُمَّ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ
شَرِّ نَفْسِي وَمِنْ شَرِّ كُلِّ دَابَّةٍ أَنْتَ آخِذٌ بِنَاصِيَتِهَا، إِنَّ رَبِّي عَلَى صِرَاطٍ مُسْتَقِيمٍ.

Allāhumma Anta Rabbī, lā ilāha illā Ant, 'alayka tawakkalt, wa Anta Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'azīm, mā shā'a-llāhu kāna wa mā lam yashā' lam yakun, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-'Alīyyi-l-'Azīm. A'lamu annallāha 'alā kulli shay'in Qadīr, wa anna-llāha qad aḥāṭa bi-kulli shay'in
'ilmā. Allāhumma a'ūdhu bika min nafsī wa min sharri kulli dabbatin Anta ākhidhun bi-nāṣiyātihā, inna Rabbī 'alā ṣirāṭim-mustaqīm.

This has also been reported concerning one of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ besides Abū ad-Dardā' ؓ. A person came to him repeatedly and said: "Go to your house, for it has burnt down." He repeated: "It has not burnt down, because I heard the Messenger ﷺ say: "Nothing will happen to anyone who says in the morning (and he mentioned the above words), or to his family or his wealth that will displease him.' I have said that today." Then he said: "Come with us." He stood up and they stood up with him. They went to his house, and everything around it had burned down but nothing had happened to it.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (56) from Abū ad-Dardā' and (57) from a male Companion of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Al-'Irāqī states in his Takhrij aḥādīth al-Iḥyā' that this hadith is recorded by aṭ-Ṭabarānī with a weak chain.

WHAT TO SAY ON FRIDAY MORNINGS

KNOW THAT ANYTHING that is said on days other than Friday should also be said on Friday. It is mustahabb to perform more dhikr on Friday and to increase in praying for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a person says thrice on Friday morning before the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh: I ask forgiveness of Allah, besides Whom there is no god, the Living, the Self-Subsisting, and I repent to Him, Allah will forgive his sins even if they be as abundant as the foam of the sea."¹ أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْهِ.

Astaghfiru-llāha-lladhī lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Ḥayyu-l-Qayyūmu wa atūbu ilayh.

It is mustahabb to make du‘ā in abundance all day on Friday, from the breaking of the dawn until the setting of the sun, hoping to coincide with the moment of acceptance. There are different opinions about this. Some say it is after the break of dawn and before sunrise, some say it is after sunrise, some say it is after midday, some say it is after ‘Aṣr, and some have other opinions. The most correct view, or rather the correct view—no other one being acceptable—is that which is expressed in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim² on the authority of Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī: that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said that it is between the time the Imam sits on the minbar and the time he says the salām to end the ṣalāh.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN THE SUN HAS RISEN

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a weak isnād from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī ﷺ who reported that when the sun rose the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "Praise be to Allah, Who has covered us today with well-being from Him and brought the sun from its rising-place. O Allah, I have woken up bearing witness to You with what ¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (82). Its chain is very weak, as it includes Ishāq ibn Khālid, who narrated from ‘Abd al-‘Azīz ibn ‘Abdullāh, who narrated from Khusayf from Anas. There is a difference of opinion regarding Khusayf, who did not hear this hadith from Anas. ‘Abd al-‘Azīz was accused by Aḥmad of lying. As for Ishāq, Ibn ‘Adī claims that he narrated munkar hadiths. See Ibn Ḥajar’s Natā’ij al-afkār (187).

² Muslim (853).

You bear witness to Yourself, and what Your angels, the bearers of Your Throne, and all Your Creation bear witness to. Verily You are Allah. There is no god but You, Upright in justice. There is no god but You, the Mighty, the Wise. Write down my testimony after the testimony of the angels and the people of knowledge. O Allah, You are Peace and from You is peace and to You does peace return. I ask You, the Owner of majesty, bounty and honour, to answer our prayer, to grant us what we wish for, and to favour us with that with which You have favoured Your Creation. O Allah, correct for me my religion, in which is the preservation of my affairs, and improve for me my worldly life, in which is my existence, and improve for me my Hereafter, to which is my return.”¹

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي جَلَّلَنَا الْيَوْمَ عَافِيَتَهُ، وَجَاءَ بِالشَّمْسِ مِنْ مَطْلَعِهَا، اللَّهُمَّ أَصْبَحْتُ أَشْهَدُ
لَكَ بِمَا شَهِدْتَ بِهِ لِنَفْسِكَ، وَشَهِدْتَ بِهِ مَلَائِكَتُكَ وَحَمَلَةُ عَرْشِكَ وَجَمِيعُ خَلْقِكَ: أَنَّكَ
أَنْتَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ الْقَائِمُ بِالْقِسْطِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ، اكْتُبْ شَهَادَتِي
بَعْدَ شَهَادَةِ الْمَلَائِكَةِ وَأُولِي الْعِلْمِ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ السَّلَامُ وَمِنْكَ السَّلَامُ، وَإِلَيْكَ السَّلَامُ،
أَسْأَلُكَ يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ أَنْ تَسْتَجِيبَ لَنَا دَعْوَتَنَا، وَأَنْ تُعْطِيََنَا رَغْبَتَنَا، وَأَنْ تُغْنِيَنَا
عَمَّنْ أَغْنَيْتَهُ عَنَّا مِنْ خَلْقِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ أَصْلِحْ لِي دِينِي الَّذِي هُوَ عِصْمَةُ أَمْرِي، وَأَصْلِحْ
لِي دُنْيَايَ الَّتِي فِيهَا مَعِيشَتِي، وَأَصْلِحْ لِي آخِرَتِي الَّتِي إِلَيْهَا مُنْقَلَبِي.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī jallala lana-l-yawma ‘āfiyatah, wa jā’a bi-sh-shamsi min maṭla’ihā, Allāhumma aṣbaḥtu ashhadu laka bimā shahidta bihi li-naṣfika, wa shahidat bihi malā’ikatuka wa ḥamalatu ‘arshika wa jamī’u khalqik: annaka Anta-llāhu lā ilāha illā Anta-l-Qā’imu bi-l-qisṭ, lā ilāha illā Anta-l-‘Azīzu-l-Ḥākīm, uktub shahādātī ba’dā shahāhati-l-malā’ikati wa ūli-l-‘ilm, Allāhumma Anta-s-Salāmu wa minka-s-salām, wa ilayka-s-salām, aṣ’aluka yā Dha-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrāmi an tastajiba lanā da’watanā, wa an tu’ṭiyanā raghbatanā, wa an tughniyanā ‘amman aghnaytahu ‘annā min khalqik, Allāhumma aṣliḥ lī dīniyya-lladhī Huwa ‘iṣmatu amrī, wa aṣliḥ lī dunyāya-llatī fihā ma’ishatī, wa aṣliḥ lī ākhiratiyya-llatī ilayhi munqalabī.

And we relate that ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas’ūd ؓ appointed someone to look out for the sunrise for him. When he was informed that the sun had risen he said: “Praise be to Allah, Who has granted us this day and in it has waived our offences.”² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي وَهَبَ لَنَا هَذَا الْيَوْمَ وَأَقَالَنا فِيهِ عَثْرَاتِنَا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī wahaḥa lanā hādha-l-yawma wa aqālanā fihi ‘atharātina.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (146).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (148).

WHAT TO SAY AFTER THE SUN HAS RISEN

we relate from the Book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Amr ibn 'Abasah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When the sun rises, there is none of the Creation of Allah ﷻ that does not hymn the glory of Allah ﷻ and praise Him, except for Shayṭān and the arrogant sons of Adam." He was asked about arrogant humans and he said: "The worst of Creation."¹

WHAT TO SAY BETWEEN MIDDAY AND 'AṢR

WE HAVE ALREADY discussed what one should say when dressing, leaving the house, entering and leaving the lavatory; when performing ablution, going to the mosque, reaching the door and entering it; when hearing the mu'adhdhin and the muqīm; what to say between the adhān and iqāmah; what to say when intending to stand up for ṣalāh; and what to say in ṣalāh from beginning to end; and what to say after it. These are the same for all of the ṣalawāt.

It is mustaḥabb to perform dhikr and other acts of worship in abundance after the sun has passed its zenith.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Abdullāh ibn as-Sā'ib ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to perform four rak'ahs after midday before Zuhr, and that he said: "It is the hour in which the doors of the heavens are opened, so I like good deeds to ascend for me during it."² At-Tirmidhī described this as a ḥasan hadith.

It is mustaḥabb to perform much dhikr after one's usual acts of worship after Zuhr. That is the general meaning of the saying of Allah: "And celebrate the praises of your Lord in the evening and in the morning."³

﴿وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ بِالْعِشِيِّ وَالْإِبْكَارِ﴾

Wa sabbiḥ bi-ḥamdi Rabbika bi-l-'ashiyyi wa-l-ibkār.

Linguists say that al-'ashiyy ('the evening') denotes the time between midday

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (149).

² At-Tirmidhī (478), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb. It is also graded as ḥasan by Ibn Hajar.

³ Qur'ān 40:55.

and the setting of the sun. Imam Abū Maṣṣūr al-Azhārī¹ said: "Evening (al-‘ashiyy), according to the Arabs, is the time from when the sun passes its zenith until it sets."

56

WHAT TO SAY BETWEEN ‘AṢR AND SUNSET

WE HAVE ALREADY discussed what one should say after Zuhr and similarly after ‘Aṣr. It is mustaḥabb to perform abundant dhikr after ‘Aṣr. This is more emphasised because it is ‘the middle ṣalāh’ [referred to in Qur’ān] according to some groups of earlier and later ‘ulamā’. Likewise, it is mustaḥabb to take more care to perform dhikr after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ. It is these two prayers which are most soundly said to be ‘the middle ṣalāh’. It is mustaḥabb to do a great deal of dhikr after ‘Aṣr and even more towards the end of the day.

Allah ﷻ says: "And celebrate the praises of your Lord before the rising of the sun and before its setting."²

﴿وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا﴾

Wa sabbiḥ bi-ḥamdi Rabbika qabla ṭulū‘i-sh-shamsi wa qabla ghurūbihā.

Allah ﷻ also says: "And celebrate the praises of your Lord in the evening and in the morning."³

﴿وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ بِالْعِشِيِّ وَالْإِبْكَارِ﴾

Wa sabbiḥ bi-ḥamdi Rabbika bi-l-‘ashiyyi wa-l-ibkār.

Allah ﷻ also says: "And remember your Lord in your soul with fear and humility, and invoke [Him] without speaking loudly, in the mornings and evenings."⁴

﴿وَاذْكُرْ رَبَّكَ فِي نَفْسِكَ تَضَرُّعًا وَخِيفَةً وَدُونَ الْجَهْرِ مِنَ الْقَوْلِ بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ﴾

Wa-dhkur Rabbaka fī nafsika taḍarru‘an wa khifatan wa dūna-l-jahri mina-l-qawli bi-l-ghuduwwi wa-l-āṣāl.

¹ Al-I‘lām (5/311). Al-Azhārī is the shortened name for Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn al-Azhar al-Harawī, also known as Abū Maṣṣūr, who was a leading scholar (Imam) of Arabic language and literature. He died in 370/980–1.

² Qur’ān 20:130.

³ Qur’ān 40:55.

⁴ Qur’ān 7:205.

Allah ﷻ says: "In... which He is glorified in the mornings and in the evenings, by men whom neither trade nor sale can divert from the remembrance of Allah."¹

﴿يُسَبِّحُ لَهُ فِيهَا بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْآصَالِ * رَجَالٌ لَا تُلْهِيمُهُمْ تِجَارَةً وَلَا بَيْعٌ عَنْ ذِكْرِ اللَّهِ﴾

Yusabbiḥu lahū fihā bi-l-ghuduwwi wa-l-āṣāli rijālun lā tulhīhim tijāratun wa lā bay'un 'an dhikri-llāh.

We have seen previously that 'evening' (āṣāl) is the time between 'Aṣr and Maghrib.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a weak isnād from Anas ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "To sit with people who remember Allah ﷻ from the ṣalāh of 'Aṣr until sunset is something dearer to me than freeing eight children of Ismā'il."²

57

WHAT TO SAY UPON HEARING THE ADHĀN OF MAGHRIB

WE HAVE RELATED from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, from Umm Salamah ؓ, who reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught me to say at the time of the adhān of Maghrib: O Allah, this is the approach of Your night, the retreat of Your day and the time when voices call out to You, so forgive me."³ اَللّٰهُمَّ هَذَا اِقْبَالُ لَيْلِكَ وَاِدْبَارُ نَهَارِكَ وَاَصْوَاتُ دُعَاتِكَ.. اِغْفِرْ لِي.

Allāhumma hādhā iqbālu laylika wa idbāru nahārika wa aṣwātu du'ātik, ighfir li.

58

WHAT TO SAY AFTER THE ṢALĀH OF MAGHRIB

WE HAVE ALREADY mentioned what should be said after every ṣalāh. It is mustaḥabb to add to this, and say the following after the Sunnah prayers of Maghrib.

¹ Qur'ān 24:36.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (675).

³ Abū Dāwūd (530) and at-Tirmidhī (3583).

Kitāb al-Adhkār

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Umm Salamah ؓ, who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed the ṣalāh of Maghrib he would enter her house, pray two rak'ahs and say, among other words he supplicated with: "O Turner of hearts and eyesight, make our hearts firm in Your religion."¹ يَا مُقَلِّبَ الْقُلُوبِ ثَبِّتْ قُلُوبَنَا عَلَى دِينِكَ.

Yā Muqalliba-l-qulūbi thabbit qulūbanā 'alā dīnik.

And we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī, from 'Ammār ibn Shabīb ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a person says ten times after the setting of the sun: There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise. He gives life and causes death and He has power over all things, Allah will appoint guards for him who will protect him from Shayṭān until he gets up in the morning. Allah will also record for him ten accepted good deeds and expiate ten mortal sins; and he will get the reward due for freeing ten believing slaves."² At-Tirmidhī commented: We do not know of 'Ammār ibn Shabīb having listened to the Prophet ﷺ.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ،

يُحْيِي وَيُمِيتُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulku wa lahu-l-ḥamd, yuḥyī wa yumīt, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

I say: an-Nasā'ī has narrated in his book 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah from two chains. One of them is the hadith as mentioned above and the second is from 'Ammār from a man of the Anṣār. According to the Ḥāfiẓ [Ibn al-Ḥajar], the second of the narrations is the more correct.

I say: here the word 'guards' (maslahatan), with fathah on the letter mīm, sukūn on the letter sīn and fathah on the letters lām and hā', means 'guardians' or 'protectors' (al-ḥarasa).

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (663) and Natā'ij al-afkār (186). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith was reported by Ibn as-Sunnī via Sa'd ibn as-Salt, who narrated it from 'Aṭā ibn 'Ajlān. 'Aṭā has been declared to be a liar. However, I have found this hadith with a ḥasan chain which leads back to Umm Salamah, without a date.

² At-Tirmidhī (3528), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb. We know only it from the hadith of al-Layth ibn Sa'd, and we do not know of 'Ammār ibn Shabīb having heard it from the Prophet ﷺ. Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

WHAT TO RECITE IN AND AFTER THE ṢALĀH OF WITR

IT IS SUNNAH for a person performing Witr with three rak'ahs to recite in the first, after al-Fātiḥah, Sabbiḥi-sma Rabbika-l-A'lā ("Glorify the name of your Lord, the Most High"¹); in the second Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn ("Say: O you who reject faith"²); and in the third Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad ("Say: He is Allah, One"³) and the Mu'awwidhatayn. If he forgets to recite Sabbiḥi-sma Rabbika-l-A'lā, he should recite it with Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn in the second. Likewise, if he forgets to recite Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn in the second, he should recite it in the third together with Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad and the Mu'awwidhatayn.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, from Ubayy ibn Ka'b ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said the salām in Witr he said: "Glory be to the King, the All-Holy,"⁴ and in the narration of an-Nasā'ī and Ibn as-Sunnī "Glory be to the King, the All-Holy" three times.

سُبْحَانَ الْمَلِكِ الْقُدُّوسِ.

Subḥāna-l-Maliki-l-Quddūs.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī from 'Alī ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say at the end of Witr: "O Allah, I seek protection in Your pleasure from Your wrath and in Your forgiveness from Your punishment. I seek protection from You in You. I cannot enumerate Your praise; You are as You have praised Yourself."⁵ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِرِضَاكَ مِنْ سَخَطِكَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِمُعَافَاتِكَ مِنْ عُقُوبَتِكَ، وَأَعُوذُ
بِكَ مِنْكَ، لَا أُحْصِي ثَنَاءً عَلَيْكَ، أَنْتَ كَمَا أَثْنَيْتَ عَلَى نَفْسِكَ

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bi-riḍāka min sakḥāṭik, wa a'ūdhu bi-mu'āfāṭika min 'uqūbatik, wa a'ūdhu bika mink, lā uḥṣī thanā'an 'alayk, Anta kamā athnayta 'alā nafsik.

1 Qur'ān 87:1.

2 Qur'ān 109:1.

3 Qur'ān 112:1.

4 Abū Dāwūd (1423) and Ibn as-Sunnī (711).

5 Abū Dāwūd (1423), at-Tirmidhī (3561), and an-Nasā'ī (3/249).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE INTENDS TO SLEEP AND IS LYING IN BED

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Truly in the creation of the heavens and the earth and the alternation of night and day there are signs for men of understanding: those who remember Allah standing, sitting, and lying on their sides."¹

﴿إِنَّ فِي خَلْقِ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَاخْتِلَافِ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ لَآيَاتٍ لِأُولِي
الْأَلْبَابِ * الَّذِينَ يَذْكُرُونَ اللَّهَ قِيَمًا وَقُعُودًا وَعَلَىٰ جُنُوبِهِمْ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ḥudhayfah ibn al-Yamān ﷺ and Abū Dharr ﷺ, who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed he would say: "In Your Name, Allah, do I live and die."² We also relate it from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, from al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib's narration ﷺ.

بِسْمِكَ اللَّهُمَّ أَحْيَا وَأَمُوتُ.

Bismika-llāhumma ahyā wa amūt.

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Alī ﷺ who said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told him and Fāṭimah: "When you retire to bed or go to sleep, say Allah is greater thirty-three times, Glory be to Allah thirty-three times, and Praise be to Allah thirty-three times." According to another report he said: "And make tasbīḥ thirty-four times" and in another "And make takbīr thirty-four times." 'Alī ﷺ said: "I have never missed it since the time I heard it from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ." "Not even on the night before the battle of Ṣiffīn?" he was asked. "Not even on the night of Ṣiffīn," he replied.³

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subḥāna-llāh, al-ḥamdu li-llāh, Allāhu akbar.

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Abū Hurayrah, ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you retires to bed, he should dust his bed off with the corner of his trousers, because he does not know what came [to it] after him. Then he should say: In Your name, my Lord, I lay down my side and by You I raise it again. If You take my soul, then have mercy on it; and if You release it, protect it by that with which You protect Your righteous slaves."⁴

¹ Qur'ān 3:190-191.

² Al-Bukhārī (6324).

³ Al-Bukhārī (6318), Muslim (2727), and Abū Dāwūd (2988).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6320), Muslim (2714), Abū Dāwūd (5050), and at-Tirmidhī (3398).

بِاسْمِكَ رَبِّي وَضَعْتُ جَنْبِي وَبِكَ أَرْفَعُهُ، إِنْ أَمْسَكَتَ نَفْسِي فَارْحَمْهَا، وَإِنْ أَرْسَلْتَهَا فَاحْفَظْهَا بِمَا تَحْفَظُ بِهِ الصَّالِحِينَ.

Bismika Rabbī waḍa'tu jambī wa bika arfa'uh, in amsakta nafsī farhamhā, wa in arsaltahā fa-hfazhā bimā tahfazū bihi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

And we relate from the two Ṣaḥīḥs, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed he blew onto his hands, recited al-Mu'awwidhāt, and passed them over his body.¹

And we relate from the two Ṣaḥīḥs, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ, who also reported that every night when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed, he put his palms together, blew onto them, and recited over them "Say: He is Allah, One", "Say: I seek protection in the Lord of the dawn"² and "Say: I seek protection in the Lord of men". Then he passed them over whatever parts of his body he was able to, beginning with his head, his face, and the front part of his body. He did this thrice.³ The linguists say that the meaning of an-nafth is 'a light puff of breath without spittle' (naḥkh laṭīf bi-lā riq).

﴿قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ...﴾

Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās. . .

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs from Abū Mas'ūd al-Anṣārī al-Badrī, whose other name was 'Uqbah ibn 'Amr ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites two verses from Sūrat al-Baqarah at night, they will suffice for him."⁴ The 'ulamā' differ about the meaning of "they will suffice for him". Some say it means [they will protect him] from calamities and misfortune on that night. Others say it will suffice for him in place of the prayer at night (Tahajjud). I say that both are possible.

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, from al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib ؓ who reported that Allah's Messenger ﷺ told him: "When you go to bed, perform ablution as you would for ṣalāh, then lie down on your right side and recite: O Allah, I submit my soul to You, and I entrust my destiny to You. I retreat unto You for protection, with hope in You and fear of You. There is no refuge and no safety from You but with You. I affirm my faith in Your Book, which You revealed, and Your Messenger, whom You sent. If you pass away

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6319), Muslim (2192), al-Muwatta' (2/942), Abū Dāwūd (3902), and at-Tirmidhī (3399).

² Qur'ān 114.

³ Al-Bukhārī (5017) and Muslim (2192).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5009), Muslim (808), Abū Dāwūd (1397), and at-Tirmidhī (2884).

that night, you will die in the true religion. Make these the last words that you say.”¹ This is the wording of one of al-Bukhārī’s versions, whereas the rest of the narration is Muslim’s version, which is very similar.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْلَمْتُ نَفْسِي إِلَيْكَ، وَقَوَّضْتُ أَمْرِي إِلَيْكَ، وَأَلْجَأْتُ
ظَهْرِي إِلَيْكَ، رَهْبَةً وَرَغْبَةً إِلَيْكَ، لَا مَلْجَأَ وَلَا مَنَاجَا مِنْكَ إِلَّا إِلَيْكَ،
آمَنْتُ بِكِتَابِكَ الَّذِي أَنْزَلْتَ، وَنَبِيِّكَ الَّذِي أَرْسَلْتَ.

Allāhumma innī aslamtu nafsī ilayk, wa fawwaḍtu amrī ilayk, wa alja’tu zahri ilayk, raghbatan wa rahbatan ilayk, lā malja’a wa lā manjā minka illā ilayk, āmantu bi-Kitābika-lladhī anzalt, wa Nabiyyika-lladhī arsalt.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ appointed me to look after the charity given for Ramaḍān. A person came to me and started to pick and take from the food.” He recounted the rest of the hadith and at the end he said: “When you go to bed, recite the Verse of the Throne (Āyat al-Kursī), [which begins] Allāhu lā ilāha illā Hūwa al-Ḥayyu-l-Qayyūm. It will continue to be a God-given protection for you, and Shayṭān will not come near to you until the morning.” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “[That person] told the truth even though he is a liar. That was Shayṭān.”² Al-Bukhārī narrated this hadith in his Ṣaḥīḥ, saying: “Uthmān ibn al-Haytham said that ‘Awf related to us from Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn from Abū Hurayrah”. This is a continuous (muttaṣil) chain. ‘Uthmān ibn al-Haytham was one of the teachers of al-Bukhārī from whom he related in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

[However] Abū ‘Abdullāh al-Ḥumaydī said in his al-Jam’ bayn aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn that al-Bukhārī narrated this hadith with its isnād in shortened form (ta’līq). That is not acceptable. The correct and preferred position of scholars and researchers (muḥaqqiqūn) is that the statement of al-Bukhārī and others that ‘So-and-so said’ is taken to imply his having heard directly from him as well as there being continuity in the chain of transmission if [the narrator] was not someone who concealed gaps in his chains of transmission (mudallis) and he had encountered him. This is one of those. Where a narration’s isnād is in abridged (mu’allaq) form, this term denotes an isnād in which al-Bukhārī omits to mention his teacher or more [narrators between him and the narrator cited] by saying, regarding hadiths such as this: “‘Awf said”, “Muḥammad ibn Sīrīn said”, and “Abū Hurayrah said”.³ And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Ḥafṣah ؓ, the Mother of the Believers, reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was about to lie down he put his right hand under his cheek, then said: “O Allah, save me from Your punishment on the day

1 Al-Bukhārī (6313), Muslim (2710), Abū Dāwūd (5046), and at-Tirmidhī (3391).

2 Al-Bukhārī (2311). Ibn Ḥajar states in Fath al-Bārī (4/489) that this contains the merit of Āyat al-kursī and the last verses of Sūrat al-Baqarah, and that the jinn eat from the food upon which the name of Allah has not been mentioned.

3 None of whom al-Bukhārī met.

that You resurrect Your slaves.” He said this thrice.¹ At-Tirmidhī narrated this from Ḥudhayfah from the Prophet ﷺ, and described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. He also narrated a version from al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib which did not mention “thrice”.

اللَّهُمَّ قِنِي عَذَابَكَ يَوْمَ تَبْعَثُ عِبَادَكَ.

Allāhumma qīnī ‘adhābaka yawma tab’athu ‘ibādak.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ retired to his bed he said: “O Allah, Lord of the heavens and the earth and the Lord of the Mighty Throne, our Lord and the Lord of all things, You Who split the seed and the grain, You Who revealed the Torah, the Gospels and the Qur’ān, I seek Your protection from the evil of every thing that You hold by the forelock. You are the First and there is none before You; You are the Last and there is none after You. You are the Manifest and there is none above You. You are the Hidden and there is none below You. Settle our debts for us and free us from poverty.”² Abū Dāwūd’s version reads: “Settle my debts and enrich us from poverty.”

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّ السَّمَاوَاتِ، وَرَبَّ الْأَرْضِ، وَرَبَّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، رَبَّنَا وَرَبَّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ، فَالِقَ الْحَبِّ وَالنَّوَى، وَمُنْزِلَ التَّوْرَةِ وَالْإِنْجِيلِ وَالْقُرْآنِ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ كُلِّ ذِي شَرٍّ أَنْتَ آخِذٌ بِنَاصِيَتِهِ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ الْأَوَّلُ فَلَيْسَ قَبْلَكَ شَيْءٌ، وَأَنْتَ الْآخِرُ فَلَيْسَ بَعْدَكَ شَيْءٌ، وَأَنْتَ الظَّاهِرُ فَلَيْسَ فَوْقَكَ شَيْءٌ، وَأَنْتَ الْبَاطِنُ فَلَيْسَ دُونَكَ شَيْءٌ، اقْضِ عَنَّا الدَّيْنَ، وَأَغْنِنَا مِنَ الْفَقْرِ.

Allāhumma Rabba-s-samāwāt, wa Rabba-l-ard, wa Rabba-l-‘Arshi-l-‘aẓīm, Rabbanā wa Rabba kulli shay’, fāliqa-l-ḥabbi wa-n-nawā, wa munazzila-t-Tawrāti wa-l-Injīli wa-l-Qur’ān, a‘ūdhu bika min sharri kulli dhī sharrin Anta ākhidhun bi-nāṣiyatih, Allāhumma Anta-l-Awwalu fa-laysa qablaka shay’, wa Anta-l-Ākhiru fa-laysa ba’daka shay’, wa Anta-ẓ-Ẓāhiru fa-laysa fawqaka shay’, wa Anta-l-Bāṭinu fa-laysa dūnaka shay’, iqḍi ‘annā-d-dayn, wa aghninā min al-faqr.

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā’ī from ‘Alī ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say when it was time to go to bed: “O Allah, I seek protection by Your Noble Countenance and by Your Perfect Words from the evil of all that You hold by the forelock. O Allah, it is You Who remove debt and sin. O Allah, Your army is never defeated and Your promise is never broken.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5040), at-Tirmidhī (3395), and Ibn Mājah (2873). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

² Muslim (2713), Abū Dāwūd (5051), at-Tirmidhī (3397), and Ibn Mājah (2873).

Kitāb al-Adhkār

The power of the mighty does not avail them against You. Glory be to You, Allah, and to You belongs all praise.¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِوَجْهِكَ الْكَرِيمِ وَكَلِمَاتِكَ التَّامَّةِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا أَنْتَ آخِذٌ
بِنَاصِيَّتِهِ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ تَكْشِفُ الْمَغْرَمَ وَالْمَأْتَمَ، اللَّهُمَّ لَا يُهْزَمُ جُنْدُكَ، وَلَا
يُخْلَفُ وَعْدُكَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ، سُبْحَانَكَ وَبِحَمْدِكَ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bi-wajhika-l-karīmi wa kalimātika-t-tāmmati min sharri mā Anta ākhidhun bi-nāṣiyatih. Allāhumma Anta takshifu-l-maghrama wa 'l-ma'tham. Allāhumma lā yuhzamu junduk, wa lā yukhlafu wa'duk, wa lā yanfa'u dha-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd, subhānaka wa bi-ḥamdik.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from Anas ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who has fed us, given us to drink, sufficed for us and given us shelter. How many there are who have no one to take care of them and give them shelter!"² According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَطْعَمَنَا وَسَقَانَا، وَكَفَانَا وَأَوَانَا، فَكَمْ مِمَّنْ لَا كَافِيَ لَهُ وَلَا مُؤْوِي.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī aṭ'amanā wa saqānā, wa kafānā wa āwānā, fa-kam mīm-man lā kāfiya lahu wa lā mu'wī.

And we relate with a ḥasan isnād from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Abū al-Azhārī, better known as Abū Zuhayr al-Anmārī ؓ, who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed at night he used to say: "In the name of Allah do I lay down my side. O Allah, forgive me my sins, ward off from me my shayṭān, settle for me my debts, and enter me into the Loftiest Assembly." The word an-nādiyyu has a fathah on the letter nūn, kasrah on the letter dāl, and shaddah on the letter yā. We relate in the Imam Abū Sulaymān Ḥamd ibn Muḥammad ibn Ibrāhīm ibn al-Khaṭṭāb al-Khaṭṭābī (Allah have mercy on him) in his commentary on this hadith, who said that the word an-nādiyyu means 'a gathering of people in a place'. This is similar to the word an-nadī, its plural being andiyah. He also said: "What is meant by the words an-nādiyyu-l-a'lā is 'the gathering of the angels', 'the highest assembly of the angels'.³

بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ وَضَعْتُ جَنْبِي، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي ذَنْبِي، وَأَخْسِئْ
شَيْطَانِي، وَفُكَّ رِهَانِي، وَاجْعَلْنِي فِي النَّدِيِّ الْأَعْلَى.

Bismi-llāhi waḍa'tu jambī, Allāhumma-ghfir li dhambī, wa akhsi' shayṭānī, wa fukka rihānī, wa-j'alnī fi-n-Nadiyyi-l-A'lā.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5052). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan.

² Muslim (2715), at-Tirmidhī (3396), and Abū Dāwūd (5053).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5054).

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from Nawfal al-Ashjā'ī ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told him: "Recite Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn ('Say: O you who reject faith'), then sleep after you have completed it, for it will absolve you of idolatry."²

And in the Musnad of Abū Ya'lā al-Mawṣilī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Shall I not show you words that will save you from assigning partners to Allah? Recite Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn ('Say: O you who reject faith') when you go to sleep."

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, from 'Irbād ibn Sāriyah ؓ, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to recite those chapters that begin with the glorification of Allah before he lay down.³ At-Tirmidhī considered this hadith ḥasan.

And we relate from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not sleep until he had recited the chapters Banī Isrā'īl and az-Zumar.⁴ According to at-Tirmidhī this hadith is ḥasan.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say when he went to bed: "Praise be to Allah Who has protected me, given me refuge, fed me and given me to drink; Who has been gracious to me and showered favours on me; Who has provided for me and has been most generous. Praise be to Allah in all conditions. O Allah, Lord of all things and Sovereign and God of all things, I seek Your protection from Hell-Fire."⁵

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي كَفَانِي وَأَوَانِي، وَأَطْعَمَنِي وَسَقَانِي، وَالَّذِي مَنَّ عَلَيَّ
فَأَفْضَلَ، وَالَّذِي أَعْطَانِي فَأَجْزَلَ، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ، اَللّهُمَّ
رَبَّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ وَمَلِيكَهُ، وَإِلَهَ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ النَّارِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī kafānī wa āwānī, wa aṭ'amanī wa saqanī, wa-lladhī manna 'alayya fa-afḍal, wa-lladhī a'ṭānī fa-ajzal, alḥamdu li-llāhi 'alā kulli ḥāl. Allāhumma Rabba kulli shay'in wa Mālikah, wa Ilāha kulli shay', aūdhu bika mina-n-Nār.

And we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a person, when going to bed, says: I seek forgiveness of Allah, besides Whom there is no god, the Living, the Self-Subsisting, and

¹ Qur'ān 109:1.

² At-Tirmidhī (3400), Abū Dāwūd (5055), and al-Futūḥāt (3/156). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan; however, there is a significant difference of opinion regarding its chain, due to the inclusion of Abū Ishāq aṣ-Ṣābi'.

³ At-Tirmidhī (4003), who describes it as ḥasan gharīb, Abū Dāwūd (5057), and Natā'ij al-afkār (196). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (3402) and al-Futūḥāt (3/158). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (5058) and al-Futūḥāt (3/158). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan. Further research is needed to ascertain whether it is ṣaḥīḥ.

I repent to Him, three times, Allah will forgive his sins even if they be as abundant as the foam of the sea, even if they be equal in number to the stars, even if they be as much as the sands of 'Ālij,¹ even if they be equal in number to the days of the world."² أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْهِ.

Astaghfiru-llāha-lladhī lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Ḥayyu-l-Qayyūmu wa atūbu ilayh.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that it is reported that a man from the Companions of the Messenger ﷺ narrated: "I was sitting with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when a man from his Companions came and said: 'Messenger of Allah, I was bitten last night and I could not sleep until morning.' He asked: 'By what?' 'A scorpion,' the man replied. He ﷺ said: 'If you had said in the evening: I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from the evil of that He created, nothing would have harmed you, if Allah willed."³ أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا خَلَقَ.

A'ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min sharri mā khalaq.

We also relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and others and from Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه. We have already narrated the hadith of Muslim in the chapter on what to say in the morning and evening.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, on the authority of Anas رضي الله عنه, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ advised a man to recite Sūrat al-Ḥashr when he went to bed, and that he added: "If you die, you will die a martyr" or "As one of the people of Paradise."⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه instructed a man to say when he went to bed: "O Allah, You created my soul and You will cause it to die; its death and its life are for You. If You keep it alive then protect it, and if You cause it to die then forgive it. O Allah, I ask You for good health and well-being." Ibn 'Umar said: "I heard it from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ."⁵ اللَّهُمَّ خَلَقْتَ نَفْسِي وَأَنْتَ تَوَفَّاهَا، لَكَ مَمَاتُهَا وَمَحْيَاهَا، إِنْ أَحْيَيْتَهَا فَاحْفَظْهَا، وَإِنْ أَمَتَّهَا فَاعْفِرْ لَهَا، اللَّهُمَّ أَسْأَلُكَ الْعَافِيَةَ.

Allāhumma khalaqta nafsi wa Anta tawaffāhā, laka mamātuhā wa maḥyāhā, in aḥyaytahā fa-ḥfazhā, wa in amattahā fa-ghfir lāhā, Allāhumma as'aluka-l-'āfiyah.

¹ 'Ālij is the name of a place where there is a lot of sand.

² At-Tirmidhī (3394), who states that it is ḥasan gharīb, al-Futūḥāt (3/160), and Natā'ij al-afkār (196). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharīb; al-Waṣṣāfi and his shaykh are both weak, but something similar is reported by 'Iṣām ibn Qudāmah from 'Aṭīyyah.

³ Abū Dāwūd (3898).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (723) and al-Futūḥāt (3/161). Ibn Hajar states that this is a gharīb hadith; its chain is very weak because it includes Yazīd ibn Ābān ar-Raqashī, who narrated the hadith from Anas.

⁵ Muslim (2712).

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the hadith of Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه, as we previously mentioned in the chapter on What to Say in the Morning and Evening (51) in which he told a story about Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq رضي الله عنه. The Prophet ﷺ said: "Say: O Allah, Creator of the heavens and the earth, Knower of the Unseen and the Seen, Lord and Sovereign of all things, I bear witness that there is no god but You. I seek Your protection from the evil of my ego and the evil and polytheism of Shayṭān." He said: "Say this when you get up in the morning and in the evening and when you go to bed."²³⁷

اللَّهُمَّ فَاطِرَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ، عَالِمَ الْغَيْبِ وَالشَّهَادَةِ، رَبَّ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ وَمَلِيكَهُ،
أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ نَفْسِي وَمِنْ شَرِّ الشَّيْطَانِ وَشَرِّكَه.

Allāhumma Fāṭira-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍ, ‘Ālima-l-ghaybi wa-sh-shahādah, Rabba kulli shay’in wa Malīkah, ashhadu an lā ilāha illā Ant.
A‘ūdhu bika min sharri nafsī wa min sharri-sh-Shayṭāni wa shirkih.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn as-Sunnī from Shaddād ibn Aws رضي الله عنه, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No Muslim goes to bed and then recites one chapter of the Book of Allah ﷻ without Allah appointing an angel who does not allow anything harmful to come near him until he wakes up."¹ The isnād of this hadith is weak. The meaning of the word habba is 'to be attentive' or 'to stand up'.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Jābir رضي الله عنه, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When a man goes to bed, an angel and a demon race one another [towards him]. The angel says: 'O Allah, make him end well.' The demon says: 'May he end badly.' If the man remembers Allah before he sleeps, the angel spends the night protecting him."²

We also relate, in [the same source], from ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ رضي الله عنه that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ lay down to sleep he used to say: "O Allah, in Your name, my Lord, do I lay down my side, so forgive me my sins."³ اللَّهُمَّ بِاسْمِكَ رَبِّي وَضَعْتُ جَنْبِي، فَاعْفِرْ لِي ذَنْبِي.

Allāhumma bismika Rabbī waḍa‘tu jambī, fā-ghfir lī dhambī.

We also relate, in [the same source], from Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه who reported: "I heard the Prophet ﷺ say: 'Whoever goes to bed in a state of ablution and remembers Allah ¹ At-Tirmidhī (3404), Ibn as-Sunnī (751), and al-Futūḥāt (3/163). According to Ibn Ḥajar this hadith is ḥasan because it is narrated through other chains which corroborate each other.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (750) and al-Futūḥāt (3/164). Ibn Ḥajar mentions that those who report this hadith are: an-Nasā’ī, al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak, Ibn Ḥibbān, and Abū Ya‘lā. He also states that he is surprised that an-Nawawī referenced only Ibn as-Sunnī, when this hadith is present in those well-known books.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (719), with a slight change in wording, and al-Futūḥāt (3/164). Ibn Ḥajar references it from at-Ṭabarānī and graded it as ḥasan.

until slumber overtakes him will not move at any time in the night asking Allah for good in this world and the Hereafter without Him granting it to him.”¹

And we narrate from ‘Ā’ishah who reported that when the Messenger of Allah went to bed he said: “O Allah, let me enjoy my hearing and my sight and make them inherit from me. Help me against my enemy and show me how to avenge myself against him. O Allah, I seek Your protection from crippling debt, and from hunger, for it is the most evil companion.”² اللَّهُمَّ أَمْتِغْنِي بِسَمْعِي وَبَصَرِي، وَاجْعَلْهُمَا الْوَارِثَ مِنِّي، وَأَنْصُرْنِي عَلَى عَدُوِّي، وَأَرِنِي مِنْهُ ثَأْرِي، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ غَلَبَةِ الدَّيْنِ، وَمِنْ الْجُوعِ، فَإِنَّهُ يَنْسُ الضَّجِيعُ.

Allāhumma amti'nī bi-sam'ī wa baṣarī, wa-j'alhumā'l-wāritha minnī, wa-nṣurnī 'alā 'aduwwī, wa arinī minhu tha'rī, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min ghalabati-d-dayn, wa mina-l-jū', fa-innahu bi'sa-d-ḍajī'.

The 'ulamā' say that “make my hearing and my sight inherit from me” means that they should remain sound and healthy until one dies. Some say that it means that they should have endurance and strength in old age when the limbs and senses become weak, in other words, “Make them the inheritors of the strength of the other limbs that endure after them.” It is said that the meaning of sam' is ‘retaining what one hears and acting by it’ and the meaning of baṣar is ‘considering the moral of what one sees’. The wording ‘and make it my heir’ is also recorded, so that the pronoun [it] refers back to ‘let me enjoy’, which is the reason he made it singular.

We relate in the same source from ‘Ā’ishah that she said, “The Messenger of Allah—since I began accompanying him—never slept until he had sought protection from cowardice and laziness, boredom and miserliness, the evil of old age and from seeing a displeasing aspect of family and wealth, from punishment in the grave, and from Shayṭān and his idolatry.”³

It is reported that when ‘Ā’ishah was about to go to sleep she said: “O Allah, I ask You for a pious dream, true and not false, beneficial and not harmful.” When she said that, it was known that she was not to be spoken to until the morning or until she woke up at night.⁴

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ رُؤْيَا صَالِحَةً، صَادِقَةً غَيْرَ كَاذِبَةٍ، نَافِعَةً غَيْرَ ضَارَّةٍ.

1 Ibn as-Sunnī (724) and al-Futūḥāt (3/165). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith was reported by Ibn as-Sunnī from Ismā'il ibn 'Ayyāsh, whose narrations from the Hijāzī narrators are weak, and this is one of them. His sheikhs 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abd ar-Raḥmān al-Makkī and Shahr ibn Ḥawshab have been criticised.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (739) and Natā'ij al-afkār (199). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith was reported by Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū 'l-Miqdām Hishām ibn Ziyād, who narrated it from Hishām ibn 'Urwah, who narrated it from his father, who narrated it from her. There is consensus about the weakness of Abū 'l-Miqdām's transmission.

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (741). Ibn Ḥajar mentions that there are supporting narrations for different parts of this hadith.

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (748) and al-Futūḥāt (3/170). Ibn Ḥajar states that it was reported by Ibn as-Sunnī via two chains, and is a mawqūf narration with a ṣaḥīḥ chain.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka ru'yā ṣāliḥah, ṣādiqatan ghayra kādhibah, nāfi'atan ghayra ḍārrah.

The Imam and Ḥāfiẓ Abū Bakr ibn Abū Dāwūd narrated with his isnād from 'Alī who said: "I have not known any intelligent person who went to sleep before reciting the last three verses of Sūrat al-Baqarah." The isnād is ṣaḥīḥ according to the conditions of al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

And he also related from 'Alī that he said: "I have never known an intelligent person who entered into Islam and then went to sleep before reciting the Verse of the Throne."²

Ibrāhīm an-Nakha'ī said: "They used to teach them to recite the Mu'awwidhatayn (Sūrahs 113 and 114) before going to bed." According to another report he said: "They used to love reciting the chapters Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad (al-Ikhlāṣ) and al-Mu'awwidhatayn thrice every night." The isnād is ṣaḥīḥ according to the conditions of Muslim.

The hadiths and narrations on this subject are numerous. What we have mentioned is sufficient for those who have been given the ability to practice it. We have not mentioned any more than this in order not to bore the student. And Allah knows best. It is most appropriate that one should practice all that has been mentioned in this chapter. If one is unable to do so, then one should shorten it to what is most important, if one can.

61

THE DISAPPROVAL OF SLEEPING WITHOUT THE DHIKR OF ALLAH

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a good isnād, from Abū Hurayrah who related that the Messenger of Allah said: "Whoever sits in a place where Allah is not remembered will have loss and decrease from Allah, and whoever lies down without remembering Allah will have loss and decrease from Allah."⁴ The word tirah, with kasrah on the letter tā and fathah over the letter rā, means loss (naqṣ) or consequence (tabī'ah).

1 Al-Futūḥāt (3/170) and Natā'ij al-afkār (200). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith was reported by Abū Bakr 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Dāwūd Sulaymān ibn Ash'ath in the book Shari'at al-qārī via two chains, the first of them being ṣaḥīḥ as an-Nawawī mentions.

2 Ibn Hajar states that this was reported by Ibn Abī Dāwūd, and its chain is ḥasan.

3 Al-Futūḥāt (3/172). The report from an-Nakha'ī is reported by Ibn Abī Dāwūd via two chains, both of which are ṣaḥīḥ.

4 Abū Dāwūd (5059).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN WAKING UP AT NIGHT AND WISHING TO SLEEP AFTERWARDS

KNOW THAT THERE are two types of people who wake up at night: one who does not sleep after waking up (we have already mentioned the adhkār appropriate for him); and one who wants to sleep afterwards. It is mustahabb for the latter to remember Allah until he falls asleep. Many adhkār have been conveyed in this regard. Some in the first category have already been quoted, such as [the following]:

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ‘Ubādah ibn aṣ-Ṣāmit رضي الله عنه reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever wakes up from his sleep and says: There is no god but Allah, One without partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, and He has power over all things. Praise be to Allah and glory be to Allah. There is no god but Allah. Allah is greater and there is no power and no strength except in Allah, and then says: O Allah, forgive me or supplicates, his prayer will be answered. If he makes ablution and performs ṣalāh, his ṣalāh will be accepted.”¹ The most approved text of al-Bukhārī states that one should say ‘Lā ilāha illa-llāh’ before ‘wa-llāhu akbar’. This is not mentioned by al-Ḥumaydī in al-Jam‘ bayn aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn. The wording is recorded in at-Tirmidhī’s narration and some others, but is omitted in Abū Dāwūd’s narration.

Al-Walīd ibn Muslim is in doubt as to the authenticity of the part of this hadith which reads, “Forgive me, or one supplicates”. He was one of the transmitters of this hadith and one of the teachers of the teachers of al-Bukhārī, Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others.

The word ta‘arr, with doubled letter rā, means ‘he got up, awoke’.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ
عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،
وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh, waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa ‘alā kulli shay’in qadīr, wa-l-ḥamdu lillāh, wa subḥāna-llāh, wa lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa-llāhu akbar, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwati illā bi-llāh, Allāhumma-ghfir li.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with an isnād he did not consider weak, from ‘Ā’ishah رضي الله عنها, that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ woke up at night he used to say: “There is no god but You, glory be to You. O Allah, I ask Your forgiveness for my sins and I ask You for Your Mercy. O Allah, increase me in knowledge and do not turn my heart away after You have guided me. Grant me mercy from You. Verily You are the Ever-Bestowing.”¹

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1154), at-Tirmidhī (3411), and Abū Dāwūd (5060).

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ، أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ لِذَنْبِي، وَأَسْأَلُكَ رَحْمَتَكَ، اللَّهُمَّ زِدْنِي
عِلْمًا، وَلَا تُزِغْ قَلْبِي بَعْدَ إِذْ هَدَيْتَنِي، وَهَبْ لِي مِنْ لَدُنْكَ رَحْمَةً، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْوَهَّابُ.

Lā ilāha illā Ant, subhānaka-llāhumma, astaghfiruka li-dhanbī, wa as'aluka rahmatak, Allāhumma zidnī 'ilmā, wa lā tuzigh qalbī ba'da idh hadaytanī, wa hab lī min ladunka rahmah, innaka Anta-l-Wahhāb.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ woke up at night (ta'arra) he would say: “There is no god but You: Allah, the One, the All-Conquering, Lord of the heavens and the earth and all that is between them, the Mighty, the All-Forgiving.”² لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ اللَّهُ الْوَاحِدُ الْقَهَّارُ، رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا الْعَزِيزُ الْغَفَّارُ.

*Lā ilāha illā Anta-llāhu-l-Wāhidu-l-Qahhār, Rabbu-s-samāwāti
wa-l-arḍi wa mā baynahuma-l-'Azīzu-l-Ghaffār.*

And we relate in the same source with a weak isnād from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who narrated that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: “When Allah returns the soul of a Muslim servant to him at night, and he glorifies Him, asks Him for forgiveness and supplicates to Him, He will accept it from him.”³

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī with an excellent isnād from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any one of you retires to his bed, he should dust his bed with the corner of his waist-wrapper (izār), because he does not know what came [to it] after him. Then he should say: In Your name, my Lord, I lay down my side and by You I raise it up. If You take my soul then have mercy on it, and if You release it then protect it by that with which You protect Your righteous servants.”⁴ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan. The linguists say that ṣanifat al-izār with kasrah on the letter nūn means the side of it on which there are no fringes. It also said that it means either side.

بِاسْمِكَ اللَّهُمَّ رَبِّي وَضَعْتُ جَنْبِي، وَبِكَ أَرْفَعُهُ، إِنْ أَمْسَكَتْ نَفْسِي فَارْحَمَهَا، وَإِنْ رَدَدْتَهَا فَاحْفَظْهَا بِمَا تَحْفَظُ بِهِ عِبَادَكَ الصَّالِحِينَ.

Bismika-llāhumma Rabbī waḍa'tu janbī, wa bika arfa'uh, in amsakta nafsi fa-rhamhā, wa in radadtahā fā-hfazhā bimā tahfaẓu bihi 'ibādika-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

And we relate from the Muwaṭṭa' of Imam Mālik, may Allah be merciful to him, in

1 Abū Dāwūd (5061).

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (762) and Natā'ij al-afkār (203). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (758).

4 At-Tirmidhī (3392), Ibn Mājah (3874), and Ibn as-Sunnī (770).

the chapter on du‘ā at the end of the Book of Ṣalāt, from Mālik who said that it had reached him that when Abū ad-Dardā’ got up in the middle of the night he would say: “The eyes have gone to sleep and the stars have set, but You are the Ever-Living, the Self-Subsisting.”¹ The meaning of ghārat is ‘set’ (gharubat).

نَامَتِ الْعُيُونُ، وَغَارَتِ النُّجُومُ، وَأَنْتَ حَيٌّ قَيُّومٌ.

Nāmati-l-‘uyūn, wa ghāratī-n-nujūm, wa Anta Ḥayyun Qayyūm.

63

WHAT TO SAY WHEN UNABLE TO SLEEP

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Zayd ibn Thābit ؓ narrated: “I complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about my sleeplessness and he said: ‘Say: O Allah, the stars have set and the eyes are resting, but You are Ever-Living, Self-Subsisting. You are not overcome by slumber or sleep. O Ever-Living, Self-Subsisting, make my night calm and my eyes sleep.’ I said this and Allah took away from me what I had been experiencing.”²

اللَّهُمَّ غَارَتِ النُّجُومُ، وَهَدَأَتِ الْعُيُونُ، وَأَنْتَ حَيٌّ قَيُّومٌ، لَا تَأْخُذُكَ
سِنَّةٌ وَلَا نَوْمٌ، يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّومُ، أَهْدِئْ لَيْلِي وَأَنْمِ عَيْنِي.

Allāhumma ghāratī-n-nujūm, wa hada’atī-l-‘uyūn, wa Anta Ḥayyun Qayyūm, lā ta’khudhuka sinatun wa lā nawm. Yā Ḥayyu yā Qayyūm, ahdī’ laylī wa anim ‘aynī.

We relate in the same source that Muḥammad ibn Yaḥyā ibn Ḥabbān—with fathah on the letter hā’ and doubled letter bā’—related that Khālīd ibn Wālīd ؓ complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he was afflicted by sleeplessness, so the Prophet ﷺ instructed him, when he went to sleep, to seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from His wrath, from the evil of His servants, from the insinuations of Shayṭān, and from them approaching him.³ This hadith is mursal, as Muḥammad ibn Yaḥyā was a Tābi‘ī. Linguists say that the word al-araq means ‘sleeplessness’ (as-sahar).

¹ Al-Muwatta’ (3).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (754) and al-Futūḥāt (3/177). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a gharīb hadith, reported by Ibn as-Sunnī, Abū Aḥmad Ibn ‘Adī in al-Kāmil, and aṭ-Ṭabarānī in al-Kabīr. Ibn al-‘Adī states that ‘Amr ibn al-Ḥusayn al-Ḥarrānī is the only narrator of this hadith; his transmission is extremely weak, as he narrates reprehensible things (manākir) from trustworthy narrators which no-one else narrates.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (755). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a mursal narration with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī with a weak isnād—at-Tirmidhī considered it weak—from Buraydah رضي الله عنه, who narrated that Khālid ibn Wālid complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, saying: “Messenger of Allah, I did not sleep last night because of insomnia.” So the Prophet ﷺ told him: “When you retire to bed, say: O Allah, Lord of the Seven Heavens and all that they give shade to, Lord of the Earths and all that they support, Lord of the shayṭāns (demons) and all those whom they lead astray, be a Protector to me from all Your Creation, to prevent them from transgressing against me or oppressing me. Those whom You protect are mighty, glorious is Your praise, and there is no God other than You. There is no god but You.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّ السَّمَاوَاتِ السَّبْعِ وَمَا أَظْلَلَتْ، وَرَبَّ الْأَرْضِينَ وَمَا أَقْلَلَتْ، وَرَبَّ الشَّيَاطِينِ
وَمَا أَضَلَّتْ، كُنْ لِي جَارًا مِنْ شَرِّ خَلْقِكَ كُلِّهِمْ جَمِيعًا أَنْ يَفْرُطَ عَلَيَّ أَحَدٌ مِنْهُمْ
أَوْ أَنْ يَبْغِيَ عَلَيَّ. عَزَّ جَارُكَ، وَجَلَّ ثَنَاؤُكَ، وَلَا إِلَهَ غَيْرُكَ. لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma Rabba-s-samāwāti-s-sab‘i wa mā aẓallat, wa Rabba-l-arḍīna wa mā aqallat, wa Rabba-sh-shayāṭīni wa mā aḍallat, kun lī jāran min sharri khalqika kullihim jamī‘an an yafruṭa ‘alayya aḥadun minhum aw an yabghī ‘alayy, ‘Azza jāruk, wa jalla thanā‘uk, wa lā ilāha ghayruk, lā ilāha illā Ant.

64

WHAT TO SAY WHEN STARTLED IN ONE’S SLEEP

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn as-Sunnī, amongst others, from ‘Amr ibn Shu‘ayb who reported from his father who reported from his grandfather that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to teach the Companions these words for moments of fear and terror: “I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from His wrath and from the evil of His slaves, and the enticements of demons, and from them approaching me.”²

أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ غَضَبِهِ وَشَرِّ عِبَادِهِ،
وَمِنْ هَمَزَاتِ الشَّيَاطِينِ وَأَنْ يَحْضُرُونِ.

A‘ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min ghaḍabihi wa sharri ‘ibādihi, wa min hamazāti-sh-shayāṭīni wa an yaḥḍurūn.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3518) and al-Futūḥāt (3/181). Its chain contains al-Ḥakam ibn Zuhayr, whose narration is disregarded (matrūk) by scholars of hadith.

² Abū Dāwūd (3893), at-Tirmidhī (3519), Ibn as-Sunnī (753), Aḥmad (2/181), and al-Ḥākim (1/548).

'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr used to teach these words to those of his children who could understand, and for those who did not understand he wrote it down and hung it [around their necks]. At-Tirmidhī classed this hadith as ḥasan.

According to Ibn as-Sunnī's narration, a man complained to the Prophet ﷺ that he had been startled in his sleep, so the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to him: "When you go to bed say: I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from His wrath and His punishment, from the evil of His slaves and from the enticements of demons; so prevent them from appearing to me." So he said that, and it left him.

65

WHAT TO SAY AFTER SEEING SOMETHING
ONE LIKES OR DISLIKES IN A DREAM

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ who reported that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: "If any of you sees something that he likes in a dream, it can only be from Allah ﷻ, so let him praise Allah ﷻ for it and let him tell people about it." According to another report he said: "So he should not speak about it except to those whom he loves, and if he sees something that he does not like, it can only be from Shayṭān, so let him seek protection from his evil. He should not mention it to anyone, and then it will not harm him."¹

And we relate from the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Abū Qatādah ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A pious dream"—and according to another report, "A good dream"—"is from Allah, and a nightmare is from Shayṭān. So whoever sees something that he dislikes should spit thrice to his left and seek protection from Shayṭān, and then he will not harm him."² Another version states fa-l-yabṣuq instead of fa-l-yanfuth. The plainest meaning is that it is nafath, which means 'light puffs of breath without spittle'.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Jābir ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any of you sees in a dream something that he dislikes, he should spit thrice to his left and seek protection from Shayṭān, and then turn away from the side that he was lying on."³

At-Tirmidhī relates the narration of Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any one of you has a dream that he dislikes, he should not speak about it to anyone; and he should get up and perform ṣalāh."⁴

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6985)

² Al-Bukhārī (5747) and Muslim (2262).

³ Muslim (2262) and Abū Dāwūd (5022).

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (2292) and al-Futūḥāt (3/191). Ibn Ḥajar expresses surprise that Imam an-Nawawī only

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that he ﷺ said: "If any one of you has a dream that he dislikes, he should spit thrice towards his left and then say: O Allah, I seek Your protection from the works of Shayṭān and from bad dreams, and no ill will come of it."¹ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَمَلِ الشَّيْطَانِ وَسَيِّئَاتِ الْأَحْلَامِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min 'amali-sh-Shayṭāni wa sayyi'āti-l-ahlām.

66

WHAT TO SAY WHEN TOLD ABOUT A DREAM

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that the Prophet ﷺ said to anyone who told him, "I have seen a dream": "You have seen goodness and may it become goodness [in reality]." According to another report he said: "May you encounter good and may you be protected from evil. It is good for us and bad for our enemies. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds."²

خَيْرًا رَأَيْتَ، وَخَيْرًا يَكُونُ. خَيْرًا تَلْقَاهُ، وَشَرًّا تُوقَاهُ، خَيْرًا
لَنَا وَشَرًّا عَلَيَّ أَعْدَائِنَا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

Khayran ra'ayt, wa khayran yakūn. Khayran talqāh, wa sharran tawaqqāh, khayran lanā wa sharran 'ālā a'dā'inā, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.

referenced this hadith to at-Tirmidhī, when it is also reported by Imam Aḥmad, al-Bukhārī, and Muslim.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (775) and Natā'ij al-afkār (207). Ibn Ḥajar mentioned that there is a break in this hadith's chain, and one of the narrators has been abandoned (matrūk).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (777), al-Futūḥāt (3/193) and (3/186), and Natā'ij al-afkār (207). There is some weakness in this hadith's chain. Ibn Ḥajar al-Haytamī states in his work Ṭaraf al-fawā'id wa zaraf al-farā'id that the points of etiquette to be observed after seeing a good dream are: praising Allah for it, inferring glad tidings from it, and informing others about it, but only to those who like one and not to those who harbour enmity towards one. As for the points to be observed upon seeing a bad dream, they are: seeking refuge in Allah from its evil, seeking refuge in Allah from Shayṭān, doing optional prayers upon waking from sleep, and not mentioning it to anyone. Al-Bukhārī adds offering prayers, and Muslim adds changing the side one is lying on. Ibn 'Allān also mentions reciting Āyat al-kursī.

DU‘Ā’ AND REPENTANCE IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE NIGHT

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Our Lord comes down to the lowest Heaven in the last third of every night and says: ‘Who will supplicate to Me, that I may answer his prayer? Who will ask of Me, that I may give to him? Who will ask Me for forgiveness, that I may forgive him?’”¹ According to a narration in Muslim he ؓ said: “Every night, Allah ﷻ comes down to the earthly Heaven when the first third of the night has passed and says: ‘I am the King, I am the King. Who will supplicate to Me, that I may answer his prayer? Who will ask of Me, that I may give to him? Who will ask Me for forgiveness, that I may forgive him?’ He continues to do this until the break of dawn.” According to another report he said: “When half the night or two-thirds of the night has passed.”¹

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from ‘Amr ibn ‘Abasah ؓ who reported that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: “The closest that the Lord comes to His servants is during the last part of the night. So if you are able to be among those who remember Allah ﷻ at that time, do so.”² At-Tirmidhī classes this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

DU‘Ā’ IN ALL HOURS OF THE NIGHT, HOPING TO COINCIDE WITH THE MOMENT OF ACCEPTANCE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Jābir ؓ who reported: “I heard the Prophet ﷺ say: ‘There is a time during the night in which no Muslim asks Allah ﷻ for good relating to things of this World or the Hereafter without Allah ﷻ granting it to him; and that is so every night.’”³

¹ Al-Bukhārī (7494) and Muslim (758). Ibn Hajar observes that this hadith shows that the last part of the night is a meritorious time to supplicate and ask for forgiveness, and that any supplication made at that time is answered.

² Abū Dāwūd (875) and at-Tirmidhī (3574).

³ Muslim (757).

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL NAMES OF ALLAH

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS, "And Allah's are the Most Beautiful Names."¹

وَلِلَّهِ الْأَسْمَاءُ الْحُسْنَىٰ.

Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ has ninety-nine Names: one hundred minus one. Whoever memorises them will enter Paradise. He is Single² and He loves the odd-numbered."³

هُوَ اللَّهُ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ،

الرَّحْمَنُ * الرَّحِيمُ * الْمَلِكُ * الْقُدُّوسُ * السَّلَامُ * الْمُؤْمِنُ * الْمُهِينُ * الْعَزِيزُ *
الْجَبَّارُ * الْمُتَكَبِّرُ * الْخَالِقُ * الْبَارِئُ * الْمُصَوِّرُ * الْغَفَّارُ * الْقَهَّارُ * الْوَهَّابُ *
الرَّزَّاقُ * الْفَتَّاحُ * الْعَلِيمُ * الْقَابِضُ * الْبَاسِطُ * الْخَافِضُ * الرَّافِعُ * الْمُعِزُّ *
الْمُذِلُّ * السَّمِيعُ * الْبَصِيرُ * الْحَكَمُ * الْعَدْلُ * اللَّطِيفُ * الْخَبِيرُ * الْحَلِيمُ *
الْعَظِيمُ * الْغَفُورُ * الشَّكُورُ * الْعَلِيُّ * الْكَبِيرُ * الْحَفِيفُ * الْمُقِيتُ * الْحَسِيبُ *
الْجَلِيلُ * الْكَرِيمُ * الرَّقِيبُ * الْمُجِيبُ * الْوَاسِعُ * الْحَكِيمُ * الْوَدُودُ * الْمَجِيدُ *
الْبَاعِثُ * الشَّهِيدُ * الْحَقُّ * الْوَكِيلُ * الْقَوِيُّ * الْمُتَيْنُ * الْوَلِيُّ * الْحَمِيدُ *
الْمُحْصِي * الْمُبْدِئُ * الْمُعِيدُ * الْمُخِي * الْمُمِيتُ * الْحَيُّ * الْقَيُّومُ * الْوَاحِدُ *
الْمَاجِدُ * الْوَاحِدُ * الْأَحَدُ * الصَّمَدُ * الْقَادِرُ * الْمُقْتَدِرُ * الْمُقَدِّمُ * الْمُؤَخَّرُ *

1 Qur'ān 7:180.

2 Ibn Hajar states in Fath al-Bārī (11/227) that what is meant by 'odd-numbered' here is the Oneness of Allah ﷻ, which is tawhīd. This therefore means that He ﷻ is Single as regards His essence, perfection and actions and that He ﷻ loves tawhīd.

3 Al-Bukhārī (6410) and Muslim (2677), up to the words "... loves odd numbers". The rest of the hadith is reported by at-Tirmidhī (3502), who states that this hadith is gharīb. It was narrated by Ṣafwān, who is trustworthy, and who narrated it from more than one person. We only know of it from his transmission. There is another transmission via Abū Hurayrah, and we do not know of any mention of the names in the narration except in this transmission. It is reported via another chain from Abū Hurayrah containing the mention of the names, but it does not have a ṣaḥīḥ chain. It was also reported by Ibn Hibbān (2382 Mawārid az-zamān), al-Ḥākim (1/16), and Ibn Mājah (3861). Al-Būṣīrī states in az-Zawā'id that none of the six Imams report the number of Allah's Beautiful Names in this way except for Ibn Mājah and at-Tirmidhī, with some differences in their order. At-Tirmidhī's chain is the most authentic, as that of Ibn Mājah contains some weakness. See Jāmi' al-uṣūl (4/174).

الْأَوَّلُ • الْآخِرُ • الظَّاهِرُ • الْبَاطِنُ • الْوَالِي • الْمُتَعَالِي • الْبَرُّ • التَّوَابُ •
 الْمُتَّقِمُ • الْعَفْوُ • الرَّؤُوفُ • مَالِكُ الْمُلْكِ • ذُو الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ • الْمُقْسِطُ •
 الْجَامِعُ • الْغَنِيُّ • الْمُغْنِي • الْمَانِعُ • الضَّارُّ • النَّافِعُ • النُّورُ • الْهَادِي • الْبَدِيعُ •
 الْبَاقِي • الْوَارِثُ • الرَّشِيدُ • الصَّبُورُ

Huwa-llāhu-lladhī lā ilāha illā Hū, ar-Raḥmān, ar-Raḥīm, al-Malik, al-Quddūs, as-Salām, al-Mu'min, al-Muḥaymin, al-'Azīz, al-Jabbār, al-Mutakabbir, al-Khāliq, al-Bārī, al-Muṣawwir, al-Ghaḥfār, al-Qaḥḥār, al-Waḥḥāb, ar-Razzāq, al-Fattāḥ, al-'Alīm, al-Qābiḍ, al-Bāsiṭ, al-Khāfiḍ, ar-Rāfi', al-Mu'izz, al-Mudhill, as-Samī', al-Baṣīr, al-Ḥakam, al-'Adl, al-Laṭīf, al-Khabīr, al-Ḥalīm, al-'Azīm, al-Ghaḥfūr, ash-Shakūr, al-'Alī, al-Kabīr, al-Ḥafīz, al-Muqīt, al-Ḥasīb, al-Jalīl, al-Karīm, ar-Raqīb, al-Mujīb, al-Wāsi', al-Ḥakīm, al-Wadūd, al-Majīd, al-Bā'ith, ash-Shahīd, al-Ḥaqq, al-Wakīl, al-Qawī, al-Matīn, al-Walī, al-Ḥamīd, al-Muḥṣī, al-Mubdī, al-Mu'id, al-Muḥyi, al-Mumīt, al-Ḥayy, al-Qayyūm, al-Wājīd, al-Mājid, al-Wāḥid, al-Aḥad, aṣ-Ṣamad, al-Qādir, al-Muqtadir, al-Muqaddim, al-Mu'akkhir, al-Awwal, al-Ākhir, az-Zāhir, al-Bāṭin, al-Wālī, al-Muta'āliy, al-Barr, at-Tawwāb, al-Muntaqim, al-'Afuww, ar-Ra'ūf, Māliku-l-Mulk, Dhu-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrām, al-Muqsiṭ, al-Jāmi', al-Ghanī, al-Mughnī, al-Mānī, aḍ-Ḍārr, an-Nāfi', an-Nūr, al-Hādī, al-Badī, al-Bāqī, al-Wārith, ar-Rashīd, aṣ-Ṣabūr.

Al-Muqīt, with the letters qāf and tā', has been narrated instead of al-Mughīth. Al-Qarīb has been narrated instead of ar-Raqīb and al-Mubīn with a bā' instead of al-Matīn with tā'; but the best known is with tā'.

The meaning of aḥsāhā is 'memorised them'. That is the explanation that al-Bukhārī and the majority have given. This explanation is corroborated by a narration in the Ṣaḥīḥ that says, 'Whoever memorises them (man ḥafīzahā). . . will enter Paradise'. It is also said to apply to anyone who knows their meanings and believes in them, and to anyone who is able to pay due attention to them and to embody them as much as he can in his actions.

RECITATION OF QUR'ĀN

KNOW THAT THE recitation of the Qur'ān is the best of all adhkār. The goal is to recite it with contemplation. Recitation has its etiquettes and objectives. I have previously compiled a concise book which contains valuable information on reciters and recitation, the qualities of the latter, and all that pertains to it.¹ It is not befitting for anyone who recites the Qur'ān to be ignorant of any of this. I have expressed these points succinctly in this book and have indicated that whoever wishes [to read about these points] and their clarifications [may look for them] in the appropriate places. And success is by Allah.

It is imperative to be mindful of recitation day and night, whether at home or on a journey. Our pious predecessors had various practices and habits when reciting the Qur'ān in its entirety. One group would recite the whole Qur'ān every two months, others every month, others every ten nights, others every eight days, and others every seven days. That was done by the majority of our forefathers. Others completed a recitation every six days, others in five, others in four, and many did it in three. Many completed a recitation in a day and a night. Another group completed a recitation twice in a day and a night; others completed a recitation thrice in a day and a night; and others completed a recitation eight times in a day and a night: four during the day and four during the night. Among those who completed four recitations during the day and four during the night was the esteemed master Ibn al-Kātib aṣ-Ṣūfī²; that is the most that we have heard of in a day and a night.

The esteemed master Aḥmad al-Dawraqī reports with his isnād that Maṣṣūr ibn Zādhān ibn 'Abbād, one of the Tābi'ūn devoted to worship, used to recite the whole Qur'ān once between Zuhr and 'Aṣr and once between Maghrib and 'Ishā'. He did two complete recitations between Maghrib and 'Ishā' in Ramaḍān. They used to delay 'Ishā' in Ramaḍān until a quarter of the night had passed.

We relate in Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Mujāhid used to complete the recitation of the Qur'ān nightly in Ramaḍān between Maghrib and 'Ishā'.

Those who completed a recitation of the Qur'ān in one rak'ah are innumerable. Among them were 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān, Tamīm ad-Dārī, and Sa'īd ibn Jubayr.

This variance is in accordance with the differences between individuals. A person to whom the finer points of knowledge become clear only by meticulous reflection should restrict himself to the amount that will allow him to understand what he is reciting. Likewise, those who are engaged in disseminating knowledge or passing legal judgments between Muslims or other important affairs concerning religion and the benefit and welfare of the general Muslim public should restrict themselves to just enough to fulfil their portion, lest they lose it completely. Anyone not in the above-mentioned categories should increase [their recitation] to the amount they are able to do before becoming exceedingly bored or reciting mindlessly.

A group of the earlier 'ulamā' abhorred reciting the entire Qur'ān in one day. They cite the following as proof.

It is related with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and others that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Āṣ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷻ said: "A person who reads the Qur'ān in less than three days will not understand it."¹

¹ The name of the book is at-Tibyān fī ādāb ḥamalāt al-Qur'ān.

² Al-Futūḥāt (3/232). Ibn al-Kātib's full name is Abū 'Alī, Hasan ibn Aḥmad aṣ-Ṣūfī. He died after the year 340/951-2.

The time for starting a recitation of the entire Qur'ān is up to the reader. If he is one of those who complete a recitation in one week, then [he should bear in mind that] 'Uthmān used to start his recitation on a Thursday night and complete it on a Wednesday night. Imam Abū Ḥamīd al-Ghazālī said in his Iḥyā': "It is best is to complete one recitation at night and another during the day. The completion that is done within a day should be on Monday, during or after the two rak'ahs of Fajr. The completion that is done during the night should be on Thursday, in the ṣalāh of Maghrib or after it. This is so that one may coincide with the beginning and end of the day."

Abū Dāwūd reports that 'Amr ibn Murrah, an esteemed Tābi'ī,² said: "They liked to complete the recitation of the Qur'ān in the first part of the night or the first part of the day".

It is related from Ṭalḥah ibn Muṣarrīf, the great Tābi'ī and Imam, that he said: "Whoever completes the recitation of the Qur'ān any time during the day, the angels invoke blessings upon him until the evening; and if he does so at any time during the night, the angels invoke blessings upon him until the morning. Mujāhid related something similar.

And we relate from the Musnad of the Imam whose power of memorisation, greatness, precision and expertise are unanimously agreed upon, Abū Muḥammad ad-Dārimī, who reported that Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ used to say: "If the completion of the Qur'ān coincides with the beginning of the night, the angels pray for the reciter until morning; and if the completion of the Qur'ān coincides with the end of the night, the angels pray for him until the evening."³ Ad-Dārimī states that this hadith is ḥasan from Sa'd.

THE PREFERRED TIMES FOR RECITATION

Know that the best recitation is that which is in ṣalāh. The view of ash-Shāfi'ī and others is that lengthening the standing in ṣalāh is better than lengthening the sujūd and other acts. As for recitation outside ṣalāh, the best is at night, and the latter half is better than the first. Recitation between Maghrib and Ishā' is mustaḥabb. The best recitation during the day is after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ. It is never makrūh to recite the Qur'ān, even in those times when it is makrūh to perform ṣalāh. As for what Abū Dāwūd reported from Ma'ān ibn Rafā'ah—that his mentors disliked recitation after ¹ Abū Dāwūd (1394), at-Tirmidhī (1950), an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah (1347), and al-Futūḥāt (3/235). Ibn Hajar says that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb and only has one chain.

² Tābi'ī, or Follower, means a person who was of the generation after the Companions of the Prophet of Allah ﷻ.

³ The Sunan of ad-Dārimī (2/470) and al-Futūḥāt (3/238). Ibn Hajar disagrees about this hadith being graded as ḥasan, since its chain contains Layth ibn Abī Salīm (or Sulaym), whose memory was weak, and Muḥammad ibn Ḥāmid, about whom there is a difference of opinion. It seems that it was graded as ṣaḥīḥ owing to its supporting narrations in at-Tadhkīr of al-Qurṭubī, Musnad al-Firdaws, and al-Hilyah.

‘Aṣr because that was the time when the Jews would study—this is to be rejected and has no basis. The preferred days are Friday, Monday and Wednesday and the Day of ‘Arafāt. The preferred ten days are the first ten days of Dhū al-Ḥijjah and the last ten days of Ramaḍān. The best month is the month of Ramaḍān.

THE ETIQUETTES OF COMPLETING THE RECITATION AND RELATED MATTERS

As we have already stated, it is mustaḥabb that the completion of the recitation by a reader reciting on his own be within ṣalāh. It is mustaḥabb for a group completing the recitation together outside ṣalāh to do so at the beginning of the day or the beginning of the night, as already stated. It is mustaḥabb to fast on the day of completion, unless that is one of the days on which it is forbidden to fast. Ṭalḥah ibn Muṣarraf, Muṣayyab ibn Rāfi‘, and Ḥabīb ibn Abī Thābit (Tābi‘ūn from Kūfah) used to fast on the morning that they completed the recitation of the Qur’ān. It is mustaḥabb that those who cannot recite or do not recite well should attend the completion.

And we relate from the two Ṣaḥīḥs that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered menstruating women to come out on the day of ‘Id to experience the goodness and the supplication of the Muslims.¹

We relate in the Musnad of ad-Dārimī, from Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ that he used to appoint a man to watch a Qur’ān reciter. When he was about to complete it, he would inform Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ and he came and witnessed it.²

Ibn Abī Dāwūd narrated with two ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from Qatādah, the esteemed Tābi‘ and Imam and companion of Anas ؓ, that when Anas ibn Mālīk finished a recitation, he gathered his family together and supplicated. Al-Ḥakam ibn ‘Uṭaybah, the esteemed Tābi‘, reported: “Mujāhid and ‘Abdah sent for me and said: ‘We sent for you because we wanted to complete the Qur’ān, and du‘ā’ is accepted upon completion of the Qur’ān.’” He is also reported to have said: “Mercy descends when the recitation of Qur’ān is completed.” It is reported that Mujāhid said: “They would gather together at the completion of a Qur’ān recitation, saying: ‘Mercy is descending.’”³

Du‘ā’ is definitely mustaḥabb upon completing the Qur’ān recitation, for the reasons we have mentioned.

We relate in the Musnad of ad-Dārimī from Ḥumayd ibn al-A‘raj who said: “Whoever recites the Qur’ān and then supplicates, four thousand angels say Āmīn to his du‘ā’.”⁴

One ought to be persistent, to supplicate for important things and to use compre-

1 Al-Bukhārī (974), Muslim (980), Abū Dāwūd (1136), at-Tirmidhī (539), and an-Nasā’ī (3/180).

2 Ad-Dārimī (2/468)

3 Ibn Abī Dāwūd in his work al-Maṣāḥif and al-Futūḥāt (3/244). Ibn Ḥajar describes this hadith as mawqūf ṣaḥīḥ.

4 The Sunan of ad-Dārimī (2/470) and al-Futūḥāt (3/246). Ibn Ḥajar said that it was a maqṭū‘ report (athar), and that its chain is weak; however, the reports from Mujāhid and ‘Abdah in the previous chapter have the same meaning.

hensive and succinct words. The greater part or all of it ought to be for things of the Hereafter, the concerns of the Muslims, and the welfare and guidance of their rulers and those in authority: that they be guided and given the ability to obey Allah and protected from disagreement; that they cooperate in good deeds and in fear of Allah; that they establish the truth and be united in this; and that they have victory over their enemies and all those who oppose them. I have alluded to that in my book on the etiquettes of the reciter. I have mentioned the du'ā's in brief, for those who want to refer to them. It is mustahabb for one recitation to be combined with another when it has been completed. Both earlier and later 'ulamā' have deemed this preferable, citing cite as proof the following hadith.

Anas رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The best of deeds is to dismount and set out." It is said that this means to begin the Qur'ān and to complete it.¹

OVERSLEEPING DURING ONE'S DAILY LITANY OF QUR'ĀN

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, from 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever oversleeps his night's litany or a part of it and then recites it between the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ and the ṣalāh of Zuḥr will have it written for him as though he had recited it at night."²

MEMORISING AND MAINTAINING ONE'S MEMORISATION OF THE QUR'ĀN

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Preserve [i.e. memorise] the Qur'ān; for by Him who holds the life of Muḥammad in His hands, it is more likely to escape [from him] than a camel from its bonds."³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs from Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "For one who keeps company with the Qur'ān, it is like a camel that is bound. If one preserves and maintains it, one will retain it; but if one leaves it loose, it will go away."⁴

And we relate from the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from Anas رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The good deeds of my Ummah were presented to me—even the dirt that a man removes from the mosque—and the bad

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2949) and al-Futūḥāt (3/248). Al-Bayhaqī cites this hadith in Shu'ab al-imān from the hadith of Ibn 'Abbās with a similar meaning. Its chain revolves around Ṣāliḥ al-Murri, whose transmission is weak. Ibn Hajar states that the hadith narrated by Anas is reported by Ibn Abī Dāwūd with a chain containing a liar. It is strange that an-Nawawī only mentions this one, and attributes it to earlier scholars, citing it as a proof, and not mentioning the well-known hadith of Ibn 'Abbās which has been reported by some of the Six and graded as ṣaḥīḥ by some huffāz.

² Muslim (747).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5033) and Muslim (791).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5031), Muslim (789), al-Muwaṭṭa' (1/202), and an-Nasā'ī (2/154).

deeds of my Ummah were presented to me, and I did not find any sin greater than a chapter or verse that a man was granted and then forgot.”¹

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and the Musnad of ad-Dārimī from Sa’d ibn ‘Ubādah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “Whoever recites the Qur’ān and then forgets it will meet Allah on the Day of Judgment leprous.”²

SOME ISSUES AND MATTERS OF COURTESY THAT THE RECITER OUGHT TO BE CAREFUL ABOUT

These are numerous. We will mention a few of them, omitting the sources lest the reader become bored and the book unduly lengthy. The first thing that the reciter is enjoined to do is to be sincere in recitation, and to seek the pleasure of Allah ؓ thereby, not seeking to gain anything else. He should follow the proper etiquette of the Qur’ān and remember in his heart that he is having a private conversation with Allah and that he is reciting His Book. So he should recite it as though he could see Him, for even if he cannot see Him Allah ؓ sees him.

ON USING MISWĀK BEFORE RECITING QUR’ĀN AND THE MANNER OF DOING SO

One ought, when about to recite the Qur’ān, to clean the mouth with a siwāk. It is preferable that the siwāk be from a twig of the Arak tree, but it is permissible with any other twig, and with Cyperus, potash or saltwort, or with a coarse rag or anything else that cleans. The siwāk should be used horizontally, starting from the right side of the mouth, and one should make the intention to fulfil the Sunnah. When using siwāk one should say: O Allah, bless me in it, O Most Merciful of those who show mercy.

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لِي فِيهِ يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

Allāhumma bārik lī fihi yā Arḥama-r-Rāḥimīn.

One should brush the outer and inner recesses of the teeth, and move the siwāk over the extremities of the teeth and the seat of the molars, and lightly over the roof of the throat. A siwāk should be a twig of medium hardness, not too dry and not too soft. If it is very dry, it should be softened with water.

If one’s mouth is impure with blood or something else, then it is disapproved of to recite the Qur’ān before washing it. As to whether or not it is ḥarām, there are two views on that, the more sound of which is that it is not ḥarām; this matter has already been examined at the beginning of the book. In this section there are some matters remaining which were mentioned previously in the introductory sections at the beginning of the book.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (461), at-Tirmidhī (2917), who states that this is a gharīb hadith, and al-Futūḥāt (3/351). We do not know of it except from this transmission, but Ibn Ḥajar cites some other narrations which support it.

² Abū Dāwūd (1474), ad-Dārimī (2/437).

CAREFULLY CONSIDERING THE QUR'ĀN, AND THE RECOMMENDATION TO WEEP OR TRY TO WEEP WHILE RECITING IT

The reciter ought to be in a state of humility, contemplation and submission. This is the desired objective and through this the breast will expand and the heart be illuminated. The proofs of this are too many to enumerate and too well-known to mention. A group of our pious predecessors spent the whole night with one such reciter, who only recited one verse while they meditated on its meaning. Some of them fell unconscious and some of them passed away.

It is mustahabb to weep—or to try to weep if one is unable to. Weeping during recitation is one of the traits of the erudite and a hallmark of the righteous servants of Allah. Allah ﷻ says: “They fall down on their faces in tears, and it increases them in awe.”¹

﴿وَيَخِرُّونَ لِلْأَذْقَانِ يَبْكُونَ وَيَزِيدُهُمْ خُشُوعًا﴾

I have also mentioned many traditions that are transmitted on that subject in at-Tibyān fī ādāb ḥamalāt al-Qur'ān.

The Sayyid, the great, the one given miraculous feats (ṣāhib al-karāmāt), the Knower of Allah, the gifted and the subtle Ibrāhīm al-Khawwāṣ said: “The panacea of the heart is in five things: recitation of Qur'ān with contemplation and consideration, emptiness of the stomach, standing in ṣalāh during the night, humility and submission in the last part of the night, and sitting in the gatherings of the pious.”

Recitation of the Qur'ān from the *muṣḥaf*² is better than reciting from memory. Thus say our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, and it is well-known from the sayings of the pious predecessors. But this is not so under all circumstances. If the reciter from memory attains more reflection, contemplation, presence of heart and insight than he would attain by reciting from the muṣḥaf, then it is better for him to recite from memory. If they are equal, then reciting from the muṣḥaf is better. That is the view of the predecessors.

RAISING AND LOWERING THE VOICE IN RECITATION

There are narrations about the merit of reciting aloud, and narrations about the merit of reciting silently. According to the learned, to find the middle ground between these views, reciting silently is further from ostentation and it is better for one who is afraid of committing it. If one does not fear ostentation reading aloud is better, as long as one does not disturb those who are engaged in ṣalāh, sleeping and so on. The proof of the merit of reciting aloud is that the effort needed for it is greater, and it allows others to benefit from it. It awakens the heart of the reciter, combines his attention with contemplation, turns his hearing towards it because it wards off sleep, increases his zeal, and wakes up others who are sleeping or forgetful and motivates them. If any of these intentions apply, reciting aloud is better.

¹ Qur'ān 17 :109.

² Muṣḥaf means the written text of Qur'ān.

CLARIFICATION OF WHAT IS RECOMMENDED IN RECITATION AND WHAT IS PROHIBITED

It is mustahabb to beautify the voice in recitation, and to ornament it as long as one does not go beyond of the limits of recitation by elongating [the words], for if he goes to excess to such an extent that he adds a letter or omits a letter then it is haram. As for recitation with melodies, it is as we have mentioned: if one goes to excess it is haram, but otherwise it is not. The hadiths in the sense that we have mentioned concerning making the voice beautiful are numerous and very well-known in the Ṣaḥīḥ and elsewhere, and I have mentioned in Ādāb al-qurrā' a number of them.

EXPLAINING WHAT IS RECOMMENDED FOR THE RECITER IF HE STARTS FROM THE MIDDLE OF A SŪRAH OR STOPS

It is mustahabb for the reciter, if he starts the recitation in the middle of a chapter, to start from a phrase that is not linked to another, and likewise to stop at the end of a phrase and statement. The point where he starts or ends should not be related to the thirtieth parts of the Qur'ān (ajzā'), the sixtieth parts of the Qur'ān (aḥzāb) or the tenths thereof. This is because many of them are in the middle of phrases and statements that are linked to one other. One should not be deceived by the large number of those who do what is forbidden and who do not take heed of the etiquettes of recitation.

Al-Fuḍayl ibn 'Iyād said: "Do not feel lonely on the path of guidance because of the small number that are on it, and do not be deceived by the large number of those who are ruined."

For this reason the 'ulamā'' say that to recite a complete chapter is better than reciting the equivalent [in length] from the long chapters. This is because the connection is obscure to many or most people in certain circumstances and places.

CLARIFICATION OF A REPUDIATED INNOVATION COMMITTED BY MANY IGNORANT PEOPLE WHEN PRAYING

One of the repudiated innovations which some of those who lead people in the ṣalāh of Tarāwīḥ commit is that of reciting the whole of Sūrat al-An'ām in the last rak'ah of the seventh night [of Ramaḍān]. They also believe it to be mustahabb, claiming that it was revealed all at once. They perpetrate various other abominations. Among these are believing that it is mustahabb, making the common people believe this, making the second rak'ah longer than the first, making the ṣalāh too long for the followers, prattling in their recitation, and going to extremes in shortening the rak'ah before it.

ON THE PERMISSIBILITY OF SAYING 'SŪRAT AL-BAQARAH', OR THE 'RECITATION OF SO-AND-SO' AND THE LIKE

It is permissible to speak of Sūrat al-Baqarah, Sūrat Āl 'Imrān, Sūrat an-Nisā', Sūrat al-'Ankabūt and so on; it is not makrūh. Some of the earlier 'ulamā' say it is makrūh. According to them, one should say "the chapter in which the cow is mentioned," "the chapter in which women are mentioned", etc. The first opinion is more correct, being the opinion of the majority of the 'ulamā' of the earlier and later Muslims. The hadiths reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ supporting this view are innumerable, as are the sayings of the Companions and those after them. Similarly, it is not makrūh to say: 'This is the recitation of Abū 'Amr', 'This is the recitation of Ibn Kathīr', and so on. This is the sound and authoritative position on which was based the practice of the first community (salaf) and the later generations (khalaf) without any repudiation. It has been narrated from Ibrāhīm an-Nakha'i, may Allah be merciful to him, that he said, "They used to disapprove of 'the Sunnah of so-and-so' and 'the recitation of so-and-so'"; but the correct position is as stated above.

THE DISAPPROVAL OR PERMISSIBILITY OF SAYING CERTAIN THINGS UPON FORGETTING A PORTION OF THE QUR'ĀN

It is makrūh to say: 'I forgot such-and-such a chapter.' One should rather say: 'I was made to forget it' or 'It has escaped my memory.'

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should say 'I forgot such-and-such a verse'; in fact he was made to forget."¹ According to another hadith he said: "It is vile for anyone to say 'I forgot such-and-such a verse'; in fact he was made to forget it."

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard a man reciting and said: "May Allah have mercy on him! He has reminded me of a verse that had slipped my mind." According to another version of the Ṣaḥīḥ he said: "that I was made to forget."²

EXPLANATION THAT THERE ARE MANY RULES FOR RECITATION AND THAT WHOEVER WISHES FOR MORE SHOULD REFER TO THEM

Know that the rules for the reciter and recitation cannot be [fully] studied and comprehended except in lengthy tomes. But we wanted to allude to some of the important points of what we have mentioned in these brief sections. We have already mentioned the etiquettes of performing dhikr and reciting Qur'ān in the chapters at the beginning of the book. We have mentioned in the adhkār of ṣalāh a number of the rules relating to recitation. We have also made reference to the book at-Tibyān fī ādāb ḥamalāt al-Qur'ān, for those who wish for more. All ability is from Allah, and He is Sufficient for me and Excellent as a Guardian.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5032), Muslim (790), with a slight variation in the wording, at-Tirmidhī (2943), and an-Nasā'ī (2/154).

² Al-Bukhārī (5042), Muslim (788), and Abū Dāwūd (1331).

URGING PERSEVERANCE IN THE RECITATION OF THE QUR'ĀN

Know that the recitation of Qur'ān is the most emphasised of all adhkār, so it is essential to be consistent in it, and not to miss it even for one day or night. One will fulfil the essential conditions of recitation by reciting a few verses.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites fifty verses in [the space of] a day and night will not be recorded as one of the neglectful; whoever recites one hundred verses will be recorded as one of the obedient; on the Day of Judgment the Qur'ān will not argue against anyone who recites two hundred verses; and whoever recites five hundred verses will have a *qinṭār*¹ of reward written for him." Another hadith has "Whoever recites forty verses" instead of "fifty," and another narration states "twenty."²

And in a narration from Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه, he reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites ten verses will not be recorded among the neglectful." There are many hadiths on the same subject.

There are numerous hadiths about reciting specific chapters during the day and night. Among these are Yā Sīn, Tabārak (al-Mulk), al-Wāqī'ah, and ad-Dukhān.³

Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites Sūrah Yā Sīn during the day and the night, seeking the Face of Allah, will be forgiven."⁴

Another narration says: "Whoever recites Sūrat ad-Dukhān will wake up forgiven."⁵

According to another hadith, Ibn Mas'ūd narrated that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Whoever recites Sūrat al-Wāqī'ah every night will not be afflicted with poverty."⁶

Jābir reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not go to sleep until he had recited Alif Lām Mīm, Tanzil al-Kitāb and Tabārak (al-Mulk).⁷

Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites Idhā zulzilati-l-arḍ in a night will get a reward equal to half of the Qur'ān; whoever recites Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn will get a reward equal to a quarter of the Qur'ān; and whoever recites Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad will get a reward equal to a third of the Qur'ān."⁸

¹ Qinṭār is a variously defined measure of weight. It is sometimes translated simply as 'a heap'.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (676, 677) and al-Futūḥāt (3/275). There are other supporting narrations, as mentioned by Ibn Hajar.

³ Qur'ān 36, 67, 56, 44.

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (679).

⁵ Ibn as-Sunnī (684).

⁶ Ibn as-Sunnī (685) and al-Futūḥāt (3/280). Ibn Mas'ūd would order his daughters to recite it each night. The chain of the hadith is weak because of the break in transmission between Abū Dhabyyyah and Ibn Mas'ūd.

⁷ Qur'ān 32 (also known as as-Sajdah), 67. Ibn as-Sunnī (680). Ibn Hajar observes that its chain contains some weakness.

⁸ Ibn as-Sunnī (691).

In another hadith it is said: "Whoever recites the Verse of the Throne and Hā Mīm will be protected on that day from all evil."¹

There are many hadiths similar to those we have mentioned. We have indicated what is the essence of the matter. And Allah knows best what is correct. To Him belong all praise and gratitude; and all ability and protection come from Him.

71

PRAISE OF ALLAH ﷻ

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Say: Praise belongs to Allah, and peace be upon His servants whom He has chosen."²

﴿قُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَسَلَامٌ عَلَىٰ عِبَادِهِ الَّذِينَ اصْطَفَىٰ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And say: Praise belongs to Allah; He will surely show you His signs."³

﴿وَقُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ سَيُرِيكُمْ آيَاتِهِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Say: Praise belongs to Allah, Who has had no son."⁴

﴿وَقُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي لَمْ يَتَّخِذْ وَلَدًا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "If you are grateful, I will assuredly increase you (in favours)."⁵

﴿لَئِنْ شَكَرْتُمْ لَأَزِيدَنَّكُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Then remember Me, and I will remember you. Be grateful to Me, and not thankful."⁶

﴿فَاذْكُرُونِي أَذْكُرْكُمْ وَاشْكُرُوا لِي وَلَا تَكْفُرُونِ﴾

The verses that explicitly tell us to praise and show gratitude to Allah, and that mention the merits of doing so, are many and well-known.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (692).

² Qur'ān 27:59.

³ Qur'ān 27:93.

⁴ Qur'ān 17:111.

⁵ Qur'ān 14:7.

⁶ Qur'ān 2:152.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah, and from the Musnad of Abū 'Awānah al-Isfarā'inī extracted (mukharraj) from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, may Allah have mercy on him, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: "Every action of importance that is not started with the praise of Allah is defective and devoid of blessings."¹ According to another hadith he said: "Every speech that is not started with the praise of Allah is mutilated." According to another hadith he said: "Every important undertaking that is not started with In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful is defective."

And we relate all these wordings in the Kitāb al-Arba'in of al-Ḥāfiẓ 'Abd al-Qādir ar-Ruhāwī. It is a ḥasan hadith which has been narrated in mawṣūl form, as we mentioned, and in mursal form; and the mawṣūl form has an excellent isnād. When a hadith is narrated in both mawṣūl and mursal form then according to the majority of the 'ulamā' the ruling on it is that it is mawṣūl, because it is an additional trustworthy narrator which is acceptable according to the masses [of the people of knowledge].

The meaning of 'of importance' (dhū bāl) is that its circumstances are of some concern. The meaning of 'defective and devoid of blessings' (aqṭa') is that it has a shortcoming and little blessing in it. 'Mutilated' (ajdham) has the same sense, and it is spelt with jīm and dhāl.

CLARIFYING THE CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH PRAISE OF ALLAH IS RECOMMENDED

According to the 'ulamā', it is mustaḥabb for every author, student, teacher, preacher and suitor to begin speaking with the praise of Allah and to mention it in all important matters. Ash-Shāfi'ī said: "I like a man to praise Allah, extol Him ؐ and invoke blessings on the Messenger of Allah ؐ before proposing [marriage] and before anything else that he may wish."

Know that saying 'al-ḥamdu li-llāh' is mustaḥabb in every important matter, as was already mentioned. It is also mustaḥabb after eating, drinking and sneezing and when proposing to a woman. Furthermore, it is mustaḥabb on making a marriage contract and on coming out of the lavatory. The explanation of these [cases] will come in the relevant chapters, together with the proof and a discussion of the rulings, if Allah desires. We have already mentioned what to say on coming out of the lavatory. It is mustaḥabb in written books, for teachers giving lessons, and for students when reading, whether they read hadith, jurisprudence or any other subject, to begin with the praise of Allah. The best wording for this is Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4840) and Ibn Mājah (1894). Al-Mundhiri said it was reported by an-Nasā'ī in a musnad and mursal form.

EXPLANATION OF WHAT IS A FUNDAMENTAL MATTER AND WHAT IS A PRECONDITION OF THE KHUṬBAH OF THE JUMU'AH ETC.

The praise of Allah is a basic element of the sermon on Friday and at other times, without which it is not valid. The mandatory minimum is Praise be to Allah. It is best to augment the exaltation. The details of this are commonly found in books of jurisprudence. It is essential that it be in Arabic.

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO BEGIN AND CONCLUDE A DU'Ā' WITH PRAISE OF ALLAH

It is mustahabb to conclude supplications (da'awāt) with the praise of Allah, Lord of the Worlds. They should likewise commence with the praise of Allah. Allah ﷻ says: "And the end of their prayer will be: 'Praise be to Allah, the Lord and Sustainer of the Universe.'"¹

﴿وَأَخِرُ دَعْوَاهُمْ أَنِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ﴾

The proof that it is essential to start da'awāt with praise and glorification of Allah will be cited in the chapter on salutations upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, if Allah wishes.

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO PRAISE ALLAH ON RECEIVING A BLESSING OR AVOIDING SOMETHING UNPLEASANT

Praising Allah is mustahabb when one is shown kindness or is diverted from something abhorrent, whether from oneself, a friend, or the Muslims in general.

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was brought two goblets on the night that he was taken to heaven. One contained wine and the other contained milk. He looked at them and chose the milk. Jibrīl ﷺ said: "Praise be to Allah, Who guided you to the natural religion. If you had taken the wine your Ummah would have gone astray."²

EXPLANATION OF WHAT A SLAVE OF ALLAH SHOULD SAY IF ONE OF HIS CHILDREN DIES

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī and others, from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ﷺ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When the son of one of Allah's servants passes away, Allah ﷻ asks His angels: 'Have you taken the son of My servant?' They reply: 'Yes.' He asks: 'Did you take away the fruit of his heart?' They say: 'Yes.' He says: 'What did My servant say?' They say: 'He praised You and said "Verily we are from

¹ Qur'ān 10:10.

² Muslim (168).

Allah and verily to Him do we return.” Allah ﷻ says: ‘Build a house for My servant and name it The House of Praise.’¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is hasan.

The hadiths regarding the virtues of ḥamd are many and well-known. We have already mentioned in the first part of this book the ṣaḥīḥ narrations on the excellence of saying ‘Subhāna-llāh, al-ḥamdu li-llāh’ and the like.

According to the latter-day scholars among our [Shāfi‘ī] colleagues in Khurāsān, if a man makes a vow to praise Allah ﷻ with the most comprehensive praise—or, as one of them said, ‘with the most magnificent of praise’—then he may fulfil that vow by saying: Praise be to Allah, such praise as fully befits His favours and suffices for increase from Him.”

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ حَمْدًا يُؤَافِي نِعَمَهُ وَيُكَافِيهِ مَزِيدَهُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh ḥamdan yuwāfi ni‘amahu wa yukāfi‘u mazīdah.

The meaning of ‘befits His favours’ (yuwāfi ni‘amahu) i.e. corresponding to them so that they are produced along with it. ‘Suffices’ (yukāfi‘u) with a hamzah on the end: that is, it matches the increase in His blessings, means that one undertakes to show gratitude for the blessings and good treatment He has granted by way of increase.

It has been said that if one makes a vow to extol Allah ﷻ with the best exaltation, the way to fulfil that vow is to say: I am unable to exalt You sufficiently; You are as You have praised Yourself.

لَا أَحْصِي ثَنَاءً عَلَيْكَ، أَنْتَ كَمَا أَثْنَيْتَ عَلَى نَفْسِكَ.

Lā uḥṣī thanā’an ‘alayk, Anta kamā athnayta ‘alā nafsik.

Some say that one should add at the end of the du‘ā: And so to You be praise enough to please You.

فَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ حَتَّى تَرْضَى.

Fa-laka-l-ḥamdu ḥattā tardā.

Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī pictured the case of someone who swears an oath to praise Allah with most magnificent praises and the greatest of them and adds at the beginning of the dhikr: Glory be to You.

سُبْحَانَكَ.

Subḥānak.

There is also a tradition from Abū Naṣr at-Tammār from Muḥammad ibn an-Naḍr, who stated that Adam ﷺ said: “O Lord, You have kept me occupied with earning by my hands, so teach me something that contains complete praise and exaltation.”

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1021), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharib, and al-Futūḥāt (3/296). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

So Allah ﷻ revealed to him: "O Adam, say thrice when you get up in the morning and thrice in the evening: Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds—such praise as fully befits His favours and suffices for increase from Him. That will be complete praise and glorification." And Allah knows best.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ حَمْدًا يُؤَافِي نِعَمَهُ وَيُكَافِيهِ مَزِيدَهُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh ḥamdan yuwāfi ni'amahu wa yukāfi'u mazīdah.

PRAYING FOR BLESSINGS UPON THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH ﷺ

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Allah and His angels invoke blessings upon the Prophet. O you who believe, pray for blessings upon him, and salute him with complete devotion."¹

﴿إِنَّ اللَّهَ وَمَلَائِكَتَهُ يُصَلُّونَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ يَا أَيُّهَا
الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا صَلُّوا عَلَيْهِ وَسَلِّمُوا تَسْلِيمًا﴾

The hadiths on its merit and those exhorting us to say it are too numerous to be counted; but we will mention a few of these, drawing attention to some others and seeking blessings for this book by virtue of their being mentioned.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ ﷺ, who related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Anyone who prays to Allah for blessings upon me receives ten blessings himself."²

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ﷺ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever prays for one blessing upon me, Allah will send ten blessings upon him."³

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ﷺ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The person who will be most deserving and the closest to me on the Day of Judgment will be the one who prayed for the most blessings upon me."⁴ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan. At-Tirmidhī also states that in the same section there are narrations from 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf, 'Āmir ibn Rabī'ah, 'Ammār and Abū Ṭalḥah, Anas and Ubayy ibn Ka'b, may Allah be pleased with them all.

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah with

¹ Qur'ān 33:56.

² Muslim (384), Abū Dāwūd (523), at-Tirmidhī (3619), and an-Nasā'ī (2/25).

³ Muslim (408), Abū Dāwūd (1530), at-Tirmidhī (485), and an-Nasā'ī (3/50).

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (484), with a slight variation in the wording.

ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Aws ibn Aws ؓ, who reported, "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'One of your best days is Friday, so pray for blessings upon me more on Fridays, for your blessings will be presented to me.' They said: 'O Messenger of Allah, how will our blessings be presented to you when aramta?' "(The narrator explained that this means 'you have decomposed'.) "He ﷺ said: 'Allah has made the bodies of the Prophets unlawful for the earth [to consume].'"¹

I say aramta has fathah on the letter rā', sukūn on the letter mīm and fathah on the letter tā'. Al-Khaṭṭābī said that originally it was armamta but one of the mīms was omitted, which is a dialect form used by some Arabs, as when they say: 'I continued (ẓaltu) to do that' i.e. ẓalaltu, which is a comparable instance of a similar nature. Others have said it means arammat 'it decomposed' with fathah on the letter rā' and double vowel letter mīm, with a vowel on the letter tā' which means 'the bones decomposed'. It is also said that there are other opinions. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd at the end of the Book of Ḥajj in the section on visiting graves with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not make my grave a place of celebration but pray for blessings upon me, for your blessings reach me wherever you are."²

We also relate from the same source, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No-one sends a greeting to me without Allah returning my soul to me so that I may reply to his greeting."³

73

THE ORDER TO THOSE IN WHOSE PRESENCE THE MESSENGER ﷺ IS MENTIONED TO PRAY FOR BLESSINGS AND SALUTATIONS UPON HIM

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Woe betide the man in whose presence I am mentioned and who does not pray for blessings upon me."⁴ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a good isnād from Anas ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When I am mentioned in anyone's presence, let him pray for blessings upon me, because whoever prays for blessings upon me once, Allah will send ten blessings upon him."⁵

1 Abū Dāwūd (1047), an-Nasā'ī (3/91), and Ibn Mājah (1085).

2 Abū Dāwūd (2042).

3 Abū Dāwūd (2041). Its chain of narration is ṣaḥīḥ. See al-Futūḥāt (3/316).

4 At-Tirmidhī (3539) and al-Futūḥāt (3/319). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

5 Ibn as-Sunnī (382) and an-Nasā'ī (61) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

We relate in the same source, with a weak isnād from Jābir ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Anyone in whose presence I am mentioned but who does not invoke blessings upon me is made wretched."¹

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Alī ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The miser is he in whose presence I am mentioned and who does not then pray for blessings upon me."² At-Tirmidhī classed this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We have also related it from the book of an-Nasā'ī from the narration of al-Ḥusayn ibn 'Alī ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ.

The Imam Abū 'Isā at-Tirmidhī said about this hadith: "It is related from one of the people of knowledge that he said that if a person invokes blessing upon the Prophet ﷺ once in a gathering, that is enough for him to make up for whatever may have happened in that gathering".

74

HOW TO PRAY FOR BLESSINGS UPON THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH ﷺ

WE HAVE MENTIONED praying for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and matters related to it in the Book on the adhkār of ṣalāh. We have explained the most complete formulas as well as the minimum. Although some of our colleagues and the Mālikī Ibn Abī Zayd hold that it is mustaḥabb to add 'And have mercy on Muḥammad and the family of Muḥammad', it is a baseless innovation. The Mālikī Imam Abū Bakr Ibn al-'Arabī has gone to some lengths in his book Sharḥ at-Tirmidhī to repudiate that and criticise Ibn Abī Zayd for it, and has declared those who practice it ignorant. He said this because the Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught us the way to pray for blessings upon him, so any addition to that would amount to considering his words inadequate and to correcting a shortcoming on his part. And all success is by Allah.

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO ASK FOR BOTH BLESSINGS AND PEACE UPON THE PROPHET ﷺ

When one asks for blessings on the Prophet ﷺ one should ask for both blessings and peace and not confine oneself to one of them, and not say 'May Allah bless him' on its own or 'peace be upon him' on its own.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (383).

² At-Tirmidhī (3540), an-Nasā'ī (55) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah, and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/549), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees. Its chain of narration is graded as ḥasan in al-Futūḥāt (3/323).

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO RAISE THE VOICE IN ASKING FOR BLESSINGS AND PEACE UPON THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH ﷺ WHEN HE IS MENTIONED DURING THE READING OF HADITHS AND IN THE TALBIYAH

It is mustahabb for anyone reading hadiths or the like to raise his voice in praying for blessings and greetings when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ is mentioned. However, one should not exaggerate by raising his voice excessively. One of those who stipulated that one should raise one's voice is the Imam and Ḥāfiẓ Abū Bakr al-Khaṭīb al-Baghdādī, among others. I have carried that over to the sciences of hadith.

The 'ulamā' among our colleagues and others specify that it is recommended to raise the voice in asking for blessings and peace upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in the talbiyah. And Allah knows best.

75

BEGINNING DU'Ā' BY INVOKING BLESSINGS AND SALUTATIONS UPON THE MESSENGER ﷺ

WE HAVE RELATED in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī from Fuḍālah ibn 'Ubayd ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard a man supplicating in his ṣalāh who did not magnify Allah or pray for blessings on the Messenger ﷺ. So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ observed: "This man has rushed." Then he called him and told him him or someone else: "When any one of you performs ṣalāh, he should begin with the magnification of his Lord ﷻ and extol Him; next he should pray for blessings on the Messenger ﷺ; and after that he should supplicate for whatever he wants."¹ At-Tirmidhī describes this as a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We related in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ said: "Du'ā' is halted between Heaven and Earth; none of it will ascend [to Allah] until you have prayed for blessings upon your Prophet ﷺ."²

I say: the 'ulamā' are unanimous that it is mustahabb to start du'ā' by praising Allah ﷻ and extolling Him, and then to invoke blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. The du'ā' should also be concluded with them. The narrations in this regard are many and well-known."

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3473), Abū Dāwūd (1481), an-Nasā'ī (3/44), and al-Ḥākim (1/231), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² At-Tirmidhī (486) and al-Futūḥāt (3/334). It is mawqūf and its chain contains Abū Qurrah al-Asadī, about whom neither his name nor his trustworthiness are known.

PRAYING FOR BLESSINGS UPON THE PROPHETS AND THEIR DESCENDANTS IN SUCCESSION, MAY ALLAH BLESS THEM AND GRANT THEM PEACE

The 'ulamā' agree about sending salutations to our Prophet Muḥammad ﷺ, and they likewise agree about the permissibility and the merit of invoking blessings upon all of the Prophets and angels independently. As for persons other than the Prophets, the majority are of the opinion that blessings (ṣalawāt) are not to be invoked on them. So one cannot say 'Abū Bakr, may Allah bless him'. However, there is disagreement over this prohibition. Some of our colleagues say it is ḥarām. The majority say that it is makrūh tanzīhī. Others say that it is not proper, but it is not makrūh. The correct view is that it is makrūh tanzīhī, because it is one of the rites of the innovators and we are forbidden to perform their rites. Makrūh is something about which a specific prohibition has been narrated.

Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues say that what is reliable in that regard is that, in the usage of the first community, asking for ṣalawāt blessings came to be used specifically for the Prophets, may Allah bless them and grant them peace, just as we say 'Mighty and Majestic is He' exclusively of Allah ﷻ.

One cannot say: 'Muḥammad, mighty and majestic is He', even though he is mighty and great. Likewise, one cannot say for Abū Bakr or 'Alī, 'may Allah bless him', even though the meaning and purport of that are correct.

They agree that it is permissible to make others besides the Prophets follow them and share in their blessings. One may therefore say: "O Allah, bless Muḥammad and the family of Muḥammad and his Companions, wives, offspring and followers," because of the authentic hadiths on the subject. We have been commanded to do this in the tashahhud, and the first community continued doing that outside the ṣalāh as well.

As for asking for peace, Abū Muḥammad al-Juwaynī, one of our colleagues, holds that it is like invoking blessings (ṣalawāt) and cannot be done for anyone who is absent; nor should it be done for an individual other than the Prophets. One cannot say 'Alī, upon him be peace.' This applies whether the person is alive or deceased. A person who is present, however, may be addressed with: 'Peace be upon you'—salām 'alayk, salām 'alaykum, as-salām 'alayk, as-salām 'alaykum. There is unanimity about this. The explanation of this will come in the relevant chapter, if Allah wills.

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO ASK FOR THE PLEASURE AND MERCY OF ALLAH FOR THE COMPANIONS AND THE FOLLOWERS AND THOSE WHO CAME AFTER THEM

It is mustaḥabb to seek the pleasure and mercy of Allah upon the Companions, the Tābi'ūn, the 'ulamā' who came after them, the worshippers of Allah, and all good people. One may say: 'may Allah be pleased with him' (raḍiya-llāhu 'anhu), or 'may Allah have mercy on him' (raḥimahu-llāh). Some 'ulamā' say that 'may Allah be pleased with him' is specific and exclusively for the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Others say that for others, only raḥimahu-llāh 'may Allah have mercy on him' may be used. That is not so. The correct view is that it is mustaḥabb, and the proofs of this are innumerable. When a Companion and his son are mentioned, one should say: raḍiya-llāhu 'anhumā—may Allah be pleased with both of them. After Ibn 'Umar's name one should say the same, and likewise with Ibn 'Abbās, Ibn az-Zubayr, Ibn Ja'far and Usāmah ibn Zayd, to include all their fathers.

WHAT IS TO BE SAID AFTER MENTIONING SAYYIDUNĀ
LUQMĀN AND SAYYIDAH MARYAM

One might ask: if Luqmān and Maryam are mentioned, ought one to invoke salutations upon them as one would with the rest of the Prophets? Or is one to salute them [with words] like 'Allah be pleased with him or her' as in the case of the Companions and the awliyā? Or ought one to say 'upon them be peace'? The answer to that question is that the majority of scholars do not consider them to be Prophets; anyone who considers them Prophets has erred, and it is not permissible to hold such an opinion. This has been explained by me in the book Tahdhīb al-asmā' wa-l-lughāt, if one wants to know more. One of the scholars said words from which it is to be understood that he means: 'Luqmān or Maryam, may Allah bless the Prophets and him or her and grant them peace . . .'. He said that is because both are exalted above the state of those about whom one says 'may Allah be pleased with them' according to texts in the Mighty Qur'ān which exalt them. There is no harm in holding this view, but it would be preferable to say 'Allah be pleased with him or her'. That is a fitting thing to say for someone who is not a Prophet; and they have not been proven to be Prophets. Imām al-Ḥaramayn [Al-Juwaynī] has transmitted in his book al-Irshād the consensus that Maryam is not a Prophet. If someone does say 'upon him or her be peace', then there is no apparent harm in that. And Allah knows best.

77

THE DU'Ā' OF ISTIKHĀRAH

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ﷺ reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to teach us how to seek guidance in all our affairs, just as he would teach us a sūrah from the Qur'ān. He said: 'When any one of you intends to do anything then he should perform two rak'ahs of supererogatory ṣalāh. Then he should say: O Allah, I seek guidance from You through Your knowledge; I seek strength through Your omnipotence; and I implore You through Your immense grace. For You have power and I have no power, You know and I do not know, and You are the Knower of all unseen things. O Allah, if You know that this matter is good for me in my religion, my livelihood and my ultimate destiny (or he said: my immediate concern and its final outcome) then decree it for me, make it easy for me and bless me in it. But if You know that this matter is bad for me in my religion, my livelihood and my ultimate destiny (or he said: my immediate concern and its final outcome) then turn it away from me and turn me away from it and decree good for me wherever it may be, then make me pleased with it. Then you should mention your need.”¹ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْتَخِيرُكَ بِعِلْمِكَ، وَأَسْتَقْدِرُكَ بِقُدْرَتِكَ، وَأَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ فَضْلِكَ الْعَظِيمِ، فَإِنَّكَ تَقْدِرُ وَلَا أَقْدِرُ، وَتَعْلَمُ وَلَا أَعْلَمُ، وَأَنْتَ عَلَّامُ الْغُيُوبِ. اللَّهُمَّ إِنْ كُنْتَ تَعْلَمُ أَنَّ هَذَا الْأَمْرَ خَيْرٌ لِي فِي دِينِي وَمَعَاشِي وَعَاقِبَةِ أَمْرِي—أَوْ قَالَ: عَاجِلِ أَمْرِي وَآجِلِهِ—فَاقْضِهِ لِي وَيَسِّرْهُ لِي، ثُمَّ بَارِكْ لِي فِيهِ، وَإِنْ كُنْتَ تَعْلَمُ أَنَّ هَذَا الْأَمْرَ شَرٌّ لِي فِي دِينِي وَمَعَاشِي وَعَاقِبَةِ أَمْرِي—أَوْ قَالَ: فِي عَاجِلِ أَمْرِي وَآجِلِهِ—فَاصْرِفْهُ عَنِّي وَاصْرِفْنِي عَنْهُ، وَاقْضُ لِيَ الْخَيْرَ حَيْثُ كَانَ، ثُمَّ أَرْضِنِي بِهِ.

Allāhumma innī astakhīruka bi-‘ilmik, wa astaqdiruka bi-qudratik, wa as’aluka min faḍlika-l-‘azīm, fa-innaka taqdiru wa lā aqdir, wa ta’lamu wa la a’lam, wa Anta ‘Allāmu-l-ghuyūb. Allāhumma in kunta ta’lamu anna hādha-l-amra khayrun li fī dīnī wa ma’āshī wa ‘āqibati amrī—or: ‘ājili amrī wa ājilihi—fa-qdurhu li wa yassirhu li, thumma bārik li fih, wa in kunta ta’lamu anna hādha-l-amra sharrun li fī dīnī wa ma’āshī wa ‘āqibati amrī—or: fī ‘ājili amrī wa ājilihi—fa-ṣrifhu ‘anni wa-ṣrifnī ‘anhu wa-qdur li-l-khayra ḥaythu kān, thumma arḍinī bih.

According to the ‘ulamā’, it is mustaḥabb to perform istikhārah with ṣalāh and the above-mentioned du‘ā’. The ṣalāh should be two rak‘ahs of supererogatory ṣalāh. What is commonly accepted is that it can be done with two rak‘ahs of regular Sunnah ṣalāh, or with the ṣalāh of greeting the mosque or other nawāfil.

One should recite Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn (“Say: O you who reject faith”) in the first rak‘ah and Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad (“Say: He is Allah, One”) in the second. If it is difficult for one to perform ṣalāh, one may do the istikhārah with du‘ā’. It is mustaḥabb to begin the du‘ā’ with the praise of Allah and blessings and salutations on the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Istikhārah is mustaḥabb in all affairs, as has been explained in an authentic hadith. Once a person has performed istikhārah, he should go towards that to which his heart inclines. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6382), Abū Dāwūd (1538), at-Tirmidhī (480), and an-Nasā’ī (6/80–81) in al-Mujtabā and (498) in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī, with a weak isnād which at-Tirmidhī, as well as others, considered weak, that Abū Bakr ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ wanted something he would say: "O Allah, choose for me and decide for me."¹

اللَّهُمَّ خَيْرْ لِي وَاخْتَرْ لِي

Allāhumma khir lī wa-khtar lī.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Anas, when you intend to do something, seek the guidance of your Lord seven times. Then look at what comes first to your heart, for the good is in it."² This hadith's isnād is irregular: it contains some individuals who are not known to me.

78

DU'Ā' AGAINST AFFLICTION AND DU'Ā' FOR IMPORTANT CONCERNS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in times of difficulty: "There is no god but Allah, the Tremendous, the Clement. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the heavens and the earth and Lord of the Noble Throne."³ And in a narration of Muslim there is, "When the Prophet ﷺ was distressed by some concern . . . he would say that." His words 'ḥazabahu amrun' mean 'when an important matter arose' or 'when he was afflicted by distress'.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْعَظِيمُ الْحَلِيمُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، لَا
إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَرَبُّ الْأَرْضِ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-'Aẓīmu-l-Halīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'aẓīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu, Rabbu-s-samāwāti wa Rabbu-l-arḍi Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-karīm.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from Anas ؓ, who reported that when something was difficult for him the Prophet ﷺ used to say: "O Living and Everlasting, I seek help through Your Mercy."⁴ According to al-Ḥākim, this hadith has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

1 At-Tirmidhī (3511). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb, as stated by at-Tirmidhī and al-Bazzār. Zanafal is the only person to have reported it.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (603) and al-Futūḥāt (3/357). The chain of narrators contains the narrator Ibrāhīm ibn al-Barā', who is known to have narrated false reports.

3 Al-Bukhārī (6345), Muslim (2730), at-Tirmidhī (3431), and an-Nasā'ī (652).

4 At-Tirmidhī (3522).

يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّوْمُ بِرَحْمَتِكَ أَسْتَغِيْثُ.

Yā Hayyu yā Qayyūmu bi-rahmatika astaghīth.

We relate from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ؐ was worried about something he would raise his head towards the sky and say: "Glory be to Allah the Tremendous."¹ And when exerting himself in making du'ā he would say: "O Living, O Eternally Self-Sustaining".

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ الْعَظِيْمِ. يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّوْمُ.

Subhāna-llāhi-l-'Aẓīm. Yā Hayyu yā Qayyūm.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ؓ said that the most frequent du'ā of the Messenger ؐ was: "O Allah, our Lord, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire."² اَللّٰهُمَّ اٰتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْاٰخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma Rabbanā ātinā fī-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fī-l-ākhirati ḥasanatan wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

Muslim added in one narration that he said, "And when Anas wanted to supplicate with a single da'wah. . . he would supplicate with it. If he wanted to supplicate with a du'ā he would include that in his supplication."

We relate in the books of an-Nasā'ī and Ibn as-Sunnī, from 'Abdullāh ibn Ja'far who reported that 'Alī ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ؐ taught me these words and told me to say them whenever a problem or calamity befell me: There is no god but Allah, the Noble, the Tremendous; Glory be to Him. Blessed is Allah, Lord of the Tremendous Throne. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds." 'Abdullāh ibn Ja'far used to say this and then blow it over the feverishly sick (maw'ūk). He also used to teach it to his daughters who were married to people not of their kindred (mughtaribah).³

لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللهُ الْكَرِيْمُ الْعَظِيْمُ، سُبْحَانَهُ، تَبَارَكَ اللهُ رَبُّ

الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيْمِ، الْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِيْنَ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Karīmu-l-'Aẓīm, subhānah, tabāraka-llāhu
Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'Aẓīm, al-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.

A maw'ūk is a person with a fever. Some say it is a person who is struggling with a severe fever. Women who are mughtaribah are those who are married off to non-relatives.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū Bakrah ؓ reported that the Mes-

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3432), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

² Al-Bukhārī (6389) and Muslim (2690).

³ An-Nasā'ī (630), Ibn as-Sunnī (343), and al-Futūḥāt (4/7). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

senger of Allah ﷺ said: "The du'ā for people in difficulty to say is: O Allah, I hope for Your Mercy, so do not entrust me to myself for the blink of an eye. Put all my affairs right for me. There is no god but You."¹

اللَّهُمَّ رَحْمَتَكَ أَرْجُو، فَلَا تَكِلْنِي إِلَى نَفْسِي طَرْفَةَ عَيْنٍ،
وَأَصْلِحْ لِي شَأْنِي كُلَّهُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

*Allāhumma raḥmataka arjū, fa-lā takilnī ilā nafsī ṭarfata
'ayn, wa aṣliḥ lī sha'nī kullah, lā ilāha illā Ant.*

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah, from Asmā' bint 'Umayyās, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to her: "Shall I not teach you words for you to say in times of distress?" or "when in distress?" Allah, Allah is my Lord, I do not assign anything as a partner to Him."² اللَّهُ اللَّهُ رَبِّي لَا أُشْرِكُ بِهِ شَيْئًا.

Allāhu Allāhu Rabbī lā ushriku bihi shay'ā.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Qatādah, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites the Verse of the Throne and the last verse of the Chapter of the Cow (Sūrat al-Baqarah) when in distress, Allah will help him."³

We relate in Ibn as-Sunnī from Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ, who reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "I will teach you something to say which no person in distress says without it being removed from him. It is what my brother Yūnus said: 'So he cried through the depths of darkness, "There is no god but You. Glory to You; indeed, I have been one of those who do wrong."'"⁴

﴿فَنَادَى فِي الظُّلُمَاتِ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ سُبْحَانَكَ إِنِّي كُنْتُ مِنَ الظَّالِمِينَ﴾

Fa-nādā fi-ẓ-ẓulumāti al-Lā ilāha illā Anta subḥānaka innī kuntū mina-ẓ-ẓālimīn.

At-Tirmidhī related it thus from Sa'd, and said: "Sa'd reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The supplication of Dhū an-Nūn when he supplicated to his Lord while in the belly of the fish was: There is no god but You. Glory to You; indeed, I have

1 Abū Dāwūd (5090) and an-Nasā'ī (651).

2 Abū Dāwūd (345).

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (346) and al-Futūḥāt (4/11). There is a break in the chain of this hadith and it contains narrators who are unknown.

4 Qur'ān 21:87.

been one of those who do wrong.¹ No Muslim man ever supplicates with it without Allah answering him.”

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ سُبْحَانَكَ إِنِّي كُنْتُ مِنَ الظَّالِمِينَ.

Lā ilāha illā Anta subḥānaka innī kuntu mina-ẓ-ẓālimīn.

79

WHAT TO SAY WHEN FRIGHTENED

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Thawbān ؓ, who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was frightened by something he would say: “He is Allah. Allah is my Lord; He has no partner.”² هُوَ اللَّهُ، اللَّهُ رَبِّي لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ.

Huwa-llāh, Allāhu Rabbī lā sharīka lah.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī from ‘Amr ibn Shu‘ayb, who reported from his father, who reported from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to teach them these words for when they felt fear and terror: “I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from His wrath and the evil of His servants, and from the promptings of the shayṭāns and from them approaching me.”³

أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ غَضَبِهِ وَشَرِّ عِبَادِهِ،

وَمِنْ هَمَزَاتِ الشَّيَاطِينِ، وَأَنْ يَحْضُرُونِ.

A‘ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min ghaḍābihi wa sharri ‘ibādihi, wa min hamazāti-sh-shayāṭīn, wa an yaḥḍurūn.

‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr used to teach these words to those of his children who could understand, and for those who could not understand he would write it down and hang it [around their necks].

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3500) and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/505), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (337).

³ Abū Dāwūd (3893) and at-Tirmidhī (3519).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN AFFLICTED WITH WORRY OR GRIEF

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Abī Mūsā al-Ash'arī   who reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "Anyone afflicted with worry or grief should supplicate with these words: O Allah, I am Your slave and the son of Your male slave and the son of Your female slave, in Your grasp. My forelock is in Your hand, I am subject to Your decree, and Your decision on me is justice itself. I ask You by every name that is Yours, by which You have named Yourself, or which You have revealed in Your Book, or which You have taught any one of Your Creation, or which You have kept to Yourself in the knowledge of the Unseen with You, that You make the Qur'ān the light of my breast, the springtime of my heart, the removal of my sorrow, and the departure of my worries." A man said: "O Messenger of Allah, anyone who is deprived of these words has been wronged." He   replied: "Yes! So say them and teach them, for Allah will remove the grief of anyone who says them seeking what is in them, and will prolong his happiness."¹

أَنَا عَبْدُكَ، ابْنُ عَبْدِكَ، ابْنُ أَمَتِكَ، فِي قَبْضَتِكَ، نَاصِيَتِي بِيَدِكَ، مَاضٍ فِي حُكْمِكَ،
عَدْلٌ فِي قَضَاؤِكَ، أَسْأَلُكَ بِكُلِّ اسْمٍ هُوَ لَكَ، سَمَّيْتَ بِهِ نَفْسَكَ، أَوْ أَنْزَلْتَهُ فِي كِتَابِكَ،
أَوْ عَلَّمْتَهُ أَحَدًا مِنْ خَلْقِكَ، أَوْ اسْتَأْثَرْتُ بِهِ فِي عِلْمِ الْغَيْبِ عِنْدَكَ، أَنْ تَجْعَلَ الْقُرْآنَ
نُورَ صَدْرِي، وَرَبِيعَ قَلْبِي، وَجَلَاءَ حُزْنِي، وَذَهَابَ هَمِّي.

Ana 'abduk, ibnu 'abdik, ibnu amatik, fī qabḍatik, nāṣiyatī bi-yadik, māḍin fiyya ḥukmuk, 'adlun fiyya qaḍā'uk, as'aluka bi-kulli-smīn Huwa lak, sammayta bihi nafsak, aw anzalatahu fī Kitābik, aw 'allamtahu aḥadan min khalqik, awi-sta'tharta bihi fī 'ilmi-l-ghaybi 'indak, an taj'ala-l-Qur'āna nūra ṣadri, wa rabī'a qalbī, wa jalā'a ḥuznī, wa dhahāba hammī.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (334) and al-Futūḥāt (4/13). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb, and goes on to mention that Ibn as-Sunnī also narrates another, similar hadith from Ibn Mas'ūd, which is ḥasan and was graded as ṣaḥīḥ by some of the Imams of hadith.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN IN A FIX

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Alī ؑ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Alī, should I not teach you the words which you should say when you are in a fix?" He said: "Yes, may Allah make me your ransom." He said: "If you are in a fix, say: In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. There is no power or strength except by Allah, the High, the Tremendous. With this Allah will turn away any tribulation He wishes."¹ I say 'plight' (al-warṭah) with a fathah on the wāw and a sukūn on the rā' means to 'destruction' (al-halāk).

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ، وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَلِيِّ الْعَظِيمِ.

Bismi-llāhi-r-Raḥmāni-r-Raḥīm, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-'Alīyyi-l-'Aẓīm.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN AFRAID OF ANY GROUP OF PEOPLE

WE RELATE WITH a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī, from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was apprehensive of [a group of] people he would say: "O Allah, we make You responsible for their slaughter and we seek refuge in You from their evil."² اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنَّا نَجْعَلُكَ فِيْ نُحُوْرِهِمْ، وَنَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنْ شُرُوْرِهِمْ.

Allāhumma innā naj'aluka fī nuḥūrihim, wa na'ūdhu bika min shurūrihim.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (331) and al-Futūḥāt (4/14-15). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a gharīb hadith; its chain contains 'Amr ibn Bishr, whose transmission is undisputedly regarded as weak.

² Abū Dāwūd (1537), an-Nasā'ī in al-Kubrā, and al-Futūḥāt (4/16-17). Ibn Ḥajar states that it is a ḥasan gharīb hadith; its narrators are those who narrated ṣaḥīḥ hadiths.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN AFRAID OF A RULER

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If you fear a ruler or anyone else, say: There is no god but Allah, the Forbearing, the Noble. Glory be to Allah, Lord of the Seven Heavens and Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but You. Whoever You give protection to becomes mighty, and magnificent is Your acclaim.”¹

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْحَلِيمُ الْكَرِيمُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ السَّمَاوَاتِ السَّبْعِ
وَرَبِّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، عَزَّ جَارُكَ، وَجَلَّ ثَنَاؤُكَ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Ḥalīmu-l-Karīm, Subḥāna-llāhi Rabbi-s-samāwāti-s-sab‘i wa Rabbi-l-‘Arshi-l-‘aẓīm, lā ilāha illā Ant, ‘azza jāruk, wa jalla thanā’uk.

It is mustaḥabb to say what has been narrated in the previous chapter in the hadith related by Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī رضي الله عنه.

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING THE ENEMY

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas رضي الله عنه, who related: “We were with the Prophet ﷺ on a military campaign, when he encountered the enemy and I heard him say: ‘O Master of the Day of Judgment, You alone do I worship and You alone do I ask for help.’ I saw men fall to the ground with the angels beating them from the front and the back.” It is mustaḥabb to say what has been narrated in the previous chapter in the hadith related by Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī رضي الله عنه.²

يَا مَالِكَ يَوْمِ الدِّينِ، إِيَّاكَ أَعْبُدُ وَإِيَّاكَ أَسْتَعِينُ.

Yā Mālīka Yawmi-d-Dīn, iyyāka a‘budu wa iyyāka asta’in.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (347) and al-Futūḥāt (4/18). There is some weakness in the chain of this hadith, but there are other narrations which strengthen and support it.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (336) and al-Futūḥāt (4/19). Ibn Ḥajar describes this hadith as gharīb.

WHAT TO SAY IF A SHAYTĀN APPEARS TO ONE OR ONE IS AFRAID OF HIM

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And whenever an incitement to discord is made to you by Shaytān, seek refuge in Allah. He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing."¹

﴿وَأَمَّا يَنْزَغَنَّكَ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ نَزْغٌ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ إِنَّهُ هُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "When you recite the Qur'ān, We put between you and those who believe not in the Hereafter an invisible veil."² So one ought to seek refuge and then recite whatever is easy of the Qur'ān.

﴿وَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ جَعَلْنَا بَيْنَكَ وَبَيْنَ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ حِجَابًا مَسْتُورًا﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Abū ad-Dardā' ﷺ who narrated: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ once stood up to perform ṣalāh and I heard him say: 'I seek protection in Allah from you.' Then he said thrice: 'I curse you with the curse of Allah.' He stretched out his hand as if he was holding on to something. When he had completed the ṣalāh we said: 'O Messenger of Allah, we heard you say something in ṣalāh which we have never heard you say before; and we saw you stretch out your hand.' He replied: 'The enemy of Allah, Iblīs, came with a flame of fire and put it in my face. I said: "I seek protection in Allah from you" thrice. Then I said thrice: "I curse you with the curse of Allah." Then he retreated three times. I was on the point of catching him. Had it not been for the du'ā' of my brother Sulaymān, he would have been bound up and had the children of Madīnah playing with him."³

I say: "[If Shaytān appears, or if one fears that he may do so,] one should call the adhān as for ṣalāh."

أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْكَ. أَلْعَنُكَ بِلَعْنَةِ اللَّهِ.

A'ūdhu bi-llāhi mink. Al'anuka bi-la'nati-llāh.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Suhayl ibn Abī Ṣāliḥ, who related: "My father sent me to the Banī Ḥārith, and with me there was a servant or companion. Someone called him by his name from behind a wall. The person who was with me looked at the wall but could not see anything. I mentioned this to my father and he said: 'If you realise that it is him you are encountering [i.e. Shaytān], he will not let you go. But if you hear a voice then make the call for ṣalāh, for I heard Abū Hurayrah report that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Shayṭān turns his back in retreat when the call for ṣalāh is made."¹

¹ Qur'ān 41:36.

² Qur'ān 17:45.

³ Muslim (542). The du'ā' of Sulaymān is: "He said: 'O my Lord, forgive me, and grant me a kingdom such as will not belong to another after me; for You are the Bestower of bounties.'" Qur'ān 38:35.

86

WHAT TO SAY WHEN OVERCOME BY WEAKNESS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A strong believer is better and dearer to Allah than a weak believer, although there is good in both. Be eager for that which will benefit you and seek the help of Allah, and do not be weak. If something befalls you, do not say: 'If only I had done such-and-such it would have been like this or like that.' Instead, say: 'Allah has decreed, and what Allah wishes He does.' Indeed, 'If only' opens the works of Shayṭān."²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Awf ibn Mālik said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ gave judgment between two men, and the one against whom the judgment was given said when he turned away: "Allah is Sufficient for me and how excellent a Guardian is He!"³ The Messenger ﷺ said: "Allah rebukes people for weakness. You must be strong. If something overwhelms you, say: Allah is Sufficient for me and how excellent a Guardian is He."³¹⁶ I say al-kays with fathah on the letter kāf and sukūn on the letter yā can have two meanings. One of them is ar-rifq (gentleness), which means—and Allah knows best—acting with kindness whenever possible.

حَسْبِيَ اللَّهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيلُ.

Hasbiya-llāhu wa ni'ma-l-Wakīl.

¹ Muslim (389).

² Muslim (2664) and an-Nasā'ī (621) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

³ Abū Dāwūd (3627) and al-Futūḥāt (4/24-25). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan. It was reported by Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī, and its chain contains Sayf ash-Shāmī, who was declared to be trustworthy by al-Ijlī. I do not know the name of his father. The rest of the narrators are of Muslim; it also contains the ʿanānah of Bāqiyah, but from his narrating from ash-Shāmī.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN FINDING SOMETHING TO BE DIFFICULT

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "O Allah, there is nothing easy except that which You make easy; and You make the difficult easy if You wish to."¹ Ḥazn, with a fathah on the ḥā' and a sukūn on the zā, means the rough, rugged or stony part of the earth.

اللَّهُمَّ لَا سَهْلَ إِلَّا مَا جَعَلْتَهُ سَهْلًا، وَأَنْتَ تَجْعَلُ الْحَزْنَ إِذَا شِئْتَ سَهْلًا.

*Allāhumma lā sahla illā mā ja'altahu sahlā, wa
Anta taj'alu-l-ḥazna idhā shi'ta sahlā.*

WHAT TO SAY WHEN EARNING ONE'S LIVELIHOOD BECOMES DIFFICULT

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger ﷺ asked: "Is there anything to prevent any of you, when earning his livelihood becomes difficult, from saying when he goes out of his house: 'With the name of Allah on myself, my wealth and my religion. O Allah, make me pleased with Your decree, and bless me in that which I have been allotted, so that I do not like to hasten what You have delayed, or to delay that which You have hastened'?"²

بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ عَلَى نَفْسِي وَمَالِي وَدِينِي، اللَّهُمَّ رَضِّنِي بِقَضَائِكَ، وَبَارِكْ لِي
فِيمَا قُدِّرَ لِي، حَتَّى لَا أُحِبَّ تَعْجِيلَ مَا أَخَّرْتَ وَلَا تَأْخِيرَ مَا عَجَّلْتَ.

Bismi-llāhi 'alā nafsī wa māli wa dīnī, Allāhumma raḍḍinī bi-qaḍā'ik, wa bārik lī fīmā quddira lī, ḥattā lā uḥibba ta'jila mā akhkharta wa lā ta'khīra mā 'ajjalt.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (353). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (352) and al-Futūḥāt (4/26). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this is a gharīb hadith which was reported by Ibn as-Sunnī and by Ibn 'Adī in al-Kāmil. Its chain contains 'Isā ibn Maymūn, whose transmission is very weak.

WHAT TO SAY TO WARD OFF CALAMITY

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ibn Mālik ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When Allah bestows a favour on a person, whether in his family, wealth or children, if he says: 'As Allah desires. There is no power except in Allah' he will experience no misfortune in it except death."¹ مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ، لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Mā shā'a-llāh, lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN VISITED BY MISFORTUNES, BE THEY FEW OR MANY

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And give glad tidings to those who patiently persevere, and who say, when afflicted with calamity: 'To Allah we belong, and to Him is our return.' They are those on whom (descend) blessings from their Lord, and mercy. And they are the truly guided."²

﴿وَنَشِِرِ الصَّابِرِينَ * الَّذِينَ إِذَا أَصَابَتْهُمُ مُصِيبَةٌ قَالُوا إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ *
أُولَئِكَ عَلَيْهِمْ صَلَوَاتٌ مِّن رَّبِّهِمْ وَرَحْمَةٌ ۖ وَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْمُهْتَدُونَ﴾

We relate in Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Let every one of you say: 'To Allah we belong, and to Him is our return' for everything, even for [a broken] sandal-thong, because it is a misfortune."³

I say: ash-Shis', with a kasrah on the shīn and with a sukūn on the sīn, means one of the thongs of a sandal which is fastened to the thong between the middle toe and the one next to it.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (359).

² Qur'ān 2:155-157.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (354) and al-Futūḥāt (4/28). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharīb and its chain contains some weakness; however, it has a supporting narration which is from a witness.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN BURDENED BY DEBTS WHICH ONE IS UNABLE TO REPAY

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Alī ؑ, who narrated that a slave who was buying his freedom came to him and said: "I am unable to pay the price for my freedom, so help me." He ؑ said: "Shall I not teach you words that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught me? Were your debts like mountains Allah would settle them for you. Say: O Allah, make what You have made lawful sufficient for me so that I need not what You have made unlawful; and make me independent of all but You by Your Generosity."¹ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ اكْفِنِي بِحَلَالِكَ عَنْ حَرَامِكَ، وَأَغْنِنِي بِفَضْلِكَ عَمَّنْ سِوَاكَ.

Allāhumma-kfinī bi-ḥalālīka 'an ḥarāmīka, wa aghninī bi-faḍlīka 'amman siwāk.

We have already mentioned, in the chapter about what is to be said morning and evening, the hadith of Abū Dāwūd from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؑ about the story of the man called Abū Umāmah who said: "Worries and debts have remained with me."

WHAT TO SAY WHEN AFFLICTED WITH LONELINESS

WE RELATE FROM Ibn as-Sunnī from Walīd ibn Walīd ؑ who said: "Messenger of Allah, I suffer from loneliness." He ؑ said: "When you go to bed, say: *I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from His wrath and His punishment, the evil of His servants, and the suggestions of the shayṭāns and from them appearing to me,*² for then it will not harm you" (or, "it will not approach you").

أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ غَضَبِهِ وَعِقَابِهِ وَشَرِّ عِبَادِهِ، وَمِنْ هَمَزَاتِ الشَّيَاطِينِ، وَأَنْ يَحْضُرُونِ.

A'ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min ghaḍabihi wa 'iqābihi wa sharri 'ibādih, wa min hamazāti-sh-shayāṭīn, wa an yaḥḍurūn.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3558). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (643).

We relate in Ibn as-Sunnī from al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib ؓ, that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and complained of loneliness. He ﷺ said : "Make sure you say in abundance: Peerless is the King, the Holy, Lord of the angels and the Spirit (Rūḥ). You have made the heavens and the earth majestic with might, the Jabarūt (Supraformal Realm). The man said this and the loneliness disappeared".

سُبْحَانَ الْمَلِكِ الْقُدُّوسِ، رَبِّ الْمَلَائِكَةِ وَالرُّوحِ، جَلَّلْتَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ بِالْعِزَّةِ وَالْجَبَرُوتِ.

Subḥāna-l-Maliki-l-Quddūs, Rabbi-l-malā'ikati wa-r-rūḥ, jallalta-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍa bi-l-'izzati wa-l-Jabarūt.

93

WHAT TO SAY WHEN TROUBLED BY SATANIC DISTURBANCE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And whenever any incitement to discord is made to you by Shayṭān, seek refuge in Allah. He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing."¹ The best that can be said is that which Allah, exalted is He, instructed us and ordered us to say.

﴿وَأَمَّا يَنْزَغَنَّكَ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ نَزْغٌ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ إِنَّهُ هُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Shayṭān will come to one of you and say: 'Who created this?' 'Who created that?' until he says: 'Who created your Lord?' When he reaches that stage, seek protection from Allah and stop."² According to another hadith he said: "People will continue to ask until people say: 'Allah created Creation, so who created Allah?' Whoever experiences that must say: 'I believe in Allah and His Messengers.'"³ آمَنْتُ بِاللَّهِ وَرُسُلِهِ.

Āmantu bi-llāhi wa Rusulih.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever experiences any of these insinuations should say thrice, 'I believe in Allah and His Messengers',⁴ and it will leave him."

¹ Qur'ān 41:36.

² Al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

³ Al-Bukhārī (3276), Muslim (135), and Abū Dāwūd (4721).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (629).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from ‘Uthmān ibn Abī al-‘Āṣi ؓ who reported: “I said: ‘Messenger of Allah, Shayṭān has interfered with my ṣalāh and in my recitation and has caused confusion in me.’ The Messenger of Allah ؓ said: ‘That shayṭān is called Khinzab. When you sense his presence, seek the protection of Allah from him and spit towards your left thrice.’ I did so, and Allah took away what I had been experiencing.”¹

I say: ‘Khinzab’ is spelled with khā’ and then a nūn with a sukūn, then a zāy with a fathah and then bā’. The ‘ulamā’ differ about how to vowel the khā: some of them put a fathah on it and others put a kasrah, and these two are the most well-known. Some put a ḍammah, as Ibn al-Athīr cited in his Nihāyat al-gharīb, but what is well-known is with a fathah or a kasrah.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a good isnād from Abū Zumayy who reported: “I asked Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ: ‘What is this that I am experiencing?’ He answered: ‘What is it?’ I said: ‘By Allah, I cannot talk about it.’ He asked me: ‘Is it something to do with doubt?’ [When I answered that it was], he smiled and said: ‘No-one was safe from it until Allah revealed: “If you are in doubt concerning what We have revealed unto you [O Prophet], ask those who read the Scripture from before your time. The truth has indeed come to you from your Lord, so be not one of those in doubt.”’”²

﴿فَإِنْ كُنْتَ فِي شَكٍّ مِمَّا أَنْزَلْنَا إِلَيْكَ فَسْأَلِ الَّذِينَ يَقْرَأُونَ الْكِتَابَ مِنْ

قَبْلِكَ ۚ لَقَدْ جَاءَكَ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّكَ فَلَا تَكُ وَاحِدًا مِنَ الْمُمْتَرِينَ﴾

Fa-in kunta fī shakki-m-mimmā anzalnā ilayka fa-s’alilladhīna yaqra’ūna-l-Kitāba min qablik. La-qad jā’aka-lḥaqqu mi-r-Rabbika fa-lā takūnanna mina-l-mumtarīn.

[Ibn ‘Abbās] told me: ‘If you find any [doubt] within yourself, say: “He is the First and the Last, the Manifest and the Hidden, and He has full knowledge of all things.”’³

﴿هُوَ الْأَوَّلُ وَالْآخِرُ وَالظَّاهِرُ وَالْبَاطِنُ، وَهُوَ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمٌ﴾

Huwa-l-Awwalu wa-l-Ākhiru wa-ẓ-Zāhiru wa-l-Bāṭin, wa Huwa bi-kulli shay’in ‘Alīm.

We relate with our ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the Riṣālāh of Ustādh Abū al-Qāsim al-Qushayrī, may Allah have mercy upon him, from Aḥmad ibn ‘Aṭā’ ar-Rūḍhabārī, the great master ؓ, who said: “I was going to extremes of excess in my purification. One night my breast was constricted because of the great volume of water I had poured over myself, and my heart would not be still. I cried out: 'My Lord! Your pardon, Your pardon! I then heard a voice say 'Pardon is in knowledge' and that (state) left me.'"

¹ Muslim (2203).

² Qur’ān 10:94.

³ Qur’ān 57:3. This hadith is reported by Abū Dāwūd (5110) and in Al-Futūḥāt (4/37). Ibn Hajar says the text of this hadith is shādhidh (irregular), as it is reported from Ibn ‘Abbās from the transmission of Sa’id ibn Jubayr and Mujāhid that the Prophet ؓ never experienced any doubts. This latter was reported by ‘Abd ibn Humayd, at-Ṭabarānī, and Ibn Abī Ḥātim, all with ṣaḥīḥ chains.

Some of the 'ulamā' say that it is mustahabb for anyone who is troubled by distraction in his wuḍū', ṣalāh or the like to say: 'There is no god but Allah.' This is because when Shayṭān hears dhikr he retreats, i.e. goes back and flees, and 'There is no god but Allah' is the foremost of all dhikr. This is why the noble masters of the purest of this [Muslim] Community, the people who instruct the travellers on the spiritual path and instruct disciples, have chosen 'There is no god but Allah' for those who make religious retreats, and instructed them to be constant in it. They have declared that the most beneficial cure for insinuation is to turn to the dhikr of Allah ﷻ and to increase in it. Aḥmad ibn Abī al-Ḥawārī—with either a fathah on the rā' (Abī al-Ḥawāray) or a kasrah—said: "I complained to Abū Sulaymān ad-Dārānī about satanic insinuation. He said: 'If you want it to stop, then any time you feel it you should become happy. When you become happy it will stop, because there is nothing more hateful to Shayṭān than the happiness of a believer. But if you are grieved by it, it will increase.'" I say: "This is supported by what some of the Imams say: 'Satanic insinuation only befalls those who have complete faith, for a thief is not tempted by a deserted house.'"

94

WHAT TO SAY OVER THE INSANE OR SOMEONE WHO HAS BEEN STUNG

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ﷺ, who narrated: "A party of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah set out on a journey, and they camped on the territory of some Arabs. They asked them for hospitality, but they refused. The leader of that area was stung [by an insect]. They attempted to cure him by all means, but nothing helped him. One of them said: 'If you went to that party that camped, perhaps they might have something.' They came to them and said: 'O party, our leader has been stung. We have made efforts to cure him by every means, but nothing has helped him. Do you have anything?' One of them said: 'By Allah, I will incant for you. But by Allah, we asked you to host us, and you did not host us. I will not incant for you until you determine a fee for us.' They agreed to give them a flock of sheep. He went and blew on the man and recited al-Fātiḥah. It was as if he had been freed from bonds. He went about walking without pain (qalabah). They paid them the fee that they had agreed upon. Then one of them said: 'Share it.' The one who had incanted said: 'Do not do so until we have gone to the Prophet ﷺ and told him what happened and heard what he commands us to do.' They came to the Prophet ﷺ and told him about it. He ﷺ asked: 'What made you realise that it was an incantation?' Then [the Prophet ﷺ] said: 'You have done right. Share it and give me also a share with you.' The Prophet ﷺ laughed."¹ One version has, "So he ordered thirty ewes for him."

I say, regarding 'without' (qalabah) with a fathah on the qāf, the lām and the bā': it means pain (waja').

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā, who reported from a man who reported from his father who said: "A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'My brother is sick.' He asked: 'What is your brother's sickness?' The man replied: 'He is mentally deranged.' He said: 'Send him to me.' [The sick man] came and sat in front of him. The Prophet ﷺ recited al-Fātiḥah and four verses from the beginning of al-Baqarah and two verses from the middle: 'And your god is One God. There is no god but He, Most Gracious, Most Merciful. Truly in the creation of the heavens and the earth, and in the alternation of the night and the day, and in the sailing of the ships through the ocean for the benefit of mankind, and in the rain which Allah sends down from the skies, and in the life which He gives therewith to an Earth that is dead, and in the beasts of all kinds that He scatters through the earth, and in the changes of the winds, and the clouds which they trail like their slaves between the sky and the earth, indeed there are signs for wise people.'² Then he recited the Verse of the Throne and the last three verses of al-Baqarah. Next he recited a verse from the first part of Sūrat Āl 'Imrān: 'Allah bears witness that there is no god but He, as do the angels and those endowed with knowledge, standing firm in justice. There is no god but He, the Mighty, the All-Wise.'³

"He then recited a verse from Sūrat al-A'rāf: 'Your Guardian Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth in six days, then settled on the Throne. He draws the night as a veil over the day, each seeking the other in rapid succession: and the sun, the moon, and the stars, (all) are subservient to His command. Verily, His are the Creation and the Command. Blessed is Allah, the Cherisher and Sustainer of the Worlds!'⁴

"Then he recited a verse from Sūrat al-Mu'minūn: 'So exalted is Allah, the King, the Reality: there is no god but He, Lord of the Noble Throne.'⁵ Next he recited the verse from Sūrat al-Jinn: 'And exalted is the majesty of our Lord: He has neither taken a wife nor [begotten] a son.'⁶ Finally, he recited ten verses from the beginning of Sūrat aṣ-Ṣāffāt,⁷ ten from the end of Sūrat al-Ḥashr,⁸ and Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad and al-Mu'awwidhāt.⁹

1 Al-Bukhārī (5749) and Muslim (2201).

2 Qur'ān 2:163-164.

3 Qur'ān 3:18.

4 Qur'ān 7:54.

5 Qur'ān 23:116.

6 Qur'ān 72:3.

7 Qur'ān 37.

8 Qur'ān 59.

9 Ibn as-Sunnī (637). There is some weakness in the chain of this hadith.

﴿وَاللَّهُكُمْ إِلَهُ وَاحِدٌ ۖ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الرَّحْمَنُ الرَّحِيمُ * إِنَّ فِي خَلْقِ السَّمَوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضِ وَاخْتِلَافِ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ وَالْفُلْكِ الَّتِي تَجْرِي فِي الْبَحْرِ بِمَا يَنْفَعُ النَّاسَ
وَمَا أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مِنْ مَّاءٍ فَأَحْيَا بِهِ الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا وَبَثَّ فِيهَا مِنْ كُلِّ دَابَّةٍ
وَتَصْرِيفِ الرِّيْحِ وَالسَّحَابِ الْمُسَخَّرِ بَيْنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ لَآيَاتٍ لِقَوْمٍ يَعْقِلُونَ ﴾
﴿شَهِدَ اللَّهُ أَنَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ وَأُولُوا الْعِلْمِ

قَائِمًا بِالْقِسْطِ ۚ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ﴾

﴿إِنَّ رَبَّكُمُ اللَّهُ الَّذِي خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ فِي سِتَّةِ أَيَّامٍ ثُمَّ اسْتَوَى
عَلَى الْعَرْشِ يُغْشِي اللَّيْلَ النَّهَارَ يَطْلُبُهُ حَثِيثًا وَالشَّمْسُ وَالْقَمَرُ وَالنُّجُومُ
مُسَخَّرَاتٌ بِأَمْرِهِ ۗ أَلَا لَهُ الْخَلْقُ وَالْأَمْرُ ۗ تَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ﴾

﴿فَتَعَلَّى اللَّهُ الْمَلِكُ الْحَقُّ ۚ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ﴾

﴿وَأَنَّهُ رَتَعَلَىٰ جَدُّ رَبِّنَا مَا اتَّخَذَ صَاحِبَةً وَلَا وَلَدًا﴾

*Wa ilāhukum ilāhun wāḥid, lā ilāha illā Huwa-r-Raḥmānu-r-Raḥīm.
Inna fī khalqī-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍi wa-khtilāfi-l-layli wa-n-nahāri wa-l-fulki-llatī tajrī fī-l-baḥri bimā yanfa‘u-n-nāsa wa mā anzalallāhu mina-s-samā‘i mi-m-mā‘in fa-aḥyā bihi-l-arḍa ba‘da mawtiḥā wa baththa fihā min kulli dābbatin wa taṣrīfi-r-riyāḥi wa-s-ṣaḥābi-l-musakhkhari bayna-s-samā‘i wa-l-arḍi la-āyāti-l-li-qawmin ya‘qilūn.
Shahida-llāhu annahu lā ilāha illā Huwa wa-l-malā‘ikatu wa ūlul-‘ilmi qā‘imam bi-l-qisṭ. Lā ilāha illā Hū, al-‘Azīzu-l-Ḥakīm.*

Inna Rabbakumu-llāhu-lladhī khalaqa-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍa fī sittati ayyāmin thumma-stawā ‘ala-l-‘arsh, yughshi-l-layla-n-nahāra yaṭlubuhu ḥathīthan wa-sh-shamsa wa-l-qamara wa-n-nujūma musakhkharātim bi-amriḥ, alā lahu-l-khalqu wa-l-amr, tabāraka-llāhu Rabbu-l-‘ālamīn.

Fa-ta‘āla-llāhu-l-Māliku-l-Ḥaqq, lā ilāha illā Hūwa Rabbu-l-‘Arshi-l-karīm.

Wa annahu ta‘ālā jaddu Rabbinā, ma-ttakhadha ṣāḥibatan wa lā waladā.

I say: scholars of the language say: ‘mentally deranged’ (lamam) means a type of madness that befalls a man and seizes him.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Khārijah ibn aṣ-Ṣalt, who reported that his uncle said: “I came to the Prophet ﷺ and embraced Islam. Then I returned, and I passed by a group of people who had with them a madman, bound with steel. His family said to me: 'We have been told that your companion has brought goodness with him. Do you have anything that we can cure him with?' I recited al-Fātiḥah for him and he was cured, so they gave me a hundred sheep. I went to the Prophet ﷺ and informed him. He asked: 'Is there anything other than this?' and in one narration, 'Did you say anything else besides?' I replied: 'No.' He said: 'Take it, for by my life, whoever eats from a false incantation. . . , but you have eaten from a true incantation.'¹

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with a different wording which is another version of Abū Dāwūd's, where Khārijah ibn aṣ-Ṣalt reported that his uncle said: "We went away from the Prophet ﷺ and came to a district of some Arabs. They said: 'Do you have a cure? We have a deranged man in bonds.' They brought the madman, tied up. I recited al-Fātiḥah over him for three days, morning and night. I gathered my saliva and spat on him. It was as if he had been set free after being tied up with rope. They gave me a fee. I said: 'No.' They said: 'Ask the Prophet ﷺ.' I asked him and he replied: 'Eat, for by my life, there are those who eat from a false incantation, but you have eaten from a true incantation.'"²

I say that this uncle's name was 'Ilāqah ibn Ṣuḥār but it is also said that his name was 'Abdullāh.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who recited in the ear of a sick person and he recovered. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked him: "What did you recite in his ear?" He said: "I recited: 'Did you think that We had created you in jest, and that you would not be brought back to Us? Exalted is Allah, the King, the Real. There is no god but Him, Lord of the Noble Throne. Whoever calls on another god together with Allah, he has no proof thereof at all and his reckoning is with his Lord. Truly the unbelievers have no success. Say: 'My Lord, forgive and be merciful! You are the Best of the Merciful.'"³ until I completed the chapter." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to him: "If a man had firm faith and recited that on a mountain, it would vanish."⁴

﴿أَفَحَسِبْتُمْ أَنَّمَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ عَبَثًا وَأَنَّكُمْ إِلَيْنَا لَا تُرْجَعُونَ * فَتَعَالَى
اللَّهُ الْمَلِكُ الْحَقُّ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ * وَمَنْ يَدْعُ مَعَ
اللَّهِ إِلَهًا آخَرَ لَا بُرْهَانَ لَهُ بِهِ فَإِنَّمَا حِسَابُهُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِ * إِنَّهُ لَا يُفْلِحُ
الْكَافِرُونَ * وَقُلْ رَبِّ اغْفِرْ وَارْحَمْ وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ الرَّحِيمِينَ﴾

1 Abū Dāwūd (3896).

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (635) and Abū Dāwūd (3897).

3 Qur'ān 23:115.

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (636) and al-Futūḥāt (4/46). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharīb.

SEEKING PROTECTION FOR CHILDREN AND OTHERS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ used to seek protection for Ḥasan and Ḥusayn, saying: "I seek protection for the two of you with the perfect words of Allah from every shayṭān and poisonous thing, and from the evil eye." He ؐ also said: "Verily your father [Ibrāhīm] used to seek protection by it for Ismā'il and Ishāq."¹ أُعِيذُكُمْ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّةِ، مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْطَانٍ وَهَامَّةٍ، وَمِنْ كُلِّ عَيْنٍ لَامَّةٍ.

U'idhukumā bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmah, min kulli shayṭānin wa hāmmah, wa min kulli 'aynin lāmmah.

I say: The 'ulamā' say that hāmmah with a doubled mīm means any kind of poisonous creature, such as a snake, and the plural is hawāmm. They say that hawāmm is used for any crawling creature even if it does not kill, such as insects and vermin. An example of this is in the hadith of Ka'b ibn 'Ujrah ؓ: "Do the vermin on your head harm you?" meaning lice.

As for 'evil eye' ('aynun lāmmah), with a doubled mīm, it means that which afflicts whatever it looks at with evil.

WHAT TO SAY OVER ABSCESSSES, PIMPLES AND SUCHLIKE

WE HAVE ALREADY mentioned the hadith of 'Ā'ishah ؓ about what the sick should say and what should be recited for them.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunni from one of the wives of the Prophet ؐ who said: "The Messenger of Allah ؐ came to me when a pimple had come out on my finger. He asked: 'Do you have any dharīrah?' He put it on [the pimple] and said: 'Say: O Allah, Who make the great small and make the small great, make my problem small.' It was cured."³

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3371), an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (1006), and Ibn Mājah (3525).

² Dharīrah is a fragrant powder imported from India.

³ Ibn as-Sunni (640) and an-Nasā'ī (1031) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

اللَّهُمَّ مُصَغِّرَ الْكَبِيرِ وَمُكَبِّرَ الصَّغِيرِ، صَغِّرْ مَا بِي.

Allāhumma Muṣaghghira-l-kabīri wa Mukabbira-ṣ-ṣaghīr, ṣaghghir mā bī.

I say that the word batharah, with a fathah on the bā' and a sukūn on the thā' and also a fathah—there are two variants—means a small skin infection (or spot). Hence it is said: “His face bathara—broke out in pimples (or spots)” with a kasrah on the thā' and a fathah and a ḍammah—three variant spellings.

As for dharīrah, it is a powdered [scented] reed, calamus aromaticus, which is brought from India.

97

RECOMMENDATION TO REMEMBER DEATH MUCH

WE RELATE WITH ṣaḥīḥ isnāds in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah and others, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said “Remember much the destroyer of pleasures”: that is to say, “death”.¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

98

APPROVAL OF ASKING THE RELATIVES OF A SICK PERSON ABOUT HIS HEALTH, AND OF REPLYING TO THE QUESTION

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, who reported that 'Alī ibn Tālib ؓ left the presence of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ during the illness in which he passed away. People asked him: “How is the Messenger of Allah ﷺ this morning?” He said: “He got up well, Allah be praised.”²

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2308), an-Nasā'ī (4/4), Ibn Mājah (4258), and al-Futūḥāt (4/50). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

² Al-Bukhārī (6266).

WHAT THE SICK SHOULD SAY, WHAT SHOULD BE SAID AND RECITED NEAR THEM, AND HOW TO ASK AFTER THEIR HEALTH

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who said that every night when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to bed he put his palms together and blew into them, before reciting into them "Say: Allah is One", "Say: I seek protection with the Lord of Daybreak", and "Say: I seek protection with the Lord of Mankind." Then he passed his hands over as much of his body as he was able to, beginning with his head and face and the front part of his body. He did this thrice.¹

'Ā'ishah ؓ reported: "When he became sick, he told me to do that for him." In another hadith in the Ṣaḥīḥ it is said that the Messenger ﷺ used to blow al-Mu'awwidhāt over himself during the illness from which he passed away. 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "When his sickness intensified, I blew them over him using his own hands because of their blessing." In another narration is, "When he became sick, he used to recite al-Mu'awwidhāt over himself and blow." Az-Zuhri, one of the narrators, was asked how he blew out air. He replied: "He would blow into his hand and then wipe his face."

I say that related to this is the hadith that has already been mentioned about what should be recited for the insane: that is, al-Fātiḥah.

﴿قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ...﴾

Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās. . .

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and other sources, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who said that when any man became sick, was wounded or had a sore, the Prophet ﷺ put his finger like this (here Sufyān ibn 'Uyaynah, the narrator, put his index finger on the ground) and then raised it saying: "In the name of Allah, the dust of our earth by the saliva of one of us, our sick will be cured, by permission of our Lord."² بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ، تُرْبَةُ أَرْضِنَا بِرِيقَةٍ بَعْضِنَا، يُشْفَى بِهِ سَقِيمُنَا بِإِذْنِ رَبِّنَا.

Bismi-llāh, turbatu arḍinā bi-rīqati ba'dinā, yushfā saqīmunā bi-idhni Rabbinā.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5016), Muslim (2192), al-Muwatta' (2/942-943), Abū Dāwūd (5049), and at-Tirmidhi (3413).

² Al-Bukhārī (5745), Muslim (2194), and Abū Dāwūd (3895).

In another narration it is "the dust of our earth, and the saliva of one of us".

تُرْبَةُ أَرْضِنَا وَرِيقَةُ بَعْضِنَا

... turbatu arḍinā wa rīqatu ba'dinā.

According to the 'ulamā', 'the saliva of one of us' means the saliva of a human (descendant of Adam). Ibn Fāris said, "Saliva (rīq) is that of humans or others and it may be made feminine, in which case it is rīqah." Al-Jawharī states in aṣ-Ṣiḥāḥ that rīqah is more specific than rīq.

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs from 'Ā'ishah   who reported that when the Prophet   sought protection for someone in his family, he rubbed his right hand and said: "O Allah, Lord of men, remove this discomfort. Cure, for You are the One Who cures; there is no cure but Your cure. May it be a cure that leaves no sickness."¹

اَللّٰهُمَّ رَبَّ النَّاسِ، اُذْهِبِ الْبَاسَ، اِشْفِ—وَاَنْتَ الشَّافِي،
لَا شِفَاءَ اِلَّا شِفَاؤُكَ—شِفَاءٌ لَا يُغَادِرُ سَقَمًا.

Allāhumma Rabba-n-nās, adhhibi-l-ba's, ishfi—wa Anta-sh-Shāfi lā shifā'a illā shifā'uk—shifā'an lā yughādiru saqamā.

According to another version the Prophet   would make a protective supplication (ruqyah), saying: "Remove the discomfort, O Lord of Men; the healing is in Your hand, for no one can uncover it but You".

اِمْسَحِ الْبَاسَ، رَبَّ النَّاسِ، بِيَدِكَ الشِّفَاءُ لَا كَاشِفَ لَهُ اِلَّا اَنْتَ.

Imsaḥi-l-ba's, Rabba-n-nās, bi-yadika-sh-shifā', lā kāshifa lahu illā Anta.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Anas   who said to Thābit: "Shall I not incant for you with the incantation used by the Messenger of Allah  ?" He replied: "Yes." [Anas] said: "O Allah, Lord of men and Remover of discomfort, cure, for You are the One Who cures; there is no Healer but You. May it be a cure that leaves no sickness."²

I say that the meaning of 'leaves no [sickness]' (lā yughādiru) is 'does not leave' (lā yatruku), and the meaning of 'discomfort' (al-ba's) is distress or illness.

اَللّٰهُمَّ رَبَّ النَّاسِ، مُذْهِبَ الْبَاسِ، اِشْفِ—اَنْتَ الشَّافِي لَا شَافِيَ اِلَّا اَنْتَ—شِفَاءٌ لَا يُغَادِرُ سَقَمًا.

Allāhumma Rabba-n-nās, mudhhiba-l-ba's, ishfi—Anta-sh-Shāfi, lā shāfiya illā Ant—shifā'an lā yughādiru saqamā.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Uthmān ibn Abī al-'Āṣ  , who complained to the Messenger of Allah   about a pain that he had had in his body. He   told him: "Put your hand on the part of your body that is in pain and say: In the name of Allah thrice, then say seven times: I seek protection in the Might and Omnipotence of Allah from the evil of what I feel and from what I fear."¹

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5743) and Muslim (2191).

² Al-Bukhārī (5742).

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ
أَعُوذُ بِعِزَّةِ اللَّهِ وَقُدْرَتِهِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا أَجِدُ وَأُحَازِرُ

Bismi-llāh.

A'ūdhu bi-'izzati-llāhi wa qudratihi min sharri mā ajidu wa uḥādir.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ narrated: "The Prophet ﷺ visited me when I was sick, and he ﷺ said: 'O Allah, heal Sa'd; O Allah, heal Sa'd; O Allah, heal Sa'd.'"² اللَّهُمَّ، اِشْفِ سَعْدًا، اللَّهُمَّ، اِشْفِ سَعْدًا، اللَّهُمَّ، اِشْفِ سَعْدًا.

Allāhumma, ishfi Sa'dā, Allāhumma, ishfi Sa'dā, Allāhumma, ishfi Sa'dā.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who also related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If anyone visits a sick person whose time has not [yet] come, and says seven times: 'I ask Allah the Tremendous, Lord of the Mighty Throne, to cure you', Allah ﷻ will cure him of that sickness."³ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan and al-Ḥākim Abū 'Abdullāh, in his book al-Mustadrak 'ala-ṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn, describes it as ṣaḥīḥ according to the standards of al-Bukhārī.

I say that yashfiya, 'cure', has a fathah on the first letter.

أَسْأَلُ اللَّهَ الْعَظِيمَ، رَبَّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، أَنْ يَشْفِيكَ.

As'alu-llāha-l-'Aẓīm, Rabba-l-'Arshi-l-'Aẓīm, an yashfiyak.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Āṣ ؓ, who reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "When any of you visit the sick they should say: O Allah, heal Your slave, who hurts an enemy for You or walks to ṣalāh for You."⁴ Abū Dāwūd did not regard it as weak.

I say that the meaning of 'wounds' (yanka'u), with fathah on the first letter and hamzah on the last, is 'causes him pain, hurts him' (yu'limuhu wa yūji'uhu).

اللَّهُمَّ، اِشْفِ عَبْدَكَ، يَنْكَأُ لَكَ عَدُوًّا، أَوْ يَمْشِي لَكَ إِلَى صَلَاةٍ.

Allāhumma, ishfi 'abdak, yanka'u laka 'aduwwā, aw yamshī laka ilā ṣalāh.

1 Muslim (2202), Abū Dāwūd (3891), and an-Nasā'ī (909).

2 Muslim (1628).

3 Abū Dāwūd (3106), at-Tirmidhī (2084), al-Ḥākim (1/342), and al-Futūḥāt (4/61). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

4 Abū Dāwūd (3107). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from ‘Alī ؓ who reported: “Once I had a complaint and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by me while I was saying: ‘O Allah, if it be that my time has come then give me relief, and if it is delayed then elevate me, and if it is a test then grant me patience.’ The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked: ‘What did you say?’ I repeated what I had said. He prodded me with his foot and said: ‘O Allah, grant him health’ or ‘heal him’—Shu‘bah was in doubt [as to which of the two wordings was used]. I never complained about any pain after that.”¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِنْ كَانَ اَجَلِيْ قَدْ حَضَرَ فَاَرْحِنِيْ، وَاِنْ كَانَ
مُتَاَخِّرًا فَارْفَعْنِيْ، وَاِنْ كَانَ بَلَاءٌ فَصَبِّرْنِيْ.
اَللّٰهُمَّ عَافِهْ—اَوْ—اِشْفِهْ.

*Allāhumma in kāna ajalī qad ḥaḍara fa-ariḥnī, wa in kāna muta'akhkhiran fā-rfa'nī, wa in kāna balā'an fa-ṣabbirnī.
Allāhumma 'āfih (or) ishfiḥ.*

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ and Abū Hurayrah ؓ attest that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whenever anyone says: There is no god but Allah and Allah is greater, his Lord confirms him and says: ‘There is no god but Me and I am Greater.’ When he says: There is no god but Allah alone, He says: ‘There is no god but Me alone.’ When he says: There is no god but Allah alone without partner, He says: ‘There is no god but Me, Alone without partner.’ When he says: There is no god but Allah and to Him belongs Dominion and to Him belongs all praise, He says: ‘There is no god but Me, to Me belongs Dominion and to Me belongs all praise.’ When he says: There is no god but Allah and there is no power or strength except by Allah, He says: ‘There is no god but Me and there is no power or strength except by Me.’” Then he ؓ said: “Whoever says this during an illness and then passes away, Hell-Fire will not consume him.”² At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَاللّٰهُ اَكْبَرُ.
لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَحْدَهُ.
لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ.
لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ.
لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ، وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ اِلَّا بِاللّٰهِ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu-akbar.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3559) and al-Futūḥāt (4/64). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

² Ibn Mājah (3794), at-Tirmidhī (3426), and al-Futūḥāt (4/64). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah.
Lā ilāha illa-llāh, lahu-l-mulku wa lahu-l-ḥamd.
Lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim as well as the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ, who narrated that Jibrīl ؑ came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked: "O Muḥammad, are you sick?" "Yes," he replied. He said: "In the name of Allah I seek protection for you from everything that harms you, from the evil of every person or the eye of an envious person. May Allah cure you. In the name of Allah I seek protection for you."¹ At-Tirmidhī categorises this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ أَرْقِيكَ، مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ يُؤْذِيكَ، مِنْ شَرِّ كُلِّ نَفْسٍ
 أَوْ عَيْنٍ حَاسِدٍ، اللَّهُ يَشْفِيكَ. بِسْمِ اللَّهِ أَرْقِيكَ.

Bismi-llāhi arqīk, min kulli shay'in yu'dhīk, min sharri kulli nafsin aw 'ayni ḥāsīd, Allāhu yashfīk, Bismi-llāhi arqīk.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ visited a Bedouin. When the Prophet ﷺ came to the sick person he was visiting he said: "No harm, but purification, if Allah wills."² لَا بَأْسَ، طَهُورٌ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ.

Lā ba's, ṭuhūrun in shā'a-llāh.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ visited a Bedouin who was sick with fever. He said: "Expiation and purification."³ كَفَّارَةٌ وَطَهُورٌ.

Kaffāratun wa ṭahūr.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Umāmah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The best way to complete a visit to a sick person is to place your hand on his forehead or on his hand and ask him how he is." This is the version of at-Tirmidhī. According to the version of Ibn as-Sunnī he said: "The completion of a visit to a sick person is to put your hand on him and ask: 'How are you this morning?' or 'How are you this evening?'"⁴ At-Tirmidhī said that its isnād is not so good.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Salmān ؓ, who reported: "The Mes-

¹ Muslim (2186), at-Tirmidhī (972), and Ibn Mājah (3524).

² Al-Bukhārī (5656).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (540). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ḥasan gharīb.

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (2732) and Ibn as-Sunnī (541).

senger of Allah ﷺ visited me when I was sick. He said: 'Salmān, may Allah cure your sickness and forgive your sins and grant you well-being in your religion and body until your dying day.'¹ شَفَى اللَّهُ سُقْمَكَ، وَغَفَرَ ذَنْبَكَ، وَعَافَاكَ فِي دِينِكَ وَجِسْمِكَ إِلَى مُدَّةِ أَجَلِكَ.

Shafa-llāhu saqamak, wa ghafara dhanbak, wa 'āfaka fi dīnika wa jismika ilā muddati ajalik.

And we relate, in the same source, from 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān ؓ who said: "I was once sick and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ would come to visit me. One day he visited me and said: 'In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. I seek protection for you with Allah, the One, Besought of All, Who does not beget and is not begotten and Who has no like, from the evil of what you are experiencing.' When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ stood up to leave he said: "Uthmān, seek protection with that, for you have never sought protection with anything like it."²

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ، أُعِيدُكَ بِاللَّهِ الْأَحَدُ الصَّمَدُ، الَّذِي لَمْ
يَلِدْ وَلَمْ يُولَدْ، وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ كُفُوًا أَحَدٌ، مِنْ شَرِّ مَا تَجِدُ.

Bismi-llāhi-r-Raḥmāni-r-Raḥmān, u'īdhuka bi-llāhi-l-Aḥadi-ṣ-Ṣamad, alladhī lam yalid wa lam yūlad, wa lam yaku-l-lahu kufuwan aḥad, min sharri mā tajid.

100

IN COMMENDATION OF ADVISING THE FAMILIES OF THE SICK AND THOSE TENDING THEM TO BE KIND AND BEAR PATIENTLY
THE DIFFICULTIES IN THEIR AFFAIRS; ALSO, ADVISING THOSE WHOSE DEATH IS IMMINENT BECAUSE OF A LEGAL SENTENCE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn ؓ who said that there came to the Messenger ﷺ a woman from Juhaynah who was pregnant because of adultery. She said: "Messenger of Allah, I have transgressed the legal limit, so enforce it on me." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ called her guardian and said: "Treat her well, and when she has delivered bring her to me." He did so and the Messenger ﷺ commanded that her clothes be bound to her. Then he commanded that she be stoned, and he prayed the funeral ṣalāh for her.³

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (553) and al-Futūḥāt (4/71). There is some weakness in this hadith's chain.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (558).

³ Muslim (1696).

WHAT TO SAY A PERSON WHO HAS A HEADACHE, FEVER OR OTHER PAIN

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to teach [the Companions] to say for all pains and fevers: "In the name of Allah the Great, we seek protection with Allah the Mighty from the evil of throbbing veins and from the evil of the heat of Hell-Fire."¹ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الْكَبِيرِ، نَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ الْعَظِيمِ مِنْ شَرِّ عِرْقٍ نَعَّارٍ وَمِنْ شَرِّ حَرِّ النَّارِ.

*Bismi-llāhi-l-Kabīr, na'ūdhu bi-llāhi-l-'Aẓīmi min
sharri 'irqin na'ārin wa min sharri ḥarri-n-Nār.*

One should recite al-Fātiḥah, Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad and al-Mu'awwidhāt over oneself and then blow onto one's hands, as was described above. One should also make the du'ā of difficulties mentioned earlier.

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF A SICK PERSON SAYING: 'I AM IN SEVERE PAIN' OR 'UNWELL' OR 'OH, MY HEAD!' AND THINGS LIKE THAT; AND EXPLANATION THAT THERE IS NOTHING DISAPPROVED OF IN THAT IF NONE OF IT IS AN EXPRESSION OF DISCONTENTMENT OR IMPATIENCE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who said: "I came to the Prophet ﷺ while he was sick. I touched him and said: 'You are really unwell.' He said: 'Yes, I am as unwell as two of you men.'"²

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs from Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ who reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to visit me because of a severe pain I had, so I said: 'What you see has reached me, while I have wealth and no-one but my daughter will inherit from me. . .'. And he then recounted the same hadith".

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad who reported that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "Oh, my head!" The Prophet ﷺ said: "No: Oh my head!"³ This hadith in this wording is mursal.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (571). Ibn Hajar described this hadith's chain as weak.

² Al-Bukhārī (5647), Muslim (2571).

³ Al-Bukhārī (7217).

THE DISAPPROVAL OF HOPING FOR DEATH BECAUSE OF PHYSICAL HARM, BUT ITS PERMISSIBILITY
IF ONE FEARS JEOPARDY IN HIS RELIGION

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should hope for death because of some harm that has befallen him. If he has no other resort then let him say: O Allah, let me live as long as living is better for me, and cause me to die when dying is better for me."¹ اللَّهُمَّ أَخِينِي مَا كَانَتْ الْحَيَاةُ خَيْرًا لِي، وَتَوَفَّنِي إِذَا كَانَتْ الْوَفَاةُ خَيْرًا لِي.

Allāhumma aḥyīnī mā kānati-l-ḥayātu khayran lī, wa tawaffanī idhā kānati-l-wafātu khayran lī.

The 'ulamā' from among our colleagues and others have stated that this may be said when someone hopes for death to avoid harm, or something like that. If one hopes for death out of fear for his religion because of the corruption of the times and the like, that is not makrūh.

THE RECOMMENDATION OF A MAN MAKING DU'Ā' THAT HIS DEATH BE IN THE NOBLE LAND

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from the Mother of the Believers Ḥafṣah ؓ the daughter of 'Umar, who reported: "'Umar ؓ said: 'O Allah, grant me martyrdom in Your path and make me die in the land of Your Messenger ﷺ.' I asked: 'How can that be?' He said: 'Allah will bring it about if He wishes.'"² اللَّهُمَّ ارْزُقْنِي شَهَادَةً فِي سَبِيلِكَ، وَاجْعَلْ مَوْتِي فِي بَلَدِ رَسُولِكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Allāhumma-rzuqnī shahādatan fī sabīlik, wa-j'al mawtī fī baladi Rasūlika ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5671), Muslim (2680), Abū Dāwūd (3108), at-Tirmidhī (971) an-Nasā'ī (4/3).

² Al-Bukhārī (1890).

THE DESIRABILITY OF COMFORTING THE SICK

WE RELATE FROM the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah with a weak isnād from Abū Saʿīd al-Khudrī ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When you visit a sick person, remove his anxiety about the hour of his death, for it will not delay anything but will put his mind at ease."¹ The hadith in a previous chapter from Ibn ʿAbbās ؓ—"No harm, but a purification"—supports this.

PRAISING A SICK PERSON, WHEN SEEING HIM TO BE FEARFUL, BY MENTIONING HIS GOOD DEEDS, IN ORDER TO ALLEVIATE HIS FEAR AND GIVE HIM A GOOD OPINION OF HIS LORD

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn ʿAbbās ؓ who said that when ʿUmar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ was stabbed and became anxious, he told him: "O Leader of the Believers, this will not do! You accompanied the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and accompanied him well. Then when he left you he was pleased with you. Then you accompanied Abū Bakr ؓ, and you accompanied him well. Then when he left you he was pleased with you. Then you accompanied the Muslims, and you have accompanied them well. If you leave them, you will leave them while they are pleased with you." And he mentioned the rest of the hadith and the words of ʿUmar: "That is the grace of Allah."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Ibn Shumāsah—with ḍammah on the mīm and a fathah—who said: "We came to ʿAmr ibn al-ʿĀṣ ؓ when he was on the brink of death and he had been crying for a long time. He turned his face to the wall and his son started to say: 'O my beloved father, did the Messenger of Allah ﷺ not give you glad tidings of this, did he not give you glad tidings of this?' [ʿAmr] turned his face and said: 'The best that we have been promised is bearing witness that there is no god but Allah and that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah ﷺ,'"³ and he recounted the rest of the hadith.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad ibn Abū Bakr ؓ that ʿĀʾishah ؓ was ill and Ibn ʿAbbās ؓ came and said: "O Mother of the

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2088) Ibn Mājah (1438).

² Al-Bukhārī (3692).

³ Muslim (121).

Believers, you are going on to [meet our] sincere predecessors: Allah's Messenger ﷺ, and Abū Bakr ؓ."

Al-Bukhārī also narrated from Abū Mulaykah that Ibn 'Abbās asked permission to go in and see 'Ā'ishah before her death when she was overcome. She said, "I fear that he will eulogise me." They said, "The nephew of Allah's Messenger ﷺ is one of the eminent Muslims." She said, "Give him permission." He said, "How do you experience it?" She said, "Well, if I have taqwā." He said, "Then you are well, in *shā'*Allāh, the wife of Allah's Messenger ﷺ, and he married no other [young] virgin than you; and your innocence was revealed from Heaven."¹

107

GIVING THE SICK PERSON WHAT HE CRAVES

WE RELATE FROM the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī with a weak isnād from Anas ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to visit a sick man and asked: "Do you have an appetite for anything? Do you have an appetite for cake?" The man said: "Yes." So he requested it for him.²

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from 'Uqbah ibn 'Āmir ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not force your sick to eat and drink, for Allah feeds them and gives them to drink."³ According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan hadith.

108

VISITORS SEEKING THE DU'Ā' OF THE SICK

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Ibn Mājah and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with a ṣaḥīḥ or ḥasan isnād, from Maymūn ibn Mihrān from 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When you visit a sick man, instruct him to supplicate for you, for his du'ā' is like the du'ā' of the angels."⁴ However, Maymūn never actually met 'Umar ؓ.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4753).

² Ibn Mājah (3441) and Ibn as-Sunnī (545).

³ At-Tirmidhī (2041), Ibn Mājah (3444); its chain is ḥasan thanks to its supporting narrations; al-Futūḥāt (4/90).

⁴ Ibn Mājah (1441) and Ibn as-Sunnī (562). This hadith is mursal from the Tābi'i in the fourth level

EXHORTING AND REMINDING AN INVALID, AFTER HE IS HEALED, TO FULFIL THE REPENTANCE THAT HE PROMISED ALLAH

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And fulfil (every) promise, for (every) promise will be inquired into."¹

وَأَوْفُوا بِالْعَهْدِ إِنَّ الْعَهْدَ كَانَ مَسْئُولًا.

Allah ﷻ says: "And those who, when they make a pledge, fulfil their pledges."² وَالْمُوفُونَ بِعَهْدِهِمْ إِذَا عَاهَدُوا.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Khawāt ibn Jubayr ﷺ who said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ visited me when I had been sick. He said: 'The body has recovered, Khawāt.' I said: 'And your body, Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'Fulfill the promise you have made to Allah.' I said: 'I did not promise Allah anything.' He said: 'Yes, you did; for no one becomes sick who fails to, speaks to Allah ﷻ about good. So fulfil what you have promised Allah.'"³

WHAT TO SAY TO SOMEONE WHO HAS LOST HOPE OF SURVIVING

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī and the Sunan of Ibn Mājah from 'Ā'ishah who said: "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ at the time of his death. He had with him a cup of water, and he put his hand into the cup and then wiped his face with the water saying: 'O Allah, help me with the hardships and pangs of death.'"⁴ اللَّهُمَّ أَعِنِّي عَلَى غَمَرَاتِ الْمَوْتِ وَسَكَرَاتِ الْمَوْتِ.

Allāhumma a'innī 'alā ghamarāti-l-mawti wa sakarāti-l-mawt.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ﷺ who also related:

of narrators. Al-Futūḥāt (4/91). The author of az-Zawā'id states that its chain is ṣaḥīḥ and its narrators are trustworthy, except that it has a break in the transmission.

1 Qur'ān 17:34

2 Qur'ān 2:177.

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (563).

4 At-Tirmidhī (978), Ibn Mājah (1623), and an-Nasā'ī (1093) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

"I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say as he leaned on me: 'O Allah, forgive me and have mercy on me and join me with the Highest Companion.'"

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي، وَارْحَمْنِي، وَأَلْحِقْنِي بِالرَّفِيقِ الْأَعْلَى

Allāhumma-ghfir lī, wa-rḥamnī, wa-lḥiqnī bi-r-Rafīqī-l-A'lā.

It is mustaḥabb to increase in reciting the Qur'ān and adhkār and it is makrūh to lapse into anxiety, bad character, cursing, disputing or debating matters other than religion. It is mustaḥabb to be thankful to Allah ﷻ with one's heart and tongue. The dying person should bear in mind that these are his last moments in this world and that he should try hard to make his end good. He should hasten to fulfil promises to anyone whom they have been made, such as restitution for acts of injustice, trusts or loans. He should seek the forgiveness of his family, his wife, parents, children, neighbours, friends and all those with whom he had dealings, companionship, or any relationship. It is imperative that he make bequests for his children if they do not have a grandfather who is fit to be their guardian. He should make a will for anything that he is unable to do immediately, such as repaying some of his debts. He should have a good opinion of Allah ﷻ and believe that He will have mercy on him. He should bring to mind that he is low in the creation of Allah and that Allah is not in need of punishing him, or of his obedience. He is Allah's slave. He should not seek pardon, good treatment, forgiveness or largesse from anyone but Him.

It is mustaḥabb for a dying person to be sure to recite the Mighty Qur'ān with hope. He should recite it with a soft voice. Others should also recite it to him while he listens. Likewise, he should study the stories of the pious at the time of their deaths. He should strive to increase in piety.

[A dying person] should hold fast to the ṣalāh and avoid impurities. He must bear patiently all the difficulties in this. He should beware of inattentiveness to these matters, for the most heinous transgression would be that the last acts of his life in the world, which is "the plantation of the Hereafter", were to neglect the duties which are mandatory and obligatory.

He should not accept the words of those who distract him from any of the things we have mentioned, because this is part of what he will be tested with. Anyone who does so is truly an ignorant friend [who is] secretly an enemy, and his distraction should not be assented to. A person should strive hard to end his life in the most perfect condition.

He should advise his family and companions to have patience with him in his illness and to tolerate whatever emanates from him. He should advise them to have patience in their affliction. He should strive to advise them to stop crying for him. He should tell them: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'The deceased is punished because of the weeping of his family over him.' So beware, my beloved ones, of working towards my punishment."²

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4440), Muslim (2444), al-Muwaffa' (1/238-239), at-Tirmidhī (3490), and Aḥmad (6/89).

² Muslim (927).

He should advise them to be kind to those children, boys and girls, that he leaves behind. He should advise them to treat his friends well, and teach them that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The best obedience is that a man maintain a bond with the friends of his father."¹ He should remind them that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to honour the companions of Khadijah ﷺ.²

It is emphatically mustahabb for the dying to advise their families to avoid the innovations that have become prevalent at funerals. He should make them swear a vow in this regard. He should advise them to be persistent in du'a for him and never to forget him for as long as they live. He should say to them from time to time: "If you see any heedlessness in me, inform me with gentleness and fulfil your admonition, for I am prone to forgetfulness, laziness and laxity. So if I fall short, spur me on and help me prepare for my long journey."

The proof of what we have mentioned in this chapter is well-known. We have abridged it, for [in full form] it would take many pages.

When a person experiences the agony of death he should say abundantly: There is no god but Allah, so that those may be his last words.

We relate a famous hadith from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others, from Mu'adh ibn Jabal ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever utters There is no god but Allah as his last words will enter Paradise."³ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāh.

Al-Hākim states in his al-Mustadrak 'alā aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn that this hadith has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'i and others, that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Prompt your dying to say: There is no god but Allah."⁴ At-Tirmidhī said that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

According to the 'ulamā', if the dying person does not say There is no god but Allah, those who are present with him should induce him with kindness and gentleness to say it, lest he become annoyed and refuse. When he has said it, it should not be repeated unless he says something else. According to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, it is mustahabb that the person who prompts him should be above suspicion, lest he should drive him into some wrong action and come to suspect him.

Know that a group of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that one should be prompted to say: There is no god but Allah and Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah. The majority confine it to saying There is no god but Allah. I have expanded on that, along with the evidence for it and clarification of who should say it, in the Book on Funerals in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab.

1 Muslim (2552).

2 Al-Bukhārī (3816), Muslim (2435).

3 Abū Dāwūd (3116) and al-Hākim (1/351), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

4 Muslim (920), Abū Dāwūd (3117), at-Tirmidhī (976), an-Nasā'i (4/5).

WHAT TO SAY AFTER CLOSING THE EYES OF THE DECEASED

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Umm Salamah, whose personal name was Hind, ؓ who reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to Abū Salamah, and his eyes were open; so he closed them. Then he said: 'When the soul is taken out the sight follows it.' Some people from his family shouted and screamed, so he ؓ said: 'Do not make du'ā' for yourselves except for good, for the angels say Āmīn to what you say.' Then he ؓ said: 'O Allah, forgive Abū Salamah and raise his station among those who are guided. Take care of his posterity in his stead. Forgive us and him, Lord of the Worlds, and expand his grave for him and illuminate it for him.'"¹ I say that "his eyes were open" is [written as] shaqqa baṣarahu, with fathah on the letter shīn: the fathah on the rā of baṣarahu indicates that it is the object of the verb shaqqa. Such is the version agreed upon by all ḥuffāz and scholars. According to the author of al-Afāl: "One says, 'The eyes of the dead open,' or 'the dead open their eyes' when they roll back or when they glaze over."

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِأَبِي سَلَمَةَ، وَارْفَعْ دَرَجَتَهُ فِي الْمَهْدِيِّينَ، وَاخْلُفْهُ فِي عَقِبِهِ فِي
الْغَابِرِينَ، وَاغْفِرْ لَنَا وَلَهُ يَا رَبَّ الْعَالَمِينَ، وَافْسَحْ لَهُ فِي قَبْرِهِ، وَنَوِّرْ لَهُ فِيهِ.

Allāhumma-ghfir li-Abī Salamata wa-rfa' darajatahu fī-l-mahdiyyīna wa-khlufhu fī 'aqibihi fī-l-ghābirīn, wa-ghfir lanā wa lahu, yā Rabba-l-'ālamīn, wa-fsaḥ lahu fī qabrihi wa nawwir lahu fih.

We relate in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Bakr ibn 'Abdullāh, an eminent Tābi', that he said: "When you close the eyes of the deceased say: In the name of Allah and in the nation of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. And when you carry him say In the name of Allah, then glorify Allah for as long as you are carrying him."² بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، وَعَلَى مِلَّةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Bismi-llāh, wa 'alā millati Rasūli-llāh ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

¹ Muslim (920), Abū Dāwūd (3115), at-Tirmidhī (977), an-Nasā'ī (4/4-5).

² As-Sunan al-kubrā of al-Bayhaqī (3/385). According to Ibn Hajar this hadith is mawqūf up to Bakr ibn 'Abdullāh. Al-Futūḥāt (4/117).

WHAT TO SAY NEAR THE DECEASED

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها, who reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'If you are with a sick person or a person in the agony of death then speak [only] good, for the angels say Āmīn to what you say.' When Abū Salamah رضي الله عنه passed away I came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, Abū Salamah has passed away.' He said: 'Say: O Allah, forgive me and him, and give me good after him.' I say that Allah gave me better than him: Muḥammad ﷺ." Such is the version in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim. At-Tirmidhī's version has: "when you visit the sick or the dead. . .", there being doubt [from the narrator]. The Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others read "the dead" without ambiguity, unequivocally.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَلَهُ، وَأَعِزَّنِي مِنْهُ عُقْبَى حَسَنَةً.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa lah, wa a'qibnī minhu 'uqbā ḥasanah.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah from Mu'aqqal ibn Yasār al-Anṣārī رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Recite Yā Sīn over your deceased."² I say that the isnād is weak as there are two unknown transmitters in the isnād although Abū Dāwūd did not consider it weak.

We relate in Abū Dāwūd that Mukhālīd reported that ash-Shābī said: "When the Anṣār came to see a deceased person they recited Sūrat al-Baqarah." Mukhālīd is a weak narrator.

WHAT TO SAY TO THE BEREAVED

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها who reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'There is no servant [of Allah] who has been afflicted with a calamity and then says: We are from Allah and to Him do we return

¹ Muslim (919), at-Tirmidhī (977), Abū Dāwūd (3115).

² Abū Dāwūd (3121), Ibn Mājah (1448); it was considered weak by Ibn Ḥajar, ad-Dāraqutnī and Ibn al-Qaṭṭān. Talkhīṣ al-ḥabīr (2/104).

(Qur'an 2:156). O Allah, reward me for my affliction and give me something better in return for it without Allah rewarding him for his affliction and giving him something better than it." Umm Salamah also related: "When Abū Salamah passed away I said what the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had instructed me to say, and Allah gave me someone better than Abū Salamah: the Messenger of Allah ﷺ."

إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ. اللَّهُمَّ أَجِرْنِي فِي مُصِيبَتِي وَأَخْلِفْ لِي خَيْرًا مِنْهَا.

Innā li-llāhi wa innā ilayhi rāji'ūn. Allāhumma ajirni fī muṣibatī wa akhlif li khayran minhā.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Umm Salamah who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any of you is afflicted with a calamity let him say: We are from Allah and to Him do we return. O Allah, from You I hope for the reward for my calamity, so reward me for it and give me in exchange something better than it."¹

إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ، اللَّهُمَّ عِنْدَكَ أَحْتَسِبُ مُصِيبَتِي،
فَأَجِرْنِي فِيهَا، وَأَبْدِلْنِي خَيْرًا مِنْهَا.

Innā li-llāhi wa innā ilayhi rāji'ūn, Allāhumma 'indaka aḥtasibu muṣibatī, fa-'jurni fihā, wa abdilni khayran minhā.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and others from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When the son of a servant [of Allah] passes away, Allah asks His angels: 'Have you taken the son of My servant?' They reply: 'Yes.' He asks: 'Did you take away the fruit of his heart?' They reply: 'Yes.' He asks: 'What did My servant say?' They reply: 'He praised You and said: "Verily we are from Allah and to Him do we return." Allah says: 'Build a house for My servant in Paradise and name it the House of Praise.'" At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan. Its meaning is that which we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī.

Abū Hurayrah reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah says: 'There is no other reward for My servant, when I take away his bosom friend out of all the people of the world, than Paradise.'"⁴

1 Muslim (918), Abū Dāwūd (3115), an-Nasā'ī (1069) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

2 Abū Dāwūd (3119).

3 At-Tirmidhī (1021).

4 Al-Bukhārī (6424).

WHAT TO SAY UPON HEARING THE NEWS OF THE DEATH OF ONE'S COMPANION

WE RELATE IN the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Death is a shock, so if any one of you hears about the death of his brother let him say: We are from Allah and to Him do we return, and we shall surely be brought back to our Lord. O Allah, record him in Your sight among the virtuous, make his book [of actions] to be in 'Ilīyyūn [the highest heaven], and give him a successor in his family among those who remain. Do not deprive us of his reward, and do not put us to trial after him."¹

إِنَّا لِلَّهِ وَإِنَّا إِلَيْهِ رَاجِعُونَ، وَإِنَّا إِلَى رَبِّنَا لَمُنْقَلِبُونَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اكْتُبْهُ
عِنْدَكَ فِي الْمُحْسِنِينَ، وَاجْعَلْ كِتَابَهُ فِي عِلِّيِّينَ، وَاخْلُفْهُ فِي
أَهْلِهِ فِي الْغَابِرِينَ، وَلَا تَحْرِمْنَا أَجْرَهُ وَلَا تَفْتِنَّا بَعْدَهُ.

Innā li-llāhi wa innā ilayhi rāji'ūn, wa innā ilā Rabbinā la-munqalibūn, Allāhumma-ktubhu 'indaka fi-l-muhsinīn, wa-j'al kitābahu fi 'Ilīyyīn, wakhluḥhu fi ahlihi fi-l-ghābirīn, wa lā taḥrimnā ajrahu wa lā taftinnā ba'dah.

WHAT TO SAY UPON BEING TOLD OF THE DEATH OF AN ENEMY OF ISLAM

WE RELATE IN the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who reported: "I came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, Allah ﷻ has killed Abū Jahl.' He said: 'Praise be to Allah, Who has helped His servant and given glory to His religion.'"² اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِي نَصَرَ عَبْدَهُ وَاَعَزَّ دِيْنَهُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī naṣara 'abdahu wa a'azza dīnah.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (566). Ibn Hajar states that this is a gharīb hadith, reported by Ibn as-Sunnī; its chain contains Qays ibn Rabī', who is very truthful (ṣadūq) but who mixed up his narrations towards the end of his life and did not differentiate, so that anything which he is alone in reporting is weak. Al-Futūḥāt (4/124).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (567). The narrators are those of the Ṣaḥīḥ, except that Abū 'Ubaydah ibn 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd did not hear hadiths from his father. Al-Futūḥāt (4/125).

THE PROHIBITION OF WAILING OVER THE DECEASED AND CRYING OUT WITH THE CRIES OF THE DAYS OF IGNORANCE (BEFORE ISLAM)

THE UMMAH AGREES on the prohibition of wailing, crying out with the cries of the Days of Ignorance, and bursting into loud laments at times of calamity.

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, from ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “He who slaps his cheeks, tears his clothes and cries out with the cries of the Days of Ignorance is not one of us.”¹ In a narration of Muslim it is “or cries out or tears” with “or”.

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ declared himself quit of women who raise their voices in wailing, shave their heads, or tear their clothes at the time of a calamity.²

I say that ṣāliqah is a woman who raises her voice while wailing, ḥāliqah is a woman who shaves her hair off in times of distress, and shāqqah is a woman who tears her clothes when a misfortune occurs, and all [these actions] are unlawful according to the agreement of the ‘ulamā’. Likewise, it is ḥarām to spread out the hair,³ slap the face, scratch the face or call out in anguish.

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs from Umm ‘Aṭiyyah رضي الله عنها, who said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ made us vow not to wail.”⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Two traits in people are kufṛ in them: defamation of lineage and loud wailing for the deceased.”⁵

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ cursed hired mourners and those who listen to them.⁶

Know that niyāḥah means to raise the voice in nadb, and nadb is when the woman who is mourning vocally enumerates the merits of the deceased. Some say it means weeping over him while enumerating his merits.

Our [Shāfi‘ī] colleagues hold that it is forbidden to raise the voice in excessive weeping, but that weeping without lamentation and wailing is not ḥarām.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of both al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ visited Sa‘d ibn ‘Ubādah while he was sick. With him were ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn ‘Awf, Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ and ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd رضي الله عنه. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ wept. When the people saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1294), Muslim (103), at-Tirmidhī (999), an-Nasā‘ī (4/20).

² Al-Bukhārī (1292), Muslim (104), Abū Dāwūd (3130), an-Nasā‘ī (4/20).

³ Meaning, perhaps, to leave it deliberately dishevelled (ed.).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (1306), Muslim (936), Abū Dāwūd (3127), an-Nasā‘ī (7/148-149).

⁵ Muslim (67), at-Tirmidhī (1001).

⁶ Abū Dāwūd (3128).

weeping, they wept. He said: "Will you not hear? Allah does not punish because of tears in the eyes or sadness of the heart; but He punishes because of this"—here he pointed to his tongue—"or He has mercy."¹

We relate in the same *Ṣaḥīḥ*s that Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ؐ picked up a son of his daughter who was dying. Tears flowed from the eyes of the Messenger of Allah ؐ. Sa'd asked him: "What is this, Messenger of Allah?" He said: "This is the mercy that Allah ؐ puts in the hearts of His servants. Allah only has mercy on those of His servants who have mercy."²

Ruḥamā' ('who have mercy') either with naṣb (ruḥamā'a) or with raf' (ruḥamā'u). The naṣb means that it is the object of yarḥamu 'has mercy', whereas the raf' means that it is the predicate of inna and thus the mā has the sense of alladhī 'the one who' [i.e. 'those of Allah's servants to whom He will show mercy'].

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Anas ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ؐ came to his son Ibrāhīm while he was giving up his soul. Tears started to flow from the eyes of the Messenger of Allah ؐ. 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf ؓ said: "You too, Messenger of Allah?" He said: "O Ibn 'Awf, it is simply compassion." Then he wept more tears and said: "The eyes shed tears and the heart is sad. We do not say anything except that which pleases our Lord, and we are saddened by your departure, Ibrāhīm."³ Hadiths like those we have mentioned are numerous.

As for the ṣaḥīḥ hadith, "The deceased are punished because of the weeping of their family," it is not to be interpreted literally and is not general. It has to be interpreted and the 'ulamā'' disagree as to its interpretation. The most evident one—and Allah knows best—is that it only applies when the deceased is the cause of their weeping, either because he requested that they weep or for some other reason. I have collected all of that or most of it in the Book of Funerals in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab. And Allah knows best.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that it is permissible to weep before and after a death but it is better to do so beforehand, because of the ṣaḥīḥ hadith: "When she dies. . . then let not a weeping woman weep." Ash-Shāfi'i and his colleagues hold that weeping after a death is disliked, but not to the extent of being forbidden. Hence, they interpreted the hadith "then let not a weeping woman weep" as meaning that it is disapproved of.

1 Al-Bukhārī (1304), Muslim (924).

2 Al-Bukhārī (1284), Muslim (923), an-Nasā'i (4/22).

3 Al-Bukhārī (1303). Muslim reported a portion of this hadith (2315). Abū Dāwūd (3126).

CONDOLENCE

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī and from as-Sunan al-kabīr of al-Bayhaqī, that ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd ؓ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: “Whoever consoles the bereaved will have a reward equal to his.”¹ Its isnād is weak.

We relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Barzah al-Aslamī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever consoles a mother who has lost a child will be clothed in a cloak in Paradise.”² At-Tirmidhī said that the isnād of this hadith is not strong.

We relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd as well as an-Nasā’ī from ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ ؓ who narrated in a long hadith that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked Fāṭimah ؓ: “What has taken you out of your house, Fāṭimah?” She said: “I came to this household to show mercy and compassion to them for their bereavement and to console them.”³

We relate in the Sunans of Ibn Mājah and al-Bayhaqī with a ḥasan isnād from ‘Amr ibn Ḥazm ؓ, who related that the Prophet ﷺ said: “No believer consoles his brother in his bereavement without Allah clothing him in robes of honour on the Day of Judgment.”⁴

Consoling consists of encouraging steadfastness, comforting the companions of the deceased, lessening and alleviating their grief and making their misfortune easier. It is mustaḥabb, because it includes commanding good and preventing evil. It is also within the scope of Allah’s words “And help one another to [attain] piety and the fear of Allah.”⁵

﴿وَتَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوَى﴾

It is reliably recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah continues to help [His] servant as long as [His] servant is helping his brother.”⁶

Know that condolence is mustaḥabb, both before and after burial. Our colleagues say that the time for condolences starts at the time of death and continues for three days after the deceased is buried. Three days is approximate and is not specific, as Shaykh Imām Abū Muḥammad al-Juwaynī of our colleagues said. Our colleagues

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1073), Sunan al-kubrā of al-Bayhaqī (4/59), and al-Futūḥāt (4/137). There is some weakness in this hadith’s chain of transmission.

² At-Tirmidhī (1076).

³ Abū Dāwūd (3123), an-Nasā’ī (4/27), and al-Futūḥāt (4/139). According to Ibn Ḥajar this hadith is ḥasan.

⁴ Ibn Mājah (1601) and al-Bayhaqī (4/59).

⁵ Qur’ān 5:2.

⁶ Muslim (2699).

say it is makrūh to console after three days, because condolence means calming the hearts of the bereaved and the heart is usually soothed after three days, so one should not renew the grief. Such is the judgement of the great majority of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues. According to Abū al-'Abbās al-Qāṣṣ, one of our colleagues, there is no harm in condolence after three days; it may continue forever. Imām al-Ḥaramayn has transmitted the same opinion from some of our colleagues. The preferable view is that it may be done after three days in two instances which our colleagues—or some of them at least—have excluded. [These two exceptions] are when the person offering condolences or the bereaved is absent at the time of burial and does not return until after three days have passed. According to our colleagues, condolence is better after burial than before it because the family of the deceased are busy with preparation for the burial, and their loneliness because of their separation from him [or her] is greater [after it]. That is the case provided that one does not see in them acute distress. If one does, then one should offer condolences before the burial in order to soothe them. And Allah knows best.

ON THE RECOMMENDATION TO INCLUDE ALL OF THE DECEASED'S FAMILY AND RELATIVES IN ONE'S CONDOLENCES

It is mustaḥabb to offer condolences to all the family and relatives of the deceased, old and young, male and female, except for young women, whom no one should console except those who are forbidden to marry them.

Our colleagues say that offering condolences to those who find it hard to bear affliction [among those who are appropriate to offer condolences to], as well as children, is more emphasised.

DISAPPROVAL OF SITTING FOR THE SAKE OF OFFERING CONDOLENCES, AND EXPLANATION OF ITS MEANING

According to ash-Shāfi'i, it is makrūh to sit down when offering condolences. This means the family of the deceased gathering in a house so that those who wish to offer condolences visit them. Rather, it is imperative that they continue to carry on with their business. There is no difference between men and women sitting for condolences, as al-Maḥāmili declared, transmitting it from a text from ash-Shāfi'i. All this is makrūh tanzīhī if there is no other innovation associated with it. If any other ḥarām innovation is added to it, as is more often than not the case ordinarily, it will be ḥarām of the ugliest kind, for it is an innovation. It is reliably recorded in a ṣaḥīḥ hadith that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Every new thing is innovation and every innovation is misguidance."¹

¹ Muslim (867).

EXPLAINING THE WORDS USED IN CONDOLENCE

There is no restriction regarding the words of condolence. Condolences may be offered using any expression. It is mustahabb, when a Muslim consoles another Muslim, to say: May Allah grant you a mighty reward, grant you solace and forgive your deceased.

أَعْظَمَ اللَّهُ أَجْرَكَ، وَأَحْسَنَ عَزَاءَكَ، وَغَفَرَ لِمَيِّتِكَ.

A'zama-llāhu ajrak, wa aḥsana 'azā'ak, wa ghafara li-mayyitik.

When a Muslim consoles a disbeliever he should say: May Allah grant you a mighty reward and grant you good solace.

أَعْظَمَ اللَّهُ أَجْرَكَ، وَأَحْسَنَ عَزَاءَكَ.

A'zama-llāhu ajrak, wa aḥsana 'azā'ak.

When a disbeliever consoles a Muslim he should say: May Allah grant you good solace and forgive your deceased.

أَحْسَنَ اللَّهُ عَزَاءَكَ، وَغَفَرَ لِمَيِّتِكَ.

Aḥsana-llāhu 'azā'ak, wa ghafara li-mayyitik.

A disbeliever should say to a disbeliever: May Allah grant you posterity and not reduce your numbers.

أَخْلَفَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْكَ وَلَا نَقْصَ عَدَدِكَ.

Akhlaḥa-llāhu 'alayka wa lā naqṣa 'adadak.

The best condolences are the following.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ, who said: "One of the daughters of the Prophet ﷺ sent for him, calling him and informing him that her baby [or her son] was about to die. He told the messenger: 'Go back to her and inform her that to Allah belongs what He takes and what He gives is His, and everything with Him has an appointed time. So tell her to have patience and hope for the reward. . .'"¹ and he recounted the rest of the hadith.

I say that this hadith is one of the major teachings of Islam. It encompasses many of the important principles and secondary rulings and etiquettes. It encourages patience in times of calamity, worry, illness and every kind of misfortune. "To Allah belongs what He takes" means that the whole universe is in the ownership of Allah ﷻ. He has not taken anything that belongs to you, but something that was considered a loan to you. "To Him belongs what He gave" means that whatever He granted you never left His possession. He may do with it whatever He wishes. "Everything remains with Him until an appointed time", so do not be upset. The appointed time of the one whom He took away has come, so it is impossible to delay it or bring it forward. If you know all this, then have patience and hope for the reward of what has happened to you. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1284) and Muslim (923).

We relate in the book of an-Nasā'ī with a ḥasan isnād from Mu'āwiyah ibn Qurrah ibn 'Iyās, who reported from his father that the Prophet ﷺ missed one of his Companions and asked about him. They said: "His son, whom you have seen, passed away." The Prophet ﷺ met the man and asked him about his son, and was informed that he had passed away. He consoled him and said: "O So-and-so, which is more desirable to you: enjoying his presence for the rest of your life, or coming to one of the doors of Paradise and finding that he has preceded you and opens it for you?" He said: "Messenger of Allah, it is more desirable to me that he precede me to Paradise and open [the door] for me." He said: "You will have that."¹

Al-Bayhaqī relates with his own isnād in Manāqib ash-Shāfi'ī that ash-Shāfi'ī was informed² that the son of 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Mahdī had passed away. 'Abd ar-Raḥmān became very sad. Ash-Shāfi'ī sent a message to him saying: "Brother, console yourself the way you console others, and find in your actions what you find objectionable in the actions of others. Know that the most painful of all calamities is the loss of happiness and the deprivation of reward. How will it be if you combine this with sin? Accept your share, when it comes near to you, before it goes far from you. May Allah inspire you to have patience in calamities and may He keep for you and me a reward for patience." He also wrote to him:

I console you not as one who is sure of living forever, but as a Sunnah of the Dīn.
The one consoled will not remain forever after the dead,
Nor will the consoler, even if both live on for a while.

A man wrote to one of his brothers consoling him over [the death of] his son: "A son is a [source of] sorrow and trial for his father as long as he lives. If he precedes him [in death] he is a prayer and a mercy. So do not be saddened for the grief and tribulations you have been spared, and do not waste the prayers and mercy that Allah has given you in exchange."

Mūsā ibn al-Mahdī said to Ibrāhīm ibn Sālim while consoling him [at the death of] his son: "Did he make you happy when he was a misfortune and a trial, and make you sad when he was a prayer and a mercy?"

A man consoled another, saying: "Fear Allah and be patient, for that is what he who hopes for rewards holds on to, and to this the grieving return." A man consoled another by saying: "He who is a reward for you in the Hereafter is better than him who is happiness for you in this world."

'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar ؓ buried his son and he smiled at his grave. Someone asked him: "How can you smile at this grave?" He said: "I wanted to disgrace Shayṭān."

¹ An-Nasā'ī (4/23) and al-Futūḥāt (4/145). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

² Al-Bayhaqī in Manāqib ash-Shāfi'ī (2/90-91).

Ibn Jurayj said: "Whoever is not consoled, on the occurrence of an affliction, with the reward and anticipation of reward forgets just as the beasts forget."

From Ḥumayd al-A'raj it is recorded that he said, "I saw Sa'id ibn al-Jubayr, may Allah have mercy on him, saying about his son while gazing at him, 'I know the best quality you have.' Someone asked, 'What is it?' He replied, 'He will die and I will anticipate a reward for him.'"

Al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī said that a man was grieved at the loss of his son and complained to him. Al-Ḥasan asked: "Was your son away from you?" He said: "Yes, he was more often absent than present." He said: "Then leave him absent, for there has never been an absence greater in reward than this." The man said: "Abū Sa'id, you have lessened my distress over my son."

From Maymūn ibn Mihrān, who said: "A man consoled 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz regarding his son 'Abd al-Malik. 'Umar said: 'What has befallen 'Abd al-Malik is something we knew about. So when it happened, we did not refuse to accept it.'"

And from Bishr ibn 'Abdullāh, who said: "'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz stood by his son 'Abd al-Malik's grave and said: 'May Allah have mercy on you, my son. You were a delightful boy and an obedient youth, and there is nothing that I long for more than to call you and for you to respond!'"

From Maslamah who said: "When 'Abd al-Malik ibn 'Umar passed away, his father uncovered his face and said: 'May Allah have mercy on you, my dear son. I delighted in joy the moment the good news of your birth was given to me. My life was filled with joy because of you. Never has a time come for me in which I am happier than this time of mine. Oh, would that you could call your father to Paradise!'"

Abū al-Ḥasan al-Madā'inī reported that 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz entered to see his son while he was in extreme pain and asked: "My son, how do you find yourself?" He replied: "I find myself in the Reality [death]." His father said: "My son, that you should be in my scales would be dearer to me than that I should be in your scales." He said, "Father, that what you want should be is more beloved to me than that what I could wish should be."

It is related by Juwayriyyah ibn Asmā' from his (sic) paternal uncle that three brothers had been present at the battle of Tustar and were martyred. Their mother went out one day to the market for some things when she met a man who had come to Tustar. She recognised him and asked him about her sons' situation. [The man] replied: "They were martyred." The [mother] asked: "Advancing or retreating?" and he replied: "Advancing." She said: "Praise be to Allah, they have attained success! They have protected honour—may my soul be their ransom, and my father's, and my mother's!"

I say that the word dhimār ('honour'), with a kasrah on the letter dhāl, means a man's family, or others whom he ought to protect; and "They protected (ḥāṭū) means 'they preserved' or 'they guarded' (ḥafizū wa ra'aw).

When one of Imam ash-Shāfi'ī's sons died, he composed these lines:

"Fate is ever thus, so endure it: the loss of wealth, and parting from loved ones."

And Abū al-Ḥusayn al-Madā'inī reported that al-Ḥasan, the father of 'Ubaydullāh ibn al-Ḥasan, died, and 'Ubaydullāh was at that time Qāḍī and Amīr of Baḥra. Many people consoled him and mentioned that which distinguished a man's impatience from his patience. They agreed unanimously that if he left out something he normally did, he was impatient.

I say: The narrations in this regard are many. I have mentioned these few so that the book may not be devoid of them. And Allah knows best.

SOME OF THE OUTBREAKS OF PLAGUE IN [THE EARLY HISTORY OF] ISLAM

The point of mentioning these is to encourage patience and bring solace, because the calamities afflicting mankind are few in comparison to what happened in the past.

According to Abū al-Ḥasan al-Madā'inī, there were five well-known plagues in [the early history of] Islam.

- ❖ The plague of Shīrūyah in al-Madā'in (Ctesiphon), in the time of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, in the sixth year after the Hijrah.
- ❖ The plague of 'Amawā in Syria, in the time of 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ. Twenty-five thousand people died in it.
- ❖ The plague in the time of Ibn az-Zubayr ؓ, in Shawwāl of the sixty-ninth year after the Hijrah. Seventy thousand people died every day for three days. Eighty-three children of Anas ibn Mālik, but some say seventy-three, and forty children of 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakrah passed away.
- ❖ The plague of the slave-girls (al-Fatayāt), in Shawwāl of the eighty-seventh year after the Hijrah.
- ❖ The plague in Rajab of the year 131 Hijrah which became severe in Ramaḍān. They counted a thousand funerals every day in quarantine (sikkat al-mirbad), and then it eased in Shawwāl.
- ❖ There was also a plague in Kūfah in the fiftieth year after the Hijrah, during which al-Mughīrah ibn Shu'bah died. Here ends al-Madā'inī's account.

Ibn Qutaybah mentions a similar number of plagues in the book al-Ma'ārif from al-Aṣma'ī, with additions and omissions. He said: "It was called the plague of the slave-girls (al-Fatayāt) because it began among the virgins (al-'adhārā) of Baṣrah, Wāsiṭ, the Shām region, and Kūfah. It is also known as the 'plague of the nobles' because many nobles died from it. No plague has ever occurred in either Madīnah or Makkah.

This subject is vast, and what I have mentioned is only a brief outline of what I have left out. I have discussed this topic in more detail at the beginning of my commentary upon the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, may Allah have mercy on him; and success is only by Allah.

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF INFORMING COMPANIONS AND RELATIVES OF THE DEATH OF THE DECEASED, AND THE DISAPPROVAL OF ANNOUNCING THE DEATH PUBLICLY

WE RELATE FROM the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from Ḥudhayfah ؓ, who said: "When I pass away, do not announce my death to anyone, for I fear that it will be a [public] announcement. I heard the Messenger of Allah ؐ forbid anyone to announce a death [publicly]."¹ At-Tirmidhī classed this hadith as ḥasan.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: "Beware of announcing deaths, for announcing deaths is one of the acts of the days before Islam."² Respecting a narration from 'Abdullāh which he did not describe as marfū', at-Tirmidhī said that it is more ṣaḥīḥ than the marfū', but at-Tirmidhī considered both narrations weak.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥayn that the Messenger of Allah ؐ announced the death of an-Najāshī publicly to his Companions.³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥayn that the Prophet ؐ said about a deceased person who was buried at night without it being made known: "Why did you not inform me about him [being buried at night]?"⁴

According to the erudite 'ulamā' and the majority of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues and others, it is mustaḥabb to inform the family, relatives and friends of the deceased [of his death], according to these two hadiths. They say that what is prohibited is to make the announcement in the manner of the days before Islam. The custom was to send a rider to the tribes when one of their noblemen passed away, saying: "We announce the death of so-and-so; we announce the death of the Arabs", that is, "The Arabs have perished because of the death of so-and-so". This announcement was accompanied by shouting and weeping.

The author of al-Ḥāwī, one of our colleagues, mentions two views as to whether it is mustaḥabb to announce the death of a person and to inform people with a call or formal announcement. Some consider this mustaḥabb for acquaintances as well as strangers, so that many people may pray and make du'a' for them. Others have said it is mustaḥabb only for strangers and not for others.

In my view, it is absolutely recommended, provided it is only an announcement.

1 At-Tirmidhī (986) and Ibn Mājah (1476).

2 At-Tirmidhī (984). Ibn Ḥajar verified that the mawqūf and marfū' narrations of this hadith are weak. Most scholars are of the view that informing others of the death of a person is permissible, on the basis of the hadith in al-Bukhārī and Muslim, which is mentioned below by the author.

3 Al-Bukhārī (1333), Muslim (951), Abū Dāwūd (3204), at-Tirmidhī (1022), an-Nasā'i (4/72), and al-Muwatta' (1/226-227).

4 Al-Bukhārī (1337) and Muslim (956).

WHAT TO SAY WHILE WASHING AND SHROUDING THE DECEASED

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to make abundant dhikr of Allah ﷻ and du'ā' for the deceased whilst washing and shrouding him. Our colleagues say that if the one who washes the deceased finds something that impresses him about the deceased, like the light in his face, a pleasant smell or suchlike, it is mustaḥabb for him to tell people about it. If he finds something unpleasant, like the darkening of his face, a foul smell, a change in his limbs or the transformation of his appearance, it is ḥarām for him to talk about it to anyone. They cite as proof the following.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Umar ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Mention the good traits of your deceased and abstain from [mentioning] their bad ones." At-Tirmidhī regarded this hadith as weak.

We relate in as-Sunan al-kabīr of al-Bayhaqī that Abū Rāfi' ﷺ, the freed slave of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever washes a dead person and keeps what he sees on him a secret, Allah will forgive him forty times." Al-Ḥākim Abū 'Abdullāh narrated this in his al-Mustadrak 'alā aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayh and said that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ according to the criteria of Muslim.

Most of our colleagues have expressed the same view on this issue, as I have mentioned. Abū al-Khayr al-Yamānī, the author of al-Bayān, however, said that if the deceased is an innovator who exposed his own innovation, and the one who washes him sees something that he detests, then logic dictates that he should tell people about it, to discourage people from committing innovation.

THE ADHKĀR OF THE FUNERAL ṢALĀH

KNOW THAT THE funeral ṣalāh is a communal obligation, as are washing, shrouding and burying the deceased. This is agreed upon. There are four opinions about the minimum number [of worshippers] for this ṣalāh. The most authentic according to most of our colleagues is that it can be fulfilled by the ṣalāh of one man. The second opinion is that there must be two people. The third is that there must be three people. The fourth is that there must be four people, whether they pray in congregation or individually.

1 Abū Dāwūd (4900) and at-Tirmidhī (1019).

2 Al-Bayhaqī in as-Sunan al-kubrā (3/395), al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/354).

In this ṣalāh there should be four takbīrāt, which are essential. If one takbīr is left out, the ṣalāh is not valid. There are two opinions on the validity of the ṣalāh if one adds a fifth takbīr: the more correct view is that it is not invalid. If we accept that the fifth takbīr invalidates the ṣalāh and the Imam adds one takbīr, then the follower has to separate from him as he would do if he stood up for a fifth rak'ah. If we accept the more correct opinion, which is that it does not nullify it, one neither separates from the Imam nor follows him, according to what is correct and well-known. There is a weak opinion of some of our colleagues that one should follow [the Imam]. If we follow the correct opinion, that one does not follow [the Imam], does one wait for the Imam or does one say the taslīm without waiting? There are two views, and the more correct is to wait. I have explained all of this with a commentary and evidences in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab.

It is mustaḥabb to raise the hands for every takbīr. We have discussed the manner of performing takbīr, and what is mustaḥabb, and what nullifies it in the chapter describing ṣalāh and its adhkār.

The adhkār to be said in the funeral ṣalāh between the takbīrāt are as follows. After the first takbīr the worshipper recites al-Fātiḥah. After the second he prays for blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ. After the third he makes du'ā' for the deceased, and what is obligatory in that is whatever can be called du'ā'. After the fourth there is no mandatory dhikr; but what we will mention, if Allah wills, is mustaḥabb.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues differ and have three opinions about whether seeking refuge (isti'ādḥah), the opening du'ā' after the first takbīr, and the recitation of a chapter after al-Fātiḥah are mustaḥabb. The first is that they are all mustaḥabb; the second, that they are not mustaḥabb; and the third, and this is the most correct, that the seeking of protection is mustaḥabb, but not the opening du'ā' and chapter.

It is agreed that saying Āmīn after al-Fātiḥah is mustaḥabb.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ that he performed the funeral ṣalāh, recited al-Fātiḥah, and said: "So that they may know that it is Sunnah."¹ The meaning of the word Sunnah when a Companion says 'from the Sunnah of such and such' is explained in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd as 'It is from the Sunnah', meaning that it is attributed to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ according to how it is explained and known in books on hadith and uṣūl.

Our Shāfi'i colleagues hold that the Sunnah in recitation is to recite silently and not aloud, whether the ṣalāh is performed during the day or night. That is the opinion of the majority. Some say that if the ṣalāh is performed during the day it should be recited silently, and if it is performed at night it should be recited out loud.

After the second takbīr, the minimum that is compulsory to say is: 'O Allah, bless Muḥammad.' It is mustaḥabb to say: 'And the family of Muḥammad.'

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ... وَعَلَى آلِ مُحَمَّدٍ.

Allāhumma ṣalli 'alā Muḥammadin . . . Wa 'alā āli Muḥammad.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1335), Abū Dāwūd (3198), at-Tirmidhī (1026), and an-Nasā'i (4/74).

This is not compulsory, according to the majority of our colleagues. According to other colleagues of ours, it is obligatory; but this is shādhah and weak. It is mustahabb to pray for all believers, male and female, if time allows, as ash-Shāfi'i stipulated and [his] colleagues agreed.

It has been transmitted from al-Muzanī from ash-Shāfi'i that it is also mustahabb to praise Allah ﷻ. It is said to be mustahabb by some colleagues, but the majority deny that. If we take the position that it is mustahabb, one begins with praise of Allah, then asks for blessings on the Prophet ﷺ, and then prays for all believers, male and female. If one reverses this sequence, that is permitted but one has departed from what is more meritorious.

There are hadiths regarding invocation of blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ which we relate from the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī, but I intend to keep this chapter short, since the proper place to expand on that is in books of fiqh. I have also commented on those hadiths in Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab.

In the third takbīr, it is compulsory to make du'ā' for the deceased with the minimum of what can be called [du'ā'], such as saying: May Allah have mercy on him, or may Allah forgive him, or O Allah, forgive him, or [O Allah], have mercy on him, or [O Allah], be kind to him and the like.

رَحِمَهُ اللَّهُ.

Raḥimahu-llāh.

غَفَرَ اللَّهُ لَهُ.

Ghafara-llāhu lah.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لَهُ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lah.

إِرْحَمْهُ.

Irḥamh.

الْطُّفُّ بِهِ.

Uṭṭuf bih.

As for what is mustahabb, many hadiths and traditions have been narrated about it. As regards hadiths, the most authentic is that which we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Awf ibn Mālik ﷺ, who reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed the funeral ṣalāh, and I memorised the du'ā' which he said: 'Allah, forgive him and have mercy on him. Protect him and pardon him. Ennoble his dwelling and widen his entrance. Wash him with water, snow and ice, and purify him from sin as a white garment is purified of dirt. Give him in exchange a house better than his house, a family better than his [earthly] family, and a wife better than his [earthly] wife. Enter him into Paradise and protect him from the punishment in the grave and the punishment of Hell-Fire,' until [wished that it were I who had died." According to another hadith in Muslim, he also said: "And protect him from the trials of the grave and the punishment of Hell-Fire."

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لَهُ وَارْحَمْهُ، وَاعْفُ عَنْهُ وَعَافِهِ، وَآكْرِمْ نُزُلَهُ، وَوَسِّعْ مَدْخَلَهُ،
وَاعْسِلْهُ بِالْمَاءِ وَالثَّلْجِ وَالْبَرَدِ، وَنَقِّهِ مِنَ الْخَطَايَا كَمَا نَقَّيْتَ الثَّوْبَ الْأَبْيَضَ
مِنَ الدَّنَسِ، وَأَبْدِلْهُ دَارًا خَيْرًا مِنْ دَارِهِ، وَأَهْلًا خَيْرًا مِنْ أَهْلِهِ، وَزَوْجًا خَيْرًا
مِنْ زَوْجِهِ، وَأَدْخِلْهُ الْجَنَّةَ، وَأَعِذْهُ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ وَعَذَابِ النَّارِ.
وَقِهِ فِتْنَةَ الْقَبْرِ وَمِنْ عَذَابِ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lahu wa-rḥamh, wa'fu 'anhu wa 'āfih, wa-krim nuzulah, wa wassi' madkhalah, wa-ghsilhu bi-l-mā'i wa-th-thalji wa-l-barad, wa naqqihi mina-l-khaṭāyā kamā tunaqqī-th-thawba-l-abyaḍa mina-d-danas, wa abdilhu dāran khayran min dārih, wa ahlan khayran min ahlih, wa zawjan khayran min zawjih, wa adkhlilhu-l-Jannah, wa a'idhhu min 'adhābi-l-qabri wa min 'adhābi-n-Nār.
Wa-qihi fitnata-l-qabri wa 'adhāba-l-qabr.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and al-Bayhaqī from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed the funeral prayer and said: "O Allah, forgive those of us who are alive and those who are dead, the young and the old, males and females, those present and those absent. . . O Allah, whomever You cause to live among us, make him live according to Islam; and whomever You cause to die among us, let him die with faith. O Allah, do not deprive us of his reward and do not put us to trial after him."² According to al-Ḥākim, this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ by the criteria of both Muslim and al-Bukhārī. We relate it also from the Sunans of al-Bayhaqī and others in Qatādah's version. We relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī Abū brāhīm al-Ashhālī's version from his father, who was a Companion of the Prophet ﷺ. At-Tirmidhī said: "Muḥammad ibn Ismā'īl [i.e. al-Bukhārī] said that the soundest tradition relating to 'O Allah, forgive our dead and our living' is the narration of Abū brāhīm al-Ashhālī from his father." Al-Bukhārī also said that the soundest thing in his chapter is 'Awf ibn Mālīk's hadith.

Abū Dāwūd's version has the wording "Make him live in faith and make him die in faith", whereas the well-known wording in the major works of hadith is "make him live in Islam and die in faith", as we explained earlier.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِحَيِّنَا وَمَيِّتِنَا، وَصَغِيرِنَا وَكَبِيرِنَا وَذَكَرِنَا وَأُنثَانَا، وَشَاهِدِنَا

¹ Muslim (963).

² Abū Dāwūd (3201), at-Tirmidhī (1024), al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/358), and an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-ayām wa al-laylah (1080).

وَعَايِنَا، اللَّهُمَّ مَنْ أَحْيَيْتَهُ مِنَّا فَأَحْيِهِ عَلَى الْإِسْلَامِ، وَمَنْ تَوَفَّيْتَهُ مِنَّا فَتَوَفَّهُ عَلَى الْإِيمَانِ، اللَّهُمَّ لَا تَحْرِمْنَا أَجْرَهُ، وَلَا تَفْتِنَّا بَعْدَهُ.

Allāhumma-ghfir li-ḥayyina wa mayyitinā, wa ṣaghīrinā wa kabīrinā, wa dhakarīnā wa unthānā, wa shāhidinā wa ghā'ibinā, Allāhumma man aḥyaytahu minnā fa-aḥyihī 'ala-l-Islām, wa man tawaffaytahu minnā fa-tawaffahu 'ala-l-īmān. Allāhumma lā taḥrimnā ajrah, wa lā taftinnā ba'dah.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who related: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'When you perform ṣalāh for the deceased, make du'ā' for him exclusively."¹

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said in the funeral ṣalāh [over a dead woman]: "O Allah, You are her Lord and You created her, You guided her to Islam, You took away her soul, and You know her secrets and what is known about her. We have come as intercessors, so forgive her."²

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبُّهَا، وَأَنْتَ خَلَقْتَهَا، وَأَنْتَ هَدَيْتَهَا لِلْإِسْلَامِ، وَأَنْتَ قَبَضْتَ
رُوحَهَا، وَأَنْتَ أَعْلَمُ بِسِرِّهَا وَعَلَانِيَتِهَا، جِئْنَا شُفَعَاءَ فَاعْفِرْ لَهَا.

Allāhumma Anta Rabbuhā, wa Anta khalaqtahā, wa Anta hadaytahā li-l-Islām, wa Anta qabaḍta rūḥahā, wa Anta a'lamu bi-sirrihā wa 'alāniyatihā, ji'nā shufa'a'a fa-ghfir lahā.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah from Wāthilah ibn al-Aṣqa ؓ, who related: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed with us for one of the Muslims and I heard him saying: 'O Allah, So-and-so the son of So-and-so is in Your care and within the rope of Your protection,³ so save him from the trials of the grave and the punishment of Hell-Fire. All faithfulness and praise are due to You. O Allah, forgive him and have mercy on him. You are indeed the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful.'"⁴

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّ فُلَانًا بَنَ فُلَانٍ فِي ذِمَّتِكَ وَحَبْلٍ جِوَارِكَ فَقِهِ فِتْنَةَ الْقَبْرِ وَعَذَابَ النَّارِ،
وَأَنْتَ أَهْلُ الْوَفَاءِ وَالْحَمْدِ، اللَّهُمَّ فَاعْفِرْ لَهُ وَارْحَمْهُ، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Allāhumma inna (name) -bna (father's name) fī dhimmatika wa ḥabli jiwārika

1 Abū Dāwūd (3199) and Ibn Mājah (1497). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

2 Abū Dāwūd (3200), an-Nasā'ī (1078) in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah, and al-Futūḥāt (4/176). This hadith is ḥasan.

3 The custom of the Arabs was to protect one another. When a man wanted to travel he would make a pact with the leader of every tribe. They would grant him safety as long as he was within the borders of their land, until he went to another and did the same. This is what is meant by 'the rope of protection'.

4 Abū Dāwūd (3202) and Ibn Mājah (1499).

fa-qihi fitnata-l-qabri wa 'adhāba-n-Nār, wa Anta ahlu-l-wafā'i wa-l-ḥamd.
Allāhumma fa-ghfir lahu wa-rḥamh, innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḥīm.

Ash-Shāfi'i compiled a du'ā that he pieced together from all of these hadiths. It runs as follows: O Allah, this is Your slave and the son of Your slave. He has left the comfort and expanse of this world, while those who loved him and those whom he loved are in it, for the darkness of the grave and whatever he will encounter. He used to bear witness that there is no god but You and that Muḥammad is Your servant and Messenger. You know best about him. O Allah, he has gone to stay with You and You are the Best Host. He has become needful of Your Mercy and You have no need to punish him. We have come to You to beseech You and as intercessors for him. O Allah, if he was one who did good then increase him in his good, and if he was a sinner then pardon him. Make him encounter Your pleasure through Your Mercy, and spare him the trials and punishment of the grave. Expand his grave for him and hollow out the earth from his sides. Make him encounter, through Your Mercy, safety from Your punishment until You resurrect him to Your Paradise, o Most Merciful of the merciful. This is the text of ash-Shāfi'i from al-Mukhtaṣar of al-Muzanī (may Allah have mercy on him).

اللَّهُمَّ هَذَا عَبْدُكَ وَابْنُ عَبْدِكَ، خَرَجَ مِنْ رَوْحِ الدُّنْيَا وَسَعَتِهَا وَمَحْبُوبِهَا وَأَحِبَّاءُ
 فِيهَا إِلَى ظُلْمَةِ الْقَبْرِ وَمَا هُوَ لَاقِيهِ، كَانَ يَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا
 عَبْدُكَ وَرَسُولُكَ، وَأَنْتَ أَعْلَمُ بِهِ، اللَّهُمَّ نَزَلْ بِكَ وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ مَنْزُولٍ بِهِ، وَأَصْبَحَ فَقِيرًا
 إِلَى رَحْمَتِكَ، وَأَنْتَ غَنِيٌّ عَنْ عَذَابِهِ، وَقَدْ جِئْنَاكَ رَاغِبِينَ إِلَيْكَ، شُفَعَاءَ لَهُ، اللَّهُمَّ
 إِنْ كَانَ مُحْسِنًا فَزِدْ فِي إِحْسَانِهِ، وَإِنْ كَانَ مُسِيئًا فَتَجَاوَزْ عَنْهُ، وَلَقِّهِ بِرَحْمَتِكَ
 رِضَاكَ، وَقِهِ فِتْنَةَ الْقَبْرِ وَعَذَابَهُ، وَأَفْسَحْ لَهُ فِي قَبْرِهِ، وَجَافِ الْأَرْضَ عَنْ جَنْبَيْهِ،
 وَلَقِّهِ بِرَحْمَتِكَ الْأَمْنَ مِنْ عَذَابِكَ حَتَّى تَبْعَثَهُ إِلَيَّ جَنَّاتِكَ يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

*Allāhumma hādhā 'abduka wa-bnu 'abdik. Kharaja min-rawḥi-d-dunyā wa sa'atihā, wa maḥbūbuhu wa aḥibbā'uhu fihā, ilā ḡulmati-l-qabri wa mā huwa lāqih, kāna yashhadu an lā ilāha illā Ant, wa anna Muḥammadan
 'abduka wa Rasūluk, wa Anta a'lamu bih. Allāhumma nazala bika wa Anta khayru manzūlin bih, wa aṣbaḥa faqīran ilā raḥmatik, wa Anta Ghaniyyun 'an 'adhābih, wa qad ji'nāka rāghibīna ilayk, shufa'a'ā lah. Allāhumma in kāna muḥsinan fa-zid fi iḥsānih, wa in kāna musī'an fa-tajāwaz 'anh, wa laqqihi bi-raḥmatika riḍāk, wa qihi fitnata-l-qabri wa 'adhābah, wa-fsaḥ lahu fi qabrih, wa jāfi-l-arḍa 'an janbayh, wa laqqihi bi-raḥmatika-l-amna min 'adhābika ḥattā tab'athahu ilā Jannatika yā Arḥama-r-raḥīmīn.*

Our colleagues say that if the deceased is a baby one should make du'ā for his parents, saying: O Allah, make him a predecessor for them, make him a loan for them, make him a treasure for them, make their scales heavy by him, and pour patience into their hearts. Do not put them to trial after him, and do not deprive them of the reward on his account. This wording is from what Abū ‘Abdullāh az-Zubayrī cited from our companions in his book al-Kāfi. The rest say something similar in meaning. They state that he should say besides this, ‘O Allah, forgive the living and the dead. . . to the end. Az-Zubayrī added that if the deceased is a woman then one should say: “O Allah, this is Your female slave. . . etc.” and then put the rest of the speech in the appropriate wording. And Allah knows best.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهُ لَهَا فَرَطًا، وَاجْعَلْهُ لَهَا سَلَفًا، وَاجْعَلْهُ لَهَا ذُخْرًا، وَثَقِّلْ بِهِ
مَوَازِينَهُمَا، وَأَفْرِغِ الصَّبْرَ عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمَا، وَلَا تَفْتِنَهُمَا بَعْدَهُ، وَلَا تَحْرِمَهُمَا أَجْرَهُ.

*Allāhumma-j'alhu lahumā faratā, wa-j'alhu lahumā salafā, wa-j'alhu lahumā dhukhrā, wa thaqqil bihi mawāzīnahumā, wa afrighi-ṣ-ṣabra
'alā qulūbihimā, wa lā taftinhumā ba'dah, wa lā taḥrimhumā ajrah.*

There is no dhikr that is mandatory after the fourth takbīr. According to ash-Shāfi‘ī in Kitāb al-Buwayṭī, one should say after the fourth takbīr: O Allah, do not deprive us of the reward and do not put us to trial after him.

اللَّهُمَّ لَا تَحْرِمْنَا أَجْرَهُ، وَلَا تَفْتِنَّا بَعْدَهُ.

Allāhumma lā taḥrimnā ajrah, wa lā taftinnā ba'dah.

Abū ‘Alī ibn Abī Hurayrah, one of our colleagues, stated that the earlier scholars said after the fourth: “Our Lord, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire.” This is not related by ash-Shāfi‘ī; but if he did it, then it is something good. In my view, his good action is sufficiently established in the hadith we cited from Anas in the Section du‘ā’ al-karb. But Allah knows best.

I say: The evidence for the du‘ā’ after the fourth [takbīr] is what we related from as-Sunan al-kabīr of al-Bayhaqī from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Awfā ؓ, who performed four takbīrs in the prayer for a daughter of his and did after the fourth what is between the two takbīrs where Allah’s forgiveness is asked and du‘ā’ is made. He said: “The Messenger of Allah ؐ used to perform it like this”.

According to another version, he performed four takbīrs and stood awhile until we thought that he was going to say a fifth takbīr. He then gave salāms to his right and left. When he turned, we asked him: “What is this?” He replied: “I extended the time in accordance with what I saw the Messenger of Allah ؐ do”, or “this is what the Messenger of Allah ؐ did”. Al-Ḥākim Abū ‘Abdullāh described this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

رَبَّنَا آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Rabbanā ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanatan wa qinā ‘adhāba-n-Nār.

THE RULING CONCERNING THE SALĀM AND LATECOMERS TO THE FUNERAL PRAYER

When the worshipper has completed the takbīrāt and the adhkār he should say two salāms, as in all other ṣalawāt, in accordance with what we described from the hadith of ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Awfā. The ruling regarding the salām is based upon the ruling on the taslim we have mentioned regarding all other ṣalāts. This is the correct and preferred view. There is also a weak difference of opinion on this point, which I have left out as there is no need to discuss it here in this book.

If a latecomer joins the Imam during the ṣalāh, he should pronounce takbīr and join him in reciting al-Fātiḥah and that which comes after it according to his own sequence without coinciding with the Imam in what he recites. If he says the takbīr, and then the Imam pronounces the next takbīr before he has completed what he was reciting, he should follow him. He is absolved of what he was reciting. When the Imam has completed his ṣalāh, he should complete his own ṣalāh, as in all other ṣalawāt. If the Imam says the salām and the latecomer has remaining takbīrāt left to do, he must do all the adhkār in sequence. This is the correct and well-known view, in our opinion. We also know of a weak opinion, which is that [latecomers] should complete all the remaining takbīrāt without the adhkār. But Allah knows best.

121

WHAT TO SAY WHILST WALKING WITH THE BIER

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to engage in dhikr of Allah ﷻ and to ponder what the deceased will encounter, what his destiny will be, and the consequences of what he was engaged in. One should consider that this is the last stage of this worldly life and the destiny of its inhabitants. One should be extremely careful to avoid worthless chatter, for this is a time for contemplation and dhikr and it is despicable to engage in forgetfulness, jest and vain talk. If vain talk is prohibited in all circumstances, is it not especially so in these?

Know that the rewarded and preferred opinion is that which the Salaf adhered to. Silence is preferred when travelling with the bier, so no-one should raise their voice in recitation, dhikr or anything else. The wisdom in this is apparent: it is soothing for the mind and rallies the thoughts to matters concerned with the burial, which is desirable in this situation. That is the reality. One should not be duped by the many who take a different way from him. Abū ‘Alī al-Fuḍayl ibn ‘Iyād said: “Stick to the path of guidance. Do not be hurt by the fact that those who follow it and abstain from the path of error are few, and do not be deceived by the many who are ruined.”

And I have narrated in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī things which support what I have said.

As for what some ignorant reciters of Qur'ān do for the janāzah in Damascus and other places, such as long passages of recitation, and long discussions about the person's position, etc, then this is unlawful by ijmā' of the scholars. I have explained the reprehensibility of this practice, in addition to its serious prohibition and the sinfulness of failing to abstain from it, in the book Ādāb al-qurrā. And Allah is the only Helper.

122

WHAT TO SAY WHEN A BIER PASSES OR ON SEEING ONE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say: 'Glory be to the Living, Who does not die.' Al-Qāḍī Imam Abū al-Maḥāsin ar-Rūyānī, one of our colleagues, says in his book al-Baḥr: "It is mustaḥabb to supplicate saying: 'There is no god but Allah, the Living Who does not die.' It is mustaḥabb to make du'ā' for [the deceased] and to praise him if he is entitled to it; but one should not speak generally and in vague terms in praise of him."

سُبْحَانَ الْحَيِّ الَّذِي لَا يَمُوتُ.
لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْحَيُّ الَّذِي لَا يَمُوتُ.

Subḥāna-l-Ḥayyi-lladhī lā yamūt.
Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Ḥayyu-lladhī lā yamūt.

123

WHAT THOSE WHO LAY THE DECEASED
IN THE GRAVE SHOULD SAY

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, al-Bayhaqī and others from Ibn 'Umar ؓ, who reported that when the Prophet ﷺ laid the dead in the grave he said: "In the name of Allah and according to the Sunnah of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ." At-Tirmidhī describes this as a ḥasan hadith. Ash-Shāfi'ī and his colleagues, may ¹ Abū Dāwūd (3213), at-Tirmidhī (1046), and al-Bayhaqī (4/55). This hadith is graded as ṣaḥīḥ by Ibn Ḥibbān, al-Ḥākim and adh-Dhahabī.

Allah have mercy on them, hold that it is mustahabb to make du'ā' for the deceased with these words.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ وَعَلَى سُنَّةِ رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Bismi-llāhi wa 'alā sunnati Rasūli-llāh ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

One of the best *du'ā'*s is what ash-Shāfi'ī says in the Mukhtaṣar of al-Muzanī, that those who put the deceased in the grave should say: O Allah, the reluctant members of his family, children, relatives and brothers have surrendered him to You. He has parted from those who loved to be close to him, and left the spaciousness of the world and life for the darkness and constriction of the grave. He has come as a guest to You and You are the Best Host. If You punish him it is because of his sins and if You forgive him [it is because] You are Forgiving. You are not in need of punishing him, but he is in need of Your Mercy. Allah, show thankfulness for his good deeds and forgive his bad deeds. Protect him from punishment in the grave; and combine this, by Your mercy, with safety from Your punishment; and be his sufficiency in every horror along the way to Paradise. O Allah, take care of those whom he leaves behind, elevate him to be among those who are in the highest Heavens, and return to him with the immense favour of Your Mercy, O Most Merciful of the merciful.

اللَّهُمَّ أَسْلَمَهُ إِلَيْكَ الْأَشْحَاءُ مِنْ أَهْلِهِ وَوَلَدِهِ وَقَرَابَتِهِ وَإِخْوَانِهِ، وَفَارَقَ مَنْ كَانَ يُحِبُّ قُرْبَهُ،
وَخَرَجَ مِنْ سَعَةِ الدُّنْيَا وَالْحَيَاةِ إِلَى ظِلْمَةِ الْقَبْرِ وَضِيقِهِ، وَنَزَلَ بِكَ وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ مَنْزُولٍ
بِهِ، إِنْ عَاقَبْتَهُ فَبِذَنْبٍ، وَإِنْ عَفَوْتَ عَنْهُ فَأَنْتَ أَهْلُ الْعَفْوِ، أَنْتَ غَنِيٌّ عَنْ عَذَابِهِ، وَهُوَ
فَقِيرٌ إِلَى رَحْمَتِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اشْكُرْ حَسَنَتَهُ، وَاعْفِرْ سَيِّئَتَهُ، وَأَعِذْهُ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَاجْمَعْ
لَهُ بِرَحْمَتِكَ الْأَمْنَ مِنْ عَذَابِكَ، وَاكْفِهِ كُلَّ هَوْلٍ دُونَ الْجَنَّةِ، اللَّهُمَّ اخْلُفْهُ فِي تَرْكِتِهِ فِي
الْغَابِرِينَ، وَارْفَعْهُ فِي عَلِيِّينَ، وَعُدْ عَلَيْهِ بِفَضْلِ رَحْمَتِكَ، يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

*Allāhumma aslamahu ilayka-l-ashihhā'u min ahlihi wa waladihi wa qarābatihi wa ikhwānih, wa fāraqa man kāna yuhibbu qurbah, wa kharaja min sa'ati-ddunyā wa-l-ḥayāti ilā ḡalmati-l-qabri wa ḡiqih, wa nazala bika wa Anta khayru manzūlin bih, in 'āqabtahu fa-bi-dhanb, wa in 'afawta 'anhu fa-Anta ahlu-l-'afw, Anta Ghaniyyun 'an 'adhābih, wa huwa faqīrun ilā raḥmatik. Allāhumma-shkur ḥasanatah, wa-ghfir sayyi'atah, wa a'idhhu min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa-jma' lahu bi raḥmatik-l-amna min 'adhābik, wa-kfih kulla hawlin dūna-l-Jannah.
Allāhumma-khlufhu fī tarikatih fī-l-ghābirīn, wa-rfa'hu fī 'Ilīyyīn, wa 'ud 'alayhi bi-fadli raḥmatika yā Arḥama-r-rāḥimīn.*

WHAT TO SAY AFTER THE BURIAL

IT IS SUNNAH to scatter three handfuls of earth into the grave, all taken from the end where the head lies. A group of our colleagues say that it is mustahabb to say with the first handful "From it We have created you", with the second "And into it We shall return you" and with the third "And from it We shall take you once more."¹

﴿مِنْهَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ... وَفِيهَا نُعِيدُكُمْ... وَمِنْهَا نُخْرِجُكُمْ تَارَةً أُخْرَى﴾

Minhā khalaqnākum, wa fihā nu'idukum, wa minhā nukhrijukum tāratān ukhrā.

It is mustahabb, after completing the burial, to sit at the grave for the time it would take to slaughter a camel and distribute its meat. Those who sit should engage in the recitation of the Qur'ān, du'ā' for the deceased, admonition, stories of the virtuous people and the states of the righteous.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Alī ؓ who reported: "We were with a funeral at Baqī' al-Gharqad. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to us and sat and we sat down around him. He had a stick with him. He bent down and scratched the ground with the stick. Then he said: 'There is none of you who does not have his place in Hell-Fire or his place in Paradise written.' [Those present] said: 'Messenger of Allah, should we not rely on what is written for us?' He said: 'Do good deeds, for everyone is given the ability to do what he has been created for'"² and he mentioned the full hadith.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ ؓ said: "When you bury me, sit around my grave for as long as it takes to slaughter a camel and distribute its meat, so that I may listen to you and see how I should answer the Angels of my Lord."³

We relate with a ḥasan isnād from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and al-Bayhaqī from 'Uthmān ؓ who recounted that when the Prophet ﷺ had finished a burial he stood by the grave and said: "Ask for forgiveness for your brother and ask for steadfastness for him, for he is being questioned now."⁴ According to ash-Shāfi'ī and his colleagues it is mustahabb to recite a portion of the Qur'ān by him. They said that if one recited all of the Qur'ān that would be good.

We relate in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī, with a ḥasan isnād, from Ibn 'Umar ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ used to like to recite the beginning and the end of Sūrat al-Baqarah.⁵

¹ Qur'ān 20:55.

² Al-Bukhārī (1362), Muslim (2647), Abū Dāwūd (4694), and at-Tirmidhī (2137).

³ Muslim (121).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (3221) and al-Bayhaqī (4/56). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is ḥasan.

⁵ Al-Bayhaqī (4/56). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is mawqūf ḥasan.

THE RULING CONCERNING PROMPTING [THE DECEASED] AFTER BURIAL

Prompting (talqīn) the deceased is mustahabb according to many of our colleagues, such as al-Qādī al-Ḥusayn in his Ta'liq, the companion of Abū Sa'd al-Mutawallī in his book at-Tatmiyyah, the Shaykh and ascetic Imam Abū al-Faṭḥ Naṣr ibn Ibrāhīm ibn Naṣr al-Maqdisī, Imam Abū al-Qāsim ar-Rāfi'i, and others. Qādī al-Ḥusayn has transmitted it from his colleagues. As for its wording, Shaykh Naṣr said that upon completion of the burial one should stand at the head [of the grave] and say: O So-and-so, remember the pact that you left the world with: the testimony that there is no god but Allah, One without partner, and that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger; that the Hour is coming and there is no doubt of it; and that Allah will resurrect all who are in the grave. Say: 'I am pleased with Allah as my Lord, with Islam as my religion, with Muḥammad as my Messenger, with the Ka'bah as my qiblah, with the Qur'ān as my Imam and with the Muslims as my brothers. My Lord is Allah; there is no god but Him, and He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne.' This is the wording of Shaykh Abū Naṣr al-Maqdisī in his book al-Tahdhīb, and the wording from the rest is similar. In the wording of others there are shortcomings (naqṣ). Some say: O slave of Allah, son [or daughter] of the female slave of Allah; some say: O slave of Allah, son [or daughter] of Ḥawwā'; some say: O So-and-so—using his name—son [or daughter] of the female slave of Allah; or O So-and-so son [or daughter] of Ḥawwā'—all of which have the same sense.

يَا فُلَانُ بْنُ فُلَانٍ أَذْكَرَ الْعَهْدِ الَّذِي خَرَجْتَ عَلَيْهِ مِنَ الدُّنْيَا: شَهَادَةُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ
وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ، وَأَنَّ السَّاعَةَ آتِيَةٌ لَا رَيْبَ فِيهَا، وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ
يَبْعَثُ مَنْ فِي الْقُبُورِ، قُلْ: رَضِيتُ بِاللَّهِ رَبًّا، وَبِالْإِسْلَامِ دِينًا، وَبِمُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ
وَسَلَّمَ نَبِيًّا، وَبِالْكَعْبَةِ قِبْلَةً، وَبِالْقُرْآنِ إِمَامًا، وَبِالْمُسْلِمِينَ إِخْوَانًا، رَبِّيَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ، وَهُوَ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ.

Yā (name) ibnu (father's name) udhkuri-l-'ahda-lladhī kharajta 'alayhi mina-d-dunyā: shahādatu an lā ilāha illa-llāh waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, wa anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa Rasūluh, wa anna-s-sā'ata ātiyatun lā rayba fihā, wa anna-llāha yab'athu man fi-l-qubūr. Qul: Raḍītu bi-llāhi Rabbā, wa bi-l-Islāmi dīnā, wa bi-Muḥammadin ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam Nabiyyā, wa bi-l-Ka'batī qiblah, wa bi-l-Qur'āni imāmā, wa bi-l-Muslimīna ikhwānā, Rabbiya-llāhu lā ilāha illā Hū, wa Huwa Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'Aẓīm.

The Shaykh and Imam Abū 'Amr ibn aṣ-Ṣalāḥ, may Allah have mercy on him, was asked regarding this type of talqīn, and he said in his fatāwā: "Talqīn is what we prefer and do. A group of our companions from Khurāsān say that there is a hadith from Abū Umāmah, although the isnād cannot be established. However, it is supported with evidences with the precedence of the early people of Shām. As for talqīn of a suckled child, there is no evidence that it can be taken for it and we do not support it." But Allah knows best.

I say that no talqīn is to be done for a child, whether a breast-feeding baby or older, as long as he had not reached the age of puberty and become charged with responsibility. And Allah knows best.

125

ON THE DECEASED LEAVING A SPECIAL REQUEST THAT A SPECIFIC PERSON PERFORM HIS FUNERAL ṢALĀH OR THAT HE BE BURIED IN A CERTAIN MANNER OR IN A SPECIFIC PLACE, OR CONCERNING HIS SHROUDING, OR OTHER THINGS THAT SHOULD OR SHOULD NOT BE DONE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported: "I came to Abū Bakr ؓ while he was sick. He asked: 'In how many sheets did you bury the Prophet ؐ?' I said: 'In three pieces of cloth.' He asked: 'On what day did the Messenger of Allah ؐ pass away?' She replied: 'On a Monday.' He asked: 'What day is it today?' She said: 'Monday.' He said: 'I hope it will be between now and tonight.' He looked at the robe that he was wearing during his illness and it had a saffron stain. He said: 'Wash it, add two more pieces of cloth to it, and bury me in it.' I said: 'This is worn.' He replied: 'The living are more entitled to the new than the dead; it is only because of the pus that flows from the body of the deceased.' He did not pass away until the evening began of the night [preceding] Tuesday; and he was buried before the morning."¹

I say: The word 'stain (rad)' with a fathah on the rā' and a sukūn on the dāl, and with an 'ayn', means a 'trace'.

The word 'pus (muhlah)' is narrated with a ḍammah on the mīm and with a fathah on it and a kasrah—which are three variants—and with a hā' with a sukūn. It denotes the pus which flows from the body of the deceased.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that when 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ was wounded he said: "When I am taken away carry me, then give greetings and say that 'Umar is asking for permission to enter. If she"—meaning 'Ā'ishah ؓ—"gives permission, then take me in; if she refuses, return me to the graveyard of the Muslims."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Āmir ibn Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ who re-

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1387), al-Muwatta' (1/224), and Faṭḥ al-Bārī (3/254). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith shows that it is recommended to shroud the deceased in three white cloths. It also indicates the virtue of Abū Bakr, the accuracy of his foresight (firāsah), and his steadfastness at the time of his death.

² Al-Bukhārī (1392). 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb said this to his son 'Abdullāh, who was the eldest of his children.

ported that Sa'd said: "Dig me a *lahd*¹ and set up bricks over me as was done for the Messenger of Allah ﷺ."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ that he said while he was in the agony of death: "When I pass away, let no paid mourner or fire accompany me. And when you bury me, spread earth over me and then stand around my grave for as long as it takes to slaughter a camel and distribute its meat, so that I may listen to you and see how I should respond to the messengers (the Angels) of my Lord."³

I say: His saying 'spread (shunnū)' is transmitted with sīn (sunnu) and with shīn, and it means 'to pour little by little'.

We have reported in this context the hadith of Ḥudhayfah in the chapter on informing the family of the deceased. What we have mentioned is sufficient; and from Allah come all guidance and all ability.

It is essential not to follow the deceased blindly, nor to adhere to all of his dying wishes. They should be referred to people who possess knowledge. If they permit them, they should be done; if not, they should be avoided. I will give some examples. If a person orders that he be buried in a certain place in the graveyard of the city, and that place is the place of the virtuous, then his order should be carried out. If he makes a request that a foreigner or stranger should lead his funeral ṣalāh, should he be given preference over his relatives? The 'ulamā' disagree, but the correct view is that his relatives are more worthy to lead the ṣalāh. But if the person appointed is someone known for his piety or superior knowledge and for his memorisation and good reputation, it is mustaḥabb for the relatives to give him preference out of respect for the rights of the deceased. If [the deceased] orders that he be buried in a casket, his order should not be carried out unless the ground is soft or damp and it is therefore necessary to bury him thus. His order should [then] be acceded to and it should be paid from his own funds. If he asks that he be moved to another country his order must not be implemented, because to move him is ḥarām according to the preferred sound position which the majority hold and which the scholars capable of detailed investigation have stated, though some have said that it is makrūh. According to ash-Shāfi'i, may Allah have mercy on him, if he is near Makkah, Madīnah or Jerusalem he may be moved there, for their blessings. Likewise, if he asks to have a sword-blade buried beneath him or a pillow beneath his head, or the like of it, his bequest is not to be carried out, or if he requests that he be shrouded in silk, for silk is ḥarām for men. Shrouding women in silk is makrūh and not ḥarām. Hermaphrodites are to be treated like men in this respect. If he asks that he be shrouded in more than the lawful number of sheets, or in a garment that does not cover his body, his request must not be consented to. If [the deceased] orders that there be recitation or charity given on his behalf or some other acts of drawing close to Allah, his order must be implemented, unless he combines it with something that the Sharī'ah forbids. If he instructs that his funeral be delayed for a period longer than that permitted by Sharī'ah, that must not be implemented. If he instructs that a charitable enterprise for the Muslims be built over him in the graveyard, his bequest is not to be executed, for that is ḥarām.

¹ The lahd is usually a hollow slot in the qiblah side of the grave in which the corpse is laid.

² Muslim (966).

³ Muslim (121).

126

HOW THE DECEASED BENEFITS FROM THE WORDS OF OTHERS

THE 'ULAMĀ' ARE unanimous that du'ā for the dead benefits them and the reward of it reaches them. They cite as proof the saying of Allah ﷻ: "And those who came after them say: 'Lord, forgive us and our brothers who came before us into the faith.'"¹

﴿وَالَّذِينَ جَاءُوا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ يَقُولُونَ رَبَّنَا اغْفِرْ لَنَا وَلِإِخْوَانِنَا الَّذِينَ سَبَقُونَا بِالْإِيمَانِ﴾

[They also cite] other well-known verses in the same sense, and well-known hadiths such as the sayings of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "Allah, forgive the people of Baqī al-Gharqad"² and: "Allah, forgive our living and our dead."³

The 'ulamā' disagree as to whether the reward for recitation of the Qur'ān reaches the deceased. The well-known opinion of ash-Shāfi'ī and a body of scholars is that it does not reach him. Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and a body of scholars and a body of the colleagues of ash-Shāfi'ī are of the opinion that the reward reaches him. The preferred view is that the reciter should say after his recitation: "O Allah, make the reward of what we have recited reach So-and-so." But Allah knows best. It is mustaḥabb to praise the deceased and to mention his good deeds and traits.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas ﷺ who related that [he and some others] passed by a funeral and described [the deceased] as good, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "It is inevitable." Then they passed by another and they described him as bad. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "It is inevitable." Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ asked: "What is inevitable?" He said: "For the one whom you described as good, Paradise is inevitable; and for the one whom you described as bad, Hell-Fire is inevitable. You are the witnesses of Allah on the earth."⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū al-Aswad related: "I once came to Madīnah and sat with 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ. A funeral [procession] passed by and those in it described [the deceased] as good; and 'Umar said: 'It is inevitable.' Then another passed by and those in it described [the deceased] as good and 'Umar said: 'It is inevitable.' Then a third passed by and those in it described [the deceased] as bad and 'Umar said: 'It is inevitable.' Abū al-Aswad asked: 'What is inevitable, Leader of the

1 Qur'ān 59:10.

2 Muslim (974).

3 Abū Dāwūd (3201).

4 Al-Bukhārī (1367), Muslim (949), at-Tirmidhī (1058), and an-Nasā'ī (4/49-50).

Believers?' He replied: 'I have said what the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Any Muslim for whom four people testify, Allah will enter into Paradise." We asked: "[What about] three [people]?" He said: "Or three." We asked: "Two [people]?" He said: "Or two." We did not ask him about one.'"¹ The hadiths in this regard are many. And Allah knows best.

THE PROHIBITION OF ABUSING THE DEAD

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not curse the dead, for they have arrived at whatever they sent before them."²

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, with a weak isnād that at-Tirmidhī deemed weak from Ibn 'Umar ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Mention the good deeds and traits of your deceased, and refrain from [mentioning] their bad ones."³

I say that the 'ulamā' have declared that it is ḥarām to curse and swear over any deceased Muslim who has not sinned in public. As for disbelievers or Muslims who made their sin public, there is some disagreement among the salaf and texts that contradict one another, the upshot of which is what is reliably established about the prohibition of cursing the dead, which we have cited in this chapter.

There are many things mentioned which grant licence to criticise evil people. Among these are what Allah has narrated in His Mighty Book and has commanded us to recite and to propagate their recitation. Also among these are many authentic hadiths, such as the hadiths in which he ﷺ mentioned 'Amr ibn Luḥayy, the story of Abū Righāl,⁴ [that of the one] who stole from the pilgrim⁵ with his staff, and the story of Abū Jud'ān and others. There is also the authentic hadith we have cited about the funeral procession passing by and the people speaking ill of the deceased; the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not stop them but said: "It is inevitable."

The 'ulamā' disagree about the reconciliation of these hadiths. The most correct opinion is that it is permissible to mention the bad points of deceased disbelievers. As

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1368), at-Tirmidhī (1059), and an-Nasā'ī (4/51).

² Al-Bukhārī (1393), Abū Dāwūd (4899), and an-Nasā'ī (4/52-63).

³ Abū Dāwūd (4900), at-Tirmidhī (1019), and al-Futūḥāt (4/211). Ibn Ḥajar states that he did not find in any of the copies of at-Tirmidhī that he had considered it weak. Rather, he said it was gharīb, and quoted al-Bukhārī as saying that some its narrators were munkar al-ḥadīth. Abū Dāwūd did not say anything regarding the hadith, and it was graded as ṣaḥīḥ by Ibn Ḥibbān, among others; it can therefore be categorised as ḥasan.

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (3088).

⁵ Muslim (904).

for those Muslims who exposed their sin and evil or innovation, it is permissible to mention such matters if there is some benefit in warning others about their condition, and to deter people from accepting their word and following them in what they did. If there is no such need, it is not permissible. The texts delineate this detailed picture. The 'ulamā' are unanimously agreed that one may speak critically about hadith narrators who have some defect. And Allah knows best.

128

WHAT VISITORS TO GRAVEYARDS SHOULD SAY

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who related that every time it was her night with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ he went out to al-Baqī' in the last part of the night. He would say: "Peace be upon you, home of believing people. What you were promised and you deferred until tomorrow has come to you. We shall, if Allah wills, be joining you. O Allah, forgive the inhabitants of Baqī' al-Gharqad."¹

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ دَارَ قَوْمٍ مُؤْمِنِينَ، وَأَتَاكُمْ مَا تُوَعَدُونَ، غَدًا مُوَجَّلُونَ،
وَإِنَّا إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ بِكُمْ لَاحِقُونَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِأَهْلِ بَقِيعِ الْعَرَقَدِ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum dār qawmin mu'minīn, wa atākum mā tū'adūn, ghadan mu'ajjalūn, wa innā in shā'a-llāhu bikum lāḥiqūn. Allāhumma-ghfir li-ahli Baqī'i-l-Gharqad.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who asked: "What should I say, Messenger of Allah?"—that is, when visiting a grave. He ﷺ replied: "Say: Peace be upon you, dwellers in these homes of the believers and Muslims. May Allah have mercy on those who have gone before from you or us and those who come afterwards. We shall, if Allah wills, be joining you."²

السَّلَامُ عَلَى أَهْلِ الدِّيَارِ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُسْلِمِينَ، يَرْحَمُ اللَّهُ الْمُسْتَقْدِمِينَ
مِنْكُمْ وَمِنَّا وَالْمُسْتَأَخِرِينَ، وَإِنَّا إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ بِكُمْ لَاحِقُونَ.

As-salāmu 'alā ahli-d-diyāri min al-mu'minīna wa-l-Muslimīn, yarḥamu-llāhu-l-mustaqdimīna minkum wa minnā wa-l-musta'khirīn, wa innā in shā'a-llāhu bikum la-lāḥiqūn.

¹ Muslim (974) and an-Nasā'i (3/94) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah. Baqī' al-Gharqad is the old graveyard of al-Madīnat al-Munawwarah.

² Muslim (974), with a slight change in its wording.

We relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ went out to a graveyard and said: "Peace be upon you, dwellers in the homes of the believers. We shall, if Allah wills, be joining you."¹ السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ دَارَ قَوْمٍ مُؤْمِنِينَ، وَإِنَّا إِن شَاءَ اللَّهُ بِكُمْ لَاحِقُونَ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum dāra qawmin mu'minīn, wa innā in shā'a-llāhu bikum lāhiqūn.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who related that the Messenger of Allah ؐ once passed by the graves of the people of Madīnah. He turned his face towards them and said: "Peace be upon you, dwellers in these graves. May Allah forgive us and you. You are our predecessors and we are [following] in your footsteps."² السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ يَا أَهْلَ الْقُبُورِ، يَغْفِرُ اللَّهُ لَنَا وَلَكُمْ، أَنْتُمْ سَلَفُنَا وَنَحْنُ بِالْأَثَرِ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum yā ahla-l-qubūr, yaghfiru-llāhu lanā wa lakum, antum salafunā wa nahnu bi-l-athar.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Buraydah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ taught his Companions that when they visited graves they should say: "Peace be upon you, believing inhabitants of these dwellings. We shall, if Allah wills, be joining you. I ask Allah for well-being for us and for you."³ We relate also from an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah, adding after his statement 'shall be joining' (al-lāhiqūn) 'and you are our predecessors while we are your followers.'

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ أَهْلَ الدِّيَارِ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ، وَإِنَّا إِن شَاءَ اللَّهُ بِكُمْ لَاحِقُونَ، أَسْأَلُ اللَّهَ لَنَا وَلَكُمْ الْعَافِيَةَ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum ahla-d-diyāri mina-l-mu'minīn, wa innā in shā'a-llāhu bikum la-lāhiqūn, as'alu-llāha lanā wa lakum al-'āfiyah.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Prophet ؐ came to al-Baqī' and said: "Peace be upon you, home of believing people. You have gone before us and we will join you. O Allah, do not deprive us of their reward, and do not lead us astray after them."⁴ السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ دَارَ قَوْمٍ مُؤْمِنِينَ، أَنْتُمْ لَنَا فَرَطٌ، وَإِنَّا بِكُمْ لَاحِقُونَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ لَا تَحْرِمْنَا أَجْرَهُمْ، وَلَا تُضِلَّنَا بَعْدَهُمْ.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (3237), an-Nasā'ī (4/91), and Ibn Mājah (4306).

² At-Tirmidhī (1053).

³ Muslim (975), an-Nasā'ī (4/94), and Ibn Mājah (1547).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (596) and al-Futūḥāt (4/221). Ibn Hajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

As-salāmu 'alaykum dāra qawmin mu'minīn, antum lanā farāṭ, wa innā bikum lāḥiqūn. Allāhumma lā taḥrimnā ajrahum, wa lā tuḍillanā ba'dahum.

It is mustaḥabb for visitors to recite Qur'ān, do dhikr, and make du'ā'—all in abundance—for the dwellers of those graves and for all of the Muslim dead.

It is mustaḥabb to make a practice of visiting graves frequently and standing at the graves of good and pious people.

129

THOSE VISITING GRAVEYARDS SHOULD DISCOURAGE THOSE THEY SEE WEEPING FROM BEING DISTRAUGHT AT THE GRAVESIDE AND TELL THEM TO BE PATIENT AND DISCOURAGE THEM FROM DOING OTHER THINGS WHICH THE LAW FORBIDS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas رضي الله عنه, who reported that the Prophet ﷺ passed by a woman who was weeping by a grave. He told her: "Fear Allah and have patience."¹

We relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah with a ḥasan isnād from Bashīr ibn Ma'bad—who is better known as Ibn al-Khaṣāṣiyyah—رضي الله عنه who said: "While we were walking with the Prophet ﷺ he saw a man walking between graves while wearing sandals. He said: 'You with the sandals! Take off your sandals'"² and he cited the hadith in full.

I say: 'sandal' (sibtīyyah) is a sandal (na'l) with no hair on it, and it is written with a kasrah on the sīn and a sukūn on the bā'.

The Ummah are unanimous that it is mandatory to command good and to forbid evil. The evidences for this are in the Book and the well-known Sunnah. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1283) and Muslim (926).

² Abū Dāwūd (3230), with a slight addition to its wording, an-Nasā'ī (4/296), and Ibn Mājah (1068).

WEEPING AND FEELING FEAR WHEN PASSING BY GRAVES; ALSO, SEEING THE DESTRUCTION OF OPPRESSORS, DISPLAYING HUMILITY BEFORE ALLAH, AND BEING ON GUARD AGAINST FORGETFULNESS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Umar ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told his Companions when they reached al-Ḥijr,¹ the dwellings of Thamūd: "Do not enter upon these people, who were punished, without weeping. And if you do not weep, do not enter upon them, lest what befell them should befall you."²

ADHKĀR RECOMMENDED TO BE RECITED ON FRIDAY
DURING THE DAY AND NIGHT, AND DU'Ā'

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to be assiduous in reciting Qur'ān, doing dhikr, saying du'ā' and invoking blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ on Fridays, during the day and night. It is also mustaḥabb to recite the Chapter of the Cave (Sūrat al-Kahf) during the day. According to ash-Shāfi'ī, it is also mustaḥabb to recite it at night on Friday, i.e. on Thursday night.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ spoke about Friday, and said: "During it there is a moment in which no Muslim servant stands performing ṣalāh and asking Allah ﷻ for anything without Allah granting it to him;"³ and he indicated with his hand that it was not very long.

I say that the 'ulamā' of the salaf and khalaf disagree about this hour. I have collected all the opinions on the subject in the Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab, and have explained it there. Many of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said that it is after 'Aṣr. The meaning of standing in ṣalāh is waiting for ṣalāh, for anyone who is waiting for ṣalāh is [regarded as being engaged] in ṣalāh. The most authentic position in this regard is the following.

¹ Also known as Madā'in Ṣāliḥ, al-Ḥijr is located in Wādī al-Qurā between Madīnah and Tabūk.

² Al-Bukhārī (433) and Muslim (2980).

³ Al-Bukhārī (935), Muslim (852), al-Muwatta' (1/108), and an-Nasā'ī (3/115) in al-Mujtabā.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī رضي الله عنه related: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'It is between the time when the Imam sits and the time when he completes the ṣalāh'"¹—meaning when he sits on the minbar.

There are many well-known hadiths on the subject of the recitation of Sūrat al-Kahf and praying for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. I have not quoted them here because of the length of the book. Something has been said on this subject earlier in the section.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas رضي الله عنه who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ observed: "Whoever says thrice on Friday morning before the early morning ṣalāh: I ask for forgiveness from Allah, but Whom there is no god, the Living, the Self-Subsisting and I repent to Him, Allah will forgive his sins even if they be as abundant as the foam of the sea."² أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْهِ.

Astaghfiru-llāhu-lladhī lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Ḥayyu-l-Qayyūmu wa atūbu ilayh.

We relate in it from Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the mosque on Friday he held the door-jamb and said: "O Allah, make me the most eminent of those who turn towards You, the closest of those who come close to You, and the best of those who ask and request of You."³

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي أَوْجَهَ مَنْ تَوَجَّهَ إِلَيْكَ، وَأَقْرَبَ مَنْ تَقَرَّبَ
إِلَيْكَ، وَأَفْضَلَ مَنْ سَأَلَكَ وَرَغِبَ إِلَيْكَ.

Allāhumma-j'alnī awjaha man tawajjaha ilayk, wa aqraba man taqarraba ilayk, wa afḍala man sa'alaka wa raghiba ilayk.

In my view, we should add before man the word min, meaning 'among'. We have stated what is mustaḥabb to recite in the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh and the Friday ṣalāh in the chapter on adhkār in ṣalāh.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي مِنْ أَوْجَهٍ مَنْ تَوَجَّهَ إِلَيْكَ، وَمِنْ أَقْرَبٍ مَنْ تَقَرَّبَ إِلَيْكَ، وَمِنْ أَفْضَلٍ مَنْ سَأَلَكَ وَرَغِبَ إِلَيْكَ.

Allāhumma-j'alnī min awjahi man tawajjaha ilayk, wa min aqrabi man taqarraba ilayk, wa min afḍali man sa'alaka wa raghiba ilayk.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites after the Jumu'ah prayer: 'Say: He is Allah, ¹ Muslim (853) and Abū Dāwūd (1049), with a similar wording.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (82).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (276).

One, 'Say: I seek refuge in the Lord of the daybreak' and 'Say: I seek protection in the Lord of men' seven times, Allah will give him refuge from evil up until the next Jumu'ah.³

﴿قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ...﴾

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ...﴾

Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq. . .

Qul a'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās. . .

IT IS RECOMMENDED TO DO MUCH DHIKR OF ALLAH MOST HIGH AFTER THE PRAYER OF JUMU'AH

It is mustaḥabb to continue doing much dhikr after the Friday ṣalāh. Allah ﷻ says: "And when the prayer is finished, disperse through the land and seek of the bounty of Allah; and remember Allah frequently, so that perhaps you may prosper."⁴

﴿فَإِذَا قُضِيَتِ الصَّلَاةُ فَانْتَشِرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَابْتَغُوا مِنْ
فَضْلِ اللَّهِ وَادْكُرُوا اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا لَعَلَّكُمْ تُفْلِحُونَ﴾

THE ADHKĀR FOR THE TWO 'ĪDS

KNOW THAT IT is mustaḥabb to spend the nights preceding the 'Īds in dhikr of Allah ﷻ, ṣalāh and other acts of obedience, because of the hadiths in this regard: "If a person spends the night of 'Īd worshipping Allah, his heart will not die on the day when hearts die." In another hadith [the Prophet ﷺ] said: "If a person has stayed up on the nights of the two 'Īds to worship Allah, hoping for the reward thereof, his heart will not die on the day when hearts die." Thus it is reported by ash-Shāfi'ī and Ibn Mājah,⁵

¹ Qur'ān 112.

² Qur'ān 113.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (377) and al-Futūḥāt (4/232). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith's chain is weak.

⁴ Qur'ān 62:10.

⁵ Ibn Mājah (1782) and al-Futūḥāt (4/235). The author of az-Zawā'id states that this hadith's chain but it is a weak hadith which we have narrated in the version of Abū Umāmah in both marfū' and mawqūf form—both of which are weak. Nevertheless, it is permissible to practice on [the basis of] weak hadiths when they concern virtuous deeds, as we explained near the beginning of this book.

The 'ulamā' disagree about the amount by which spending the night in worship is accomplished. What is more apparently correct is that it has to be done for most of the night. Others say that it is accomplished by even one hour [of worship].

ON THE TIMES AND CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH TAKBĪR IS RECOMMENDED

It is mustahabb to say takbīr on the nights of the two 'Īds. It is mustahabb on 'Īd al-Fiṭr from sunset until the Imam starts the ṣalāh of 'Īd. This is mustahabb after the ṣalāh and in all other situations. It should be increased when there is a crowd. One should say takbīr walking, sitting, lying down, in the street, in the mosque and in bed. On 'Īd al-Aḍḥā the takbīr should be said after the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh on the Day of 'Arafāt until praying the ṣalāh of 'Aṣr on the last day of tashrīq. One says takbīr after 'Aṣr, and then ceases.

This is the most correct [understanding] which is the basis of practice, although there is well-known disagreement amongst scholars both in our madhhab and others. But the correct opinion is what we have mentioned. There are hadiths about this that we have related from the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī, and I have explained all of that with regard to hadith and the transmission of the madhhab in Sharḥ al-Muhadhdhab, mentioning all the furū' discussions relating to them. Here my intention is only to allude to it in summary fashion.

According to our companions, the words of the takbīr are: Allah is greater, Allah is greater, Allah is greater. This should be said continually, and one may repeat it as much as he likes. Ash-Shāfi'ī and his colleagues hold that if one adds anything to it he should say: Allah is greater, all praise is due to Allah, and glory be to Allah in the morning and in the evening. There is no god but Allah and we worship none but Him, fulfilling our religion sincerely for Him even though the disbelievers dislike it. There is no god but Allah, the One; He has fulfilled His promise and made His servant victorious and routed the tribes by Himself. There is no god but Allah and Allah is greater.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ كَبِيرًا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا، وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ بُكْرَةً وَأَصِيلًا، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ،
وَلَا نَعْبُدُ إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ، مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ وَلَوْ كَرِهَ الْكَافِرُونَ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ، صَدَقَ وَعْدُهُ، وَنَصَرَ عَبْدَهُ، وَهَزَمَ الْأَحْزَابَ وَحْدَهُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

is weak due to the tadlīs (concealing faults) of Baqiyyah. Ibn Hajar states that it is gharīb with a mudṭarīb (disturbed) chain.

Allāhu akbaru Allāhu akbaru Allāhu akbar.

Allāhu akbaru kabīrā, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīrā, wa Subḥānallāhi bukratan wa aṣilā. Lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa lā naʿbudu illā iyyāh, mukhlisīna lahu-d-dīna wa law kariha-l-kāfirūn. Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdah, ṣadaqa waʿdah, wa naṣara ʿabdah, wa hazama-l-aḥzāba waḥdah. Lā ilāha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu akbar.

According to a group of our [Shāfiʿī] colleagues there is no harm in saying what is customary among people, which is: Allah is greater, Allah is greater, Allah is greater.
There is no god but Allah and Allah is greater. Allah is greater, and all praise is due to Allah.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ.

Allāhu akbaru Allāhu akbaru Allāhu akbar. Lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa-llāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, wa li-llāhi-l-ḥamd.

ONE MUST RECITE TAKBĪR AFTER EVERY PRAYER ON THE DAYS [ON WHICH IT IS CUTOMARY]

Know that the takbīrāt are prescribed after every ṣalāh that is performed on the days of the takbīr, whether it be wājib, nāfil or the funeral ṣalāh, and regardless of whether it be a compulsory ṣalāh performed in its proper time or a ṣalāh of which the due time has passed. This is not the proper place to mention the divergent views; the correct opinion is what I have mentioned, and the legal ruling is to act upon it.

If the Imam makes takbīr contrary to what the person following him believes [to be correct] because the Imam thought the takbīr should be done for the Day of ʿArafāt or the ayyām at-tashrīq and the person following him did not think so, or vice versa, should one then follow the Imam or not? There are two views, according to our [Shāfiʿī] colleagues. The more correct is to follow one's conviction, because adherence to the Imam (qudwah) ends with the concluding salām of the ṣalāh, which does not apply if he does more takbīr in the ʿId prayer than the person following him thinks right—in which case he should be followed because of the qudwah.

ON THE TAKBĪRĀT AND KHUṬBAHS FOR THE TWO ʿIDS AND OF THE ADHKĀR FOR THOSE OCCASIONS

It is Sunnah to say additional takbīrāt in the ṣalāh of ʿId. In the first rakʿah one should do seven takbīrāt besides the opening takbīr and five takbīrāt—besides the takbīr of rising from rukūʿ—in the second. The takbīr in the first rakʿah should be done after the opening duʿāʾ and before seeking protection. In the second it should be done before seeking protection. It is mustaḥabb to say between the takbīrāt: Glory be to Allah, all praise is due to Allah and there is no god but Allah and Allah is greater. That is the opinion of the majority of our [Shāfiʿī] colleagues.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subhāna-llāh, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāh, wa lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa-llāhu akbar.

Others of our colleagues hold that one should say: There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise. In His hands is all good and He has power over all things.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ،
بِيَدِهِ الْخَيْرُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, bi-yadihi-l-khayr, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

Abū Naṣr aṣ-Ṣabbāgh and others stated that there is nothing wrong with what people are accustomed to say: Allah is greater, all praise is due to Allah, and glory be to Allah in the morning and in the evening.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ كَبِيرًا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا، وَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ بُكْرَةً وَأَصِيلًا.

Allāhu akbaru kabīrā, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīrā, wa Subhāna-llāhi bukratan wa aṣilā.

All of this [dhikr] is unlimited and unrestricted. If anyone leaves out all this dhikr and the seven or five takbīrāt, his ṣalāh will still be valid and he does not have to prostrate for forgetfulness, but he will have forfeited this immense merit. If one forgets the takbīrāt until after starting recitation, he does not have to return to the takbīrāt, according to the correct opinion. Ash-Shāfi'ī has a weak opinion, which is that one should return to [the takbīrāt].

In the two sermons of the ṣalāh of 'Īd it is mustaḥabb to say takbīr nine times in the first and seven times in the second [rak'ah].

As for the recitation in the ṣalāh of 'Īd, we have already explained what is mustaḥabb to recite in it in the chapter describing the adḥkār of the ṣalāh. One should recite in the first rak'ah, after al-Fātiḥah, *Sūrah Qāf*¹ and in the second Iqtarabati-s-sā'ah, i.e. Sūrat al-Qamar.² If one wishes he may [instead] recite in the first Ṣabbihi-sma Rabbika-l-A'lā;³ and in the second Hal atāka ḥadīthu-l-Ghāshiyah.⁴

1 Qur'ān 50.

2 Qur'ān 54.

3 Qur'ān 87.

4 Qur'ān 88.

THE ADHKĀR FOR THE FIRST TEN DAYS OF DHŪ AL-HIJJAH

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "...and that they may celebrate the name of Allah, on the days appointed, over the cattle which He has provided for them (for sacrifice). Then eat thereof, and feed the distressed ones in need."¹

﴿...وَيَذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللَّهِ فِي أَيَّامٍ مَّعْلُومَاتٍ عَلَىٰ مَا رَزَقَهُمْ مِّنْ
بَهِيمَةِ الْأَنْعَامِ ۖ فَكُلُوا مِنْهَا وَأَطِيعُوا أَمْرَ اللَّهِ وَالرَّسُولَ ۚ إِنَّ اللَّهَ خَبِيرٌ
بِذِكْرِكُمْ﴾

Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, ash-Shāfi'ī and the majority of 'ulamā' hold that this refers to the [first] ten days [of Dhū al-Hijjah].

Know that it is mustahabb to perform more dhikr on these ten days than on the others. Likewise, this is mustahabb on the Day of 'Arafāt more than the rest of the [first] ten days.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no deed better than [one done] during these days." [The Companions] asked: "Not even doing battle for the Cause of Allah?" He replied: "Not even doing battle, except if a man goes out risking his life and his wealth and does not return with anything." The wording is from al-Bukhārī's version, which is ṣaḥīḥ. A version of at-Tirmidhī has: "There are no days on which pious deeds are more beloved to Allah than these ten days."² Abū Dāwūd has the same version except that he said "...these days," meaning the ten days. And we relate from the Musnad of Imam Abū Muḥammad 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ad-Dārimī, with an isnād [equivalent to that] in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, in which he said: "No deed is better than the deeds in the ten days of Dhū al-Hijjah." He was asked: "Not even jihād?" Then he mentioned all of the narration.³ Another version states "the ten days of al-Aḍḥā".

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Amr ibn Shu'ayb, who reported from his father who reported from his grandfather that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The best du'ā' is du'ā' on the Day of 'Arafāt, and the best thing that I and the Prophets before me have said is: There is no god but Allah, One without partners. His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things."⁴ At-Tirmidhī considers this isnād weak.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

¹ Qur'ān 22:28.

² Al-Bukhārī (969) and at-Tirmidhī (757).

³ Sunan ad-Dārimī (2/25-26).

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (3579). Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is gharib. It was reported by at-Tirmidhī, who states that it is gharib in this form (wajh). The hadith from al-Muwatta' following it is a supporting narration.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

And we relate from the Muwatta' of Imam Mālik, with a mursal isnād with incompleteness in its wording, which is: "The best du'ā' is du'ā' on the Day of 'Arafāt, and the best thing that I and the Prophets before me have said is: There is no god but Allah, One without partner."¹ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah.

It has been reported to us that Sālim² ibn 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr saw a beggar begging on the Day of 'Arafāt and said to him: "O you weak person, [even] today do you ask of others besides Allah ﷻ?"

Al-Bukhārī³ related in his Ṣaḥīḥ that 'Umar ﷻ said takbīr in his tent in Minā; the people in the mosque heard him and they said takbīr; and the people of the market said takbīr until Minā trembled with takbīr. Al-Bukhārī said that Ibn 'Umar and Abū Hurayrah ﷻ used to go out into the market during those ten days and say takbīr, and it would induce the people [in the market] to say the takbīr along with their takbīr.

134

THE ADHKĀR PRESCRIBED FOR ECLIPSES

IT IS SUNNAH, during an eclipse of the sun and the moon, to perform dhikr of Allah and du'ā' in abundance. It is also Sunnah to perform a ṣalāh for it, according to the consensus of the Muslims.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ﷻ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The sun and the moon are both signs of Allah and they do not eclipse for the death of anyone, or for his life. So when you see [them in eclipse] supplicate to Allah ﷻ and magnify Him, and give charity."⁴ Another hadith from their Ṣaḥīḥs reads: "If you see that, then remember Allah ﷻ." Something identical is related from Ibn 'Abbās.

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ﷻ who related that the ¹ Al-Muwatta' (246). Ibn 'Abd al-Barr states that Mālik does not disagree about it being mursal.

² Al-Futūḥāt (4/249). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is narrated by Abū Nu'aym in al-Ḥilyah, in an abridged form, in the biography of Sālim.

³ Al-Bukhārī (2/461).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (1044) and Muslim (901).

Prophet ﷺ said: "If you see anything like this then seek help through dhikr of Allah and du'ā', and ask Him for forgiveness."¹

And they both relate in their Ṣaḥīḥs, from al-Mughīrah ibn Shu'bah, who said: "When you see it...supplicate Allah and pray." Al-Bukhārī narrated something like this from Abū Bakrah. And Allah knows best.

And in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Samurah ؓ, who reported: "I came to the Prophet ﷺ while the sun was in eclipse. He was standing in ṣalāh and raising his hands. He said tasbīḥ, tahlīl, takbīr and taḥmīd, and supplicated until it became light again. When it was over, he recited two chapters [of Qur'ān] and performed two rak'ahs of ṣalāh."²

I say: the word ḥusira, with ḍammah on the letter ḥā' and kasrah on the letter sīn, means kushifa, 'it was uncovered or unveiled', or julliya, 'it was disclosed'.

ON HOW THE ṢALĀH OF THE ECLIPSE IS PERFORMED

It is mustaḥabb to lengthen the recitation in the ṣalāh for the eclipse. While standing in the first rak'ah the worshipper should recite the equivalent of Sūrat al-Baqarah. In the second, he should recite the equivalent of two hundred verses. In the third, he should recite the equivalent of one hundred and fifty verses. In the fourth, he should recite the equivalent of one hundred verses. It is mustaḥabb that the first rukū' be as long as [reciting] one hundred verses, and the second as long as seventy verses; the third should be the same and the fourth should be as long as fifty verses. The sujūd should be as long as the rukū', so that the first sajdah is as long as the first rukū' and the second as long as the second rukū'. This is the correct opinion, although there is well-known disagreement amongst our scholars.

There should be no doubt as to why I have mentioned the preferability of prolonging the sujūd, as it is well-known in most of the books of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues that it should not be prolonged; but this is both weak and wrong. Rather, the correct opinion is that one should prolong it. This is established in the Ṣaḥīḥayn from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ through many channels. I have clarified and explained the evidences and supporting narrations in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab. I have alluded here to what I have already mentioned, so that no one is misled by the difference. Ash-Shāfi'i has said in places that it is mustaḥabb to prolong [the sujūd]. And Allah knows best.

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that the sitting between the two sujūds should not be lengthened but should be the same as in other ṣalāt. What they say has some questions related to it. It has been established by a ṣaḥīḥ hadith that it should be lengthened. I have discussed this in more detail in Sharḥ al-Muḥadhdhab. Hence the preference is to lengthen the sujūd. The coming to rest in standing up from the second rukū' should not be lengthened, nor should the tashahhud or the time spent sitting to recite it. And Allah knows best. If one leaves out all this lengthening and confines himself to al-Fātiḥah, his ṣalāh will still be valid. It is mustaḥabb to say, upon rising up from rukū': Allah has heard the one who praised Him. Our Lord, to You belongs all praise. We have cited this from the Ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1059) and Muslim (912).

² Muslim (913), Abū Dāwūd (1195), and an-Nasā'i (3/125).

سَمِعَ اللَّهُ لِمَنْ حَمِدَهُ، رَبَّنَا لَكَ الْحَمْدُ.

Sami'a-llāhu li-man ḥamidah, Rabbanā laka-l-ḥamd.

It is Sunnah to recite aloud during an eclipse of the sun but silently during an eclipse of the moon. Then, after the ṣalāh, [the khaṭīb] should deliver two khuṭbahs enjoining fear of Allah ﷻ and encouraging obedience to Allah, charity, and the freeing of slaves. This has been established by authentic hadiths. He should also encourage gratitude to Allah ﷻ and warn about heedlessness and deception. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī as well as others from Asmā' ؓ, who recorded that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ enjoined that slaves be liberated when there was an eclipse of the sun.¹ And Allah knows best.

135

ADHKĀR FOR SEEKING RAIN

IT IS MUSTAḤABB, [when asking for rain], to perform in abundance du'ā', dhikr, repentance, submission, humility and the well-known adhkār and supplications. Among these are: 'O Allah, grant us comforting rain, nourishing, wholesome, fertile and fruitful, flowing copiously, spreading over the land, pouring heavily, wide-ranging and long-lasting. O Allah, send it down on hillocks, the roots of trees, and the floors of valleys. O Allah, we ask You for forgiveness; You are the Most Forgiving. Pour down the rain on us in abundance. O Allah, grant us rain and do not make us despondent. O Allah, make crops grow for us, make the cows' udders flow for us, give us to drink from the blessings of the sky, and make the blessings of the earth grow for us. O Allah, remove from us fatigue, hunger and nakedness. Remove from us the calamities that none but You can remove.' It is mustaḥabb, if there is a pious person in the community, that the people pray for rain through his intercession, saying: Allah, we ask You for rain and we ask for intercession on the part of Your servant So-and-so.

اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا غَيْثًا مُغِيثًا، هَنِيئًا مَرِيْعًا، غَدَقًا مُجَلِّلاً، سَحَابًا عَامًّا، طَبَقًا دَائِمًا، اللَّهُمَّ عَلَى
الظَّرَابِ وَمَنَابِتِ الشَّجَرِ وَبُطُونِ الْأَوْدِيَةِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَسْتَغْفِرُكَ، إِنَّكَ كُنْتَ غَفَّارًا، فَأَرْسِلْ

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1054), Muslim (905), al-Muwatta' (1/188), and an-Nasā'ī (3/151).

السَّمَاءَ عَلَيْنَا مِدْرَارًا، اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا الْغَيْثَ وَلَا تَجْعَلْنَا مِنَ الْقَانِطِينَ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْبِثْ لَنَا الزَّرْعَ،
وَأِدِرْ لَنَا الضَّرْعَ، وَاسْقِنَا مِنْ بَرَكَاتِ السَّمَاءِ، وَأَنْبِثْ لَنَا مِنْ بَرَكَاتِ الْأَرْضِ، اللَّهُمَّ ارْفَعْ عَنَّا الْجَهْدَ وَالْجُوعَ وَالْعُرْيَ، وَاكْشِفْ عَنَّا مِنَ الْبَلَاءِ مَا لَا يَكْشِفُهُ غَيْرُكَ.

Allāhumma-sqinā ghaythan mughīthā, hanī'an mari'ā, ghadaqan mujallilā, saḥḥan 'āmmā, ṭabaqan dā'imā. Allāhumma 'ala-z-ẓirābi wa manabiti-sh-shajari wa buṭūni-l-awdiyāh. Allāhumma innā nastaghfiruka innaka kunta Ghaffārā, fa-arsili-s-samā'a 'alaynā midrārā. Allāhumma-sqina-l-ghaytha wa lā taj'alnā min al-qāniṭīn. Allāhumma anbit lana-z-zar', wa adirra lana-d-dar', wa-sqinā min barakāti-s-samā', wa anbit lanā min barakāti-l-ard. Allāhumma-rfa' annā-l-jahda wa-l-jū'a wa-l-'ury, wa-kshif' annā mina-l-balā'i mā lā yakshifuhu ghayruk.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that when there was a drought 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb   used to pray for rain through the intercession of al-'Abbās ibn 'Abd al-Muṭṭalib. He would say: "Allah, we used to appeal to You through our Prophet   and You granted us rain. We are now appealing to You through the mediation of the uncle of our Prophet, so grant us rain." Then it rained.¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا كُنَّا نَتَوَسَّلُ إِلَيْكَ بِنَبِيِّنَا صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَتَسْقِينَا،
وَإِنَّا نَتَوَسَّلُ إِلَيْكَ بِعَمِّ نَبِيِّنَا صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَاسْقِنَا.

Allāhumma innā kunnā natawassalu ilayka bi-Nabiyyinā ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam fa tasqiyanā, wa innā natawassalu ilayka bi-'ammi Nabiyyinā ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam fa-sqinā.

It is reported that Mu'āwiyah and others prayed for rain by means of the pious.² It is mustaḥabb to recite in the ṣalāh for rain what is recited in the ṣalāh of 'Īd, which we have already explained. One should perform seven takbīrāt at the beginning of the first [rak'ah] and five in the second, as in the ṣalāh of 'Īd. All the rulings and regulations relating to the takbīrāt of 'Īd apply here. Then [the khaṭīb] should deliver two sermons in which he should seek forgiveness and supplicate at length.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād according to the criteria of Muslim, from Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh   who related: "Some women came to the Messenger of Allah   weeping because of the lack of rain, and he said: 'O Allah, grant us rain that is a relief, wholesome, fertile and fruitful, beneficial and not harmful, coming sooner rather than later'³ and then the sky covered them [with rain-clouds]."

اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا غَيْثًا مُغِيثًا، مُرِيثًا مُرِيْعًا، نَافِعًا غَيْرَ ضَارٍ، عَاجِلًا غَيْرَ آجِلٍ.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1010).

² Such as his   prayer for rain by means of Yazīd ibn al-Aswad, may Allah have mercy on him, which Ibn Sa'd mentions in aṭ-Ṭabaqāt (7:444).

³ Abū Dāwūd (1169).

Allāhumma-sqinā ghaythan mughīthā, marī'an marī'ā, nāfi'an ghayra ḍārr, 'ājilan ghayra ājil.

We relate in the same source with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād that 'Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father, who reported from his grandfather, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said when praying for rain: "O Allah, give Your slaves and Your beasts water to drink, and spread out Your Mercy and revive Your dead land."¹ اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِ عِبَادَكَ وَبَهَائِمَكَ، وَأَنْشُرْ رَحْمَتَكَ، وَأَخِي بَلَدَكَ الْمَيِّتَ.

Allāhumma-sqi 'ibādaka wa bahā'imaka wa-nshur rahmataka wa-hyi baladaka-l-mayyit.

We relate in the same source with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, which Abū Dāwūd and others consider excellent, from 'Ā'ishah who related that the people complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about the lack of rain. He instructed that a minbar be positioned in the place where ṣalāh was offered. He made an appointment for the people to come out. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out when the upper edge of the sun was appearing. He sat on the minbar, magnified and praised Allah ﷻ, and then said: "You have complained about the barrenness of your homes, and the delay of the rain beyond its proper (ibbān) time. Allah ﷻ has commanded you to supplicate to Him, and He has promised you that He will answer your prayers." Then he said: "Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds, the All-Merciful, the Compassionate, Owner of the Day of Judgment. There is no god but Allah; He does as He wishes. O Allah, You are Allah and there is no God but You, the Infinitely Rich, and we are poor. Send down the rain and make what You have sent down strength for us, and provision for a time."²

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ، مَالِكِ يَوْمِ الدِّينِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا
اللَّهُ يَفْعَلُ مَا يُرِيدُ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ الْغَنِيُّ وَنَحْنُ الْفُقَرَاءُ،
أَنْزِلْ عَلَيْنَا الْغَيْثَ، وَاجْعَلْ مَا أَنْزَلْتَ لَنَا قُوَّةً وَبَلَاغاً إِلَى حِينٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn, ar-Raḥmāni-r-Raḥīm, Māliki Yawmi-d-Dīn, lā ilāha illa-llāhu yaf'alu mā yurīd. Allāhumma Anta-llāhu lā ilāha illā Anta-l-Ghaniyyu wa naḥnu-l-fuqarā', Anzil 'alayna-l-ghaytha wa-j'al mā anzalta lanā quwwatan wa balāghan ilā ḥīn.

Then he lifted his hands and he continued to raise them until the whites of his armpits showed. After that he turned his back to the people and he turned his cloak whilst raising his hands. Then he turned towards the people and came and performed two rak'ahs. Allah ﷻ made the clouds form and there were thunder and lightning, and it rained, by the permission of Allah ﷻ. He had hardly finished his rak'ah before there was a flood. When he saw them hastening to find shelter he smiled until his molars showed. Then he said: "I bear witness that Allah has power over all things, and that I am the servant and Messenger of Allah."

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1176).

² Abū Dāwūd (1173).

أَشْهَدُ أَنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، وَأَنَا عَبْدُ اللَّهِ وَرَسُولُهُ.

Ashhadu anna-llāha 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr, wa annī 'abdu-llāhi wa Rasūluh.

I say: the 'ibbān' of a thing is 'its time', and is written with kasrah on the hamzah and a doubling of the bā'. The meaning of 'lack of rain' (quḥūṭ al-maṭar) with a ḍammah on the letter ḥā' is its 'cessation'. The word 'barren' (jadb) means the opposite of fertile.

His saying: 'and then it rained' is written with the letter alif [on the verb, e.g. amṭarat]. It has two forms [or words]: maṭarat and amṭarat. No consideration is given to the view of those who say that one cannot use [the form] amṭara with the letter alif except for [Divine] punishment [of disbelievers].¹ And 'his molars (nawākhidh) showed' means 'his teeth appeared' with the letter dhāl.

Be aware that this hadith states explicitly that the sermon came before the rak'ah; this is stated unequivocally in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim. This should be interpreted as showing permissibility. It is well-known in the books of jurisprudence of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues that it is mustaḥabb to perform the ṣalāh before the sermon, since there are other hadiths that state that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed the ṣalāh before the sermon. And Allah knows best.

It is mustaḥabb to say both silent and audible du'ā's, and to lift the hands while saying them. Imam ash-Shāfi'i said that one of the du'ā's should be: O Allah, You have commanded us to supplicate to You and You have promised us Your response. We have made du'ā to You as You have commanded, so respond to us as You have promised us.

اللَّهُمَّ أَمَرْتَنَا بِدُعَائِكَ، وَوَعَدْتَنَا إِجَابَتَكَ، وَقَدْ دَعَوْنَاكَ كَمَا أَمَرْتَنَا، فَأَجِبْنَا كَمَا وَعَدْتَنَا. اللَّهُمَّ آمْنُنْ عَلَيْنَا بِمَغْفِرَتِكَ مَا قَارَفْنَا، وَإِجَابَتِكَ فِي سُقْيَانَا وَسَعَةِ رِزْقِنَا.

Allāhumma amartanā bi-du'ā'ik, wa wa'adtanā ijābatak, wa qad da'awnāka kamā amartanā, fa-ajibnā kamā wa'adtanā. Allāhumma-mnun 'alaynā bi-maghfiratika mā qārafnā, wa ijābatika fī suqyānā wa sa'ati rizqinā.

One should make du'ā for all believing men and women, invoke blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ, and recite verses of the Qur'ān. The Imam should say: I ask for forgiveness from Allah for me and for you. He should say the du'ā for distress, and the du'ā: Allah, grant us good in this world and in the Hereafter, as well as other da'awāt that are mentioned in authentic hadiths.

According to Imam ash-Shāfi'i, the Imam should deliver two sermons as he does in the ṣalāh of 'Id. In them, he should magnify Allah ﷻ, praise Him, pray for blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ and seek forgiveness profusely so that it becomes the bulk of his speech. He should say many times: "Ask forgiveness from your Lord, for He is Oft-Forgiving. He will send you rain in abundance."¹

¹ e.g. "...and We rained down on them stones of hard baked clay. ..." Qur'ān 11: 81.

﴿اسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّكُمْ إِنَّهُ كَانَ غَفَّارًا * يُرْسِلِ السَّمَاءَ عَلَيْكُمْ مِدْرَارًا﴾

Istaghfirū Rabbakum, innahu kāna Ghaffārā, yursili-s-samā'a 'alaykum midrārā.

It is reported that 'Umar ؓ prayed for rain and most of his du'ā was seeking forgiveness. According to ash-Shāfi'i, most of his du'ā was repentance. He started his du'ā with it and he said it between his utterances and he ended with it, so that it was the bulk of his speech. He roused and encouraged the people to repent, be obedient and draw closer to Allah ﷻ.

136

WHAT TO SAY WHEN THE WIND BLOWS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who related that when the wind blew violently the Prophet ﷺ would say: "O Allah, I ask You for the good of it, the good that is in it, and the good that it was sent with; and I seek Your protection from the evil of it, the evil that is in it, and the evil that it was sent with."²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهَا وَخَيْرَ مَا فِيهَا وَخَيْرَ مَا أُرْسِلَتْ بِهِ،
وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَشَرِّ مَا فِيهَا وَشَرِّ مَا أُرْسِلَتْ بِهِ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayrahā wa khayra mā fihā wa khayra mā ursilat bih, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihā wa sharri mā fihā wa sharri mā ursilat bih.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, and from Ibn Mājah with a ḥasan isnād from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The wind is one of the mercies of Allah ﷻ towards His servants. It brings mercy and it brings punishment. So when you feel it, do not curse it: ask Allah for the good of it and ask His protection from the harm of it."³ I say: "His words ؓ 'from the wind of Allah' with fathah on the letter rā' are said by the scholars to mean 'from the mercy of Allah (Most High) towards His servant.'

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'i and Ibn Mājah from 'Ā'ishah

1 Qur'ān 71:10-11.

2 Muslim (899) and al-Bukhārī (3206).

3 Abū Dāwūd (5097), Ibn Mājah (3727), and al-Futūḥāt (4/272). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

who related that when the Prophet ﷺ saw a cloud forming on the horizon he would leave what he was doing, even if he was in ṣalāh, and say: "O Allah, I ask Your protection from its evil."

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min sharrihā.

When it rained he would say: "O Allah, make it a beneficial rain."¹ اللَّهُمَّ صَيِّبًا هَنِيئًا.

Allāhumma ṣayyiban hanī'ā.

I say: the word nāshi'an, with hamzah, means 'clouds that have not completely gathered together'. The word ṣayyib, with kasrah and shaddah on the yā', means 'heavy rain', i.e. rain that pours down. The word is in the accusative case ending (mansūban), owing to the elision of the verb, the meaning being, 'I ask You for a downpour (as'aluka ṣayyiban) or 'make it a downpour' (ij'alhu ṣayyiban).

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī and others from Ubayy ibn Ka'b ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not curse the wind. If you see something that you dislike, say: O Allah, we ask You for the good of this wind, the good that is in it, and the good that it has been commanded to do; and we ask You for protection from the evil of this wind, the evil that is in it, and the evil that it has been commanded to do."² At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. Other hadiths, from 'Ā'ishah ؓ, Abū Hurayrah, 'Uthmān ibn Abī 'l-'Āṣ, Anas, Ibn 'Abbās and Jābir ؓ, have been related in this chapter.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ خَيْرِ هَذِهِ الرِّيحِ، وَخَيْرِ مَا فِيهَا، وَخَيْرِ مَا أُمِرْتُ بِهِ،
وَنَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ هَذِهِ الرِّيحِ، وَشَرِّ مَا فِيهَا، وَشَرِّ مَا أُمِرْتُ بِهِ.

Allāhumma innā nas'aluka min khayri hādhihi-r-rīḥ, wa khayri mā fihā, wa khayri mā umirat bih, wa na'ūdhu bika min sharri hādhihi-r-rīḥ, wa sharri mā fihā, wa sharri mā umirat bih.

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Salamah ibn al-Akwa' ؓ reported that when the wind became severe the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "O Allah, make it pregnant and not barren."³ I say that laqhan means 'pregnant with water like a pregnant female camel'. The word 'aqīm' applies to something that has no water in it, like barren animals that do not bear offspring.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5099), an-Nasā'ī in al-Kubrā, Ibn Mājah (3889), and al-Futūḥāt (4/274). Ibn Hajar grades it as ṣaḥīḥ.

² At-Tirmidhī (2253).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (300), with a slight variation in the wording. Ibn Hajar states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. It was reported by al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad like this and also by Ibn Hibbān in his Ṣaḥīḥ. Laqhan means a pregnant camel, while 'aqīm' means one that does not bear offspring. The rain should thus be pregnant, bearing rain, and not barren.

اللَّهُمَّ لَقْحًا لَا سَقِيمًا.

Allāhumma laqḥan lā saqīmā.

We relate in Anas ibn Mālik and from Jābir ibn ‘Abdullāh ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When something significant happens or the wind blows violently you should say the takbīr, because it lightens dark dust storms.”¹

Imam ash-Shāfi‘ī, may Allah have mercy on him, said in his book al-Umm with his isnād from Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ who narrated: “Never did the wind blow strongly without the Prophet ﷺ kneeling down and saying: ‘O Allah, make it a mercy and do not make it a punishment. O Allah, make it [various] winds and not [one] wind.’”² اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهَا رَحْمَةً وَلَا تَجْعَلْهَا عَذَابًا، اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهَا رِيحًا وَلَا تَجْعَلْهَا رِيحًا.

Allāhumma-j‘alhā raḥmatan wa lā taj‘alhā ‘adhābā,

Allāhumma-j‘alhā riyāḥan wa lā taj‘alhā rīḥā.

Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ said that in the Book of Allah ﷻ is written: “We sent against them a furious wind. . .”³

﴿إِنَّا أَرْسَلْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ رِيحًا صَرْصَرًا...﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “We sent against them the barren wind.”⁴

﴿أَرْسَلْنَا عَلَيْهِمُ الرِّيحَ الْعَقِيمَ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “And We sent the fruitful winds.”⁵

﴿وَأَرْسَلْنَا الرِّيحَ لَوَاقِحَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “Among His signs is that He sends the winds bearing glad tidings.”⁶

﴿وَمِنْ ءَايَاتِهِ أَنْ يُرْسِلَ الرِّيحَ مُبَشِّرَاتٍ﴾

1 Ibn as-Sunnī (285) and al-Futūḥāt (4/276). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb and its chain is very weak; it includes Muḥammad ibn Zadan, whose transmission is weak, and his shaykh ‘Anbasah ibn ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān is disregarded as a narrator.

2 Al-Umm (1/253) and al-Futūḥāt (4/277). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan. It is reported by al-Bayhaqī in al-Ma‘rifah.

3 Qur’ān 54:19.

4 Qur’ān 51:41.

5 Qur’ān 15:22.

6 Qur’ān 30:46.

Ash-Shāfi'ī related a munqatī' hadith from a man who came to the Prophet ﷺ and complained of poverty. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Perhaps you curse the wind." According to ash-Shāfi'ī, it is not befitting for anyone to curse the wind, because it is one of the obedient creations of Allah ﷻ and one of His troops; He has made it a mercy, but can make it a punishment if He wishes.

137

WHAT TO SAY WHEN STARS FALL

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ who reported: "We were ordered not to follow falling stars with our gaze but to say: As Allah wills. There is no power except by Allah."¹ مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ، لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Mā shā'a-llāh, lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

138

NOT POINTING TO, OR LOOKING AT, FALLING STARS OR LIGHTNING

THE HADITH IN the previous chapter relates to this. Ash-Shāfi'ī reported in al-Umm,³ with its isnād from someone above suspicion, that 'Urwah ibn az-Zubayr ؓ said: "If any of you sees lightning, he should not point towards it, but he should describe it and give its characteristics." Ash-Shāfi'ī said that the Arabs continued to disapprove of doing so.

¹ Al-Umm (1/253) and al-Futūḥāt (4/280–281). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is mu'dal because there are two consecutive narrators missing, and I have not found any supporting narration or follow-up report for this narration.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (658) and al-Futūḥāt (4/281). Its chain of transmission includes 'Abd al-A'lā, whose transmission is very weak and who has been accused of lying.

³ Al-Umm (1/253).

WHAT TO SAY ON HEARING THUNDER

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī with a weak isnād from Ibn ‘Umar ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard the sound of thunder or a thunderbolt he would say: “O Allah, do not kill us through Your anger and do not destroy us through Your punishment; and keep us well before that [can happen].”¹ اللَّهُمَّ لَا تَقْتُلْنَا بِغَضَبِكَ، وَلَا تُهْلِكْنَا بِعَذَابِكَ، وَغَافِنَا قَبْلَ ذَلِكَ.

Allāhumma lā taqtulnā bi-ghaḍabik, wa lā tuhliknā bi-‘adhābik, wa ‘āfinā qabla dhālik.

We relate in the Muwaṭṭa’ with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from ‘Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard thunder he stopped talking and said: “Glory be to Him Whose praise the thunder and the angels celebrate, in fear of Him.”² Imam ash-Shāfi‘ī, may Allah have mercy on him, said in al-Umm with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from Ṭāwūs, the great Tābi‘ī Imam ؓ, that he used to say upon hearing the thunder, “Glory be to the One you praise!”

سُبْحَانَ الَّذِي يُسَبِّحُ الرَّعْدُ بِحَمْدِهِ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ مِنْ خِيفَتِهِ.

Subḥāna-lladhī yusabbiḥu-r-ra‘du bi-ḥamdihi wa-l-malā’ikatu min khīfatih.

Ash-Shāfi‘ī said that it was as though he were adhering to what Allah ﷻ says: “And the thunder celebrates His praises, as do the angels, in fear of Him.”³

﴿وَيُسَبِّحُ الرَّعْدُ بِحَمْدِهِ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ مِنْ خِيفَتِهِ﴾

They mention that Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ said: “We were with ‘Umar ؓ on a journey. We experienced lightning, thunder and cold. Ka‘b told us: ‘Whoever says, when he hears thunder: Glory be to Him whose praise the thunder and the angels celebrate in fear of Him thrice will be protected from that thunder.’ We said it, and we were protected.”⁴ سُبْحَانَ مَنْ يُسَبِّحُ الرَّعْدُ بِحَمْدِهِ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ مِنْ خِيفَتِهِ.

Subḥāna man yusabbiḥu-r-ra‘du bi-ḥamdihi wa-l-malā’ikatu min khīfatih.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3446).

² Al-Muwaṭṭa’ (2/992) and al-Futūḥāt (4/285). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is mawqūf. It was reported by al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad from Ismā‘il ibn Abī Uways, who narrated it from Mālik.

³ Qur’ān 13:13.

⁴ Al-Futūḥāt (4/286). Ibn ‘Allān states that this hadith is reported by at-Ṭabarānī. Ibn Ḥajar states that it is mawqūf with a ḥasan chain.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN IT RAINS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from 'Ā'ishah ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw rain he would say: "O Allah, make it beneficial rain."¹ اللَّهُمَّ صَيِّبًا نَافِعًا.

Allāhumma ṣayyiban nāfi'ā.

We relate it in the Sunan of Ibn Mājah in which he said:

اللَّهُمَّ سَيِّبًا نَافِعًا.

Allāhumma sayban nāfi'ā.

twice or thrice.

Ash-Shāfi'ī reports in al-Umm that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Look for the acceptance of du'ā' when armies meet, when the iqāmah is called for ṣalāh, and when it rains." Ash-Shāfi'ī said: "I learned from more than one person to look for the acceptance of supplications when the iqāmah is called for ṣalāh and when rain falls."²

WHAT TO SAY AFTER IT HAS RAINED

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and of Muslim from Zayd ibn Khālid al-Juhānī ؓ, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ led the Companions in the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh at Ḥudaybiyah³ following rainfall (ithr samā') at night. When he had finished he turned to the people and asked: "Do you know what your Lord said?" They replied: "Allah and His Messenger know best." He continued: "He said: 'My servants have arisen, some believing in Me and some disbelieving in Me. Those who said: "We have been granted rain because of the bounty and mercy of Allah" are believers in Me and disbelievers in the stars. Whoever said: "We have been granted rain by such-and-such a star" is a disbeliever in Me and a believer in the stars."⁴

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1032) and Ibn Mājah (3890).

² Al-Umm (1/223-224).

³ Ḥudaybiyah is a well which is a distance of about one stage from Makkah.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (846), Muslim (71), al-Muwatta' (1/192), Abū Dāwūd (3906), and an-Nasā'ī (3/165).

I say: Ḥudaybiyah is a famous well close to Makkah, one stage away. It is acceptable either to double the second yā' or not to, although not to double the vowel is the correct and preferred spelling. This is the opinion of ash-Shāfi'ī and the linguists, whereas Ibn Wahb and most of the muḥaddithūn prefer to double [the second yā']. The word samā' here means 'rain'. Ithr is with a kasrah on the hamzah and a sukūn on the thā' but some say with a fathah on both (athar); and both are dialect forms.

The 'ulamā' have stated that if a Muslim says: "We have been granted rain because of a certain star", meaning that the star is the source and instigator and creator of the rain, he undoubtedly becomes a disbeliever. If he says this meaning that the star is a sign of the rain falling and that the rain falls when these signs appear, and the falling of the rain is by the volition of Allah ﷻ and is His Creation, then he does not become a disbeliever. They disagree as to whether it is makrūh. The preferred view is that it is makrūh, because these are expressions of disbelievers. That is the outward meaning of the hadith, and it is what ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him, has stated in al-Umm as well as elsewhere. And Allah knows best. It is mustaḥabb to thank Allah for these favours: that is, for the falling of the rain.

142

WHAT TO SAY WHEN THERE IS A GREAT DEAL OF RAIN AND ONE FEARS HARM FROM IT

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas ؓ who narrated: "A man came into the mosque on Friday while the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was standing and delivering the sermon, and said: 'Messenger of Allah, our wealth has been destroyed and our means of survival have been cut off. Pray to Allah to give us rain.' So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ raised his hands and said: 'O Allah, give us rain. O Allah, give us rain. O Allah, give us rain.'" اللَّهُمَّ اغْنِنَا، اللَّهُمَّ اغْنِنَا، اللَّهُمَّ اغْنِنَا.

Allāhumma aghithnā, Allāhumma aghithnā, Allāhumma aghithnā.

"By Allah, we could not see any cloud in the sky—not even a tiny one. There was no house or home between us and Salā'.¹ There appeared a cloud behind him that was like a shield. When it was in the middle of the sky it spread out and it started to rain. By Allah, we did not see the sun for a week. Then the man entered the mosque the following Friday while the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was standing and delivering the sermon. He said: 'Messenger of Allah, our wealth has been destroyed and our means of survival have been cut off [because of the rains]. Pray to Allah to give us respite." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ raised his hands and said: 'O Allah, around us and not upon us. O Allah, on the hillocks, small mountains and riverbeds, and where trees grow.' The rain stopped and we went outside, and the sun was shining."¹ اللَّهُمَّ حَوَالَيْنَا وَلَا عَلَيْنَا، اللَّهُمَّ عَلَى الْآكَامِ وَالظِّرَابِ وَبُطُونِ الْأَوْدِيَةِ وَمَنَابِتِ الشَّجَرِ.

¹ Salā' is a well-known mountain near Madinah.

Allāhumma ḥawālīnā wa lā ‘alaynā, Allāhumma ‘alā-l-ākāmi wa-ṣ-ṣirābi wa buṭūni-l-awdiyyati wa manābiti-sh-shajar.

The wording is found in both [Ṣaḥīḥs], though only al-Bukhārī's version has: 'O Allah, give us to drink.' instead of, 'O Allah, give us rain.' What greater benefit is there than that? And from Allah comes all help.

اللَّهُمَّ اسْقِنَا.

Allāhumma-sqinā.

THE ADHKĀR OF THE TARĀWĪḤ ṢALĀH

KNOW THAT THE ṣalāh of Tarāwīḥ is Sunnah according to the consensus of the 'ulamā'. It consists of twenty rak'ahs with a salām after every two rak'ahs. The characteristics of Tarāwīḥ ṣalāh are similar to those of all the other ṣalawāt which we have already described. One should say all the adhkār, like the opening du'ā', the completion of the remaining adhkār, the full tashahhud, and the du'ā' after it. Although this is obvious and well-known, we have drawn attention to it because many people are lax about it and omit most of the adhkār. The correct view is the former [i.e. that one should say them]. The recitation preferred and practiced by most people is to finish a complete recitation of the Qur'ān in the Tarāwīḥ of the month. One *Juz*² should be recited every night. It is mustaḥabb to recite the Qur'ān slowly and to be careful not to lengthen the recitation to more than one Juz'. One should be extremely wary of the practice that has become customary among the ignorant Imams of some mosques of reciting Sūrat al-An'ām in its entirety in the last rak'ah of the seventh night of Ramaḍān in the belief that it was revealed all at once. This is an ignorant and obvious innovation that entails many vices. We have discussed this in the chapter on the recitation of the Qur'ān.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1013), Muslim (897), al-Muwattaʿ (1/191), Abū Dāwūd (1174), and an-Nasāʾī (3/154–155).

² A juz is one-thirtieth of the Qur'ān.

THE ADHKĀR OF THE ṢALĀH OF NEED

WE RELATE FROM the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah, from ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī ‘Awfā ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever has need of anything from Allah ﷻ or from any human being should do wuḍū’ as perfectly as possible. After that he should perform two rak’ahs of ṣalāh. Next he should praise Allah ﷻ and invoke blessings upon the Prophet ﷺ. Then he should say: There is no god but Allah, the Forbearing, the Most Generous. Glory be to Allah, Lord of the Exalted Throne. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds. I ask You for that which evokes Your Mercy, for deeds which bring about Your forgiveness, for the benefit of complete piety, and for safety from all error. Do not leave me with any sin unforgiven, any worry not removed by You, or any need that is pleasing to You without fulfilling it, Most Merciful of those who show mercy.”¹ At-Tirmidhī stated that there is some controversy concerning the isnād.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْحَلِيمُ الْكَرِيمُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، الْحَمْدُ
لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، أَسْأَلُكَ مُوجِبَاتِ رَحْمَتِكَ، وَعَزَائِمَ مَغْفِرَتِكَ، وَالْغَنِيمَةَ
مِنْ كُلِّ بَرٍّ، وَالسَّلَامَةَ مِنْ كُلِّ إِثْمٍ، لَا تَدَعْ لِي ذَنْبًا إِلَّا غَفَرْتَهُ، وَلَا هَمًّا
إِلَّا فَرَجْتَهُ، وَلَا حَاجَةً هِيَ لَكَ رِضًا إِلَّا قَضَيْتَهَا يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Ḥalimu-l-Karīm, Subḥāna-llāhi Rabbi-l-‘Arshi-l-‘azīm, al-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-‘ālamīn, as’aluka mūjibāti raḥmatik, wa ‘azā’ima maghfiratik, wa-l-ghanīmata min kulli birr, wa-s-salāmata min kulli ithm, lā tada’ lī dhanban illā ghafartah, wa lā hamman illā farrajtah, wa lā ḥājatan hiya laka riḍan illā qaḍaytahā yā Arḥama-r-rāḥimīn.

I say: “It is mustaḥabb to supplicate with the du‘ā of distress and: O Allah, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire” because of what we have previously narrated from the two Ṣaḥīḥ books about these two.

اللَّهُمَّ آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanatan wa qinā ‘adhāba-n-Nār.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from ‘Uthmān ibn Hunayf ؓ, who narrated that a blind man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: “Supplicate to Allah to cure me.” He replied: “If you want, I will supplicate; or if you want, you can have patience and it will be better for you." [The man] said: "Supplicate." He [the Prophet ﷺ] told him to make wuḍū' and to supplicate with this du'ā': "O Allah, I ask You and I turn to You through Your Prophet Muḥammad, the Prophet of Mercy. O Muḥammad, I have turned to my Lord through you in this need of mine, that it may be fulfilled for me. O Allah, let him intercede for me."¹ At-Tirmidhī states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (479), Ibn Mājah (1384), al-Ḥākim (1/320), and al-Futūḥāt (4/298–299). This hadith is weak.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ وَأَتَوَجَّهُ إِلَيْكَ بِنَبِيِّكَ مُحَمَّدٍ نَبِيِّ الرَّحْمَةِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، يَا
مُحَمَّدُ إِنِّي تَوَجَّهْتُ بِكَ إِلَى رَبِّي فِي حَاجَتِي هَذِهِ لِتُقْضَى لِي، اللَّهُمَّ فَشَفِّعْهُ فِيَّ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka wa atawajjahu ilayka bi-Nabiyyika Muḥammad, Nabiyyi-r-rahmah ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam. Yā Muḥammadu innī tawajjahtu bika ilā Rabbī fī ḥājati hādhihi li-tuqḍā lī, Allāhumma fa-shaffi'hu fiyy.

145

THE ADHKĀR OF THE ṢALĀH OF TASBĪḤ

AT-TIRMIDHĪ² REPORTS IN his book [as-Sunan] that many hadiths have been narrated about the ṣalāh of tasbīḥ but that a large number are not authentic. Ibn al-Mubārak and other 'ulamā' have spoken of the merit of the ṣalāh of tasbīḥ.

At-Tirmidhī said: Aḥmad ibn 'Abdah related to us the following: "Abū Wahhāb related that he asked 'Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak about the ṣalāh in which there is tasbīḥ, and that he replied: 'One should say takbīr and then say: Glory be to You, Allah, and to You belongs all praise, and blessed are Your Names. You are Most Exalted in Your Grandeur, and there is no god but You'".

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، وَتَبَارَكَ اسْمُكَ، وَتَعَالَى جَدُّكَ، وَلَا إِلَهَ غَيْرُكَ.

Subḥānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik, wa tabārakasmuk, wa ta'āla jadduk, wa lā ilāha ghayruk.

"Then he should say fifteen times: Glory be to Allah, all praise is due to Allah, there is no god but Allah and Allah is greater.

سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَلَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Subḥāna-llāhi wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa lā ilāha illa-llāhu wa-llāhu akbar.

"Then he should seek protection and recite 'In the name of Allah', al-Fātiḥah, and a chapter [of Qur'ān], and then he should say ten times: Glory be to Allah, all praise is due to Allah, there is no god but Allah and Allah is greater. Then he should perform rukū' and say the same words ten times. Then he should raise his head and say them ten times. Next he should make sujūd and say the same words ten times. Then he should raise his head and say it ten times. Then he should perform sujūd a second time and say it ten times. He should perform four rak'ahs in this way. That makes seventy-five tasbiḥāt in every rak'ah, starting with fifteen tasbiḥs, after which he should recite [Qur'ān] and then say ten tasbiḥs. If he performs it at night, I would like him to greet [the angels on his shoulders] after every two rak'ahs. If he performs it during the day, he may say the salām if he wants to but he does not have to do so."

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3573), Ibn Mājah (1385), and al-Ḥākim (1/313), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² At-Tirmidhī (2/205).

According to another version, 'Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak said: "One should start in rukū' with Glory be to my Lord the Exalted and in sujūd with Glory be to my Lord Most High thrice, and then say the tasbiḥāt". Ibn al-Mubārak was asked: "If one forgets in this ṣalāh, does he have to say ten tasbiḥs in the sujūd of forgetfulness?" He replied: "No. There are only three hundred tasbiḥāt."

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from Abū Rāfi' ؓ who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to al-'Abbās: "Uncle, should I not be your companion? Should I not give to you? Should I not benefit you?" He replied: "Yes, Messenger of Allah." He said: "Uncle, perform four rak'ahs of ṣalāh and recite in every rak'ah the Opening of the Book [al-Fātiḥah] and a chapter. When you have finished the recitation say: Allah is greater, all praise is due to Allah, and glory be to Allah fifteen times before you make rukū'. Then make rukū' and say it ten times. Then raise your head and say it ten times. Then make sujūd and say it ten times. Then lift your head and say it ten times before you stand up. That will be seventy-five in every rak'ah and three hundred in every four rak'ahs. Even if your sins be [as many] as the sands of 'Ālij,¹ Allah ﷻ will forgive them for you." ['Abbās] asked: "Messenger of Allah, who will be able to do that every day?" [The Prophet ﷺ] answered: "If one is unable to do it daily then let him do it once a week, and if he is unable to do it once a week then let him do it once a month." He continued thus until he said: "Do it once a year."² At-Tirmidhī said that this hadith is described as gharīb.

I say that Imam Abū Bakr ibn al-'Arabī in his book al-Ahwadhī sharḥ at-Tirmidhī says, "This hadith of Abū Rāfi' is weak and is neither ṣaḥīḥ nor ḥasan. At-Tirmidhī only mentioned it as a way of warning and [alerting] one to it so that one is not misled by it. The statement of Ibn al-Mubārak is not a proof [in this matter]." These are the words of Ibn al-'Arabī. Al-'Uqaylī said that there is no reliably established hadith on ṣalāt at-tasbiḥ. Abū al-Faraj Ibn al-Jawzī in his book al-Mawḍū'āt cites the hadiths and chains related to ṣalāt at-tasbiḥ and explains their weaknesses.

It has reached us that the Imam and Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Ḥasan ad-Dāraquṭnī (Allah have mercy on him) said that the most completely authentic report in the virtues [or excel-lences] of Qur'ānic chapters concerns the excellence of the sūra 'Say, Allah is One' and the most authentic thing regarding the merits of prayers concerns the ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ.

¹ 'Ālij refers to piled-up sand. It is also the name of a place where there is a large amount of sand.

² Abū Dāwūd (1297), at-Tirmidhī (482), Ibn Mājah (1386), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/317, 318), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ and adh-Dhahabī agrees. See al-Futūḥāt ar-Rabbāniyyah (4/305-321) of Ibn 'Allān for a more detailed discussion.

I have mentioned this statement musnadan, with reference to isnāds, in the book Ṭabaqāt al-fuqahā' regarding the biography of al-Ḥasan 'Alī ibn 'Umar ad-Dāraqutnī. This does not mean, however, that the hadiths for ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ are ṣaḥīḥ. Indeed, when they say that 'this is the most authentic on the subject' when it is [actually] weak, what they mean is 'the most preferable' or 'the least weak'.

I say that a group of our colleagues such as Abū Muḥammad al-Baghawī and Abū al-Maḥāsīn ar-Rūyānī have said that the ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ is mustaḥabb.

Ar-Rūḥānī said in his work al-Baḥr, near the end of the chapter on Funeral Prayer: "Know that ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ is desired and it is mustaḥabb to perform as much as one can at any given time and not to be negligent about it. He said that such was narrated by 'Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak as well as a group of scholars. They said: "'Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak was asked whether if someone forgets something in the ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ he should say ten tasbīḥs for each of the prostrations of forgetfulness. [Ibn al-Mubārak] replied: 'No. [Ṣalāt at-tasbīḥ] is only 300 counts of tasbīḥ'.

I have mentioned this discussion regarding sujūd as-sahw even though the subtle benefits have been already mentioned. The point is that someone like ['Abdullāh ibn al-Mubārak] relating this and not rejecting it points to the fact that he agreed with its ruling as well as many others. So does ar-Rūyānī, who is one of the eminent figures in our school. And Allah knows best.

146

THE ADHKĀR RELATED TO ZAKĀH

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "From their wealth take alms, to purify and sanctify them. And pray on their behalf."¹

﴿ خُذْ مِنْ أَمْوَالِهِمْ صَدَقَةً تُطَهِّرُهُمْ وَتُزَكِّيهِمْ بِهَا وَصَلِّ عَلَيْهِمْ ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Awfā reported that when people brought charity to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ he said: "Allah, send blessings down upon them." Abū Awfā ﷺ brought charity [to him] and he said: "Allah, bless the family of Abū Awfā."² اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَيْهِمْ.

¹ Qur'ān 9:103.

² Al-Bukhārī (1497) and Muslim (1078).

اللَّهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلَى آلِ أَبِي أَوْفَى.

Allāhumma ṣalli 'alayhim.

Allāhumma ṣalli 'alā āli Abī Awfā.

According to ash-Shāfi'ī and his colleagues, the preferred view is that the one receiving zakāh should say to the one distributing it: 'May Allah grant you reward for what you have given. May He make it a purification for you and bless you in what you have kept'.

آجَرَكَ اللَّهُ فِيمَا أُعْطِيتَ، وَجَعَلَهُ لَكَ طَهُورًا، وَبَارَكَ لَكَ فِيمَا أَبْقَيْتَ.

Ājaraka-llāhu fīmā a'ṭayt, wa ja'alahu laka ṭahūrā, wa bāraka laka fīmā abqayt.

This du'ā is mustaḥabb for recipients of zakāh, whether they are the collectors or the poor [i.e. recipients]. The du'ā is not wājib according to the well-known position of our school of thought or of any others. Some of our colleagues hold that it is wājib because of the statement of ash-Shāfi'ī: "It is the duty of the administrator to make du'ā for him, and the proof of this is the clear command in the verse." The 'ulamā' say that it is not mustaḥabb to say in one's du'ā: 'O Allah, bless So-and-so.' The meaning of "pray for them" is to supplicate for them. As for the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying: "O Allah, bless the family of Abū Awfā," that is specific to him. He may address with it whomever he wishes, unlike us. Just as we do not say "Muḥammad, mighty is he and great," although he is mighty and great, we do not say "Abū Bakr, may Allah bless him and grant him peace," or "Alī, may Allah bless him and grant him peace," but we say "Abū Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him," or "Alī, may Allah be pleased with him," or something similar. If one does say ṣalli 'alayhi (Allah bless him. . .) then the correct opinion according to the majority of our colleagues is that it is makrūh tanzīhan. Some have said that it opposes what is preferred. One cannot say it is makrūh. Others have said it is not permitted, but the more apparent position is that it indicates prohibition.

One must not say 'upon him be peace' or anything similar of anyone other than the Prophets, except if it is an address or a response, with initiating the salām, which is Sunnah but to reply to which is wājib.

All this applies to ṣalāt and salāms upon anyone other than the Prophets. As for initiating it for those who come after, then it is permitted without disagreement. One says: "O Allah, bless Muḥammad, his family, his Companions, his wives, his progeny and those who follow him. . .[etc.]" because the salaf (first Muslims) are not exempt from that, but we have been ordered to [bless them thus] in the tashahhud and otherwise as distinct from ṣalāt only upon [the Prophet]. I have already discussed this matter in the chapter on asking for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

THAT THE INTENTION IS OBLIGATORY IN ZAKĀH WHEN PAYING, AND THE EXPLANATION OF THAT POINT

Know that intention in zakāh is wājib. The intention should be made with the heart, as in all other acts of worship. It is mustahabb to combine this with articulating it with the tongue, as in other acts of worship. If one limits it to the tongue, without an intention in the heart, there is disagreement as to its validity. The more correct view is that it is not valid. It is not wājib for the one who pays zakāh to say, when he makes intention: 'This is zakāh.' It is sufficient to hand it to the person who is entitled to it. If one utters it, there is no harm in that. And Allah knows best.

WHAT IT IS RECOMMENDED TO SAY ON PAYING ZAKĀH OR CHARITY OR THE LIKE

It is mustahabb for a person when fulfilling zakāh, charity, a vow or penance to say: "Lord, accept [this act] from us. You are the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing."¹ Allah has narrated this concerning Ibrāhīm, Ismā'il and the wife of 'Imrān.

﴿رَبَّنَا تَقَبَّلْ مِنَّا ۖ إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ﴾

Rabbanā taqabbal minnā, innaka Anta-s-Samī'u-l-'Alīm.

147

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING THE NEW MOON
AND WHAT TO SAY ON SEEING THE MOON

WE RELATE FROM the Musnad of ad-Dārimī and the book of at-Tirmidhī, from Ṭalḥah ibn 'Ubaydullāh ؓ who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw the new moon he said: "O Allah, make it rise over us with good fortune, faith, peace, and sub-mission. My Lord and your Lord is Allah."² At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

اللَّهُمَّ أَهْلُهُ عَلَيْنَا بِالْيَمَنِ وَالْإِيمَانِ، وَالسَّلَامَةِ وَالْإِسْلَامِ، رَبِّي وَرَبُّكَ اللَّهُ.

Allāhumma ahillahu 'alaynā bi-l-yumni wa-l-īmān, wa-s-salāmati wa-l-Islām, Rabbī wa Rabbuka-llāh.

We relate in the Musnad of ad-Dārimī from Ibn 'Umar ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw the new moon he said: "Allah is greater. Allah, make it

¹ Qur'ān 2:127.

² At-Tirmidhī (3447), ad-Dārimī (2/4), and al-Futūḥāt (4/329). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

rise over us with safety, faith, peace, Islam, and the ability to do what You like, O Lord, and what You are pleased with. My Lord and your Lord is Allah.”¹

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُمَّ أَهْلُهُ عَلَيْنَا بِالْأَمْنِ وَالْإِيمَانِ، وَالسَّلَامَةِ وَالْإِسْلَامِ،
وَالْتَوْفِيقِ لِمَا نُحِبُّ رَبُّنَا وَتَرْضَى، رَبُّنَا وَرَبُّكَ اللَّهُ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhumma ahillahu ‘alaynā bi-l-amni wa-līmān, wa-s-salāmati wa-l-Islām, wa-t-tawfiqi limā tuḥibbu Rabbanā wa tarḍā, Rabbunā wa Rabbuka-llāh.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd in the book of Adab from Qatādah ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw the new moon he used to say thrice: “A new moon of good and guidance,” and then: “I believe in the One Who created you.” Then he said: “Praise be to Allah, Who has ended such-and-such a month and brought in such-and-such a month.”²

هِلَالُ خَيْرٍ وَرُشْدٍ، هِلَالُ خَيْرٍ وَرُشْدٍ، هِلَالُ خَيْرٍ وَرُشْدٍ، آمَنْتُ بِالَّذِي خَلَقَكَ،
الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي ذَهَبَ بِشَهْرٍ كَذَا وَجَاءَ بِشَهْرٍ كَذَا.

Hilālu khayrin wa rushd, hilālu khayrin wa rushd, hilālu khayrin wa rushd, āmantu bi-lladhī khalaqak.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī dhahaba bi-shahri kadhā wa jā’a bi-shahri kadhā.

According to another version, Qatādah ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ saw the new moon he turned his face away from it.³ Both have also been narrated by Abū Dāwūd in mursal form, and some texts of Abū Dāwūd state that Abū Dāwūd said: “No musnad ṣaḥīḥ hadith can be found on this subject from the Prophet ﷺ.”

We have related this in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Sa’id al-Khudrī ؓ from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

As regards seeing the moon, we relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from ‘Ā’ishah ؓ who narrated: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ took me by the hand while the moon was rising, and he said: ‘Seek the protection of Allah from the evil of the darkness when it falls.’”⁴

We relate in Ḥilyat al-awliyā’ with a weak isnād from Ziyād ibn an-Numayrī from Anas ؓ who related that when the month of Rajab began the Messenger of Allah ﷺ

1 Ad-Dārimī (2/403). Ibn Ḥajar states that there is some weakness in this hadith’s chain, but that it is strengthened by the previous hadith.

2 Abū Dāwūd (5092).

3 Abū Dāwūd (5093).

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (653). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

said: "Allah, bless us in Rajab and Sha'bān, and let us reach Ramaḍān."¹ We also relate it from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī with additions.

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِي رَجَبٍ وَشَعْبَانَ، وَبَلِّغْنَا رَمَضَانَ.

Allāhumma bārik lanā fī Rajabin wa Sha'bān, wa ballighnā Ramaḍān.

148

THE ADHKĀR THAT ARE MUSTAḤABB WHILE FASTING

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to combine the intention of fasting in the heart and on the tongue, as we have stated regarding other acts of worship. Making intention with the heart only will suffice. Making it with the tongue only will not suffice. It is Sunnah, when someone reviles one or acts ignorantly towards him while he is fasting, to say: 'I am fasting' twice or more.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Fasting is a shield, so when any one of you is fasting he should not act obscenely or ignorantly. If a person fights with him or reviles (shātama) him, he should say twice: 'I am fasting.'"²

I say: "It is said that one should say it with one's tongue, and make the person who reviles him hear so that he may restrain himself. It is also said that one should say it in one's heart, to restrain himself from vulgarity and to protect his fast. The first opinion is better known." The meaning of shātama is that he reviles him in such a way as leads to reviling each other. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Three people's du'ā' is never rejected: a fasting person until he breaks his fast; a just Imam; and the du'ā' of the oppressed."³ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan hadith. I say: this version has ḥattā, 'until', with tā'.

¹ Hilyah al-Awliyāh (6/269) and Ibn as-Sunnī (664). According to Ibn Hajar, this hadith is gharīb.

² Al-Bukhārī (1894) and Muslim (1151).

³ At-Tirmidhī (3592), Ibn Mājah (1752), and al-Futūḥāt (4/338). Ibn Hajar states that this is a ḥasan hadith, reported by Aḥmad and by Ibn Hibbān in his Ṣaḥīḥ.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN BREAKING THE FAST

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī from Ibn 'Umar ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ broke his fast he said: "Thirst is gone, veins have been moistened, and the reward has been secured, if Allah Most High wills."¹ ذَهَبَ الظَّمَأُ، وَابْتَلَّتِ الْعُرُوقُ، وَثَبَّتَ الْأَجْرُ إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ.

Dhahaba-z-zama', wa-btallati-l-'urūq, wa thabata-l-ajru in shā'a-llāh.

I say: the word az-zama' with the shortened hamzah at the end means 'thirst' (al-aṭash). Allah (Most High) says: "that is because they are not afflicted by thirst".² I mention this, even though it is obvious, because I have seen those for whom it is ambivalent so that their state of illusion is prolonged.

﴿ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ لَا يُصِيبُهُمْ ظَمَأٌ﴾

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Mu'adh ibn Zahrah, who reported that he had been informed that when the Prophet ﷺ broke the fast he said: "Allah, for You have I fasted and with Your sustenance I break my fast."³ Thus he narrated it as a mursal.

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ صُمْتُ، وَعَلَى رِزْقِكَ أَفْطَرْتُ.

Allāhumma laka ṣumt, wa 'alā rizqika aftar.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Mu'adh ibn Zahrah who narrated that when the Prophet ﷺ broke the fast he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who helped me to fast and has given me sustenance so that I could break my fast."⁴ This is related in mursal form.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَعَانَنِي فَصُمْتُ، وَرَزَقَنِي فَأَفْطَرْتُ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī a'ānanī fa-ṣumt, wa razaqanī fa-aftar.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, who related that when the Prophet ﷺ broke his fast he said: "Allah, for You we have fasted and with Your sustenance we break our fast, so accept it from us. You are the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing."⁵

1 Abū Dāwūd (2357).

2 Qur'ān 9:120.

3 Abū Dāwūd (2358).

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (480).

5 Ibn as-Sunnī (481) and al-Futūḥāt (4/341). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb and that its chain is seriously weak.

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ صُومُنَا، وَعَلَى رِزْقِكَ أَفْطَرْنَا، فَتَقَبَّلْ مِنَّا، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ.

Allāhumma laka ṣumnā, wa 'alā rizqika aftarṇā, fa-taqabbal minnā, innaka Anta-s-Samī'u-l-'Alīm.

We relate in the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī from 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Mulaykah, who reported that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ narrated: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'When a fasting person breaks his fast, he has one du'ā' that is not denied.' Ibn Abī Mulaykah reported that he heard 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ say, when he broke his fast: "O Allah, I ask You by Your Mercy that encompasses everything to forgive me."¹ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ بِرَحْمَتِكَ الَّتِي وَسِعَتْ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ أَنْ تَغْفِرَ لِي.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka bi-rahmatika-llatī wasi'at kulla shay'in an taghfira lī.

150

WHAT TO SAY WHEN BREAKING THE FAST WITH PEOPLE

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd as well as others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from Anas ᷺, who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to Sa'd ibn 'Ubādah. [The latter] brought some bread and oil, and he ate. Then the Prophet ﷺ said: "May those who fast break their fast with you, may the pious eat your food, and may the angels pray for you."² أَفْطَرَ عِنْدَكُمْ الصَّائِمُونَ، وَأَكَلَ طَعَامَكُمْ الْأَبْرَارُ، وَصَلَّتْ عَلَيْكُمْ الْمَلَائِكَةُ.

Aftarā 'indakum aṣ-ṣā'imūn, wa akala ṭa'āmakum al-abrār, wa ṣallat 'alaykum al-malā'ikah.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ᷺ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ broke his fast with people he supplicated for them and said: "May those who fast break their fast with you. . ."³

¹ Ibn Mājah (1753) and Ibn as-Sunnī (482).

² Abū Dāwūd (854), an-Nasā'ī (292), and al-Futūḥāt (4/343). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (483). According to Ibn Ḥajar, the narrators of this hadith were men who narrated ḥasan hadiths.

THE SUPPLICATION TO SAY ON LAYLAT
AL-QADR (THE NIGHT OF THE DECREE)

WE RELATE WITH ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah and others, from 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها who narrated: "I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, if I know it is the Night of the Decree, what should I say?' He answered: 'Say: O Allah, You are Forgiving and You love forgiveness, so forgive me.'"¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّكَ عَفُوفٌ تُحِبُّ الْعَفْوَ فَاعْفُ عَنِّي.

Allāhumma innaka 'Afuwwun tuḥibbu-l-'afwa fa-'fu 'annī.

Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues have said that it is mustaḥabb to supplicate in abundance during this night. Recitation of the Qur'ān, and all the adhkār and du'ās that are mustaḥabb on other noble occasions, are also mustaḥabb; and we have previously explained them together and individually. According to ash-Shāfi'ī, "One should exert oneself [in doing this] as strenuously during the day as during the night," and that was what he said. It is mustaḥabb to make du'ā' for the needs and the important concerns of the Muslims, for that is the character of the righteous and the perceptive servants of Allah. And it is Allah Who grants success.

THE ADKHĀR OF I'TIKĀF

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to recite Qur'ān in abundance and perform other adhkār.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3508), Ibn Mājah (3850), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (1/530), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

THE ADHKĀR OF PILGRIMAGE (ḤAJJ)

KNOW THAT THE adhkār and da'awāt of Ḥajj are innumerable, but we will draw attention to the most important. The adhkār of Ḥajj are of two categories: adhkār for the journey and adhkār during the Ḥajj itself. We will defer the adhkār for the journey, because they will be mentioned in the chapters on the adhkār of travelling. Those adhkār which pertain to the actual Ḥajj will be mentioned in the section on the deeds and actions of Ḥajj. I will omit the evidence and the hadiths for most of it, to avoid lengthening the book and boring the reader, since this chapter is very long. I will therefore be brief, Allah willing.

When a person wishes to enter *iḥrām*¹ he should perform ghusl and wuḍū' and put on his lower wrapper and upper wrapper. We have already mentioned what to say when performing wuḍū', bathing, and putting on clothes. Then he should offer two rak'ahs. We have already mentioned the adhkār of ṣalāh. It is mustaḥabb to recite Qul Yā ayyuha-l-kāfirūn (Sūrah 109) after the Fātiḥah in the first rak'ah and Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad (Sūrah 112) in the second. It is mustaḥabb, after finishing the ṣalāh, to make du'ā' for whatever one wishes. We have already mentioned a selection of adhkār for after ṣalāh. When about to put on iḥrām, one should make the intention in one's heart. It is mustaḥabb to support the heart with the tongue. One should say: I make the intention for Ḥajj, or: I have put on iḥrām for it for the sake of Allah ﷻ. At Your service, Allah, at Your service! and the remainder of the talbiyah. The intention is wājib and the words are Sunnah. Saying it with the heart alone suffices, but saying it with the tongue alone will not.

According to Imam Abū al-Faṭḥ Sulaym ibn Ayyūb ar-Razī, it is good to say after this: O Allah, I consecrate my soul, my hair, my skin, my flesh and my blood to You.

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ أَخْرَمُ نَفْسِي وَشَعْرِي وَبَشَرِي وَلَحْمِي وَدَمِي.

Allāhumma laka aḥramu nafsī wa sha'rī wa basharī wa laḥmī wa damī.

Others state that one should also say: O Allah, I have made intention for Ḥajj, so help me with it and accept it from me.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي نَوَيْتُ الْحَجَّ فَأَعِنِّي عَلَيْهِ، وَتَقَبَّلْهُ مِنِّي.

Allāhumma innī nawaytu-l-Ḥajja fa-a'innī 'alayh, wa taqabbalhu minnī.

Then one should say the talbiyah, which is: At Your service, Allah, at Your service. At Your service, You have no partner, at Your service. Truly all praise, favour and sovereignty is Yours; You have no partner.

¹ Iḥrām is the state of ritual consecration of a person intending to perform the minor pilgrimage ('Umrah) or major pilgrimage (Hajj).

لَبَّيْكَ اللَّهُمَّ لَبَّيْكَ، لَبَّيْكَ لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ لَبَّيْكَ، إِنَّ الْحَمْدَ وَالنِّعْمَةَ لَكَ وَالْمُلْكَ، لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ.

Labbayka-llāhumma labbayk, labbayka lā sharika laka labbayk, inna-l-ḥamda wa-n-ni'mata laka wa-l-mulk, lā sharika lak.

That is the talbiyah of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. It is mustaḥabb to say in the first talbiyah: 'At Your service for Ḥajj,' if intending to perform Ḥajj, and to say: 'At Your service for 'Umrah,' if the intention is to put on iḥrām for 'Umrah. One does not repeat the mention of Ḥajj or 'Umrah in the talbiyah thereafter, according to the correct and preferred view.

Know that the talbiyah is Sunnah. If a person leaves it out, his Ḥajj and 'Umrah will still be valid and he will not have to make any penance; but he will have forfeited immense rewards and the emulation of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. This is correct and it is our view and that of the majority of the 'ulamā'. Some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that it is wājib and make it a condition for the validity of the Ḥajj; but the first view is the correct one. All the same, it is mustaḥabb to safeguard it in emulation of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and to avoid controversy. And Allah knows best.

If a man puts on iḥrām on behalf of someone else he should say: "I intend to perform Ḥajj and I consecrate this to Allah on behalf of So-and-so." At Your service, Allah, at Your service on behalf of So-and-so, and the rest of what a person would say when putting on iḥrām for himself.

CONCERNING THE TALBIYAH AND WHAT IS RECOMMENDED IN IT

It is mustaḥabb to ask for peace and blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ after the talbiyah, and to make du'ā' for oneself and whomever else one wishes, for concerns of this world and the Hereafter. One should ask Allah ﷻ for His pleasure with one and for Paradise, and seek protection in Him from Hell-Fire. It is mustaḥabb to say the talbiyah abundantly. This is mustaḥabb under all conditions: standing, sitting, walking, riding laying down, dismounting or travelling, in a state of minor or major impurity or during menstruation. It is mustaḥabb [to do it] in changing conditions, times or places, like the coming of night or day, at dawn, the gathering of friends, standing up or sitting down, ascending or descending, riding or dismounting, after ṣalāh and in any mosques. The correct view is that one does not say talbiyah whilst performing ṭawāf or sa'y, because there are special adhkār for those moments.

It is mustaḥabb to raise the voice while saying talbiyah, unless that is difficult. A woman must not raise her voice, because her voice generates the risk of temptation. It is mustaḥabb to repeat the talbiyah thrice or more. One should say it continually and not interrupt it, whether by speaking or anything else. If someone greets him, he should reply, but it is makrūh to greet people in this condition. If one sees something that impresses him, he should say: I am present; the [real] life is the life of the Hereafter, in imitation of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

Know that the talbiyah continues to be mustahabb until one stones the Jamrat al-'aqabah on the day of slaughtering or performs ṭawāf al-ifādah, if he does that first. If he starts with one of them, the talbiyah should cease when he starts it. One should then busy himself with takbīr. According to ash-Shāfi'i, a person performing 'Umrah should say the talbiyah until he has touched the corner of the Ka'bah.

WHAT IT IS RECOMMENDED FOR A PERSON IN IHRĀM TO SAY WHEN HE REACHES THE ḤARAM OF MAKKAH

When a person in ihrām reaches the Sanctuary of Makkah, Allah increases him in honour and it is mustahabb for him to say: Allah, this is Your sanctuary and security, so make me unlawful to Hell-Fire, make me safe from Your punishment on the day You resurrect Your servants; and make me one of Your friends and one of the people who obey You and let him make whatever du'ā' he wishes.

اللَّهُمَّ هَذَا حَرْمُكَ وَأَمْنُكَ فَحَرِّمْنِي عَلَى النَّارِ، وَأَمِّنِي مِنْ عَذَابِكَ
يَوْمَ تَبْعَثُ عِبَادَكَ، وَاجْعَلْنِي مِنْ أَوْلِيَائِكَ وَأَهْلِ طَاعَتِكَ.

Allāhumma hādhā ḥaramuka wa amnuka fa-ḥarrimnī 'alā-n-Nār, wa amminnī min 'adhābika yawma tab'athu 'ibādak, wa-j'alnī min awliyā'ika wa ahli ṭā'atik.

WHAT IT IS RECOMMENDED FOR THE PERSON IN IHRĀM TO SAY WHEN HIS GAZE FALLS UPON THE KA'BAH

When a person enters Makkah and his gaze falls on the Ka'bah and he reaches the Mosque, it is mustahabb for him to lift his hands and supplicate. It is reported that the du'ā' of a Muslim is accepted upon seeing the Ka'bah. One should say: Allah, increase this House in honour, esteem, respect and reverence. And increase those who honour and respect it—of those who perform Ḥajj or 'Umrah—in honour, respect, esteem and piety.

اللَّهُمَّ زِدْ هَذَا الْبَيْتَ تَشْرِيفاً وَتَعْظِماً وَتَكْرِماً وَمَهَابَةً، وَزِدْ مَنْ شَرَفَهُ
وَكَرَّمَهُ مِنْ حَجَّهِ أَوْ اعْتَمَرَهُ تَشْرِيفاً وَتَكْرِماً وَتَعْظِماً وَبِرّاً.

Allāhumma zid hādhā-l-Bayta tashrifan wa ta'zīman wa takrīman wa mahābah, wa zid man sharrafahu wa karramahu mimman ḥajjahu awi-'tamarahu tashrifan wa takrīman wa ta'zīman wa birra.

One should also say: O Allah, You are Peace and from You is peace. Make us live, Lord, in peace.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ السَّلَامُ وَمِنْكَ السَّلَامُ، حَيِّنَا رَبَّنَا بِالسَّلَامِ.

Allāhumma Anta-s-Salāmu wa minka-s-salām, ḥayyinā Rabbanā bi-s-salām.

Then one should make du'ā' for all of the good of this world and the Hereafter that he desires. On entering the Mosque, he should say what we have discussed in the beginning of this book about all mosques.

ON THE ADHKĀR OF ṬAWĀF

It is mustahabb, when touching the Black Stone the first time and also when commencing ṭawāf, to say: In the name of Allah; Allah is greater. O Allah, with belief in You and faith in Your Book, and in fulfillment of Your pact and following the Sunnah of Your Prophet ﷺ. It is desirable to repeat this du'ā' when coming parallel to the stone in every circumambulation.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُمَّ إِيْمَانًا بِكَ، وَتَصْدِيقًا بِكِتَابِكَ، وَوَفَاءً
بِعَهْدِكَ، وَاتِّبَاعًا لِسُنَّةِ نَبِيِّكَ مُحَمَّدٍ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Bismi-llāhi wa-llāhu akbar, Allāhumma imānan bik, wa taṣḍīqan bi-Kitābik, wa wafā'an bi-'ahdik, wa-ttibā'an li-Sunnati Nabiyyika Muḥammadin ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

When running in the first three circuits of ṭawāf one should say: O Allah, may my Hajj be accepted, my sins forgiven, and my effort rewarded.

اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهُ حَجًّا مَبْرُورًا، وَذَنْبًا مَغْفُورًا، وَسَعْيًا مَشْكُورًا.

Allāhumma-j'alhu Ḥajjan mabrūrā, wa dhanban maghfūrā, wa sa'yan mashkūrā.

He should say during the remaining four circuits: O Allah, forgive and have mercy on and pardon that which You know. You are most Mighty and Most Noble.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ وَارْحَمْ، وَاعْفُ عَمَّا تَعْلَمُ، وَأَنْتَ الْأَعَزُّ الْأَكْرَمُ، اللَّهُمَّ
آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً، وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma-ghfir wa-rḥam, w-a'fu 'ammā ta'lam, wa Anta-l-A'azzu-l-Akram. Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah, wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanah, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

According to ash-Shāfi'ī, the best thing that one can say during ṭawāf is: *O Allah our Lord, grant us good in this world . . .*⁴⁶³ and he said, "I regard it as mustahabb that it be said throughout it."

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّنَا آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً...

Allāhumma Rabbanā ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah...

It is mustaḥabb to make du'ā', between his ṭawāfs, for whatever one wishes concerning his religious and worldly life. If one person makes du'ā' and a group says Āmīn, that is good.

It is reported that al-Ḥasan stated that du'ā' is accepted in fifteen places: in ṭawāf; at the Multazimah; under the Mizāb (waterspout); inside the House [i.e. the Ka'bah]; at the well of Zamzam; on Ṣafā; on Marwā; on the Mas'ā; behind the Maqām of Ibrāhīm; on 'Arafāt; at Muzdalifah; at Minā; and at the three Jamarāt. Anyone who fails to exert himself in du'ā' at these places is deprived [of immense benefits].

The position of ash-Shāfi'ī and the majority of our colleagues is that it is mustaḥabb to recite Qur'ān in ṭawāf, because it is a place and occasion for dhikr and the best dhikr is the recitation of the Qur'ān. Abū 'Abdullāh al-Ḥalīmī—one of the foremost colleagues of ash-Shāfi'ī—chose the position that the recitation of Qur'ān during [ṭawāf] is not mustaḥabb. The correct view is the first-mentioned. Our colleagues state that recitation is better than those da'awāt which have not been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Those da'awāt which have been conveyed from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ are better than recitation, according to the correct view. Others say that recitation is better. Abū Muḥammad al-Juwaynī said: "It is mustaḥabb to recite the entire Qur'ān in ṭawāf during the days of Hajj, and the reward is great." And Allah knows best.

It is mustaḥabb, after finishing ṭawāf and the two rak'ahs of ṣalāh of ṭawāf, to make du'ā' for whatever one wishes. Among the da'awāt which have been transmitted is: O Allah, I am Your servant and the son of two of Your servants. I have come to You with many sins and evil deeds. This is the sanctuary of those who seek protection in You from Hell-Fire, so forgive me. Surely You are the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنَا عَبْدُكَ وَابْنُ عَبْدَيْكَ، أَتَيْتُكَ بِذُنُوبٍ كَثِيرَةٍ وَأَعْمَالٍ سَيِّئَةٍ، وَهَذَا مَقَامُ الْعَائِذِ بِكَ مِنَ النَّارِ فَاعْفُرْ لِي، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْعَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Allāhumma anā 'abduk wa-bnu 'abdayk, ataytuka bi-dhunūbin kathīratin wa a'mālin sayyi'ah, wa hādhā maqāmu-l-'ā'idhi bika mina-n-Nāri fa-ghfir lī, innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḥīm.

DU'Ā' AT THE MULTAZAM, WHICH IS IN BETWEEN THE DOOR OF THE KA'BAH AND THE BLACK STONE

As we said earlier, du'ā' is answered at the Multazam, which is between the door of the Ka'bah and the Black Stone. One of the da'awāt is: O Allah, to You belongs all praise, praise that is commensurate with Your bounties and equal to Your abundance. I praise

You with all of Your praises—those which I know and those which I do not know—for all of Your favours—those which I know and those which I do not know—and under all conditions. O Allah, convey blessings and salutations to Muḥammad and on the family of Muḥammad. O Allah, protect me from Shayṭān the rejected, and protect me from all evil. Make me content with what You have given me as sustenance, and bless me in it. O Allah, make me one of the most noble delegation to You. Make me adhere to the path of steadfastness until I meet You, Lord of the Universe.¹ Then the pilgrim should make du‘ā for whatever he likes.

اَللّٰهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ حَمْدًا يُؤَافِي نِعَمَكَ، وَيُكَافِي مَزِيْدَكَ، اَحْمَدُكَ بِجَمِيْعِ مَحَامِدِكَ
مَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْهَا وَمَا لَمْ اَعْلَمْ، عَلَيَّ جَمِيْعِ نِعَمِكَ مَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْهَا وَمَا لَمْ اَعْلَمْ، وَعَلَيَّ
كُلِّ حَالٍ، اَللّٰهُمَّ صَلِّ وَسَلِّمْ عَلَيَّ مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلَيَّ اٰلِ مُحَمَّدٍ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اَعِزَّنِي مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ
الرَّجِيْمِ، وَاَعِزَّنِي مِنْ كُلِّ سَوْءٍ، وَقَنِّعْنِي بِمَا رَزَقْتَنِي، وَبَارِكْ لِيْ فِيْهِ، اَللّٰهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي
مِنْ اَكْرَمِ وَفِدِكَ عَلَيَّكَ، وَالْزِمْنِي سَبِيْلَ الْاِسْتِقَامَةِ حَتّٰى اَلْقَاكَ يَا رَبَّ الْعَالَمِيْنَ.

Allāhumma laka-l-ḥamdu ḥamdan yuwāfī ni‘amak, wa yukāfī mazīdak. Aḥmaduka bi-jamī‘i maḥāmidika mā ‘alimtu minhā wa mā lam a‘lam, wa ‘alā jamī‘i ni‘amika mā ‘alimtu minhā wa mā lam a‘lam, wa ‘alā kullī ḥāl. Allāhumma ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammadin wa ‘alā āli Muḥammad. Allāhumma a‘idhnī mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-rajīm, wa a‘idhnī min kullī sū’, wa qanni’nī bi-mā razaqtanī wa bārik lī fih. Allāhumma-j‘alnī min akrami wafḍika ‘alayk, wa alzimnī sabīla-l-istiqāmati hattā alqāka yā Rabba-l-‘ālamīn.

DU‘Ā’ IN THE ḤIJR

Al-Ḥijr has a kasrah on the ḥā’ and a sukūn on the jīm, and it is counted as part of the House. We have shown above that du‘ā’ in it is answered. Among the da‘awāt is: O Lord, I have come to You from afar, hoping for Your kindness and grace. Make me attain to enough of Your kindness to make me independent of the kindness of others beside You, O You Who are known for kindness.²

يَا رَبِّ اَتَيْتُكَ مِنْ شِقَّةٍ بَعِيْدَةٍ مُّؤَمَّلًا مَّعْرُوفَكَ فَاَنْلِنِيْ مَّعْرُوفًا مِنْ
مَّعْرُوفِكَ تُغْنِيْنِيْ بِهِ عَنْ مَّعْرُوفٍ مِّنْ سِوَاكَ، يَا مَّعْرُوفًا بِالْمَّعْرُوفِ.

Yā Rabbi ataytuka min shiqqatin ba‘īdatin mu‘ammilan ma‘rūfaka fa-anilnī ma‘rūfan min ma‘rūfika tughnīnī bihi ‘an ma‘rūfi man siwāk, yā Ma‘rūfan bi-l-ma‘rūf.

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (4/391). Ibn Ḥajar stated that he could not find a source for this invocation.

² Al-Futūḥāt (4/393). Ibn Ḥajar mentioned that this hadith was reported in al-Muntaẓim and the Muṭhir al-‘azm of Ibn al-Jawzī, who narrated it from Mālik ibn Dīnār with a weak chain.

We stated earlier that du‘ā’ within the House is answered. We relate in the Book of an-Nasā’i from Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ, who reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the House he went to the wall facing the back of the Ka‘bah and placed his face and cheek on it. He praised Allah ﷻ and extolled Him, appealed to Him and asked Him for forgiveness. Then he turned to one of the corners of the Ka‘bah with takbīr, tahlīl and tasbīh, extolling Allah ﷻ and pleading to Him and begging forgiveness. Then he left.¹

DU‘Ā’ DURING SA‘Y

We have stated earlier that du‘ā’ in sa‘y is answered. It is Sunnah to prolong standing on Ṣafā, to face the Ka‘bah and make takbīr, and to supplicate by saying: Allah is greater, Allah is greater, Allah is greater. To Allah belongs all praise. Allah is greater for what He has guided us to. Praise be to Allah for what He has granted us. There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise. He gives life and causes death; in His hands is all good; and He has power over all things. There is no god but Allah; He fulfilled His promise, assisted His slave and defeated the tribes on His own. There is no god but Allah and we worship none but Him, performing our religion sincerely for Him, even if the disbelievers dislike it. O Allah, You have said: “Call on Me and I will answer your prayers.” You do not break Your promise. I ask You, as You have guided me to Islam, not to strip me of it, so that You cause me to die as a Muslim.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، وَلِلَّهِ الْحَمْدُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ عَلَى مَا هَدَانَا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى
مَا أَوْلَانَا، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، يُحْيِي وَيُمِيتُ،
بِيَدِهِ الْخَيْرُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، أَنْجَزَ وَعْدَهُ، وَنَصَرَ عَبْدَهُ، وَهَزَمَ
الْأَحْزَابَ وَحْدَهُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَلَا نَعْبُدُ إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ، مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ وَلَوْ كَرِهَ الْكَافِرُونَ،
اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّكَ قُلْتَ: ﴿ادْعُونِي أَسْتَجِبْ لَكُمْ﴾، وَإِنَّكَ لَا تَخْلِفُ الْمِيعَادَ، وَإِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ كَمَا
هَدَيْتَنِي لِلْإِسْلَامِ أَنْ لَا تَنْزِعَهُ مِنِّي حَتَّى تَتَوَقَّأَنِي وَأَنَا مُسْلِمٌ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, wa li-llāhi-l-ḥamd. Allāhu akbaru ‘alā mā hadānā, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi ‘alā mā awlānā, lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, yuḥyī wa yumīt, bi-yadihi-l-khayr, wa Huwa ‘alā kulli shay’in qadīr. Lā ilāha illa-llāh, anjaza wa’dah, wa naṣara ‘abdah, wa hazama-l-aḥzāba waḥdah, lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa lā na‘budu illā iyyāh, mukhlīṣīna lahu-d-dīna wa law kariha-l-kāfirūn. Allāhumma innaka qulta:

¹ An-Nasā’i (5/19–20). This hadith is ṣaḥīḥ. See al-Futūḥāt (4/394).

Ud'ūnī astajib lakum, wa innaka lā tukhlifu-l-mī'ād, wa innī as'aluka kamā hadaytanī li-l-Islāmi an lā tanzi'ahu minnī ḥattā tatawaffānī wa anā Muslim.

Then the pilgrim should supplicate for good in this world and the Hereafter. He should repeat this dhikr and du'ā' thrice. He should not say the talbiyah. When he reaches Marwah he should ascend it and say the same dhikr and du'ā' that he said on Ṣafā.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ.

Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar, Allāhu akbar.

We narrated that Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه said while on Ṣafā: "O Allah protect us by Your Dīn and obedience to You and obedience to Your Messenger, may Allah bless him and grant him peace, and avert us from [contravening] Your limits. O Allah, make us love You and love Your angels, and Your Messengers and Prophets, and make us love Your righteous servants. O Allah, make us beloved to You, to Your angels, to Your Messengers and Prophets, and to Your righteous servants. O Allah, make the easy easy for us to attain and ward off from us the difficult. Forgive us in the Hereafter and this world and make us leaders of the God-fearing."¹ اللَّهُمَّ اغْصِنَا بِدِينِكَ وَطَوَاعِيَّتِكَ وَطَوَاعِيَّةِ رَسُولِكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَجَنِّبْنَا حُدُودَكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنَا نُحِبُّكَ وَنُحِبُّ مَلَائِكَتَكَ وَأَنْبِيََاءَكَ وَرُسُلَكَ، وَنُحِبُّ عِبَادَكَ الصَّالِحِينَ، اللَّهُمَّ حَبِّبْنَا إِلَيْكَ، وَإِلَى مَلَائِكَتِكَ، وَإِلَى أَنْبِيَائِكَ وَرُسُلِكَ، وَإِلَى عِبَادِكَ الصَّالِحِينَ، اللَّهُمَّ يَسِّرْنَا لِلْيُسْرَى وَجَنِّبْنَا الْعُسْرَى، وَاغْفِرْ لَنَا فِي الْآخِرَةِ وَالْأُولَى، وَاجْعَلْنَا مِنْ أَيْمَةِ الْمُتَّقِينَ.

Allāhumma-‘ṣimnā bi-dīnika wa ṭawā‘iyatika wa ṭawā‘iyati Rasūlika ṣalla-llāhu ‘alayhi wa sallam, wa jannibnā ḥudūdak. Allāhumma-j’alnā nuḥibbuka wa nuḥibbu malā’ikataka wa Anbiyā’aka wa Rusulak, wa nuḥibbu ‘ibādaka-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn. Allāhumma ḥabbibnā ilayk, wa ilā malā’ikatik, wa ilā Anbiyā’ika wa Rusulik, wa ilā ‘ibādika-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn. Allāhumma yassirnā li-l-yusrā, wa jannibnā-l-‘usrā, wa-ghfir lanā fi-l-ākhirati wa-l-ūlā, wa-j’alnā min a’immatil-muttaqīn.

When going between Ṣafā and Marwah one should say: O my Lord, forgive, have mercy, and pardon that which You know. Truly You are the Most Mighty, the Most Noble. O Allah, grant us good in this world and in the Hereafter, and protect us from the punishment of Hell-Fire.

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (4/400). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is mawqūf ṣaḥīḥ.

رَبِّ اغْفِرْ وَارْحَمْ، تَجَاوَزْ عَمَّا تَعْلَمُ، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْأَعَزُّ الْأَكْرَمُ. اللَّهُمَّ
آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً، وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Rabbi-ghfir wa-rham, tajāwaz 'ammā ta'lam, wa Anta-l-A'azzu-l-Akram. Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah, wa
fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanah, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

Among the da'awāt chosen for sa'y, and for every place, is: O Allah, Turner of hearts, make my heart firm in Your religion. O Allah, I ask You for that which brings Your Mercy, the resolution of Your forgiveness, security from all sin, triumph in Paradise, and deliverance from Hell-Fire. O Allah, I ask of You guidance and piety and modesty and independence. O Allah, assist me in Your remembrance, gratitude to You, and excellent worship of You. O Allah, I ask You of all good—that which I know and that which I do not know. I seek Your protection from all evil—that which I know and that which I do not know. I ask You for Paradise and those words and deeds which draw one close to it. And I seek Your protection from Hell and words and deeds which draw one close to it.

اللَّهُمَّ يَا مُقَلِّبَ الْقُلُوبِ ثَبِّتْ قَلْبِي عَلَى دِينِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مُوجِبَاتِ رَحْمَتِكَ، وَعَزَائِمَ
مَغْفِرَتِكَ، وَالسَّلَامَةَ مِنْ كُلِّ إِثْمٍ، وَالْفَوْزَ بِالْجَنَّةِ، وَالنَّجَاةَ مِنَ النَّارِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ
الْهُدَى وَالتَّقَى وَالْعِفَافَ وَالْغِنَى، اللَّهُمَّ أَعِنِّي عَلَى ذِكْرِكَ وَشُكْرِكَ وَحُسْنِ عِبَادَتِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ
إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مِنَ الْخَيْرِ كُلِّهِ مَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْهُ وَمَا لَمْ أَعْلَمْ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ الشَّرِّ كُلِّهِ مَا عَلِمْتُ
مِنْهُ وَمَا لَمْ أَعْلَمْ، اللَّهُمَّ وَأَسْأَلُكَ الْجَنَّةَ وَمَا قَرَّبَ إِلَيْهَا مِنْ قَوْلٍ أَوْ عَمَلٍ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ
النَّارِ وَمَا قَرَّبَ إِلَيْهَا مِنْ قَوْلٍ أَوْ عَمَلٍ.

Allāhumma yā Muqalliba -l-qulūbi thabbit qalbī 'alā dīnik. Allāhumma innī as'aluka mūjibāti rahmatik, wa 'azā'ima maghfiratik, wa-s-salāmata min kulli ithm, wa-l-fawza bi-l-Jannah, wa-n-najāta mina-n-Nār. Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-hudā wa-t-tuqā wa-l-'afāfa wa-l-ghinā. Allāhumma a'innī 'alā dhikrika wa shukrika wa ḥusni 'ibādatik. Allāhumma innī as'aluka min al-khayri kullihi mā 'alimtu minhu wa mā lam a'lam. Wa a'ūdhu bika mina-sh-sharri kullihi mā
'alimtu minhu wa mā lam a'lam. Wa as'aluka-l-Jannata wa mā qarraba ilayhā min qawlin aw 'amal, wa a'ūdhu bika mina-n-Nāri wa mā qarraba ilayhā min qawlin aw 'amal.

To recite Qur'ān is better. One ought to combine these adhkār and da'awāt with recitation of Qur'ān. If a person can only do one, he should do whichever is the most important.

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCES

THE ADHKĀR WHICH ONE SAYS WHEN LEAVING MAKKAH FOR 'ARAFĀT

It is mustahabb, when leaving Makkah to go to Minā, to say O Allah, for You I hope and on You I call, so make me attain my pious hopes, and forgive me my sins, and bestow on me what You have bestowed on those who obey You. Truly You have power over all things.¹

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِيَّاكَ اَرْجُوْ، وَلَكَ اَدْعُوْ، فَبَلِّغْنِيْ صَالِحَ اَمَلِيْ، وَاغْفِرْ لِيْ ذُنُوْبِيْ. وَامْنُنْ
عَلَيَّ بِمَا مَنَنْتَ عَلَيَّ اَهْلِيْ طَاعَتِكَ، اِنَّكَ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيْرٌ.

*Allāhumma iyyāka arjū, wa laka ad'ū, fa-ballighnī ṣāliḥa amalī, wa-ghfir lī dhunūbī, wa-mnun 'alayya bi-mā mananta
'alā ahli ṭā'atik, innaka 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.*

When setting off from Minā to 'Arafāt one should say: O Allah, to You I turn and Your Noble Countenance I seek; so forgive my sins, accept my pilgrimage, have mercy on me, and do not let me fail; You have power over all things.²

اَللّٰهُمَّ اِلَيْكَ تَوَجَّهْتُ، وَوَجْهَكَ الْكَرِيْمَ اَرَدْتُ، فَاجْعَلْ ذَنْبِيْ مَغْفُوْرًا،
وَحَجِّيْ مَبْرُوْرًا، وَارْحَمْنِيْ وَلَا تُخَيِّبْنِيْ، اِنَّكَ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيْرٌ.

Allāhumma ilayka tawajjaht, wa wajhaka-l-karīma aradt, faj'al dhanbī maghfūrā, wa Hajjī mabrūrā, wa-rḥamnī wa lā tukhayyibnī, innaka 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

One should say the talbiyah, recite the Qur'ān and say a great deal of adhkār, du'ā' and [Allah's] words: O Allah, grant us good in this world and in the Hereafter and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اٰتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً، وَفِي الْاٰخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah, wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanah, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

THE ADHKĀR AND DU'Ā'S THAT ARE MUSTAḤABB AT 'ARAFĀT

We have mentioned, discussing the adhkār of 'Īd, the hadith in which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The best du'ā' is on the Day of 'Arafāt; and the best that I and all the Prophets before me have said is: There is no god but Allah. He is One and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise, and He has power over all things."

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (4/405). Ibn Ḥajar said that he could not find the source for this invocation. However, it is found in al-Manāsik by Abū Ishāq al-Ḥarbī, who did not reference anyone else with regard to it.

² See previous footnote.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-hamd, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

It is mustahabb to say dhikr and du'ā' in abundance, and to exert oneself in this. This is the best day of the year for du'ā' and it is the greatest aspect of the Hajj and its purpose; and it is what [the Hajj] is based on. It is essential that one devote every effort to doing dhikr, making du'ā', reciting Qur'ān, supplicating with various da'awāt and performing a variety of adhkār. The pilgrim should make du'ā' for himself and do dhikr at every place. He should supplicate alone and in a group. He should make du'ā' for himself, his parents, his relatives, his mentors, his companions, friends and loved ones, all those who have treated him well, and all the Muslims. He should be extremely careful not to neglect any of these, because he will not be able to make amends for it, unlike other acts. He should not burden himself with making his du'ā' rhyme, for that would engross his heart and remove his lowliness, self-abasement, neediness, poverty, humility and submission. There is no harm in supplicating with a rhymed du'ā' that one has memorised, as long as one does not distract himself with the encumbrance of its order and grammar.

It is Sunnah to lower the voice in du'ā' and to increase in asking for forgiveness and articulating repentance for all transgressions, coupled with belief in one's heart and persistence and repetition of the du'ā'. The pilgrim should not consider the acceptance and answering of his du'ā' to be slow. He should start and end his du'ā' with praise and exaltation of Allah ﷻ, and asking for peace and blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. He should be careful to face the Ka'bah and to be in a state of ritual purity.

'Alī ؑ reported that the greater part of the du'ā' of the Prophet ﷺ on the Day of 'Arafāt at the Place of Standing was: "O Allah, to You belongs praise like that which we say and better than we can say. O Allah, my ṣalāh, my sacrifice, my life and my death are for you. To You is my return and for You is my legacy. I seek Your protection from punishment in the grave, delusion in the heart, and disunity in my affairs. O Allah, I seek Your protection from the evil of that which the wind brings."¹ اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ كَالَّذِي نَقُولُ، وَخَيْرًا مِمَّا نَقُولُ، اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ صَلَاتِي وَنُسُكِي، وَمَحْيَايَ وَمَمَاتِي، إِلَيْكَ مَأْيِي، وَلَكَ تَرَاثِي، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَوَسْوَاسَةِ الصَّدْرِ، وَشَتَاتِ الْأُمْرِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا تَجِيءُ بِهِ الرِّيحُ.

Allāhumma laka-l-ḥamdu ka-lladhī naqūl, wa khayran mim mā naqūl. Allāhumma laka ṣalātī wa nusukī, wa maḥyāya wa mamātī, ilayka ma'ābī, wa laka turāthī. Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu ¹ Related by at-Tirmidhī (3515), who states that this hadith is gharīb from this route (wajh), and its chain is not strong. The same thing is stated by Ibn Hajar. Al-Futūḥāt (5/6).

bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa waswasati-ṣ-ṣadr, wa shatāti-l-amr, Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min sharri mā taji'u bihi-r-rīh.

It is mustahabb to say the talbiyah many times between repetitions of this, and also to invoke peace and blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and to weep copiously in dhikr and du'a. For it is here [at 'Arafāt] that tears are shed, the absolution of faults is sought and the fulfilment of petitions is expected. It is an immense place and a magnificent gathering. The best of the sincere servants of Allah gather in it, and it is the greatest gathering in the world.

The following are some of the most favoured du'ās:

Allah, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire.

اللَّهُمَّ آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً، وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah, wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanah, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

O Allah, I have wronged myself greatly and none forgives sins but You. So grant me Your forgiveness and have mercy on me. You are the Most Forgiving and the Most Merciful.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي ظُلْمًا كَثِيرًا، وَإِنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ
فَاغْفِرْ لِي مَغْفِرَةً مِنْ عِنْدِكَ، وَارْحَمْنِي إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Allāhumma innī ḡalamtu nafsī ḡulman kathīrā, wa innahū lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Anta fa-ghfir lī maghfiratan min 'indik, wa-rḡamnī. Innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḡīm.

O Allah, give me such forgiveness as will rectify my affairs in both Worlds, and have such mercy on me that I may be gladdened by it in both Worlds. Grant me such sincere repentance that I never go back on it ever. Make me adhere to the path of steadfastness and make me never deviate from it.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي مَغْفِرَةً تُصْلِحُ بِهَا شَأْنِي فِي الدَّارَيْنِ، وَارْحَمْنِي
رَحْمَةً أَسْعِدُ بِهَا فِي الدَّارَيْنِ، وَتُبْ عَلَيَّ تَوْبَةً نَصُوحًا لَا أَنْكُثُهَا
أَبَدًا، وَالْزِمْنِي سَبِيلَ الْإِسْتِقَامَةِ لَا أُزِغُ عَنْهَا أَبَدًا.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī maghfiratan tuṣliḡu bihā sha'nī fi-d-dārayn, wa-rḡamnī raḡmatan as'adu bihā fi-d-dārayn, wa tub 'alayya tawbatan naṣūḡhan lā ankuthuhā abadā, wa-lzimnī sabīla-l-istiḡāmāti lā uzīḡhu 'anhā abadā.

O Allah, take me from the disgrace of sin to the honour of obedience. Make me independent of the unlawful by the lawful; and of disobedience to You by obedience to You; and of all besides You, by Your Grace.

اللَّهُمَّ انْقُلْنِي مِنْ ذُلِّ الْمَعْصِيَةِ إِلَى عِزِّ الطَّاعَةِ، وَأَغْنِنِي بِحَلَالِكَ عَنْ
حَرَامِكَ، وَبِطَاعَتِكَ عَنْ مَعْصِيَتِكَ، وَبِفَضْلِكَ عَمَّنْ سِوَاكَ.

Allāhumma-nqulnī min dhulli-l-ma'ṣiyati ilā 'izzi-ṭ-ṭā'ah, wa aghninī biḥalālīka 'an ḥarāmīk, wa bi-ṭā'atika 'an ma'ṣiyatik, wa bi-fadlīka 'amman siwāk.

Enlighten my heart and my grave, protect me from all evil, and amass for me all goodness.

وَنُورَ قَلْبِي وَقَبْرِي، وَأَعِزَّنِي مِنَ الشَّرِّ كُلِّهِ، وَاجْمَعْ لِي الْخَيْرَ كُلَّهُ.

Wa nawwir qalbī wa qabrī, wa a'idhnī mina-shsharri kullih, wa-jma' liya-l-khayra kullah.

DA'AWĀT THAT ARE MUSTAḤABB WHEN SETTING OUT FROM 'ARAFĀT FOR MUZDALIFAH

As was stated earlier, it is mustaḥabb to say talbiyah at all places in abundance, and this is the most essential place of all. One should recite Qur'ān and make du'ā' as much as possible. It is mustaḥabb to say: There is no god but Allah and Allah is greater and to repeat that and to say: O Allah, it is You Whom I desire and You I hope for, so accept my rituals and grant me ability. Grant me in it better than that which I seek. Do not let me fail. You are Allah, the Most Generous and the Most Gracious.

اللَّهُمَّ إِلَيْكَ أَرْغَبُ، وَإِيَّاكَ أَرْجُو فَتَقَبَّلْ نُسُكِي، وَوَفِّقْنِي فِيهِ
مَنْ الْخَيْرِ أَكْثَرَ مِمَّا أَطْلُبُ، وَلَا تُخَيِّبْنِي إِنَّكَ اللَّهُ الْجَوَادُ الْكَرِيمُ.

Allāhumma ilayka arghab, wa iyyāka arjū fa-taqabbal nusukī, wa waffiqnī, wa-rzuqnī fihi mina-l-khayri akthara mimmā aṭlub, wa lā tukhayyibnī. Innaka-llāhu-l-Jawādu-l-Karīm.

That night is one of the nights of 'Id. We have already mentioned the merit of spending it in dhikr and du'ā'. Combined with the dignity of the night is the dignity of the place; of being in the Holy Sanctuary, in a state of iḥrām and in the company of the pilgrims, and of having performed these tremendous acts of worship and noble supplications in the appointed places.

THE ADHKĀR THAT ARE MUSTAḤABB AT THE HOLY SANCTUARY

Allah ﷻ says: "Then when you pour down from (Mount) 'Arafāt, celebrate the ¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/10). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this hadith was reported by Ibn Khuzaymah from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

praises of Allah at the sacred monument, and celebrate His praises as He has guided you, even though you were indeed astray before.”¹

﴿فَإِذَا أَفْضُتُمْ مِّنْ عَرَفَاتٍ فَادْكُرُوا اللَّهَ عِندَ الْمَشْعَرِ الْحَرَامِ
وَادْكُرُوهُ كَمَا هَدَاكُمْ وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ مِّنْ قَبْلِهِ لَمِنَ الضَّالِّينَ﴾

So it is mustahabb to say du‘ā in abundance at Muzdalifah on that night and to recite talbiyah, adhkār and Qur‘ān, because it is an auspicious night, as we stated in the previous section. Among the da‘awāt mentioned is: O Allah, I ask You to grant me all good at this place, to rectify all my affairs, and to turn away from me all evil, for none does that but You and none bestows that but You.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ أَنْ تَرْزُقَنِي فِي هَذَا الْمَكَانِ جَوَامِعَ الْخَيْرِ كُلِّهِ، وَأَنْ تُصْلِحَ شَأْنِي كُلَّهُ، وَأَنْ تَصْرِفَ عَنِّي الشَّرَّ كُلَّهُ، فَإِنَّهُ لَا تَفْعَلُ ذَلِكَ غَيْرُكَ، وَلَا يَجُودُ بِهِ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma innī as‘aluka an tarzuqanī fī hādha-l-makāni jawāmi‘a-l-khayri kullih, wa an tuṣliha sha’nī kullah, wa an taṣrifa ‘anni-sh-sharra kullah, fa-innahu lā yafalu dhālika ghayruk, wa lā yajūdu bihi illā Ant.

When performing the Ṣubḥ ṣalāh on this day, the pilgrim should perform it at the start of its time and go to great lengths to do it early. Then he should go to the Holy Sanctuary, which is a small mountain at the farthest point of Muzdalifah, called Quzah, with a ḍammah on the qāf and a fathah on the zāy. If he can, he should ascend it; if he cannot, he should stand below it facing the Ka‘bah. He should say takbīr, tahlīl, declare His unity and say tasbīḥ, and recite abundant talbiyah and du‘ā. It is mustahabb to say: O Allah, as You have given us ability and You have made us see it, so give us the ability to remember You as You have guided us. Forgive us and have mercy on us as You have promised us. Your Word is the truth: “Then when you pour down from (Mount) ‘Arafāt, celebrate the praises of Allah at the sacred monument, and celebrate His praises as He has guided you, though you were astray before. Then pass on at a quick pace from the place whence it is usual for the multitude so to do. And ask for Allah’s forgiveness, for Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.”² اللَّهُمَّ كَمَا وَقَفْتَنَا فِيهِ وَأَرَيْتَنَا إِيَّاهُ، فَوَقِّفْنَا لِذِكْرِكَ كَمَا هَدَيْتَنَا، وَاعْفِرْ لَنَا وَارْحَمْنَا كَمَا وَعَدْتَنَا بِقَوْلِكَ وَقَوْلِكَ الْحَقُّ: ﴿فَإِذَا أَفْضُتُمْ مِّنْ عَرَفَاتٍ فَادْكُرُوا اللَّهَ عِندَ الْمَشْعَرِ الْحَرَامِ وَادْكُرُوهُ كَمَا هَدَاكُمْ وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ مِّنْ قَبْلِهِ لَمِنَ الضَّالِّينَ﴾. ثُمَّ أَفِيضُوا مِنْ حَيْثُ أَفَاضَ النَّاسُ وَاسْتَغْفِرُوا اللَّهَ، إِنَّ اللَّهَ غَفُورٌ رَّحِيمٌ.

Allāhumma kamā waqafatnā fihi wa araytanā iyyāh, fa-waffiqnā li-dhikrika

¹ Qur‘ān 2:198.

² Qur‘ān 2:198–199.

kamā hadaytanā, wa-ghfir lanā wa-rḥamnā kamā wa'adtanā bi-qawlika wa qawluka-l-Haqq: Fa-idhā afaḍtum min 'Arafātin fa-dhkuru-llāha 'inda-l-mash'ari-l-ḥarāmi wa-dhkurūhu kamā hadākum wa in kuntum min qablihi la-mina-d-dāllin, thumma afidū min ḥaythu afāda-n-nāsu wa-staghfiru-llāh, inna-llāhu Ghafūru-r-Raḥīm.

One should say repeatedly: "Our Lord, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and spare us the punishment of Hell-Fire."¹

﴿رَبَّنَا آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ﴾

Rabbanā ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanatan wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

It is mustaḥabb to say: O Allah, to You belongs all praise, to You belongs all perfection, to You belongs all grandeur and to You belongs all sanctification. O Allah, forgive me for all the sins I have done in the past and protect me from that which remains. Grant me pious deeds which will make You pleased with me, O Owner of immense bounty.

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدُ كُلُّهُ، وَلَكَ الْكَمَالُ كُلُّهُ، وَلَكَ جَلَالُ كُلُّهُ، وَلَكَ
التَّقْدِيسُ كُلُّهُ، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي جَمِيعَ مَا أَسْلَفْتُهُ، وَاعْصِمْنِي فِيمَا بَقِيَ،
وَارْزُقْنِي عَمَلًا صَالِحًا تَرْضَى بِهِ عَنِّي، يَا ذَا الْفَضْلِ الْعَظِيمِ.

Allāhumma laka-l-ḥamdu kulluh, wa laka-l-kamālu kulluh, wa laka jalālu kulluh, wa laka-t-taqdīsu kulluh. Allāhumma-ghfir lī jamī'a mā aslaftuh, wa'ṣimnī fīmā baqī, wa-rzuqnī 'amalan ṣāliḥan tarḍā bihi 'annī, yā Dhā-l-faḍli-l-'aẓīm.

O Allah, I seek intercession with You through Your chosen servants and I seek access to you by You. I ask You to provide me all good and to bestow on me what You have bestowed on Your friends; and that you correct my condition in the Hereafter and in this world, Most Merciful of those who show mercy.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَتَشَفَّعُ إِلَيْكَ بِخَوَاصِّ عِبَادِكَ، وَأَتَوَسَّلُ بِكَ إِلَيْكَ. وَأَسْأَلُكَ أَنْ
تَرْزُقْنِي جَوَامِعَ الْخَيْرِ كُلِّهِ، وَأَنْ تَمُنَّ عَلَيَّ بِمَا مَنَنْتَ عَلَى أَوْلِيَائِكَ،
وَأَنْ تُصْلِحَ حَالِي فِي الْآخِرَةِ وَالْدُّنْيَا يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

Allāhumma innī atashaffa'u ilayka bi-khawāṣṣi 'ibādik, wa atawassalu bika ilayk, wa as'aluka an tarzuqanī jawāmi'a-l-khayri kullih, wa an tamunna 'alayya bi-mā mananta 'alā awliyā'ik, wa an tuṣliḥa ḥālī fi-l-ākhirati wa-d-dunyā yā Arḥama-r-rāḥimīn.

ADHKĀR WHICH ARE MUSTAḤABB WHEN GOING FROM THE HOLY SANCTUARY TO MINĀ

When the dawn lightens, the pilgrim will set off from the Holy Sanctuary, going towards Minā. The rituals here are talbiyah, dhikr and du‘ā and these should be recited abundantly. One should be zealous about the talbiyah, for these are the last moments for it and he may not be able to do it again in his lifetime.

ADHKĀR WHICH ARE MUSTAḤABB AT MINĀ
ON THE DAY OF THE SACRIFICE

When the pilgrim has set off from the Holy Sanctuary and reached Minā it is mustaḥabb to say: Praise be to Allah, Who has made me reach this place safe and sound. O Allah, this is Minā; I have come to it, and I am Your servant and under Your authority. I ask You to bestow upon me that which You have bestowed upon Your friends. O Allah, I seek Your protection from deprivation and calamity in my religion, Most Merciful of those who show mercy.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي بَلَّغَنِيهَا سَالِمًا مُعَافًى، اَللّٰهُمَّ هَذِهِ مِنِّيْ قَدْ اَتَيْتُهَا وَاَنَا عَبْدُكَ
وَفِيْ قَبْضَتِكَ، اَسْأَلُكَ اَنْ تَمُنَّ عَلَيَّ بِمَا مَنَنْتَ بِهِ عَلٰى اَوْلِيَائِكَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ
اِنِّيْ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْجِرْمَانِ وَالْمُصِيبَةِ فِيْ دِيْنِيْ، يَا اَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِيْنَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī balaghanihā sāliman mu‘āfā. Allāhumma hādhihi Minā qad ataytuhā wa anā ‘abduka wa fī qabḍatik, as‘aluka an tamunna ‘alayya bi-mā mananta bihi ‘alā awliyā’ik. Allāhumma innī a‘ūdhu bika mina-l-ḥirmāni wa-l-muṣibati fī dīnī, yā Arḥama-r-rāḥimīn.

While stoning the jamarat al-‘aqabah, one should stop the talbiyah with the first stone that he throws. He should engage in takbīr and say the takbīr with every stone. It is not Sunnah to stand and make du‘ā. If one has a hady animal with him he should slaughter it by dhabḥ [if a sheep or cattle] or naḥr [if a camel]. It is mustaḥabb to say, when slaughtering: In the name of Allah, Allah is greater. O Allah, convey blessings and salutations to Muḥammad and his family. O Allah, this is from You and for You, so accept it from me. (Or accept it from So-and-so if the sacrifice is for someone else.)

بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ وَاللّٰهُ اَكْبَرُ، اَللّٰهُمَّ صَلِّ عَلٰى مُحَمَّدٍ وَعَلٰى اٰلِهِ
وَسَلِّمْ، اَللّٰهُمَّ مِنْكَ وَاِلَيْكَ، تَقَبَّلْ مِنِّيْ.

Bismi-llāhi wa-llāhu akbar, Allāhumma ṣalli ‘alā Muḥammadin wa ‘alā ālihi wa sallim, Allāhumma minka wa ilayk, taqabbal minnī.

Some of the ‘ulamā’ say that when a man shaves his head after slaughtering [the animal], it is mustahabb for him to hold his own forelock, say takbīr thrice, and say: Praise be to Allah for what He has guided us to, and all praise is due to Allah for what He has favoured us with. O Allah, this is my forelock, so accept it from me and forgive my sins. O Allah, forgive me and those who shave and shorten [their hair], You Who are Vast in forgiveness. O Allah, accept my du'ā.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى مَا هَدَانَا، الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى مَا أَنْعَمَ بِهِ عَلَيْنَا،
اللَّهُمَّ هَذِهِ نَاصِيَّتِي فَتَقَبَّلْ مِنِّي، وَاغْفِرْ لِي ذُنُوبِي، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ
لِي وَلِلْمُحَلِّقِينَ وَالْمُقَصِّرِينَ، يَا وَاسِعَ الْمَغْفِرَةِ. آمِينَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi 'alā mā hadānā, al-ḥamdu li-llāhi 'alā mā an'ama bihi 'alaynā, Allāhumma hādhihi nāṣiyatī fa-taqabbal minnī, wa-ghfir lī dhunūbī. Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa li-lmuḥalliḳīna wa-l-muqaṣṣirīn, yā Wāsi'a-l-maghfirah. Āmīn.

When he has finished shaving, he should say the takbīr and say: Praise be to Allah, Who has completed for us these rituals. O Allah, increase us in faith, certainty, ability and assistance, and forgive us and our fathers and mothers and all the Muslims.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي قَضَىٰ عَنَّا نُسُكًا، اللَّهُمَّ زِدْنَا إِيمَانًا وَيَقِينًا، وَتَوْفِيقًا وَعَوْنًا، وَاغْفِرْ لَنَا وَلِآبَائِنَا وَأُمَّهَاتِنَا وَالْمُسْلِمِينَ أَجْمَعِينَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī qadā 'annā nusukā Allāhumma zidnā īmānan wa yaqīnā, wa tawfīqan wa 'awnā, wa-ghfir lanā wa li-ābā'inā wa ummahātīnā wa-l-Muslimīna ajma'in.

THE ADHKĀR WHICH ARE MUSTAḤABB AT MINĀ ON THE DAYS OF TASHRĪQ

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, from Nubayshah al-Khayr رضي الله عنه who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The Days of Tashrīq are days of eating and drinking and remembrance of Allah."¹ It is mustahabb to do dhikr in abundance, the best of this being the recitation of Qur'ān. It is Sunnah, on the days of stoning, to stand at the first jamarah, facing the Ka'bah, and praise Allah, saying takbīr, tahlīl and tasbīḥ. One should make du'ā with presence of heart, humility, and submission, and one should remain there for as long as it takes to recite Sūrat al-Baqarah. One should do the same at the next, which is al-jamarat al-wuṣṭā, but not stand at the third, which is jamarat al-'aqabah.

¹ Muslim (1141).

ON THE TAKBĪR, THE TAHLĪL AND OTHER THINGS BEING MUSTAḤABB ON THE CONCLUSION OF THE ḤAJJ BY SETTING OFF FROM MINĀ

When the pilgrim sets off from Minā, there remain no adhkār that are specific to Ḥajj, but he is still a traveller. It is mustaḥabb for him to say takbīr, tahlīl, taḥmīd, tamjīd and other adhkār which are mustaḥabb for the traveller. The explanation of this will follow, if Allah wills.

If he enters Makkah intending 'Umrah he should do the same adhkār during his 'Umrah that he would do on the Ḥajj during those rituals that the Ḥajj and 'Umrah have in common, which are iḥrām, ṭawāf, sa'y, sacrifice and shaving the head. And Allah knows best.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN DRINKING ZAMZAM WATER

We relate from Jābir رضي الله عنه, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Zamzam water is for what it is drunk for."¹ Such has been the practice of the 'ulamā' and the virtuous; they drank it for their lofty purposes and achieved them. According to the 'ulamā', it is mustaḥabb for anyone who drinks it for forgiveness, cure from an ailment or any other reason, to say when drinking: O Allah, it has been conveyed to me that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The water of Zamzam is for what it is drunk for." O Allah, I have drunk it so that You may forgive me and that You may do such-and-such for me; so forgive me and do so. Alternatively, one may say: O Allah, I have drunk it seeking a cure, so cure me. And Allah knows best.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّهُ بَلَغَنِي أَنَّ رَسُولَكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ قَالَ: ﴿مَاءُ زَمْزَمَ لِمَا شُرِبَ لَهُ﴾، اللَّهُمَّ وَإِنِّي أَشْرَبُهُ لِتَغْفِرَ لِي وَلِتَفْعَلَ بِي كَذَا وَكَذَا، فَاعْفِرْ لِي وَافْعَلْ.
اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَشْرَبُهُ مُسْتَشْفِيًا بِهِ فَاشْفِنِي.

Allāhumma innahu balaghanī annā Rasūlaka ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallama qāl: "Mā'u Zamzama li-mā shuriba lah", Allāhumma wa innī ashrabuhu li-taghfira lī wa li-taf'ala bī (add appropriate words), fa-ghfir lī wa-fal.

Or:

Allāhumma innī ashrabuhu mustashfiyan bihi fa-shfinī.

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/28). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this hadith is gharīb from this route (wajh), but ḥasan thanks to its supporting narrations.

ON THE ṬAWĀF OF LEAVE-TAKING AND THE DU'Ā' AT THE MULTAZAM

When the pilgrim intends to leave Makkah to return home, he should perform the ṭawāf of greeting, then go to the Multazam and cling to it. Then he should say: O Allah, the House is Your House and this is Your slave and the son of Your male slave and the son of Your female slave. You have conveyed me upon one of Your creatures, which You have subjugated so that You may make me move about in Your land. You have made me arrive, by Your grace, so that I may fulfil Your rituals. If You are pleased with me, be more pleased with me. If not, then [be so] from now on, before my home makes me distant from Your House. This is the time of my departure, if You give me permission—not wishing to substitute You or Your House [for anything else], and not out of aversion to You or Your House. O Allah, accompany me with good health in my body and protection of my religion. Make my return good, and grant me obedience to You for as long as You let me live. Accumulate for me my benefit in the Hereafter and this world. You have power over all things.¹

اَللّٰهُمَّ الْبَيْتُ بَيْتُكَ، وَالْعَبْدُ عَبْدُكَ وَابْنُ عَبْدِكَ وَابْنُ اَمَتِكَ، حَمَلْتَنِيْ عَلٰى مَا سَخَّرْتَ
لِيْ مِنْ خَلْقِكَ، حَتّٰى سَيَّرْتَنِيْ فِيْ بِلَادِكَ، وَبَلَّغْتَنِيْ بِنِعْمَتِكَ حَتّٰى اَعْتَنِيْ عَلٰى قَضَاءِ
مَنَاسِكَكَ، فَاِنْ كُنْتَ رَضِيتَ عَنِّيْ فَارْزُدْ عَنِّيْ رِضًا، وَاِلَّا فَمَنْ اَلَانَ قَبْلَ اَنْ تَنْأٰى عَنِ بَيْتِكَ
دَارِيْ، هَذَا اَوْ اَنْ اَنْصِرَافِيْ اِنْ اُذِنْتَ لِيْ، غَيْرَ مُسْتَبْدِلٍ بِكَ وَلَا بِبَيْتِكَ، وَلَا رَاغِبٍ عَنكَ
وَلَا عَنِ بَيْتِكَ، اَللّٰهُمَّ فَاصْحِبْنِيْ الْعَافِيَةَ فِيْ بَدَنِيْ، وَالْعِصْمَةَ فِيْ دِيْنِيْ، وَاَحْسِنْ مُنْقَلَبِيْ،
وَارْزُقْنِيْ طَاعَتَكَ مَا اُبْقِيْتَنِيْ، وَاجْمَعْ لِيْ خَيْرَ الْاٰخِرَةِ وَالْاٰثِرَةِ، اِنَّكَ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيْرٌ.

Allāhumma-l-Baytu Baytuk, wa-l-'abdu 'abdika wa-bnu 'abdika wa-bna amatik.
Ḥamaltanī 'alā mā sakhkharta lī min khalqika ḥattā sayyartanī fī bilādik, wa balaghtanī bi-ni'matika ḥattā a'antanī 'alā qadā'i manāsikik, fa-in kunta raḍīta
'annī fā-zdad 'annī riḍā, wa illā fa munna-l-āna qabla an tan'ā 'an baytika dārī.
Hādhā awānu-nṣirāfī in adhinta lī, ghayra mustabdilin bika wa lā bi-Baytik, wa lā rāghibin 'anka wa lā 'an Baytik. Allāhumma fa-aṣhibni-l-'āfiyata fī badanī, wal-'iṣmata fī dīnī, wa aḥsin munqalabī, wa-rzuqnī ṭā'ataka mā abqaytanī, wa-jma' lī khayra-l-ākhirati wa-d-dunyā, innaka 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

One should begin and end this du'ā' with the praise of Allah and invoking salutations and blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, as we have stated earlier about other du'ā'. If a woman is menstruating then it is mustahabb for her to stand at the door of the Mosque and to supplicate with this du'ā' before setting off. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/29). Ibn 'Allān states that this ḥadīth was reported by al-Bayhaqī, with a chain from him to ash-Shāfi'i, and that these are the words of ash-Shāfi'i.

VISITING THE GRAVE OF THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH ﷺ, AND THE ADHKĀR RELATED TO IT

Know that it is imperative for every pilgrim to visit the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, whether it is on his way or not, for visiting him is one of the most important acts of drawing near to Allah and the most profitable of endeavours and the best of devotions. So as he goes toward the tomb, he should repeatedly invoke blessings on the Messenger of Allah ﷺ on the way. When his gaze falls upon the trees of Madinah, its Holy Sanctuary, and its landmarks, he should invoke abundant greetings and blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, asking Allah ﷻ to benefit him by the visit and to grant him felicity in both Worlds. He should say: O Allah, open for me the doors of Your Mercy and grant me, by this visit to Your Messenger, what You have granted Your friends and the people who obey You. Forgive me and have mercy on me, O Best of those who are asked of.

اللَّهُمَّ افْتَحْ عَلَيَّ أَبْوَابَ رَحْمَتِكَ وَارْزُقْنِي فِي زِيَارَةِ نَبِيِّكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ
 مَا رَزَقْتَهُ أَوْلِيَائَكَ وَأَهْلَ طَاعَتِكَ، وَاغْفِرْ لِي وَارْحَمْنِي يَا خَيْرَ مُسْئُولٍ.

Allāhumma-ftaḥ 'alayya abwāba raḥmatik, wa-rzuqnī fī ziyāratī Nabīyyika ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallama mā razaqtahu awliyā'aka wa ahla ṭā'atik, wa-ghfir lī wa-rḥamnī yā Khayra mas'ūl.

When a person wants to enter the Mosque, it is mustaḥabb to say what is said upon entering other mosques, and we have already presented that in the beginning of the book. When he has performed the ṣalāh of greeting the Mosque, he should go to the Noble Tomb and face it with his back to the qiblah, standing about four cubits away from the wall of the grave. He should give greetings, without raising his voice, and say: *Peace be upon you, Messenger of Allah; peace be upon you, Best of the Creation of Allah; peace be upon you, Beloved of Allah; peace be upon you, Master of the Messengers and Seal of the Prophets. Peace be upon you, your Family, your Companions, your Household, the Prophets, and all of the pious. I bear witness that you conveyed the Message, that you fulfilled the Trust, and that you advised the Ummah. May Allah give you the finest reward that He has ever given a Prophet on behalf of his Ummah.*¹

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ يَا خَيْرَةَ اللَّهِ مِنْ خَلْقِهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ يَا
 حَبِيبَ اللَّهِ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ يَا سَيِّدَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ وَخَاتَمَ النَّبِيِّينَ، السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ وَعَلَى آلِكَ
 وَأَصْحَابِكَ وَأَهْلِ بَيْتِكَ، وَعَلَى النَّبِيِّينَ وَسَائِرِ الصَّالِحِينَ، أَشْهَدُ أَنَّكَ بَلَغْتَ الرِّسَالَةَ،
 وَأَدَّيْتَ الْأَمَانَةَ، وَنَصَحْتَ الْأُمَّةَ، فَجَزَاكَ اللَّهُ عَنَّا أَفْضَلَ مَا جَزَى رَسُولًا عَنْ أُمَّتِهِ.

As-salāmu 'alayka yā Rasūla-llāh, as-salāmu 'alayka yā Khīrata-llāh min khalqih, ¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/34). Ibn Ḥajar said that part of this hadith was reported from Ibn 'Umar in a mawqūf ṣaḥīḥ report.

as-salāmu 'alayka yā Ḥabība-llāh, as-salāmu 'alayka yā Sayyida-l-Mursalīna wa Khātama-n-Nabiyyīn, as-salāmu 'alayka wa 'alā ālika wa aṣḥābika wa ahli Baytik, wa 'ala-n-Nabiyyīna wa sā'iri-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn. Ashhadu annaka ballaghta-r-risālata wa adayta-l-amānata wa naṣaḥta-l-Ummah, fa-jazāka-llāhu 'annā afdala mā jazā Rasūlan 'an Ummatih.

If anyone has requested the pilgrim to convey greetings to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ he should say: Peace be upon you, Messenger of Allah, from So-and-so. Then he should go back about one cubit to the right and greet Abū Bakr ؓ. Then he should move another cubit to the right and greet 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ. Then he should go back to the first place he stood at and face the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and intercede through him for himself and intercede to his Lord ﷻ and supplicate for himself, his parents, his companions, his loved ones and those who have treated him well, and for all the Muslims. He should try hard to make the du'ā a lengthy one. He should take advantage of this noble place to praise Allah ﷻ and magnify Him, and say There is no god but Allah. He should pray for blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Then he should go to the Rawḍah, which is between the Grave and the Pulpit of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and make du'ā.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "What lies between my Tomb and my Pulpit is one of the gardens of Paradise."¹

When the pilgrim is about to leave Madīnah to go back to his home country it is desirable that he bid farewell to the Mosque with two rak'ahs, and he should supplicate for whatever he likes. Then he should go to the Tomb and greet as he greeted the first time. He should supplicate and bid the Prophet ﷺ farewell, saying: O Allah, do not make this the last time that I visit the Sanctuary of Your Messenger, but grant me an easy way of returning to Your Two Sanctuaries by Your grace and kindness. Grant me forgiveness and well-being in this world and the Hereafter, and return us safely and successfully to our homelands, Āmīn.

اللَّهُمَّ لَا تَجْعَلْ هَذَا آخِرَ الْعَهْدِ بِحَرَمِ رَسُولِكَ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَيَسِّرْ لِي الْعُودَ إِلَى الْحَرَمَيْنِ سَبِيلًا سَهْلَةً بِمَنِّكَ وَفَضْلِكَ، وَارْزُقْنِي الْعَفْوَ وَالْعَافِيَةَ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ، وَرُدَّنَا سَالِمِينَ غَانِمِينَ إِلَى أَوْطَانِنَا. آمِينَ.

Allāhumma lā taj'al hādha ākhira-l-'ahdi bi-ḥarami Rasūlika ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa yassir liya-l-'awda ila-l-Ḥaramayni sabīlan sahlatan bi-mannika wa faḍlik, wa-rzuqni-l-'afwa wa-l-'āfiyata fi-d-dunyā wa-ākhirah, wa ruddanā sālimīna ghānimīna ilā awṭāninā. Āmīn.

These are the last of the da'awāt of Hajj that Allah has given us the ability to compile.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1196), Muslim (1390). Ibn Hajar states that both al-Bukhārī and Muslim report this hadith with the word 'house' instead of 'grave'. Al-Futūḥāt (5/37).

Even though it is long in relation to the length of the book, it is brief in comparison to what we have memorised. We ask Allah, the Noble and Generous, to grant us the ability to obey Him, and to unite us with our brothers in the Abode of Honour.

I have explained this in the chapter on Pilgrimage as well as the full aspects and extra things relating to it; and Allah alone knows the truth. All praise, blessings, success and protection are from Him.

I relate also from 'Utbī, who said: "I was sitting beside the grave of the Prophet ﷺ when a bedouin came and said, "Peace be upon you, O Messenger of Allah. I heard Allah (Most High) say, 'And if only they had come to you when they had wronged themselves and sought forgiveness from Allah, and the Messenger had sought forgiveness for them, they would assuredly have found Allah Oft-Relenting and Merciful.'"

﴿وَلَوْ أَنَّهُمْ إِذْ ظَلَمُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ جَاءُوكَ فَاسْتَغْفَرُوا اللَّهَ
وَاسْتَغْفَرَ لَهُمُ الرَّسُولُ لَوَجَدُوا اللَّهَ تَوَّابًا رَحِيمًا﴾

"I have come to you seeking forgiveness for my sins, seeking my Lord through your intercession," after which he began to recite the following lines of poetry:

O best of those whose bones are buried in the plains,
So that plains and hills became fragrant from their scent.
My self be the ransom for the grave where you lie;
All virtue, giving, and nobility are there.

He said: "Then he turned and my eyes were prompted and I saw the Prophet ﷺ in a vision and he said to me, 'O 'Utbī! meet the bedouin and tell him the good news that Allah (Most High) has forgiven him'".

THE RECOMMENDATION OF ASKING FOR MARTYRDOM

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas ؓ who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to visit Umm Ḥarām ؓ and fell asleep. He woke up and smiled. She said: "What is making you smile, Messenger of Allah?" He said: "Some of the people of my Ummah were shown to me. They were on an expedition in the Way of Allah, riding the back of the sea like kings on thrones (or, like kings).” She said: “Messenger of Allah, pray to Allah to make me one of them.” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ made du‘ā for her.¹ I say that thabaj al-baḥr, with fathah on the thā’ and the bā’ followed by jīm, means ‘[the sea’s] back’: and Umm Ḥarām is written with rā’.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah from Mu‘adh ﷺ who reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: “Whoever asks Allah sincerely and truthfully from the heart to be killed, and then dies or is killed, will have the reward of a martyr.”² At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Anas ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever sincerely seeks martyrdom will be granted it, even if he does not attain it.”³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Sahl ibn Ḥunayf ﷺ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever sincerely asks Allah ﷻ for martyrdom, Allah ﷻ will make him reach the status of the martyrs even if he dies in his bed.”⁴

155

THE IMAM SHOULD ENCOURAGE THE LEADER OF A DELEGATION TO FEAR ALLAH, AND ALSO TEACH HIM WHAT HE NEEDS [TO KNOW] CONCERNING MATTERS OF FIGHTING
THE ENEMY AND ENTERING INTO PACTS WITH THEM

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Buraydah ﷺ who reported that whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ appointed a leader of an army or expedition he advised him to have fear of Allah and to treat those Muslims who were with him well. Then he said: “Strive in the Way of Allah and in the Name of Allah. Do battle with those who reject Allah. Attack but do not be malicious, do not deceive, do not mutilate, and do not kill children. And when you meet your enemy, if they are idolaters, invite them to do three things.”⁵ He then quoted the rest of the hadith.

1 Al-Bukhārī (2788) and Muslim (1912).

2 Abū Dāwūd (2541), at-Tirmidhī (1657), an-Nasā’ī (6/25), and Ibn Mājah (2792). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ṣaḥīḥ.

3 Muslim (1908).

4 Muslim (1909).

5 Muslim (1731).

THE SUNNAH FOR THE IMAM AND THE LEADER OF
THE ARMY TO FEIGN TAKING ANOTHER DIRECTION
WHEN INTENDING TO GO ON AN EXPEDITION

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Ka'b ibn Mālik ؓ who said that whenever the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was about to go on a campaign he feigned something different.¹

THE DU'Ā' FOR THOSE WHO DO BATTLE OR WORK AT ANYTHING THAT HELPS WITH IT; ALSO SAYING THINGS TO INSPIRE PEOPLE AND ROUSE THEM TO BATTLE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "O Prophet, rouse the believers to fight."²

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ حَرِّضِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ عَلَى الْقِتَالِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "And rouse the believers."³

﴿وَحَرِّضِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Anas ؓ, who narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out to the Trench while the Muhājirūn and the Anṣār were digging on a cold morning. When he saw their exhaustion and hunger he said: "O Allah, the true life is the life Hereafter, so forgive the Helpers and the Emigrants."⁴ اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّ الْعَيْشَ عَيْشُ الْآخِرَةِ فَاعْفِرْ لِلْأَنْصَارِ وَالْمُهَاجِرَةِ.

Allāhumma inna-l-'aysha 'ayshu-l-ākhirah, fā-ghfir lil-Anṣārī wa-l-Muhājirah.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3088) and Muslim (2769).

² Qur'ān 8:65.

³ Qur'ān 4:84.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (4099), Muslim (1805), and at-Tirmidhī (3856).

DU‘Ā, HUMILITY, AND TAKBĪR IN BATTLE, AND ASKING ALLAH TO FULFIL HIS PROMISE TO HELP THE BELIEVERS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: “O you who believe, when you encounter an army be firm and call on Allah in remembrance much (and often), that you may prosper. Obey Allah and His Messenger; and fall not into disputes, lest you lose heart and your power depart. Be patient and tenacious, for Allah is with those who patiently persevere. And be not like those who set out from their homes insolently, [only] to be seen by people and to hinder [people] from the Way of Allah.”¹

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا إِذَا لَقِيتُمْ فِئَةً فَاثْبُتُوا وَاذْكُرُوا اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا لَّعَلَّكُمْ تُفْلِحُونَ * وَأَطِيعُوا اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ وَلَا تَنَازَعُوا فَتَفْشَلُوا وَتَذْهَبَ رِيحُكُمْ ۖ وَاصْبِرُوا ۚ إِنَّ اللَّهَ مَعَ الصَّابِرِينَ * وَلَا تَكُونُوا كَالَّذِينَ خَرَجُوا مِنْ دِيَارِهِمْ بَطَرًا وَرِئَاءَ النَّاسِ وَيَصُدُّونَ عَنْ سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ﴾

According to the learned, these verses form the most comprehensive statement on the rules of doing battle.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Ibn ‘Abbās ﷺ, who narrated that while the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was in his tent (at Badr) he said: “O Allah, I implore You by Your pact and promise. O Allah, if You so wish You will not be worshipped after today.”

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَنشُدُكَ عَهْدَكَ وَوَعْدَكَ، اللَّهُمَّ إِن شِئْتَ لَمْ تَعْبُدْ بَعْدَ الْيَوْمِ.

Allāhumma innī anshuduka ‘ahdaka wa wa’dak.

Allāhumma in shi’ta lam tu’bad ba’dā-l-yawm.

Abū Bakr ﷺ took him by the hand and said: “It is enough for you, Messenger of Allah. You have implored your Lord persistently.” He came out reciting: “Soon will their multitude be put to flight, and they will show their backs. No, the Hour (of Judgment) is the time promised them (for their full recompense): and that Hour will be most grievous and most bitter.”² This is the wording of al-Bukhārī’s narration.

﴿سَيُهْزَمُ الْجَمْعُ وَيُوَلُّونَ الدُّبُرَ * بَلِ السَّاعَةُ مَوْعِدُهُمْ وَالسَّاعَةُ أَذْهَى وَأَمْرٌ﴾

As for the wording of Muslim, he says: “The Prophet ﷺ faced the qiblah, then stretched out his hand and raised his voice, supplicating to his Lord: ‘O Allah, fulfil

¹ Qur’ān 8:45-47.

² Qur’ān 54:46.

Your promise to me. O Allah, grant what You have promised me. O Allah, if this small group of the people of Islam is destroyed You will not be worshipped on Earth' and he continued to supplicate his Lord loudly, stretching out his hands so much so that his upper garment fell off." I say: yahtifu with fathah at the beginning and kasrah on the third [consonant] means 'he raised his voice in supplication'.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْجِزْ لِي مَا وَعَدْتَنِي، اللَّهُمَّ آتِ مَا وَعَدْتَنِي، اللَّهُمَّ إِنْ تَهْلِكْ
هَذِهِ الْعِصَابَةَ مِنْ أَهْلِ الْإِسْلَامِ لَا تُعْبَدَ فِي الْأَرْضِ.

Allāhumma anjiz li mā wa'adtanī, Allāhumma āti mā wa'adtanī, Allāhumma in tuhlik hādhihi-l- 'iṣābata min ahli-l-Islāmi lā tu'bad fi-l-arḍ.

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs from 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Awfā ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, on one of the days that he met the enemy, waited until the sun rose, then stood among the people and said: "O people, do not look forward to meeting the enemy, but ask Allah for well-being. When you meet them, be steadfast. And know that Paradise is under the shadow of swords." Then he said: "O Allah, Revealer of the Book, Mover of the clouds, Defeater of the tribes, rout them and convulse them."² اللَّهُمَّ مُنْزِلَ الْكِتَابِ، وَمُجْرِي السَّحَابِ، وَهَازِمَ الْأَحْزَابِ اهْزِمْهُمْ، وَانْصُرْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ.

Allāhumma Munzila-l-Kitāb, wa Mujriya-s-saḥāb, wa Hāzima-l-aḥzāb, ahzimhum wa-nṣurnā 'alayhim.

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs from Anas ؓ, who related that the Prophet ﷺ came to Khaybar at daybreak. When the Jews of Khaybar saw him they said: "Muḥammad and the army!" They took refuge in the fort. The Prophet ﷺ raised his hands and said: "Allah is greater! Khaybar is ruined. 'When we descend in a people's courtyard—how evil will be the morning of those who were warned!'"³⁴ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، خَرِبَتْ خَيْبَرُ، إِنَّا إِذَا نَزَلْنَا بِسَاحَةِ قَوْمٍ فَسَاءَ صَبَاحُ الْمُنْذَرِينَ.

Allāhu akbar, kharibat Khaybar. Innā idhā nazalnā bi-sāḥati qawmin fa-sā'a ṣabāḥu-l-mundharīn.

We relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Sahl ibn Sa'd ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Two supplications are not rejected (or else he said, 'are seldom rejected'): at the time of the call to ṣalāh, and at the time of trepidation when some [people] attack others."⁵ I say that some acceptable texts read yulḥimu with the letter ḥā' and others have it with the letter jīm. Both are well-known.

1 Al-Bukhārī (3953), Muslim (1763), at-Tirmidhī (3081), and Abū Dāwūd (2690), in an abridged form.

2 Al-Bukhārī (3025) and Muslim (1742).

3 An allusion to Qur'ān 37:177 ("When it [punishment] descends in their courtyard—how evil will be the morning of those who were warned!").

4 Al-Bukhārī (371) and Muslim (1365).

5 Abū Dāwūd (2540).

And we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī from Anas ؓ who related that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went into battle he said: "O Allah, You are my Support and my Helper. Through You I defend, through You I attack, and through You I do battle."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ عَضْدِي وَنَصِيرِي، بِكَ أَحُولُ، وَبِكَ أَصُولُ، وَبِكَ أُقَاتِلُ.

Allāhumma Anta 'Aḍudī wa Naṣīrī. Bika aḥūl, wa bika aṣūl, wa bika uqātil.

I say that the meaning of 'Aḍudī is 'my Aid'. According to al-Khaṭṭābī the meaning of aḥūlu is aḥtālu, 'I practise artifice or deception against the [enemy]'.²

We relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ feared [harm from any] people he would say: "O Allah, we make You responsible for their slaughter and we seek Your protection from their evil."³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَجْعَلُكَ فِي نُحُورِهِمْ، وَنَعُوذُكَ مِنْ شُرُورِهِمْ.

Allāhumma innā naj'aluka fī nuḥūrihim, wa na'ūdhuḥa min shūrūruhū.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Amārah ibn Za'karah ؓ who narrated that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Allah ﷻ says: 'My slave—My true slave—is the one who remembers Me [even when] meeting his opponent,'"⁴ meaning at the time of fighting. At-Tirmidhī says that the isnād of this hadith is not strong.

I say that Za'karah is written with a fathah on the zāy and on the kāf and a sukūn on the ayn between them.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ who related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said on the Day of Ḥunayn: "Do not wish to meet the enemy, for you do not know what you will be tried with on their account. When you meet them say: 'O Allah, You are our Lord and their Lord; our hearts and their hearts are in Your hand. Only You can overcome them.'"⁴ اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبُّنَا وَرَبُّهُمْ، وَقُلُوبُنَا وَقُلُوبُهُمْ بِيَدِكَ، وَإِنَّمَا يَغْلِبُهُمْ أَنْتَ.

Allāhumma Anta Rabbunā wa Rabbuhum, wa qulūbunā wa qulūbuhum bi-yadik, wa innamā yaghlibuhum Ant.

We relate in the hadith we mentioned earlier from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Anas ؓ who reported: "We were with the Prophet ﷺ on an expedition and we met the enemy, and I heard him say: 'O Owner of the Day of Judgment, You alone do we

¹ Abū Dāwūd (2632) and at-Tirmidhī (3578).

² Abū Dāwūd (1537).

³ At-Tirmidhī (3575) and al-Futūḥāt (5/62). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan owing to a supporting narration.

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (673).

worship and You alone do we ask for help.' I saw men falling to the ground with angels beating them from the front and behind."¹ يَا مَالِكُ يَوْمَ الدِّينِ إِيَّاكَ نَعْبُدُ وَإِيَّاكَ نَسْتَعِينُ.

Yā Mālīka Yawmi-d-Dīni iyyāka na'budu wa iyyāka nasta'in.

Imam ash-Shāfi'ī related in *al-Umm*² a hadith with a mursal isnād according to which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Look for acceptance of du'ā' when armies meet, after the iqāmah for ṣalāh, and when rain is falling."

I say that it is mustaḥabb to recite what one finds easy from the Qur'ān and to say the du'ā' of difficulty which we have mentioned earlier. Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in moments of difficulty: "There is no god but Allah, the Great, the Clement. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the heavens and Earth and Lord of the Noble Throne."

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْعَظِيمُ الْحَلِيمُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، لَا
إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَرَبُّ الْأَرْضِ وَرَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-'Azīmu-l-Ḥalīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'Azīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu Rabbu-s-samāwāti wa Rabbu-l-arḍi wa Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-Karīm.

One should say what we mentioned earlier in another hadith: There is no god but Allah, the Forbearing, the Noble. Glory be to Allah, Lord of the Seven Heavens and Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but You. He whom You protect becomes mighty; and glorious is Your acclaim.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْحَلِيمُ الْكَرِيمُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ السَّمَاوَاتِ السَّبْعِ
وَرَبِّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، عَزَّ جَارُكَ، وَجَلَّ ثَنَاؤُكَ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Ḥalīmu-l-Karīm. Subḥāna-llāhi Rabbi-s-samāwāti-s-sab'i wa Rabbi-l-'Arshi-l-'azīm. Lā ilāha illā Ant, 'azza jāruk, wa jalla thanā'uk.

One should also say that which we introduced before in another hadith: Allah is sufficient for us and most excellent is He as a Protector.³

حَسْبُنَا اللَّهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيلُ.

Ḥasbuna-llāhu wa ni'ma-l-Wakīl.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (336).

² Al-Umm (1/223).

³ Qur'ān 3:173.

One should also say: There is no power or strength except by Allah. As Allah wills; there is no power except with Allah. We have sought refuge with Allah and we have sought help from Allah. We trust in Allah.

لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَزِيزِ الْحَكِيمِ، مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ، لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا
بِاللَّهِ. اِغْتَصَمْنَا بِاللَّهِ، اسْتَعْنَا بِاللَّهِ، تَوَكَّلْنَا عَلَى اللَّهِ.

Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-'Azīzi-l-Ḥakīm, Mā shā'a-llāh, lā quwwata illā bi-llāh, i'taṣamnā bi-llāh, ista'annā bi-llāh, tawakkalnā 'ala-llāh.

And one says: "I fortify us all by the Ever-Living, the Eternally Self-Sustaining, Who never dies; and I repel evil from us with 'There is no might or power but through Allah the Mighty, the Immense.'"

حَصَّنْتُنَا كُلَّنَا أَجْمَعِينَ بِالْحَيِّ الْقَيُّومِ الَّذِي لَا يَمُوتُ أَبَدًا، وَدَفَعْتُ عَنَّا السُّوءَ بِلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَلِيِّ الْعَظِيمِ.

Ḥaṣṣantunā kullanā ajma'īna bi-l-Ḥayyi-l-Qayyūmi-l-ladhī lā yamūtu abadā, wa dafa'tu 'anna-s-sū'a Bi-Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-'Alīyyi-l-'Azīm.

And one says: "O You Whose Beneficence existed before time began, O You Whose goodness exceeds all other goodness, Owner of this world and the Hereafter, O Living, O Everlasting, O Master of Splendour and Grandeur, You for whom nothing is impossible or too great! Help us against these enemies of ours and others and make us swiftly triumph over them with well-being and general safety."

يَا قَدِيمَ الْإِحْسَانِ، يَا مَنْ إِحْسَانُهُ فَوْقَ كُلِّ إِحْسَانٍ، يَا مَالِكَ الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ، يَا
حَيُّ يَا قَيُّومُ، يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ، يَا مَنْ لَا يُعْجِزُهُ شَيْءٌ وَلَا يَتَعَاظَمُهُ، أَنْصَرْنَا
عَلَى أَعْدَائِنَا هَؤُلَاءِ وَغَيْرِهِمْ، وَأُظْهِرْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ فِي عَافِيَةٍ وَسَلَامَةٍ عَامَّةٍ عَاجِلًا.

Yā Qadīma-l-iḥsān, yā man iḥsānuhu fawqa kulli iḥsān, yā Mālika-d-dunyā wa-l-ākhirah, yā Ḥayyu yā Qayyūm, yā Dha-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrām, yā man lā yu'jizuhu shay'un wa lā yata'āzamuh, unṣurnā 'alā a'dā'inā hā'ulā'i wa ghayrihim, wa aẓhirnā 'alayhim fī 'āfiyatin wa salāmatin 'āmmatin 'ājilā.

All of the above are strongly enjoined, and have been tried and tested.

THE PROHIBITION OF NEEDLESSLY
RAISING THE VOICE IN BATTLE

AND WE RELATE from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd from Qays ibn 'Ubād, a Tābi, may Allah be merciful to him—spelled with a ḍammah on the 'ayn and an undoubled bā'—that the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to dislike it when people raised their voices in battle.¹

SAYING 'I AM SO-AND-SO' IN BATTLE IN ORDER TO TERRIFY THE ENEMY

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said on the Day of Ḥunayn: "I am the Prophet and that is no lie; and I am the son of 'Abd al-Muṭṭalib."²

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Salamah ibn al-Akwa' ﷺ related that when 'Alī ﷺ challenged Marḥabah al-Khaybarī he said: "I am the one whose mother named him Ḥaydar (the Lion)."³

We also relate from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Salamah said, while fighting those who attacked the camels: "I am the son of al-Akwa' and this is the day of destruction."⁴

THE DESIRABILITY OF RECITING POETRY DURING COMBAT

THE HADITHS IN the previous chapter apply [here also].

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that al-Barā' ibn 'Azib ﷺ reported ¹ Abū Dāwūd (2656) and al-Futūḥāt (5/67). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this hadith is also reported from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in a ḥasan hadith reported by Abū Dāwūd.

² Al-Bukhārī (4315) and Muslim (1776).

³ Al-Bukhārī (4196) and Muslim (1802).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (3041) and Muslim (1806).

that a man asked him: "Did you run away from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ on the Day of Hunayn?" Al-Barā' said: "But the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not run away. I saw him on his white mule with Sufyān ibn al-Hārith holding the reins. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was saying:

'I am the Prophet and that is no lie;
and I am the son of 'Abd al-Muttalib.'"¹

In one narration it is, "And he alighted, supplicated and sought help."

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that al-Barā' also said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ moving sand on the Day of the Confederates. Dust had covered the skin of his abdomen. He was saying:

'Had it not been for You, we would not have been guided,
we would not have given charity, or prayed.
Send down peace and tranquillity upon us,
and make our feet firm when we meet the foe.
They have transgressed against us;
when they wanted trouble we refused.'"²

اللَّهُمَّ لَوْلَا أَنْتَ مَا اهْتَدَيْنَا وَلَا تَصَدَّقْنَا وَلَا صَلَّيْنَا
فَأَنْزِلْ سَكِينَةً عَلَيْنَا وَثَبِّتِ الْأَقْدَامَ إِنْ لَاقَيْنَا
إِنَّ الْأَلَى قَدْ بَغَوْا عَلَيْنَا إِذَا أَرَادُوا فِتْنَةً أَبَيْنَا

*Law lā Anta ma-htadaynā wa lā taṣaddaqnā wa lā ṣallaynā.
Fa-anzilan sakīnatan 'alaynā wa thabbiti-l-aqdāma in lāqaynā.
Inna-l-ulā qad baghaw 'alaynā idhā arādū fitnatan abaynā.*

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas reported: "The Muhājirūn and the Anṣār were digging the Trench and carrying the earth on their backs, saying: 'We are the ones who made a pledge with Muḥammad [to stay true to] Islam . . .'" نَحْنُ الَّذِينَ بَايَعُوا مُحَمَّدًا عَلَى الْإِسْلَامِ ...

Naḥnu-lladhīna bāya'ū Muḥammadan 'ala l-Islāmi . . .

Another narration has: ' . . . [to wage] jihād as long as we live.'

... عَلَى الْجِهَادِ مَا بَقِينَا.
... alā-l-jihādi mā baqīnā.

"The Prophet ﷺ replied:

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4317), Muslim (1776), and at-Tirmidhī (1688).

² Al-Bukhārī (4106) and Muslim (1803).

³ Al-Bukhārī (4100), Muslim (1805), and at-Tirmidhī (3856).

'O Allah, there is no good but the good of the Hereafter, so bless the Helpers and the Emigrants.'

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّهُ لَا خَيْرَ إِلَّا خَيْرُ الْآخِرَةِ فَبَارِكْ فِي الْأَنْصَارِ وَالْمُهَاجِرَةِ.

Allāhumma innahu lā khayra illā khayru-l-ākhirah, fa-bārik fi-l-Anṣāri wa-l-Muhājirah.

162

THE DESIRABILITY OF DISPLAYING PATIENCE AND STRENGTH TO A PERSON WHO HAS BEEN WOUNDED

AND ALSO GIVING him glad tidings of what he will attain because of his wounds for the Cause of Allah, and where he will reach because of his martyrdom, and urging him to be happy with that; and showing that there is no harm to him in that, but rather it is our aim and our ultimate hope and quest.

Allah ﷻ says:

"Think not of those who are slain in Allah's cause as dead. Rather, they live, finding their sustenance from their Lord. They rejoice in the bounty provided by Allah; and with regard to those left behind, who have not yet joined them [in their bliss], the [martyrs] glory in the fact that they have no fear, nor have they [cause to] grieve. They rejoice in the grace and the bounty from Allah, and in the fact that Allah suffers not the reward of the believers to be lost—those who answered the call of Allah and the Messenger even after being wounded. For those who do good and are Godfearing there shall be a great reward. Those to whom people said, 'The people have gathered against you, so fear them.' But that merely increased their faith and they said, 'Allah is enough for us and the Best of Guardians.' So they returned with blessings and bounty from Allah and no evil touched them. They pursued the pleasure of Allah. Allah's favour is indeed immense."

﴿وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِينَ قُتِلُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ أَمْوَاتًا بَلْ أَحْيَاءُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُونَ * فَرِحِينَ بِمَا آتَاهُمُ اللَّهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ وَكَسَبَتْهُمْ نَجَاتُهُمْ بِالَّذِينَ لَمْ يَلْحَقُوا بِهِمْ مِنْ خَلْفِهِمْ أَلَّا خَوْفٌ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَا هُمْ يَحْزَنُونَ * يَسْتَبْشِرُونَ بِنِعْمَةِ اللَّهِ وَفَضْلِهِ وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُضِيعُ أَجْرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ *﴾

الَّذِينَ اسْتَجَابُوا لِلَّهِ وَالرَّسُولِ مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا أَصَابَهُمُ الْقَرْحُ لِلَّذِينَ أَحْسَنُوا مِنْهُمْ وَاتَّقُوا
 أَجْرٌ عَظِيمٌ * الَّذِينَ قَالَ لَهُمُ النَّاسُ إِنَّ النَّاسَ قَدْ جَمَعُوا لَكُمْ فَاخْشَوْهُمْ فَزَادَهُمْ إِيمَانًا
 وَقَالُوا حَسْبُنَا اللَّهُ وَنِعْمَ الْوَكِيلُ * فَانْقَلَبُوا بِنِعْمَةٍ مِنَ اللَّهِ وَفَضْلٍ لَمْ يَمَسَّسْهُمْ سُوءٌ وَاتَّبَعُوا
 رِضْوَانَ اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ ذُو فَضْلٍ عَظِيمٍ ﴿

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas رضي الله عنه narrated the hadith about the reciters of the Qur'ān of Bi'r Ma'ūnah whom the disbelievers betrayed and killed. One of the kāfirūn stabbed the uncle of Anas, Ḥarām ibn Milḥān, and pierced him. Ḥarām said: "Allah is greater. I have triumphed by the Lord of the Ka'bah." In Muslim's version it states: "Allah is the Greatest!" I say that Ḥarām has a fathah on the letters ḥā' and rā'.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ، فُزْتُ وَرَبِّ الْكَعْبَةِ.

Allāhu akbar, fuztu wa Rabbi-l-Ka'bah.

163

THE WHAT TO SAY WHEN THE MUSLIMS ARE VICTORIOUS AND DEFEAT THEIR ENEMY

IT IS IMPERATIVE to give thanks to Allah ﷻ and to praise and extol Him, acknowledging that [the victory was] due to His grace and bounty, not our strength or power, and that victory comes from Allah. One should be careful not to be impressed by numbers, because there is a risk that it may weaken [one's resolve]. As Allah ﷻ says: "[Truly Allah did help you on many battlefields] and on the Day of Hunayn, when your numbers elated you, but they availed you naught. So the earth, though wide, did constrain you, and you turned back in retreat."²

﴿لَقَدْ نَصَرَكُمُ اللَّهُ فِي مَوَاطِنَ كَثِيرَةٍ ۖ وَيَوْمَ حُنَيْنٍ ۖ إِذْ أَعْجَبَتْكُمْ كَثْرَتُكُمْ فَلَمْ تُغْنِ عَنْكُمْ شَيْئًا وَضَاقَتْ عَلَيْكُمُ الْأَرْضُ بِمَا رَحُبَتْ ثُمَّ وَلَّيْتُمْ مُدْبِرِينَ﴾

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4092) and Muslim (677).

² Qur'ān 9:25.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN SEEING THE MUSLIMS DEFEATED,
MAY ALLAH THE MOST GENEROUS BE OUR REFUGE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB, upon seeing this, to hasten to do dhikr of Allah ﷻ, beg His forgiveness, supplicate to Him and implore Him to fulfil His promise to the believers to assist them and make their religion prevail. One should supplicate with the du'ā of distress cited above: There is no god but Allah, the Great and the Clement. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the Mighty Throne. There is no god but Allah, Lord of the heavens and the earth, Lord of the Noble Throne.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْعَظِيمُ الْحَلِيمُ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، لَا
إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ رَبُّ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَرَبُّ الْأَرْضِ رَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْكَرِيمِ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-'Azīmu-l-Ḥalīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-'azīm, lā ilāha illa-llāhu Rabbu-s-samāwāti wa Rabbu-l-arḍi Rabbu-l-'Arshi-l-karīm.

It is mustaḥabb to supplicate with du'ā's apart from the above, and the da'awāt which will be narrated in the chapters on fear and destruction. As we have mentioned, when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw the Muslims being defeated he dismounted and asked for help and supplicated. The outcome of this was victory; and "You have in the Messenger of Allah an excellent exemplar".¹

﴿لَقَدْ كَانَ لَكُمْ فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ﷺ narrated: "On the Day of Uḥud, the Muslims were exposed and undefended. My paternal uncle, Anas ibn an-Naḍr, said: 'O Allah, I apologise for what these people are doing [meaning the Companions] and I absolve myself from what these people [the mushrikūn] are doing.' Then he went forward and fought until he was martyred. We found him with more than eighty stab wounds from swords, spears and arrows."²

¹ Qur'ān 33:21.

² Al-Bukhārī (4048), Muslim (1903), and at-Tirmidhī (3198).

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR THE IMAM TO PRAISE THOSE WHO HAVE DISPLAYED SKILL IN BATTLE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Salamah ibn al-Akwa' narrated a long hadith about the disbelievers who attacked the pasture of Madinah and took the she-camels. Salamah and Abū Qatādah went after them. He recounted the rest of the hadith before stating that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Our best horseman today was Abū Qatādah and our best foot soldier was Salamah."¹

WHAT TO SAY UPON RETURNING FROM AN EXPEDITION

THE HADITHS ON this subject will come in the chapter on adhkār for travellers. And success is by Allah.

ISTIKHĀRAH AND CONSULTATION

KNOW THAT IT is mustaḥabb, when contemplating making a journey, to consult those whom one knows to be sincere in their advice and kindness, who are experienced, and whose religion and knowledge one trusts in. Allah ﷻ says: "And consult them on the matter."²

﴿وَشَاوِرْهُمْ فِي الْأَمْرِ﴾

The texts in evidence of this are many. When a person has consulted others and it has become clear to him that there is benefit in the journey, he should seek the guidance of Allah. He should perform two rak'ahs of nāfil ṣalāh and supplicate with the du'ā' of istikhārah mentioned above in the chapter on that subject. The proof for the practice of istikhārah is in the hadith previously mentioned from Ṣaḥīḥ al-Bukhārī. We have already discussed the etiquettes of this du'ā' and the attributes of the ṣalāh. And Allah knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3041) and Muslim (1806).

² Qur'ān 3:159.

168

ADHKĀR TO PERFORM AFTER DECIDING TO TRAVEL

ONCE ONE IS certain about travelling, he should strive to accomplish certain things. He should draw up a will and he should have the will witnessed. He should seek pardon from all those with whom he has had dealings or relationships. He should seek the pleasure of his parents, teachers, and mentors. He should repent to Allah and ask for His forgiveness for all sins and transgressions. He should beseech Allah for His help on the journey.

One should also strive to learn what will be required on the journey. If he is fighting for the Cause of Allah, he should learn what those fighting for the Cause of Allah should know about doing battle, inviting [people to Islam] and things concerning booty, the gravity of defeat in battle, and so on.

If going for Hajj or Umrah, one should learn the relevant rituals and take a book about it with him. Even if one knows the rituals one should still take a book with him, for this is better. Likewise, those fighting for the Cause of Allah, and others, should take along a book which teaches what they need.

If one is a trader, one should learn whatever he requires concerning trade, what is valid and invalid, what is lawful and what is unlawful, what is desirable and what is disliked, what is permissible and what is profitable. If one is a person devoted to the worship of Allah, travelling in order to seclude himself from people, he should learn what he requires about matters of his religion; that is the most essential thing to seek. If one is a hunter, he should learn what hunters need to know: which animals are lawful and which are unlawful; what is lawful and unlawful to hunt; and what it is necessary to slaughter and what is acceptable when killed by a dog or an arrow.

If one is a shepherd, one should learn what we have mentioned about others such as those living in seclusion from other people. One should learn what one needs to know about kindness and compassion for animals, having a pure intention towards them and their owners, and vigilance in protecting them. One should get permission from their owner to slaughter occasionally what one needs.

If one travels as the emissary of one ruler to another, it is essential that he learn the etiquettes of addressing high-ranking people and how to reply to whatever may transpire in conversation. He must learn what is lawful for him by way of hospitality and gifts and what is not. It is imperative that he be heedful of sound advice, make clear what is in his mind, and avoid treachery, deception and hypocrisy. One must be wary of committing treason or other unlawful actions.

If one is an agent or employee involved in loans and suchlike, he must learn what he needs to know about what is permissible to buy and what is not; what is permissible to sell and what is not; and what is permissible to deal in and what is not. He should learn which transactions it is essential and compulsory to have witnesses to and which it is not, and which journeys are permissible and which are not.

It is imperative for all those mentioned above, if they intend to travel across the sea, to learn the conditions under which it is permissible to traverse the sea and those in which it is not. All this is mentioned in books of jurisprudence, and it is not appropriate to delve into a detailed study in this book. My goal is only to explain the specific adhkār. I ask Allah for ability and guidance and a good end for myself, my loved ones, and all the Muslims.

169

ADHKĀR TO SAY WHEN INTENDING TO LEAVE HOME

IT IS MUSTAḤABB, when intending to leave home, to perform two rak'ahs of ṣalāh.

This is based upon the hadith of Muqāṭṭam ibn al-Miqdām, the Companion ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No-one has left his family with anything better than two rak'ahs that he performs among them when he intends to travel." At-Ṭabarānī narrated it.

According to some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, it is mustaḥabb to recite Qul Yā Ayyuha-l-Kāfirūn in the first of these, after al-Fātiḥah, and Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad in the second. Others say that one should recite Qul A'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq in the first, after al-Fātiḥah, and Qul A'ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās in the second. After saying the salām, he should recite the Verse of the Throne. It has been reported that whoever recites the Verse of the Throne before he leaves his home will not be afflicted with anything that he dislikes until he returns.² It is mustaḥabb to recite the chapter Li-ilāfi Quraysh.³ The Imam and eminent master Abū 'l-Ḥasan al-Qazwīnī, the Shāfi'i jurist who had self-evident miracles, and luminous states, and evident gnoses, said that it brings security from all evil. Abū Ṭāhir ibn Jaḥshawī said: "I was about to travel and ¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/105-107). Ibn Ḥajar mentioned that this hadith was reported in at-Ṭabarānī's work al-Manāsik. There is some weakness in its chain but it is raised to the level of ḥasan by other supporting narrations.

² Al-Futūḥāt (5/108). Ibn Ḥajar said he could not find a source for this hadith with this specific wording. However, the meaning of it is mentioned in a gharīb hadith whose chain contains some weakness, which was reported by Ibn as-Sunni, al-Bayhaqī in ash-Shu'ab and Abū ash-Shaykh in Thawāb al-'amal.

³ Qur'ān 106.

I was fearful, so I went to al-Qazwīnī and asked him for a du'ā'. He told me: 'Whoever wants to travel and fears an enemy or loneliness should recite Li-ilāfi Quraysh, for it is security from all evil.' I recited it and no incident has befallen me until now." It is mustahabb, upon completing this recitation, to supplicate with sincerity and grace. The best thing to say is: O Allah, I seek Your help and in You I trust. O Allah, smooth away for me the difficulties of my affair and ease the obstacles in my journey. Grant me more good than I have asked for, and turn away from me all evil. O my Lord, expand my breast, illumine my heart, and make my affair easy. O Allah, I ask You for protection, and I entrust to You myself, my religion, my family and my relatives and all that You have favoured me and them with in this world and the Hereafter. So protect us all from every evil, Most Generous One.

اللَّهُمَّ بِكَ أَسْتَعِينُ وَعَلَيْكَ أَتَوَكَّلُ، اللَّهُمَّ ذَلِّلْ لِي صُعُوبَةَ أَمْرِي، وَسَهِّلْ عَلَيَّ مَشَقَّةَ سَفَرِي،
وَارْزُقْنِي مِنَ الْخَيْرِ أَكْثَرَ مِمَّا أَطْلُبُ، وَاصْرِفْ عَنِّي كُلَّ شَرٍّ، رَبِّ اشْرَحْ صَدْرِي، وَتَوَرِّ
قَلْبِي، وَبَسِّرْ لِي أَمْرِي، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْتَحْفِظُكَ وَأَسْتَوِدُّكَ نَفْسِي وَدِينِي وَأَهْلِي وَأَقَارِبِي
وَكُلَّ مَا أَنْعَمْتَ عَلَيَّ وَعَلَيْهِمْ بِهِ مِنْ آخِرَةِ وَدُنْيَا، فَاحْفَظْنَا أَجْمَعِينَ مِنْ كُلِّ سُوءٍ يَا كَرِيمُ.

Allāhumma bika asta'īnu wa 'alayka atawakkal. Allāhumma dhallil lī šu'ūbata amrī, wa sahhil 'alayya mashaqqata safarī, wa-rzuqnī mina-l-khayri akthara mim mā aṭlub, wa-ṣrif 'annī kulla sharr. Rabbi-shraḥ ṣadrī, wa nawwir qalbī, wa yassir lī amrī, Allāhumma innī astahfizuka wa astawdi'uka nafsī wa dīnī wa ahlī wa aqāribī wa kulla mā an'amta 'alayya wa 'alayhim bihi min ākhiratin wa dunyā, fa-hfaznā ajma'ina min kulli sū'in yā Karīm.

One should begin and end his du'ā' with praise of Allah and invoking blessings and greetings on the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. When one stands up after sitting he should say [the du'ā'] we have related below from Anas ؓ.

We relate that Anas ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was about to go on a journey he said when standing up: "O Allah, to You I turn, and to You I hold fast. O Allah, be my sufficiency for that which preoccupies me and that which does not preoccupy me. O Allah, provide me with fear of You, forgive me my sins, and turn me towards good wherever I may turn."¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِلَيْكَ تَوَجَّهْتُ، وَبِكَ اعْتَصَمْتُ، اللَّهُمَّ اكْفِنِي مَا هَمَّنِي وَمَا لَا أَهْتَمُّ لَهُ،
اللَّهُمَّ زَوِّدْنِي التَّقْوَى، وَاغْفِرْ لِي ذَنْبِي، وَوَجِّهْنِي لِلْخَيْرِ أَيْنَمَا تَوَجَّهْتُ.

Allāhumma ilayka tawajjaht, wa bika-ṭasamt. Allāhumma-kfinī mā hammanī wa mā lā ahtammu lah. Allāhumma zawwidni-t-taqwā, wa-ghfir lī dhanbī, wa wajjihnī li-l-khayri aynamā tawajjaht.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (496) and al-Futūḥāt (5/11). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is gharīb, and goes on to mention certain weaknesses in its chain.

THE ADHKĀR TO PERFORM WHEN LEAVING

WE MENTIONED AT the beginning of this book what one should say on leaving the house. This is mustahabb for the traveller and he should say it as many times as possible. It is mustahabb for him to bid his family, relatives, companions and neighbours farewell. One should request their du'ā' and also make du'ā' for them.

We relate in the Musnad of Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal and elsewhere that Ibn 'Umar ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If Allah is asked to protect anything, He will protect it."¹

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Hurayrah ؓ who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Anyone who is about to travel should say to those whom he leaves behind: I leave you in the care of Allah, Who does not allow anything entrusted to Him to be lost."² أَسْتَوْدِعُكُمُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا تَضِيعُ وَدَائِعُهُ.

Astawdi'ukumu-llāha-lladhī lā taḍī'u wadā'i'uh.

And we relate that Abū Hurayrah ؓ also reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you is about to travel he should bid his brothers farewell, for Allah ﷻ puts benefit [for him] in their du'ā'." The Sunnah is that the one whom you are bidding farewell should say to you the following words, which we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Qaz'ah reported that Ibn 'Umar ؓ said to him: "Come, let me bid you farewell the way the Messenger of Allah ﷺ bade me farewell: I entrust your religion, your trusts and the last of your deeds to Allah."³ أَسْتَوْدِعُ اللَّهَ دِينَكَ وَأَمَانَتَكَ وَخَوَاتِيمَ عَمَلِكَ.

Astawdi'u-llāha dīnaka wa amānataka wa khawātima 'amalik.

According to Imam al-Khaṭṭābī, 'trusts' refer to one's family and those that he leaves behind, and the wealth that is with one's custodian. He said that religion is mentioned here because difficulties are most likely to arise whilst travelling. Sometimes it could cause one to neglect certain religious matters.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Nāfi' reported that Ibn 'Umar ؓ said: "When the Prophet ﷺ bade a man farewell he would take his hand and not release his hand until the man removed it. He said: I entrust your religion, your trusts and the last of your deeds to Allah."⁴

1 Aḥmad (2/82), an-Nasā'ī (509), and al-Futūḥāt (5/113). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (506), an-Nasā'ī (508), and al-Futūḥāt (5/114). Ibn Ḥajar states that this is a ḥasan hadith.

3 Abū Dāwūd (2600) and al-Futūḥāt (5/116). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

4 At-Tirmidhī (3438). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan owing to the supporting narrations for it.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī also that Salīm ؓ reported that Ibn ‘Umar ؓ used to say to people who were about to travel: “Come close to me so that I may bid you farewell as the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to bid us farewell. He said: ‘I entrust your religion, your trust, and the conclusions of your deeds to Allah.’”¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

أَسْتَوْدِعُ اللَّهَ دِينَكَ وَأَمَانَتَكَ وَآخِرَ عَمَلِكَ.

Astawdi‘u-llāha dīnaka wa amānataka wa ākhira ‘amalik.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that ‘Abdullāh ibn Yazīd al-Khatmī, a Companion, ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ bade an army farewell he would say: “I entrust your religion, your trusts and the conclusions of your deeds to Allah.”² أَسْتَوْدِعُ اللَّهَ دِينَكَ وَأَمَانَتَكَ وَخَوَاتِيمَ عَمَلِكَ.

Astawdi‘u-llāha dīnaka wa amānataka wa khawātīma ‘amalik.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Anas ؓ narrated that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: “I am about to go on a journey, so give me provisions.” He said: “May Allah equip you with fear of Allah.”

زَوَّدَكَ اللَّهُ التَّقْوَى.

Zawwadaka-llāhu-t-taqwā.

He said: “Give me more.” He added: “And may He forgive your sins.”

وَعَفَرَ ذَنْبَكَ.

Wa ghafara dhanbak.

He said: “Give me more.” He added: “May Allah make goodness easy for you wherever you are.”³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan.

وَيَسِّرْ لَكَ الْخَيْرَ حَيْثُ مَا كُنْتَ.

Wa yassara laka-l-khayra ḥaythu mā kunt.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3439), Ibn Mājah (2826), and al-Futūḥāt (5/118). This hadith is ḥasan due to its supporting narrations.

² Abū Dāwūd (2601), Ibn as-Sunnī (505), and an-Nasā’ī (507).

³ At-Tirmidhī (3440). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan.

THE DESIRABILITY OF SEEKING ADVICE FROM THE RIGHTEOUS

WE RELATE FROM the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah   related that a man said: "Messenger of Allah, I am about to travel, so give me some advice." The Messenger of Allah   said: "I advise you to have fear of Allah   and to say takbīr on every ascent." When the man turned away he said: "O Allah, shorten the distance for him and make the journey easy for him."¹ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

اَللّٰهُمَّ اطْوِلْهُ الْبُعْدَ وَهَوِّنْ عَلَيْهِ السَّفَرَ.

Allāhumma-ṭwi lahu-l-bu'da wa hawwin 'alayhi-s-safar.

THE DESIRABILITY OF SOMEONE REMAINING BEHIND ASKING A TRAVELLER FOR DU'Ā' AT BLESSED PLACES

THIS APPLIES EVEN if the person who remains behind is of higher standing than the traveller.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb   reported: "I asked the Prophet   for permission to perform 'Umrah. He granted me permission and said: 'Do not forget us, my brother, in your du'ā'.' He said something which was more pleasing to me than owning the world." According to another report he said: "Let us share in your du'ā', my brother."² At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

لَا تَنْسَنَا يَا أَخِي مِنْ دُعَائِكَ.

Lā tansanā yā akhī min du'ā'ik.

أَشْرِكْنَا يَا أَخِي فِي دُعَائِكَ.

Ashriknā yā akhī fī du'ā'ik.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3441), Ibn Mājah (2771), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (2/98), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² Abū Dāwūd (1498) and At-Tirmidhī (3557), who grades it as ḥasan.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN MOUNTING AN ANIMAL

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And He has made for you ships, and cattle on which you ride, in order that you may sit firmly on their backs and remember the favour of your Lord, saying: 'Glory to Him Who has subjected these to us, for we would never be able to do it unaided. And surely to our Lord we shall be returned.'"¹

﴿وَجَعَلَ لَكُم مِّنَ الْفُلْكِ وَالْأَنْعَامِ مَا تَرْكَبُونَ * لِتَسْتَوُوا عَلَى ظُهُورِهِ
ثُمَّ تَذْكُرُوا نِعْمَةَ رَبِّكُمْ إِذَا اسْتَوَيْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ وَتَقُولُوا سُبْحَانَ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ
لَنَا هَذَا وَمَا كُنَّا لَهُ مُقْرِنِينَ * وَإِنَّا إِلَىٰ رَبِّنَا لَمُنْقَلِبُونَ﴾

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī with ṣaḥīḥ isnaḍs, that 'Alī ibn Rabi'ah related that he saw an animal being brought to 'Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib for him to ride. When he put his foot in the stirrup he said: "In the name of Allah." When he straightened up on its back he said: "All praise is due to Allah. Glory be to Him Who has subjected this to us, for we could not have accomplished it, and truly to our Lord are we returning." Then he said: "Praise be to Allah" thrice. Then he said: "Allah is greater" thrice. Then he said: "Glory be to You, I have wronged myself so forgive me. None forgives sins but You." Then he smiled. Someone asked him: "O Leader of the Believers, what makes you smile?" He said: "I saw the Prophet ﷺ do what I did, and then he smiled. I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, what is making you smile?' He replied: 'Your Lord is pleased with His slave when he says "Forgive me my sins", knowing that none forgives sins but Him.'"² The wording of this version is from Abū Dāwūd. According to at-Tirmidhī this hadith is ḥasan. Elsewhere in some versions, it is said to be ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ لَنَا هَذَا وَمَا كُنَّا لَهُ مُقْرِنِينَ، وَإِنَّا إِلَىٰ رَبِّنَا لَمُنْقَلِبُونَ.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ (٣).

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ (٣).

سُبْحَانَكَ إِنِّي ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي فَاغْفِرْ لِي، إِنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

Bismi-llāh.

¹ Qur'ān 43:12-14.

² Abū Dāwūd (2602), at-Tirmidhī (3443), an-Nasā'ī (502), and al-Futūḥāt (5/125). This hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

Kitāb al-Adhkār

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī sakhkhara lanā hādhā wa mā kunnā lahu muqrinīn, wa innā ilā Rabbinā la-munqalibūn.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh (x3).

Allāhu akbar (x3).

Subḥānaka innī ḡalamtu nafsī fa-ghfir lī, innahu lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim (in the Chapter on Ḥajj) that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ straightened up on his camel when setting out on a journey he said: “Allah is greater” thrice. Then he said: “Glory be to Him Who has subjugated this to us, for we could not have accomplished it, and truly to our Lord we are returning. O Allah, we ask You for piety and fear of Allah and deeds with which You will be pleased on this journey of ours. O Allah, make this journey easy for us and fold up for us its distance. O Allah, You are the Companion on the journey and the Deputy among the family. O Allah, I seek Your protection from discomfort on the journey and from a gloomy outlook, and from any evil befalling my wealth or family.” When one returns one should say the same and add: Returning, repenting, worshipping, praising our Lord. The wording is from Muslim’s version.

اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ (۳).

﴿سُبْحَنَ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ لَنَا هَذَا وَمَا كُنَّا لَهُ مُقْرِنِينَ * وَإِنَّا إِلَىٰ رَبِّنَا لَمُنْقَلِبُونَ﴾
 اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَسْأَلُكَ فِي سَفَرِنَا هَذَا الْبِرَّ وَالتَّقْوَىٰ، وَمِنَ الْعَمَلِ مَا تَرْضَىٰ، اللَّهُمَّ هَوِّنْ عَلَيْنَا سَفَرَنَا هَذَا، وَاطْوِ عَنَّا بُعْدَهُ، اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ الصَّاحِبُ فِي السَّفَرِ، وَالْخَلِيفَةُ فِي الْأَهْلِ،
 اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ وَعْثَاءِ السَّفَرِ، وَكَآبَةِ الْمَنْظَرِ وَسُوءِ الْمُنْقَلَبِ فِي الْمَالِ وَالْأَهْلِ.
 آيُونَ تَائِبُونَ عَابِدُونَ، لِرَبِّنَا حَامِدُونَ.

Allāhu akbar (x3).

Subḥāna-lladhī sakhkhara lanā hādhā wa mā kunnā lahu muqrinīn wa innā ilā Rabbinā la-munqalibūn. Allāhumma innā nas'aluka fī safarinā hādhā-l-birra wa-t-taqwā, wa minā-l-'amali mā tarḡā. Allāhumma hawwin 'alaynā safaranā hādhā, wa-ṭwi 'annā bu'dah. Allāhumma Anta-ṣ-Ṣāhibu fī-s-safari wa-l-Khalīfatu fī-l-ahl. Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min wa'thā'i-s-safar, wa ka'ābati-l-manẓari wa sū'i-l-munqalabi fī-l-māli wa-l-ahl.

Ā'ibūna tā'ibūna 'ābidūn, li-Rabbinā ḥamidūn.

Abū Dāwūd's version adds: “The Prophet and his army would say takbīr when they climbed prominences along the road and would say tasbīḥ when they descended.”

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn Sarjis reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went on a journey he would seek protection from the dif-

¹ Muslim (1342) and Abū Dāwūd (2599).

difficulties of the journey, sadness on his return, infidelity after faith, the prayer of the oppressed, and evil befalling his wealth or family.¹

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that 'Abdullāh ibn Sarjis ر.ا reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went on a journey he would say: "O Allah, You are the Companion on the journey and the Deputy among the family. O Allah, I seek Your protection from difficulties on the journey, sadness on returning, infidelity after faith, beseeching You as an oppressed person, and from evil befalling my wealth or family." At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. He says that al-hawr ba'd al-kawr means that he narrated the word al-kawn with the letter nūn and al-kawr with the letter rā'. According to at-Tirmidhī, both versions have variants. It means returning from belief to disbelief or from obedience to disobedience. 'Return' can only mean from one thing to another thing, such as from evil [to good]. These are at-Tirmidhī's words. Other scholars have said the same: that these words with both the letters nūn and rā' mean returning from any place or any deficiency [or failing].

They say that the version with rā' is taken from tying a turban (takwīr al-imāmah) which means coiling and knotting it; and the version with the letter nūn is taken from the verbal noun kawn, which means 'remaining' or 'existing'.

I say that the version with the letter nūn is the most widespread and is the one in most of the sources of Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim, and indeed it is the best known of them.

Al-wa'thā, with fathah on the wāw and sukūn on the 'ayn, means 'difficulty'. The word al-ka'ābah means 'a change in oneself from sadness, and the like, and the word al-munqalab means 'the place of return'.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ الصَّاحِبُ فِي السَّفَرِ، وَالْخَلِيفَةُ فِي الْأَهْلِ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي
أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ وَعْثَاءِ السَّفَرِ وَكَآبَةِ الْمُنْقَلَبِ، وَمِنْ الْخَوْرِ بَعْدَ الْكُونِ،
وَمِنْ دَعْوَةِ الْمَظْلُومِ، وَمِنْ سُوءِ الْمَنْظَرِ فِي الْأَهْلِ وَالْمَالِ.

Allāhumma Anta-ṣ-Ṣāhibu fi-s-safar, wa-l-Khalīfatu fi-l-ahl.
Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min wa'thā'i-s-safar, wa ka'ābati-l-munqalab, wa mina-l-ḥawri ba'da-l-kawn, wa min da'wati-l-mazlūm, wa min sū'i-l-manẓari fi-l-ahli wa-l-māl.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3425), an-Nasā'ī (8/272), and Ibn Mājah (3888).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN BOARDING A SHIP

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "So he said: 'Embark on it. In the name of Allah be its movement and its rest.'"¹

﴿وَقَالَ ارْكَبُوا فِيهَا بِسْمِ اللَّهِ مَجْرَاهَا وَمُرْسَاهَا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And He has made for you ships and mounts on which you ride."

﴿وَجَعَلَ لَكُم مِّنَ الْفُلْكِ وَالْأَنْعَامِ مَا تَرْكَبُونَ﴾

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ḥusayn ibn 'Alī ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The protection from drowning for my Ummah is to say when boarding [a ship]: 'In the name of Allah be its movement and rest. Truly my Lord is Most Forgiving, Most Merciful.'"²

﴿بِسْمِ اللَّهِ مَجْرَاهَا وَمُرْسَاهَا ۚ إِنَّ رَبِّي لَغَفُورٌ رَّحِيمٌ﴾

Bismi-llāhi majrāhā wa mursāhā, inna Rabbī la-Ghafūrur-Raḥīm.

Allah ﷻ says: "No just estimate have they made of Allah as is due to Him: on the Day of Judgment the whole of the earth shall be but a handful to Him, and the heavens shall be rolled up in His right hand. Glorified and Exalted is He above the partners they attribute to him."³ Thus it is in the manuscripts: "When boarding," without mention of, "A ship".

﴿وَمَا قَدَرُوا اللَّهَ حَقَّ قَدْرِهِ ۚ وَالْأَرْضُ جَمِيعاً قَبْضَتُهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ
وَالسَّمَوَاتُ مَطْوِيَّتٌ بِيَمِينِهِ ۚ سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى عَمَّا يُشْرِكُونَ﴾

¹ Qur'ān 11:41.

² Qur'ān 43:12.

³ Qur'ān 39:67.

THE DESIRABILITY OF MAKING DU'Ā WHILST TRAVELLING

WE RELATE FROM the books of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The du'ā of three people is accepted, without any doubt: the du'ā of someone who has been wronged, the du'ā of a traveller, and the du'ā of a father against his son."¹ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan. Abū Dāwūd's version does not have 'against his son'.

THE DESIRABILITY OF A TRAVELLER SAYING TAKBĪR
WHEN ASCENDING A HILL, AND TAḤMĪD AND TASBĪḤ WHEN DESCENDING INTO A VALLEY

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Jābir ؓ narrated: "When we ascended we would say: 'Allah is greater,' and when we descended we would say: 'Glory be to Allah.'"² الله أكبر.

سبحان الله.

Allāhu akbar.

Subḥāna-llāh.

We narrated a hadith from Abū Dāwūd in the chapter on what to say when mounting an animal. According to Ibn 'Umar ؓ, the Prophet ﷺ and his armies used to say takbīr when they ascended and tasbīḥ when they descended.³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ returned from Ḥajj or 'Umrah—the narrator said, "I only know that he said 'a military expedition'"—whenever he climbed a hill or hillock he said takbīr thrice, and then said: "There is no god but Allah, the One Who has no partner."

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1536), at-Tirmidhī (3442), Ibn as-Sunnī (501), Ibn Mājah (3862), and al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad (32). This hadith is graded as ṣaḥīḥ by Ibn Ḥibbān (2406).

² Al-Bukhārī (2993), an-Nasā'ī (541), and Ibn as-Sunnī (517).

³ Abū Dāwūd (2599).

His is the kingdom and His is the praise, and He has power over all things. Returning, repenting, worshipping, prostrating before our Lord, praising. Allah has fulfilled His promise, and given victory to His servant, and routed the confederates by Himself.”¹ This is the wording of al-Bukhārī’s variant. Muslim’s variant is the same except that “I only know that he said a military expedition” is not in it. Instead of that it reads: “when he returned from armies, raiding parties, Hajj or ‘Umrah.”

I say that awfā, ‘climbed’, means irtafa’a, ‘he ascended over’, and fadfad, with a fathah on both fā’s and in between them a dāl with a sukūn and at the end another dāl, means ‘elevated rugged land’; but some say ‘waterless desert in which there is nothing’, and others say ‘elevated rugged land with pebbles’ and yet others say ‘rugged high ground’.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى
كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ، آيُّونَ تَائِبُونَ، عَابِدُونَ سَاجِدُونَ، لِرَبِّنَا حَامِدُونَ،
صَدَقَ اللَّهُ وَعْدَهُ، وَنَصَرَ عَبْدَهُ، وَهَزَمَ الْأَحْزَابَ وَحْدَهُ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharika lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, wa Huwa ‘alā kulli shay’in qadīr. Ā’ibūnā tā’ibūn, ‘ābidūna sājidūn, li-Rabbīnā ḥāmidūn. Ṣadaqa-llāhu wa’dah, wa naṣara ‘abdah, wa hazama-l-aḥzāba waḥdah.

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī ؓ narrated: “We were with the Prophet ﷺ and when we looked down upon a valley we would say ‘There is no god but Allah’ and takbīr, raising our voices.” Then the Prophet ﷺ said: “People, be kind to yourselves, for you are not calling on one who is deaf or who is absent. He is with you, He hears and is near.”²

I say that irba’ū with a bā’ means “be gentle to yourselves”.

We narrated a hadith from at-Tirmidhī in the chapter on the recommendation to seek advice, in which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “You must have fear of Allah and say takbīr on every ascent.”

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ narrated that when the Prophet ﷺ ascended to a high place in the land he would say: “O Allah, to You belongs exaltation over every high place and to You belongs praise in every situation.”³ اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ الشَّرْفُ عَلَى كُلِّ شَرَفٍ، وَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

Allāhumma laka-sh-sharafu ‘alā kulli sharaf, wa laka-l-ḥamdu ‘alā kulli ḥāl.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6385), Muslim (1344), al-Muwatta’a (1/421), Abū Dāwūd (2770), at-Tirmidhī (950), and an-Nasā’ī (540).

² Al-Bukhārī (6384), Muslim (2704), Abū Dāwūd (1527), at-Tirmidhī (3371), and Ibn Mājah (3824).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (523).

THE PROHIBITION OF RAISING THE VOICE
EXAGGERATEDLY IN TAKBĪR AND SUCHLIKE

THE HADITH RELATED by Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ in the previous chapter refers to this.

SETTING A PACE, REVIVING THE SPIRITS, RELAXING, AND MAKING THE JOURNEY EASY FOR OTHER TRAVELLERS

THE HADITHS IN this regard are many and well-known.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE'S ANIMAL RUNS AWAY

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any of you has an animal which runs away in a deserted land he should call out: O slaves of Allah, seize it! O slaves of Allah, seize it! For Allah ﷻ has a blockade that will confine it."¹ يَا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ احْبِسُوا! يَا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ احْبِسُوا!

Yā 'ibāda-llāhi-ḥbisū! Yā 'ibāda-llāhi-ḥbisū!

I say that one of our great and knowledgeable shaykhs related to me that his animal—I think it was a mule—ran away. He knew this hadith and said it, and Allah immediately restrained it for them. On another occasion I was with a group of people when one of their beasts ran away and they were unable to catch it. I said this hadith and it stopped immediately, for no other reason but these words.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (509).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ON A DIFFICULT AND RECALCITRANT ANIMAL

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, a master upon whose greatness, reliable memory, religiosity and scrupulosity there is agreement, that Abū 'Abdullāh Yūnus ibn 'Ubayd ibn Dīnār al-Baṣrī, the famous Tābi, said: "No man who rides on a difficult animal says in its ear: 'Do they seek anything other than the religion of Allah, when all in the heavens and on Earth have, willingly or unwillingly, bowed to His will, and to Him they shall be returned?'¹ without it stopping, by permission of Allah."²

﴿أَفْغَيْرَ دِينِ اللَّهِ يَبْغُونَ وَلَهُوَ أَسْلَمَ مَنْ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضِ طَوْعًا وَكَرْهًا وَإِلَيْهِ يُرْجَعُونَ﴾

A-faghayra dīni-llāhi yabghūna wa lahū aslama man fi-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍi ṭaw'an wa karhan wa ilayhi yurja'un.

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING A VILLAGE WHICH ONE DOES, OR DOES NOT, WISH TO ENTER

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of an-Nasā'ī and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ṣuhayb related that the Prophet ﷺ did not see any village he was about to enter without saying: "O Allah, Lord of the Seven Heavens and all that they give shade to and the Seven Earths and all that they carry; Lord of the demons and those whom they lead astray, and Lord of the winds and all that they blow away. I ask You for the good of this village and the good of its people and the good that is in it. We seek Your protection from its evil and the evil of its people and the evil that is in it."³

اللَّهُمَّ رَبَّ السَّمَاوَاتِ السَّبْعِ وَمَا أَظْلَلْنَ، وَالْأَرْضِينَ السَّبْعِ وَمَا أَقْلَلْنَ،

¹ Qur'an 3:83.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (511) and al-Futūḥāt (5/152). According to Ibn Hajar, this narration is cut off (maqṭū'). The narration from Ibn ad-Dīnār is unknown.

³ An-Nasā'ī (544), Ibn as-Sunnī (525), and al-Futūḥāt (5/154). Ibn Hajar classifies this hadith as ḥasan.

وَرَبَّ الشَّيَاطِينِ وَمَا أَضَلَّلْنِ، وَرَبَّ الرِّيَاحِ وَمَا ذَرَيْنِ أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ هَذِهِ
الْقَرْيَةِ وَخَيْرَ أَهْلِهَا، وَنَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَشَرِّ أَهْلِهَا وَشَرِّ مَا فِيهَا.

Allāhumma Rabba-s-samāwāti-s-sab'i wa mā aḡlalna, wa-l-ardīna-s-sab'i wa mā aqlalna, wa Rabba-sh-shayāṭīni wa mā aḡlalna, wa Rabba-r-riyāḡhi wa mā dharayn. As'aluka khayra hādhihi-l-qaryati wa khayra ahlihā, wa na'ūdhu bika min sharrihā wa sharri ahlihā wa sharri mā fihā.

We relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "When the Messenger of Allah ؐ looked upon a region he was about to enter he would say, 'O Allah, I ask for the good in this and the good You have gathered in it, and I seek refuge from its evil and the evil You have gathered in it. Allah, give us our provision from it, protect us from its diseases, and endear us to its inhabitants, and endear us to the righteous amongst them.'"

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ خَيْرِ هَذِهِ وَخَيْرِ مَا جَمَعْتَ فِيهَا، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ
مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَشَرِّ مَا جَمَعْتَ فِيهَا، اللَّهُمَّ ارْزُقْنَا حَيَاةَا، وَأَعِزَّنَا مِنْ
وَبَاةَا، وَحَبِّبْنَا إِلَى أَهْلِهَا، وَحَبِّبْ صَالِحِي أَهْلِهَا إِلَيْنَا.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka min khayri hādhihi wa khayri mā jama'ta fihā, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihā wa sharri mā jama'ta fihā. Allāhumma-rzuqnā ḡayāhā, wa a'idhnā min wabāhā, wa ḡabbibnā ilā ahlihā, wa ḡabbib ṡāliḡi ahlihā ilaynā.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN APPREHENDING HARM FROM SOME PEOPLE

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī with ṡaḡiḡh isnāds from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ, that when the Messenger of Allah ؐ apprehended harm from people he said: "O Allah, we make You responsible for their slaughter and we seek Your protection from their evil."¹ اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَجْعَلُكَ فِي نُحُورِهِمْ، وَنَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شُرُورِهِمْ.

Allāhumma innā naj'aluka fī nuḡūrihim, wa na'ūdhu bika min shurūrihim.

It is mustaḡabb to supplicate with the du'ā of distress and others that we have already mentioned.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1537).

WHAT TRAVELLERS SHOULD SAY WHEN CONFRONTED BY AN OGRE

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Jābir ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If an ogre confronts you then call the adhān."¹

I say that an ogre is a type of jinn or demon, and they are their magicians. The meaning of taghawwalat, 'confronts', is that it manifests itself in various forms. What is intended is that you should repel its evil with the adhān, because Shayṭān flees when he hears the adhān. We have discussed a similar eventuality in the chapter on what to say if Shayṭān appears to one at the beginning of the Book on adhkār and du'ā's for occasional circumstances (On Occasional Matters); and we mentioned that one ought to occupy oneself by reciting the Qur'ān because of the āyāt mentioned on that subject.

I have also mentioned the words of the 'ulamā' concerning hadiths about ghouls and ogres and their differences respecting them; and I have explained the matter in [my] book Tahdhīb al-asmā' wa-l-lughāt concerning [words and terms] used in the famous books of fiqh. Whoever wishes may have recourse to that.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN DISMOUNTING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim as well as the Muwaṭṭa' of Mālik, and at-Tirmidhī and others that Khawlah bint Ḥākim ؓ reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Whoever dismounts at a place and then says I seek protection in the perfect words of Allah from the evil of what He has created, nothing will harm him until he sets off again from that place."² أَعُوذُ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّاتِ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا خَلَقَ.

A'ūdhu bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmāti min sharri mā khalaq.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ reported: "When the Prophet of Allah ﷺ was travelling he would say, when night was approaching: 'O Earth, my Lord and yours is Allah. I seek protection in Allah from your evil and the evil that is in you, and the evil that has been created in you, and the evil of that which crawls on you. I seek protection in Allah from lions, black things, snakes, scorpions, and the inhabitants of the land, parents and offspring alike.'¹

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (524) and al-Futūḥāt (5/161). According to Ibn Ḥajar, all of the narrators of this hadith are trustworthy; but Ḥasan, who narrates from Jābir, did not hear it from him, according to the majority of scholars.

² Muslim (2708), Malik (2/978), and at-Tirmidhī (3433).

يَا أَرْضُ رَبِّي وَرَبُّكَ اللَّهُ، أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ شَرِّكَ وَشَرِّ مَا فِيكَ، وَشَرِّ مَا
خُلِقَ فِيكَ، وَشَرِّ مَا يَدِبُّ عَلَيْكَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ أَسَدٍ وَأَسْوَدَ، وَمِنْ
الْحَيَّةِ وَالْعَقْرَبِ، وَمِنْ سَاكِنِ الْبَلَدِ، وَمِنْ وَالِدٍ وَمَا وَلَدَ.

*Yā arḍu Rabbī wa Rabbuki-llāh. A'ūdhu bi-llāhi min sharriki wa sharri mā fīk, wa sharri mā khuliqa fīk, wa sharri mā yadibbu 'alayk, wa a'ūdhu bi-llāhi min asadin wa aswad, wa min al-hayyati wa-l-
'aqrab, wa min sākini-l-balad, wa min wālidin wa mā walad.*

Al-Khaṭṭābī said that 'the inhabitants of the land' means the jinns that dwell on and inhabit the earth, as well as the regions of the earth. Creatures have dwellings, even those that have no building or house. He [also] said that 'father' can sometimes mean Iblīs and 'son' can sometimes mean Shayṭān. Those are al-Khaṭṭābī's words.

The word aswad means an individual. Any individual can be called aswad [i.e. they need not be dark-skinned].

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ said: 'Whenever we set out, we used to say tasbīḥ until we halted on our journey'.

185

WHAT TO SAY UPON RETURNING FROM A JOURNEY

IT IS SUNNAH to say what we have mentioned in the hadith related by Ibn 'Umar ؓ, in the chapter on what to say when ascending and descending.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Anas ؓ narrated: "We returned with the Prophet ﷺ, Abū Ṭalḥah and I, and Ṣafiyyah was riding behind him on his she-camel. When we were close to Madīnah he said: 'Returning, repenting, worshipping, praising our Lord.' He continued to say that until we reached Madīnah."²

¹ Abū Dāwūd (2603), an-Nasā'ī (563) in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah, and al-Futūḥāt (5/146). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

² Muslim (1345).

آبُونَ تَائِبُونَ عَابِدُونَ، لِرَبِّنَا حَامِدُونَ.

Ā'ibūna tā'ibūna 'ābidūn, li-Rabbīnā ḥāmidūn.

186

WHAT TRAVELLERS SHOULD SAY AFTER THE ṢALĀH OF ṢUBḤ

KNOW THAT IT is mustaḥabb for travellers to say what others say after the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ, which we have already explained. It is mustaḥabb for them also to say that which we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunni: that Abū Barazah ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed the ṣalāh of Ṣubḥ—the narrator said that he only knew that he said “during a journey”—he raised his voice so that his Companions heard him say: “O Allah, reform for me my religion, which You have made the preservation of my affairs. O Allah, reform for me my worldly life, in which is my livelihood” thrice; “And reform for me my Hereafter, to which You have made my return” thrice; “O Allah, I seek protection in Your pleasure from Your wrath; O Allah, I seek protection in You” thrice; “None can withhold what You grant, and none can grant what You withhold. The might of the mighty does not avail them before You.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ أَصْلِحْ لِي دِينِي الَّذِي جَعَلْتَهُ عِصْمَةً أَمْرِي، اللَّهُمَّ

أَصْلِحْ لِي دُنْيَايَ الَّتِي جَعَلْتَ فِيهَا مَعَاشِي (٣).

اللَّهُمَّ أَصْلِحْ لِي آخِرَتِي الَّتِي جَعَلْتَ إِلَيْهَا مَرْجِعِي (٣).

اللَّهُمَّ أَعُوذُ بِرِضَاكَ مِنْ سَخَطِكَ، اللَّهُمَّ أَعُوذُ بِكَ (٣).

لَا مَانِعَ لِمَا أَعْطَيْتَ، وَلَا مُعْطِيَ لِمَا مَنَعْتَ، وَلَا يَنْفَعُ ذَا الْجَدِّ مِنْكَ الْجَدُّ.

Allāhumma aṣliḥ li dīni-lladhī ja'altahu 'iṣmata amrī, Allāhumma aṣliḥ li dunyāya-llatī ja'alta fihā ma'āshī (x3).

Allāhumma aṣliḥ li ākhirati-llatī ja'alta ilayhā marjī'i (x3).

Allāhumma a'ūdhu bi-riḍāka min sakhaṭik, Allāhumma a'ūdhu bik (x3).

Lā māni'a li-mā a'ṭayt, wa lā mu'ṭiya li-mā mana't, wa lā yanfa'u dha-l-jaddi minka-l-jadd.

¹ Ibn as-Sunni (516).

WHAT TO SAY UPON SIGHTING ONE'S HOMELAND

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say what we mentioned in the hadith from Anas رضي الله عنه in the previous chapter. It is also mustaḥabb to say upon seeing one's homeland: "O Allah, give us stability and good sustenance in it."¹ اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْ لَنَا بِهَا قَرَارًا وَرِزْقًا حَسَنًا.

Allāhumma-j'al la-nā bihā qarāran wa rizqan ḥasanā.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN RETURNING FROM A JOURNEY AND ENTERING ONE'S HOME

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه related that when the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم returned from a journey and went to his family he said: "Turning turning, to our Lord returning, not leaving behind any sin [unforgiven]."² تَوْبًا تَوْبًا، لِرَبِّنَا أَوْبًا، لَا يُغَادِرُ حَوْبًا.

Tawban tawbā, li-Rabbīnā awbā, lā yughādiru ḥawbā.

I say that tawban tawbā is asking for tawbah, 'to turn towards'. It is in the accusative case either by being connected to the implicit [phrases] 'turn to us' (tub 'alaynā tawbā) or 'we ask You for repentance' (nas'aluka tawbā). The word awbā is in the same sense and takes its meaning from the verb āba, meaning 'he returned'. The phrase 'not leaving' means 'not discarding' and the word ḥawbā, meaning 'sin' (ithm), and is written with a fathah on the ḥā or with a ḍammah (hūban).

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (5/175). Imam an-Nawawī does not specify the book of hadiths in which this invocation can be found. It is a ḥasan hadith and is present in the Kitāb ad-Du'ā of aṭ-Ṭabarānī. Ibn Ḥajar mentions a supporting narration for it.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (536). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ṣaḥīḥ.

WHAT TO SAY TO SOMEONE WHO IS RETURNING FROM A JOURNEY

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say: 'Praise be to Allah Who has kept you safe,' or 'Praise be to Allah Who has joined together disunited affairs by means of you,' or suchlike.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي سَلَّمَكَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī sallamak.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي جَمَعَ الشَّملَ بِكَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī jama'a-sh-shamla bik.

Allah ﷻ says: "If you give thanks I will certainly give you increase."¹ The hadith from 'Ā'ishah ؓ in the next chapter refers to this.

﴿لَئِنْ شَكَرْتُمْ لَأَزِيدَنَّكُمْ﴾

WHAT TO SAY TO SOMEONE RETURNING FROM AN EXPEDITION FOR THE CAUSE OF ALLAH

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ had been on an expedition. When he came in I met him and took his hand. I said: 'Praise be to Allah, Who has given you victory, given you might, and conferred honour upon you.'"² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي نَصَرَكَ وَأَعَزَّكَ وَأَكْرَمَكَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī naṣarak wa a'azzaka wa akramak.

¹ Qur'ān 14:7.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (537).

WHAT TO SAY TO SOMEONE WHO IS RETURNING FROM HAJJ

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported: "A young man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: 'I intend to go and perform Hajj.' So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ walked with him and said: 'Young man, may Allah provide you with the fear of Allah, turn you towards good and be your sufficiency for what is important.' Then when he returned he greeted the Prophet ﷺ, who said: 'Young man, may Allah accept your Hajj and forgive your sins and compensate you for your expenditure.'"¹ زَوَّدَكَ اللَّهُ التَّقْوَى، وَوَجَّهَكَ فِي الْخَيْرِ، وَكَفَاكَ الْمُهْمَ.

قَبِلَ اللَّهُ حَجَّكَ، وَغَفَرَ ذَنْبَكَ، وَأَخْلَفَ نَفَقَتَكَ.

*Zawwadaka-llāhu-t-taqwā, wa wajjahaka fi-l-khayr, wa kafāka-l-muhimm.
Qabila-llāhu Hajjak, wa ghafara dhanbak, wa akhlafa nafaqatak.*

And we relate from the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "O Allah, forgive the pilgrim and anyone for whom the pilgrim asks for forgiveness."² According to al-Hākim, this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ according to the criteria of Muslim.

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِلْحَاجِّ، وَلِمَنْ اسْتَغْفَرَ لَهُ الْحَاجُّ.
Allāhumma-ghfir li-l-ḥājj, wa li-mani-staghfara lahu-l-ḥājj.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN FOOD IS BROUGHT

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Ās ؓ related that when food was brought to the Prophet ﷺ he used to say: "O Allah, bless us in that which You have given us as sustenance, and protect us from the punishment of Hell-Fire. In the name of Allah."³

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (538). According to Ibn Hajar this hadith is weak.

² as-Sunan al-kubrā of al-Bayhaqī (5/261). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (459).

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِي مَا رَزَقْتَنَا، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ، بِسْمِ اللَّهِ.

Allāhumma bārik lanā fi-mā razaqtanā, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār. Bismi-llāh.

193

THE DESIRABILITY OF A HOST SAYING 'EAT' AND SIMILAR THINGS TO HIS GUESTS WHEN FOOD IS PRESENTED

know that it is mustahabb for the host to say to his guests upon presenting the food: In the name of Allah!, or Eat!, or aṣ-Ṣalāh!,¹ or other words that clearly express permission to start eating, when food is presented. These words are not wājib: it is sufficient to present the food to them. They may eat simply because the food has been presented, without any specific words. According to some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, the words are essential, but the correct view is the other one. The authentic hadiths about permission for [eating] are interpreted as indicating the desirability [of a verbal invitation].

194

MENTIONING THE NAME OF ALLAH WHEN EATING AND DRINKING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Umar ibn Abī Salamah related: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: 'Mention the name of Allah and eat with your right hand.'"²

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that 'Ā'ishah reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any one of you eats, he should mention the name of Allah at the beginning; and if he forgets to mention Allah at the beginning, he should say: 'In the name of Allah' at the beginning and the end of it."³ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ It is recommended to wash the hands before eating; hand-washing is also sometimes called wuḍū', so saying Ṣalāh! is metonymic since the food also comes after wuḍū'.

² Al-Bukhārī (5376), Muslim (2022), Al-Muwatta' (2/934) Abū Dāwūd (3777), at-Tirmidhī (1858), Ibn Mājah (3267) and an-Nasā'i (278).

³ Abū Dāwūd (3767) and at-Tirmidhī (1859). Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ أَوَّلُهُ وَآخِرُهُ.

Bismi-llāhi awwalahu wa ākhirah.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Jābir ؓ related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: “When a man enters his home and remembers Allah ﷻ on entering and on eating, Shayṭān says: ‘There is no lodging or supper for you.’ If he enters and does not remember Allah ﷻ, Shayṭān says: ‘You have found lodging for the night.’ If he does not remember Allah ﷻ on eating he says: ‘You have found lodging and supper.’”¹

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Anas ؓ narrated a hadith about one of the manifest miracles of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, [which occurred] when Abū Ṭalḥah ؓ and Umm Sulaym ؓ invited him [to eat]. The Prophet ﷺ said: “Give permission for ten.” Permission was granted and they entered. The Prophet ﷺ said: “Eat and mention the name of Allah ﷻ.” They ate until he had done the same for eighty men.²

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ḥudhayfah ؓ narrated: “When we partook of food with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ we did not lay our hands on it until the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had put his hand on it. Once, we partook of food with him and a young girl came as if pushed forward. She started to put her hand in the food, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took her hand [away]. Then a Bedouin came as if pushed forward, and he [the Messenger of Allah ﷺ] took his hand [away]. Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘Shayṭān makes food lawful for himself if the name of Allah is not mentioned on it. He brought this young girl to make the food lawful [for himself], but I took hold of her hand. Then he brought this Bedouin to make the food lawful [for himself], but I took his hand. I swear by the One Who holds my life in His hands that [Shayṭān’s] hand is in my hand with their hands.’ Then he mentioned the name of Allah and ate.”³

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā’ī that Umayyah ibn Makhshī, a Companion, ؓ said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was sitting while a man was eating. He did not mention the name of Allah until just one morsel of his food remained. When he raised it to his mouth he said: ‘In the name of Allah at the beginning and the end of it.’ The Messenger of Allah ﷺ smiled then said: ‘Shayṭān kept on eating with him, but when he mentioned the name of Allah, Shayṭān threw up what was in his belly.’”

I say: Makhshī has fathah on the letter mīm with no vowel on the khā, kasrah on the letter shīn, and a doubled yā. This hadith suggests that the Prophet ﷺ did not know until the end that the man had not remembered the name of Allah, for if he had known he would not have refrained from telling him to mention Allah.⁴

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that ‘Ā’ishah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was once eating food with six of his Companions when a Bedouin came

1 Muslim (2018) and Abū Dāwūd (3765).

2 Muslim (2040).

3 Muslim (2017), Abū Dāwūd (3766), an-Nasā’ī (273), and Ibn as-Sunnī (460).

4 Abū Dāwūd (3768), an-Nasā’ī (282), Aḥmad (4/336), and al-Ḥākim (4/108), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees.

and ate it in two morsels. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If he had mentioned [Allah], it would have been enough for you all."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate from Jābir رضي الله عنه, from the Prophet ﷺ who said: "Whoever forgets to make remembrance of Allah while eating, let him recite, 'Say, He is Allah, One' when he finishes".

I say that the 'ulamā' agree as to the desirability of mentioning the name of Allah when beginning to eat. If one leaves it out at the beginning, intentionally, unintentionally or because of coercion or some other impediment and then he is able to do it while eating, it is mustaḥabb for him to mention the name of Allah. This is because of the hadith mentioned earlier. One should say In the name of Allah at the beginning and the end of it as is narrated in the hadith. Invoking the name of Allah when drinking water, milk, honey, soup or other drinks is as desirable as when eating. The 'ulamā' say that it is mustaḥabb to mention the name of Allah aloud, so that it may be a reminder for others to say the name and in order that one may be imitated in doing so. And Allah knows best.

IN CONCLUSION: SOME RULINGS RELATING TO MENTIONING THE NAME OF ALLAH OVER FOOD

The most important thing to know about the tasmiyah,² and the amount that is adequate, is that the best thing is to say: In the name of Allah, the Beneficent, the Merciful. If one says In the name of Allah, that will suffice, and he will have fulfilled the Sunnah. This applies even if that person is in a state of major ritual impurity, menstruating, or suchlike. All those who eat should remember Allah. And I have mentioned that in my Kitāb at-Ṭabaqāt, in the biographical notice of ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him. It resembles the greeting of salām and responding to a person who sneezes, in the sense that if one of a group remembers Allah it suffices for the rest.

NOT FINDING FAULT WITH FOOD

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ never found fault with food. If he had an appetite for it he ate it, and if he disliked it he left it.³ Another version of Muslim states: "And if he had no appetite for it, he remained silent".

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1859).

² Tasmiyah means saying the name of Allah.

³ Al-Bukhārī (5409), Muslim (2064), Abū Dāwūd (3764), and at-Tirmidhī (2032).

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from Ḥulb رضي الله عنه, a Companion, who said: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ being asked by a man [who said] 'there are foods that I refrain from'". [The Prophet ﷺ] said: "Do not let something become agitated in your breast by which you will resemble Christianity."

I say that the [name] Ḥulb is written with a ḍammah on the letter ḥā' and no vowel on the letter lām and with a bā'.

The word yataḥallajanna is written with ḥā' before the lām, followed by the letter jīm. This is how it is spelt by al-Harawī, al-Khaṭṭābī and the majority of the imams, and that is how we spell it in our sources of listening to the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others with a ḥā'. Abū as-Sa'ādāt Ibn al-Athīr also reports the same with a ḥā'. He adds that it is also narrated with the letter khā', but they both have the same meaning.

According to al-Khaṭṭābī, it means 'do not let him fall into doubt about it'. He said that its origin is from the word al-ḥalj, which means 'movement and confusion', and from which comes [the expression] 'carding cotton'. He also says that the phrase 'you will resemble Christianity' means 'you will come close to resembling it'. Mudāra'ah means to come close in resemblance.

196

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF SAYING 'I DO NOT HAVE AN APPETITE FOR THIS FOOD' OR 'I DO NOT ORDINARILY EAT IT' AND THE LIKE IF NECESSARY

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Khālīd ibn al-Walīd رضي الله عنه reported that a roasted lizard was presented to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and his hand moved towards it. [Those present] said: "It is a lizard, Messenger of Allah." He raised his hand. Khālīd asked: "Is the lizard ḥarām?" He said: "No, but this was not found in the land of my people, so I find it off-putting."¹

197

PRAISING THE FOOD THAT ONE EATS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Jābir رضي الله عنه reported that the Prophet ﷺ once asked his family for condiment to eat with bread. They said: "We have nothing but vinegar." He called for it and started to eat some of it. He said: "Vinegar is a wonderful condiment, vinegar is a wonderful condiment."¹

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5391), Muslim (1945), al-Muwattaʿa (2/978), Abū Dāwūd (3793), and an-Nasāʾī (7/198-199).

198

WHAT TO SAY WHEN PRESENT AT A MEAL AND ONE IS FASTING, IN THE CASE WHEN ONE DOES NOT BREAK HIS FAST

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any of you is invited [to eat] he should accept. If he is fasting he should supplicate [for his host] and if he is not fasting he should eat."²

The 'ulamā' say that the meaning of fa-l-yuṣalli is that he should make a supplication.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī as well as others that he رضي الله عنه said: "If he is not fasting he should eat, and if he is fasting he should pray for blessings upon it."³

199

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE IS INVITED FOR A MEAL AND OTHERS FOLLOW

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd رضي الله عنه narrated that a man invited the Prophet ﷺ for a meal which he had prepared. He ﷺ was the fifth of five [people to be invited]. A man followed them. When he came to the door, the Prophet ﷺ said: "This man followed us. Give him permission if you wish; otherwise he will go back." He said: "I give him permission, Messenger of Allah."⁴

¹ Muslim (2052), Abū Dāwūd (3820), at-Tirmidhī (1840), and an-Nasā'ī (7/14).

² Muslim (1431), Abū Dāwūd (3742), and at-Tirmidhī (781).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (410) and an-Nasā'ī (300).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5343), Muslim (2036), and at-Tirmidhī (1099).

HOW TO ADMONISH AND INSTRUCT SOMEONE WHO ERRS WHEN EATING

WE RELATE FROM the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Umar ibn Abī Salamah رضي الله عنه reported: “I was a young boy in the care of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. My hand used to stray in the plate. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to me: ‘Boy, mention the name of Allah, eat with your right hand, and eat from what is in front of you.’”¹ According to a report in the Ṣaḥīḥ he said: “One day I ate with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and I started to eat from the sides of the plate, so the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: ‘Eat from what is in front of you.’” I say that taṭīshu, with a kasrah on the ṭā’ and then after that a yā’ with a sukūn, means to move about and to stretch over to the sides of the plate instead of confining oneself to one place.

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jabalah ibn Suḥaym said: “We were afflicted by a year of famine in the company of Ibn az-Zubayr. Then we were provided with dates. ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه passed by us while we were eating, and said: ‘Do not take two [dates] at once, for the Prophet ﷺ prohibited the taking of two [dates] together.’ Then he said: ‘Unless a man asks permission from his brother.’”² His words lā tuqārinū, ‘do not take two at once’, mean ‘let not a man eat two dates in one mouthful’.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Salamah ibn al-Akwa’ رضي الله عنه reported that a man once ate with his left hand in the company of the Prophet ﷺ. He said: “Eat with your right hand.”³ [The man] said: “I cannot.” [The Prophet ﷺ] said: “You will not be able to.”⁴ Nothing had prevented him but pride.⁵ He never lifted [his right hand] to his mouth again.⁶ This man was Busr—with a ḍammah on the bā’ and with sīn—ibn Rā’i al-‘Ayr—with a yā’ and a fathah on the ‘ayn—and he was a Companion. I have explained his circumstances and the explanation of this hadith in the Sharḥ Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim. And Allah knows best.

1 Al-Bukhārī (5376) and Muslim (2022).

2 Al-Bukhārī (2455), Muslim (2045), Abū Dāwūd (3834), and at-Tirmidhī (1815).

3 The instruction to eat with his right hand is proof of having to encourage good and prohibit evil, even while eating.

4 This is proof of the permissibility of cursing one who contravenes a religious ruling without an excuse.

5 According to al-Qāḍī ‘Iyāḍ, this is evidence that he was a hypocrite. The author states that pride and disobedience alone do not entail hypocrisy, but they are sins. Eating with the left hand is prohibited if there is no excuse for doing so. If there is something that prevents a person from eating with his right hand, such as sickness, a wound, or anything else, then it is not makrūh for them to eat with the left hand.

6 Muslim (2021).

THE DESIRABILITY OF TALKING WHILST EATING

ON THIS SUBJECT is the hadith of Jābir which we have already cited, in the chapter on praising food. Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī said in al-Iḥyā', "Part of the etiquette of eating is to speak about good things while eating, and to talk about the stories of righteous people concerning food and other things."

WHAT SOMEONE WHO EATS WITHOUT BECOMING SATIATED SHOULD SAY AND DO

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah that Waḥshī ibn Ḥarb  narrated that the Companions of the Messenger of Allah  said: "Messenger of Allah, we eat but we are not satisfied." He  said: "Perhaps you are eating separately." "Yes," they replied. He said: "Then come together for your meals and remember the name of Allah on your food, and you will be blessed in it."¹

WHAT TO SAY WHEN EATING WITH SOMEONE WHO HAS A BODILY DEFECT

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Jābir  reported that the Messenger of Allah  took the hand of a leper and put it in the plate with him, and said: "Eat: In the name of Allah, trusting in Allah and relying entirely on Him."²

¹ Abū Dāwūd (3764) and Ibn Mājah (3286). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan owing to its supporting narrations.

² Abū Dāwūd (3925), at-Tirmidhī (1818), Ibn Mājah (3542), and al-Futūḥāt (5/216). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ ثِقَةً بِاللَّهِ وَتَوَكُّلاً عَلَيْهِ.

Bismi-llāhi thiqatan bi-llāhi wa tawakkulan 'alayh.

204

THE DESIRABILITY OF A HOST SAYING 'EAT' TO HIS GUESTS AND OTHERS WHEN THEY LIFT THEIR HANDS FROM THE FOOD AND SAYING IT REPEATEDLY UNTIL HE HAS ASCERTAINED THAT THEY HAVE HAD ENOUGH; AND THAT OF DOING THE SAME WITH DRINK, PERFUME, ETC.

KNOW THAT THIS is mustahabb, so much so that it is mustahabb for a man with his wife and other dependants who he suspects have lifted their hands while they still need to eat, even only a little. Here is some of the evidence for this.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated a long hadith which includes manifest miracles of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Once when Abū Hurayrah ؓ was extremely hungry he sat in the street requesting those who passed by him to recite the Qur'ān to him, hoping that they would invite him [to a meal]. Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ sent him to the People of the Ṣuffah and he made them all drink their fill from a single goblet [of milk]. He recounted the hadith until he said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: 'Only I and you remain.' I said: 'You have spoken the truth, Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'Sit and drink.' So I sat and drank. He said: 'Drink.' And I drank. He continued to say: 'Drink' until I said: 'No, by Him Who has sent you with the truth, I cannot find any room for it.' He said: 'Let me see it.' I gave him the goblet, and he praised Allah and mentioned His name and drank the remaining milk."¹

205

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE HAS FINISHED EATING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from Abū Umāmah ؓ that when the Prophet ﷺ removed his table [because people had finished eating] he would recite:²

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6452).

² We omit the translation at this point since in the author's explanation which follows there are several possible interpretations.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا طَيِّبًا، مُبَارَكًا فِيهِ، غَيْرُ مَكْفِيٍّ وَلَا مُوَدَّعٍ، وَلَا مُسْتَغْنَى عَنْهُ، رَبَّنَا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīran ṭayyibā, mubārakan fih, ghayra makfiyyin wa lā muwadda', wa lā mustaghnan 'anh, Rabbanā.

Another version states that when he had finished his meal—and he once said it while removing his table, "Praise belongs to Allah Who has sufficed us and slaked our thirst unsufficed and unrejected."

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي كَفَانَا وَأَرْوَانَا، غَيْرُ مَكْفِيٍّ وَلَا مَكْفُورٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī kafānā wa arwānā, ghayra makfiyyin wa lā makfūr.

I say: makfiyy, with fathah on the letter mīm and with a doubled yā', is the correct and clear narration. Most narrators narrate it with the hamzah, but this is incorrect in the Arabic language, whether it is derived from [the words] kifāyah 'sufficiency' or kafa'tu-l-inā', 'I overturned the vessel'. In the same way, one cannot say maqrī' for maqrū' from qirā'ah, nor marmī' for the word marmiyy, both with hamzah.

The author of Maṭāli' al-anwār, in his explanation of the hadith, says that all of this statement is concerned with food; and that is what the pronoun refers to.

According to al-Ḥarbī, makfiyy means a vessel that is upturned because there is no need for it, as he said 'not free of need for it', or because of the lack of it. And the words 'not shown ingratitude' means not denying the blessings of Allah ﷻ in it but showing gratitude, not withholding acknowledgement of them and praise for them.

Al-Khaṭṭābī holds the view that what is intended by all of this du'ā' is the Maker ﷻ and so the pronoun refers back to Him; and that ghayr makfiyy means that He feeds but is not fed—an interpretation apparently based on the root meaning of kifāyah, 'sufficiency'. Others have also held to this explanation of the hadith, i.e. that Allah has no need of any helper or assistant. According to al-Khaṭṭābī the meaning of lā muwadda' is 'not discarding seeking from Him nor the desire for Him'; and this also has the meaning of [not] being free of Him.

Rabbanā is in the naṣb (accusative) case according to this, in the sense of singling out and praise, or in the vocative [O our Lord]: it is as if he was saying, 'O our Lord, hear our praise and our du'ā''. Those who put it in the raf' (nominative) case (Rabbunā) isolate it and make it a predicate, which is how al-Aṣīlī restricted it, as if one were saying, 'That is our Lord', or 'You are our Lord'. It is also sound to use kasrah [Rabbīnā] in apposition for the Name in the words, 'Praise belongs to Allah . . . [our Lord]'.

Abū as-Sa'ādāt Ibn al-Athīr mentions in Nihāyat al-gharīb something similar to this difference of opinion in summary form: "If one puts 'our Lord' in the nominative case (Rabbunā), then it is as a subject delayed to the end, meaning: 'Our Lord is not sufficed and not taken leave of. . .', making ghayru in the nominative case as well." He also says: "The statement can also refer back to the word 'praise' (al-ḥamd) as if one were to say: ' . . . much praise, that is not sufficient, or taken leave of, or free from any need of this praise'".

[Ibn al-Athīr] adds: "And not taken leave of (muwadda') means 'without leaving obedience'; it is said that this is from the word al-wadā' (farewell), to which it refers. And Allah knows best."

And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ loves it when His servant eats food and praises Him for it, and when he drinks and praises Him for it."¹

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and the books al-Jāmi' and ash-Shamā'il of at-Tirmidhī, that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ narrated that when the Prophet ﷺ finished eating he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who has fed us and given us to drink and made us Muslims."² الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَطْعَمَنَا وَسَقَانَا وَجَعَلَنَا مُسْلِمِينَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī aṭ'amanā wa saqānā wa ja'alanā Muslimīn.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Abū Ayyūb Khālīd ibn Zayd al-Anṣārī ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ate and drank he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who has provided [food and drink], made it easy to swallow, and made a way out for it."³ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَطْعَمَ وَسَقَى، وَسَوَّغَهُ وَجَعَلَ لَهُ مَخْرَجًا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī aṭ'ama wa saqā, wa sawwaghahu wa ja'ala lahu makhrajā.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Mu'adh ibn Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever eats food and says: Praise be to Allah, Who has fed me this and provided me with it without any power and might from me, his past sins will be forgiven."⁴ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَطْعَمَنِي هَذَا وَرَزَقَنِيهِ مِنْ غَيْرِ حَوْلٍ مِنِّي وَلَا قُوَّةَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī aṭ'amanī hādhā wa razaqanīhi min ghayri ḥawlin minnī wa lā quwwah.

We relate in the Sunans of an-Nasā'ī and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with a ḥasan isnād, that 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Jubayr the Tābi'ī stated that a man who served the Prophet ﷺ for eight years told him that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say, when food was brought to him: "In the name of Allah," and when he had finished: "O Allah, You have fed and given to drink, You have freed from need, and You have relieved us, guided us, and revived us. So to You be all praise for what You have granted."⁵

1 Muslim (2734).

2 Abū Dāwūd (3850), at-Tirmidhī (3453), and Ibn Mājah (3283). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ḥasan.

3 Abū Dāwūd (3851) and An-Nasā'ī (285). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

4 Abū Dāwūd (4023), at-Tirmidhī (3454), and Ibn Mājah (3285).

5 Ibn as-Sunnī (466). Ibn Ḥajar grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

اللَّهُمَّ أَطْعَمْتَ وَأَسْقَيْتَ، وَأَغْنَيْتَ وَأَقْنَيْتَ، وَهَدَيْتَ وَأَحْيَيْتَ فَلَكَ الْحَمْدُ عَلَى مَا أَعْطَيْتَ.

Allāhumma aṭ'amta wa asqayt, wa aghnayta wa aqnayt, wa hadayta wa ahyayt, fa-laka-l-ḥamdu 'alā mā a'ṭayt.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ reported that the Prophet ﷺ used to say when he finished his food: "Praise be to Allah, Who has favoured and guided us and satisfied our hunger and our thirst, and bestowed every kindness upon us."¹ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي مَنَّ عَلَيْنَا وَهَدَانَا، وَالَّذِي أَشْبَعَنَا وَأَوْرَانَا، وَكُلَّ الْإِحْسَانِ آتَانَا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī manna 'alaynā wa hadānā, walladhī ashba'anā wa awrānā, wa kulla-l-iḥsāni ātānā.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī as well as the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Ibn 'Abbās reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any one of you eats food"—and in a narration by Ibn as-Sunnī "If Allah gives any one of you food"—"he should say: O Allah, bless us in it and give us better than it to eat. And anyone to whom Allah gives milk to drink should say: Allah, bless us in it and increase it for us; for there is nothing but milk that suffices both as a food and a drink in satiating hunger."² At-Tirmidhī endorsed this hadith as ḥasan.

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيهِ وَأَطْعِمْنَا خَيْرًا مِنْهُ.

Allāhumma bārik lanā fihi wa aṭ'imnā khayran minh.

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِيهِ وَزِدْنَا مِنْهُ.

Allāhumma bārik lanā fihi wa zidnā minh.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with a weak isnād, that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ drank from a vessel he would take three breaths [afterwards]; he praised Allah with every breath and thanked Him at the end.³

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (467). Ibn Hajar cites some other narrations which strengthen this hadith.

² Abū Dāwūd (3730), at-Tirmidhī (3451), Ibn as-Sunnī (475), and an-Nasā'ī (286).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (472).

THE DU‘Ā’ OF INVITEES AND GUESTS FOR THEIR HOST WHEN THEY HAVE FINISHED EATING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn Busr ؓ—with a ḍammah on the bā’ and a sukūn on the sin—a Companion, narrated: “The Messenger of Allah ؐ came as a guest to my father. We brought him food and a waterskin with milk and he ate from it. Then he was brought dates, and he ate one of them, placed the date-stone between his fingers, and put his index and middle fingers together.” Shu‘bah said, “It is my opinion that what this signifies, if Allah, exalted is He, wills, is placing the date-stone between the two fingers.” “Then he was brought a drink and he drank. After that he passed it to the person on his right. My father said: ‘Pray for us.’ He ؐ said: ‘O Allah, bless them in what You have provided for them, and forgive them and have mercy on them.’”¹

I say: al-waṭbah, with a faṭḥah on the letter wāw and with a sukūn on the letter ṭā’, followed by bā’, means a leather bag that contains milk.

اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَهُمْ فِيْمَا رَزَقْتَهُمْ، وَاغْفِرْ لَهُمْ فَاَرْحَمُهُمْ.

Allāhumma bārik lahum fīmā razaqtahum, wa-ghfir lahum fa-rḥamhum.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and other sources, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Anas ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ؐ came to Sa’d ibn ‘Ubādah ؓ. He brought some bread and oil and he ate. Then the Prophet ؐ said: “May those who fast break their fast with you, may the pious eat your food, and may the angels pray for you.”² أَفْطَرَ عِنْدَكُمْ الصَّائِمُونَ، وَأَكَلَ طَعَامَكُمْ الْأَبْرَارُ، وَصَلَّتْ عَلَيْكُمُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ.

Aftara ‘indakumu-ṣ-ṣā’imūn, wa akala ṭa‘āmakumu-l-abrār, wa ṣallat ‘alaykumu-l-malā’ikah.

We relate in the Sunan of Ibn Mājah that ‘Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ broke his fast together with Sa’d ibn Mu‘ādh ؓ and said: “May those who fast break their fast with you.”³ أَفْطَرَ عِنْدَكُمْ الصَّائِمُونَ...

Aftara ‘indakumu-ṣ-ṣā’imūn...

¹ Muslim (2042), Abū Dāwūd (3729), at-Tirmidhī (3571), and an-Nasā’ī (291) in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah.

² Abū Dāwūd (3854).

³ Ibn Mājah (1747).

I say that these are two separate events that occurred, with Sa'd ibn 'Ubādah and with Sa'd ibn Mu'ādh.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that a man reported that Jābir رضي الله عنه said: "Abū al-Haytham ibn at-Tayyihān made some food for the Prophet ﷺ. He invited the Prophet ﷺ and his Companions. When they had finished, [the Prophet ﷺ] said: 'Repay and reward your brother.' 'O Messenger of Allah, what is his reward?' they asked. He replied: 'When a man's house is entered, his food eaten, his drink is drunk, and then they make du'ā for him, that is his reward and repayment.'"¹

207

MAKING DU'Ā' FOR SOMEBODY WHO GIVES ONE WATER OR MILK TO DRINK

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Miqdād رضي الله عنه, in a long and well-known hadith, narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ lifted his head to the heavens and said: "O Allah, feed the one who has fed me and give to drink the one who has given me to drink."² اللَّهُمَّ أَطْعِمْ مَنْ أَطْعَمَنِي، وَاسْقِ مَنْ سَقَانِي.

Allāhumma aṭ'im man aṭ'amanī, wa-sqi man saqānī.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Amr ibn al-Ḥamiq رضي الله عنه narrated that he gave the Messenger of Allah ﷺ milk to drink and he said: "O Allah, grant that he continue to enjoy his youth." He ['Amr] lived for eighty years without seeing any white hairs.³

اللَّهُمَّ أَمْتِعْهُ بِشَبَابِهِ.

Allāhumma amti'hu bi-shabābih.

I say that al-Ḥamiq has a fathah on the ḥā' and a kasrah on the mīm.

We relate in the same source that 'Amr ibn al-Akḥṭab رضي الله عنه—with a khā' and a fathah on the ḥā'—reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked for water and I brought him a wooden vessel in which was a hair, which I took out. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said:

¹ Abū Dāwūd (3853) and al-Futūḥāt (5/248). Ibn Ḥajar states that the chain for this hadith is weak, but that it has supporting narrations which strengthen it.

² Muslim (2055).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (476) and al-Futūḥāt (5/255). Ibn Ḥajar states that the chain for this hadith is weak; however, it has two supporting narrations which are reported by aṭ-Ṭabarānī and Ibn as-Sunnī.

'O Allah, make him handsome.'" The narrator said: "I saw him at the age of ninety-three, and his hair and beard were black."¹

اللَّهُمَّ جَمِّلْهُ

Allāhumma jammilh.

I say that jumjumah, with two jims both with ḍammah and in between them a mīm with a sukūn, is a wooden vessel. Its plural is jamājim, after which Dayr al-Jamājim is named—that being the place in Iraq where the battle between Ibn al-Ash'ath and al-Hajjāj took place—because they used to make wooden vessels there. Some have said it was named thus because it was built from the wooden vessels of the slain because of the great number of those killed.

208

DU'Ā' AND ENCOURAGEMENT FOR SOMEONE WHO ENTERTAINS A GUEST

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked him for hospitality, but he did not have anything to offer him hospitality with. He said: "Who will be hospitable to this man? May Allah have mercy on him." A man from the Anṣār stood up and took the man with him. He recounted the rest of the hadith.²

209

PRAISE FOR SOMEONE WHO ENTERTAINS A GUEST

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: "I am in need." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ sent for one of his wives, but she said: "By Him Who has sent you with the truth, I do not have anything but water." He sent for another and she said the same, until all of them had said the same. [The Prophet ﷺ] asked: "Who will entertain this man tonight, and Allah will have mercy on him?" One of the Anṣār

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (478). This hadith is ḥasan. See al-Futūḥāt (5/255).

² Al-Bukhārī (3798) and Muslim (2053).

stood up and said: "I, Messenger of Allah." He went with him to his house and asked his wife: "Do you have anything?" She replied: "No, except for the children's food." He said: "Put the children to sleep with something, and when our guest enters put out the lamp and make it appear to him as if we are eating. When he sits down to eat then go and get the lamp and extinguish it." They sat down, and the guest ate. When he got up in the morning he went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, who said: "Allah was pleased with what the two of you did for your guest. Allah ﷻ revealed this verse: 'They give others preference over themselves, even though poverty be their own lot.'"¹

﴿وَيُؤْتُونَ عَلَىٰ أَنفُسِهِمْ وَلَوْ كَانَ بِهِمْ خَصَاصَةٌ﴾

I say: "This is taken to mean that the children did not have a crucial need for the food, because normally children will demand food, even if they are not hungry, when they see others eat. It also means that the man and woman gave preference to their guest. And Allah knows best."

210

THE DESIRABILITY OF WELCOMING GUESTS AND PRAISING ALLAH FOR HAVING FOUND A GUEST TO ENTERTAIN; ALSO, BEING HAPPY AND EXTOLLING HIM FOR ENABLING ONE TO DO THIS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, through many chains, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ and Shurayḥ al-Khuzā'ī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should honour his guest."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out one day—or one night—and he came across Abū Bakr ؓ and 'Umar ؓ. He said: "What brings you out at this hour?" They said: "Hunger, Messenger of Allah." He said: "By Allah, I have been brought out by the same thing as brought you out. Stand up." They got up and came to a man from the Anṣār. He was not at home. When his wife saw him she said: "Welcome." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked her: "Where is So-and-so?" She replied: "He went to bring us fresh water." The Anṣārī man then came, and he saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and his two Companions. Then he said: "All praise to Allah! No one has a more honourable guest today than I". Then he recounted the complete hadith.³

¹ Qur'ān 59:9. Al-Bukhārī (3798), and Muslim (2053).

² Al-Bukhārī (6018) and Muslim (47).

³ Muslim (2038).

WHAT TO SAY AFTER EATING

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah   reported that the Messenger of Allah   said: "Digest your food with dhikr of Allah and with ṣalāh; and do not sleep on it lest your hearts become hard."¹

Allah   says: "Then when you enter houses, greet each other—a greeting from Allah of blessing and goodness."²

﴿فَإِذَا دَخَلْتُمْ بُيُوتًا فَسَلِّمُوا عَلَى أَنْفُسِكُمْ تَحِيَّةٌ مِّنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ مُبَرَكَةٌ طَيِّبَةٌ﴾

Allah   says: "When a greeting is offered to you, respond with a better greeting, or return the same."³

﴿وَإِذَا حُيِّتُمْ بِتَحِيَّةٍ فَحَيُّوا بِأَحْسَنَ مِنْهَا أَوْ رُدُّوهَا﴾

Allah   says: "Do not enter houses other than your own, until you have asked permission and greeted those in them."⁴

﴿لَا تَدْخُلُوا بُيُوتًا غَيْرَ بُيُوتِكُمْ حَتَّى تَسْتَأْذِنُوا وَتُسَلِّمُوا عَلَى أَهْلِهَا﴾

Allah   says: "And when the children among you come of age, let them [also] ask for permission, as did those before them."⁵

﴿وَإِذَا بَلَغَ الْأَطْفَالُ مِنْكُمُ الْحُلُمَ فَلْيَسْتَأْذِنُوا كَمَا اسْتَأْذَنَ الَّذِينَ مِن قَبْلِهِمْ﴾

Allah   says: "Has the story reached you of the honoured guests of Ibrāhīm? They entered his presence, and said: 'Peace!' He replied, 'Peace!'"⁶

﴿هَلْ أَتَاكَ حَدِيثُ ضَيْفِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ الْمُكْرَمِينَ﴾ * إِذْ

دَخَلُوا عَلَيْهِ فَقَالُوا سَلَامًا ۖ قَالَ سَلَامٌ ۖ

Know that the essence of greeting is established by the Book, the Sunnah, and the consensus of the Ummah. The specific and subsidiary rulings, however, are innumerable. I will summarise the essence of it in brief chapters, if Allah   wills. All ability, guidance, rectitude and care are granted by Him.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (489) and al-Futūḥāt (5/264). According to Ibn Ḥajar, this is not an established hadith, even though its meaning is strong.

² Qur'ān 24:61.

³ Qur'ān 4:86.

⁴ Qur'ān 24:27.

⁵ Qur'ān 24:59.

⁶ Qur'ān 51:24.

THE MERITS OF GREETING AND THE ORDER TO EXTEND GREETINGS

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ رضي الله عنه reported that a man asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Which part of Islam is the best?” He replied: “That you feed people and greet those whom you know and those whom you do not know.”¹

And we relate from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah created Adam in His form, and his height was sixty cubits (dhirā).² When He had created Adam, He told him: ‘Go and greet that group of angels who are sitting down, and listen to what they greet you with; for that will be your greeting and the greeting of your progeny.’ He said: ‘Peace be upon you.’ They said: ‘And upon you be peace and the mercy of Allah.’ They added ‘the mercy of Allah.’”³

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ.
السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ.

As-salāmu ‘alaykum.

As-salāmu ‘alayka wa raḥmatu-llāh.

We also relate from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that al-Barā’ ibn ‘Āzib رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ instructed [people to do] seven things: visit the sick, follow funeral processions, respond when someone sneezes, help the weak, assist the oppressed, extend greetings, and fulfil vows.⁴ This is the wording of one of al-Bukhārī’s narrations.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “You [people] will not enter Paradise until you have true faith, and you will not have true faith until you love one another. Shall I not show you a thing which, if you did it, would cause you to love one another? Exchange greetings amongst yourselves.”⁵

And we relate from the Sunan of ad-Dārimī as well as from the books of at-Tirmidhī, Ibn Mājah and others, with good isnāds, that ‘Abdullāh ibn Salām رضي الله عنه narrated: “I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: ‘O people, exchange greetings, feed people, maintain family ties, and perform ṣalāh while others are sleeping, and you will enter the Paradise of your Lord in peace.”⁶ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (12), Muslim (39), and Abū Dāwūd (5194).

² Approximately thirty metres.

³ Al-Bukhārī (3326) and Muslim (2841).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (1239), Muslim (2066), and at-Tirmidhī (2810).

⁵ Muslim (54), Abū Dāwūd (5193), and at-Tirmidhī (2689).

⁶ Ad-Dārimī (2/275), at-Tirmidhī (2487), and Ibn Mājah (3251).

We relate in the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه reported: "The Prophet ﷺ ordered us to exchange greetings."¹

And we relate from the Muwatta' of Imam Mālik that Ishāq ibn 'Abdullāh ibn Abi Ṭalhah related that aṭ-Ṭufayl ibn Ubayy ibn Ka'b told him that he used to go to [the house of] 'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه and go with him to the market. 'Abdullāh did not pass by any ragman, merchant, poor man or anybody else without greeting him. Aṭ-Ṭufayl said: "I came to 'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar one day and he followed me to the market. I asked him: 'What do you do in the market, as you do not stop for any merchandise, or ask any price, or bargain, or sit in the gatherings of the market?' He replied: 'I say: "Sit with us, let's talk." Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه told me: 'O Abū Baṭān' (aṭ-Ṭufayl had a big stomach), 'we only come for the greeting. We greet everyone we meet'"²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that 'Ammār رضي الله عنه said: "Three qualities are such that whoever possesses them all possesses the whole of faith: impartiality towards oneself, being generous in greeting the whole world, and spending despite one's miserliness."³

I say: "In these three phrases, good in the Hereafter and in this world are combined. Justice entails that one should fulfil all the rights of Allah ﷻ and what He has commanded one to do, refrain from all that He has forbidden, and to fulfil the rights of and duties towards people. One should not seek that which is not his. One should be impartial to oneself, also, and not let oneself succumb to doing any intrinsically vile deed. "Being generous in greeting the whole world" means all of mankind. This means that one should not act haughtily towards anyone, and that there should not be any ill feeling between one and anybody else that could prevent him from greeting them. Spending in spite of miserliness requires complete reliance on and trust in Allah ﷻ and compassion for the Muslims, among other things. We ask Allah ﷻ for ability and guidance to do all of this."

THE MODE AND METHOD OF GREETING

KNOW THAT THE best greeting is to say: 'Peace be upon you, and the mercy and blessings of Allah.' One should use the plural even if the person greeted is alone. The one who replies should say: 'And upon you be peace and the mercy and blessings of Allah.' One should use the conjunction 'and'.

One of those who stipulated that the best thing for the one initiating the greeting is to say 'Peace be upon you, and the mercy and blessings of Allah' was the Imam and most judicious of judges Abū al-Ḥasan al-Māwardī in his book al-Ḥāwī, in the Kitāb al-Siyar, as well as Imam Abū Sa'd al-Mutawallī of our colleagues in Kitāb Ṣalāt al-Jumu'ah as well as others. The evidence for it is that which we relate from the Musnad of ad-Dārimī and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, that 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn said: "A man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: 'Peace be upon you.' He responded and then he sat down. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Ten.' Then another came and said: 'Peace be upon you and the mercy of Allah.' He responded to him and he sat down. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Twenty.' Then another came and said: 'Peace be upon you and the mercy and blessings of Allah.' He responded to him and he sat down. The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Thirty.'" At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan hadith.

¹ Ibn Mājah (3693) and Ibn as-Sunnī (215). The author of az-Zawā'id states that the chain for this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ and its narrators are trustworthy. It is also classified as ḥasan by Ibn Ḥajar.

² Al-Muwatta' (2/961-962). Ibn Ḥajar classes this hadith as mawqūf ṣaḥīḥ.

³ Al-Bukhārī (20).

According to a report in Abū Dāwūd from Mu'adh ibn Anas ؓ, another man came and said: "Peace be upon you, and the mercy, blessings and forgiveness of Allah." He ؓ said: "Forty." And he observed: "Such are the merits and rewards."¹

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ وَمَغْفِرَتُهُ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum.

As-salāmu 'alaykum wa raḥmatu-llāh.

As-salāmu 'alaykum wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh.

As-salāmu 'alaykum wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuhu wa maghfiratuḥ.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with a weak isnād, that Anas ؓ related that a man used to pass by the Prophet ﷺ, herding the animals of his Companions, and say "Peace be upon you, Messenger of Allah," and the Prophet ﷺ would say to him: "And on you be peace and the mercy, blessings, forgiveness, and good pleasure of Allah." Someone said: "You have greeted this person with a greeting with which you have not greeted any of your Companions." He replied: "What is there to stop me from doing so, when he goes away with the reward of ten men or more?"² وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ وَمَغْفِرَتُهُ وَرِضْوَانُهُ.

Wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuhu wa maghfiratuḥ wa riḍwānuḥ.

I say: "According to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, if the one who initiates the greeting says as-salāmu 'alaykum, 'Peace be upon you,' the greeting is complete. If a person says as-salāmu 'alayk or salāmu 'alayk it will also be complete. The minimum reply is wa 'alaykumu-s-salām or Wa 'alayka-s-salām. If one leaves out the 'and' it will suffice as a reply. This is the correct position, as Imam ash-Shāfi'ī has written in al-Umm. The majority of our colleagues have adopted this position. Abū Sa'd al-Mutawallī of our colleagues was insistent in his book at-Tatimmah that it does not discharge his duty and it is not a reply; but this is weak or wrong, and it contradicts the Book and the Sunnah and the stated position of our Imam, ash-Shāfi'ī.

¹ Ad-Dārimī (2/277), Abū Dāwūd (5195), and at-Tirmidhī (2690).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (234) and al-Futūḥāt (5/292-293). Ibn Hajar cites supporting narrations for this hadith which confirm its meaning.

As for the Scripture, Allah ﷻ says: "They said 'Peace'; he said 'Peace'." That was the practice for those before us, and our religious text confirms this. This is the hadith from Abū Hurayrah ؓ which we cited earlier about the reply of the angels to Adam. The Prophet ﷺ informed us that "It is your greeting and the greeting of your progeny"; and this Community (Ummah) is descended from his progeny. And Allah knows best.

Our colleagues agree that if one says 'alaykum it does not suffice as a reply. If one says wa 'alaykum, with the 'and', does it suffice as a reply? Our colleagues have two opinions. If the one who initiates the greeting greets with the definite article or without it, then the one who replies may reply with either form. I say, however, that the definite article is more appropriate.

EXPLANATION OF THE MEANING OF THAT WHICH IS TRANSMITTED IN A ṢĀḤĪḤ FASHION FROM HIM ﷺ, THAT HE USED TO REPEAT THE GREETING OF PEACE THREE TIMES

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ made a statement he repeated it thrice to ensure it was understood, and when he came to a group of people he greeted them thrice.¹

I say: "This hadith should be taken to mean that that was when the gathering was a large one. An explanation of this case will be presented, as will the words of al-Māwardī, the author of al-Ḥāwī, about it, if Allah wills.

EXPLANATION OF WHAT ARE THE MINIMAL GREETING AND ITS RESPONSE, AND WHAT IS MUSTAḤABB

The minimum greeting by which the Sunnah is fulfilled is that a person should raise his voice enough for those being greeted to hear him. If he does not make them hear, then he is not considered to have given the greeting, and it is not compulsory to reply to him. The minimum by which the obligation to reply is fulfilled is that a person should raise his voice enough for the one who greeted first to hear him. If he does not ensure that he hears it, he has not fulfilled the obligation to reply.

I say: "It is mustaḥabb to raise one's voice so that it is certain that the person or people greeted have heard; if one doubts that they have heard, he should raise his voice more. When greeting people who are awake while there are others with them who are asleep, it is Sunnah to lower one's voice so that those who are awake may hear him but he does not wake up those who are asleep."

¹ Al-Bukhārī (94) and at-Tirmidhī (2724).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that al-Miqdād ؓ narrated, in a long hadith: "We used to bring the Prophet ؐ his share of milk. He would come at night and greet us in such a way that he did not wake up those who were sleeping, but was heard by those who were awake. Sleep did not come to me but my two companions were asleep. The Prophet ؐ came and greeted us as he used to."¹

EXPLANATION THAT IT IS STIPULATED THAT ONE MUST RETURN THE GREETING IMMEDIATELY

According to Imam Abū Muḥammad, the Qāḍī Ḥusayn, Imam Abū al-Ḥasan al-Wāḥidi, and some other colleagues of ours, it is mandatory to answer immediately. If one delays in responding, it is not considered a reply, and one will be sinning for omitting the greeting.

214

THE DISAPPROVAL OF GESTURING WHEN GREETING, WITHOUT ANY VERBAL EXPRESSION

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father, who reported from his grandfather, who narrated that the Prophet ؐ said: "He who imitates people other than us is not one of us. Do not imitate the Jews and the Christians [in their greeting]. The greeting of the Jews is to gesture with the fingers and the greeting of the Christians is to gesture with the shoulder."² At-Tirmidhī said that the isnād [of this hadith] is weak.

Another hadith we relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī from Asmā' bint Yazīd ؓ [states] that the Messenger of Allah ؐ passed through the mosque one day. A group of women was sitting there, and he gestured with his hand in greeting.⁴ At-Tirmidhī regards this hadith as ḥasan.

This is interpreted as being that the Prophet ؐ combined speech with gesture, the proof of which is that Abū Dāwūd narrated this hadith and he said in his version that "he then greeted us with salām".

¹ Muslim (2055) and at-Tirmidhī (2720).

² Katīf 'a shoulder'. Other narrations have kaff, 'the palm [of his hand]', or akuff, 'palms [of his hands]'.

³ At-Tirmidhī (2696). Ibn Ḥajar grades it as ḥasan owing to its supporting narrations.

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (2698), Abū Dāwūd (5204), and al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad (1047).

THE RULINGS ON GREETING

KNOW THAT TO initiate the greeting is Sunnah and not wājib. It is Sunnat al-kifāyah, so if it is a group giving the greeting, it is sufficient for only one of them to do so. However, it is better for all of them to give the greeting. Imam Qāḍī Ḥusayn, one of the imams of our colleagues, comments in Kitāb as-Siyar: "In our opinion, there is no Sunnat al-kifāyah other than this."

I say that this restriction which the Qāḍī makes is disputable: according to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, may Allah have mercy on them, to respond when somebody sneezes is Sunnat al-kifāyah, as will be explained shortly if Allah wills. One group of our colleagues—though not all of them—hold that the sacrifice [of an animal] is Sunnat al-kifāyah for a family, so if one of them slaughters it fulfils the rite and the Sunnah for all of them. As for replying to a greeting, if the person being greeted is alone then the reply is specific to him. If those who are greeted are a group then responding is fard al-kifāyah, so if one of them replies, the obligation no longer applies to the rest. If they all neglect it, they will all be sinning. The pinnacle of perfection and virtue is for all of them to reply, as our colleagues say—and it is a good and obvious point. Our colleagues agree that if someone other than them responds, the obligation does not fall away, and it is still compulsory for them to reply; and if they merely let a stranger respond for them, they will all be sinning.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Alī ؓ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "It is sufficient, when a group of people are passing by, for one of them to greet [those they pass]; and it is sufficient for those sitting if one of them replies."¹

And we relate from al-Muwatta' that Zayd ibn Aslam ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If one person in a group of people greets, it suffices for all."² I say that this is a mursal hadith which has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

IT IS OBLIGATORY TO RETURN A GREETING RECEIVED BY LETTER OR MESSAGE OR WHILE ONE IS BEHIND A SCREEN

According to Imam Abū Sa'd al-Mutawalli and others, if a man calls another man from behind a screen or a wall and says: 'Peace be upon you, So-and-so,' or he writes a letter in which is written 'Peace be upon you, So-and-so,' or 'Peace be upon So-and-so,' or he sends a messenger saying 'Greet So-and-so' and the messenger or the letter reaches him, it is obligatory for the other man to respond to the greeting.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5210). This hadith is ḥasan. See al-Futūḥāt (5/305).

² Al-Muwatta' (2/959).

Similarly, al-Wāḥidī and others state that it is obligatory for anyone who receives a letter or a writing to return the greeting when the greeting reaches him.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: 'This is Jibrīl, who is greeting you.' I replied: 'And upon him be the peace and mercy and blessings of Allah.'"¹ Some versions of the Ṣaḥīḥs add 'and His blessings', whereas others do not; the additions are acceptable. In at-Tirmidhī's Book it reads: 'and His blessings', and he classed this as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. It is mustaḥabb to impart greetings to a person who is absent.

IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO REPLY TO THE PERSON WHO CONVEYS THE GREETINGS AND THE PERSON FROM WHOM THEY ARE CONVEYED

If a man sends another man greetings and the messenger says: 'So-and-so sends you greetings,' then it is wājib for him to reply immediately. It is mustaḥabb that he greet the messenger as well, saying: 'And upon you and upon him be peace.'

وَعَلَيْكَ وَعَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ.

Wa 'alayka wa 'alayhi-s-salām.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Ghālib al-Qaṭṭān related that a man said that his father reported that his grandfather said: "My father sent me to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: 'Go to him and convey my greeting.' I went to him and said: 'My father sends greetings to you.' He said: 'Upon you and upon your father be peace.'"² عَلَيْكَ وَعَلَى أَبِيكَ السَّلَامُ.

Wa 'alayka wa 'alā abīka-s-salām.

I say: "Although this is a report from unknown narrators, we have mentioned that such hadiths on meritorious deeds are allowed and accepted."

According to al-Mutawallī: "If a man greets a deaf person, it is imperative for him to utter the greeting and to gesture with his hand so that the person can understand; and he is entitled to a reply. If he does not do both together, he is not entitled to a reply. Likewise, if a deaf person greets him and he wishes to reply, it is imperative for him to utter with the tongue and gesture with the hand so that he may be understood, in order for the obligation to reply to be fulfilled. If he greets a mute person who gestures with his hand, the obligation falls away because the gesture takes the place of the utterance. Likewise, if a mute person greets him with a gesture, it is obligatory to reply as we have mentioned."

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3768), Muslim (2447), and at-Tirmidhī (2694).

² Abū Dāwūd (5231), an-Nasā'ī (373), and Ibn as-Sunnī (237).

EXPLAINING ABOUT GREETING A CHILD AND HIS RESPONDING TO AN ADULT

According to al-Mutawallī, "If one greets a child, it is not obligatory for them to respond, because a child is not legally responsible." What he says is correct, but it is mustahabb and good etiquette to reply. Al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn and his colleague al-Mutawallī said: "If a child greets a mature person, is it wājib for him to reply? There are two views, depending on the validity of his Islam. If we say that his Islam is valid, it is wājib to reply. If we say that his Islam is not valid, it is not wājib to reply but it is mustahabb." I say: "The correct position from both points of view is that it is wājib to reply, because Allah ﷻ says: 'When you are greeted, reply with a better reply or return it.'¹ As for their saying that it depends on whether the child is Muslim, ash-Shāshī said that this is a false premise; it is as he said, and Allah knows best.

If a man greets a group in which there is a child and the child replies but none of the others reply, does that relieve them of their obligation? There are two views, the sounder of which is that of al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn and his colleague al-Mutawallī: "It does not fall away, because [the child] is not legally responsible. To respond is an obligation, and it cannot be fulfilled by him, just as the obligation would not be fulfilled by him in the funeral ṣalāh." And Allah knows best.

The second position is—and this is the ruling of Abū Bakr ash-Shāshī, the author of al-Mustazhirī, one of our colleagues—that it does fall away, in the same way that his calling the adhān is valid for men and absolves them of the need to seek an adhān.

I say that as for the prayer of janāzah, our colleagues differ about whether one is absolved of the obligation to perform it by a child having performed it, and they have taken two well-known positions. The correct position of the two, according to our colleagues, is that [the obligation] falls away, as ash-Shāfi'ī stated in a text.

EXPLANATION OF THE FACT THAT IT IS SUNNAH TO REPEAT THE GREETING EVEN AFTER A BRIEF SEPARATION

If a man is greeted by someone he then meets again nearby, it is Sunnah to greet him twice, thrice or more. Our colleagues agree on this. Evidence for that is in that which we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, and which Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated in a hadith about someone who erred in ṣalāh. He came and performed ṣalāh and then came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and greeted him. He returned his greeting and said: "Go back and pray, for you have not prayed." So he returned and performed ṣalāh. Then he came and greeted the Prophet ﷺ, until he had done this three times.²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you meets his brother, he should greet him; and if a tree, wall or stone comes between them and he then meets him [again], he should greet him again.”¹

¹ Qur'ān 4:86.

² Al-Bukhārī (793), Muslim (39), Abū Dāwūd (856), at-Tirmidhī (303), and an-Nasā'ī (2/152).

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ narrated: “The Companions of the Messenger of Allah ؐ used to walk together. Whenever a tree or a hillock came before them and they parted to the right and to the left, when they met beyond it they would greet each other again.”²

WHAT TO DO WHEN TWO PEOPLE MANAGE TO GREET EACH OTHER SIMULTANEOUSLY OR RIGHT AFTER EACH OTHER

If two men meet and they greet each other simultaneously, or one after the other, according to al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn and his colleague Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī, each of them becomes the initiator of the greeting and it is imperative for each to reply to his companion. Ash-Shāshī observes: “There are views about this since this wording is suitable to serve as a reply. If one greets after the other, that is a response. If they are simultaneous, then it is not a response.” What ash-Shāshī says here is the correct opinion.

GREETING USING THE FORM OF THE RESPONSE

If a man meets another and the initiator says: ‘And upon you be peace,’ according to al-Mutawallī it is not correct and does not deserve a reply, because this form is not suitable for the beginning of a greeting. I say that if one says ‘Upon you (singular)’ or ‘Upon you (plural) be peace’ without the conjunction ‘and’, it is correct. Imām Abū al-Ḥasan al-Wāḥidī stated categorically that it is a greeting of peace to which it is obligatory for the person addressed to respond, even if the customary wording is inverted. What al-Wāḥidī says is the obvious truth, and the Imām al-Ḥaramayn [al-Juwaynī] also said the same quite decisively; and so it is obligatory to respond to it because it is called ‘a greeting of peace’. It is conceivable that one could say that there are two positions with respect to the question whether it is a greeting of peace, like the two positions our colleagues have about the case when someone concludes his prayer by saying, ‘Upon you be peace’ as to whether that is a valid way of concluding the prayer. The sounder position is that that it does result [in a valid conclusion to the prayer]. But it is conceivable that one could say that this does not deserve a response in any circumstances, because of what we relate from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī and other sources with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds that Abū Jurayy al-Hujaymī, a Companion, whose name was Jābir ibn Sulaym ؓ, related: “I came to the Messenger of Allah ؐ and said: ‘Upon you be peace, Messenger of Allah.’ He replied: ‘Do not say: “Upon you be peace,” for that is the greeting we give the deceased.”’³ According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

1 Abū Dāwūd (5200) and al-Futūḥāt (5/318). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ gharīb.

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (244).

3 Abū Dāwūd (4084) and at-Tirmidhī (2722).

I say that it is possible that this hadith is meant to describe the best and most perfect [way of greeting], not to say that ['Upon you be peace'] is not a greeting. And Allah knows best.

Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī says in his Iḥyā' that it is makrūh to say at the beginning 'upon you be peace' because of this hadith. The preferable view is that it is makrūh to begin with it in this form, but if someone does it, then it is wājib to reply because it is a greeting.

EXPLANATION THAT THE SUNNAH IS TO BEGIN WITH THE GREETING BEFORE ANY OTHER SPEECH

It is Sunnah to greet before talking, in accordance with authentic hadiths and the actions of the earlier and later generations of the Ummah, as is well-known; and this is what is relied upon in evidence for its superiority.

We relate from the Sunan of at-Tirmidhī that Jābir رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Greeting comes before speaking."¹ This is a weak hadith which according to at-Tirmidhī is munkar.

EXPLANATION THAT INITIATING THE GREETING TOWARDS ANOTHER IS BETTER THAN RETURNING IT

To initiate the greeting is better, in accordance with the hadith: "The best of them is he who starts the greeting."² Thus everyone should be eager to start the greeting when they meet someone.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd with a good isnād that Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The closest of all men to Allah is he who greets [others] first."³ According to a report by at-Tirmidhī, Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه reported that someone asked: "Messenger of Allah, if two men meet, which should start the greeting?" He said: "The one who is closest to Allah ﷻ." At-Tirmidhī regarded this as a ḥasan hadith.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2700).

² Al-Bukhārī (6077) and Muslim (2560).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5197) and at-Tirmidhī (2695). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan.

SITUATIONS IN WHICH IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO GREET AND IN WHICH IT IS MAKRŪH, AND THOSE IN WHICH IT IS PERMISSIBLE

WE ARE COMMANDED to extend greetings, as already mentioned; but the command is more emphatic under certain circumstances and less in others, while in others it is prohibited altogether. The circumstances in which it is emphasised and mustaḥabb are innumerable since that is the basic situation, and we will not burden ourselves in presenting these in detail.

Know that this includes both greeting the living and the dead. We have mentioned the method of greeting the deceased in the Book on Adhkār for Funerals. The circumstances in which it is makrūh or less emphasised or merely permissible are exceptions and require some explanation. These include when the person being greeted is urinating or engaged in sexual intercourse. It is makrūh to greet a person then, and if one does greet him he does not have to reply. The same applies if one is sleeping or drowsy, or is engaged in ṣalāh or adhān or iqāmah, or is in the lavatory, or in any condition in which greeting him is not proper, and likewise when one is eating and has a morsel of food in his mouth. In those situations one is not entitled to a reply. If a man is eating but does not have a morsel of food in his mouth, there is no objection to greeting him and replying is obligatory. Likewise, when he is trading or engaged in any other business, he may be greeted and it is compulsory for him to reply. About greeting during the sermon on Friday our colleagues hold that to initiate it is makrūh, because we are commanded to listen attentively to the sermon. If someone transgresses and gives greeting [then], should he be replied to? Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues disagree. Some say that he should not be answered because of his transgression. Others say that if listening to the sermon is considered wājib then he should not be answered, but if it is considered Sunnah then one of those present should reply to him. No more than one person should reply to him.

According to Imam Abū al-Ḥasan al-Wāḥidī, it is better not to greet a person engaged in reciting the Qur'ān, because he is preoccupied with the recitation of Qur'ān. If he is greeted, he should reply with a gesture. If he replies in words, he should seek protection [from Shayṭān] anew and then return to the recitation. That is the opinion of al-Wāḥidī, about which there are differing views, but the obvious position is that he should be greeted and that it is obligatory to reply in words. A person engaged and absorbed in du'ā' is like one who is reciting the Qur'ān. The most obvious thing in my view is that it is disapproved to greet him, because the trouble and disturbance caused is greater than when someone is eating. It is makrūh to greet a person who is in iḥrām and engaged in the talbiyah, because it is makrūh for him to interrupt the talbiyah, but if he is greeted he should reply verbally. Ash-Shāfi'i made that statement in writing, as did our colleagues, may Allah have mercy on them.

EXPLANATION OF THE RULING ON RETURNING THE GREETING IN THE AFOREMENTIONED CIRCUMSTANCES IN WHICH GREETING IS MAKRŪH

We have mentioned the situations in which it is makrūh to greet, and stated that one is not obliged to respond. If the person being greeted wishes to volunteer a reply, is he allowed to or is it mustaḥabb? There is some detail to this. It is makrūh for anyone engaged in urinating or similar activities to reply and we have already dealt with this at the beginning of the book. For a person engaged in eating or the like it is mustaḥabb to respond in those instances in which it is not wājib. It is ḥarām for someone engaged in ṣalāh to say: 'And on you be peace.' If he does so, knowing about the prohibition, his ṣalāh is nullified. If he does not know that it is prohibited, his ṣalāh is not nullified according to the sounder of the two positions in our view. If he says, 'Upon him be peace,' with wording indicating the third person, then his prayer is not invalidated since it is a du'ā' and is not addressed to anyone. It is mustaḥabb to reply in ṣalāh with a gesture and not with words. If one replies verbally after completing the ṣalāh there is no objection. For someone calling the adhān, it is not makrūh to reply in the normal way because it is only short and it does not invalidate the adhān.

217

WHO MAY BE GREETED AND WHO MAY NOT, AND WHO MAY BE ANSWERED AND WHO MAY NOT

ANY MUSLIM MAN who is not known for sin or innovation may greet and be greeted. It is Sunnah to greet him and it is wājib for him to reply. Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues say that a woman with other women is like a man with other men. Imam Abū Sa'd al-Mutawallī said about a woman [greeting] a man: "If she is his wife or female servant or a woman whom he is not allowed to marry, then the same ruling applies with her as with men greeting him. It is mustaḥabb for either of them to initiate the greeting and it is wājib for the other to reply. If she is a stranger, and she is beautiful and there is fear of temptation, a man should not greet her. If he does greet her, it is not permissible for her to answer him. She should not greet him, and if she does she is not entitled to a reply. If he answers her it will be makrūh. If she is an old woman whom he will not be tempted by, it is permissible for a man to greet her and for a man to answer her greeting.

I say that if the women are in a group and a man greets them, or there are many men and they greet one woman, it is permissible. This applies if there is no fear of temptation.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Asmā' bint

Yazid ؓ narrated: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by us, among some women, and he greeted us." At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith. What I have just quoted is the narration of Abū Dāwūd. According to the report in at-Tirmidhī, [Asmā'] said: "One day the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by in the mosque while a group of women were sitting there, and he gestured with his hand in greeting."

We relate in the Book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Jarīr ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by some women and he greeted them.¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Sahl ibn Sa'd ؓ said: "There was a woman among us" (and in another report, "We had an old lady") "who took chard roots and put them in a pot and ground grains of barley [with them]. When we had performed the ṣalāh of Jumu'ah we went and greeted her and she offered it to us."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Umm Hānī bint Abī Ṭālib ؓ reported: "I came to the Prophet ﷺ on the day of the Conquest of Makkah while he was bathing and Fāṭimah ؓ was screening him. I greeted him." She related the whole hadith.⁴

REPLYING TO NON-MUSLIM SUBJECTS OF A MUSLIM POLITY AND MENTION OF SOME RELATED ISSUES

Our [Shāfi'i] colleagues differ with regard to non-Muslim subjects of a Muslim polity. The majority are of the opinion that it is not permissible to initiate the greeting of peace with them. Others hold that it is not ḥarām but makrūh. If they greet a Muslim, then he should say in reply to them: 'And upon you,' without adding to this.

وَعَلَيْكُمْ

Wa 'alaykum.

Al-Māwardī mentions another opinion of our colleagues: that it is permissible to initiate the greeting with them, but the one who greets should restrict himself to saying: 'Peace be upon you' using the singular and not the plural.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكَ

As-salāmu 'alayk.

Al-Māwardī mentions another opinion: that one should say in reply to them 'And on you be peace,' but should not say: 'And the mercy of Allah.' I say: "These two opinions are uncommon and are to be rejected."

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not start greeting the Jews and the Christians with

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5204), at-Tirmidhī (2698), and Ibn Mājah (3701).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (224). According to Ibn Ḥajar this hadith is gharīb.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6248).

⁴ Muslim (336) and al-Bukhārī (280).

peace, and if you meet any of them on the street then force them to the narrowest part of the street.”¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If the People of the Book greet you then reply ‘And upon you.’”²

وَعَلَيْكُمْ

Wa ‘alaykum.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When the Jews greet you they say: ‘May death be upon you’ [saying ‘death’ (sām) instead of ‘peace’ (salām)]; so say: ‘And upon you.’”³

السَّامُ عَلَيْكَ

وَعَلَيْكَ

As-sāmu ‘alayk.

Wa ‘alayk.

There are many hadiths like the ones we have mentioned regarding this question. And Allah knows best.

Imam Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī said: “If a man greets someone thinking that he is a Muslim and then it becomes clear that he is a disbeliever, it is mustaḥabb to ask him to disregard his greeting. The objective of this is to alienate him and to show him that there is no friendship between them. It is reported that Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه greeted a man but then he was told that he was a Jew. He followed him and said to him: ‘Disregard my greeting.’”⁴

I say that it is reported in the Muwatṭā’ of Imam Mālik that Mālik was asked whether a Muslim who has greeted a Jew or a Christian should ask him to consider the greeting unsaid, and he said: “No.” That is his school of thought, which Ibn al-‘Arabī chose. According to Imam Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī, if one wishes to greet a non-Muslim, he should do so without using the word ‘peace’. One should say: ‘May Allah guide you,’ or ‘May Allah favour your morning.’

I say that this there is no harm in using the greetings mentioned here by Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī when necessary, by saying “Good morning,” or “A blessed [morning]” or “A wholesome [morning]” or “May Allah give you a happy morning” or “happy and blessed” or “joyous”, and so on.

1 Muslim (2167), Abū Dāwūd (5205), and at-Tirmidhī (2701).

2 Al-Bukhārī (6258), Muslim (2163), Abū Dāwūd (5207), and at-Tirmidhī (3296).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6258), Muslim (2164), al-Muwatṭā’ (2/960), Abū Dāwūd (5206), and at-Tirmidhī (1603).

4 Al-Futūḥāt (5/344). Ibn Hajar mentions that this narration can be found in Shu‘ab al-Imān by al-Bayhaqī.

5 Al-Muwatṭā’ (2/960).

Kitāb al-Adhkār

صُبِّحَتْ بِالْخَيْرِ.

...بِالسَّعَادَةِ.

...بِالْعَافِيَةِ.

Ṣubbiḥta bi-l-khayr.

...bi-s-sa'adah.

...bi-l-'āfiyah.

صَبَّحَكَ اللَّهُ بِالسُّرُورِ.

...بِالسَّعَادَةِ وَالنِّعْمَةِ.

...بِالْمَسَرَّةِ.

Ṣabbahaka-llāhu bi-s-surūr.

...bi-s-sa'adah wa-n-ni'mah.

...bi-l-masarrah.

Otherwise, if one does not need to, the best position is not to say anything, because to do so would be to show them expansiveness and familiarity and to manifest a form of affection, whereas we are commanded to be tough on them and forbidden to love them, so one ought not to make a show of it; and Allah knows best.

GOING PAST DISBELIEVERS AMONG WHOM THERE ARE SOME MUSLIMS, IN WHICH CASE THE SUNNAH IS TO GREET THEM INTENDING THE MUSLIMS

If one person passes by a group in which there are Muslims, or one Muslim, together with disbelievers, it is Sunnah to greet them, directing it to the Muslims or Muslim.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Usāmah ibn Zayd رضي الله عنه related that the Prophet ﷺ passed by a gathering that was a mixture of Muslims, pagans, idol-worshippers and Jews, and the Prophet ﷺ greeted them.¹

WHAT A MUSLIM OUGHT TO WRITE IF HE ADDRESSES A LETTER TO AN IDOLATOR CONTAINING GREETINGS AND SUCHLIKE

If one writes a letter to an idolator with a greeting in it he should write along the following lines.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that in the hadith from Abū Sufyān رضي الله عنه about the story of Heraclius, he said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ wrote:

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6254), Muslim (1798), and at-Tirmidhī (2701).

"From Muḥammad, the slave and Messenger of Allah, to Heraclius, the Mighty [leader] of Rome. Peace be upon those who follow guidance."¹ مِنْ مُحَمَّدٍ عَبْدِ اللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ، إِلَى هِرَقْلَ عَظِيمِ الرُّومِ، سَلَامٌ عَلَى مَنْ اتَّبَعَ الْهُدَى...

Min Muḥammadin 'Abdi-llāhi wa Rasūlih, ilā Hiraqla 'aẓīmi-r-Rūm. Salāmun 'alā mani-ttaba'a-l-hudā. ...

WHAT TO SAY WHEN VISITING A SICK NON-MUSLIM

Our colleagues disagree about visiting sick non-Muslims: some say that it is mustahabb, others that it is forbidden. Ash-Shāshī mentions the difference of opinion and then says: "The correct position in my view is that one should say that in general visiting a sick disbeliever is permissible. As an act of drawing near [to Allah] it is dependent on some kind of respect that is coupled with it, such as neighbourliness or their being a relative."

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ؓ related that a Jewish boy who used to serve the Prophet ﷺ became sick. The Prophet ﷺ came to visit him. He sat by his head and said: "Embrace Islam." He looked at his father, who was with him. He said: "Obey Abū al-Qāsim." [The boy] embraced Islam. The Prophet ﷺ went out saying: "All praise to Allah, Who has saved him from Hell-Fire."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that al-Muṣayyab, the father of Sa'īd ibn al-Muṣayyab ؓ, related that when death came to Abū Ṭālib, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to him and said: "O uncle, say: 'There is no god but Allah.'" He then recounted the rest of the hadith.³

I say that any Muslim visiting a sick non-Muslim ought to invite them to Islam and explain its benefits and advantages to them. He should urge them to embrace it before reaching a state in which repentance will not benefit them. If one prays for them, one should pray for their guidance and suchlike.

GREETING AN INNOVATOR OR SOMEONE WHO HAS COMMITTED A MAJOR WRONG ACTION BEFORE REPENTING OF IT

One ought not to greet or answer an innovator or a person who has committed a major sin but has not repented. That is the opinion of al-Bukhārī and others, for which he has adduced the following proof.

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs that Ka'b ibn Mālik ؓ, in his hadith about when he stayed behind from the expedition of Tabūk with his two companions, said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ forbade people to talk to us." He said: "I used to come to the

¹ Al-Bukhārī (7) and Muslim (1773).

² Al-Bukhārī (1356) and Abū Dāwūd (3095).

³ Al-Bukhārī (3884), Muslim (24), and an-Nasā'ī (4/90-91).

Messenger of Allah ﷺ and greet him, and ask myself: 'Is he moving his lips in greeting or not?'¹

According to al-Bukhārī, 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ﷺ said: "Do not greet anyone who drinks wine." I say: "If one is forced to greet oppressors when going to see them, or because he fears for his worldly life, religion or some other thing if he does not greet them, then he should greet them." According to the 'ulamā', he should intend 'Peace' as being one of the names of Allah ﷻ. His greeting would thus mean: 'Allah is watching you.'

IT IS SUNNAH TO GREET CHILDREN

As for children, it is Sunnah to greet them. We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ﷺ passed by some children and greeted them, and said: "The Prophet ﷺ used to do so." According to a report in Muslim he said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by some children and greeted them."²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and other sources as well, with isnāds of the two Ṣaḥīḥs, that Anas ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by children who were playing and greeted them."

And we relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī and elsewhere that [Anas] said: "He said, 'Peace be upon you, children.'"³ السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ يَا صِبْيَانُ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum yā ṣibyān.

COURTESIES AND RULINGS ON GREETING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "One who is riding should greet one who is walking; one who is walking should greet those who are sitting; and the few should greet the many." According to a report by al-Bukhārī he said: "The small should greet the big; the walking should greet the sitting; and the few should greet the many."⁴

According to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues and other 'ulamā', what has just been mentioned is the Sunnah. So if people were to go against that, with those walking greeting

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4418) and Muslim (2769).

² Al-Bukhārī (2647) and Muslim (2168).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5202), an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (331), and Ibn as-Sunnī (226).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6231), Muslim (2160), Abū Dāwūd (5198), and at-Tirmidhī (2704).

those who are riding or those who are sitting greeting them, it would not be makrūh. Imam Abū Sa'd al-Mutawallī and others are explicit about this. According to this principle it is not makrūh for the many to greet the few, or for the big to greet the small. This will mean forgoing the greeting that one is entitled to. These rules of etiquette apply when two people meet on the street. When a person comes upon others who are sitting, the one arriving must greet those already present in all circumstances, whether they be younger or older, many or few.

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF SINGLING OUT A PARTY FOR GREETING

Al-Mutawallī said: "If a man meets a group and he wants to specify some of them in the greeting, to the exclusion of others, it is makrūh, because the purpose of greeting is cordiality and sociability. Singling out some will cause the others to be uneasy and may sometimes lead to enmity."

HOW ONE SHOULD GREET WHILE WALKING IN PLACES THAT ARE MUCH FREQUENTED, SUCH AS MARKETPLACES

According to the most judicious of Qāḍīs, al-Māwardī, if a person is walking in a marketplace, or on a road alongside many other people, or in any other place where many people meet, he should greet some and not others. If he greets everyone he meets, it will distract him from matters of importance. According to al-Māwardī, one only seeks one of two things from greetings: to gain love and affection or to repel hatred.

EXPLANATION THAT IF SOMEONE IS GREETED BY A GROUP AND REPLIES TO THEM INTENDING ALL OF THEM, THAT SUFFICES HIM

According to al-Mutawallī, if a group greets one man and he says 'And on you be peace,' intending thereby to reply to all of them, the obligation to respond to all of them is fulfilled. This is the same as performing one ṣalāh over many deceased persons, which fulfils the obligation for all.

HOW TO GREET A BODY OF PEOPLE WHO CAN BE INCLUDED IN A SINGLE GREETING AND THOSE NOT THUS INCLUDED, SUCH AS IN A JUMU'AH MOSQUE

According to al-Māwardī, if one enters a small group of people, he may offer one greeting for them all; any greeting he adds specifically to each of them is good etiquette. One person [from the group] replying to the greeting is sufficient; but others adding is also good etiquette. If there is a gathering and one greeting is not extended to them, as in a mosque, meeting or crowd, then the way to greet is that the one who enters begins the greeting when he first enters and sees the people. All who hear [his greeting] ought to observe the way of greeting, and the farḍ kifāyah arises for them all when they hear him. If he intends to greet those of them who are sitting down, those who did not hear him are exempt from the obligation to return the greeting. If he intends to sit alongside those who did not initially hear his greeting, then there are two opinions on this point.

The first is that the means of greeting for them is achieved by the greeting being given to the first of them, because they are one group. If he responds to their greetings, this is good etiquette. Also, if anyone in the mosque responds to him, the farḍ kifāyah is discharged for the rest.

The second is that the obligation remains to greet for those who have not yet been offered the initial greeting; it is not waived for the first [of the group] by the reply of the second.

IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO GREET ON ENTERING A PLACE WHERE THERE IS NO ONE

It is mustaḥabb to give greetings when entering one's home, even if there is no one there. One should say: Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. And we have previously explained in the beginning of the book what one says when one enters one's house.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَىٰ عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ.

As-salāmu 'alaynā wa 'alā 'ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn.

Likewise, when entering a mosque or someone else's house which is empty, one should give greetings by saying: Peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah. Peace be upon you, people of the house, and may the mercy and blessings of Allah be upon you.

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْنَا وَعَلَىٰ عِبَادِ اللَّهِ الصَّالِحِينَ، السَّلَامُ

عَلَيْكُمْ أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ وَبَرَكَاتُهُ.

As-salāmu 'alaynā wa 'alā 'ibādi-llāhi-ṣ-ṣāliḥīn. As-salāmu 'alaykum ahla-l-bayti wa raḥmatu-llāhi wa barakātuh.

ON THE SUNNAH NATURE OF GREETING WHEN PARTING
AND AN EXPLANATION OF THE RULING ON RESPONDING

If someone is sitting with a group of people and is about to get up and leave them, it is Sunnah to greet them.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others, with good isnāds, that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any of you comes to a gathering, let him extend his greetings, and when about to get up let him extend his greetings, for the former is not more important than the latter.”¹ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

I say: “The apparent meaning of this hadith is that it is wājib for a group to return the greeting of a person who is greeting them or departing from them. According to the two Imams, al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn and his colleague Imam Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī, it is customary to greet others when leaving them. That is a du‘ā, and it is mustaḥabb to reply to it and not wājib, because greeting is something that is done upon meeting and not on parting. That is their opinion. Imam Abū Bakr, the later ash-Shāshī,² however, holds that this is incorrect, because greeting is Sunnah when departing, just as it is Sunnah when sitting down. The preceding hadith is proof of this. Ash-Shāshī’s view is the correct one.”

GREETING SOMEONE WHO ONE IS CONVINCED WILL NOT RETURN
THE GREETING, AND THE RECOMMENDATION TO ABSOLVE
WHOMEVER ONE GREETES IF THEY DO NOT RETURN THE GREETING

If one passes by one person or more and suspects that he will not reply to one’s greeting—either because of the pride of the person whom one passes, because of one’s disdain for the person passing or for the greeting, or for any other reason—one should greet him and not omit it on account of that suspicion. For we are ordered to greet, and the one who is ordered to greet is the one who is passing by. He is not, however, ordered to obtain a reply; moreover, it may be that the person he passes will prove his opinion wrong and return the greeting.

There are those who do not verify things carefully, and who say that the greeting of someone passing by will cause the person passed by to fall into wrongdoing. This is manifest ignorance and blatant stupidity, because Sharī‘ah commands are not lifted off the shoulders of those commanded because of such imaginings. If we were to look to these vain imaginings, we would give up reproving any wrong action done by someone who does it out of ignorance that it is a wrong action. We would also consider that he would not be reproved by our talking to him, because our reproving him and our acquainting him of his wrongdoing will be a cause of his guilt if he does not cease doing it. There is no doubt that we must not give up reproving [wrongdoing] for reasons like these, and the likes of this are numerous and well-known. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Shibl, a Companion, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever replies to a greeting, it will be to his own benefit; and anyone who does not reply is not one of us.”³

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5208) and at-Tirmidhī (2707). According to Ibn Hajar this hadith is ḥasan.

² There were two well-known jurists of Tashkent called ash-Shāshī: Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn al-Ḥusayn Abū Bakr ash-Shāshī (d. 507/1113–4) and Muḥammad ibn ‘Alī ibn Ḥāmid Abī Bakr ash-Shāshī (d. 485/1092–3), may Allah have mercy on them both.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (207) and al-Futūḥāt (5/367). This is part of a longer hadith, which is ṣaḥīḥ and is

It is mustahabb for a person who has greeted someone who does not then reply to say to him kindly: "To respond to a greeting is wājib, so it is imperative for you to answer me, so that the obligation may be removed from you." And Allah knows best.

SEEKING PERMISSION TO ENTER A HOUSE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "O you who believe, enter not houses other than your own, until you have asked permission and greeted those in them."¹

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا لَا تَدْخُلُوا بُيُوتًا غَيْرَ بُيُوتِكُمْ
حَتَّى تَسْتَأْذِنُوا وَتُسَلِّمُوا عَلَى أَهْلِهَا

Allah ﷻ says: "But when the children among you come of age, let them ask permission, as did those before them."²

وَإِذَا بَلَغَ الْأَطْفَالُ مِنْكُمُ الْحُلُمَ فَلْيَسْتَأْذِنُوا كَمَا اسْتَأْذَنَ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Permission must be sought thrice, and if you are not given permission you must turn back."³

We have related this in both their Ṣaḥīḥs from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ﷺ and others from the Prophet ﷺ.

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Sahl ibn Sa'd ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Seeking permission was instituted because of the gaze."⁴

The reports about seeking permission thrice are numerous. The Sunnah is that one should greet and then seek permission standing at the door, so that one cannot see those who are in the house. Then one should say: 'Peace be upon you. May I enter?' If no one replies one should say it twice or thrice, and if still no-one replies one should go away.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Rib'ī ibn Ḥirāsh— with a kasrah on the hā' and at the end a shīn—the eminent Tābi', said: "It has been reported by al-Bukhārī in al-Adab al-mufrad, and by Aḥmad, at-Ṭabarānī and al-Ḥākim.

¹ Qur'ān 24:27.

² Qur'ān 24:59.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6244), Muslim (2153), al-Muwaṭṭa' (2/963-964), Abū Dāwūd (5180), and at-Tirmidhi (2691).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6241), Muslim (2156), at-Tirmidhi (2710) and an-Nasā'ī (7/60-61). "Because of the gaze" means to prevent being seen by members of the opposite sex.

reported to us that a man from Banū 'Āmir sought permission to come to the Prophet ﷺ while he was in his house. He asked: 'May I come in?' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told his servant: 'Go out to this person and teach him how to seek permission. Tell him to say: "Peace be upon you. May I come in?"' The man heard him and said: 'Peace be upon you. May I come in?' The Prophet ﷺ gave him permission and he entered.¹

السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ، أَدْخُلُ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum, a-adkhul?

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Kaladah ibn al-Ḥanbal ؓ, a Companion, reported that he came to the Prophet ﷺ and went into [the house] without greeting him. He said: "Go back and say: 'Peace be upon you. May I come in?'"² According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan.

I say that Kaladah is written with a fathah on the kāf and the lām, and Ḥanbal with fathah on the ḥā, followed by nūn with sukūn, then bā with fathah, then lām.

What we have stated about greeting before seeking permission is correct. Al-Māwardī mentions three views. The first is [the Sunnah, as described above]. The second is to seek permission before the greeting. The third is that one has a choice. If the gaze of the person seeking permission falls on the owner of the house before he enters he should greet first; if he does not see him, then he should seek permission first. If he has asked for permission thrice and thinks that he has not heard him, should he ask again? Abū Bakr Ibn al-'Arabī al-Mālikī mentions three views. The first is that he should ask again. The second is that he should not ask again. The third is that if he used the above-mentioned words he should not ask again, but if he used any other words he may ask again. The most correct view is that he should not ask again. This view, which he regarded as the soundest, is the one required by the Sunnah, and Allah knows best.

WHICH COMPLETE FORMS OF INTRODUCTION ONE OUGHT TO EMPLOY WHEN SEEKING ADMITTANCE, AND WHICH ARE DISAPPROVED OF

If someone seeks permission to enter by greeting or knocking on the door and is asked: 'Who are you?' he should reply 'So-and-so, the son of So-and-so', or 'So-and-so al-Fulānī', or 'So-and-so, better known as Such-and-such' in order that he may be identified. It is makrūh to say: 'I,' or 'The servant' or 'one of the boys' or 'one of the lovers' and suchlike.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that in a well-known hadith about the Prophet's Night Journey, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Then he ascended with me to the heaven closest to the earth and he asked for it to be opened." It was said: "Who is this?" He replied: "Jibril." It was said: "And who is with you?" He replied:

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5177).

² Abū Dāwūd (5176) and at-Tirmidhī (2711), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

"Muhammad." Then he ascended to the second, third and the rest of the heavens. It was said at the door of every heaven: "Who is this?" and he replied: "Jibril."¹

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ reported that while the Prophet ؐ was sitting by a well in a garden Abū Bakr ؓ came and sought permission [to enter the garden]. [The Prophet ؐ] asked: "Who is it?" He replied: "Abū Bakr." Then 'Umar ؓ came and sought permission and he asked: "Who?" He replied: "'Umar." Then 'Uthmān ؓ came and did the same.²

We relate again from the same Ṣaḥīḥs, that Jābir ؓ reported: "I came to the Prophet ؐ and knocked on the door. He asked: 'Who is it?' I replied: 'Me.' He said: 'Me, me.' It was as if he disliked it."³

EXPLANATION THAT THERE IS NO HARM IN THE PERSON SEEKING PERMISSION TO ENTER DESCRIBING HIMSELF IN SOME WAY TO WHICH THERE IS NO ALTERNATIVE, EVEN IF THERE IS SOME DEGREE OF SELF-GLORIFICATION IN IT

There is no objection to a man describing himself by a trait that he is known for, if the person who is addressed does not know him by any other name, even if there is some self-reverence in calling oneself by a title; or in saying 'I am Muftī So-and-so,' or 'the Qāḍī,' or 'Shaykh So-and-so' etc.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Umm Hānī bint Abī Ṭālib ؓ—whose name was Fākhītah, as is well-known, although some say that it was Fāṭimah and others that it was Hind—reported: "I came to the Prophet ؐ whilst he was having a bath and Fāṭimah was screening him. He asked: 'Who is it?' I replied: 'I am Umm Hānī.'"⁴

We relate also from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Dharr ؓ—whose name was Jundub although some say it was Burayr with a ḍammah on the bā', which is the diminutive of Barr—narrated: "I went out one night, and the Messenger of Allah ؐ was walking on his own. I started walking in the moonlight. He turned around and saw me. 'Who is that?' he asked. 'Abū Dharr,' I replied."⁵

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Qatādah al-Ḥārith ibn Rib'ī ؓ narrated a hadith about a wuḍū' water container which mentions many of the miracles of the Messenger of Allah ؐ and many branches of knowledge. In it Abū Qatādah says: "The Messenger of Allah ؐ raised his head and asked: 'Who is this?' I said: 'Abū Qatādah.'"⁶

I say that there are many similar hadiths. The reason [for saying so] is the need and not a desire to boast.

1 Al-Bukhārī (2887) and Muslim (162).

2 Al-Bukhārī (3674) and Muslim (2403).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6250), Muslim (2155), Abū Dāwūd (5187), at-Tirmidhī (2712), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (328).

4 Al-Bukhārī (280) and Muslim (336).

5 Al-Bukhārī (6443) and Muslim (94).

6 Muslim (681).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ—whose name was ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Sakhr, according to the most reliable accounts—reported that he said: “Messenger of Allah, pray to Allah to guide the mother of Abū Hurayrah.” Then he quoted the rest of the hadith as far as “Messenger of Allah, Allah has answered your prayer and guided the mother of Abū Hurayrah.”¹

220

MATTERS RELATED TO GREETING

GREETING WHEN COMING OUT OF THE LAVATORY

IMAM ABŪ SA‘D al-Mutawallī said: “To greet someone with ‘May your visit to the lavatory be pleasant’ when coming out of the lavatory has no basis. But it has been reported that ‘Alī ؓ said to a man coming out of the lavatory: ‘You have been purified, so do not defile yourself.’” I say that there is nothing authentic in this regard. There is no objection if a man says to his companion, by way of friendship, affection and in order to foster love: ‘May Allah perpetuate His favour upon you,’ or any other du‘ā’.

EXPRESSIONS THAT PEOPLE CUSTOMARILY USE IN PLACE OF THE GREETING OR BEFORE IT

If a person passing by starts to greet those whom he passes by saying: ‘May Allah make your morning good or happy’ or ‘May Allah strengthen you’ or ‘May Allah not desert you and leave you lonely’, or any other words which people normally use, then he is not entitled to a reply. But it is good for one to make du‘ā for him in return. However, it is best to refrain from replying, as a caution against flouting and neglecting the [required] greeting, and as a lesson for him and others to be observant of the salām.

THE RULING ON KISSING THE FACE AND LIMBS OF ADULTS AND MINORS

If a person wishes to kiss the hand of someone [of the same gender], because of their asceticism, piety, knowledge, honour, chastity or any other religious consideration, it is not makrūh but mustaḥabb. If it is done because of his wealth, worldly status, riches, valour, influence and esteem among people, it is makrūh to the extent of being severely makrūh. Imam Abū Sa‘d al-Mutawallī of our colleagues declared it to be impermissible. He indicated that it is ḥarām.

¹ Muslim (2491).

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Zāri' ؓ, who was in the delegation of 'Abd al-Qays, reported: "We started to hasten from our riding camels and we kissed the hands and feet of the Prophet ﷺ."¹

I say that Zāri' is with a zāy at its beginning and a rā' after alif according to the wording, which means 'cultivator' (of wheat and so on).

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported a story in which he said: "We approached the Messenger ﷺ and we kissed his hand."²

It is Sunnah for a man to kiss the cheek of his small child or his brother, or to kiss any other part besides the cheek out of affection, compassion or because of a love of closeness. There are many well-known hadiths in this regard. This applies regardless of whether the child is male or female. The same applies to kissing the child of a close friend, or other small children. To kiss with lust and desire is ḥarām by consensus. The same applies to the father and to others. To look with lust at a relative or a stranger is also ḥarām by consensus.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ kissed Ḥasan ibn 'Alī ؓ while al-Aqra' ibn Ḥābis at-Tamīmī was with him. Al-Aqra' said: "I have ten children and I have not kissed any of them." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ looked at him and said: "To him who has no mercy, no mercy will be shown."³

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Ā'ishah ؓ related that some Bedouins came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked: "Do you kiss your children?" "Yes," he replied. They said: "But we, by Allah, do not kiss." So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Can I help it if Allah has removed mercy from your hearts?"⁴ That is the wording of one of the narrations, and it is narrated with different wordings.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took his son Ibrāhīm and kissed him and smelled him.⁵

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib ؓ said: "I went with Abū Bakr when he first came to Madīnah. His daughter 'Ā'ishah ؓ was lying down, suffering from fever. Abū Bakr ؓ came to her and asked: 'How are you, my beloved daughter?' and kissed her cheek."⁶

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah and others with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds that Ṣafwān ibn 'Assāl ؓ the Companion—and 'Assāl is written with a fathah on the 'ayn and a doubled sīn—narrated: "A Jew said to his companion: 'Let us go to this prophet.' They came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked him about the nine clear signs." He quoted the rest of the hadith as far as: "They kissed his hand and feet and said: 'We bear witness that you are a prophet.'"⁷

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5225). The chain of this hadith is ḥasan. See Mukhtaṣar Sunan Abī Dāwūd, by al-Mun-dhirī (8/91).

² Abū Dāwūd (5223).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5997), Muslim (2319), Abū Dāwūd (5218), and at-Tirmidhī (1912).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5998) and Muslim (2317).

⁵ Muslim (2316) and al-Bukhārī (10/426) in a ta'liq form.

⁶ Abū Dāwūd (5322).

⁷ At-Tirmidhī (2734) and Ibn Mājah (3705).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ—whose name was ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Sakhr, according to the most reliable accounts—reported that he said: “Messenger of Allah, pray to Allah to guide the mother of Abū Hurayrah.” Then he quoted the rest of the hadith as far as “Messenger of Allah, Allah has answered your prayer and guided the mother of Abū Hurayrah.”¹

220

MATTERS RELATED TO GREETING

GREETING WHEN COMING OUT OF THE LAVATORY

IMAM ABŪ SA’D al-Mutawallī said: “To greet someone with ‘May your visit to the lavatory be pleasant’ when coming out of the lavatory has no basis. But it has been reported that ‘Alī ؓ said to a man coming out of the lavatory: ‘You have been purified, so do not defile yourself.’” I say that there is nothing authentic in this regard. There is no objection if a man says to his companion, by way of friendship, affection and in order to foster love: ‘May Allah perpetuate His favour upon you,’ or any other du‘ā.

EXPRESSIONS THAT PEOPLE CUSTOMARILY USE IN PLACE OF THE GREETING OR BEFORE IT

If a person passing by starts to greet those whom he passes by saying: ‘May Allah make your morning good or happy’ or ‘May Allah strengthen you’ or ‘May Allah not desert you and leave you lonely’, or any other words which people normally use, then he is not entitled to a reply. But it is good for one to make du‘ā for him in return. However, it is best to refrain from replying, as a caution against flouting and neglecting the [required] greeting, and as a lesson for him and others to be observant of the salām.

THE RULING ON KISSING THE FACE AND LIMBS OF ADULTS AND MINORS

If a person wishes to kiss the hand of someone [of the same gender], because of their asceticism, piety, knowledge, honour, chastity or any other religious consideration, it is not makrūh but mustaḥabb. If it is done because of his wealth, worldly status, riches, valour, influence and esteem among people, it is makrūh to the extent of being severely makrūh. Imam Abū Sa’d al-Mutawallī of our colleagues declared it to be impermissible. He indicated that it is ḥarām.

¹ Muslim (2491).

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Zāri' ؓ, who was in the delegation of 'Abd al-Qays, reported: "We started to hasten from our riding camels and we kissed the hands and feet of the Prophet ﷺ."¹

I say that Zāri' is with a zāy at its beginning and a rā' after alif according to the wording, which means 'cultivator' (of wheat and so on).

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported a story in which he said: "We approached the Messenger ﷺ and we kissed his hand."²

It is Sunnah for a man to kiss the cheek of his small child or his brother, or to kiss any other part besides the cheek out of affection, compassion or because of a love of closeness. There are many well-known hadiths in this regard. This applies regardless of whether the child is male or female. The same applies to kissing the child of a close friend, or other small children. To kiss with lust and desire is ḥarām by consensus. The same applies to the father and to others. To look with lust at a relative or a stranger is also ḥarām by consensus.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ kissed Ḥasan ibn 'Alī ؓ while al-Aqrā' ibn Ḥābis at-Tamīmī was with him. Al-Aqrā' said: "I have ten children and I have not kissed any of them." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ looked at him and said: "To him who has no mercy, no mercy will be shown."³

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Ā'ishah ؓ related that some Bedouins came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked: "Do you kiss your children?" "Yes," he replied. They said: "But we, by Allah, do not kiss." So the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Can I help it if Allah has removed mercy from your hearts?"⁴ That is the wording of one of the narrations, and it is narrated with different wordings.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took his son Ibrāhīm and kissed him and smelled him.⁵

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib ؓ said: "I went with Abū Bakr when he first came to Madīnah. His daughter 'Ā'ishah ؓ was lying down, suffering from fever. Abū Bakr ؓ came to her and asked: 'How are you, my beloved daughter?' and kissed her cheek."⁶

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī, Ibn Mājah and others with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds that Ṣafwān ibn 'Assāl ؓ the Companion—and 'Assāl is written with a fathah on the 'ayn and a doubled sīn—narrated: "A Jew said to his companion: 'Let us go to this prophet.' They came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked him about the nine clear signs." He quoted the rest of the hadith as far as: "They kissed his hand and feet and said: 'We bear witness that you are a prophet.'"⁷

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5225). The chain of this hadith is ḥasan. See Mukhtaṣar Sunan Abī Dāwūd, by al-Mun-dhirī (8/91).

² Abū Dāwūd (5223).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5997), Muslim (2319), Abū Dāwūd (5218), and at-Tirmidhī (1912).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5998) and Muslim (2317).

⁵ Muslim (2316) and al-Bukhārī (10/426) in a ta'liq form.

⁶ Abū Dāwūd (5322).

⁷ At-Tirmidhī (2734) and Ibn Mājah (3705).

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a handsome (malih) ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that 'Iyās ibn Daghfal said: "I saw Abū Naḍrah kiss the cheek of Ḥasan ibn 'Alī ۞."¹

I say that Abū Naḍrah is spelled with a nūn and ḍād. His name was al-Mundhir ibn Mālik ibn Quṭa'ah and he was a trustworthy Follower. Daghfal is written with a dāl with a fathah and then a ghayn with a sukūn and then a fā' with a fathah and then a lām.

Ibn 'Umar ۞ used to kiss his son Sālim and say: "Be surprised at an old man kissing an old man."² Sahl ibn 'Abdullāh at-Tustarī, one of the ascetics and pious worshippers among this Ummah, used to go to Abū Dāwūd as-Sijistānī and say: "Take out your tongue, with which you narrate hadiths of the Messenger of Allah ۞, so that I may kiss it." Then he kissed it. The deeds of our pious predecessors in this regard are innumerable.

KISSING THE FACE OF THE DECEASED AND SOMEONE WHO HAS JUST ARRIVED FROM A JOURNEY

There is no harm in kissing the face of a pious deceased person to gain blessings. There is also no harm in a man kissing the face of his companion when he returns from a journey or the like. We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that 'Ā'ishah ۞ related a long hadith about the demise of the Messenger of Allah ۞, in which she said: "Abū Bakr ۞ came in and uncovered the face of the Messenger of Allah ۞. Then he leaned over him and kissed him, and he wept."³

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Ā'ishah ۞ said: "Zayd ibn al-Ḥārith came to Madīnah while the Messenger of Allah ۞ was in his house. He knocked on the door. The Prophet ۞ stood up for him, dragging his garment [on the ground]. He embraced him and kissed him."⁴ At-Tirmidhī said that this is a ḥasan hadith.

Embracing or kissing the face of people other than children or those returning from a journey or suchlike is makrūh. Abū Muḥammad al-Baghāwī and others have written that it is makrūh. Evidence of its being makrūh is to be found in that which we have related in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah from Anas ۞ who reported: "A man asked: 'Messenger of Allah, when one of us meets his brother or friend, should he kneel before him?' He answered: 'No.' He then asked: 'Should he embrace him and kiss him?' He said: 'No.' He then asked: 'Should he shake his hand?' He replied: 'Yes.'"⁵

I say: "All that we have mentioned about kissing and embracing—that there is no harm in it upon returning from a journey and that it is makrūh under other circumstances—does not apply to a handsome, beardless young man. It is ḥarām to kiss a handsome, beardless young man under any circumstances, whether he is returning from a journey or not. It is obvious that embracing him is like kissing him. It makes no difference if the one who kisses and the one who is kissed are pious men or sinners,

1 Abū Dāwūd (5221).

2 Ibn 'Allān states that this hadith is reported by Ibn Abi Khaythamah in his Tārīkh.

3 Al-Bukhārī (4452).

4 At-Tirmidhī (2733).

5 At-Tirmidhī (2729) and Ibn Mājah (3702).

or if only one of them is pious. They are all the same. The sound school of thought, in our view, is that to look at a handsome, beardless young man is ḥarām even if it is without lust and the person is safe from temptation. It is ḥarām just as it is in the case of a woman, since he is similar to her in that sense."

SHAKING HANDS

Know that when meeting it is a Sunnah which is agreed upon unanimously.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Qatādah رضي الله عنه reported: "I asked Anas رضي الله عنه: 'Did the Companions of the Prophet ﷺ shake hands?' He replied: 'Yes.'"¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ka'b ibn Mālīk رضي الله عنه said in the story of Allah's acceptance of his repentance: "Abū Ṭalḥah ibn 'Ubaydullāh رضي الله عنه got up and ran up to shake my hand and congratulate me."²

We relate with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Anas رضي الله عنه reported that when the people of Yemen came, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "The people of the Yemen have come to you, and they are the first to come shaking hands."³

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that al-Barā' رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No two Muslims meet and shake hands without being forgiven before they part."⁴

And we relate from the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Anas رضي الله عنه reported: "A man asked: 'Messenger of Allah, when one of us meets his brother or his friend, should he bow before him?' He replied: 'No.' He asked: 'Should he embrace him and kiss him?' He replied: 'No.' He asked: 'Should he shake his hand?' He replied: 'Yes.'"⁵ According to at-Tirmidhī this hadith is ḥasan. There are many hadiths on this subject.

We relate in the Muwatta' of Imam Mālīk that 'Aṭā' ibn 'Abdullāh al-Ḳhurāsānī رضي الله عنه reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Shake hands with each other and it will remove hatred and rancour; give each other gifts and you will love one another, and it will remove stinginess.'"⁶

I say that this hadith is mursal.

Know that to shake hands is mustaḥabb whenever meeting. Shaking hands after the ṣalawāt of Ṣubḥ and 'Aṣr has no religious basis but there is no harm in it, since it is of the essence of the Sunnah to shake hands.

Imam Abū Muḥammad 'Abd as-Salām reported in his book al-Qawā'id that innovations are of five types: wājib, ḥarām, makrūh, mustaḥabb, and mubāḥ (permissible). He says that an example of a permissible innovation is to shake hands after the ṣalawāt of Ṣubḥ and 'Aṣr.

I say: "One should be careful about shaking hands with a handsome, beardless

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6263) and at-Tirmidhī (2730).

² Al-Bukhārī (4418) and Muslim (2769).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5213).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (5212), at-Tirmidhī (2728), and Ibn Mājah (2703).

⁵ At-Tirmidhī (2729) and Ibn Mājah (3702).

⁶ Al-Muwatta' (2/908).

young man, for looking at him is ḥarām, as we stated in the previous section. According to our [Shāfi'i] companions, anyone whom it is unlawful to look at is unlawful to touch. Touching is more sinful. It is lawful for a man to look at a strange woman if he intends to marry her, or when buying from, selling to, or receiving something from, or giving something to her; but it is not lawful to touch in any of those situations." And Allah knows best.

IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO SMILE AND MAKE DU'Ā AS WELL AS SHAKING HANDS

It is mustaḥabb, when shaking hands, to smile, make du'ā for forgiveness and so on.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Dharr رضي الله عنه related: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told me: 'Do not underestimate any good deed, even if it be simply meeting your brother with a smiling face.'"¹

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that al-Barā' ibn 'Āzib رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When two Muslims meet and shake hands and smile with love and sincerity, their sins fall away from them." According to another report he said: "When two Muslims meet and shake hands and praise Allah ﷻ and ask for forgiveness, Allah ﷻ forgives them."²

We relate in [the same source] from Anas رضي الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No two servants [of Allah] who love each other for the sake of Allah meet and shake hands and pray for blessings upon the Prophet before departing without their past and future sins being forgiven."³

We relate, again in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, that Anas رضي الله عنه also related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ never shook the hand of any man in parting without saying: "O Allah, grant us good in this world and good in the Hereafter, and spare us from the punishment of Hell-Fire."⁴ اللَّهُمَّ آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً، وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً، وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanah, wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanah, wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

IT IS MAKRŪH TO BOW TO ANYONE IN ANY CIRCUMSTANCES

It is makrūh to bow to anyone, under any circumstances. This is indicated by the hadith of Anas رضي الله عنه in a previous section: "Messenger of Allah, when one of us meets his brother or his friend, should he bow to him?" He said: "No." This is a ḥasan hadith,

¹ Muslim (2626).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (192) and Abū Dāwūd (5211). According to al-Mundhirī, there is some idṭirāb (disruption) in the chain for this hadith.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (193).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (203).

as we have already mentioned, and nothing has been reported to contradict it. One should not be fooled by the many people who claim to be associated with knowledge, piety and virtuous traits but who do this. Imitation and obedience is due only to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Allah ﷻ says: "Whatever the Messenger gives you, take it; and whatever he forbids you, abstain [from it]."¹

﴿وَمَا آتَاكُمُ الرَّسُولُ فَخُذُوهُ وَمَا نَهَاكُمْ عَنْهُ فَانْتَهُوا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Let those who contravene the [Messenger's] order beware, lest some trial befall them or a grievous penalty be inflicted upon them."²

﴿فَلْيَحْذَرِ الَّذِينَ يُخَالِفُونَ عَنْ أَمْرِهِ أَنْ تُصِيبَهُمْ فِتْنَةٌ أَوْ يُصِيبَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ﴾

As we have mentioned previously, in the chapter on funerals, al-Fuḍayl ibn 'Iyād said: "Follow the path of guidance and do not be disillusioned by how few follow it. Beware of the paths of error and do not be deceived by how many are destroyed." And all success is by Allah.

ON IT BEING MUSTAḤABB TO STAND FOR SOMEONE WHO COMES IN, IN CASES WHERE IT IS SOMEONE OF EMINENCE, OR A PARENT OR RELATIVE

As for honouring someone who enters by standing up, we are of the opinion that it is mustaḥabb for those who have clear and manifest eminence in knowledge, piety or nobility, or leadership characterised by caring for others, or for one's parents or relations as well as those who are old. It should be done out of obedience, honour and respect and not for show and pomp. The practice of the first and later generations was based on this, which is our chosen position. I have compiled a small volume on the subject, in which I have collected the hadiths, traditions and rulings of the first generations and their actions which are proof of what I say. I have also mentioned the possible objections and explained the responses to them. So if anyone finds any of these matters problematic and wishes to study that volume, I hope that it will resolve his difficulties, if Allah, exalted is He, wills. And Allah knows best.

IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO VISIT THE ṢĀLIḤĪN AND OTHERS, AND ALSO TO HONOUR THEM AND TREAT THEM WELL

It is emphatically mustaḥabb to visit pious people, brothers, neighbours, friends and relatives and to honour, be kind to and strengthen relations with them. The protocol for this varies according to the situation one is in and one's status and availability. It is imperative that one's visit be made in a way that the people visited do not dislike and at times that they are happy with. The hadiths in this regard are many and well-known. The best of them are as follows.

¹ Qur'ān 59:7.

² Qur'ān 24:63.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A man goes to visit his brother in another village, so Allah appoints an angel [to meet him] on his way. When he comes to him he asks: 'Where are you going?' [The man] replies: 'I intend to visit my brother in this village.' He asks: 'Do you have any blessing that you wish to safeguard?' [The man] replies: 'No, it is simply that I love him for the sake of Allah ﷻ.' [The angel] says: 'I have been sent to you by Allah to inform you that Allah ﷻ loves you as you love him.'"¹

I say that madrajatuhu, 'his way', with a fathah on the mīm and the rā', means 'his path'. The meaning of tarubbuhā, 'safeguard', is 'preserve', 'shepherd' and 'foster', as when a man fosters the growth of his child.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "To whoever visits an invalid or his brother for the sake of Allah ﷻ, a caller calls out: 'You have done well; your walking is good and blessed, and you have built a mansion in Paradise.'"²

IT IS MUSTAḤABB FOR A MAN TO ASK HIS PIOUS COMPANION TO VISIT HIM AND TO VISIT HIM OFTEN

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked Jibrīl عليه السلام: "What prevents you from visiting us more often than you already do?" Then this āyah was revealed: "We descend not but by command of your Lord; to Him belongs what is before us and what is behind us."³

﴿وَمَا نَنْزِلُ إِلَّا بِأَمْرِ رَبِّكَ ۚ لَهُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِينَا وَمَا خَلْفَنَا﴾

RESPONDING WHEN SOMEONE SNEEZES, AND THE RULINGS ON YAWNING

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ likes sneezing, but He dislikes yawning. If any of you sneeze and then praise Allah, it is the duty of any Muslim who hears them to say to them: 'May Allah have mercy on you.' As for yawning, it is from Shayṭān. So if any of you yawn they should suppress it as much as possible. When any of you yawn, Shayṭān laughs at them.”¹ يَرْحَمُكَ اللَّهُ.

¹ Muslim (2567).

² At-Tirmidhī (2009) and Ibn Mājah (1442).

³ Qur'an 19:63. Al-Bukhārī (4731) and at-Tirmidhī (3157).

Yarhamuka-llāh.

I say that the scholars hold that this means that the cause for sneezing is something praiseworthy, namely the movement of the body which is low in vitality and nourishment; and this is a recommended thing for one because it weakens the passions and makes obedience easy, whereas yawning does the opposite. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any one of you sneezes he should say ‘Praise be to Allah.’ His brother and his companion should reply, ‘May Allah have mercy on you.’ If they say to him ‘May Allah have mercy on you,’ he must reply ‘May Allah guide you and put straight your concerns.’”² The learned say that bālakum (‘your concerns’) means sha’nakum (‘your affair’).

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh.

يَرْحَمُكَ اللَّهُ.

Yarhamuka-llāh.

يَهْدِيكُمُ اللَّهُ وَيُصْلِحُ بَالَكُمْ.

Yahdikumu-llāhu wa yuṣliḥu bālakum.

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas رضي الله عنه said that two men sneezed near the Prophet ﷺ, and he responded to one but not to the other. The one to whom he did not respond said: “So-and-so sneezed and you prayed for mercy for him, and I sneezed, but you did not respond.” He said: “That man praised Allah but you did not praise Allah.”³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī رضي الله عنه related: “I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: ‘If any one of you sneezes and then praises Allah, [let the others] respond to him; but if he sneezes and does not praise Allah, do not respond to him.’”⁴

We relate in the same *Ṣaḥīḥ*s that al-Barā’ رضي الله عنه narrated: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered us to do seven things and forbade us to do seven things. He ordered us to

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6223), Muslim (2941), Abū Dāwūd (5028), and at-Tirmidhī (2747).

² Al-Bukhārī (6224), Abū Dāwūd (5033), and an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (232).

³ Al-Bukhārī (6225), Muslim (2991), Abū Dāwūd (5039), at-Tirmidhī (2743), and an-Nasā’ī (222).

⁴ Muslim (2992).

visit the sick, to follow funeral processions, to respond when people sneeze, to accept invitations, to return greetings, to help the oppressed, and to assist in fulfilling a vow.”¹

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The duties of a Muslim towards other Muslims are five: to respond to their greetings, to visit them when they are sick, to follow their funeral processions, to accept their invitations and to respond when they sneeze.” According to a report by Muslim he said: “The duties of a Muslim towards another Muslim are six: when you meet him you should greet him, if he invites you you should accept, if he asks you for advice you should advise him, if he sneezes and praises Allah ﷻ you should ask for mercy for him, if he is sick you should visit him, and if he dies you should follow him [in the funeral procession].”²

WHAT A PERSON WHO SNEEZES SHOULD SAY; THE WORDING FOR A PERSON WHO ASKS FOR MERCY FOR HIM; AND THE THINGS ABOUT WHICH THERE IS A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION IN FIQH

The ‘ulamā’ agree that it is mustaḥabb to say after sneezing ‘Praise be to Allah.’ It is better to say ‘Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds.’ It is best to say ‘Praise be to Allah in all circumstances.’

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-‘ālamīn.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi ‘alā kulli ḥāl.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “When any of you sneezes he should say ‘Praise be to Allah in all circumstances.’ His brother or companion should say ‘May Allah have mercy on you.’ He should reply ‘May Allah guide you and put straight your concerns.’”³ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi ‘alā kulli ḥāl.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1239), Muslim (2066), at-Tirmidhī (2800), and an-Nasā’ī (4/54).

² Al-Bukhārī (1240), Muslim (2162), Abū Dāwūd (5030), at-Tirmidhī (2738), and an-Nasā’ī (4/53).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5033).

يَرْحَمُكَ اللَّهُ.

Yarḥamuka-llāh.

يَهْدِيكُمْ اللَّهُ وَيُصْلِحُ بَالَكُمْ.

Yahdīkumu-llāhu wa yuṣliḥu bālakum.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Umar ؓ narrated that a man sneezed next to him and said: "Praise be to Allah and blessings be upon the Messenger of Allah." So Ibn 'Umar said: "Do not say: 'Praise be to Allah and blessings be upon the Messenger of Allah.' Allah's Messenger ؐ did not teach us to do that. He taught us to say: 'Praise be to Allah in all circumstances.'"¹ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi 'alā kullī ḥāl.

I say that it is mustaḥabb for all those who hear one [sneeze] to say 'May Allah have mercy on you,' using either the singular or the plural pronoun.

يَرْحَمُكَ اللَّهُ.

Yarḥamuka-llāh.

يَرْحَمُكُمْ اللَّهُ.

Yarḥamukumu-llāh.

رَحِمَكُمُ اللَّهُ.

Raḥimakumu-llāh.

It is mustaḥabb for the person who sneezed to say thereafter 'May Allah guide you and set right your concerns,' or 'May Allah forgive us and you.'

يَهْدِيكُمْ اللَّهُ وَيُصْلِحُ بَالَكُمْ.

Yahdīkumu-llāhu wa yuṣliḥu bālakum.

وَيَغْفِرُ اللَّهُ لَنَا وَلَكُمْ.

Yaghfiru-llāhu lanā wa lakum.

We relate in the Muwatta' of Mālik from Nāfi' that Ibn 'Umar ؓ said: "If any of ¹ Ibn Mājah (3803) and at-Tirmidhī (2735), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

you sneeze and someone says to him: 'May Allah have mercy on you,' he should reply: 'May Allah have mercy on us and you, and may Allah forgive us and you.'¹ يَرْحَمُنَا اللَّهُ وَإِيَّاكُمْ وَيَغْفِرُ لَنَا وَلَكُمْ.

Yarḥamuna-llāhu wa iyyākum wa yaghfiru lanā wa lakum.

All of this is Sunnah and none of it is wājib. Our colleagues say that the tashmīt, i.e. saying, 'May Allah have mercy on you,' is a Sunnah kifāyah, and so if one person carries it out everyone else is absolved; but it is best for each one of them to say it, because of the literal meaning of the ṣaḥīḥ hadith we have previously cited, "... it is a duty on every Muslim who hears him to say to him, 'May Allah have mercy on you.'"

What we have said here about it being mustaḥabb to ask for mercy on the one who sneezes is [according to] our madhhab. The companions of Mālik differed as to whether it is incumbent. Qāḍī 'Abd al-Waḥḥāb said that it is Sunnah and that one person asking for mercy suffices for a group of people, as in our madhhab. According to Ibn Muzayn, it is incumbent on every single one of them, and Ibn al-'Arabī adopted that position.

ONE DOES NOT ASK FOR MERCY FOR PEOPLE WHO SNEEZE
IF THEY DO NOT PRAISE ALLAH, EXALTED IS HE

If the person who sneezes does not praise Allah, they should not be responded to because of the preceding hadith. The minimum praise, asking for mercy and response that one should give is to raise one's voice so that his companion may hear.

ONE SHOULD NOT ASK FOR MERCY FOR SOMEONE WHO SNEEZES
IF HE DEPARTS FROM THE WORDING 'PRAISE BE TO ALLAH'

If the person who sneezes says words other than 'Praise be to Allah,' he should not be responded to.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Sālim ibn 'Ubayd al-'Ashja'i ؓ, a Companion, narrated: "While we were with the Messenger of Allah ؐ a man sneezed and said 'Peace be upon you.' The Messenger of Allah ؐ said 'And on you and on your mother.' Then he said: 'If anyone sneezes he should praise Allah, and those who are with him should say: 'May Allah have mercy on you.' He should respond to them by saying: 'May Allah forgive us and you.'"² يَرْحَمُكَ اللَّهُ.

Yarḥamuka-llāh.

¹ Al-Muwaṭṭa' (2/965).

² Abū Dāwūd (5029), at-Tirmidhī (2746), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (225).

THE DIFFERENT VIEWS OF THE FUQAHĀ' ABOUT SOMEONE WHO SNEEZES IN ṢALĀH

If one sneezes in ṣalāh, it is mustaḥabb for him to say: 'Praise be to Allah' loud enough so that he can hear himself. That is our position. The followers of Mālik have three rulings: first, this same ruling, which is that of [Qāḍī] Ibn al-'Arabī; second, that he should praise [Allah] within himself; and third—as Ṣaḥnūn said—that he should not praise aloud or silently.

THE PERSON SNEEZING PLACING HIS HAND OR GARMENT
OVER HIS MOUTH IS PART OF THE SUNNAH

It is Sunnah to put one's hand or garment or suchlike over one's mouth when sneezing, and to lower the voice.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ sneezed he put his hand or clothes over his mouth and lowered his voice.¹ The narrator was not sure as to which of the two wordings he said. At-Tirmidhī said the hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ dislikes raising the voice when yawning or sneezing."²

We relate in it that Umm Salamah ؓ reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Loud yawning and excessive sneezing is from Shayṭān.'"³

SOMEONE WHO SNEEZES REPEATEDLY AND WHAT IS NARRATED ABOUT IT

If a person sneezes repeatedly, it is Sunnah to respond to him each time he sneezes, up to three times.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Salamah ibn al-Akwa' ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard a man sneeze near him. He said to him: "May Allah have mercy on you." Then he sneezed again, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The man has a cold."⁴ That is the wording in Muslim's narration. According to the report by Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, Salamah

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5029) and at-Tirmidhī (2746).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (268).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (264).

⁴ Muslim (2993), Abū Dāwūd (5037), at-Tirmidhī (2744), Ibn Mājah (3714) and an-Nasā'ī (223).

reported: "A man sneezed near the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when I was present. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'May Allah have mercy on you.' Then [the man] sneezed twice or thrice, so the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'May Allah have mercy on you. This man has a cold.'" At-Tirmidhī classed this as a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that 'Ubaydullāh ibn Rifā'ah ؓ, a Companion, related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Responding to someone who sneezes is to be done thrice. So if he sneezes again after that, you may respond if you wish but you do not have to."¹ This is a weak hadith: at-Tirmidhī classified it as weak and its isnād is majhūl (unidentifiable).

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with an isnād that has one unverifiable transmitter although the rest is ṣaḥīḥ, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'When any one of you sneezes, those who are sitting with him must respond. If he sneezes more than thrice he has a cold, so do not respond after the third time.'"²

The 'ulamā' differ about this. According to Ibn al-'Arabī, it is said that one should respond the second time by saying 'You have a cold'; but some say it is the third time. He says that the meaning is, 'You are not one of those who must be responded to by asking for mercy upon them after this, because what you have is a cold and an illness, not an insignificant sneeze.'

Someone may object that if he is ill then one ought to supplicate for him and respond with a supplication for mercy, since he has more right to a du'ā' than anyone else. The answer is that it is mustaḥabb to make a du'ā' for him—not with the Sharī'ah du'ā' made for someone who sneezes, but rather with the du'ā' of a Muslim for well-being and safety for a Muslim and similar things. That, however, does not fall into the category of responding by asking for mercy for a person when they sneeze.

SOMEONE WHO SNEEZES AND DOES NOT PRAISE ALLAH, OR WHOSE PRAISING IS NOT HEARD, OR IS ONLY HEARD BY SOME PEOPLE

If someone sneezes and does not praise Allah ﷻ, as already stated he should not be responded to. Likewise, if he praises Allah ﷻ and no-one hears him, he should not be responded to. If he is in a group of people and some of them hear, those who hear should respond—but not the rest.

Ibn al-'Arabī al-Mālikī mentions a disagreement about those who do not hear [a man who had sneezed] praising Allah but do hear the response of those with him. He said that [in such a case] one should respond, because he knows about the sneeze and the praise because of the response of the others. Others say he should not respond because he did not hear him.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5036) and at-Tirmidhī (2745). The latter states that this hadith is gharīb and that its chain is unknown. However, Ibn Ḥajar disagrees with him and argues that most of its narrators are trustworthy. Ibn al-'Arabī contends that although this chain contains an unknown narrator it is mustaḥabb to act upon it. Ibn Ḥajar also mentions supporting narrations for this hadith: see Fath al-Bārī (10/605–606).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (251).

Know that if a man does not praise Allah at all, it is mustahabb for those who are near him to remind him to praise Allah. This is preferable. We have related in Ma'ālim as-Sunan by al-Khaṭṭābī a similar statement from the great master Ibrāhīm an-Nakha'ī. This is [part of] sincere advice, enjoining good, and helping one another towards piety and fear of Allah. Ibn al-'Arabī says that this is not to be done and that it is ignorance on the part of the person who does it; but he is mistaken in his claim, for on the contrary the correct position is that it is mustahabb, for reasons I have mentioned. And success is only by Allah.

IF A JEW SNEEZES

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ said: "Some Jews used to pretend to sneeze near the Messenger of Allah ؐ hoping that he would say to them 'May Allah have mercy on you', so that [the Jew] could then reply 'May Allah guide you and set right your concerns.'"¹

It is reported in the Musnad of Abū Ya'lā al-Mawṣilī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: "If a man narrates a hadith and someone sneezes near him, [he has spoken] the truth." Everyone in the isnād is reliable and proficient apart from Baqiyyah ibn al-Walīd, about whom there is disagreement. Most of the ḥāfiẓ memorisers and imams use his narrations from the people of Shām in proof, and he did narrate this hadith from Mu'āwiyah ibn Yaḥyā ash-Shāmī.

IT IS SUNNAH TO SUPPRESS A YAWN AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE, AND IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO PLACE ONE'S HAND OVER ONE'S MOUTH

When one yawns it is Sunnah to restrain it as much as possible because of the aforementioned ṣaḥīḥ hadith. It is Sunnah to cover the mouth with the hand, because of what we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: "If any one of you yawns he should hold his hand over his mouth, for [otherwise] Shayṭān enters."²

I say that it is the same whether the yawning happens in ṣalāh or not: it is mustahabb to cover one's mouth with one's hand. It is only makrūh for the worshipper to put his hand over his mouth when there is no need to, as there is when yawning and the like. And Allah knows best."

¹ Abū Dāwūd (5038) and at-Tirmidhī (2740).

² Muslim (2995) and Abū Dāwūd (5026).⁸⁷⁸ Muslim (3002), Abū Dāwūd (4804), and at-Tirmidhī (2395).

PRAISE

PRAISING A MAN and extolling his virtues may be done to his face or in his absence. There is no restriction on what may be said in his absence, unless the person who praises speculates and begins to lie, when it becomes ḥarām because of the lies and not because of the praise. Praise in which there is no falsehood is mustaḥabb as long as some benefit accrues from it and it would not cause harm if it were conveyed to the person who is praised by causing him to be tempted [into vanity] and misguided. There are hadiths which rule that praising a person to his face is permissible or mustaḥabb. There are also hadiths which rule that it is forbidden. The way to reconcile these hadiths is as follows: if the person who is praised is perfect in faith and has good conviction and spiritual understanding and knowledge, so that he will not be tempted or beguiled by it and his soul will not play games with him, then it is not ḥarām or makrūh. If there is a risk of any of these things, it is extremely makrūh to praise him.

Among the hadiths which prohibit it is one which we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim: that al-Miqdād ؓ related that a man started to praise ‘Uthmān ؓ, so al-Miqdād knelt down and threw pebbles in his face. ‘Uthmān asked him: “What is wrong with you?” He replied: “The Messenger of Allah ؐ said: ‘If you see people praising [others], scatter dust in their faces.’”¹

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī ؓ reported that the Prophet ؐ heard a man praising another man lavishly. He said: “You have destroyed” (or “you have cut”) “that man’s back.”² I say that yutṛihi (‘praising him lavishly’) is written with a ḍammah on the yā, a sukūn on the ṭā, and a kasrah on the rā after which there is a yā, and that iṭrā (its verbal noun) means to praise exaggeratedly and go beyond the limits. Some say that it simply means ‘praise’.

In another hadith, Abū Bakrah ؓ narrated that a man was mentioned in front of the Messenger of Allah ؐ, and good was spoken of him. So the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “Woe to you! You have cut the neck of your companion.” He said it repeatedly. He said: “If any one of you has no choice but to praise, then say: ‘I think he is like this, or like that.’ If he thinks he is like that, then Allah is his Judge; so do not praise any one before Allah.”³

The hadiths which permit [praising people] are innumerable, but we will point out only a number of them, such as his ؐ saying in one authentic hadith to Abū Bakr ؓ: “What do you think about two, the third of whom is Allah?”⁴ According to another hadith he said: “You are not one of them”⁵—that is, one of those who wear

1 Muslim (2995) Abū Dāwūd (5026)

2 Al-Bukhārī (2663) and Muslim (3001).

3 Al-Bukhārī (2662), Muslim (3000), and Abū Dāwūd (4805).

4 Al-Bukhārī (3653), Muslim (2381), and at-Tirmidhī (3095).

5 Al-Bukhārī (3665), Muslim (2382), and at-Tirmidhī (3661).

their trousers long out of pride. According to another, he said: "Abū Bakr, do not weep. The person who has favoured me most with his company and wealth is Abū Bakr. If I had to choose a close friend from my Ummah I would choose Abū Bakr."¹ According to another he said: "I hope that you are one of them"²—that is, one of those who will be called from all the gates of Paradise to enter through them. According to another he said: "Grant him permission, and give him the glad tidings of Paradise."³ According to another hadith he said: "Be still, Uḥud, for upon you are a Prophet, a ṣiddiq (a person of immense faith), and two martyrs."⁴

The Messenger of Allah ﷺ related: "I entered Paradise and I saw a palace. I asked: 'Whose is this?' They replied: 'It belongs to 'Umar.' I wanted to enter it, but I remembered your jealousy."⁵ 'Umar ؓ said: "May my father and mother be sacrificed for you, Messenger of Allah! Could I be jealous of you?" According to another hadith he said: "'Umar, never does Shayṭān meet you walking on a path without him taking a different way from yours."⁶

According to another hadith he said: "Open [the door] for 'Uthmān, and give him the good news of Paradise."⁷

According to another hadith he told 'Alī: "You are from me and I am from you."⁸ According to another, he asked 'Alī: "Are you not pleased to be to me as Hārūn was to Mūsā, in status and relationship?"⁹

According to another hadith he told Bilāl ؓ: "I hear the sound of your shoes in Paradise."¹⁰

According to another hadith he said to Ubayy ibn Ka'b ؓ: "Congratulations on your knowledge, Abū Mundhir."¹¹

According to another hadith he told 'Abdullāh ibn Salām ؓ: "You will be in Islam until you die."¹²

According to another hadith he told an Anṣārī: "Allah smiled and was impressed with the deed you two did."¹³ According to another, he told the Anṣār: "You are the most beloved people to me."¹⁴

According to another hadith he said to Ashajj 'Abd al-Qays ؓ: "You have two traits that Allah and His Prophet love: forbearance and perseverance."¹⁵

1 Al-Bukhārī (3656).

2 Al-Bukhārī (3666) and Muslim (86).

3 Al-Bukhārī (3674), Muslim (2403), and at-Tirmidhī (3711).

4 Al-Bukhārī (3699).

5 Al-Bukhārī (3679) and Muslim (2395).

6 Al-Bukhārī (3683) and Muslim (2396).

7 Al-Bukhārī (3674) and Muslim (2403).

8 Al-Bukhārī (7/70), in a ta'liq form.

9 Al-Bukhārī (3706) and Muslim (2404).

10 Al-Bukhārī (1149) and Muslim (2458).

11 Muslim (810) and Abū Dāwūd (1460).

12 Al-Bukhārī (3813) and Muslim (2484).

13 Al-Bukhārī (3798) and Muslim (2053).

14 Al-Bukhārī (3785) and Muslim (2508).

15 Muslim (2593).

The hadiths that I have quoted are some of the well-known authentic ones, so I have not added any references. Other reports which mention him ﷺ praising a person to their face are innumerable. Reports about praising the Companions, the Ṭābi'in, the 'ulamā', and Imams who have many followers are countless. And Allah knows best.

Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī says at the end of the chapter on zakāh in his Ihyā': "When a man gives charity, the recipient should investigate, and if the person who gives it is one of those who love to be thanked and to publicise [their charity], he should hide it. This is because in order to fulfil his rights he must not help him in wrongdoing, and seeking thanks is wrongdoing. If he knows from his condition that he does not love being thanked and does not seek it, he should thank him and make his charity known. Sufyān ath-Thawrī said: 'One who knows himself will not be harmed by people's praise.'"

Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī said, after what we have just quoted: "The finer points of these principles are what those who watch their hearts should be mindful of. If such outward acts are performed by someone heedless of these realities, they are a laughing matter for Shayṭān and a source of pleasure to him, and may involve much exertion with little benefit. An example of such knowledge is the saying 'Studying a Sūrah [of Qur'ān] is better than a year of worship': for this knowledge gives life to the worship of a lifetime, whereas ignorance of it kills and invalidates all the worship of a lifetime. And it is Allah Who gives guidance and ability."

223

PRAISING ONESELF AND MENTIONING
ONE'S OWN GOOD QUALITIES

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "So do not think highly of yourselves."

﴿فَلَا تُزَكُّوْا اَنْفُسَكُمْ﴾

Know that to speak of one's own good qualities can either be blameworthy or approved of. What is blameworthy is to mention them with pride and a display of superiority and importance over one's peers. What is approved of is that in which there is some religious benefit. This [may arise from the speaker] enjoining good and discouraging evil, advising, guiding people to what is advantageous, teaching, training, admonishing, reminding or making peace between two people, or warding off evil. A person may mention his own good qualities intending thereby to make it easier to accept his word and believe what he is saying, or that "This thing that I am telling you, you will not find it with anyone other than me, so learn it from me," and so on.

There are innumerable texts in this regard. The Prophet ﷺ said: "I am the Prophet, and that is no lie," "I am the leader of the progeny of Adam," "I shall be the first for whom the earth will split," "I am the most knowledgeable of you about Allah and I fear Him the most," and "I spend the night with my Lord." There are many similar sayings.

Yūsuf ﷺ said: "Set me over the storehouses of the land. I shall be a knowledgeable guardian."¹

اجْعَلْنِي عَلَى خَزَائِنِ الْأَرْضِ إِنِّي حَفِيظٌ عَلِيمٌ

Shu'ayb ﷺ said: "Truly you will find me, if Allah wills, one of the righteous."²

﴿سَتَجِدُنِي إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ مِنَ الصَّالِحِينَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that when 'Uthmān ﷺ was besieged, he said: "Do you not know that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Whoever equips the troubled army will have Paradise'? I equipped them. Do you not know that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Whoever digs the well of Rūmah will have Paradise'? I dug it". Those present confirmed what he said.³

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s about Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ that the people of Kūfah complained to 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ about Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ﷺ, saying: "He does not perform the ṣalāh properly." Sa'd said: "By Allah, I was the first of the Arabs to shoot an arrow for the Cause of Allah. We went out for the Cause of Allah with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ." He then cited the rest of the hadith.⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Alī ﷺ said: "By Him Who splits the seed and created the soul, the Prophet ﷺ made a vow to me that no one loves me but a believer and no one hates me but a hypocrite."⁵

I say that bara'a ('created') is written with a hamzah, and it means the same as khalaqa. Nasamah ('soul') means the same as nafs ('self' or 'soul').

We relate in both *Ṣaḥīḥ*s that Abū Wā'il narrated that Ibn Mas'ūd ﷺ addressed [the Tābi'in], saying: "By Allah, I have learned from the mouth of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ some seventy *Sūrah*s. The Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ knew that I was one of the most learned among them about the Book of Allah, although I was not the best of them. If I knew of anyone more learned than me I would travel to him."⁶

There are innumerable hadiths similar to these which are all interpretable in the way we have mentioned. And it is Allah Who grants success.

¹ Qur'ān 12:55.

² Qur'ān 28:27.

³ Al-Bukhārī (2778).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (3728), Muslim (2966), and at-Tirmidhī (2366).

⁵ Muslim (78).

⁶ Al-Bukhārī (5002), Muslim (2462), and an-Nasā'ī (8/134).

QUESTIONS RELATED TO THE PRECEDING SUBJECT

WHAT IT IS MUSTAḤABB TO SAY TO SOMEONE WHO CALLS YOU

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to answer, when someone calls out to you, 'At your service, and at your command', or simply 'At your service.'

لَبَّيْكَ وَسَعْدَيْكَ.

Labbayka wa sa'dayk.

لَبَّيْكَ.

Labbayka.

It is mustaḥabb to say 'Welcome' to a person who comes to one, or to say to anyone who treats one well or whom one sees doing a good deed: 'May Allah protect you,' or 'May Allah reward you with goodness.' The proof of this is contained in many authentic hadiths.

مَرْحَبًا.

Marḥabā.

حَفِظَكَ اللَّهُ.

Hafizaka-llāh.

جَزَاكَ اللَّهُ خَيْرًا.

Jazāka-llāhu khayran.

There is no harm in saying to a man who is revered for his knowledge, piety and so on: 'May Allah make me your ransom' or 'May my father and mother be your ransom.' The proof of this is contained in many authentic hadiths, which I have omitted for the sake of brevity.

جَعَلَنِي اللَّهُ فِدَاكَ.

Ja'alani-llāhu fidāk.

فِدَاكَ أَبِي وَأُمِّي.

Fidāka abī wa ummī.

ON A WOMAN MAKING HER EXPRESSION ROUGHER WHEN SPEAKING TO PEOPLE OTHER THAN CLOSE FAMILY

If a woman needs to talk to a man who is not precluded from marriage to her in order to buy or sell something, she must show diffidence and roughness in her speech and she should not speak gently, to avoid the danger that he may desire her.

Imam Abū al-Ḥasan al-Wāḥidī, one of our [Shāfi‘ī] colleagues, says in his book al-Basīṭ: “A woman is to be instructed, when addressing strangers, to speak in a severe tone, because that is less likely to create desire for the doubtful. She should do the same if she addresses someone who is unlawful to her because of being an in-law. Do you not see that Allah ﷻ gave this advice to the Mothers of the Believers, who are eternally unlawful [to anyone but the Prophet ﷺ]? Allah ﷻ says: “Wives of the Prophet, you are not like any [other] women. If you fear Allah, be not too complaisant of speech, lest one in whose heart is disease should be moved by desire; but speak words (that are) respectable.”¹

﴿يَا نِسَاءَ النَّبِيِّ لَسْتُنَّ كَأَحَدٍ مِّنَ النِّسَاءِ إِنِ اتَّقَيْتُنَّ فَلَا تَخْضَعْنَ
بِالْقَوْلِ فَيَطْمَعَ الَّذِي فِي قَلْبِهِ مَرَضٌ وَقُلْنَ قَوْلًا مَّعْرُوفًا﴾

I say that what al-Wāḥidī says regarding roughness of voice is also mentioned by our companions. According to Shaykh Ibrāhīm al-Marwazī, one of our companions, [the best] way to roughen her voice is for her to put the back of her hand to her mouth and reply like that. And Allah knows best.

Al-Wāḥidī’s point about those unlawful to marry through their being in-laws being in the same case as non-relatives is weak and contradicts what is well-known among our colleagues, because they are like those who are unlawful by way of kinship as regards looking at them and being in seclusion with them. As for the Mothers of the Believers, they are only sacrosanct in virtue of marriage to them being unlawful as well as the obligation to respect them. Hence, marriage to their daughters is permitted. And Allah knows best.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ASKING FOR A WOMAN'S HAND IN MARRIAGE FROM HER FAMILY, FOR HIMSELF OR FOR SOMEONE ELSE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB for a man to start his proposal with the praise of Allah and invoking blessings upon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, saying: "I bear witness that there is no god but Allah alone without partner, and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. I have come to you seeking your young woman So-and-so [in marriage]" or "your honoured daughter So-and-so (daughter of So-and-so)", or something similar.

أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ.

Ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa Rasūluh.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Every speech," and in some narrations "every undertaking", "that is not started with the praise of Allah is cut off."¹ It has also been narrated as aqṭa', 'severed', and both words have the same meaning. This is a ḥasan hadith. Ajdham, 'cut off', with jīm and dhāl, means that it has little blessing in it.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Every proposal in which there is no shahādah is like a cut-off hand."² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

A MAN OFFERING HIS DAUGHTER'S HAND IN MARRIAGE TO VIRTUOUS PEOPLE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ reported that when the husband of his daughter Ḥaḥṣah ؓ passed away he said, "I met 'Uthmān ؓ and offered her to him in marriage. I said: 'If you wish, I will give you Ḥaḥṣah, daughter of 'Umar, in marriage.' He said: 'I will look into my affairs.' I waited a few days, then he met me and said: 'It has become apparent to me that I should not marry now.' Then I met Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ؓ and said: 'If you wish, I will give you Ḥaḥṣah, daughter of 'Umar, in marriage.' Abū Bakr ؓ kept quiet." Then he mentioned the rest of the hadith.'

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4840), Ibn Mājah (1894), and an-Nasā'ī (494).

² Abū Dāwūd (4841) and at-Tirmidhī (1106).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN MAKING THE MARRIAGE CONTRACT

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to deliver a sermon before the contract. The sermon should contain what we mentioned in the previous chapter, but this sermon should be longer. The same applies whether the sermon is delivered by the one who makes the contract or by someone else.

The best [sermon] is the following.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah, as well as others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught [his Companions] the sermon of need: "All praise be to Allah. We ask for His help and His forgiveness and we seek His protection from the evil of our souls. Whomever Allah has guided none can lead astray, and whomever He has led astray none can guide. I bear witness that there is no god but Allah and I bear witness that Muḥammad is His slave and Messenger. 'O mankind, revere your Guardian Lord, Who created you from a single soul and created from it its mate, and from those two scattered countless men and women. Fear Allah, through Whom you demand your mutual rights; and revere the wombs which bore you, for Allah ever watches over you'"²

"O you who believe, fear Allah as He should be feared, and die not except in a state of Islam."³

"O you who believe, fear Allah, and say a word directed to the right, that He may make your actions sound and forgive you your sins. He that obeys Allah and His Messenger has attained a mighty triumph."⁴

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ نَسْتَعِينُهُ وَنَسْتَغْفِرُهُ، وَنَعُوذُ بِهِ مِنْ شُرُورِ أَنْفُسِنَا. مَنْ يَهْدِ اللَّهُ فَلَا مُضِلَّ لَهُ،
وَمَنْ يَضِلَّ فَلَا هَادِيَ لَهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ، وَأَشْهَدُ أَنَّ مُحَمَّدًا عَبْدُهُ وَرَسُولُهُ،

يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَحِدَةٍ

1 Al-Bukhārī (5122) and an-Nasā'ī (6/83).

2 Qur'ān 4:1.

3 Qur'ān 3:102.

4 Qur'ān 33:70-71.

وَخَلَقَ مِنْهَا زَوْجَهَا وَبَثَّ مِنْهُمَا رِجَالًا كَثِيرًا وَنِسَاءً ۚ وَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ الَّذِي تَسَاءَلُونَ بِهِ ۚ وَالْأَرْحَامَ ۚ إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ عَلَيْكُمْ رَقِيبًا ۝

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ حَقَّ تَقَاتِهِ ۚ وَلَا تَمُوتُنَّ إِلَّا وَأَنتُمْ مُسْلِمُونَ﴾

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَقُولُوا قَوْلًا سَدِيدًا ۖ * يُصْلِحْ لَكُمْ أَعْمَالَكُمْ وَيَغْفِرْ لَكُمْ ذُنُوبَكُمْ ۗ وَمَنْ يُطِيعِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ فَقَدْ فَازَ فَوْزًا عَظِيمًا﴾

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi nasta'inuhu wa nastaghfiruh, wa na'ūdhu bihi min shurūri anfusinā. Man yahdi-llāhu fa-lā muḍilla lah, wa man yuḍlil fa-lā hādiya lah. Wa ashhadu an lā ilāha illa-llāh, wa ashhadu anna Muḥammadan 'abduhu wa Rasūluh. Yā ayyuhā-n-nāsu-ttaqū Rabbakumu-lladhī khalaqakum min nafsin wāḥidatin wa khalaqa minhā zawjahā wa baththa minhumā rijālan kathīran wa nisā'ā, wa-ttaqu-llāha-lladhī tasā'ulūna bihi wa-l-arḥām. Inna-llāha kāna 'alaykum Raqībā.

Yā ayyuha-lladhīna āmanu-ttaqu-llāha ḥaqqa tuqātihī wa lā tamūtunna illā wa antum Muslimūn.

Yā ayyuha-lladhīna āmanu-ttaqu-llāha wa qūlū qawlan sadīdan yuṣliḥ lakum a'mālakum wa yaghfir lakum dhunūbakum. Wa man yuṭī'i-llāha wa Rasūlahu fa-qad fāza fawzan 'azīmā.

That is the wording of one of Abū Dāwūd's narrations. According to another report¹, after saying "And His Messenger" he also said: "Allah sent him with the truth as a bearer of glad tidings and a warner before the Hour. Whoever obeys Allah and His Prophet has been guided; whoever disobeys them harms none but himself, nor does he harm Allah at all."² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

أَرْسَلَهُ بِالْحَقِّ بَشِيرًا وَنَذِيرًا بَيْنَ يَدَيْ السَّاعَةِ، مَنْ يُطِيعِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ فَقَدْ رَشَدَ، وَمَنْ يَعَصِيهِمَا فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَضُرُّ إِلَّا نَفْسَهُ، وَلَا يَضُرُّ اللَّهَ شَيْئًا.

Arsalahu bi-l-ḥaqqi bashīran wa nadhīran bayna yadayyi-s-sā'ah. Man yuṭī'i-llāha wa Rasūlahu fa-qad rashad, wa man ya'ṣihimā fa-innahu lā yaḍurru illā nafsah, wa lā yaḍurru-llāha shay'ā.

According to our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, it is mustaḥabb to say also: 'I marry you with what Allah has commanded to do: to hold together on equitable terms, or separate with kindness.'

¹ Abū Dāwūd (2118), at-Tirmidhī (1105), an-Nasā'i (6/89), and Ibn Mājah (1892).

² Abū Dāwūd (2119).

أَزْوَجَكَ عَلَى مَا أَمَرَ اللَّهُ بِهِ مِنْ إِمْسَاكِ بِمَعْرُوفٍ أَوْ تَسْرِيجٍ بِإِحْسَانٍ.

Uzawwijuka 'alā mā amara-llāhu bihi min imsākin bi-ma'rūfin aw tasrihin bi-ihsān.

The shortest [possible form] of these sermons is: 'Praise be to Allah and blessings be upon the Messenger of Allah. I advise [people] to [have] fear of Allah.' And Allah knows best.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَالصَّلَاةُ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ، أَوْصِي بِتَقْوَى اللَّهِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi wa-ṣ-ṣalātu 'alā Rasūli-llāh. Uṣī bi-taqwa-llāh.

Know that this sermon is Sunnah. The chosen position is that if one does not deliver any of it the marriage is still valid, according to the consensus of the 'ulamā'. It is cited of Dāwūd aḏ-Ḍāhir, may Allah be merciful to him, that he said that it is not valid, but the 'ulamā' who make careful investigation do not consider Dāwūd's difference of opinion one to be reckoned with, and he does not break the consensus by his opposition. And Allah knows best.

The bridegroom does not deliver any sermon. If the legal guardian says to him 'I marry you to So-and-so' he should say at once, 'I accept her in marriage' زَوَّجْتُكَ فُلَانَةً.

Zawwajtuka (name).

قَبِلْتُ تَزْوِيجَهَا.

Qabiltu tazwījahā.

قَبِلْتُ نِكَاحَهَا.

Qabiltu nikāḥahā.

If [the bridegroom] says: 'Praise be to Allah and blessings be upon the Messenger of Allah. I accept,' the marriage is valid and these [extra] words between the offer and acceptance will not affect it because it is but little, and it is associated with the contract. However, some of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues have said that it invalidates the contract, while others have said that it does not invalidate it and that on the contrary it is mustaḥabb for [the bridegroom] to say it. The correct position, as stated above, is that he should not say that but that if he goes against [that], the marriage contract is not invalidated. And Allah knows best.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، وَالصَّلَاةُ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh, wa-ṣ-ṣalātu 'alā Rasūli-llāh ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

1 There are two sentences in Arabic here that both mean exactly the same in English.

WHAT TO SAY TO THE GROOM AFTER THE CONTRACT HAS BEEN MADE

IT IS SUNNAH to say: 'May Allah bless you, or 'may He send blessings upon you and may He unite you in goodness.'

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ.

بَارَكَ عَلَيْكَ، وَجَمَعَ بَيْنَكُمَا فِي خَيْرٍ.

Bāraka-llāhu lak.

Bāraka 'alayk, wa jama'a baynakumā fī khayr.

It is mustahabb to say to the bride and groom: 'May Allah bless each of you in your partner and unite you in goodness.'

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لِكُلِّ وَاحِدٍ مِّنْكُمَا فِي صَاحِبِهِ، وَجَمَعَ بَيْنَكُمَا فِي خَيْرٍ.

Bāraka-llāhu li-kulli wāhidin minkumā fī ṣāhibih, wa jama'a baynakumā fī khayr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ؓ related that the Prophet ﷺ said to 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf ؓ, when he informed him that he had got married, "May Allah bless you."¹ بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu lak.

We relate, again from the Ṣaḥīḥ, that he ﷺ said to Jābir ؓ, when he informed him that he had got married, "May Allah bless you."² بَارَكَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu 'alayk.

We relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, Ibn Mājah and others, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ congratulated a man when he had married he said: "May Allah bless you, shower blessings on you, and unite you in goodness."³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5155), Muslim (1427), al-Muwaṭṭa' (2/545), Abū Dāwūd (2109), at-Tirmidhī (1094), and an-Nasā'ī (6/137).

² Al-Bukhārī (6387), Muslim (715), Abū Dāwūd (2048), at-Tirmidhī (1086), and an-Nasā'ī (6/69).

³ Abū Dāwūd (2130, at-Tirmidhī (1091), Ibn Mājah (1905), and al-Futūḥāt (6/79). Ibn Ḥajar mentions بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ، وَبَارَكَ عَلَيْكَ، وَجَمَعَ بَيْنَكُمَا فِي خَيْرٍ.

Bāraka-llāhu lak, wa bāraka 'alayk, wa jama'a baynakumā fī khayr.

THE DISAPPROVAL OF ADDING 'WITH CLOSE UNION AND CHILDREN'

It is makrūh to say to [a newly wedded man]: 'with close union and children.' We will discuss the evidence for the disapproval of this in the chapter on guarding the tongue at the end of this book.

Rifā', with a kasrah on the rā' and with a maddah [on the fā'], means 'union'.

229

WHAT THE GROOM SHOULD SAY WHEN HIS BRIDE COMES TO HIM ON THE WEDDING NIGHT

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to mention the name of Allah and then hold her by the forelock when he first meets her, and to say: 'May Allah bless each of us in our companion':

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لِكُلِّ وَاحِدٍ مِنَّا فِي صَاحِبِهِ.

Bāraka-llāhu li-kulli wāḥidin minnā fī ṣāhibih.

And to say together with it that which we relate, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah, that 'Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father, who reported that his grandfather related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any of you marries a woman or buys a slavegirl, he should say: 'O Allah, I ask for the good in her and the good that You have created in her, and I seek Your protection from her evil and the evil that You have created in her.'"¹ If he buys a camel he should take hold of the top of its hump and say the same. According to another report he said: "Then he should take hold of her forelock and say a du'ā' for blessing in the woman or the slavegirl."² that Abū al-Faṭḥ al-Qushayrī, in his book al-Iqtirāḥ, grades it as ṣaḥīḥ according to the criteria of Imam Muslim.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (2130), at-Tirmidhī (1091), and Ibn Mājah (1905). Ibn Ḥajar states that Abū al-Faṭḥ al-Qushayrī in al-Iqtirāḥ grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ according to the criteria of Imam Muslim. Al-Futūḥāt (6/79).

² Abū Dāwūd (2160), Ibn Mājah (1918), Ibn as-Sunnī (605), and al-Ḥākim in al-Mustadrak (2/185), who grades this hadith as ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهَا وَخَيْرَ مَا جَبَلْتَهَا عَلَيْهِ، وَأَعُوذُ
بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَشَرِّ مَا جَبَلْتَهَا عَلَيْهِ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayrahā wa khayra mā jabaltahā 'alayh, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihā wa sharri mā jabaltahā 'alayh.

230

WHAT TO SAY TO THE GROOM AFTER HIS MARRIAGE HAS BEEN CONSUMMATED

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ consummated his marriage with Zaynab ؓ and gave a banquet with bread and meat. He described the banquet and the number of guests who were invited to it. Then he said: "Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out and went to the room of 'Ā'ishah ؓ and said: 'Peace be upon you, people of the house, and the mercy and blessings of Allah.' She answered: 'And on you be peace and the mercy of Allah. How did you find your family [i.e. wife]? May Allah bless you.' He visited the rooms of all his wives and said the same as he had said to 'Ā'ishah ؓ, and they said the same as she had said."¹ السَّلَامُ عَلَيْكُمْ أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ.

As-salāmu 'alaykum ahla-l-bayti wa raḥmatu-llāh.

وَعَلَيْكَ السَّلَامُ وَرَحْمَةُ اللَّهِ، كَيْفَ وَجَدْتَ أَهْلَكَ؟ بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ.

Wa 'alayka-s-salāmu wa raḥmatu-llāh, kayfa wajadta ahlak? Bāraka-llāhu lak.

231

WHAT TO SAY DURING INTERCOURSE

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If any one of you goes to his wife and says: 'In the name of ¹ Al-Bukhārī (4793), Muslim (1428), and an-Nasā'ī (6/79).

Allah. O Allah, protect us from Shayṭān and keep Shayṭān away from what You have provided us,' if a child is decreed for them Shayṭān will not harm him.'¹ According to another report by al-Bukhārī he said, "Shayṭān will never harm him."

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ، اللَّهُمَّ جَنِّبْنَا الشَّيْطَانَ، وَجَنِّبِ الشَّيْطَانَ مَا رَزَقْتَنَا.

Bismi-llāh, Allāhumma jannibna-sh-Shayṭān, wa jannibi-sh-Shayṭāna mā razaqtanā.

232

A MAN PLAYING WITH HIS WIFE AND JOKING
AND TALKING GENTLY TO HER

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jābir ؓ related: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked me: 'Have you married a virgin or a woman who has previously been married?' I replied: 'I married a woman who has previously been married.' He said: 'Why did you not marry a virgin, so that you could play with her and she with you?'"²

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī and the Sunan of an-Nasā'ī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The most perfect of the believers in faith is the one who is best in character and gentlest to his family."³

233

THE ETIQUETTE FOR A HUSBAND SPEAKING TO HIS RELATIVES BY MARRIAGE

IT IS MUSTAḤABB for the husband, when speaking to any of his wife's relatives, not to use words that mention intercourse, kissing, embracing or any kind of [physical] pleasure. He should also not say anything that alludes to it or could be construed to mean it.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Alī ؓ said: "I used to have ¹ Al-Bukhārī (5165), Muslim (1434), Abū Dāwūd (2161), at-Tirmidhī (1092), Ibn Mājah (1919), an-Nasā'ī (266) and Ibn as-Sunnī (613).

² Al-Bukhārī (6387), and Muslim (715).

³ At-Tirmidhī (2615).

a lot of pre-seminal discharge and I was shy to ask the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about it because of the status of his daughter with me, so I told al-Miqdād and he asked him.”¹

234

WHAT TO SAY DURING CHILDBIRTH AND WHEN A WOMAN IS IN LABOUR

IT IS ESSENTIAL to repeat many times the du‘ā for difficulty that we mentioned earlier.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Fāṭimah ﷺ narrated that when her time for delivery approached, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told Umm Salamah ﷺ and Zaynab bint Jaḥsh ﷺ to recite the Verse of the Throne:

“Allah! There is no god but He, the Living, the Self-Subsisting, Supporter of all. No slumber can seize Him, nor sleep. His are all things in the heavens and on the earth. Who can intercede in His presence except as He permits? He knows what is before and what is behind them; nor shall they compass aught of His knowledge except as He wills. His Throne extends over the heavens and the earth, and He feels no fatigue in preserving them, for He is the Most High, the Immense.”²

﴿اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ لَا تَأْخُذُهُ سِنَّةٌ وَلَا نَوْمٌ لَهُ مَا فِي
السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ مَنْ ذَا الَّذِي يَشْفَعُ عِنْدَهُ إِلَّا بِإِذْنِهِ يَعْلَمُ مَا
بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ وَلَا يُحِيطُونَ بِشَيْءٍ مِّنْ عِلْمِهِ إِلَّا بِمَا شَاءَ وَسِعَ
كُرْسِيُّهُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ وَلَا يَئُودُهُ حِفْظُهُمَا وَهُوَ الْعَلِيُّ الْعَظِيمُ﴾

*Allāhu lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Ḥayyu-l-Qayyūm, lā ta'khudhuhū sinatun wa lā nawm, lahū mā fī-s-samāwāti wa mā fī-l-arḍ, man dha-lladhī yashfa'u
'indahū illā bi-idhnih, ya'lamu mā bayna aydihim wa mā khalfahum, wa lā yuḥīṭūna bi-shay'im-min 'ilmihi illā bi-mā shā', wāsi'a kursiyyuhu-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍ, wa lā ya'ūduhu ḥifẓuhumā, wa Huwa-l-'Aliyyu-l-'Aẓīm.*

...and

“Your Lord is Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth in six days, then ¹ Al-Bukhārī (269), Muslim (303), al-Muwattaʿa (1/40), Abū Dāwūd (206), at-Tirmidhī (114), and an-Nasāʾī (1/96–97).

² Qurʾān 2:255.

settled Himself on the Throne. He draws the night as a veil over the day, each seeking the other in rapid succession; and the sun, the moon, and the stars, (all) are subservient by His command. Verily, His are the Creation and the Command. Blessed is Allah, the Cherisher and Sustainer of the Worlds”¹;

﴿إِنَّ رَبَّكُمُ اللَّهُ الَّذِي خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ فِي سِتَّةِ أَيَّامٍ ثُمَّ اسْتَوَىٰ
عَلَى الْعَرْشِ يُغْشِي اللَّيْلَ النَّهَارَ يَطْلُبُهُ حَثِيثًا وَالشَّمْسُ وَالْقَمَرُ وَالنُّجُومُ
مُسَخَّرَاتٌ بِأَمْرِهِ ۗ أَلَا لَهُ الْخَلْقُ وَالْأَمْرُ ۗ تَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ﴾

Inna Rabbakumu-llāhu-lladhī khalaqa-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍa fī sittati ayyāmin thumma-stawā ‘alā-l-‘arshi yughshi-l-layla-n-nahāra yaṭlubuhu ḥathīthan wa-sh-shamsa wa-l-qamara wa-n-nujūma musakhkharātīm bi-amrih, alā lahu-l-khalqu wa-l-amr, tabāraka-llāhu Rabbu-l-‘ālamīn.

...and to seek protection for her by means of the Mu’awwidhatayn:

“Say: I seek refuge with the Lord of the dawn from the evil of created things, from the evil of darkness as it spreads, from the evil of those who blow on knots, and from the evil of an envier when he envies.”²

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ الْفَلَقِ * مِنْ شَرِّ مَا خَلَقَ * وَمِنْ شَرِّ غَاسِقٍ إِذَا وَقَبَ
* وَمِنْ شَرِّ النَّفَّاثَاتِ فِي الْعُقَدِ * وَمِنْ شَرِّ حَاسِدٍ إِذَا حَسَدَ﴾

Qul A‘ūdhu bi-Rabbi-l-falaq, min sharri mā khalaq, wa min sharri ghāsiqin idhā waqab, wa min sharri-n-naffāthāti fi-l-‘uqad, wa min sharri ḥāsīdin idhā ḥasad.

“Say: I seek refuge with the Lord of mankind, the King of mankind, the God of mankind, from the evil of the slinking whisperer, who whispers into the hearts of mankind, from jinn and men.”³

﴿قُلْ أَعُوذُ بِرَبِّ النَّاسِ * مَلِكِ النَّاسِ * إِلَهِ النَّاسِ * مِنْ شَرِّ الْوَسْوَاسِ
الْخَنَّاسِ * الَّذِي يُوَسْوِسُ فِي صُدُورِ النَّاسِ * مِنَ الْجِنَّةِ وَالنَّاسِ﴾

Qul A‘ūdhu bi-Rabbi-n-nās, Maliki-n-nās, Ilāhi-n-Nās, min sharri-l-waswāsi-l-khannās, alladhī yuwaswisu fī suḍūri-n-nās, mina-l-jinnati wa-n-nās.

1 Qur’ān 7:54. Ibn as-Sunnī (625).

2 Qur’ān 113:1-5.

3 Qur’ān 114:1-6.

SAYING THE ADHĀN IN THE EAR OF A NEWBORN BABY

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others that Abū Rāfi' ؓ, the freed slave of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, reported: "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say the adhān for ṣalāh in the ear of Ḥusayn ibn 'Alī when Fāṭimah gave birth to him ؓ." At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

One group of our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues say that it is mustaḥabb to say the adhān in the right ear and the iqāmah in the left ear.

And we relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from al-Ḥusayn ibn 'Alī ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever has a child born to him, if he calls the adhān in his right ear and the iqāmah in his left, the mother of the child will not harm him."

SUPPLICATING AND PERFORMING TAḤNĪK FOR A BABY

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said: "Babies were brought to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, so he supplicated and performed *taḥnīk*² for them"; and according to one narration, "then he would make du'ā' for blessings for them."

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Asmā' bint Abī Bakr ؓ narrated: "I conceived 'Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr in Makkah. We came to Madīnah and I stopped at Qubā' and gave birth there. Then I brought him to the Prophet ﷺ, who put him on his lap, called for a date and chewed it, then put it into his mouth. So the first thing that went into [the baby's] belly was the saliva of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. He performed taḥnīk with a date, made du'ā' for him and blessed him."⁴

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ related: "A boy was born to me, and I brought him to the Prophet ﷺ, who named him Ibrāhīm. He performed taḥnīk for him with a date and prayed for blessings on him."⁵ That is the wording in both al-Bukhārī and Muslim except for the words "And prayed for blessings on him", which are specific to al-Bukhārī.

1 Abū Dāwūd (5105) and at-Tirmidhī (1514).

2 Taḥnīk means chewing something sweet until it is almost liquid, and then opening the mouth of the newborn baby and putting it in.

3 Abū Dāwūd (5106).

4 Al-Bukhārī (3909) and Muslim (2146).

5 Al-Bukhārī (6198) and Muslim (2145).

NAMING A NEWBORN BABY

THE SUNNAH IS to name a newborn baby either on the seventh day after his birth or on the day he is born.

The desirability of [naming a child on] the seventh day is established by what has been reported in the book of at-Tirmidhī from 'Umar ibn Shu'ayb, who narrated from his father, who narrated from his grandfather, that the Prophet ﷺ ordered that a newborn baby be given a name on the seventh day, that harm be warded off from him' and an animal slaughtered.² According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah and others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Samurah ibn Jundub ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Every baby is subject to his 'aqīqah: an animal is slaughtered for him on the seventh day, his head is shaved, and he is named."³

[There is also support for naming him on] the day he is born, because of what we relate in the hadith of Abū Mūsā which we quoted in the previous chapter. And we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, as well as from others, that Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A boy was born to me tonight, and I have given him the name of my forefather Ibrāhīm ؑ."⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ؓ narrated: "A son was born to Abū Ṭalḥah and I brought him to the Prophet ﷺ, who did tahnik for him and named him 'Abdullāh."⁵

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that Sahl ibn Sa'd as-Sa'dī ؓ narrated: "Mundhir ibn Abi Usayd was brought to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when he was born. The Prophet ﷺ put him on his lap while his father, Abū Usayd, was sitting. Then the Prophet ﷺ was distracted by something in front of him. Abū Usayd asked for his son, and he was carried off the lap of the Prophet ﷺ and they returned him to his home. The Prophet ﷺ remembered and said: 'Where is the baby?' Abū Usayd said: 'We have taken him home, Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'What is his name?' He replied: 'So-and-so.' He said: 'No, his name is Mundhir.' He named him Mundhir on that day."⁶

I say that the word lahiya, with a kasrah on the letter hā' or with a fathah on it (lahā), which are two dialectical variants, (the fathah being that of Ṭayyi' and the kasrah being that of the rest of the Arabs and the well-known classical usage), means 'to turn away from it'. Others say it means 'being absorbed in something else', while

1 Some consider that shaving the head on the seventh day and giving the weight of hair in silver is what is meant by warding off harm. But Allah knows best.

2 At-Tirmidhī (2834), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

3 Abū Dāwūd (2837), at-Tirmidhī (1552), an-Nasā'ī (7/166) and Ibn Mājah (3165).

4 Muslim (2315).

5 Al-Bukhārī (1301), Muslim (2144) and Abū Dāwūd (4951).

6 Al-Bukhārī (6191) and Muslim (2149).

others say it means 'forgetting something'. The word istafāqa means 'he recalled it' or 'he remembered it'; and 'they took him home' here means 'they got him home'.

238

NAMING A STILLBORN BABY

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to give a stillborn baby a name, even if it is not known whether it is male or female. It should be given a name that is suitable both for a male and for a female, like Asmā', Hind, Hunaydah, Kharījah, Ṭalḥah, 'Umayrah, Zur'ah, and so on. According to Imam al-Baghāwī, a miscarried foetus should be given a name because of the hadith reported about it, as others of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues said. According to our colleagues, if a newborn baby dies before being given a name, it should be given a name [afterwards].

239

THE DESIRABILITY OF GIVING BEAUTIFUL NAMES

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a good isnād, that Abū ad-Dardā' رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "You will be called by your names and the names of your fathers on the Day of Judgment, so make your names beautiful."¹

240

THE NAMES DEAREST TO ALLAH

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The names dearest to Allah are 'Abdullāh and 'Abd ar-Raḥmān."²

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jābir رضي الله عنه related that a child was born to a man and he named him al-Qāsim. [His companions] said: "We will not give you the nickname of Abū al-Qāsim and thus honour you." The Prophet ﷺ was informed and he said: "Name your son 'Abd ar-Raḥmān."¹

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4948).

² Muslim (2132), Abū Dāwūd (4949) and at-Tirmidhī (2835).

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and others that Abū Wuhayb al-Jashmī ؓ, a Companion, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Give [children] the names of Prophets or the names that are most beloved to Allah, which are 'Abdullāh and 'Abd ar-Raḥmān. The most truthful are Ḥārith² and Hummām, and the ugliest are Ḥarb and Murrah."³

241

THE DESIRABILITY OF CONGRATULATING AND WHAT TO SAY WHEN CONGRATULATED

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to congratulate a person to whom a child is born. Our [Shāfi'ī] colleagues say it is mustaḥabb to congratulate him in the way that has been reported from al-Ḥusayn ؓ. He said that he taught a man to say: "May Allah bless you in what has been granted to you, and may you thank the Giver. May he reach maturity and may you be granted kind treatment by him."

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ فِي الْمَوْهُوبِ لَكَ، وَشَكَرْتَ الْوَاهِبَ، وَبَلَغَ أَشُدَّهُ، وَرُزِقْتَ بِهِ.

Bāraka-llāhu laka fi-l-mawhūbi lak, wa shakarta-l-Wāhib, wa balagha ashuddah, wa ruziqta birrah.

It is mustaḥabb for someone who has been congratulated to reply by saying: "May Allah bless you and send blessings upon you," and "May Allah grant you a goodly reward," and "May Allah grant you the same" or "May Allah confer an abundant reward upon you" and suchlike.

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ، وَبَارَكَ عَلَيْكَ، أَوْ جَزَاكَ اللَّهُ خَيْرًا، أَوْ رَزَقَكَ اللَّهُ مِثْلَهُ، أَوْ أَجَزَلَ اللَّهُ ثَوَابَكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu laka wa bāraka 'alayk; or, Jazāka-llāhu khayrā; or, Razaqaka-llāhu mithlah; or, Ajzala-llāhu thawābak.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6186), Muslim (2133), Abū Dāwūd (4966) and at-Tirmidhī (2845).

² Ḥārith means 'Cultivator'; Hummām means 'energetic'; Ḥarb means 'war'; Murrah means 'bitter'.

³ Abū Dāwūd (4950) and an-Nasā'ī (6/218-219).

THE PROHIBITION OF GIVING REPULSIVE NAMES

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Samurah ibn Jundub ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not call your son Yasār, Rabāḥ, Najāḥ or Aflaḥ. For you will say: 'Is he here?' and when he is not, you will say: 'No.' These are only four, so do not add to what I have said."¹

We relate this from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and elsewhere in a narration from Jābir ؓ, also containing the prohibition of naming someone Barakah (Blessing).²

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The worst, most humiliating name in the sight of Allah, exalted is He, is for a man to call himself Malik al-Amlāk—'King of kings'; another narration has akhnā, 'the foulest', instead of akhna'. According to a report by Muslim he said: "The man with whom Allah will be angriest on the Day of Judgment, and the vilest man, is a man who used to be called 'King of kings'; there is no king but Allah."³

The scholars say that the meaning of akhna' (worst, most humiliating) and akhnā (foulest) is 'lowest', most base' and 'meanest'.

It is narrated in the Ṣaḥīḥ that Sufyan ibn 'Uyaynah said: "'King of kings' is the meaning of [the Persian title] 'Shāhān Shāh'" [normally written Shāhanshāh].

A MAN CALLING A SUBORDINATE, SUCH AS A SON, SERVANT,
OR STUDENT, BY AN UGLY NAME IN ORDER TO RETRAIN HIM FROM DOING VILE DEEDS AND TO TRAIN HIM

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Abdullāh ibn Busr al-Māzinī ؓ, a Companion—and [Busr] has a ḍammah on the bā' and a sukūn on the sīn—narrated: "My mother sent me to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ with a bunch of grapes. I ate some of them before bringing them to him. When I came to him he caught hold of my ear and said: 'Yā Ghudar' ('O Cheat').¹

¹ Muslim (2137), Abū Dāwūd (4958) and at-Tirmidhī (2838). Yasār means 'wealthy'; Rabāḥ means 'profitable'; Najāḥ and Aflaḥ mean 'successful'. This means that if someone asks if a person by one of these names is present and he is not, it could be construed as meaning that no-one present has those qualities. People will therefore take this as a bad omen.

² Abū Dāwūd (4960) and Muslim (2138).

³ Al-Bukhārī (6205), Muslim (2143), Abū Dāwūd (4961) and at-Tirmidhī (2839).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abū Bakr ؓ reported, in a long hadith which includes the manifest miracles of Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq, that Abū Bakr invited a group of people and had them sit in his house. He went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and delayed in returning. On his return he asked [his family]: "Did you give them dinner?" They said: "No." He turned to 'Abd ar-Raḥmān and said: 'Yā Ghunthar' ('You miser'). Then he derided and insulted him.²

I say that the word Ghunthar ('You miser'), with a ḍammah on the letter ghayn followed by a silent nūn, and with the letter thā' having a fathah, means 'O mean, ignoble one.' Fa-jadda'a ('then he derided') with a jīm and dāl means he supplicated against him that his nose be cut off and suchlike. And Allah knows best.

244

CALLING OUT TO A PERSON WHOSE NAME ONE DOES NOT KNOW

ONE SHOULD CALL to a person whose name he does not know with words that will not hurt him, and in which there are no lies or excessive humility. One should use expressions like: 'O brother,' 'O scholar,' 'O my master,' 'O owner of a certain robe,' 'O owner of certain shoes,' or of a certain horse, camel, sword or spear and the like of this, according to the circumstances of the person calling out and the one to whom he calls.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah, with a ḥasan isnād, that Bashīr ibn Ma'bad ؓ, known as Ibn al-Khaṣṣāṣiyyah, reported: "While I was walking with the Prophet ﷺ he saw a man walking over graves with his sandals on. He said 'You with the sandals! Woe to you, take off your sandals'"³—and he related the hadith in full.

I say that an-ni'āl as-sibtīyyah with a kasrah on the sīn means the [kind of sandals] without hair on them.

We have related in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Jāriyah al-Anṣārī ؓ, a Companion—written with a jīm—narrated: "When I was with the Prophet ﷺ and he could not remember the name of a man he said: 'O son of 'Abdullāh' ('Yā Ibn 'Abdillāh')." ⁴

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (403).

² Al-Bukhārī (602), Muslim (2058), Abū Dāwūd (3270).

³ Abū Dāwūd (3230), an-Nasā'ī (4/296), Ibn Mājah (1568).

⁴ Ibn as-Sunnī (1-4).

THE PROHIBITION OF A SON, STUDENT OR PUPIL CALLING
HIS FATHER, TEACHER OR MENTOR BY NAME

WE RELATE IN the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw a man with a boy. He asked the boy: "Who is this?" He replied: "My father." He said: "Do not walk in front of him, do not cause him to curse you,¹ do not sit before him, and do not call him by his name."²

I say that 'Do not cause him to swear at you' means, 'Do not do anything that might induce your father to curse you as a rebuke as well as forcing him to discipline you on account of your bad action.'

According to the esteemed master and righteous servant as to whose piety there is agreement, 'Ubaydullāh ibn Zahr—with a fathah on the zāy and a sukūn on the hā'—ؓ it is said that among the acts of disobedience to one's parents are calling one's father by his name and walking in front of him on the street.³

THE DESIRABILITY OF CHANGING A NAME TO A BETTER ONE

ONE [SOURCE] CITES the hadith of Sahl ibn Sa'd as-Sā'idī ؓ about Mundhir ibn Abi Usayd, which was mentioned in the chapter on naming newborn babies.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that Zaynab's ؓ name was Barraḥ (Virtuous). Somebody said: "She is praising herself"; so the Messenger of Allah ﷺ renamed her Zaynab.⁴

Another version states that Zaynab bint Abi Salamah ؓ related: "I was called Barraḥ, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Name her Zaynab.'" She said: "Zaynab bint Jaḥsh came to him when her name was Barraḥ, and he renamed her Zaynab."⁵

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the name of Juwayriyyah was Barraḥ, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ changed her name to Zaynab. He did not want anyone to say: "He came from a pious person (Barraḥ)."⁶

¹ This means that he should not do any act that might cause his father revile or rebuke him.

² Ibn as-Sunnī (397). Al-Haythamī mentions narrations with similar meanings in Majma' az-zawā'id (8/137).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (398).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6192) and Muslim (2141).

⁵ Muslim (2142).

⁶ Muslim (2140).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab ibn Ḥazan reported from his father that [the latter's] father came to the Prophet ﷺ, who asked: "What is your name?" He replied: "Ḥazan (Difficulty)." [The Prophet ﷺ] said: "You are Sahl (Ease)." [Saʿīd] replied: "I will not change a name that my father gave me." Ibn al-Musayyab said: "Hardship (ḥuzunah) never ceased to be among us after that."¹ I say that ḥuzunah means a form of hardness.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn ʿUmar ﷺ reported that the Prophet ﷺ changed the name of ʿĀṣiyah (Rebellious). He said: "You are Jamīlah (Beautiful)."² According to another report by Muslim, Ibn ʿUmar reported that a daughter of ʿUmar was called ʿĀṣiyah, so the Messenger of Allah ﷺ named her Jamīlah.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ḥasan isnād, that Usāmah ibn Akhdarī ﷺ, a Companion—and Akhdarī is [written] with a fathah on the hamzah and a dāl, between which is a khāʾ with a sukūn—related that a man named Aṣram (Amputee) was in a delegation that came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked: "What is your name?" He replied: "Aṣram." He said: "No, you are Zurʿah (Harvest)."³

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasāʾī and others that Abū Shurayḥ Hānī al-Ḥārithī ﷺ, a Companion, narrated that when he came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in a delegation with his people, he heard them calling him by the nickname Abū al-Ḥakam. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ called him and said: "Allah is al-Ḥakam (the Judge) and all judgement belongs to Him, so why were you named Abū al-Ḥakam?" He replied: "When my people disagreed on a matter they came to me. I adjudicated between them, and both parties were pleased." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "How excellent! Do you have any sons?" He said: "I have Shurayḥ, Muslim, and ʿAbdullāh." "Who is the eldest?" he ﷺ asked. "Shurayḥ," the man replied. He ﷺ said: "Then you are Abū Shurayḥ."⁴

Abū Dāwūd says⁵ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ changed the names al-ʿĀṣī (disobedient), ʿAzīz, ʿAtlah, Shayṭān, al-Ḥakam, Ghurāb, Ḥubāb, and Shihāb (whom he ﷺ called Hāshim). He ﷺ renamed Ḥarb (War) Silm (Peace), and he renamed Muḍṭajīʾ (Reclining in bed) Munbaʿith (Awakened). A land called ʿAqirah he renamed Khaḍīrah, and a mountain path called Shiʿb aḍ-Ḍalālah (the Path of Error) he renamed Shiʿb al-Hudā (The path of Guidance). Banū az-Zinyah (the Sons of Adultery) he renamed Banū ar-Rishdah (the Sons of Integrity), and Banū Mughwiyah (Sons of the Temptress) he renamed Banū Rishdah (Sons of Integrity). Abū Dāwūd said that he had removed the chains of transmission for brevity.

I say that ʿAtlah is [written] with a fathah on the ʿayn and a sukūn on the tāʾ, as Ibn Mākūlā said. He also said that according to ʿAbd al-Ghānī it is ʿAtalah, meaning

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6190).

² Muslim (2139) and Abū Dāwūd (4952).

³ Abū Dāwūd (4954).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (4995), an-Nasāʾī (8/226–227), and al-Futūḥāt (6/127). Al-ʿIrāqī in his comments on al-Mustadrak states that the chain for this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (5/241–242).

that it is also [written] with a fathah on the tā', and that the Prophet ﷺ renamed him 'Utbah, his name being ibn 'Abd as-Sulamī.

247

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF SHORTENING A PERSON'S NAME, AS LONG AS HE IS NOT OFFENDED BY IT

IT HAS BEEN reported in the Ṣaḥīḥ, from many sources, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ shortened the names of a number of his Companions. For example, he addressed Abū Hurayrah ؓ as "Abū Hirr." He also said to 'Ā'ishah ؓ "O 'Ā'ish",² and to An-jashah ؓ "O Anjash".

In the book of Ibn as-Sunnī there is a narration that the Prophet ﷺ said to Usāmah, "O Usaym" and to Miqdām, "O Qudaym".

248

THE PROHIBITION OF GIVING A PERSON A NICKNAME THAT HE DISLIKES

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And do not call each other by (offensive) nicknames."³

﴿وَلَا تَنَابَرُوا بِالْأَلْقَابِ﴾

The 'ulamā' are unanimous that it is ḥarām to give a man a nickname which he dislikes, even if it relates to a characteristic of his, such as being bleary-eyed, bald, blind, lame, squint-eyed, leprous, hunchbacked, pale, deaf, dark-coloured, flat-nosed, gap-toothed, mute, chronically ill, invalid or paralysed. The same applies to any characteristics of his father, mother or anyone else that he would dislike [to hear named thus]. They agree that it is permissible to mention [such characteristics] as a means of identification for someone who cannot readily be identified otherwise. The proofs of this are many and well-known, and I have left them out for the sake of brevity and because there is so little need since they are so well-known.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (2601).

² Al-Bukhārī (3768), Muslim (2447), Abū Dāwūd (5232), at-Tirmidhī (3876), and an-Nasā'ī (7/69).

³ Qur'ān 49:11.

THE ACCEPTABILITY AND DESIRABILITY OF GIVING A PERSON A NICKNAME THAT HE LIKES

ONE EXAMPLE IS Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ؓ, whose name was ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Uthmān and whose nickname was ‘Atīq. That is the correct opinion, held by the majority of ‘ulamā’ and historians. Others say that his given name was ‘Atīq. The former opinion is the correct one. The ‘ulamā’ agree that it is a good nickname, but they disagree as to why he was named ‘Atīq.

We relate from ‘Ā’ishah ؓ, by various lines of narration, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Abū Bakr is the one whom Allah set free (‘atīq) from Hell-Fire.” From that day on he was called ‘Atīq.¹

According to Mus‘ab ibn az-Zubayr ؓ and other genealogists, he was named ‘Atīq because there was no flaw in his lineage. There are other opinions. And Allah knows best.

Another example is Abū Turāb,² the nickname of ‘Alī ibn Abī Ṭālib ؓ, whose kunyah³ was Abū al-Ḥasan.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ once found him sleeping in the mosque with dust on him and said: “Stand up, Abū Turāb! Stand up, Abū Turāb!” So that good and beautiful nickname stuck to him.⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that according to Sahl ibn Sa’d ؓ it was the favourite name of ‘Alī ؓ, and it used to make him happy to be called by it.⁵ That is the wording of the narration of al-Bukhārī.

Another example is Dhū al-Yadayn,⁶ whose name was al-Khribāq—with a kasrah on the khā’ and with a bā’ and at the end qāf—and who had long fingers. It is established in the Ṣaḥīḥ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to call him Dhū al-Yadayn.⁷ Al-Bukhārī related it in this wording at the beginning of the Book on good behaviour and maintaining ties of kinship.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3679), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

² Turāb means ‘dust’. ‘Abū Turāb’ means ‘father of the dust’.

³ Kunyah means ‘title’. This is usually in the form of ‘So-and-so, the father of so-and-so’.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6204).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (3703) and Muslim (2409).

⁶ Meaning “Two-Handed”.

⁷ Al-Bukhārī (482).

THE ACCEPTABILITY OF KUNYAHS AND THE DESIRABILITY OF ADDRESSING PEOPLE BY THEM

THIS SUBJECT IS too well-known for us to need to mention any texts. This rule is common to the distinguished and the general public. It is good etiquette to address people of virtue by their kunyah, and also to use it when writing a letter to them or reporting a narration from them. One should say: 'It has been reported to us by the Shaykh or Imam, father of So-and-so, or So-and-so the father of So-and-so, etc.' It is good etiquette not to mention one's own kunyah in a book or elsewhere, unless he is only known by his kunyah or his kunyah is better known than his name.

An-Naḥḥās said that if [someone] is better known by his kunyah, he has a kunyah as do those comparable to him, and he is named for those who preceded him, one should add: "Better known as Abū So-and-so," or "by [the kunyah] Abū So-and-so".

THE KUNYAH OF A MAN [NORMALLY]
COMING FROM HIS ELDEST SON

OUR PROPHET MUḤAMMAD ﷺ was given the title Abū al-Qāsim, [Qāsim] being the eldest of his sons. On this subject there is the hadith of Shurayḥ which we mentioned earlier, in the chapter on it being mustaḥabb to change [certain] names for better names.

GIVING A MAN WHO HAS SONS A KUNYAH WHICH DOES NOT COME FROM HIS SON

THIS CHAPTER IS [potentially] extensive, and cases of those who meet this description are innumerable; and there is no harm in that.

GIVING A KUNYAH TO SOMEONE WHO HAS NO CHILDREN, AND TO A MINOR

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas رضي الله عنه said: "The Prophet ﷺ was the best of all people in character. I had a brother called Abū 'Umayr" (the narrator added, "I think he said Faṭīm"). "When the Prophet ﷺ came to him he said: 'O Abū 'Umayr, what did the little bird do?' He used to play with a bird."¹

We relate with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and others that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها said: "Messenger of Allah, all of my companions have a kunyah." He ﷺ replied: "Take the kunyah of your son 'Abdullāh." The narrator said that he meant 'Abdullāh ibn az-Zubayr, who was the son of her sister Asmā' bint Abī Bakr. 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها was given the kunyah 'Umm 'Abdullāh'.²

We also relate from the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها said that a child of the Prophet ﷺ was miscarried and he named him 'Abdullāh, so he gave ['Ā'ishah] the kunyah 'mother of 'Abdullāh'.³ This is a weak hadith.

Numerous Companions were given a kunyah before any child was born to them, such as Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه and Anas Abū Ḥamzah, and so were innumerable other Companions and Tābi'ūn after them. This is not disapproved of and is desirable, if the conditions mentioned above are fulfilled.

THE PROHIBITION OF USING THE KUNYAH ABŪ AL-QĀSIM

A GROUP OF the Companions, among them Anas and Abū Hurayrah, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Call [others] by my name, but do not use my kunyah."⁴

I say that the 'ulamā' differ about the kunyah Abū al-Qāsim. They have three opinions.

The opinion of ash-Shāfi'ī and those who agree with him is that it is not lawful for anyone to use the kunyah Abū al-Qāsim, whether his name is Muḥammad or not. Among those of our colleagues who narrated this from ash-Shāfi'ī were the firmly established and reliable ḥāfiẓ Imams who were jurists and scholars of hadith, Abū Bakr

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6203) and Muslim (2150).

² Abū Dāwūd (4970).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (419).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6187), Muslim (2133), Abū Dāwūd (4965) and at-Tirmidhī (2844).

al-Bayhaqī, Abū Muḥammad al-Baghawī in his book at-Tahdhīb (at the beginning of the book on marriage), and Abū al-Qāsim Ibn 'Asākir in Tārīkh Dimishq.

The opinion of Mālik is that it is permissible to use the kunya Abū al-Qāsim, both for those whose names are Muḥammad and for others. He holds that the prohibition was restricted to the lifetime of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.

The third opinion is that it is permissible only for those whose name is not Muḥammad. Imam Abū al-Qāsim ar-Rāfi'ī says that this view seems to be the most correct, for people have used this kunya over the ages without reproof. But what the person who took this position said is in open contradiction to the hadith [cited above].

It is true that [many] people consider [giving this kunya] permissible, and that those who have this kunya or who have named their children with this kunya include noted imams and people of substance and standing whose word binds the Muslims (ahl al-ḥall wa-l-'aqd),¹ and people who are taken as models in important matters of the Dīn. All this is an affirmation of the position of Mālik in uncategorically permitting it, inasmuch as they may have understood that the prohibition applied only during his lifetime ﷺ. What is well-known concerning the reason for the prohibition is that the Jews were adopting the kunya Abū al-Qāsim and calling each other 'O Abū al-Qāsim!' in order to cause annoyance. That reason, however, has ceased to apply. And Allah knows best.

255

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF GIVING A KUNYAH TO A DISBELIEVER, INNOVATOR OR SINNER IF HE IS NOT KNOWN BY ANY OTHER NAME, OR THERE IS A RISK OF TROUBLE FROM CALLING HIM BY HIS NAME

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Perish the hands of Abū Lahab, and perish he!"²

﴿تَبَّتْ يَدَا أَبِي لَهَبٍ وَتَبَّ﴾

His name was 'Abd al-'Uzzā. It is said that his kunya was mentioned here because he was [generally] known by it. It is also said that this was because his name was abhorrent, because it made him the slave of an idol.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Usāmah ibn Zayd ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ rode on a donkey to visit Sa'd ibn 'Ubādah while he was sick. He recounted the rest of the hadith and that the Prophet ﷺ passed by 'Abdullāh ibn Ubayy ibn Salūl, a hypocrite. He continued: "The Prophet ﷺ travelled until he reached Sa'd ibn 'Ubādah. The Prophet ﷺ asked: 'Sa'd, did you not hear what Abū Ḥubāb (meaning 'Abdullāh ibn Ubayy) was saying? He said such-and-such.'" I say: "The hadiths repeatedly mention Abū Ṭālib, whose name was 'Abd Manāf. The Ṣaḥīḥ reads: 'This is the grave of Abū Righāl.'² There are many similar instances. All this applies only when the condition that we mentioned earlier is fulfilled. If it is not fulfilled, only their names are mentioned. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ wrote: 'From Muḥammad, the servant and Messenger of Allah, to Hiraql [Heraclius].'³ He called him by his name and did not include any title or nickname. His title was the Emperor of Rome, the Caesar. There are many [similar examples]. We have been commanded to be harsh with such people. It is not befitting that we should give them a kunyah or be gentle in speech with them and thereby show love and affection towards them."

¹ Ahl al-ḥall wa-l-'aqd means Muslims of knowledge, wealth, power, substance and standing. to whom the Muslims in general look to for leadership. It is they whose pledge of allegiance to a Caliph is determinative.

² Qur'ān 111:1.

256

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF GIVING A MAN A
KUNYAH 'FATHER OF SO-AND-SO'⁴ OR A WOMAN
THE KUNYAH 'MOTHER OF SO-AND-SO'

THERE IS NO limit to this. A large number of the Companions and those after them were given the kunyah 'Father of So-and-so'. Among them was 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān ؓ, who had three kunyahs: Abū 'Amr, Abū 'Abdullāh, and Abū Laylā. There were also Abū ad-Dardā' and his wife Umm ad-Dardā' the Elder ؓ. She was a Companion and her name was Khayrah. Umm ad-Dardā' the Younger was his other wife, and her name was Hujaymah and she had a tremendous rank. She was an eminent jurist, known for her abundant intellect and her luminous merit; and she was a Tābi'. Further examples include Abū Laylā, the father of 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā, whose wife was Umm Laylā. Both Abī Laylā and his wife Umm Laylā were Companions. There is Abū Umāmah, the name of a large number of Companions. There are also Abū Rayḥānah, Abū Rimthah, Abū Rīmah, Abū 'Amrah Bashīr ibn 'Amr, Abū Fāṭimah al-Laythī (whose [given] name is said to have been 'Abdullāh ibn Unays), Abū Maryam al-Azdī, Abū Ruqayyah Tamīm ad-Dārī, and Abū Karimah al-Miqdād ibn Ma'dikarib—all of whom were Companions.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4566) and Muslim (1798).

² Abū Dāwūd (3088) and al-Futūḥāt (4/214). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ḥasan gharib.

³ Al-Bukhārī (2940) and Muslim (1773).

⁴ In both cases, the title of this chapter spells out that "So-and-so" covers both genders, which means that it is also acceptable for men and women to be given kunyahs based on their daughters' names.

Of the Tābi'in there were Abū 'Ā'ishah Masrūq ibn al-Ajda' and innumerable others. As-Sam'ānī says in al-Ansāb that he was called Masrūq (stolen) because a man stole him when he was small and then later he was found.

It has been reliably established in the Ṣaḥīḥ that the Prophet ﷺ gave Abū Hurayrah the kunyah Abū Hurayrah. And Allah knows best.

257

THE DESIRABILITY OF PRAISING ALLAH ON RECEIVING GOOD NEWS

KNOW THAT IT is mustaḥabb, when a manifest favour is renewed or misfortune repelled, to prostrate in thanks to Allah and to praise and extol Allah as He deserves. The hadiths and narrations about this are many and well-known.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that 'Amr ibn Maymūn ؓ, narrating the long hadith about the assassination of 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ, said that 'Umar ؓ sent his son 'Abdullāh ؓ to 'Ā'ishah ؓ asking her permission to be buried with his two [dearest] companions. When 'Abdullāh ؓ came back, 'Umar asked "What have you got?" He replied, "That which you will like, Leader of the Believers. She gave permission." He said: "Praise be to Allah! There was nothing more important to me than that."¹

258

WHAT TO SAY UPON HEARING A COCK CROW, A DONKEY BRAY OR A DOG BARK

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When you hear the braying of a donkey then seek protection in Allah from Shayṭān, for it has seen a devil; and if you hear a cock crow then ask Allah of His bounties, for it has seen an angel."²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If you hear dogs barking or donkeys braying at night then seek protection from Allah from them, for they have seen something that you have not."³

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3700).

² Al-Bukhārī (2303), Muslim (2729), Abū Dāwūd (5102), and at-Tirmidhī (3455).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5103).

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING A FIRE

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Amr ibn Shu'ayb reported from his father, who reported from his grandfather, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If you see a fire say the takbīr, for the takbīr extinguishes it."¹

It is mustahabb to supplicate with the du'ā against affliction and difficulty that we mentioned earlier in the Kitāb al-Adhkār for accidents, and upon infirmities and plagues.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN STANDING UP TO LEAVE A GATHERING

WE RELATE FROM the books of at-Tirmidhī and others that Abū Hurayrah   related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever sits in a gathering in which there is much meaningless chatter and says, before he gets up to leave that gathering: Glory be to You, Allah, and to You be all praise. I bear witness that there is no god but You. I ask You for forgiveness and I repent to You, will be forgiven for all that took place in that gathering."² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

سُبْحَانَكَ اللَّهُمَّ وَبِحَمْدِكَ، أَشْهَدُ أَنْ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، أَسْتَغْفِرُكَ وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْكَ.

Subḥānaka-llāhumma wa bi-ḥamdik. Ashhadu an lā ilāha illā Ant. Astaghfiruka wa atūbu ilayk.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and others that Abū Barazah  , whose name was Nadalah, narrated: "The last thing that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said when he was about to get up from a gathering was: 'Glory be to You, Allah, and to You be all praise. I bear witness that there is no god but You. I ask You for forgiveness and I repent to You.' A man said to him: 'Messenger of Allah, you have said something that you have never said before.' He replied: 'That was an atonement for whatever happened in the gathering.'"³ Al-Ḥākim in his Mustadrak says of a version from 'Ā'ishah that the isnād is ṣaḥīḥ.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (295).

² An-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (397), Abū Dāwūd (4858), and at-Tirmidhī (3429), who states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ gharīb from this line of narration.

³ Abū Dāwūd (4859) and an-Nasā'ī (426).

I say that bi-akharah, 'last thing', is written with a short hamzah with a fathah and with a fathah on the khā, and means 'at the end of something'.

It is related in Ḥilyat al-awliyā that 'Alī عليه السلام said: "Whoever wants his deeds to be judged by a perfect measure should say at the end of a gathering or when he stands up: 'Glory be to your Lord, Lord of Majesty, above all that they ascribe to Him, and peace be upon the Messengers, and all praise be to Allah, the Lord and Cherisher of the Universe.'"¹

﴿سُبْحَانَ رَبِّكَ رَبِّ الْعِزَّةِ عَمَّا يَصِفُونَ * وَسَلَامٌ عَلَى

الْمُرْسَلِينَ * وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ﴾

*Subḥāna Rabbika Rabbi-l-'izzati 'ammā yaṣifūn, wa salāmun
'ala-l-Mursalīn, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.*

261

THE DU'Ā OF A PERSON SITTING IN A GATHERING, FOR HIMSELF AND THOSE WITH HIM

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Umar عليه السلام reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ would seldom rise from a gathering without supplicating for his Companions with this du'ā: "O Allah, apportion to us enough fear and awe of You to prevent us from sinning against You, and enough obedience to You to make us reach Your Paradise, and enough certainty to make the difficulties of this world easy for us. O Allah, let us enjoy our hearing and sight and strength as long as You allow us to live, and make it an inheritance for us. Grant us victory against those who oppress us, and help us against those who harbour enmity towards us. Let not our afflictions be in our religion, and make not the world our major concern or the full extent of our knowledge, and give not power over us to anyone who will not have mercy on us."² At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ اقْسِمْ لَنَا مِنْ خَشْيَتِكَ مَا يَحُولُ بَيْنَنَا وَبَيْنَ مَعَاصِيكَ، وَمِنْ طَاعَتِكَ مَا
تُبَلِّغُنَا بِهِ جَنَّاتِكَ، وَمِنْ الْيَقِينِ مَا تُوهِدُنَا بِهِ عَلَيْنَا مَصَائِبَ الدُّنْيَا، اللَّهُمَّ مَتِّعْنَا

¹ Qur'ān 37:180–182. This hadith is reported in al-Futūḥāt (6/170), in Ḥilyat al-awliyā in a mawqūf form, and by Ibn Abī Ḥātim in a marfū' and a mursal form.

² Abū Dāwūd (1516) and at-Tirmidhī (3430), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ gharīb, and al-Ḥākim (1/527), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

بِأَسْمَاعِنَا وَأَبْصَارِنَا وَقُوتِنَا مَا أَحْيَيْتَنَا، وَاجْعَلْهُ الْوَارِثَ مِنَّا، وَاجْعَلْ ثَأْرَنَا
عَلَى مَنْ ظَلَمَنَا، وَانْصُرْنَا عَلَى مَنْ عَادَانَا، وَلَا تَجْعَلْ مُصِيبَتَنَا فِي دِينِنَا، وَلَا
تَجْعَلِ الدُّنْيَا أَكْبَرَ هَمِّنَا، وَلَا مَبْلَغَ عِلْمِنَا، وَلَا تُسَلِّطْ عَلَيْنَا مَنْ لَا يَرْحَمُنَا.

Allāhumma-qsim lanā min khashyatika mā yaḥūlu baynanā wa bayna ma'aṣik, wa min ṭā'atika mā tuballighunā bihi Jannatak, wa mina-l-yaqīni mā tuhawwinu bihi 'alaynā maṣā'iba-d-dunyā. Allāhumma matti'nā biasmā'inā wa abṣārinā wa quwwatinā mā aḥyaytanā, wa-j'alhu-l-wāritha minnā, wa-j'al tha'ranā 'alā man ḡalamānā, wa-nṣurnā 'alā man 'ādānā, wa lā taj'al muṣibatānā fī dīninā, wa lā taj'ali-d-dunyā akbara hamminā, wa lā mablagha 'ilminā, wa lā tusalliṭ 'alaynā man lā yarḥamunā.

262

THE DISAPPROVAL OF RISING OR LEAVING A GATHERING WITHOUT REMEMBERING ALLAH

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and others, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No group of people stand up from a gathering in which they failed to remember Allah ﷻ without them standing up as if from the carcass of a donkey and it being a source of loss to them."¹

We relate from [the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd] that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The sitting of anyone who sits without remembering Allah ﷻ in it will bring him weakness and loss; and the reclining of anyone who lies down without remembering Allah ﷻ in it will bring him weakness and loss."²

I say that tirah, 'weakness and loss', with a kasrah on the tā' and with an undoubted rā', means a 'diminution' or a 'right due (tabi'ah)'; and it is valid that it should mean a 'source of loss', as in the other narration.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ also related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No group of people sit in a gathering in which they do not remember Allah ﷻ and do not pray for blessings on their Prophet without it bringing them weakness and loss. If [Allah] wishes He will punish them, and if He wishes He will forgive them."³ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4855) and an-Nasā'ī (408).

² Abū Dāwūd (4856) and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (404).

³ At-Tirmidhī (3377).

THE REMEMBRANCE OF ALLAH IN THE STREET

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No group of people sit in a gathering in which they fail to remember Allah ﷻ without it bringing them weakness and loss. Never does a man traverse a road on which he fails to remember Allah ﷻ without experiencing weakness and loss."¹

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, as well as from Dalā'il an-Nubuwwah, that Abū Umāmah ؓ narrated that Jibrīl ؑ came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ while he was at Tabūk. He said: "Muḥammad, attend the funeral of Mu'āwiyah ibn Mu'āwiyah al-Muzanī." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ went out, and Jibrīl descended with seventy thousand angels. He put his right wing on the mountains and they inclined in humility; and he put his left wing on the earth and it inclined in humility until [the Prophet] could see Makkah and Madīnah. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ, Jibrīl and the angels performed the funeral ṣalāh for him. When [the Prophet ﷺ] had finished he asked: "Jibrīl, how did Mu'āwiyah attain this status and stature?" He replied: "By his recitation of 'Say: He is Allah, One'² while standing, riding and walking."³

﴿قُلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ أَحَدٌ...﴾

Qul Huwa-llāhu Aḥad. . .

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ANGRY

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Those who restrain [their] anger, and those who pardon people; for Allah loves those who do good [deeds]."⁴

﴿وَالْكَاظِمِينَ الْغَيْظَ وَالْعَافِينَ عَنِ النَّاسِ ۗ وَاللَّهُ يُحِبُّ الْمُحْسِنِينَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And if Shayṭān incites you to provoke hostility, seek refuge in Allah. He is the All-Hearing, the All-Knowing."⁵

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (178).

² Qur'ān 112.

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (179).

⁴ Qur'ān 3:134.

⁵ Qur'ān 41:36.

﴿وَأَمَّا يَنْزَغَنَّكَ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ نَزْغٌ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ إِنَّهُ هُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Truly the strong person is not the one [strong] in wrestling; the strong person is he who controls himself in moments of anger.”¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn Mas‘ūd رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked: “Whom do you consider to be the [best] wrestler among you?” [The Companions] replied: “The one whom others cannot out-wrestle.” He said: “It is not because of that; it is the one who controls himself in moments of anger.”²

I say that aṣ-ṣur‘ah has a ḍammah on the ṣād and a fathah on the rā’, and its root meaning is one who overthrows others in wrestling often, just as humazah lumazah is someone who speaks evil about people a great deal.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Mu‘ādh ibn Anas al-Juhanī رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah ﷻ will call forward before all of mankind on the Day of Judgment any man who controls his anger while he has the ability to indulge it, to let him choose from the women of Paradise whomever he desires.”³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Sulaymān ibn Surād رضي الله عنه, a Companion, reported: “I was [once] sitting with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when two men were swearing at each other. The face of one of them had become red and the veins on his neck were swollen. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘I will teach him something which, if he says it, will make what he is experiencing go away. If he says: ‘I seek protection in Allah from Shayṭān the outcast,’ what he is experiencing will go away.’ They told [the man who was angry]: ‘The Prophet ﷺ said: “Seek protection from Shayṭān the rejected.”’ Then the man said: ‘Am I mad?’”⁴ أَعُوذُ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ.

A‘ūdhu bi-llāhi mina-sh-Shayṭāni-r-rajīm.

Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī quote a similar hadith from ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Laylā, who reported it from Mu‘ādh ibn Jabal رضي الله عنه. According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is mursal: that is, ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān never met Mu‘ādh.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that ‘Ā’ishah رضي الله عنها said: “The Prophet ﷺ [once] came to me while I was angry. He took hold of the end of my nose and twisted it, and said: “O ‘Uwaysh, say: ‘O Allah, forgive my sins, remove the anger from my heart, and protect me from Shayṭān.’”⁵

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6114), Muslim (2609), and al-Muwaṭṭa’ (2/906).

² Muslim (2608) and Abū Dāwūd (4779).

³ Abū Dāwūd (4777), at-Tirmidhī (2022), and Ibn Mājah (4186).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6115), Muslim (2610), Abū Dāwūd (4781), and an-Nasā’ī in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (393).

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (4780), at-Tirmidhī (3448), and an-Nasā’ī (389).

⁶ Ibn as-Sunnī (457).

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي ذَنْبِي، وَأَذْهِبْ غَيْظَ قَلْبِي، وَأَجِرْنِي مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ.

Allāhumma-ghfir li dhanbī, wa adhhib ghayza qalbī, wa ajirnī mina-sh-Shayṭān.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that ‘Aṭīyyah ibn ‘Urwah as-Sa’dī ؓ, a Companion, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Anger is from Shayṭān, Shayṭān is created from fire, and fire is extinguished by water. So if any one of you gets angry he should perform wuḍū’.”¹

265

THE DESIRABILITY OF TELLING A MAN THAT ONE LOVES HIM, AND WHAT TO SAY IN REPLY

WE RELATE FROM the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī, from al-Miqdām ibn Ma’dikarib ؓ from the Prophet ﷺ that “If any of you loves a person as his brother, he should tell him that he loves him.” At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Anas ؓ said: “A man was with the Prophet ﷺ when another man passed by. He said: ‘Messenger of Allah, I love this person.’ The Prophet ﷺ asked him: ‘Have you let him know?’ ‘No,’ he replied. He said: ‘Let him know.’ He met [the same man] and said: ‘I love you for the sake of Allah.’ He replied: ‘May He for Whose sake you love me love you.’”² أَحَبَّكَ الَّذِي أَحْبَبْتَنِي لَهُ.

Aḥabbaka-lladhī aḥbabtani lah.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā’ī that Mu’ādh ibn Jabal ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took him by the hand and said: “Mu’ādh, by Allah, I love you. So do not neglect to say after every ṣalāh: ‘O Allah, help me to remember You, thank You, and worship You well.’”³ اللَّهُمَّ أَعِنِّي عَلَى ذِكْرِكَ وَشُكْرِكَ وَحُسْنِ عِبَادَتِكَ.

Allāhumma a‘innī ‘alā dhikrika wa shukrika wa ḥusni ‘ibādatik.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4784).

² Abū Dāwūd (5125), an-Nasā’ī (182), and Ibn as-Sunnī (197).

³ Abū Dāwūd (1522) and an-Nasā’ī (3/53).

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Yazīd ibn Nu‘āmah aḍ-Ḍabbī reported: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘If one takes another as his brother, he should ask him his name and his father’s name and from whom he is descended. This will bring about love [between them]’”. At-Tirmidhī classes this hadith as gharīb and we do not know of it except through this way. He also said that we do not know of Yazīd ibn Nu‘āmah hearing this from the Prophet ﷺ. Something like this was narrated by Ibn ‘Umar from the Prophet ﷺ, but its isnād is not ṣaḥīḥ.

I say that there is disagreement as to whether Yazīd ibn Nu‘āmah was a Companion. According to ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Ḥātim, he was not a Companion, also, al-Bukhārī reported that he was a Companion but was wrong.

266

WHAT TO SAY WHEN SEEING SOMEONE WHOM ALLAH HAS AFFLICTED WITH SICKNESS ETC.

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah رضى الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever sees an afflicted person and says: ‘Praise be to Allah, Who has protected me from that with which He has afflicted you, and has favoured me greatly over many of those whom He created’ will not suffer from the same affliction.”¹ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي عَافَانِي مِمَّا ابْتَلَاكَ بِهِ وَفَضَّلَنِي عَلَى كَثِيرٍ مِمَّنْ خَلَقَ تَفْضِيلًا.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī ‘āfānī mim-ma-btalāka bihi wa faḍḍalanī ‘alā kathīrin mimman khalaqa tafḍilā.

We relate in the Book of at-Tirmidhī that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb رضى الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever sees an afflicted person and says: ‘Praise be to Allah, Who has protected me from that with which He has afflicted you, and has favoured me greatly over many of those whom He created’ will not be affected by that calamity, whatever it may be, as long as he lives.”² At-Tirmidhī considered the isnād weak.

I say that the ‘ulamā’ hold that it is essential to say this dhikr softly so that one can hear oneself but the person who is afflicted does not hear and his heart may not be pained by it. If, however, the affliction is a sin, there is no harm in making him hear it, if one does not fear trouble. And Allah knows best.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (3428), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb by this line of narration.

² At-Tirmidhī (3427), who states that this hadith is gharīb.

THE DESIRABILITY OF PRAISING ALLAH WHEN ASKED ABOUT THE HEALTH OF ONESELF OR ONE'S BELOVED, IF THE REPLY IS POSITIVE

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ narrated that 'Alī ؓ came away from the Messenger of Allah during the illness from which he passed away. The people asked him: "O Abū Ḥasan, how is the Messenger of Allah?" He replied: "He is well, praise be to Allah."¹

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ENTERING THE MARKETPLACE

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī and others that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a person enters the market-place and says: 'There is no god but Allah. He is Alone and has no partner. To Him belongs sovereignty and to Him belongs all praise; He gives life and He gives death; He is Alive and does not die; in His hand is all good; and He has power over all things,' one thousand good deeds will be written for him, one thousand bad deeds will be expunged for him, and one thousand stages will be raised for him."²

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، لَهُ الْمُلْكُ، وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ، يُحْيِي وَيُمِيتُ،
وَهُوَ حَيٌّ لَا يَمُوتُ، بِيَدِهِ الْخَيْرُ، وَهُوَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, lahu-l-mulk, wa lahu-l-ḥamd, yuḥyī wa yumīt, wa Huwa Ḥayyun lā yamūt, biyadihi-l-khayr, wa Huwa 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

Al-Ḥākim Abū 'Abdullāh reports [the same hadith] in al-Mustadrak from many sources. According to one report he added: "And He will build a house for him in Paradise." One of the narrators said: "I came to Khurasān, and I went to Qutaybah ibn Muslim and said: 'I have brought you a gift,'" and he narrated the hadith to him.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4447).

² At-Tirmidhī (3425), Ibn Mājah (2235), and al-Ḥākim (1/539).

Qutaybah rode in his entourage until he came to the market. He said [the above-mentioned phrase] and then turned away. Al-Hākim also reported this from the narration of Ibn 'Umar from the Prophet ﷺ. Al-Hākim says that on the same subject there are hadiths from Jābir, Abū Hurayrah, Buraydah al-Aslamī and Anas, and the [only] one of them that comes closest to meeting the preconditions of his book¹ is the hadith of Buraydah, but not in this wording. He narrates with his isnād that it is reported from Buraydah that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered a market he would say: "O Allah, I ask You for the good of this market and the good that is in it, and I seek Your protection from the evil of it and the evil that is in it. O Allah, I seek Your protection from falling victim to a false oath or making a poor bargain there."

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ هَذِهِ السُّوقِ وَخَيْرَ مَا فِيهَا، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهَا وَشَرِّ مَا فِيهَا، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ أَنْ أُصِيبَ فِيهَا يَمِينًا فَاجِرَةً، أَوْ صَفَقَةً خَاسِرَةً.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayra hādhihi-s-sūqi wa khayra mā fihā, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihā wa sharri mā fihā. Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika an uṣība fihā yamīnan fājirah, aw ṣafaqatan khāsirah.

THE DESIRABILITY OF SAYING TO A PERSON WHO HAS ENTERED INTO A GOOD MARRIAGE, OR BOUGHT OR DONE SOMETHING COMMANDED IN SHARĪ'AH: 'YOU HAVE DONE THE RIGHT THING' OR 'YOU HAVE DONE WELL', ETC.

WE RELATE FROM the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Jābir ﷺ narrated: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked me: 'Have you got married?' 'Yes,' I replied. He asked: 'To a virgin or a widow?' I said: 'I married a widow.' He asked: 'Why did you not marry a virgin, so you could play with her and she could play with you?' (Or: 'So that you could make her laugh and she could make you laugh?') I replied: 'Abdullāh, my father, passed away leaving nine (or seven) daughters, and I did not want to bring them [a young woman] like them. I wanted to bring them a woman who would take care of them and improve their affairs.' He ﷺ said: 'You have done the right thing. . .'"² And he recounted the rest of the hadith.

¹ His condition was that the hadith should be narrated by narrators whom al-Bukhārī and Muslim narrated from.

² Muslim (1466).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN LOOKING INTO THE MIRROR

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Alī ؑ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ looked into the mirror he said: "Praise be to Allah. O Allah, as You have made my appearance good, make my character good."¹ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ، اَللّٰهُمَّ كَمَا حَسَّنْتَ خَلْقِيْ فَحَسِّنْ خُلُقِيْ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāh. Allāhumma kamā ḥassanta khalqī fa-ḥassin khuluqī.

We relate [the same hadith, in the same source] in a narration of Ibn 'Abbās ؓ, with some extra material.

We also relate from [the same source], in a narration from Anas ؓ, that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ looked at his face in the mirror he said: "Praise be to Allah, Who arranged my physical form, making it harmonious, and ennobled my face, making it comely, and has made me one of the Muslims."²

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي سَوَّيْ خَلْقِيْ فَعَدَّلَهُ، وَكَرَّمَ صُوْرَةَ

وَجْهِیْ فَحَسَّنَهُ، وَجَعَلَنِيْ مِنَ الْمُسْلِمِيْنَ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-l-ladhī sawwā khalqī fa-'adalah, wa karrama ṣūrata wajhī fa-ḥassanah, wa ja'alanī mina-l-Muslimīn.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN CUPPING

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Alī ؑ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever recites the Verse of the Throne while being cupped, it will be of benefit to his cupping."³

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (162).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (164).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (166).

WHAT TO SAY IF ONE'S EAR RINGS

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Abū Rāfi' ؓ, the freed slave of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If the ear of any of you rings, he should remember me, pray for blessings upon me, and say: 'May Allah remember with goodness whoever remembers me.'"¹ ذَكَرَ اللَّهُ بِخَيْرٍ مَنْ ذَكَرَنِي.

Dhakara-llāhu bi-khayrin man dhakarani.

WHAT TO SAY IF ONE'S FOOT BECOMES NUMB

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī from al-Haytham ibn Ḥanash who narrated: "We were with 'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar ؓ when his leg became numb. A man said to him: 'Remember the dearest of people to you.' He said: 'O Muḥammad ﷺ!' It was as if he was set free from a cord that had bound his feet."² يَا مُحَمَّدُ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ.

Yā Muḥammadu ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam.

We relate [from the same source] from Mujāhid that a man's leg became numb in the presence of Ibn 'Abbās ؓ and he said to him: "Remember the most beloved of all men to you." He said: "Muḥammad ﷺ." His numbness went away.³

We relate [from the same source] from Ibrāhīm ibn al-Mundhir al-Ḥizāmī—one of al-Bukhārī's shaykhs, from whom he narrated in his Ṣaḥīḥ—who said that the people of Madīnah wonder at this verse by [the famous poet] Abū al-'Atāhiyah:

On some occasions his foot would become numb;
and if he said not 'O 'Utb!' the numbness would not go.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (165) and al-Futūḥāt (6/198). As-Sakhāwī grades the chain of narrators as weak (ḍa'if).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (169).

³ Ibn as-Sunnī (168).

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF SUPPLICATING AGAINST THOSE WHO OPPRESS THE MUSLIMS OR ONESELF IN PARTICULAR

KNOW THAT THIS chapter is very extensive. The permissibility [of such supplication] is corroborated by the Book, the Sunnah and the actions of the earlier and later generations. Allah ﷻ has informed us in many well-known places in the Noble Qur'an about the Prophets supplicating against the disbelievers.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Alī ﷺ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said on the Day of the Trench: "May Allah fill their homes and their graves with fire; they have distracted us from the middle ṣalāh."¹ مَلَأَ اللَّهُ بُيُوتَهُمْ وَقُبُورَهُمْ نَارًا.

Mala'ā-llāhu buyūtahum wa qubūrahum nārā.

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs, by different routes, that he ﷺ supplicated against those who killed the Reciters of the Qur'an ﷺ and continued to supplicate against them for a month, saying: "O Allah, curse Ri'l, Dhakwān and 'Uṣayyah."² اَللّٰهُمَّ الْعَن رِغْلًا وَذَكْوَانَ وَعُصَيَّةَ.

Allāhumma-l'an Ri'lan wa Dhakwān wa 'Uṣayyah.

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Ibn Mas'ūd ﷺ narrated a long hadith about the story of Abū Jahl and his companions from the Quraysh, when they put the placenta of a slaughtered camel on the back of the Prophet ﷺ and he supplicated against them—and when supplicating he would do so thrice—then said: "O Allah, take vengeance on Quraysh" thrice. Then he said: "O Allah, take vengeance on Abū Jahl and 'Utbah ibn Rābi'ah. . ." He named the rest of the seven and narrated the rest of the hadith.³

اَللّٰهُمَّ عَلَيكَ بِقُرَيْشٍ.

Allāhumma 'alayka bi-Quraysh.

اَللّٰهُمَّ عَلَيكَ يَا اَبِيْ جَهْلٍ وَعُتْبَةَ بْنِ رَبِيعَةَ . . .

Allāhumma 'alayka bi-Abī Jahlin wa 'Utbata-bni Rabī'ah. . .

We relate in the same two Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ related that the Messenger

1 Al-Bukhārī (2931) and Muslim (627). "The middle ṣalāh" (Qur'an 2:238) is variously interpreted as meaning either Aṣr or Fajr.

2 Al-Bukhārī (4090) and Muslim (675).

3 Al-Bukhārī (240) and Muslim (1794).

of Allah ﷻ used to supplicate: “O Allah, inflict severe hardships from You upon [the tribe of] Muḍar and give them years of drought like the years of Yūsuf.”¹ اللَّهُمَّ اشْدُدْ وَطَأَتَكَ عَلَى مُضَرَ، اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْهَا عَلَيْهِمْ سِنِينَ كَسِنِي يُوسُفَ.

Allāhumma-shdud waṭ'aka 'alā Muḍar, Allāhumma-j'alhā 'alayhim sinīna ka-sinī Yūsuf.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Salamah ibn al-Akwa' ﷺ narrated that a man ate with his left hand in the company of the Prophet ﷺ. He said: “Eat with your right hand.”² [The man] replied: “I cannot.” He said: “You will not be able to.”³ Nothing prevented him but pride.⁴ He never lifted his hand to his mouth again.⁵

I say that this man was Busr—with a ḍammah on the bā' and a sukūn on the sīn—ibn Rā'ī al-'Ayr al-Ashja'ī, a Companion. This shows the permissibility of supplicating against those who contravene the rulings of the Sharī'ah.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jābir ibn Samurah narrated: “The people of Kūfah complained about Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ﷺ to 'Umar ﷺ. He deposed him and appointed someone else. . .” He recounted what happened until he said: “'Umar sent a man (or several men) with him to Kūfah, asking about him. They did not leave any mosque without asking about him; and the people praised him and spoke well of him, until they entered the mosque of the Banū 'Abbās. One of the men there, named Usāmah ibn Qatādah and nicknamed Abū Sa'dah, stood up and said: ‘Since you have asked, Sa'd does not move with the army, he does not distribute fairly and he does not judge with justice.’ Sa'd ﷺ responded: ‘By Allah, I make three prayers: O Allah, if this servant of Yours is lying and is standing up for pomp and show, then make his lifespan long, prolong his poverty and afflict him with trials.’ After that, [Abū Sa'dah] used to say: ‘An old man who has been put to trial; the du'ā' of Sa'd struck me.’” ‘Abd al-Malik ibn 'Umayr, the narrator, reported that Jābir ibn Samurah said: “I saw [Abū Sa'dah] after that, and his eyebrows had fallen over his eyes because of old age. He used to stand in the way of young girls in the streets and wink at them.”⁶

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Urwah ibn az-Zubayr ﷺ reported that Arwah bint Aws—some have said Uways—sued Sa'id ibn Zayd ﷺ in front of Marwān ibn al-Ḥakam, claiming that he had taken some of her land. Sa'id ﷺ protested: “How could I take any of your land after what I heard from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ?” [Marwān]

1 Al-Bukhārī (4560) and Muslim (675).

2 The instruction to eat with his right hand is proof of having to encourage good and prohibit evil, even when eating.

3 This is proof of the permissibility of cursing one who contravenes a religious ruling without an excuse.

4 According to al-Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ, this is evidence that he was a hypocrite. The author states that pride and disobedience alone do not entail hypocrisy, but they are sins. The prohibition of eating with the left hand only applies if there is no reason for doing so. If there is something which prevents a person from eating with his right hand, like sickness, a wound, or anything else, then it is not makrūh to eat with the left hand.

5 Muslim (2021).

6 Al-Bukhārī (755) and Muslim (453).

asked: "What did you hear from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ?" He answered: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Whoever takes as much as a hand-span of land unjustly will have it hung around his neck as a collar up to seven earths.'" Marwān said: "I will not ask you for proof after this." Sa'īd said: "O Allah, if she is lying then make her blind and take her life while she is on her land." He said: "She did not die before she had become blind; and while she was walking on her land she fell into a ditch and died."¹

275

DISOWNING THE FOLLOWERS OF INNOVATION AND SIN

WE RELATE IN the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Burdah ibn Abī Mūsā narrated that Abū Mūsā ؓ was sick and fell unconscious with his head in the lap of one of the women of his family. A woman from his family screamed, and he was not able to respond. When he regained consciousness he said: "I am quit of anybody whom the Messenger of Allah ﷺ has disowned. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ declared himself quit of those who scream, who shave their heads in adversity, or who tear their clothes in times of distress."²

I say that aṣ-ṣāliqah means a woman who cries out with an extremely loud voice; al-ḥāliqah is a woman who shaves her head on the occasion of some misfortune; and ash-shāqqah is a woman who rends her garments on the occasion of some misfortune.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Yaḥyā ibn Ya'mar reported: "I said to Ibn 'Umar ؓ: 'Abū 'Abd ar-Raḥmān, there have appeared among us people who recite Qur'ān and who claim that there is no predestination, that things just happen.' He replied: 'If you meet them, inform them that I have nothing to do with them and they have nothing to do with me.'"³

I say that unuf, 'just happening', with a ḍammah on the hamzah and on the nūn, means that [something] is musta'naf, 'starting', and is not preceded by knowledge or decree. But the people of error lie; Allah's knowledge ؓ precedes all created things.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (2452) and Muslim (1610).

² Al-Bukhārī (1296) and Muslim (924).

³ Muslim (8).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ERADICATING FALSEHOOD

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered Makkah on the day of Conquest, and around the Ka'bah were three hundred and sixty idols. He began to strike them with a branch he had in his hand, saying: "Truth has come and falsehood has perished, and falsehood is ever perishing.¹ Truth has come, and falsehood neither creates anew nor restores²."³

﴿جَاءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ إِنَّ الْبَاطِلَ كَانَ زَهُوقًا﴾

﴿جَاءَ الْحَقُّ وَمَا يُبْدِئُ الْبَاطِلُ وَمَا يُعِيدُ﴾

Jā'a-l-ḥaqqu wa zahaqa-l-bāṭil, inna-l-bāṭila kāna zahūqā.

Jā'a-l-ḥaqqu wa mā yubdi'u-l-bāṭilu wa mā yu'id.

WHAT TO SAY IF ONE'S TONGUE IS VULGAR

WE RELATE IN the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī that Hudhayfah رضي الله عنه reported: "I complained to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about the vulgarity of my tongue. He said: 'How do you stand with respect to seeking forgiveness? I seek forgiveness from Allah ﷻ one hundred times a day.'⁴

I say that dharab has a fathah on the dhāl and the rā'. According to Abū Zayd and other philologists, it means vulgarity in one's language.

¹ Qur'ān (17:81).

² Qur'ān (34:49).

³ Al-Bukhārī (4287), Muslim (1781), and at-Tirmidhī (3137).

⁴ Ibn Mājah (3817), an-Nasā'ī (450), and Ibn as-Sunnī (364).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE'S ANIMAL STUMBLES

WE RELATE IN the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū al-Maliḥ—a well-known Tābi'—narrated that a man reported: "I was riding behind the Prophet ﷺ when his animal stumbled. I said: 'May Shayṭān perish.' He ﷺ said: 'Do not say: "May Shayṭān perish," for if you say that he grows bigger, until he is as big as a house, and he says: "It is because of my power." Instead, say: "In the name of Allah." If you say that, he will shrink until he is as small as a fly.'"¹ بِسْمِ اللَّهِ.

Bismi-llāh.

THE DESIRABILITY OF THE ELDERS OF THE LAND ADDRESSING THEIR PEOPLE ON THE DEATH OF THE LEADER, CALMING THEM, EXHORTING THEM AND COMMANDING THEM TO HAVE PATIENCE AND TO BE STEADY IN WHAT THEY WERE ALREADY DOING

WE NARRATE IN [the book of Ibn as-Sunnī] the famous hadith about the address of Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ؓ on the day the Prophet ﷺ passed away. He said: "For whoever worshipped Muḥammad, Muḥammad has passed away; and for whoever worshipped Allah, Allah is Living and does not die."²

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, from Jarīr ibn 'Abdullāh, that on the day that al-Mughīrah ibn Shu'bah—who was the governor of Baṣrah and Kūfah—passed away he [Jarīr] stood up, praised Allah ﷻ and said: "I advise you to have fear of Allah alone without partner, and to remain dignified and calm until a leader comes to you, for he is coming now."³

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4982) and Ibn as-Sunnī (510).

² Al-Bukhārī (3667).

³ Al-Bukhārī (58) and Muslim (56).

SUPPLICATING FOR THOSE WHO TREAT ONE
WELL, OR FOR ALL PEOPLE OR SOME PEOPLE, AND PRAISE AND ENCOURAGEMENT FOR DOING SO

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ narrated: “The Messenger ؐ went to relieve himself and I put out his wuḍū’ water for him. When he came out he asked: ‘Who put this [there]?’ He was told who. He said: ‘May Allah give him understanding.’” Al-Bukhārī adds: “Give him understanding of the religion.”¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Qatādah ؓ related, in his long hadith which contains [an account of] a number of the manifest miracles of the Messenger of Allah ؐ: “The Messenger of Allah ؐ was travelling until the night was halfway through, and I was at his side. The Messenger of Allah ؐ dozed off and he leaned over the side of his riding animal. I came to him and propped him up, without waking him, so that he was upright on his animal. Then he travelled until most of the night had passed, and he leaned over the side of his riding animal. I came to him and propped him up again, without waking him, so that he was upright on his animal. Then he travelled until the last part of the night had passed, and leaned over the side of his riding animal. He leaned over more than the other two times, until he almost fell off. I came to him and propped him up, without waking him, so that he was upright on his animal. He raised his head and asked: ‘Who is this?’ ‘Abū Qatādah,’ I replied. ‘How long has this journey of yours been with me?’ he asked. I said: ‘My journey has been for the whole night.’ He said: ‘May Allah protect you as you have protected His Messenger. . .’”² and he recounted the entire hadith. I say that ibhārra is written with an elided hamzah, a sukūn on the bā’, and a shaddah on the rā’, and it means ‘to be halfway through’. Tahawarra means ‘the greater part of it had passed’; injafala, written with a jīm, means ‘he fell’; and da‘amtuhu, ‘I propped him up,’ means ‘I supported him’.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “Whoever is treated well and says ‘May Allah reward you with goodness’ has expressed praise to the fullest.”³ According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

جَزَاكَ اللَّهُ خَيْرًا.

Jazāka-llāhu khayrā.

We relate in the Sunans of an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah and the book of Ibn as-Sunnī

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3756) and Muslim (2477).

² Muslim (681).

³ At-Tirmidhī (2036) and al-Futūḥāt (6/225). Ibn ‘Allān states that this hadith has supporting narrations.

that ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Rabī‘ah ؓ, a Companion, related: “The Prophet ﷺ borrowed forty thousand [dirhams] from me. Money came to him and he paid me. He said: ‘May Allah bless you in your family and wealth. The reward for a loan is only praise and repayment.’”¹ بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ فِي أَهْلِكَ وَمَالِكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu laka fī ahlika wa mālik.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jarīr ibn ‘Abdullāh al-Bajalī ؓ narrated: “During the days before Islam there was a building belonging to Khath‘am that was known as the Yemeni Ka‘bah and was also called Dhū al-Khalaṣah. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked me: ‘Will you relieve me of Dhū al-Khalaṣah?’ So I set off with one hundred and fifty riders from Aḥmas, and we broke it down and killed all those we found in it. We came and informed him, and he prayed for us and for Aḥmas.” According to another report he said: “Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ blessed the horses and the men of Aḥmas five times.”²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to Zamzam while they were working hard at giving people the water to drink. He ؓ said: “Work on, for you are doing a good deed.”³

281

THE DESIRABILITY, WHEN GIVING A GIFT, OF REWARDING THE RECEIVER’S DU‘Ā FOR ONE
BY MAKING DU‘Ā FOR HIM IN RETURN

WE RELATE FROM the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that ‘Ā’ishah ؓ said, “I gave the Messenger of Allah ﷺ a sheep as a gift. He said ‘Distribute [its meat].’” When the servant returned, ‘Ā’ishah asked, “What did they say?” The servant replied, “They said ‘May Allah bless you.’” So ‘Ā’ishah said “May Allah bless them. We reply to them with the like of what they said, so that our reward may remain with us.”⁴ بَارَكَ اللَّهُ فِيكُمْ.

Bāraka-llāhu fikum.

1 An-Nasā’i (7/314), Ibn Mājah (2424), and Ibn as-Sunnī (278).

2 Al-Bukhārī (4356) and Muslim (2476).

3 Al-Bukhārī (1635).

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (279) and an-Nasā’i in ‘Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (303).

THE DESIRABILITY OF MAKING AN EXCUSE WHEN RETURNING A GIFT FOR SOME REASON REQUIRED BY SHARĪ'AH, SUCH AS BEING QĀḌĪ OR RULER OR BECAUSE THERE IS SOMETHING DOUBTFUL ABOUT IT OR FOR SOME OTHER REASON

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās ؓ related that aṣ-Ṣa'b ibn Jaththāmah ؓ gave the Prophet ﷺ a wild donkey as a gift while he was in iḥrām. He returned it to him and said: "Had we not been in the state of iḥrām we would have accepted it from you."¹

I say that Jaththāmah has a fathāh on the jīm and a shaddah on the thā'.

WHAT TO SAY TO SOMEBODY WHO SAFEGUARDS ONE FROM HARM

WE RELATE IN the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Sa'īd ibn al-Musayyab related that Abū Ayyūb al-Anṣārī ؓ removed something harmful from the beard of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, whereupon the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "May Allah wipe away from you, Abū Ayyūb, what you dislike."

مَسَحَ اللَّهُ عَنْكَ يَا أَبَا أَيُّوبَ مَا تَكْرَهُ.

Masaḥa-llāhu 'anka yā Abā Ayyūba mā takrah.

Another account, by Sa'īd ؓ, states that Abū Ayyūb al-Anṣārī ؓ took something [harmful] away from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "May there be no evil with you, Abū Ayyūb. May there be no evil with you, Abū Ayyūb."²

¹ Muslim (1193), al-Bukhārī (1825), al-Muwatta' (1/353), at-Tirmidhī (849), an-Nasā'ī (5/183-185), and Ibn Mājah (309).

² Ibn as-Sunnī (282).

لَا يَكُنْ بِكَ السُّوءُ يَا أَبَا أَيُّوبَ، لَا يَكُنْ بِكَ السُّوءُ.

Lā yakun bika-s-sū'u yā Abā Ayyūb, lā yakun bika-s-sū'.

We relate in [the same book] that 'Abdullāh ibn Bakr al-Bāhili narrated: "Umar ؓ took something from the beard (or head) of a man. The man said, 'May Allah turn evil away from you.' Umar ؓ then told him: 'He has averted evil from us since we embraced Islam. But if something [harmful is removed] from you should say: May your hands receive goodness.'" أَخَذْتُ يَدَاكَ خَيْرًا.

Akhadhat yadāka khayrā.

284

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING THE FIRST FRUIT OF THE YEAR

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that when people saw the first fruit of the year they brought it to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ received it he said: "O Allah, bless us in our fruit, bless us in our city, bless us in our ṣā' and bless us in our mudd."² Then he called the smallest of the children and gave him that fruit.³

اَللّٰهُمَّ بَارِكْ لَنَا فِي ثَمَرِنَا، وَبَارِكْ لَنَا فِي مَدِيْنَتِنَا، وَبَارِكْ
لَنَا فِي صَاعِنَا، وَبَارِكْ لَنَا فِي مُدِّنَا.

Allāhumma bārik lanā fī thamarinā, wa bārik lanā fī madīnatinā, wa bārik lanā fī ṣā'inā, wa bārik lanā fī muddinā.

In a narration of Muslim there is: "As a blessing along with a blessing," and then he would give it to the youngest of the children in his presence." In a narration of at-Tirmidhī there is: "The youngest child he saw."⁴ بَرَكَهٌ مَعَ بَرَكَهٍ.

Barakatan ma'a barakah.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (284).

² Ṣā' and mudd are units of volume, used in buying and selling grains, dates, etc.

³ Muslim (1373), an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (302).

⁴ at-Tirmidhī (3454).

In a narration of Ibn as-Sunnī from Abū Hurayrah ؓ there is [this hadith]: "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, when he was brought the first fruits, place them on his eyes and then on his lips and say, 'O Allah, just as You have shown us the first of it, let us see the last of it.' Then he would give it to whatever small children were with him."¹ اللَّهُمَّ كَمَا أَرَيْتَنَا أَوَّلَهُ فَأَرِنَا آخِرَهُ.

Allāhumma kamā araytanā awwalahu fa-arinā ākhirah.

285

THE DESIRABILITY OF MODERATION IN ADMONITION AND TEACHING

KNOW THAT IT is mustahabb for anyone who addresses a group of people or imparts knowledge to them to be moderate and not to make it lengthy, lest they become bored or annoyed and the sweetness and respect be removed from their hearts, and lest they come to dislike knowledge and listening to the good and thus fall into danger.

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Shaqīq ibn Salamah related: "Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ used to remind us [about aspects of the Dīn] every Thursday. A man said: 'Abū 'Abd ar-Raḥmān, I would like it if you would remind us every day.' He replied: 'What prevents me from doing so is that I do not want to bore you. I admonish you as frequently as the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to admonish us, fearing that we might become bored.'"²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Ammār ibn Yāsir ؓ reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Making the ṣalāh long and the khuṭbah short is a sign of a man's [good] understanding, so make the ṣalāh long and the khuṭbah short.'"³

I say that ma'innah, 'sign', is written with a mīm with a fathah, then a hamzah with a kasrah, and then a nūn with a shaddah, and means 'a sign that shows his understanding (fiqh)'.

We have related from Ibn Shihāb az-Zuhri, may Allah have mercy on him, who said: "If a gathering grows lengthy, Shayṭān has a share in it."

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (280)

² Al-Bukhārī (70) and Muslim (2821).

³ Muslim (869) and Abū Dāwūd (1106).

THE MERIT OF POINTING OUT GOOD AND ENCOURAGING IT

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Help one another in righteousness and piety."¹

﴿وَتَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوَى﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever calls [people] to [follow] guidance will gain a reward equivalent to all those who follow him, without that reducing their reward at all; and whoever calls [people] to error will incur a sin like the sins of all those who follow him, without that decreasing their sin at all."²

We also relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Mas'ūd al-Anṣārī al-Badrī ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever points out something good will have a reward like those who practise it."³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Sahl ibn Sa'd ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ told 'Alī ﷺ: "By Allah, for Allah to guide one person through you will be better for you than red camels."⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ that he ﷺ said: "Allah continues to help [His] servant as long as [His] servant helps his brother."⁵ The hadiths in this regard are many in the Ṣaḥīḥs, and are well-known.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR SOMEONE WHO IS ASKED FOR KNOWLEDGE HE DOES NOT HIMSELF POSSESS, BUT WHICH HE KNOWS THAT SOMEONE ELSE DOES, TO POINT HIM OUT

THE ṢAḤĪḤ HADITHS in the previous chapter refer to this subject. One of them is the hadith "Religion is sincere advice";⁶ and doing this is [a form of] advice.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Shurayḥ ibn Hānī' narrated: "I came to

¹ Qur'ān 5:2.

² Muslim (2674).

³ Muslim (1893).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (3701) and Muslim (2406).

⁵ Muslim (2699). This is part of a longer hadith.

⁶ At-Tirmidhī (1972) and Muslim (55).

‘Ā’ishah ؓ to ask her about wiping over leather socks [when performing wuḍū’]. She said: ‘Go to ‘Alī ibn Abī Tālib ؓ and ask him, for he used to travel with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.’ So we asked him. . . .’ He then recounted the rest of the hadith.¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim the long hadith about the story of Sa’d ibn Hishām ibn ‘Āmir. It is stated that when he wanted to ask about the Witr of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ he went to ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ and asked him about it. ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ said: “Should I not direct you to the most learned person on Earth about the Witr of the Allah’s Messenger ﷺ?” He asked: “Who?” He replied: “‘Ā’ishah ؓ. Go to her and ask her. . . .” He then recounted the rest of the hadith.²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ‘Imrān ibn Ḥiṭṭān related: “I asked ‘Ā’ishah ؓ about silk. She said: ‘Go to ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ and ask him.’ I asked him and he said: “Ask Ibn ‘Umar ؓ.’ So I asked Ibn ‘Umar and he said: ‘Abū Ḥafṣ’—that is, ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ—‘reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: ‘It is those who wear silk in this world who shall have no share [of it] in the Hereafter.’”³ I say that lā khalāq, ‘no share’, means ‘no portion’.

The ṣaḥīḥ hadiths which are similar to this are numerous and well-known.

288

WHAT TO SAY WHEN CALLED TO THE JUDGEMENT OF ALLAH

IF SOMEONE TELLS you ‘Between me and you is the Book of Allah’, or ‘the Sunnah of Allah’s Messenger ﷺ’, or ‘the rulings of the ‘ulamā’ of the Muslims’, or ‘Let us go to the ruler of the Muslims’, or ‘to the Muftī to decide the dispute between us’, and suchlike, he ought to reply: ‘We hear and we obey’, or ‘Hearing and obedience’, or ‘Yes, and nobly’, or suchlike.

Allah ﷻ says: “The answer of the believers, when summoned to Allah and His Messenger, that He may judge between them, is no other than to say, ‘We hear and obey’. It is those who shall attain felicity.”⁴

﴿إِنَّمَا كَانَ قَوْلَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ إِذَا دُعُوا إِلَى اللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ لِيَحْكُمَ
بَيْنَهُمْ أَنْ يُقُولُوا سَمِعْنَا وَأَطَعْنَا وَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ﴾

¹ Muslim (286).

² Muslim (746).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5835) and an-Nasā’ī (8/201).

⁴ Qur’ān 24:51.

BEING COURTEOUS IN LITIGATION AND DISPUTE AND KEEPING FAR AWAY FROM INAPPROPRIATE SPEECH

If a person with whom one has a dispute or who argues with one about something says 'Have taqwā of Allah ﷻ', or 'Fear Allah ﷻ', or 'Be vigilantly aware of Allah ﷻ', or 'Know that Allah ﷻ watches over you', or 'Know that what you are saying is written down against you and you will be taken to account for it'; or if he tells you, 'Allah ﷻ says: "On the Day when every soul shall be confronted with all the good it has done, and all the evil it has done, it will wish there were a great distance between itself and [its evil]"';¹

﴿يَوْمَ تَجِدُ كُلُّ نَفْسٍ مَّا عَمِلَتْ مِنْ خَيْرٍ مُّحْضَرًا وَمَا عَمِلَتْ
مِنْ سُوءٍ تَوَدُّ لَوْ أَنَّ بَيْنَهَا وَبَيْنَهُ أَمَدًا بَعِيدًا﴾ or "And fear the Day when you shall be brought back to Allah. Then shall every soul be paid what it earned, and none shall be wronged";²

﴿وَاتَّقُوا يَوْمًا تُرْجَعُونَ فِيهِ إِلَى اللَّهِ ۖ ثُمَّ تُوَفَّى كُلُّ نَفْسٍ مَّا كَسَبَتْ وَهُمْ لَا يُظْلَمُونَ﴾ or any such āyāt or similar words—one ought to act respectfully and say: 'Hearing and obedience,' or 'I ask Allah for success in that,' or 'I ask Allah, the Noble, for His grace.' Then one should be gracious and kind in addressing the person who said it to one. And one should beware completely of being careless at that point of his expression since so many people at such a time speak inappropriately, sometimes expressing themselves [in words] that can be kufr.

Similarly, if a companion tells one, "This thing you have done is contrary to the hadith of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ" or something, [beware] of saying, "I do not adhere to the hadith" or "I do not act by the hadith" or any such repugnant expressions—even if the hadith is not accepted outwardly because of some particularisation of interpretation or suchlike. Rather, one should then say, "This hadith has a particular meaning", or "It has an interpretation", or "Its literal sense is not accepted, by the consensus", or something similar.

¹ Qur'ān 3:30.

² Qur'ān 2:281.

TURNING AWAY FROM THE IGNORANT

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Hold onto forgiveness, command what is right, and turn away from the ignorant."¹

﴿خُذِ الْعَفْوَ وَأْمُرْ بِالْعُرْفِ وَأَعْرِضْ عَنِ الْجَاهِلِينَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And when they hear vain talk, they turn away from it and say: 'We have our deeds and you have yours. Peace be with you. We seek not the ignorant.'"²

﴿وَإِذَا سَمِعُوا اللَّغْوَ أَعْرَضُوا عَنْهُ وَقَالُوا لَنَا أَعْمَلُنَا وَلَكُمْ أَعْمَلُكُمْ سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكُمْ لَا نَبْتَغِي الْجَاهِلِينَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "So shun those who turn away from Our remembrance."³

﴿فَاعْرِضْ عَنْ مَّن تَوَلَّىٰ عَن ذِكْرِنَا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "So pardon [errors] with gracious forgiveness."⁴

﴿فَاصْفَحْ الصَّفْحَ الْجَمِيلَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd ﷺ narrated: "On the Day of Ḥunayn, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ gave some Arab noblemen preference in the distribution of the spoils. A man said: 'By Allah, there is no justice in this distribution and the Countenance of Allah is not sought in it.' I said: 'By Allah, I will definitely inform the Messenger of Allah ﷺ.' I came to him and told him about what [the man] had said. His face changed until it was like red dye, and then he said: 'Who can be just if Allah and His Messenger are not just?' Then he said: 'May Allah have mercy on Mūsā! He was injured with more than this, and he had patience.'"⁵

I say that ṣirf is written with a kasrah on the ṣād and a sukūn on the rā', and it means a red dye.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn ‘Abbās ﷺ related that ‘Uyaynah ibn Ḥiṣn ibn Ḥudhayfah came and lodged with his nephew al-Ḥurr ibn Qays, who was one of the group whom ‘Umar ﷺ kept close to himself. The reciters of the Qur’ān were the assembly of ‘Umar ﷺ and his council, whether they were middle-aged or young.

¹ Qur’ān 7:199.

² Qur’ān 28:55.

³ Qur’ān 53:29.

⁴ Qur’ān 15:85.

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (4336) and Muslim (1062).

'Uyaynah said to his nephew: "Nephew, you have some status with this leader, so ask him to permit me entry." 'Umar ؓ then gave him permission. When he entered he said: "Ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, by Allah, you do not give generously to us and you do not rule us justly." 'Umar ؓ became angry, so much so that he was on the point of attacking him. Al-Ḥurr said: "O Leader of the Believers, Allah ﷻ told His Prophet ﷺ: 'Hold onto forgiveness, command what is right, and turn away from the ignorant,' and this is one of the ignorant." By Allah, 'Umar did not go any further when he had recited that verse to him, for he was a staunch adherent to the Book of Allah ﷻ.¹

290

ADMONISHING THOSE WHO ARE MORE EMINENT THAN ONESELF

THE NARRATION OF 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās ؓ about the story of 'Umar ؓ in the previous chapter refers to this subject.

Know that it is of the utmost importance to pay attention to this point. It is wājib for every man to give advice and admonition and to tell anybody, whether young or old, to do good and not to do evil, unless he is convinced that some wickedness will result from the admonition. Allah ﷻ says: "Invite (all) to the way of your Lord with wisdom and goodly preaching; and debate with them in the ways that are best."²

﴿ادْعُ إِلَى سَبِيلِ رَبِّكَ بِالْحُكْمِ وَالْمَوْعِظَةِ الْحَسَنَةِ ۚ وَجَدِلْهُمْ بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ﴾

The hadiths to this effect are innumerable. What many people do in neglecting this with people of high rank, imagining that they are doing so from modesty, is manifest error and obnoxious ignorance. It is not modesty; it is nothing but lassitude, disgrace, weakness and frailty, for modesty entails all good and brings about nothing but good. This [negligence, however], leads to evil and is not modesty. Modesty, according to the 'ulamā' who are people of intellect and understanding and the imams of careful investigation, is a quality of character that leads to discarding what is [morally] ugly, and prevents one from neglecting the rights of those entitled to them.

And this is in the same sense as that which we relate from al-Junayd ؓ in ar-Risālat al-Qushayriyyah: "Modesty is to see the blessings [of Allah] and to see [one's own] shortcomings, so that they bring about in between them a condition called modesty."

I have explained this at length at the beginning of the commentary on the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim; and praise belongs to Allah, and He knows best.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4642).

² Qur'ān 15:125.

KEEPING A PROMISE OR A PACT

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Fulfill the covenant with Allah when you have entered into it."¹

﴿وَأَوْفُوا بِعَهْدِ اللَّهِ إِذَا عَاهَدْتُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "O you who believe, fulfil (all) obligations."²

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا أَوْفُوا بِالْعُقُودِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "And fulfil (every) pact, for (every) pact will be enquired into (on the Day of Reckoning)."³

﴿وَأَوْفُوا بِالْعَهْدِ إِنَّ الْعَهْدَ كَانَ مَسْئُولًا﴾

There are many verses on this subject, the most severe of them being Allah's ﷻ saying: "You who believe, why do you say that which you do not do? It is most hateful in the sight of Allah that you say that which you do not do."⁴

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا لِمَ تَقُولُونَ مَا لَا تَفْعَلُونَ * كَبُرَ
مَقْتًا عِنْدَ اللَّهِ أَنْ تَقُولُوا مَا لَا تَفْعَلُونَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The signs of the hypocrite are three: when he speaks, he lies; when he makes a promise, he breaks it; and when he is trusted, he betrays." According to a narration from Muslim he added: "even if he fasts and performs ṣalāh and claims to be a Muslim."⁵ The hadiths to this effect are numerous but there is enough in what I have mentioned.

The 'ulamā' are unanimously agreed that anyone who promises a person something which is not prohibited ought to fulfil his promise. Is that wājib or mustaḥabb? There is some disagreement about that. Ash-Shāfi'ī, Abū Ḥanīfah and the majority are of the opinion that it is mustaḥabb, so if anyone disregards it he will forfeit its merit and commit an extremely makrūh act, but will not be committing a sin. Another group are of the opinion that it is wājib.

According to Imam Abū Bakr ibn al-'Arabī al-Mālikī, the most important of the

¹ Qur'ān 16:91.

² Qur'ān 5:1.

³ Qur'ān 17:34.

⁴ Qur'ān 61:2-3.

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (33), Muslim (59), at-Tirmidhī (2633), and an-Nasā'ī (8/117).

people who took this position was 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Aziz. Mālikīs have adopted a third position, which is that if the promise is bound to a cause—such as when someone says, 'Marry and you will have such-and-such', or 'Swear an oath that you will not abuse me and you will have such-and-such', or something of that kind—in that case it is wājib to fulfil the promise, but if the promise is an unqualified promise, it is not wājib. Those who do not regard it as wājib try to prove that it is a type of gift, and that a gift does not become binding except by taking possession, according to the majority; but according to Mālikīs it is binding even before taking possession.

292

THE RECOMMENDATION TO MAKE DU'Ā FOR A PERSON WHO OFFERS ONE WEALTH OR SOMETHING ELSE

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī and elsewhere that Anas ؓ related that when 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn 'Awf ؓ came to Madīnah he lodged with Sa'd ibn Rabi' ؓ. [Sa'd ibn Rabi'] said to him: "I will divide my wealth with you and divorce one of my wives for you." He replied: "May Allah bless you in your family and wealth."

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ فِي أَهْلِكَ وَمَالِكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu laka fī ahlika wa mālik.

293

WHAT A MUSLIM SHOULD SAY TO A NON-MUSLIM SUBJECT WHO TREATS HIM WELL

KNOW THAT IS not permissible to make du'ā for the forgiveness of [such a person], or for anything else that is not [due] to disbelievers. But it is permissible to make du'ā for his guidance, health, well-being, and so on.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Anas ؓ said: "The Prophet ﷺ asked for water, and a Jew gave him water to drink. So the Prophet ﷺ said: 'May Allah make you beautiful.' He did not have a grey hair for as long as he lived."¹

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (290).

جَمَّلَكَ اللَّهُ.

Jammalaka-llāh.

294

WHAT TO SAY UPON SEEING SOMETHING IN ONESELF, ONE'S CHILD, PROPERTY OR ANYTHING ELSE WHICH PLEASES ONE SO THAT ONE FEARS AFFLICTING
IT WITH ONE'S EYE AND HARMING IT

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The [evil] eye is a reality."¹

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Umm Salamah ؓ reported that the Prophet ﷺ saw a young girl in her house whose eyes looked yellow and strange. He said: "Incant for her, for she has been affected by the evil eye."²

I say that saf'ah, with a fathah on the sīn and a sukūn on the fā', mens 'alteration and yellowness'. As for nazrah [literally 'look'], it mens 'the [evil] eye'. One says 'a child who has been looked at', meaning that 'the eye' afflicted him.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The [evil] eye is a reality. If anything had preceded the [Divine] decree, the [evil] eye would have preceded it. So if you are asked to bathe, then bathe."³

I say that the learned say that being asked to bathe means that someone says to the person who has the [evil] eye, i.e. the one who afflicts with his eye who looks at it with appreciation, "Bathe the inside of your lower garment, [worn] next to the skin, with water," and then it is poured over the person afflicted with the eye, i.e. the one who has been looked at.

It is reliably transmitted that 'Ā'ishah ؓ said, "The person who possessed 'the eye' used to be told to wash, and then the person afflicted would bathe with it [the same water they had used]." Abū Dāwūd narrates this hadith with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to seek protection from the jinn and the evil eye of men until the two Chapters of Seeking Protection (al-Mu'awwidhatān) were revealed. Once they were revealed he took them up and stopped using anything but them.⁴ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan hadith.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5944), Muslim (2187), and an-Nasā'ī (8/148).

² Al-Bukhārī (5739) and Muslim (2197).

³ Muslim (2188) and at-Tirmidhī (2063).

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (2059) and Ibn Mājah (3511).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī the hadith of Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to seek protection for Ḥasan and Ḥusayn, saying: “I seek protection for the two of you with the perfect Words of Allah from every shayṭān and poisonous thing, and from the evil eye.” He ؓ he said: “Truly your father [Ibrāhīm] used to seek protection with this prayer for Ismā‘il and Ishāq.”¹ أُعِيذُكُمْ بِكَلِمَاتِ اللَّهِ التَّامَّةِ، مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْطَانٍ وَهَامَّةٍ، وَمِنْ كُلِّ عَيْنٍ لَامَّةٍ.

U‘īdhukumā bi-kalimāti-llāhi-t-tāmmah, min kulli shayṭānin wa hāmmah, wa min kulli ‘aynin lāmmah.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that Sa‘īd ibn Ḥakīm ؓ reported that when the Prophet ﷺ was afraid of affecting anything with his eye he would say: “O Allah, bless it and do not harm it.”² اللَّهُمَّ بَارِكْ فِيهِ وَلَا تَضُرَّهُ.

Allāhumma bārik fihi wa lā taḍurrah.

We relate in [the same source] that Anas ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever sees something that impresses him and says As Allah wills; there is no power except by Allah, will not harm it.”³ مَا شَاءَ اللَّهُ لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Mā shā‘a-llāhu lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

We relate in [the same source] that Sahl ibn Ḥunayf ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If any of you sees anything that impresses him in himself or his wealth, he should pray for blessings on it, for the evil eye is a reality.”⁴

We relate in [the same book] that ‘Āmir ibn Rabī‘ah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If any of you sees in himself and his wealth anything that impresses him, he should make du‘ā’ for blessings [upon it].”⁵

The Imam Abū Muḥammad al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn, one of our [Shāfi‘ī] colleagues, may Allah have mercy on him, stated in his book at-Ta‘līq fi-l-madhhab: “One of the Prophets, the blessings and peace of Allah be upon them all, looked at his people one day and thought them to be many. [The sight of them] pleased him, but seventy thousand of them died at that moment. So Allah ﷻ revealed to him, ‘You gave them “the eye”. If only when you eyed them you had safeguarded them, they would not

1 Al-Bukhārī (3371).

2 Ibn as-Sunnī (207).

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (206).

4 Ibn as-Sunnī (204).

5 Ibn as-Sunnī (250).

have perished.' He said, 'What should I safeguard them with?' Allah then revealed to him, 'Say: I safeguard you by the Living, the Eternally Self-Subsistent Who never dies, and I repel evil from you by means of "There is no power nor strength but by Allah, the All-High, the Immense".'

حَصَّنْتُكُمْ بِالْحَيِّ الْقَيُّومِ الَّذِي لَا يَمُوتُ أَبَدًا، وَدَفَعْتُ عَنْكُمْ
السُّوءَ بِلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَلِيِّ الْعَظِيمِ.

*Ḥaṣṣantukum bi-l-Ḥayyi-l-Qayyūmi-lladhī lā yamūtu abadā, wa dafa'tu
'ankumu-s-sū'a bi-Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-'Aliyyi-l-'Aẓīm.*

The commentator on Qāḍī Ḥusayn said, "And the custom of Qāḍī Ḥusayn, may Allah have mercy on him, was that when he looked at his colleagues and their gravity and excellent condition pleased him, he would safeguard them with the aforementioned [prayer]." And Allah knows best.

295

WHAT TO SAY WHEN SEEING SOMETHING
ONE LIKES OR DISLIKES

WE RELATE FROM the books of Ibn Mājah and Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Ā'ishah ؓ narrated: "When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw anything that he liked, he would say: 'Praise be to Allah, by Whose bounty all pious deeds are completed.'

الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي بِنِعْمَتِهِ تُتِمُّ الصَّالِحَاتِ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi-lladhī bi-ni'matihi tutimmu-ṣ-ṣāliḥāt.

And when he saw something that he disliked, he would say: 'Praise be to Allah in all conditions.'¹ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ عَلَى كُلِّ حَالٍ.

Al-ḥamdu li-llāhi 'alā kullī ḥāl.

According to al-Ḥākim Abū 'Abdullāh, this hadith has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

¹ Ibn Mājah (3803) and Ibn as-Sunnī (380). The author of az-Zawā'id also states that the chain for this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN LOOKING AT THE SKY

IT IS MUSTAḤABB to say: "Our Lord, You have not created (all) this in vain. Glory be to You, so spare us from the chastisement of Hell-Fire. . ."¹ up to the end of the āyāt [that follow].

﴿رَبَّنَا مَا خَلَقْتَ هَذَا بَطْلًا سُبْحَنَكَ فَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ...﴾

Rabbanā mā khalaqta hādhā bāṭilā. Subḥānaka fa-qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār. . .

[This is] because of the hadith narrated by 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās ؓ in the two Ṣaḥīḥs: that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ got up in the night and looked at the sky he said [the above], which has already been explained. But Allah knows best.

WHAT TO SAY WHEN LOOKING FOR OMENS

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Mu'āwiyah ibn al-Ḥakam as-Sulamī ؓ, a Companion, related: "I said: 'Messenger of Allah, among us there are men who look for omens.' He ﷺ said: 'That is something that they find in their hearts, so let that not bar them.'"²

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī that 'Urwah ibn 'Āmir al-Juhanī ؓ narrated that the Prophet ﷺ was asked about omens, and said: "The most truthful of it is a good omen, and it does not repel a Muslim. So if you see any of these omens that you dislike, say: O Allah, none brings about good but You, and none takes away evil but You. There is no power and no strength but by Allah."³

اللَّهُمَّ لَا يَأْتِي بِالْحَسَنَاتِ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، وَلَا يَذْهَبُ بِالسَّيِّئَاتِ
إِلَّا أَنْتَ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Allāhumma lā ya'tī bi-l-ḥasanāti illā Ant, wa lā yadhhabu bis-sayyi'āti illā Ant. Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

1 Qur'ān 3:191.

2 Muslim (537).

3 Ibn as-Sunnī (294).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ENTERING A PUBLIC BATH (ḤAMMĀM)

IT IS SAID that it is mustaḥabb to mention the name of Allah ﷻ, and to ask Him for Paradise and seek His protection from Hell-Fire.

We relate in the book of Ibn as-Sunnī, with a weak isnād, that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "What an excellent house is the bath-house which a Muslim enters! When he goes into it he asks Allah ﷻ for Paradise and he seeks refuge with Him from Hell-Fire."¹

WHAT TO SAY WHEN BUYING A SLAVE OR ANIMAL, OR WHEN REPAYING A DEBT

IT IS MUSTAḤABB at the beginning to hold him or her by the forelock and to say: "O Allah, I ask You for the goodness in him and the good with which he was created; and I seek Your protection from the evil in him and the evil with which he was created."

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَهُ وَخَيْرَ مَا جُبِلَ عَلَيْهِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّهِ وَشَرِّ مَا جُبِلَ عَلَيْهِ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka khayrahu wa khayra mā jubila 'alayh, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharrihi wa sharra mā jubila 'alayh.

We have cited in the chapter on the adhkār of marriage the hadiths relating to similar matters that are found in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and other sources. When repaying a debt one should say: 'May Allah bless you in your family and wealth,' and: 'May He reward you with goodness.'

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ فِي أَهْلِكَ وَمَالِكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu laka fī ahlika wa mālik.

جَزَاكَ خَيْرًا.

Jazāka khayrā.

¹ Ibn as-Sunnī (316).

WHAT TO SAY WHEN ONE IS UNABLE TO KEEP STEADY ON A HORSE AND WHAT SUPPLICATION IS TO BE MADE FOR ONE

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jarīr ibn ‘Abdullāh al-Bajalī رضي الله عنه narrated: “I complained to the Prophet ﷺ that I could not keep steady on a horse. He hit me on the chest with his hand and said: ‘O Allah, make him steady and make him a guide who is guided.’”¹ اللَّهُمَّ ثَبِّتْهُ وَاجْعَلْهُ هَادِيًا مَهْدِيًّا.

Allāhumma thabbit-hu wa-j’alhu hādiyan mahdiyyā.

THE PROHIBITION OF SCHOLARS AND OTHERS SPEAKING TO PEOPLE ABOUT MATTERS THAT THEY DO NOT UNDERSTAND

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: “And We have sent no Messenger but [speaking] in the language of his people so that he might explain to them.”²

﴿وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ رَّسُولٍ إِلَّا بِلِسَانٍ قَوْمِهِ لِيُبَيِّنَ لَهُمْ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to Mu‘ādh رضي الله عنه, when he made the congregational ṣalāh a long one: “Are you looking for trouble, Mu‘ādh?”³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ‘Alī رضي الله عنه said: “Speak to people about things which they can understand. Do you want Allah and His Messenger to be denied?”⁴

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3036), Muslim (2475).

² Qur’ān 14:4.

³ Al-Bukhārī (705) and Muslim (465).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (127).

A SCHOLAR AND ORATOR TELLING THE PEOPLE WHO ATTEND HIS ASSEMBLY TO KEEP QUIET AND LISTEN
SO THAT THEY WILL LISTEN ATTENTIVELY

JARĪR IBN ‘ABDULLĀH ۞ related that the Messenger of Allah ۞ said on the day of the Farewell Hajj: “Tell the people to keep quiet and listen.” Then he said: “Do not revert to being disbelievers after I [am gone], with some of you striking the necks of others.”¹

WHAT A ROLE MODEL SHOULD SAY WHEN DOING SOMETHING WHICH APPEARS TO BE IMPROPER
ALTHOUGH IT IS IN FACT PROPER

KNOW THAT IT is mustahabb for scholars, teachers, Qādīs, Muftīs, Shaykhs of Instruction, and others who are followed and imitated and from whom [knowledge] is taken to abstain from deeds, utterances and dealings which are apparently improper, even if they may justifiably do them. For if they do [such things], various corrupt things may ensue as a consequence, such as the following.

Many of those who know [the person to be an example] may wrongly assume that [the action] is permissible under all conditions, and that it will remain ever afterwards as a thing [apparently] sanctioned by the Shari‘ah and practised.

People may attack him for having defects, believe it to be a defect in him, and defame him for it.

People may have a bad opinion of him and feel aversion to him, and put others off from learning from him, with the result that the things that he narrates and his testimony may come to be rejected, and acting by his fatwā may be regarded as invalid. People’s inclination to the knowledge that he has may disappear. These are all obvious things that create disorder, every one of which ought to be avoided—let alone the sum of them all.

If he needs to do [something that appears improper] and at the same time he is in the right, he must not do it openly. If he does it openly, or it appears openly, or he sees some benefit in making it public so that people may know that it is permissible and understand the ruling of the Shari‘ah on that question, he ought to say: “What I did is not unlawful” or “I have only done it so that you may know that it is not unlawful if it is done in the way I have done it, which is such-and-such and such-and-such, the evidence for which is such-and-such and such-and-such”.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4405) and Muslim (65).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Sahl ibn Sa’d as-Sā’idī ؓ narrated: “I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ standing on the minbar. He pronounced takbīr and the people behind him pronounced takbīr. He recited and then bowed and the people behind him bowed. Then he rose up and moved backwards and prostrated on the ground. Then he returned to the minbar until he had completed his ṣalāh. Then he turned to the people and said: ‘O people, I only did this so that you might follow me as Imam and so that you might learn my ṣalāh.’”¹

Hadiths on this matter are numerous, such as the one [in which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, on being seen with a woman, explained to the man who saw him] “It is Ṣaḥīyyah.”²

[According to another,] which is in al-Bukhārī³, ‘Alī drank whilst standing and said: “I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ do as you saw me doing.”

The hadiths and traditions to the same effect in the Ṣaḥīḥ are well-known.

304

WHAT A FOLLOWER SHOULD SAY TO THE PERSON HE IS FOLLOWING IF HE DOES [SOMETHING OF THAT KIND]

KNOW THAT IT is mustaḥabb for a follower, when he sees his Shaykh or anyone else who is a role model do something contrary to that which is known [to be correct], to question him with the intention of seeking guidance. If he did it forgetfully then he will be reminded; and if he did it deliberately, and it is correct, he will explain it to his follower.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ set off from ‘Arafāt. When he reached the mountain pass he dismounted. He urinated and performed wuḍū’. I said: ‘The ṣalāh, Messenger of Allah?’ He replied: ‘The ṣalāh is ahead of you.’”⁴ I say that Usāmah only said that because he thought that the Prophet ﷺ had forgotten the ṣalāh of Maghrib, for its time had already begun when he was about to set off.”

We relate in both of their Ṣaḥīḥs that Sa’d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ asked: “Messenger of Allah, why do you turn away from So-and-so? By Allah, I consider him a believer.”⁵

And in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim there is [a hadith] from Buraydah ؓ that the Prophet

¹ Al-Bukhārī (917) and Muslim (544).

² Al-Bukhārī (2038) and Muslim (2175).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5615), Abū Dāwūd (3718), and an-Nasā’ī (1/84–85).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (139) and Muslim (1280).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (1478) and Muslim (150).

performed all the ṣalāhs on the Day of the Conquest [of Makkah] with a single wuḍūʿ. 'Umar رضي الله عنه said: "You have done something today that you have never done before." He said: "I did it deliberately, 'Umar."¹
There are many similar narrations to these in the Ṣaḥīḥ which are very well-known.

305

ENCOURAGEMENT OF MUTUAL CONSULTATION

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And consult them in the matter."² There are many well-known authentic hadiths on this subject.

﴿وَشَاوِرْهُمْ فِي الْأَمْرِ﴾

This verse renders all else superfluous, so when Allah ﷻ commands it explicitly in His Book and informs His Messenger ﷺ about consultation, even though he is the most perfect of all creation, what, then, of the rest of us?

Know that it is mustaḥabb for anyone who intends to embark on some undertaking to consult those whom he can trust in their religion, experience, sagacity, sincerity in advice, scrupulousness and compassion. It is mustaḥabb to consult a group which has these qualities, and to consult several of them. One should describe to them one's objective in the matter and explain to them the good and bad aspects of the matter, if he knows of any. The command for consultation in the case of those who manage the affairs of the public, like a Sultan, a Qāḍī, and so on is more vital. The ṣaḥīḥ hadiths about 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb رضي الله عنه consulting his companions and accepting their opinions are many and well-known. The benefit of consultation lies in accepting the opinion of those consulted, if they have the above-mentioned qualities and there is no obvious flaw in their opinion. The person being consulted should do their utmost to give sincere advice and ponder the matter.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Tamīm ad-Dārī رضي الله عنه narrated: "The Prophet ﷺ said: 'The Dīn is sincere good counsel.' [Those present] asked: 'For whom?' He replied: 'For Allah, His Book, His Messenger, the leaders of the Muslims, and the Muslims in general.'"³

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A person who is consulted is a confidant."⁴

¹ Muslim (277).

² Qur'ān (3:159).

³ Muslim (55), Abū Dāwūd (4944), and an-Nasā'ī (7/156).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (5127), at-Tirmidhī (2823), Ibn Mājah (3745).

URGING GOOD WORDS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And lower your wing (in gentleness) to the believers."¹

﴿وَاخْفِضْ جَنَاحَكَ لِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from 'Adī ibn Ḥātim ﷺ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Ward off Hell-Fire, even if it be with a portion of a date; and whoever does not have that, then [let him do so] with a good word."²

We relate in both their Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is charity due on every joint of a man's body, every day that the sun rises. To bring about justice between two people is charity, to help a man with his riding animal, lifting him on to it or lifting his merchandise up to him on it is charity." He [also] said ﷺ: "A good word is charity; every step taken walking to ṣalāh is charity; and to remove something harmful from the road is charity."³

I say sulāmā, with a ḍammah on the sīn and a single lām, means one of the joints of a person's limbs, and its plural is sulāmayāt with a ḍammah on the sīn and a fathah and a single yā'; and we looked at its spelling at the beginning of this book.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Dharr ﷺ narrated: "Allah's Messenger ﷺ said to me: 'Do not think little of any good deed, even if it be meeting your brother with a smiling face.'"⁴

THE DESIRABILITY OF MAKING ONE'S SPEECH
CLEAR AND SUCCINCT FOR THOSE ADDRESSED

WE RELATE IN the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Ā'ishah ﷺ said: "The speech of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was distinct, so that everyone who heard him understood him."⁵

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Anas ﷺ narrated that when the Prophet ﷺ said something [particularly important] he would repeat it thrice so that it could be understood; and when he came to a group of people and greeted them, he would greet them thrice.⁶

1 Qur'ān 15:88.

2 Al-Bukhārī (6023) and Muslim (1016).

3 Al-Bukhārī (2989) and Muslim (1009).

4 Muslim (2626).

5 Abū Dāwūd (4839).

6 Al-Bukhārī (94).

JOKING

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say to [Anas's] young brother: "Abū 'Umayr, what did the little bird do?"¹

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Anas رضي الله عنه also narrated that the Prophet ﷺ called him "You with the two ears".² At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We also relate in the same two books that a man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: "Messenger of Allah, give me a mount to ride." He said: "I will give you the offspring of a camel to ride." [The man] said: "Messenger of Allah, what can I do with the offspring of a camel?" The Messenger of Allah ﷺ replied: "Does a camel give birth to anything but a camel?"³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that people said: "Messenger of Allah, you joke with us." He said: "I do not say anything but the truth."⁴ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not argue with your brother, do not joke [maliciously] with him, and do not make him a promise and then break it."⁵

The 'ulamā' say that the kind of joking that is prohibited is that which is excessive and persistent, for it leads to [excessive] laughter and hardness of heart, and distracts people from the remembrance of Allah and contemplating important religious matters. Most of the time it leads to harm, creates rancour, and destroys awe and dignity. What is free from such drawbacks is the permissible joking which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to engage in, because he ﷺ did so rarely, for some benefit, and to win the heart of the person addressed and to foster intimacy. This is absolutely not prohibited but is a mustaḥabb Sunnah, provided that it fulfils these conditions. Rely, then, on what I have transmitted from the 'ulamā' and what we have verified in detail of these hadiths and the explanations of these rulings, because there is great need for it. And all success is by Allah.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (2169) and Muslim (2150).

² Abū Dāwūd (5002) and at-Tirmidhī (1993).

³ Abū Dāwūd (4998) and at-Tirmidhī (1992).

⁴ At-Tirmidhī (1991).

⁵ At-Tirmidhī (1996), who states that this hadith is gharīb. As-Suyūṭī indicates in al-Jāmi' aṣ-ṣaḥīḥ that it is weak.

INTERCEDING

KNOW THAT INTERCEDING with those in authority for others, such as those whose rights have been infringed and those who are seeking to have their rights fulfilled, is mustahabb, except in regard to legal punishments or in matters which it is not permissible to overlook. One example of the latter would be to suggest that someone who cares for a child, a madman or an endowment etc., abandon their rights in that area of authority. All such intercession is unlawful. It is ḥarām for the one who intercedes and it is ḥarām for the one with whom he intercedes to accept it. It is also ḥarām for others to pursue the matter if they know about it.

The proof of what we have stated is apparent from the Book, the Sunnah and the statements of the learned of the Ummah. Allah ﷻ says: "Whoever intercedes in a good cause becomes a partner therein; and whoever intercedes in an evil cause shares in its burden; and Allah has the measure of all things."¹

﴿مَنْ يَشْفَعُ شَفَاعَةً حَسَنَةً يَكُنْ لَهُ نَصِيبٌ مِّنْهَا ۖ وَمَنْ يَشْفَعُ شَفَاعَةً سَيِّئَةً يَكُنْ لَهُ كِفْلٌ مِّنْهَا ۚ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مُّقِيتًا﴾

Muqīt [means the same as] Muqtadir and Muqaddir: that is the verdict of linguists and is cited from Ibn 'Abbās and other scholars of tafsīr. Others have said that al-Muqīt means the Guardian, and others that al-Muqīt is the One responsible for the nourishment and provision of every creature. Al-Kalbī says that al-Muqīt is the One Who recompenses for all good and bad actions. Some say that al-Muqīt is the Witness, and this goes back to the sense of al-Muqīt as the Guardian. Kifl means a portion or an allocation.

As for the intercession mentioned in the āyah, the majority take the position that this is the best known form of intercession, i.e. people's interceding for each other. Some say that 'good intercession' means to couple (yashfa') one's īmān with fighting against disbelievers. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ related that when a person in need came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, he turned to his Companions and said: "Intercede and you will be rewarded; and Allah will decide on the tongue of His Prophet what He likes."² Another narration has, "...what He wishes."

In a narration of Abū Dāwūd there is this hadith: "Intercede with me so that you may be rewarded and Allah will decide on the tongue of His Prophet whatever He wishes." And this narration clarifies the meaning of the narration in the two Ṣaḥīḥ books.

¹ Qur'ān 4:85.

² Al-Bukhārī (6028), Muslim (2627), Abū Dāwūd (5131), at-Tirmidhī (2674), and an-Nasā'ī (5/78).

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ narrated, in the story of Barīrah ؓ and her husband, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to her: “If only you were to take him back!” She asked: “Messenger of Allah, are you ordering me to?” He replied: “I am only interceding.” She said: “I have no need of him.”¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ related that ‘Uyaynah ibn Ḥiṣn ibn Ḥudhayfah came and lodged with his nephew al-Ḥurr ibn Qays, who was one of the group whom ‘Umar ؓ kept close to himself. The reciters of the Qur’ān were the assembly of ‘Umar ؓ and his council, whether they were middle-aged or young. ‘Uyaynah said to his nephew: “Nephew, you have some status with this leader, so ask him to permit me entry.” ‘Umar ؓ then gave him permission. When he entered he said: “Ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, by Allah, you do not give generously to us and you do not rule us justly.” ‘Umar ؓ became angry, so much so that he was on the point of attacking him. Al-Ḥurr said: “O Leader of the Believers, Allah ﷻ told His Prophet ﷺ: ‘Hold onto forgiveness, command what is right, and turn away from the ignorant,’ and this is one of the ignorant.” By Allah, ‘Umar did not go any further once he had recited that verse to him, for he was a staunch adherent to the Book of Allah ﷻ.²

310

THE DESIRABILITY OF GIVING GOOD NEWS AND CONGRATULATIONS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: “The angels called unto him while he was standing in prayer in the chamber, ‘Allah gives you glad tidings of Yaḥyā’.”³

﴿فَنَادَتْهُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ وَهُوَ قَائِمٌ يُصَلِّي فِي الْمِحْرَابِ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يُبَشِّرُكَ بِيَحْيَى﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “When Our Messengers came to Ibrāhīm with the good news.”⁴

﴿وَلَمَّا جَاءَتْ رُسُلُنَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ بِالْبُشْرَى﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “There came Our Messengers to Ibrāhīm with glad tidings.”⁵

﴿وَلَقَدْ جَاءَتْ رُسُلُنَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ بِالْبُشْرَى﴾

1 Al-Bukhārī (5283).

2 Al-Bukhārī (4642).

3 Qur’ān 4:39.

4 Qur’ān 29:31.

5 Qur’ān 11:69.

Allah ﷻ says: "So We gave him the good news of a forbearing boy."¹

﴿فَبَشَّرْنَاهُ بِغُلَامٍ حَلِيمٍ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "They said: 'Fear not,' and they gave him glad tidings of a boy endowed with much knowledge."²

﴿قَالُوا لَا تَخَفْ ۖ وَبَشِّرُوهُ بِغُلَامٍ عَلِيمٍ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "They said: 'Tremble not. We give you glad tidings of a boy endowed with much knowledge.'"³

﴿قَالُوا لَا تَوْجَلْ ۖ إِنَّا نُبَشِّرُكَ بِغُلَامٍ عَلِيمٍ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And his wife was standing [there], and she laughed: and We gave her glad tidings of Ishāq, and of Ya'qūb after Ishāq."⁴

﴿وَأَمْرَأَتُهُ قَائِمَةٌ فَضَحِكَتْ ۖ فَبَشَّرْنَاهَا بِإِسْحَاقَ وَمِنْ وَرَاءِ إِسْحَاقَ يَعْقُوبَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "When the angels said: 'O Maryam, Allah gives you glad tidings of a Word from Him.'"⁵

﴿إِذْ قَالَتِ الْمَلَائِكَةُ يَمْرُؤُا إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُبَشِّرُكَ بِكَلِمَةٍ مِّنْهُ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "That is [the bounty] whereof Allah gives glad tidings to His servants who believe and do righteous deeds."⁶

﴿ذَلِكَ الَّذِي يُبَشِّرُ اللَّهُ عِبَادَهُ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "So announce the good news to My servants, those who listen to the Word and follow the best of it."⁷

﴿فَبَشِّرْ عِبَادِ ۖ * الَّذِينَ يَسْتَمِعُونَ الْقَوْلَ فَيَتَّبِعُونَ أَحْسَنَهُ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And rejoice in glad tidings of Paradise, which you were promised."⁸

﴿وَأَبَشِّرُوا بِالْجَنَّةِ الَّتِي كُنتُمْ تُوعَدُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "That day shall you see the believing men and the believing women,

1 Qur'an 37:101.

2 Qur'an 51:28.

3 Qur'an 15:53.

4 Qur'an 11:71.

5 Qur'an 3:45.

6 Qur'an 42:23.

7 Qur'an 39:17-18.

8 Qur'an 41:30.

their light running before them and to the right of them. Good news for you this day: gardens beneath which rivers flow.”¹

﴿يَوْمَ تَرَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ يَسْعَىٰ نُورُهُم بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَبِأَيْمَانِهِمْ
بُشْرَانِكُمْ الْيَوْمَ جَنَّاتٌ تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “Their Lord gives them glad tidings of mercy from Himself, of His good pleasure; and of gardens for them, wherein are abiding delights.”²

﴿يُبَشِّرُهُمْ رَبُّهُمْ بِرَحْمَةٍ مِنْهُ وَرِضْوَانٍ وَجَنَّاتٍ لَّهُمْ فِيهَا نَعِيمٌ مُّقِيمٌ﴾

The hadiths narrated about giving good news are very numerous and well-known. Among them are those recounting the glad tidings given to Khadījah ؓ of a house of pearls in Paradise in which there is no fatigue and no argument.³

Another is the hadith of Ka'b ibn Mālīk ؓ in the two Ṣaḥīḥs about the story of the acceptance of his repentance.⁴ He said: “I heard the sound of someone shouting at the top of his voice: ‘O Ka'b ibn Mālīk, good news!’ People began to congratulate me. I set off, looking for the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and people met me in groups congratulating me on my being forgiven. They said ‘May Allah’s relenting towards you give you joy,’ until I entered the mosque and there was the Messenger of Allah ﷺ surrounded by people. Ṭalḥah ibn ‘Ubaydullāh ؓ stood up and ran to shake my hand and congratulate me.” Ka'b ؓ never forgot this about Ṭalḥah. Ka'b ؓ said: “When I greeted Allah’s Messenger ﷺ, he said, his face shining with happiness: ‘Good news of the best day that has happened to you since the day your mother gave birth to you.’”

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF EXPRESSING SURPRISE WITH WORDS OF TASBĪḤ, TAHLĪL, AND SUCH LIKE

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ once met him while he was in a state of major ritual impurity. He slipped away and went to bathe. The Prophet ﷺ missed him, and when he came back he asked: “Where were you, Abū Hurayrah?” He replied: “Messenger of Allah, you met me when I was in a state of major ritual impurity, and I did not

¹ Qur’ān 57:12.

² Qur’ān 9:21.

³ Al-Bukhārī (3816) and Muslim (2433).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (4418) and Muslim (2769).

want to sit with you until I had bathed." He ﷺ said: "Glory be to Allah! A believer does not become unclean."¹

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Ā'ishah ﷺ narrated that a woman asked the Prophet ﷺ about bathing after menstruation. He instructed her on how to bathe. He said: "Take a piece of musk and purify yourself with it." "How must I clean with it?" she asked. He said: "Clean with it." "How?" she asked. He said: "Glory be to Allah! Clean!" 'Ā'ishah ﷺ said, "I drew her close to me and said: 'Follow the trace of the blood.'"²

I say that this is the wording of one of al-Bukhārī's narrations, and the others and Muslim's narrations are in the same sense. Firṣah, with a kasrah on the fā' and with a ṣād, means 'a piece'. Misk ('musk'), with a kasrah on the mīm, is the well-known perfume, but some say that the mīm has a fathah (mask) and that what is meant is 'skin'; and many other things have been said. The chosen position is that she should take a little musk, put it on a piece of cotton or wool, a rag, or suchlike, and place it in the vagina to render the area fragrant and remove the unpleasant odour. Some say that the actual purpose [of this] is to improve fertility, but that is a weak [opinion]. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Anas ﷺ reported that the sister of Umm Hārith ﷺ once wounded a man. They took the dispute to the Prophet ﷺ and he said: "Retaliation, retaliation." Umm ar-Rubayyi' asked: "Messenger of Allah, will you exact retaliation from So-and-so, when Allah does not exact retaliation from her?" The Prophet ﷺ replied: "Glory be to Allah! Umm ar-Rubayyi', retaliation is the prescription of Allah."³

I say that the source of the hadith is in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, but what we have cited here is the wording of Muslim which conforms to the meaning we have in mind. Ar-Rubayyi' has a ḍammah on the rā', a fathah on the bā', and a shaddah on the yā'.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn ﷺ narrated, in a long hadith about the story of a woman who was taken prisoner: "She escaped and rode the she-camel of the Prophet ﷺ. She made a vow that if Allah saved her she would slaughter it. When she arrived, they mentioned the matter to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, who said: 'Glory be to Allah! How ill she rewards her [the camel]!'"⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ﷺ, in the hadith about seeking permission, that he said to 'Umar ﷺ . . . and at the end of it he said: "O Ibn al-Khaṭṭāb, do not be a punishment for the Companions of Allah's Messenger ﷺ." He said: "Glory be to Allah! I merely heard something and wished to confirm it."⁵

We relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs, in the long hadith of 'Abdullāh ibn Salām ﷺ, when someone said that "You are one of the inhabitants of Paradise," he exclaimed: "Glory be to Allah! It is not befitting for anyone to say something he does not know. . ." He then recounted the rest of the hadith.⁶

1 Al-Bukhārī (283), Muslim (371), Abū Dāwūd (231), at-Tirmidhī (121), and an-Nasā'ī (1/145-146).

2 Al-Bukhārī (314) and Muslim (332).

3 Muslim (1675) and al-Bukhārī (4500).

4 Muslim (1641).

5 Muslim (2154).

6 Al-Bukhārī (3813) and Muslim (2474).

ENJOINING WHAT IS GOOD AND FORBIDDING EVIL

THIS IS THE most important chapter, or one of the most important, because of the many texts that bear on it and because of its prominence, its extreme importance and the fact that it is frequently neglected by most people. It is not possible to examine all the details, so I will mention some of the principles here. The learned have compiled various books on the subject. I collected some of [what they wrote] in the beginning of [my] commentary on the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and drew attention in it to important matters which it is essential to know.

Allah ﷻ says: "Let there be a group of you who summon [others] to [all that is] good, enjoin what is right, and forbid what is reprehensible: it is those who are the successful."¹

﴿وَلْتَكُنْ مِنْكُمْ أُمَّةٌ يَدْعُونَ إِلَى الْخَيْرِ وَيَأْمُرُونَ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ
وَيَنْهَوْنَ عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ وَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Hold on to forgiveness and enjoin what is right."²

﴿خُذِ الْعَفْوَ وَأْمُرْ بِالْعُرْفِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "The believers, men and women, are protectors of one another: they enjoin what is right and forbid what is reprehensible."³

﴿وَالْمُؤْمِنُونَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتُ بَعْضُهُمْ أَوْلِيَاءُ بَعْضٍ يَأْمُرُونَ
بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَيَنْهَوْنَ عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "They did not forbid one another any iniquities that they committed. Evil indeed is that which they used to do!"⁴

﴿كَانُوا لَا يَتَنَاهَوْنَ عَنْ مُنْكَرٍ فَعَلُوهُ لَبِئْسَ مَا كَانُوا يَفْعَلُونَ﴾

The verses in this regard are very well-known.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ﷺ narrated: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'Whoever of you sees something reprehensible should

¹ Qur'ān 3:104.

² Qur'ān 7:199.

³ Qur'ān 9:71.

⁴ Qur'ān 5:79.

change it with his hand; and if he is unable to do so then with his tongue; and if he is unable to do so then with his heart; and that is the weakest form of faith.”¹

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ḥudhayfah ؓ related that the Prophet ﷺ said: “I swear by Him Who has my life in His hands, without a doubt you must enjoin what is beneficial and forbid what is reprehensible, or Allah will surely send down upon you a punishment from Him. Then you will pray to Him but He will not answer your prayers.”² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a hasan hadith.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī, and Ibn Mājah that Abū Bakr ؓ said: “O people, you recite this verse: ‘You who believe, guard your own souls; no harm can come to you from those who go astray if you follow guidance.’³ I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: ‘If people see a wrongdoer but do not restrain his hands, Allah will soon send down on them a punishment that will affect all of them.’”⁴

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا عَلَيْكُمْ أَنفُسَكُمْ لَا يَضُرُّكُمْ مِّنْ ضَلَّ إِذَا اهْتَدَيْتُمْ﴾

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and others from Abū Sa’id al-Khudrī ؓ that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The best jihād is to speak a word of justice to a tyrannical ruler.”⁵ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a hasan hadith.

I say: “The hadiths in this chapter are too well-known to need mention. Many ignorant people are deceived by this noble verse and misinterpret it. The correct meaning is: ‘If you do what you have been ordered to do, the misguidance of those who go astray will not harm you.’ One of the things that they have been commanded to do is to enjoin what is right and to forbid what is reprehensible. The verse has a meaning close to His words ﷺ: ‘And the Messenger’s duty is only to convey [the message].’”⁶

﴿وَمَا عَلَى الرَّسُولِ إِلَّا الْبَلَاغُ﴾

Know that enjoining what is right and forbidding what is reprehensible has conditions and modalities that are well-known; but this is not the place to discuss them. The best place to find [such a discussion] is in the Ihyā’ ulūm ad-dīn; I have also explained the most important aspects of it in my commentary on Muslim. And Allah it is Who grants success.

1 Muslim (49), Abū Dāwūd (1140), Ibn Mājah (4013) and an-Nasā’ī (8/111).

2 At-Tirmidhī (2169).

3 Qur’ān 5:105.

4 Abū Dāwūd (4338), at-Tirmidhī (2169), and Ibn Mājah (4011).

5 Abū Dāwūd (4344), at-Tirmidhī (2175), and Ibn Mājah (4011).

6 Qur’ān 29:18.

SAFEGUARDING THE TONGUE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Not a word does he utter without there being a Vigilant Guardian with him."¹

﴿مَا يَلْفِظُ مِنْ قَوْلٍ إِلَّا لَدَيْهِ رَقِيبٌ عَتِيدٌ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Verily your Lord is on the watch."²

﴿إِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَبِالْمُرْصَادِ﴾

In the preceding chapters I have mentioned as many mustahabb adhkār and suchlike as Allah ﷻ has made easy. I wanted to add to it those words and utterances that are makrūh and ḥarām, so that this book may include all the laws and rulings concerning speech, and explain its different types. Thus I will mention the purposes that every follower of the Dīn needs to know. Most of the things I will mention are well-known and so I will leave out the proof and sources for most of them. And Allah it is Who gives success.

GUARDING THE TONGUE AGAINST ALL SPEECH EXCEPT WHEN THERE IS SOME OBVIOUS BENEFIT

Know that every responsible person ought to guard his tongue against anything which there is no clear benefit in saying. So when speech and silence are of equal benefit it is Sunnah to remain silent, because permissible speech may lead to that which is ḥarām or makrūh. This is something that happens often, or even in most cases; and nothing is as good as safety.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should say what is good or keep quiet."

I say that this hadith, the authenticity of which is agreed upon, states explicitly that it is not proper to speak unless the utterance is good: that is, clearly of benefit. If there is any doubt as to its benefit or usefulness, one should not speak. Imam ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him, said: "If a person wishes to speak, he should think it over before doing so. If some benefit is evident then he should speak; but if he is in doubt, he should not speak until [some benefit] becomes evident."³

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ said: "I asked: 'Messen-

¹ Qur'ān 50:18.

² Qur'ān 89:14.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6475), Muslim (47), and Abū Dāwūd (5154).

ger of Allah, which of the Muslims is the best?' He replied: 'He from whose hand and tongue the Muslims are safe.'¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Sahl ibn Sa'd رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever will guarantee me what is between his jaws and between his legs, I will guarantee him Paradise."²

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "The slave [of Allah] may say something which he does not take care to be clear about and which causes him to slip into Hell-Fire, further than the distance between East and West."³ In the narration of al-Bukhārī there is: "...further than the distance between East", without mention of the West. The meaning of yatabayyanu ('take care to be clear about') is thinking about whether it is good or not.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The slave [of Allah] may say something that causes the pleasure of Allah ﷻ without paying any heed to it, and Allah ﷻ may raise him in degrees because of it. The slave [of Allah] may say something that incurs the displeasure of Allah without paying any heed to it, and he may fall into Hell because of it."⁴ I say that it is thus in the sources of al-Bukhārī: "Allah ﷻ will raise in degrees because of it"; and this is ṣaḥīḥ, and means 'his degrees', or it is implied '...will raise him...'. Yulqī is with a qāf.

We relate in the Muwattaʿa' of Imam Mālik and the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Bilāl ibn al-Ḥarith al-Muzanī رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A man may utter a word that incurs the pleasure of Allah ﷻ, not thinking that it will reach where it reaches, and Allah may destine for him, because of it, His pleasure until the day he meets Him. A man may say something which incurs the displeasure of Allah ﷻ, not thinking that it will reach where it reaches, and Allah may destine for him His displeasure until the day he meets Him."⁵ At-Tirmidhī says this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah that Sufyān ibn 'Abdullāh رضي الله عنه reported: "I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, tell me of something that I can adhere to.' He said: 'Say: My Lord is Allah and then be steadfast.' I said: 'Messenger of Allah, what do you fear most for me?' He ﷺ took hold of his own tongue and said: 'This.'"⁶ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Umar رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not speak much without the remembrance of Allah, for excessive talk without the remembrance of Allah is hardness of heart—and the furthest people from Allah are the hard-hearted."⁷

1 Al-Bukhārī (11) and Muslim (42).

2 Al-Bukhārī (6474) and at-Tirmidhī (2410).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6477), Muslim (2988), al-Muwattaʿa' (2/985), and at-Tirmidhī (2315).

4 Al-Bukhārī (6478).

5 Al-Muwattaʿa' (2/985), at-Tirmidhī (2320), and Ibn Mājah (3970).

6 At-Tirmidhī (2412) and Ibn Mājah (3972).

7 At-Tirmidhī (2413), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

We relate in [the same source] that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "He whom Allah keeps safe from the evil that is between his jaws and the evil that is between his legs will enter Paradise."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in [the book of at-Tirmidhī] that 'Uqbah ibn 'Āmir ؓ reported: "I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, what is salvation?' He said: 'Restrain your tongue, confine yourself to your house, and weep over your sins.'"² At-Tirmidhī classifies this as a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in [the same source] that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When a man gets up in the morning all his limbs accuse the tongue of kufṛ and say: 'Fear Allah concerning us, for we are [what we are] by means of you; if you are upright then we will be upright, and if you are crooked we will be crooked.'"³

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Umm Ḥabībah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Every utterance of the son of Adam is against him and not for him except enjoining good, or forbidding evil, or the remembrance of Allah ﷻ."⁴

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Mu'ādh ؓ said: "I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, inform me of a deed that will make me enter me Paradise and take me far away from Hell-Fire.' He said: 'You have asked about a matter that is momentous but is easy for those for whom Allah ﷻ has made it easy. Worship Allah and do not assign partners to Him; establish ṣalāh; pay zakāh; fast the month of Ramaḍān; and perform the pilgrimage to the House.' Then he said: 'Should I not show you the doors of good? Fasting, is a shield; charity extinguishes sins just as water extinguishes fire; and the ṣalāh of a man in the middle of the night.' Then he recited 'They withdraw their sides from their beds. . . ' until he reached ' . . . they do.' Then he said: 'Should I not inform you of the apex of this matter, its pillar and its pinnacle?' I replied: 'Yes, Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'The apex of the matter is Islam, its pillar is ṣalāh and its pinnacle is jihād.' Then he said: 'Shall I inform you of the foundation of all of this?' I said: 'Yes, Messenger of Allah.' He took hold of his tongue and said: 'Restrain this.' I asked: 'Messenger of Allah, shall we be taken to task for what we say?' He said: 'May your mother grieve for you! Does anything cast people into Hell-Fire on their faces but the harvest of their tongues?'"⁵ At-Tirmidhī holds that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

﴿تَتَجَافَى جُنُوبُهُمْ عَنِ الْمَضَاجِعِ . . . يَعْمَلُونَ﴾

I say that dhirwah, 'pinnacle', is written with a kasrah on the dhāl or with a dam mah, and means the highest part of something.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-'Āṣ ؓ related

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2410).

² At-Tirmidhī (2408), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ ḥasan.

³ At-Tirmidhī (24109) and al-Futūḥāt (6/355). This hadith is ḥasan owing to its supporting narrations.

⁴ Ibn Mājah (3974) and At-Tirmidhī (2414), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

⁵ At-Tirmidhī (2619).

that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "He who keeps silent will be saved."¹ The chain of narrators is weak and I have only mentioned it to make that clear because [this saying] is well-known. Authentic hadiths about what I have just mentioned are many, but those I have cited will suffice for those who are granted success. If Allah wills, a number of these will be mentioned in the chapter on backbiting. And it is Allah Who gives success.

The traditions from the early Muslims and others on this subject are many. We need not include them after what has been already been mentioned, but we will draw attention to some of the main ones.

It has reached us that Quss ibn Sā'idah and Aktham ibn Sayfī met, and one of them asked the other: "How many defects have you found in the son of Adam?" He replied: "They are innumerable. Those I have counted number eight thousand. But I have found a trait which, if he uses it, will hide all faults." He said: "What is it?" He said: "Safeguarding the tongue."

We have related that Abū 'Alī al-Fuḍayl ibn 'Iyād ؓ said: "Whoever considers his speaking as one of his deeds will speak little about that which does not concern him."

Imam ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him, told his companion ar-Rabī': "Rabī', do not talk about what does not concern you, for when you utter such a word it owns and controls you and you do not own it."

We relate that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ observed: "There is nothing that warrants being imprisoned more than the tongue." Others say: "The tongue is like a wild beast: if you do not tie it up, it will attack you."

We relate that Abū al-Qāsim al-Qushayrī, may Allah have mercy on him, says in his famous Risālah: "Silence is salvation, and it is the rule. Keeping quiet at the proper time is the attribute of men, just as speaking at the proper moment is the most noble of traits." He said: "I heard Abū 'Alī ad-Daqqāq ؓ say: 'He who keeps quiet about the truth [when it needs to be spoken] is a mute shayṭān.'" He said, "As for the preference that the people who wage [spiritual] striving [against themselves] show for silence, that is because of the flaws that they know to lie in speech, and moreover the portion of self-indulgence that is in it and love of praise, the inclination to be distinguished from one's peers by one's rhetoric and eloquence, and other similar failings. That [love of silence] is characteristic of the masters of spiritual discipline, and it is one of their pillars in their combat [against the ego] and reform of their character."

Among the verses such people have composed on this subject is the following [in al-Kāmil]²:

O Man, keep watch over your tongue.

Do not let it bite you, for it is a snake.

How many a dead man in the graveyard was put to death by his own tongue!

¹ Al-Futūḥāt (6/369) and at-Tirmidhī (2503), who states that this hadith is gharīb. Ibn 'Allān mentions supporting narrations for it which raise it from the level of ḍa'īf (weak).

² Kāmil is a poetical metre.

Ar-Riyāshī, may Allah have mercy on him, said [in al-Wāfir]¹:

By your life, in my wrongdoing there's work indeed for my soul beyond the wrongdoing of Banī Umayyah.
Their reckoning is my Lord's affair, and to Him
the knowledge of that extends, not to me.
What they have done cannot harm me—if only Allah puts right what I have done.

314

THE UNLAWFULNESS OF BACKBITING AND TALEBEARING

KNOW THAT THESE two traits are among the ugliest, most repulsive and most widespread qualities among people, so much so that only a few people are safe from them. Because of the general need for vigilance against [these traits] I have started with them.

Backbiting means talking about a person's characteristics in a way that he would dislike, whether it be about his body, his religion, his worldly affairs, his person, his physical condition, his character, his wealth, his children, his parents, his wife, his servants, his slaves, his turban, his garments, his walk, his movements, his cheerfulness, his dissolute character, his scowl, his relaxedness, or anything else that he is associated with. It does not matter whether you mention this verbally or in writing, or whether you allude to it or indicate it with the eye, hand, or head; and so on.

Concerning his body, it would include saying that he is blind, lame, bleary-eyed, bald, short, tall, black or yellow.

As regards his religion, it would include saying he is a deviant, thief, cheat or wrongdoer, that he is neglectful of ṣalāh, careless about impurity, does not treat his parents well, does not pay his zakāh to the right categories, or does not refrain from backbiting.

Concerning his worldly affairs, it would include saying that he is ill-mannered and disdainful of people, does not see anyone as having any rights over him, is talkative, eats or sleeps a lot, sleeps when he should not, or sits where he should not sit.

As regards his father, it would include saying that his father is a deviant, an Indian, Nabatean, black, a shoemaker, a cloth merchant, a cattle trader, a carpenter, a blacksmith, or a weaver.

Concerning his character, it would include saying that he has bad character or is arrogant, ostentatious, rash, tyrannical, feeble, weak-hearted, irresponsible, stern, or profligate, and so on.

¹ Wāfir is a poetical metre.

Concerning his clothes, it would include saying that they are wide-sleeved, long, dirty, and so on.

The rest can be deduced from what we have mentioned. The general concept is that of saying anything about a person which he does not like.

Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī has transmitted that the consensus of the Muslims is that backbiting means talking about someone else and mentioning anything which he would not like to hear. Authentic hadiths which elucidate this will follow.

Talebearing means passing on people's talk to others with the aim of causing trouble. Those are the definitions of these two things.

The ruling is that both [backbiting and slander] are ḥarām by consensus of the Muslims. Explicit proof from the Book, the Sunnah and the consensus of the Ummah confirm that they are ḥarām.

Allah ﷻ says: "Nor backbite one another."¹

﴿وَلَا يَغْتَبِ بَعْضُكُم بَعْضًا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Woe to every scandalmonger and backbiter."²

﴿وَيْلٌ لِّكُلِّ هُمَزَةٍ لُّمَزَةٍ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "A slanderer, going about talebearing."³

﴿هَمَزٌ مَّشَاءٍ بِنَمِيمٍ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ḥudhayfah ﷺ related that the Prophet ﷺ said: "No talebearer will enter Paradise."⁴

We relate from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Ibn 'Abbās ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by two graves and said: "These two are being punished, and they are not being punished for a major sin." (According to a narration in al-Bukhārī, however, he said: "Certainly it is a major sin.") "One of them used to go about talebearing; as for the other, he failed to guard himself from urine."⁵

I say that the learned hold that the words "They are not being punished for a major sin" mean either that it was not a major sin in their opinion or that it was a major sin which they were obliged to give up.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked: "Do you know what backbiting is?" [Those present] said: "Allah and His Messenger know best." He said: "Talking about your brother and mentioning something that he would dislike." Someone asked: "What if what I say about my brother is true?" He

¹ Qur'ān 49:12.

² Qur'ān 104:1.

³ Qur'ān 68:11.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6055), Muslim (105), Abū Dāwūd (4771), and at-Tirmidhī (2027).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (216) and Muslim (292).

replied: "If what you say is true of him then you have maligned him; and if what you say is not true of him then you have slandered him."¹ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Bakrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said in the sermon on the Day of Slaughtering at Minā on the Farewell Pilgrimage: "Verily your blood, your wealth and your honour are sacred to each other like the sanctity of this day of yours in this month of yours in this land of yours. Have I conveyed the message?"²

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها narrated: "I asked the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم: 'Is it enough for you that Ṣafīyyah is such-and-such?' According to one of the narrators, she meant that she was short. "He replied: 'You have said something which, if it were mixed with the water of the sea, would contaminate it.'" She said: "I spoke to him about a person, and he said: 'I would not like to speak about a person even if I had such-and-such.'"³ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

I say that mazajāt-hu means being mixed with in such a way as to change the taste and smell [of the water] because of its extremely foul smell and maliciousness. This hadith is one of the severest reprimands for backbiting—if not the severest. I do not know of any hadith that contains as grave a rebuke as this. "And he does not speak from his own caprice: it is only Revelation which has been revealed." We ask Allah the Most Generous for His compassion, and for safety from every abominable act.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Anas رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: "During my Mi'rāj, I passed by people who had talons of copper with which they were scratching their faces and chests. I asked: 'Who are these people, Jibrīl?' He said: 'These are the ones who devour people's flesh and disparage their honour.'"⁴

We relate in [the same source] that Sa'īd ibn Zayd رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: "The worst form of usury is to impugn a Muslim's honour without just cause."⁵

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah صلى الله عليه وسلم said: "The Muslim is a brother to a Muslim: he does not betray him, he does not lie to him, and he does not abandon him. All of a Muslim is sacrosanct to a Muslim: his honour, his wealth and his blood. The fear of Allah is here. It is sufficient evil for a man to disdain his Muslim brother."⁶ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

I say: "How great is the benefit of this hadith, and how abundant are its moral lessons! All success is by Allah."

¹ Muslim (2589), Abū Dāwūd (4874), and at-Tirmidhī (1935).

² Al-Bukhārī (105) and Muslim (1679).

³ Abū Dāwūd (4875) and at-Tirmidhī (2504), who states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (4878).

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (4876).

⁶ At-Tirmidhī (1928).

IMPORTANT MATTERS RELATED TO BACKBITING

WE HAVE STATED in the previous chapter that backbiting is defined as speaking about a person in a way that they dislike, whether by the spoken word, writing, gesture or allusion with the eye, hand or head. The principle is that anything communicated to others about the shortcomings of a Muslim is ḥarām backbiting. This includes mentioning that he walks lame or with bowed head, or any other outer appearance that is thought of as signifying a physical defect. All this is unlawful, [a fact] about which there is no disagreement.

The same is true of an author mentioning a specific person in his book, saying: 'So-and-so is like such-and-such,' with the intention of belittling and disparaging him. This is ḥarām. If one wishes to explain another's mistakes so that he may not be emulated, or to explain his weakness in knowledge so that others may not be deceived by him, or his word accepted, that is not backbiting but necessary sincere counsel for which one will be rewarded, if that was his intention.

Likewise, if an author or anyone else says 'A people or group said this; but it is an error, mistaken ignorance and negligence,' that is not backbiting. Backbiting involves referring to a specific individual or group.

It is also backbiting to say 'Some people did this, or some jurists, or some who claim knowledge, or some muftīs, or some who are considered right-acting or claim to be ascetics, or some who passed by us today, or someone we saw,' or suchlike, if the person addressed can identify a specific person.

Also included is backbiting by jurists and religious people who insinuate backbiting that can be understood as readily if it were explicit. If somebody asks one of [these backbiters]: 'How is So-and-so?' he replies: 'May Allah reform us,' 'May Allah forgive us,' 'May Allah reform him,' 'We ask Allah for well-being,' 'We praise Allah, Who has not tested us with going to see wrongdoers,' 'We seek Allah's protection from greed,' 'May Allah protect us from lack of modesty,' 'May Allah relent towards us,' or any other expressions from which some defect in him can be inferred. All of that is ḥarām backbiting.

It is also backbiting to say: 'So-and-so is put to trial with what all of us are tested with,' 'He has no way out of this,' or 'All of us do it.' Those are examples. The general concept of backbiting is to make the person addressed understand the shortcomings of another person, as we have already seen. All this is known from the hadith in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and elsewhere, which we cited in the previous chapter, about the definition of backbiting. And Allah knows best.

LISTENING TO BACKBITING AND THE DUTY OF THE PERSON WHO HEARS SOMEONE BACKBITING SOMEONE ELSE

Know that just as backbiting is ḥarām for the slanderer to express, it is also ḥarām for the listener to listen to and endorse. It is imperative for anyone who hears somebody starting ḥarām backbiting to stop them, as long as he does not fear any obvious harm. If he fears harm, he should disapprove of it in his heart and withdraw from that gathering if he is able to. If he is able to condemn it with his tongue, or to interrupt the backbiting with some other conversation, it is compulsory for him to do so. If he does not do so, he will be disobedient. If he says with his tongue 'Keep quiet' but in his heart he desires it to continue, then as Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī said: "That is hypocrisy, which does not absolve him of the sin. It is imperative that one hate it with his heart." If one is forced to remain in a gathering in which there is backbiting and he is unable to condemn it, or he condemns it and it is not accepted from him and he is unable to withdraw, it is ḥarām for him to listen or pay attention to the backbiting. His way out is to remember Allah ﷻ with his tongue and heart, or with his heart only, or to think about something else to prevent him from listening to it. It will not harm him, after that, if he hears it without listening and paying attention in the circumstances just described. If after that he is able to withdraw while they persist in backbiting and suchlike, it is compulsory for him to withdraw. Allah ﷻ says: "When you see men engaged in vain discourse about Our Signs, turn away from them until they turn to a different subject. If Shayṭān ever makes you forget, then after remembering sit not in the company of those who do wrong."¹

﴿وَإِذَا رَأَيْتَ الَّذِينَ يَخُوضُونَ فِي آيَاتِنَا فَأَعْرِضْ عَنْهُمْ حَتَّى يَخُوضُوا فِي حَدِيثٍ غَيْرِهِ وَإِمَّا يُنسِيَنَّكَ الشَّيْطَانُ فَلَا تَقْعُدْ بَعْدَ الذِّكْرِى مَعَ الْقَوْمِ الظَّالِمِينَ﴾

We relate that Ibrāhīm ibn Adham ؓ was invited to a wedding feast. He attended and [people] spoke about a man who was not present. They said, "He is boring." Ibrāhīm said: "I have brought this upon myself by going to a place where people are slandered." He went out, and did not eat for three days.

Among the [verses] composed this subject is the following [in mutaqārib]²:

Guard your hearing from listening to ugliness just as you guard your tongue against speaking it.
For listening to ugly things makes you a partner with the one who utters it, so take note.

¹ Qur'ān 6:68.

² Mutaqārib is a poetical metre.

HOW TO PREVENT ONESELF FROM BACKBITING OTHERS

ON THIS QUESTION there are many evidences from the Book and the Sunnah, but I will only refer to a few. Whoever has been granted success will be admonished by it, and whoever has not will not be admonished, even if there be volumes of admonition.

The purport of this chapter is that one must present to oneself the texts which we have cited about the unlawfulness of backbiting. Then one should ponder the saying of Allah ﷻ: "Not a word does he utter but there is with him a Vigilant Watcher."¹ مَا يَلْفِظُ مِنْ قَوْلٍ إِلَّا لَدَيْهِ رَقِيبٌ عَتِيدٌ.

Allah ﷻ says: "And you deem it a light matter, though it is most grave in the sight of Allah."² وَتَحْسَبُونَهُ هَيِّنًا وَهُوَ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ عَظِيمٌ.

Then one should consider the hadith we have already quoted: "A person may say something that incurs the displeasure of Allah although he considers it trifling, and be hurled into the Fire of Hell because of it."³ One should also remember the rest of what we mentioned in the chapter on guarding the tongue and in the chapter on backbiting. He should add to this the saying: "Allah is with me, Allah beholds me, Allah watches me."

اللَّهُ مَعِيَ، اللَّهُ شَاهِدِي، اللَّهُ نَازِرٌ إِلَيَّ.

Allāhu ma'ī, Allāhu shāhidī, Allāhu nāzirun ilayy.

It is related of Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, may Allah have mercy on him, that a man said to him: "You backbite me." He replied: "Your standing with me is not such that I would give you power over my good deeds."

We relate that Ibn al-Mubārak, may Allah have mercy on him, said: "If I were to slander anyone I would slander my parents, because they are most deserving of my good deeds."

¹ Qur'ān 50:18.

² Qur'ān 24:15.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6478).

WHAT BACKBITING IS PERMISSIBLE

KNOW THAT BACKBITING, even though it is ḥarām, is permissible under certain conditions where there is some benefit. What render it permissible are valid Shari'ah objectives, when they cannot possibly be achieved by other means. There are six possible reasons.

Firstly, to complain of an injustice. It is permissible for one who has been wronged to complain to the ruler, judge, or anyone else who has the authority or the power to obtain justice from the wrongdoer. He should declare that 'So-and-so has wronged me, and has done such-and-such to me, and has taken such-and-such from me,' or suchlike.

Secondly, to seek help in changing something objectionable or returning a disobedient person to the right path. One should say to whoever one hopes has the power to eliminate the objectionable thing: "So-and-so is doing this, so rebuke him," and so on. The aim should be to eliminate the objectionable matter. If that is not the aim then it is ḥarām.

Thirdly, to seek a legal ruling by telling a Mufti: "My father, brother or someone else has treated me wrongly by doing such-and-such. Is he allowed to do that or not? How may I free myself from it and obtain my rights and free myself from his wrongdoing?" and so on. It is similar if one says: "My wife does such-and-such to me," or "My husband does such-and-such." This is permissible in cases of necessity, but it is more prudent to say: "What would you say about a man who does this, or about a husband or wife who does this?" etc. That achieves the objective without specifying anyone. Nevertheless, specifying the person is permissible because of the hadith of Hind which we will mention, if Allah wills. She said: "Messenger of Allah, Abū Sufyān is a stingy man. . ." and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not forbid her [to say so].

Fourthly, to warn Muslims about evil and give them advice. This has different aspects, including challenging unreliable narrators of hadiths and witnesses. This is not only permissible according to the consensus of the Muslims: it is in fact compulsory in cases of necessity.

Another instance is when someone seeks your advice about his in-laws, his partnerships, what he has deposited with others or others have deposited in trust with him, or his other business dealings. It is compulsory for you to tell him what you know about it, by way of sincere counsel. If the objective can be achieved merely by saying 'It will not be suitable for you to have dealings with that person, or to enter into marital relations with him' or 'do not do this,' and so on, it is not permissible to go any further by mentioning the evil. If the objective cannot be achieved except by giving specific details then one may mention the details.

Another example is that if one sees a man buying a slave who is known for theft, adultery, drinking, or suchlike, you must explain that to the buyer if he does not already know it. That does not apply solely in this case: it is essential for anyone who knows about a defect in merchandise that is being sold to inform the buyer if he does not already know about it.

In the same way, if you see a religious student frequently visiting an innovator or a deviant to study with him and you fear that the student will be harmed by it, you must advise him by explaining the man's situation to him. It is a precondition that you intend to give sincere advice. This is one of the things in which one may err. Sometimes the speaker is induced to do this out of jealousy, or because Shayṭān deceives him and makes him believe that it is [out of] sincere goodwill and compassion. One should be aware of and alert to this.

The same applies if a person has some authority and control but does not exercise it properly, either because he is not fit for it or because he is a deviant, negligent etc. It is then compulsory to mention this to the person who has overall authority, so that he may dismiss him and appoint someone else who is suitable; or so that he may know this about him and deal with him as his condition demands and not be fooled by him, and so that he may make an effort to encourage him to be upright, or to replace him.

Fifthly, if a person is open about his deviant behaviour or innovation, like someone who openly drinks wine, seizes people's property, collects taxes or unjustly imposes levies on property, or undertakes anything unacceptable. It is permissible to mention him and what he does publicly, but it is unlawful to mention any other faults, unless there is a separate reason, such as those I have mentioned, that makes it permissible.

Sixthly, for identification. If a person is known by a nickname like al-A'mash' ('Bleary-eyed'), al-A'raj ('Lame'), al-Aṣamm ('Deaf'), al-A'mā ('Blind'), al-Aḥwal ('Squint-eyed'), or al-Aṭas ('Flat-nosed') and so forth, it is permissible to call him by that name, as long as the intention is identification. It is ḥarām to express it as representing a defect in him. It is preferable to identify the person by some other name, if possible.

These are six situations which the learned have mentioned under which it is permissible to backbite. Among those who have stated this in writing are Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, in his Iḥyā', and other people of knowledge. The evidence for this is manifest from well-known authentic hadiths. There is consensus that most of these reasons make backbiting permissible.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Ā'ishah ؓ narrated that a man sought permission to come in to the Prophet ﷺ and he said: "Grant him permission; what a bad member of the tribe!" Al-Bukhārī cites this as evidence of the permissibility of criticising corrupt or dubious people.²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ distributed allocations. A man from the Anṣār said: 'By Allah, Muḥammad did not seek the Countenance of Allah ﷻ by this.' I went to the Messenger of Allah and informed him. His face changed and he said: 'May Allah have mercy on 1 This name and the others are in fact the common names of well-known early ṣāliḥīn.

2 Al-Bukhārī (6054) and Muslim (3591).

Mūsā! he was harmed more than this, yet he was patient.” Ibn Mas‘ūd continued: “So I said: ‘I will not convey any talk to him after this.’”¹

Al-Bukhārī cites this as proof that one may inform one’s brother of what is said about him.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that ‘Ā’ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “I do not think that So-and-so and So-and-so know anything about our Dīn.”²

Al-Layth ibn Sa‘d—one of the narrators [of this hadith]—said that the two men in question were hypocrites.

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Zayd ibn Arqam ؓ said: “We went out on a journey with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when adversity befell the people. ‘Abdullāh ibn Ubayy said: ‘Do not spend on those who are with the Messenger of Allah until they disperse’ from around him.’ He also said: ‘When we return to Madīnah, the honourable will expel from there the disgraced.’⁴ So I went to the Prophet ﷺ and informed him of that. He sent for ‘Abdullāh ibn Ubayy.” He then recounted the rest of the hadith. So Allah revealed in corroboration: “When the hypocrites come to you. . .”⁵ إِذَا جَاءَكَ الْمُنَافِقُونَ . . .

And in the [same] Ṣaḥīḥ[s] there is also the hadith concerning Hind, the wife of Abū Sufyān, and her telling the Prophet ﷺ: “Abū Sufyān is a stingy man.”⁶

[There is] also the hadith of Fāṭimah bint Qays ؓ concerning when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to her: “As for Mu‘āwiyah, he has no money; and Abū Jahm does not leave his staff on his shoulder.”⁷

318

THE COMMAND THAT WHOEVER HEARS THEIR TEACHER OR COMPANION BEING SLANDERED
SHOULD REFUTE IT OR SHOW THAT IT IS FALSE

KNOW THAT IT is incumbent on anyone who hears a Muslim being slandered to refute it and to rebuke the speaker. If one cannot restrain him with words, he should

¹ Al-Bukhārī (4336) and Muslim (1602).

² Al-Bukhārī (6068).

³ Allah cites these words in Qur’ān 63:7.

⁴ Allah cites these words in Qur’ān 63:8.

⁵ Qur’ān 63:1. Al-Bukhārī (4900), and Muslim (2772).

⁶ Al-Bukhārī (5359) and Muslim (1714).

⁷ This refers to Abū Jahm’s abhorrent trait of beating his wife. Muslim (1480).

restrain him with his hand. If one cannot restrain him with the hand or tongue, one should leave that gathering. If one hears his shaykh, or others who have a right over him, or those who are people of virtue and righteousness, being slandered, one's concern in this matter should be even greater.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū ad-Dardā' ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever protects the honour of his brother, Allah will protect his face from Hell-Fire on the Day of Rising."¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim in the hadith of 'Itbān—with a kasrah on the 'ayn in the best known vocalisation, but it has also been cited with a ḍammah—ﷺ in a long, well-known hadith that he said: "The Prophet ﷺ stood performing the ṣalāh and then asked: 'Where is Mālik ibn ad-Dukhshum?' A man said: 'That man is a hypocrite; he does not love Allah and His Messenger.' The Prophet ﷺ said: 'Do not say that. Do you not see that he has said "There is no god but Allah", seeking thereby the Countenance of Allah?"²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī, may Allah have mercy on him, reported that 'Ā'idh ibn 'Amr, who was one of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, came to 'Ubaydullāh ibn Ziyād and said: "O my son, I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'The worst shepherds are the harsh ones,' so beware of being one of them. 'Ubaydullāh told him: 'Sit down, for you are of the chaff of the Companions of Muḥammad ﷺ.' He said: 'Was there chaff among them? The chaff was only in those who came after them and others.'"³

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Ka'b ibn Mālik ﷺ said, in his long hadith about the episode of Tabūk: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ, while sitting with the people in Tabūk, asked: 'What has Ka'b ibn Mālik done?' A man of the Banū Salimah replied: 'Messenger of Allah, his two cloaks held him back, and conceit (literally: gazing at his two sides).' Mu'ādh ibn Jabal ﷺ said: 'What you are saying is reprehensible, by Allah! Messenger of Allah, we know nothing but good of him.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ kept silent."⁴

I say that Salimah is with a kasrah on the lām, and 'itfāhu 'his two sides' indicates his self-conceit.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh and Abū Ṭalḥah ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No man abandons a Muslim man in a place where the reverence due him is violated and his honour diminished but that Allah will abandon him in a situation in which he desires His help. And no man helps a Muslim man in a situation where his honour is being diminished and the reverence

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1932).

² Al-Bukhārī (425) and Muslim (33).

³ Muslim (1830). The implication is that he was not one of the virtuous or one of the scholars among the Companions. Nukhālah, 'chaff', is the debris that remains in a sieve after sifting. His reply means that the Companions of the Prophet of Allah ﷺ were all virtuous, but among those who came after them there was dross.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (4418) and Muslim (2769).

due him is being violated without Allah helping him in a situation in which he would like to receive His help.”¹

We relate in [the same source] that Mu‘ādh ibn Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever protects a believer from a hypocrite. . .” I [Mu‘ādh] believe that he said, “. . . Allah will send an angel to protect his flesh from Hell-Fire on the Day of Rising. Whoever casts an aspersion on a Muslim with something, wishing to disgrace him, Allah will detain him on the Bridge over Hell until he [is able to] emerge from what he said.”^{2,3}

319

BACKBITING WITH THE HEART

KNOW THAT HAVING a bad opinion is as unlawful as backbiting. Just as it is ḥarām to talk to others about the evil of a person, it is ḥarām to talk to yourself about that and to think evil of that person. Allah ﷻ says: “Avoid much suspicion.”⁴

﴿اجْتَنِبُوا كَثِيرًا مِّنَ الظَّنِّ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Beware of suspicion, for suspicion is the most untruthful discourse.”⁵

Hadiths on the above subject are numerous. The general idea of it is that of setting the heart and its passing judgement on the evil of another.

However, fleeting thoughts or things said to oneself, if they do not become engrained and if the person does not continue with them, are forgiven according to the consensus of the ‘ulamā’, because people have no choice in their occurrence and no way of disengaging themselves from it. That is what is meant by [the hadith] which is reliably recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ, according to which the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah will pardon my Ummah for what their egos say to them, as long as they do not speak it or act on it.”

The ‘ulamā’ hold that this refers to ideas and passing thoughts. They say that it is the same whether these ideas are backbiting, kufr, or anything else. So whoever has

1 Abū Dāwūd (4484).

2 By satisfying the person he disputed with, or by intercession, or by his being punished according to the measure of his wrongdoing.

3 Abū Dāwūd (4883) and al-Futūḥāt (7/20). Al-Mundhirī alludes to criticism of one of the narrators in the chain of this hadith.

4 Qur’ān 49:12.

5 Al-Bukhārī (6064) and Muslim (2563).

a thought of kufr which is just a notion that he has no intention of acting upon, and he fends it off immediately, is not a disbeliever and there is no sin on him.

We mentioned this earlier, in the chapter on the whisperings of Shayṭān, in the authentic hadith in which [certain of the Companions] said: "Messenger of Allah, some [of us] find [in our minds] things that they consider too appalling to talk about." He replied: "That is the manifestation of faith."¹ There are also other things we mentioned there, and things in the same sense.

The reason for pardoning is the one which we have mentioned, namely one's inability to avoid it. It is only possible to avoid continuing with it, and therefore persisting in it and fixing the heart on it is ḥarām. Whenever these thoughts of backbiting or any other sin arise, it is obligatory to ward them off by turning away from them, and to remember possible interpretations that would change it from its apparent sense.

Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī says in his Iḥyā': "When suspicion occurs in your heart, it comes from the whisperings of Shayṭān, which he directs towards you. It is imperative that you reject it, for he is the worst sinner. Allah said: 'O you who believe, if a sinner comes to you with any news, ascertain the truth, lest you harm people unwittingly, and afterwards become full of remorse for what you have done.'³

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا إِن جَاءَكُمْ فَاسِقٌ بِنَبَأٍ فَتَبَيَّنُوا أَن تُصِيبُوا
قَوْمًا بِجَهَالَةٍ فَتُصْحَبُوا عَلَىٰ مَا فَعَلْتُمْ نَادِمِينَ﴾

"It is not permissible to believe Iblis, so even if there is evidence to indicate some vice but the contrary of that is conceivable, it is not permissible to think evil. Among the signs of suspicion is that your heart changes towards [the accused person] from what it was before and you avoid him, you find him annoying, your respect and honour for him diminish, and you become concerned with his evil deeds, for Shayṭān sometimes suggests to the heart that people have done evil by the lowest and least imaginings. He puts it in a person's heart that 'this [suspicion] arises from your intelligence and astuteness and the acuteness of your vigilance, and that "A believer sees with the light of Allah".' In reality he is speaking with the deception and injustice of Shayṭān. Even if a just person corroborates [your suspicion], do not believe him and do not disbelieve him, so that you do not think evil of either of them. Whenever the thought that a Muslim is evil occurs to you, you should have all the more respect and esteem for him, for this angers Shayṭān and chases him away from you and then he will not inculcate similar suspicions in you for fear that you may start making du'ā' for [that person]. And if you know about the faults of a Muslim from indisputable evidence, you should give him advice and counsel in secret, and not let Shayṭān deceive you into backbiting him. When you admonish him, do not admonish him while you feel happy to know about his shortcomings, thus causing him to look at you with the eye of 1 Muslim (132), with a slight variation in the wording.

2 Iḥyā' 'ulūm ad-dīn (3/147-148), slightly adapted.

3 Qur'ān 49:6.

honour while you look at him with disdain. Rather, you should aim to free him from sin while you are as sad for him as you would be for yourself if some defect found its way into you. It is essential that it be greatly preferable to you that he abandon that shortcoming without you giving him advice, rather than him abandoning it because of your counsel." Those are the words of al-Ghazālī.

I say: "We have stated that it is compulsory for a person, when an evil thought or suspicion occurs to him, to stop it, unless there is some religious benefit that calls for reflection on it. If that is called for, however, it is permissible to suspect a person and to investigate him, as in the case of investigating witnesses and narrators of hadiths and others whom we have mentioned in the chapter on what is permissible in backbiting."

320

ATONEMENT AND REPENTANCE FOR BACKBITING

KNOW THAT IT is compulsory for anyone who commits disobedience [to Allah] to hasten to repent of it. There are three conditions for repentance of infringing the rights of Allah: that one should immediately abandon disobedience, regret having done it, and be determined never to return to it.

Repentance of infringing people's rights has the same three conditions, with the addition of a fourth: that one should compensate the wronged person for the injustice done, or seek his forgiveness or absolution from it.

It is compulsory for a slanderer to repent with all four [measures], because [slander] is [an infringement of] the rights of a human being. It is imperative that he seek the pardon of the person he slandered.

Is it sufficient to say: 'I have slandered you, so pardon me,' or is it compulsory to explain what he said to slander him? There are two opinions among the colleagues of ash-Shāfi'ī, may Allah have mercy on him.

The first is that it is essential for him to explain and elucidate, for absolving him without clarification is not valid, as when one seeks absolution from [a debt of an] unspecified sum.

The second view is that it is not essential because this is one of the things which can be forgiven and overlooked, unlike debts.

The first view is more obvious, because sometimes a man may pardon one act of backbiting but not another. If the person who was slandered is deceased or absent then it is impossible to get absolution from him. But the 'ulamā' say it is imperative to ask for forgiveness from Allah for him abundantly, and to make du'ā and do as many good deeds as possible.

Know that it is mustahabb for the person who is slandered to forgive [the slanderer];

but it is not compulsory, since it is a voluntary bestowal and relinquishment of his rights. He therefore has a choice. But absolving him is emphatically mustahabb in order to free his Muslim brother from the terrible consequence of that disobedience of his. He himself will gain through the vastness of the reward of Allah's ﷻ forgiveness and the love of Allah ﷻ. Allah ﷻ says: "And those who restrain their anger and pardon men; for Allah loves those who excel in goodness."¹

﴿وَالْكَاظِمِينَ الْغَيْظَ وَالْعَافِينَ عَنِ النَّاسِ ۗ وَاللَّهُ يُحِبُّ الْمُحْسِنِينَ﴾

One way to make granting forgiveness appealing to the heart is to remember that the act in question has already happened and there is no way to undo it. Hence it is not proper for a man to forgo his own reward or the salvation of his brother when Allah ﷻ has said: "Whoever is patient and forgives, that is truly a great resolution."²

﴿وَلَمَن صَبَرَ وَغَفَرَ إِنَّ ذَلِكَ لَمِنْ عَزْمِ الْأُمُورِ﴾

And Allah ﷻ says: "Take to pardoning. . ."³ There are numerous verses similar to those we have quoted.

﴿خُذِ الْعَفْوَ . . .﴾

According to an authentic hadith, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "And Allah will help [His] slave as long as the slave helps his brother."⁴

Ash-Shāfi'i, may Allah have mercy on him, said: "Whoever is asked to reconcile [with people] but is not content to do so is a shaytān."

Our predecessors composed in verse [in khafif]⁵:

Someone told me: 'So-and-so has spoken badly of you,
and a youth's enduring humiliation is a defect.
I say: "He came to us and made his apology;
the amends for a wrong, in our view, is to apologise."

I say: "What we have mentioned about urging us to absolve others of backbiting is correct.

It has been reported of Sa'id ibn al-Musayyab that he said: "I will not exonerate a person who has wronged me", and Ibn Sirin is reported to have said: "It was not I who made it unlawful for him, so that I could make it lawful for him. Allah ﷻ has made backbiting unlawful for him, so I can never make lawful what Allah has made unlawful"; but this is weak or incorrect. The person who pardons is not making the unlawful lawful; he is only relinquishing a right that has been granted to him. The text

1 Qur'ān 3:134.

2 Qur'ān 42:43.

3 Qur'ān 7:199.

4 Muslim (2699). This is part of a longer hadith.

5 Khafif is a poetical metre.

of the Book and the Sunnah support the view that it is mustaḥabb to pardon, and for the person who pardons to renounce the rights that he particularly has. Alternatively, the words of Ibn Sirīn can be interpreted as meaning, "I will never make it lawful to backbite me." That is correct, for even if a man were to say: "I have made my honour lawful for those who slander me" it would still not become permissible. Rather, backbiting him is ḥarām for everyone, just as it is ḥarām to slander someone else.

As for the hadith: "Are any one of you unable to be like Abū Ḍamḍam? When leaving his house he used to say, 'I give my honour in charity to people;'"¹ this means, "I will not seek retribution from anyone who has wronged me, in this world or in the Hereafter." That expression may be used in forgiving a wrong that existed before absolving the person, but as regards anything that occurs after it, there must then be a new absolution. And success is only by Allah.

321

TALEBEARING

WE HAVE MENTIONED the unlawfulness of talebearing, and the evidences for that and threat about it, and have explained its true nature; but that was in brief. We shall now add to the explanation.

Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, may Allah be merciful to him, said: "Talebearing normally denotes conveying the words of another to the one who was spoken about, as when a person says, 'So-and-so said this about you.' Talebearing is not restricted to this, but can be defined as revealing anything that somebody else would dislike to be revealed, whether or not the person from whom it is conveyed, or the person to whom it is conveyed or a third person, dislikes it, and whether the revelation is made in speech, writing, gesture or gesticulation, and so on. It does not matter whether it is conveyed in word or deed, or whether it is a fault or something else. The real meaning of talebearing is to divulge secrets and disclose that which it is deplorable to reveal. It is imperative to keep quiet about what one sees of people's circumstances, except for that in which there is some benefit to a Muslim in revealing, or to prevent an act of disobedience. So if one sees someone hiding what is only his own property and he mentions it, that is talebearing."

According to [Imām al-Ghazālī], anyone to whom tales are conveyed and who is told 'So-and-so said this about you' should do six things. Firstly, he should not believe him, for the talebearer is a deviant whose reports are to be rejected. Secondly, he should tell him not to do it, counsel him sincerely, and show him the ugliness of his deed. Thirdly, he should hate him for the sake of Allah ﷻ, for he is hateful to Allah ﷻ. It is compulsory to hate for the sake of Allah ﷻ. Fourthly, he should not think evil of the person from whom the tale is transmitted, because Allah said: "Avoid much suspicion."

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4886).

﴿اجْتَنِبُوا كَثِيرًا مِّنَ الظَّنِّ﴾

Fifthly, what has been conveyed to him should not induce him to spy and investigate its true nature, because Allah ﷻ says: "And do not spy."

﴿وَلَا تَجَسَّسُوا﴾

Sixthly, he should not be pleased for himself on account of what he has told the talebearer not to do; so he should not relate his talebearing.

It has been reported that a man mentioned something about another man to 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz. 'Umar said: "If you wish, we will look into your concern. If you are lying, then you are one of those to whom this verse applies: 'If a sinner comes to you with information, [then investigate].'"

﴿إِن جَاءَكُم فَاسِقٌ بِنَبَأٍ...﴾

"If you are truthful, then you are one of those to whom this verse applies: 'A slanderer, going about with calumnies.'² If you wish, we may pardon you." He said: "Pardon [me], Leader of the Believers. I will never do it again."

﴿هَمَّازٍ مَّشَاءٍ بِنَمِيمٍ﴾

A man submitted a petition to [the famous vizier and man of letters] aṣ-Ṣāhib ibn 'Abbād in which he urged him to take possession of the wealth of an orphan. It was a great deal of money. [Aṣ-Ṣāhib] wrote on the back of it: "Talebearing is ugly, even when it is true. May Allah have mercy on the deceased, and may Allah help the orphan back on his feet. May Allah make the wealth bear fruit and may Allah curse the one who spreads corruption."

¹ Qur'ān 49:6.

² Qur'ān 68:11.

NOT COMMUNICATING INFORMATION TO THOSE IN AUTHORITY UNLESS THERE IS A NEED TO BECAUSE OF FEAR OF DISORDER OR SOMETHING SIMILAR

WE RELATE IN the two books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Let none of my Companions report to me anything about anyone, because I want to come out to you with my heart at ease."¹

THE PROHIBITION OF DEFAMING PEOPLE'S LINEAGES

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And do not pursue that of which you have no knowledge. Verily the hearing, sight and heart will be questioned about."²

﴿وَلَا تَقْفُ مَا لَيْسَ لَكَ بِهِ عِلْمٌ إِنَّ السَّمْعَ وَالْبَصَرَ
وَالْفُؤَادَ كُلُّ أُولَئِكَ كَانَ عَنْهُ مَسْئُولًا﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Two human traits are tantamount to unbelief: casting aspersions on lineage and wailing over the dead."³

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4860) and at-Tirmidhī (3893), who states that this hadith is gharīb from this chain of narrators.

² Qur'ān 17:36.

³ Muslim (67).

THE PROHIBITION OF ARROGANCE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "So do not praise yourselves; He knows best who is godfearing."¹

﴿فَلَا تُزَكُّوْا اَنْفُسَكُمْ هُوَ اَعْلَمُ بِمَنِ اتَّقَى﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim, the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and elsewhere that 'Iyād ibn Himār ؓ, a Companion, narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ has revealed to me, 'Be humble towards each other so that none of you wrongs another and none of you is boastful towards another'."²

THE PROHIBITION OF REJOICING AT THE MISFORTUNE OF A MUSLIM

WE RELATE IN the book of at-Tirmidhī that Wāthilah ibn al-Asqa' ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not rejoice at the misfortune of a Muslim, lest Allah have mercy on him and put you to the test."³ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

THE UNLAWFULNESS OF BELITTling OR MOCKING MUSLIMS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "Those who slander and ridicule such of the believers as give freely to charity, as well as those who can but give according to their means, Allah will throw back their ridicule upon them; and they shall have a grievous chastisement."⁴

¹ Qur'ān 53:32.

² Muslim (2865), Abū Dāwūd (4895), and Ibn Mājah (1214).

³ At-Tirmidhī (2508), who actually states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

⁴ Qur'ān 9:79.

﴿الَّذِينَ يَلْمِزُونَ الْمُطَّوِّعِينَ مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ فِي الصَّدَقَاتِ وَالَّذِينَ لَا يَجِدُونَ إِلَّا جُهْدَهُمْ فَيَسْخَرُونَ مِنْهُمْ سَخِرَ اللَّهُ مِنْهُمْ وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ﴾

He ﷺ also says: "O believers, let not any group of you laugh at others, who may be better than them. Nor let some women ridicule others, who may be better than them. And do not defame or be sarcastic to each other, or call each other by [offensive] nicknames. Evil is a name connoting wickedness [used of anyone] after becoming a believer; and those who do not repent are wrongdoers."¹

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا لَا يَسْخَرْ قَوْمٌ مِّنْ قَوْمٍ عَسَىٰ أَن يَكُونُوا خَيْرًا مِّنْهُمْ وَلَا نِسَاءٌ مِّنْ نِّسَاءٍ عَسَىٰ أَن يَكُنَّ خَيْرًا مِّنْهُنَّ وَلَا تَلْمِزُوا أَنْفُسَكُمْ وَلَا تَنَابَرُوا بِالْأَلْقَابِ بِئْسَ الْإِسْمُ الْفُسُوقُ بَعْدَ الْإِيمَانِ وَمَن لَّمْ يَتُبْ فَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ﴾

He ﷺ says: "Woe to every scandalmonger and backbiter."²

﴿وَيْلٌ لَّكُلِّ هُمَزَةٍ لُّمَزَةٍ﴾

As for the ṣaḥīḥ hadiths on this subject, they are too many to enumerate, and the consensus of the Ummah is that this is something that it is forbidden to do. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not envy one another, do not bid up prices in order to cheat one another, do not hate one another, do not turn your backs on one another, and do not encroach upon each other's trade. Be brothers, O slaves of Allah. The Muslim is the Muslim's brother: he does not oppress him, he does not abandon him in his hour of need, and he does not belittle him. Taqwā is here"—and he pointed thrice to his heart. "It is sufficient evil for a man to belittle his Muslim brother. All of a Muslim is sacrosanct to a Muslim: his blood, his wealth and his honour."³

I say: "How beneficial and how abundantly valuable is this hadith for those who contemplate!"

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "No one who has in his heart an atom's weight of pride will enter Paradise." Someone said: "But a man likes his clothes to look good and his shoes to look good." He ﷺ replied: "Allah is beautiful and He loves beauty. Pride is to regard the truth as false and to belittle people."⁴

I say that baṭāru-l-ḥaqq, 'to regard the truth as false', is written with a fathah on the bā' and the tā', and means to repel [truth] and declare it false. Ghamṭ, 'belittle', is

¹ Qur'ān 49:11.

² Qur'ān 104:1.

³ Muslim (2564).

⁴ Muslim (91), Abū Dāwūd (4091), and at-Tirmidhī (1999).

written with a fathah on the ghayn, a sukūn on the mīm and a ṭā' at the end, and is also narrated as ghamṣ; both have the same meaning, which is 'to despise'.

327

THE STRICT PROHIBITION OF BEARING FALSE WITNESS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And avoid uttering falsehoods."¹

﴿وَأَجْتَنِبُوا قَوْلَ الزُّورِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "And do not pursue that of which you have no knowledge. Verily the hearing, sight and heart will all be questioned about."²

﴿وَلَا تَقْفُ مَا لَيْسَ لَكَ بِهِ عِلْمٌ إِنَّ السَّمْعَ وَالْبَصَرَ
وَالْفُؤَادَ كُلُّ أُولَٰئِكَ كَانَ عَنْهُ مَسْئُولًا﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Bakrah Nufay' ibn al-Ḥārith ﷺ reported: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said thrice: 'Should I not inform you of the greatest of the major sins?' We replied: 'Yes, Messenger of Allah.' He said: 'Associating partners with Allah, and disobeying one's parents.' He had been reclining, but sat up and said: 'Beware of false speech and false witness.' He continued to repeat it until we said: 'Alas! If only he would stop!'"³

I say that there are many hadiths on this subject, but what I have cited is sufficient and there is consensus about it.

¹ Qur'ān 22:30.

² Qur'ān 17:36.

³ Al-Bukhārī (2654) and Muslim (87).

THE PROHIBITION OF REMINDING PEOPLE ABOUT CHARITY ONE HAS GIVEN THEM

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "O you who believe, do not nullify your charity by reminders of your kindness or by annoyance."¹ The commentators say that this means "do not nullify its reward".

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا لَا تُبْطِلُوا صَدَقَتِكُمْ بِالْمَنِّ وَالْأَذَى﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Dharr ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There are three people whom on the Day of Rising Allah will not talk to, look at or purify, and who will have a painful punishment." He said this three times. Abū Dharr said: "They have failed and they are lost. Who are they, Messenger of Allah?" He replied: "Someone who lets his garment trail below his ankles; someone who gives charity and then reminds the recipient [about it]; and someone who sells his merchandise using false oaths."²

THE PROHIBITION OF CURSING

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Thābit ibn aḍ-Ḍaḥḥāk ؓ, who was one of those who took the Pledge beneath the Tree, related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Cursing a believer is like killing him."³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: "It does not become a truthful person to be constantly cursing."⁴

We also relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū ad-Dardā' ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Those who curse others will not be intercessors or witnesses on the Day of Judgment."⁵

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Samurah ibn Jundub ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not curse one another with the

¹ Qur'ān 2:264.

² Muslim (106).

³ Al-Bukhārī (6044) and Muslim (110).

⁴ Muslim (2597).

⁵ Muslim (2598).

curse of Allah or His wrath, or with Hell-Fire.”¹ At-Tirmidhī says that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn Mas‘ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “The believer is not one who defames, curses, uses foul language or is obscene.”² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Abū ad-Dardā’ ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “When a servant [of Allah] curses something, his curse goes up to Heaven, but the doors of Heaven are closed to it. Then it descends to Earth, but the doors are closed to it. Then it starts to go left and right, and if it does not gain access it returns to the one who was cursed, and if he is deserving of it. . . . If he is not, it returns to him who said it.”³

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Ibn ‘Abbās ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “When someone curses something that is not deserving of it, the curse will return to him.”⁴

‘Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn ؓ narrated that on one of the Messenger of Allah’s ؐ journeys there was a woman from the Anṣār, riding a she-camel. She became annoyed and cursed it. The Messenger of Allah ؐ heard her and said: “Take what is on it and leave it, for it is accursed.” ‘Imrān said: “It is as if I can see her walking among the people, and no-one paid any attention to her.”⁵

I say that the learned differ as to whether Ḥuṣayn—the father of ‘Imrān—was a Muslim and a Companion; but the sound position is that he was a Muslim and a Companion, and it is for this reason that I said ؓ, ‘may Allah be pleased with both of them’.

We also relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Barzah ؓ reported that while a young girl was on her she-camel on which was some travellers’ baggage she saw the Messenger of Allah ؐ. The mountain pass became narrow for them. She said: “Ḥal! O Allah, curse her [the she-camel].” The Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “No camel that has a curse on it may accompany us.” According to another report he ؐ said: “No riding animal that has a curse on it from Allah ؐ may accompany us.”⁶

I say that ḥal, with a fathah on the ḥā’ and a sukūn on the lām, is a word used when driving a camel on.

THE PERMISSIBILITY OF CURSING UNSPECIFIED AND UNIDENTIFIED PEOPLE WHO DISOBEY [ALLAH]

It is established from well-known and authentic hadiths that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: “May Allah curse those who join hair and those who ask for it to be length-

1 Abū Dāwūd (4906) and at-Tirmidhī (1977).

2 At-Tirmidhī (1978).

3 Abū Dāwūd (4905).

4 Abū Dāwūd (4908) and at-Tirmidhī (1979), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

5 Muslim (2595).

6 Muslim (2596).

ened. . .”¹ and that he ﷺ said: “May Allah curse those who consume usury. . .”² and that he ﷺ said: “May Allah curse those who draw pictures;”³ and that he ﷺ said: “May Allah curse those who alter the land’s landmarks. . .”⁴ “May Allah curse the thief who steals [even] an egg;”⁵ and that he ﷺ said: “May Allah curse those who curse their parents and those who slaughter animals in the name of others besides Allah;”⁶ and that he ﷺ said “Whoever invents an innovation in it or gives refuge to an innovator, upon them be the curse of Allah, the angels and all mankind”⁷; and that he ﷺ said “O Allah, curse Ri’l, Dhakwān and ‘Uṣayyah; they disobeyed Allah and His Prophet”⁸ (these were three Arab tribes); and that he ﷺ said “May Allah curse the Jews; fats were made unlawful for them, but they melted them down and sold them;”⁹ and that he ﷺ said “Allah curse the Jews and the Christians: they took the graves of their prophets as places of worship;”¹⁰ and that he ﷺ said: “Allah curse men who imitate women and women who imitate men.”¹¹

All these wordings are from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim. Some of them are from both and some are from one of the two. I have only indicated them and have mentioned their lines of transmission in order to be brief.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Jābir رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saw a donkey that was branded on the face and he said: “May Allah curse the one who branded it.”¹²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs [of al-Bukhārī and Muslim] that Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه passed by some boys from Quraysh who had tied up a bird and were throwing stones at it. Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه said: “May Allah curse those who do this. Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: ‘May Allah curse him who uses anything that has a spirit as a target.’”¹³

WHAT CURSING IS PERMISSIBLE AND WHAT IS NOT

Know that to curse an innocent Muslim is ḥarām according to the consensus of the Muslims. It is permissible to curse those who have blameworthy qualities, as by saying: ‘May Allah curse wrongdoers,’ ‘May Allah curse the disbelievers,’ ‘May Allah curse the Jews and the Christians,’ ‘May Allah curse deviants,’ and the like, as we said in the previous chapter.

1 Al-Bukhārī (5937) and Muslim (2124).

2 Muslim (1597), Abū Dāwūd (3333), and at-Tirmidhī (2277).

3 Al-Bukhārī (5347).

4 Muslim (1978), as-Sunan aṣ-ṣuḡhrā of an-Nasā’ī (7:232), and as-Sunan al-kubrā of al-Bayhaqī (6:99).

5 Al-Bukhārī (6683) and Muslim (1687).

6 Muslim (1978), al-Iḥsān bi-tartīb Ṣaḥīḥ Ibn Hibbān (6604), as-Sunan aṣ-ṣuḡhrā of an-Nasā’ī (7:232), and as-Sunan al-kubrā of al-Bayhaqī (6:99).

7 Al-Bukhārī (1870) and Muslim (1366).

8 Muslim (675).

9 Al-Bukhārī (3460) and Muslim (1582).

10 Al-Bukhārī (1330) and Muslim (529).

11 Al-Bukhārī (5885), Abū Dāwūd (4097), and Ibn Mājah (1904).

12 Muslim (2116).

13 Al-Bukhārī (5515) and Muslim (1958).

Cursing a specific person for any act of disobedience that he is characterised by, such as being a Jew, Christian, oppressor, adulterer, sculptor or picture-painter, thief, or consumer of usury, is not ḥarām from the apparent meaning of the hadiths. Al-Ghazālī indicates that it is ḥarām except in the case of those whom we know to have died as disbelievers, like Abū Lahab, Abū Jahl, Fir‘awn (Pharaoh), and Hāmān. He says: “For cursing is rendering a person far from the mercy of Allah ﷻ, but we do not know what will be the final destiny of such a deviant or disbeliever.” He said: “Those whom the Messenger of Allah ﷺ cursed specifically, it is conceivable that he knew that they would die as disbelievers.” He adds, “It is close to cursing to pray for evil to befall a person, even if the person be a wrongdoer, by saying for example ‘May Allah not cure his body,’ or ‘May Allah not grant him safety’ and the like. All this is blameworthy. Likewise, cursing any animal or any object is reprehensible.”

HOW ONE CAN PUT RIGHT HAVING CURSED SOMEONE WHO DOES NOT DESERVE IT

Abū Ja‘far cited that one of the ‘ulamā’ said, “If someone curses something that does not deserve to be cursed then he should hasten to add, ‘Unless it does not deserve it.’”

WHAT WORDS ARE PERMISSIBLE IN ENJOINING WHAT IS RIGHT AND FORBIDDING THE WRONG

It is permissible for anyone when commanding the right and forbidding the wrong, and for any teacher, to say to the one he is addressing: ‘Woe to you!’, ‘O weak person,’ ‘O you who have little regard for yourself,’ ‘O you who harm yourself,’ and so on. This applies as long as he does not lie and there is no element of slander, whether explicit or implied, even if what he says is true. [To use the kind of expression] we have just mentioned is only permissible if the objective is to discipline and rebuke someone, and so that it may be more effective.

We relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ؓ narrated that the Messenger [of Allah] ﷺ saw a man leading his camel [for slaughter in Makkah]. He said: “Ride it.” He said: “It is a camel [for slaughter].” He said: “Ride it.” He said: “It is a camel [for slaughter].” The third time he said: “Ride it, woe to you!”¹

We relate in the same two Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Sa‘īd al-Khudrī ؓ related: “While we were with the Prophet ﷺ and he was distributing some shares, Dhū al-Khuwayṣirah—a man from Banū Tamīm—came and said: “Messenger of Allah, be fair.” Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: “Woe to you! Who will be fair if I am not fair?”²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Adī ibn Hātim ؓ narrated that a man gave a khuṭbah in front of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: “Whoever obeys Allah and His Messenger has been guided; and whoever disobeys them has gone astray.” The 1 Al-Bukhārī (1689) and Muslim (1322). The camel was to be slaughtered at Makkah during the Ḥajj.

2 Al-Bukhārī (6163) and Muslim (1064).

Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "You are a poor orator. Say: 'And he who disobeys Allah and His Messenger.'"¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh ﷺ related that a slave belonging to Ḥāṭib ﷺ came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and complained about Ḥāṭib. He said: "Messenger of Allah, Ḥāṭib will enter Hell." Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: "You lie; he will not enter Hell, for he took part in Badr and Ḥudaybiyah."²

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim what Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq ﷺ said to his son 'Abd ar-Raḥmān when he found out that he had not served his guests supper: "O Ghunthar." This hadith was explained in the chapter on names.³

We relate in the same two Ṣaḥīḥs that Jābir [once] performed ṣalāh in a single garment, with his clothes lying next to him. When asked about it he replied: "I am doing this so that the ignorant like you can see." According to another report he said: "So that fools like you can see."⁴

330

PROHIBITION OF DRIVING AWAY THE POOR AND WEAK, ORPHANS, BEGGARS, AND SO ON; ONE MUST SPEAK GENTLY TO THEM AND ACT HUMBLT TOWARDS THEM

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "So do not treat an orphan with harshness, or repulse a beggar."⁵

﴿فَأَمَّا الْيَتِيمَ فَلَا تَقْهَرْ * وَأَمَّا السَّائِلَ فَلَا تَنْهَرْ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Do not dismiss those who call on their Lord morning and evening, seeking His Countenance. You are not accountable for them, and they are not accountable for you, that you should turn them away and so be (one) of the unjust."⁶

﴿وَلَا تَطْرُدِ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ رَبَّهُمْ بِالْغَدَاةِ وَالْعَشِيِّ يُرِيدُونَ وَجْهَهُ ۖ مَا عَلَيْكَ مِنْ حِسَابِهِمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ وَمَا مِنْ حِسَابِكَ عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ فَتَطْرُدَهُمْ فَتَكُونَ مِنَ الظَّالِمِينَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Be patient with those who call on their Lord morning and evening, seeking His Face; and avert not your eyes from them."⁷

¹ Muslim (870).

² Muslim (2195).

³ Al-Bukhārī (602) and Muslim (2058).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (352) and Muslim (766).

⁵ Qur'ān 93:9-10.

⁶ Qur'ān 6:52.

⁷ Qur'ān 18:28.

﴿وَاصْبِرْ نَفْسَكَ مَعَ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ رَبَّهُمْ بِالْعَدَاةِ وَالْعَشِيِّ
يُرِيدُونَ وَجْهَهُ ۖ وَلَا تَعْدُ عَيْنَاكَ عَنْهُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And lower your wing (in gentleness) to the believers."¹

﴿وَاخْفِضْ جَنَاحَكَ لِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Ā'idh ibn 'Amr—spelled with dhāl—a Companion ﷺ, narrated that Abū Sufyān came upon Salmān, Shu'ayb and Bilāl ﷺ in a gathering and they said: "The swords of Allah have not taken their full due from the neck of the enemy of Allah." Abū Bakr ﷺ said: "Are you saying this to the elder and leader of the Quraysh?" He went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and informed him. He ﷺ said: "Abū Bakr, have you perhaps angered them? If you have angered them then you have angered your Lord." He went to them and said: "O my brothers, have I angered you?" They replied: "No."²

I say that the word ma'khdhahā ('full due'), with a fathah on the khā', means they had not taken in full their right from his neck, [rights they had] because of the evil of his actions.

331

WORDS WHICH IT IS DEPLORABLE TO USE

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Sahl ibn Ḥunayf related that 'Ā'ishah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should say 'My soul is foul (khathuthat)'. Instead [they should say] 'My soul heaved (laqisat).'"³

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that 'Ā'ishah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should say 'My soul is nauseous (jāshat)'. Instead [they should say]: 'My soul heaved (laqisat).'"⁴

According to the learned, the words jāshat and laqisat mean to heave, or be on the point of vomiting. They say that it is only disliked to use khathuthat because of the related words khubth and khathith ('contemptible, despicable').

Imam Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī said, "Laqisat and khathuthat have the same meaning, but it is only the wording of 'despicable, contemptible' that is disapproved

1 Qur'ān 15:88.

2 Muslim (2504).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6179) and Muslim (2251).

4 Abū Dāwūd (4979).

and the ugliness of a noun [derived] from it. He taught them good manners in using good words and avoiding what is repugnant.”

Jāshat is written with a jīm and a shīn, and laqīsat is with a fathah on the lām and a kasrah on the qāf.

AUTHENTIC PROHIBITION OF CALLING GRAPES ‘KARM’ AND AN EXPLANATION OF WHAT IS MEANT BY THAT

We relate in the *Ṣaḥīḥ*s of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “They say al-karm; *al-karm*¹ means only the heart of a believer.”² In another narration by Muslim there is: “Do not call the grape ‘al-karm’, because ‘al-karm’ [means] the Muslim,” and in another narration: “‘Al-karm’ only means the heart of the believer.”

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Wā’il ibn Hijr ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Do not say al-karm [for grapes or the vine]. Rather, say ‘inab’ (‘grapes’) or ‘ḥabalah’ (‘grape-vine’).”³

I say that ḥabalah is spelled with a fathah on the ḥā’ and the bā’, but it is also said that it is with a sukūn on the bā’, as al-Jawharī and others said.

What is meant by this hadith is that it is forbidden to call grapes karam; in the age of Jāhiliyyah they called them karm, as do some people today, whereas the Prophet ﷺ forbade using this name.

Imam al-Khaṭṭābī and others of the ‘ulamā’ said: “The Prophet ﷺ was concerned lest the beauty of its name should induce them to drink the wine derived from its fruit, and so he divested it of this name. And Allah knows best.”

WHEN A MAN SAYS ‘PEOPLE HAVE GONE TO WRACK AND RUIN’

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If a man says ‘People have gone to wrack and ruin,’ he is the most ruined of them all.”⁴

I say that ahlakuhum, ‘the most ruined of them all’, is written with either rafʿ (a ḍammah) on the kāf or a fathah (ahlakahum, ‘he has caused them to go to ruin’); but the better known is the rafʿ (i.e. ahlakuhum), which is supported by [a passage] in a narration we relate in Ḥilyat al-awliyā’ in the biographical notice on Sufyān ath-Thawrī, “Then he is one of the most ruined of them all.”

Imam Ḥāfiẓ Abū ‘Abdullāh al-Ḥumaydī said in al-Jamʿ bayn aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn about the first narration: “Some narrators said: ‘I do not know if it is with naṣb (a fathah) or rafʿ (a ḍammah).’” Al-Ḥumaydī said: “The best known is with rafʿ i.e. ‘the most severely ruined of them’.” He added: “That applies if he says it with contempt for them,

1 Karm comes from a root connoting generosity and nobility.

2 Al-Bukhārī (6183) and Muslim (2246).

3 Muslim (2248).

4 Muslim (2623).

see the grievous chastisement.”¹ About this method of proof there are some views, even if we say that the Shari’ah of those before us is a Shari’ah for us.

﴿رَبَّنَا اظْمِسْ عَلَيَّ اَمْوَالِيْهِمْ وَاَشْدُدْ عَلَيَّ قُلُوْبِهِمْ
فَلَا يُؤْمِنُوْا حَتَّى يَرَوْا الْعَذَابَ الْاَلِيْمَ﴾

DISBELIEVERS’ COERCING A MUSLIM TO SAY WORDS OF DISBELIEF

If disbelievers force a Muslim to utter a statement of disbelief and he utters it while his heart is content with faith, he does not become a disbeliever. This is supported by the text of the Qur’ān and the consensus of the Muslims. Is it better for him to utter it to save himself from being killed? There are five opinions about this.

The authentic view is that it is better to be patient and endure being killed than to utter a statement of disbelief. Proof of this from authentic hadiths and the actions of the Companions رضي الله عنهم are well-known.

The second is that it is better to utter it to save oneself from being killed.

The third is that if there is some benefit for the Muslims in his survival, in that he hopes to cause harm to the enemy or to establish the laws of the Shari’ah, then it is better for him to utter it. If that is not the case, then to have patience and bear being killed is better.

The fourth is that if he is one of the ‘ulamā’ and the like, or is one of those on whom people model themselves, then it is better for him to have patience so that the masses may not be deceived.

The fifth is that it is compulsory for him to utter it on account of the Words of Allah “And throw not yourselves to destruction with your own hands.”² But this argument is very weak indeed.

﴿وَلَا تُلْقُوا بِاَيْدِيْكُمْ اِلَى التَّهْلُكَةِ﴾

A MUSLIM COERCING A DISBELIEVER TO ACCEPT ISLAM

If a Muslim forces a disbeliever to accept Islam and he utters the declaration of faith, then if he is at war with the Muslims his Islam will be valid because it is coercion with a right. If he is under the protection of the Muslim polity (dhimmī) he will not become a Muslim, because we are compelled to let him be; so one has no right to compel him. There is another [weak] opinion, that he becomes a Muslim because he has been commanded [to accept] the truth.

¹ Qur’ān 10:88.

² Qur’ān 2:195.

A DISBELIEVER'S UTTERING THE TWO
SHAHĀDAHS WITHOUT COERCION

If a disbeliever utters the declaration of faith without any compulsion, and it is a quotation, like: "I heard Zayd say 'There is no god but Allah and Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah,'" he will not be declared a Muslim. If he says it after a Muslim has invited him [to embrace Islam] by saying: "Say: There is no god but Allah and Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah" and then he utters it, he becomes a Muslim. If he says it of his own initiative, not as a quotation or in response to an invitation, then he becomes a Muslim, according to the well-known and correct position which is adhered to by the majority of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues. It is also said that he does not become a Muslim, because of the possibility of it being a [mere] quotation.

WHAT IS SAID ABOUT NICKNAMES FOR THE ONE WHO IS IN CHARGE OF THE MUSLIMS' AFFAIRS

It is not befitting that the one who is in charge of the affairs of the Muslims be called 'the Vicegerent of Allah' (Khalīfat Allah), but rather he should be called 'the Vicegerent,' 'the Vicegerent of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ' or 'the Leader of the Believers.'

We relate in Sharḥ as-Sunnah that Imam Abū Muḥammad al-Baghawī, may Allah have mercy on him, said: "It does not matter if the one who is in charge of the affairs of the Muslims is called 'Leader of the Believers' or 'Khalīfah'—even if he acts contrary to the conduct of the just leaders—because he deals with the concerns of the believers and because the believers listen to him." He said, "He is called the Khalīfah because he succeeds those who have been before him and he takes their place." He also said: "None should be called the Vicegerent of Allah after Adam and Dāwūd, peace be upon them both. Allah ﷻ says: 'I will create a vicegerent on the earth.' Allah ﷻ says: 'Dāwūd, We have made you a vicegerent in the earth.' From Abū Mulaykah it is reported that a man said to Abū Bakr ﷺ: "O Khalīfah of Allah." He said: "I am the Khalīfah of Muḥammad ﷺ and I am happy with that." A man said to 'Umar ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz ﷺ: "O Khalīfah of Allah." He said: "Woe to you, this is far-fetched! My mother named me 'Umar. If you call me by that name, I will accept it. Then I grew up and I was given the nickname Abū Ḥafṣ. If you call me by that, I will accept it. Then you put me in charge of your affairs and you named me 'Leader of the Believers'. It is enough for you to call me by that title."

﴿إِنِّي جَاعِلٌ فِي الْأَرْضِ خَلِيفَةً﴾

﴿يَا دَاوُودُ إِنَّا جَعَلْنَاكَ خَلِيفَةً فِي الْأَرْضِ﴾

The Imam and most judicious of judges Abū al-Ḥasan al-Māwardī al-Baṣrī, the Shāfi'i faqih, says in his book al-Aḥkām as-sultāniyyah: "The Imam is called the

¹ Qur'an 2:26.

Khalīfah because he succeeds the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in his Ummah.” He said: “It is permissible to say ‘the Khalīfah’ unqualifiedly, and it is permissible to say ‘Khalīfah of the Messenger of Allah.’” He said: “Opinions are divided about saying ‘Khalīfah of Allah.’ Some hold that it is permissible because he is concerned for His rights among His Creation and because Allah ﷻ says: ‘It is He Who has made you vicegerents on the earth.’” The majority of the ‘ulamā’ avoid this, and accuse those who say it of sin.” These are the words of al-Māwardī.

﴿هُوَ الَّذِي جَعَلَكُمْ خَلَائِفَ فِي الْأَرْضِ﴾

I say that the first to be called ‘Leader of the Believers’ was ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ. There is no difference of opinion about this among people of knowledge. The fantasy of the ignorant that it was Musaylimah is a manifest error and obnoxious ignorance, contrary to the consensus of the ‘ulamā’. Their books display their agreement that the first to be called ‘Leader of the Believers’ was ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ.

Imam Ḥāfiẓ Abū ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-Barr gives in his book al-Istī‘āb, a work about the names of the Companions ﷺ, an account and explanation of ‘Umar being the first to be named ‘Leader of the Believers’, and the reason for it. He also states that Abū Bakr ﷺ was called ‘the Khalīfah of Allah’s Messenger ﷺ’.

IT IS PROHIBITED TO CALL THE SULTAN AND OTHERS SHĀHĀN SHĀH (‘KING OF KINGS’)

It is strictly forbidden to call a leader, or any other human being, ‘Shāhan Shāh’ because it means ‘King of kings’, and no-one is called that but Allah ﷻ.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “The worst, most humiliating name in the sight of Allah, exalted is He, is for a man to call himself Malik al-Amlāk—‘King of kings’.”¹ We have mentioned this previously in the chapter on names. According to Sufyān ibn ‘Uyaynah, ‘King of kings’ is the meaning of [the Persian title] ‘Shāhān Shāh’ [normally written Shāhanshāh].

ON THE WORD ‘MASTER’ (AS-SAYYID)

Know that the word ‘Master’ is used to refer to someone who is above his people and whose status is above theirs. It denotes a leader and a person of eminent merit, and is also used to refer to a mild-tempered person whose anger is not [easily] roused. It may also denote a noble, generous person, an owner, or a husband. There are many hadiths stating that a person of virtue and merit may be referred to as a ‘master’.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Bakrah ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ascended the minbar with al-Ḥasan ibn 'Alī ؓ and declared: "This son of mine is a leader, and perhaps Allah may reconcile two parties of the Muslims through him."¹

¹ Qur’ān 35:39.

² Al-Bukhārī (6205) and Muslim (2143).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī ؓ related that when Sa'd ibn Mu'ādh ؓ approached, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to the Anṣār, "Stand up for your master" or "the best of you".² Some of the narrations have: "your master" or "the best of you", and in others it is "your master" without equivocation.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that Sa'd ibn 'Ubadah asked: "Messenger of Allah, what do you think about a man who finds a man with his wife: should he kill him? . . ." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Look at what your master is saying!"³

As for [hadiths] which prohibit [the use of the word], there is one which we relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād: Buraydah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said "Do not say 'master' (sayyid) about a hypocrite, for if he is a master you have angered your Lord ﷻ."⁴

I say: "The reconciliation of these hadiths is that there is no harm in saying 'So-and-so is a master', or 'O my master', etc., if the person who is addressed as a master is virtuous and good, either because of his knowledge or right action or because of some other trait. If he is a deviant or suspect in his religion, it is makrūh to call him 'master'." We have related the same from Imam Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī in Ma'ālim as-Sunan in reconciliation of these views.

WHAT A SLAVE SHOULD SAY TO HIS OWNER AND VICE-VERSA

It is makrūh for a slave to say to his owner 'my Lord' (Rabbī); rather, he should say 'my master' (Sayyidī)—or if he wishes he may say 'my guardian' (Mawlāya). It is makrūh for an owner to say 'my slave' (Abdī) or 'my slave girl' (Amatī); he should say 'my young man' (Fatāya) or 'my young woman' (Fatātī) or 'my boy' (Ghulāmī).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should say: 'Feed your lord,' or 'Help your lord to do wuḍū,' or 'Give your lord water to drink.' He should say: 'my master,' or 'my guardian.' You should not say 'my male slave,' or 'my female slave,' but 'my young man' (Fatāya), 'my young woman' (Fatātī), and 'my boy' (Ghulāmī)."⁵ According to a report by Muslim, he said: "None of you should say 'my lord,' but let him say 'my master' and 'my guardian.'" And in a narration of his: "None of you should say 'my male slave,' because all of you are slaves. And a slave should say not 'my lord' but 'my master.'" And in another narration of his: "None of you should say 'my male slave'

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3746), Abū Dāwūd (4662), and an-Nasā'ī (251).

² Al-Bukhārī (4121) and Muslim (1768).

³ Muslim (1498), with a slight variation in the wording.

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (4977).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (2552), Muslim (2249), and Abū Dāwūd (4975).

and 'my female slave'; all of you are slaves of Allah and all of your women are female slaves of Allah. Instead, should say 'my boy', and 'my girl' (jāriyatī), and 'my young man', and 'my young woman'."

The 'ulamā' say that 'the Lord (ar-Rabb)' with alif and lām (the definite article) may not be used for anyone except Allah ﷻ. But in a possessive construction (iḍāfah) it is permissible to say 'lord of wealth,' 'lord of the house' and so on.

Examples of this are the saying of the Prophet ﷺ in the ṣaḥīḥ hadith concerning stray camels: "Leave it until its lord meets it,"¹; the ṣaḥīḥ hadith: "Until it is important to the owner of the wealth who will accept his ṣadaqah;"² and the words of 'Umar ؓ in the Ṣaḥīḥ: "The lord of the few camels and the few sheep and goats."³

There are also very many more well-known examples in hadiths.

As for the usage by those who convey the Sharī'ah, it is a matter that is very well-known.

The 'ulamā' say that it is only disliked for a slave to say to his owner 'my lord' because the wording then implies that the person in question has some share in the lordship of Allah ﷻ. As for the hadith "... until its lord meets it" and "The lord of the few camels. . ." and those others in the same sense, [the word Rabb] is only used there because they are not responsible beings, because they are like 'the house' and 'wealth'. There is no doubt that using the term 'lord of the house' or lord of the wealth' is not disapproved of.

[Should someone object to this ruling, citing] the words of Yūsuf ؑ: "Mention me when you are with your lord,"⁴ there are two responses:

﴿اذْكُرْنِي عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ﴾

First, that he addressed him in a way he would recognise, and such usage is valid if it arises from necessity, just as Mūsā ؑ said to the Samaritan: "Look at your god,"⁵ meaning "the one whom you have taken as a god".

﴿وَانْظُرْ إِلَى إِلٰهِكَ﴾

Second, that this is the Sharī'ah of those who came before us [Muslims], and the Sharī'ah of those who preceded us does not become a Sharī'ah for us if our Sharī'ah contradicts it. There is no difference of opinion about this. The people who are knowledgeable about principles only differ about the Sharī'ah of those who came before us, if there is nothing in ours either in agreement with it or in contradiction to it, as to whether it becomes Sharī'ah for us or not.

1 Al-Bukhārī (91) and Muslim (5:1722).

2 Al-Bukhārī (1412) and Muslim (61:157) on zakāh, in the chapter encouraging giving ṣadaqah before a time comes when no-one can be found to accept it.

3 Al-Bukhārī (3059).

4 Qur'ān 12:42.

5 Qur'ān 20:97.

A MAN CALLING ANOTHER 'MY GUARDIAN' (MAWLĀY)

Imam Abū Ja'far an-Naḥḥās says in his book Ṣinā'at al-Kitāb:¹ "As for 'the guardian' (al-mawlā), we know of no difference of opinion among the ulamā' that no one ought to call any other creature 'my guardian' (mawlāy)."

I say that we have seen in the previous section the permissibility of the usage 'my guardian' (mawlāy). There is no contradiction between that and this, because an-Naḥḥās was talking about 'the guardian' (al-mawlā) with alif and lām.

Similarly an-Naḥḥās said, "One may say 'master' (sayyid) about someone, provided he is not a deviant, but one may not say 'the master' (as-sayyid) about anyone but Allah ﷻ."²

The more apparently correct position is that there is no harm in saying 'the guardian' (al-mawlā) and 'the master' (as-sayyid) with alif and lām, subject to the preceding precondition.

THE PROHIBITION OF CURSING THE WIND

The two hadiths that prohibit cursing the wind have been mentioned, and we have explained them in the chapter on what to say when the wind blows.

THE PROHIBITION OF CURSING FEVER

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Jābir ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came to Umm as-Sā'ib or Umm al-Musayyab, and asked: "What is wrong with you, Umm as-Sā'ib (or Umm al-Musayyab) that you tremble?" She replied: "Fever, may Allah not bless it." He said: "Do not curse fever, for it removes the sins of the sons of Adam as a furnace removes impurity from iron."³

I say that 'tremble' (tuzafzifina) i.e. 'move with a swift movement', means 'tremble, quiver, shake' and is written with a ḍammah on the tā' and with zāy repeated; it is also narrated with rā' repeated (turafrifina), but the zāy is better known. One of those who cite both is Ibn al-Athīr, and the author of al-Maṭālī' cites the zāy and rā' along with qāf (turaqriqina); but the accepted spelling is with fā', whether it be with zāy or rā'.

THE PROHIBITION OF CURSING ROOSTERS

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Zayd ibn Khālid al-Juhānī ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not curse the rooster, because it wakes people up for ṣalāh."⁴

¹ p. 169.

² ibid.

³ Muslim (4575).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (5101).

THE PROHIBITION OF CALLING THE SLOGANS OF THE DAYS BEFORE ISLAM AND USING THEIR WORDS AND EXPRESSIONS

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "He is not one of us who beats his cheeks, tears his clothes, and calls out the slogans of the days before Islam."¹ In another narration it is: "...or tears ... or calls out..." with 'or'.

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF CALLING MUḤARRAM 'ṢAFAR'

It is makrūh to call al-Muḥarram 'Ṣafar', because that was the practice of the days before Islam.

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF SUPPLICATING FOR FORGIVENESS AND THE LIKE FOR SOMEONE WHO DIED AS A DISBELIEVER

It is ḥarām to pray for the forgiveness of a person who has died as a disbeliever. Allah ﷻ says: "It is not fitting for the Prophet and those who believe to pray for forgiveness for pagans, even though they be relatives, once it is clear to them that they are destined for Hell."²

﴿مَا كَانَ لِلنَّبِيِّ وَالَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا أَنْ يَسْتَغْفِرُوا لِلْمُشْرِكِينَ وَلَوْ كَانُوا
أُولِي قُرْبَى مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا تَبَيَّنَ لَهُمْ أَنَّهُمْ أَصْحَابُ الْجَحِيمِ﴾

We have looked at the hadiths to the same effect, and the Muslims are in unanimous agreement about this.

ON THE PROHIBITION OF ABUSING A MUSLIM WITHOUT A VALID REASON IN SHARĪ'AH THAT WOULD PERMIT IT

It is ḥarām to curse a Muslim without any reason that is applicable in Sharī'ah.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "To abuse a Muslim is deviation."³

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When two people abuse one another, what they say will fall on the one who started [the abuse], if the wronged party does not transgress."⁴ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

1 Al-Bukhārī (1297) and Muslim (103).

2 Qur'ān 9:113.

3 Al-Bukhārī (7076) and Muslim (64).

4 Muslim (2587), Abū Dāwūd (4894), and at-Tirmidhī (1982).

DEPLORABLE WORDS CUSTOMARILY USED IN DISPUTING

Some of the deplorable words commonly used when arguing are 'you donkey,' 'you goat,' 'you dog,' etc. These are deplorable for two reasons: firstly it is a lie, and secondly it causes harm and pain. This is not the same as someone saying 'you wrongdoer' or suchlike, for that is excusable because of the needs of the argument, besides which in most cases it may be true since there are few people who do not wrong themselves and others.

THE DISAPPROVAL OF SAYING 'THERE IS NO OTHER CREATURE WITH ME BUT ALLAH'

An-Naḥḥās said: "Some of the learned disapprove of people saying 'There is no other creature with me but Allah,' since ordinarily exceptions are connected,¹ and in this case it is impossible [since Allah is not a creature]. The meaning here can only be that the exception is disjoined² and therefore implies '[there is no creature with me] but Allah is with me' which is derived from His words: "And He is with you".³

﴿وَهُوَ مَعَكُمْ﴾

One ought to say instead of that, "There is no one with me, but Allah ﷻ is."

مَا كَانَ مَعِيَ أَحَدٌ إِلَّا اللَّهُ سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى.

Mā kāna ma'ī aḥadun illa-llāhu subḥānahu wa ta'ālā.

He said: "It is also disliked to say 'Sit down upon the name of Allah;' instead one should say: 'Sit down, in the name of Allah.'" اجْلِسْ بِاسْمِ اللَّهِ.

Ijlis bi-smi-llāh.

THE PROHIBITION OF A FASTING PERSON SAYING: 'BY THE RIGHT OF THIS SEAL WHICH IS ON MY MOUTH!'

An-Naḥḥās cited some of the first generation [of Muslims as saying] that it is disapproved of for a person who is fasting to say: "by the right of this seal which is on my mouth!" He adduced as evidence for this that only the mouths of disbelievers are sealed; but there are various views about this argument. The only argument is rather that he has sworn an oath by something other than Allah ﷻ. This is unlawful, as we will see shortly, if Allah ﷻ wills; and so this is makrūh because of what we have ¹ The particle illā when connected to the preceding statement means 'but' or 'except'.

² When the particle illā is unconnected, such as when it begins a sentence, it means 'however'.

³ Qur'ān 57:4.

mentioned and also because [by saying this, the person] unnecessarily discloses the fact that he is fasting.

AVOIDING SAYING, AS SOME PEOPLE DO: 'MAY ALLAH BLESS YOU IN YOUR EYE,' AND 'MAY HE BLESS YOUR MORNING'

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, from 'Abd ar-Razzāq from Ma'mar, from Qatādah or someone else, from 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn ؓ: "We used to say in the Jāhiliyyah: 'May Allah bless you in your eye' or '... Bless your morning'. Then when Islam came, we were forbidden [to do] that." 'Abd ar-Razzāq reported: "Ma'mar said: 'It is disliked that a man say, "May Allah bless you in your eye"; but there is no harm in him saying, "May Allah bless your eye."'"¹

I say that it is thus: Abū Dāwūd narrated it "from Qatādah or someone else". About such hadiths scholars say that one cannot judge them to be authentic, because Qatādah is trustworthy but 'someone else' is unknown. It may therefore be understood as having been transmitted from someone unknown, and so a Shari'ah ruling cannot reliably be established on such a basis. However, the precautionary approach would entail avoiding this expression, since it is possible that it is authentically transmitted and because some of the 'ulamā' argue by means of [transmissions from] unknown people. And Allah knows best.

ON THE PROHIBITION OF TWO MEN TALKING CONFIDENTIALLY IF THERE IS A THIRD PERSON WITH THEM WHO WOULD BE LEFT BY HIMSELF

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If there are three of you then two should not talk confidentially, excluding the third, until they join the [rest of the] people, because that might sadden him."²

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Ibn 'Umar ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If there are three people, two should not talk confidentially to the exclusion of the third."³

We also relate this in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, who added: "Abū Ṣāliḥ—the narrator from Ibn 'Umar—reported: 'I asked Ibn 'Umar: "What about four?" He said: "That will not harm you."'"⁴

1 Meaning, "May Allah give rest by means of you to the eye of those whom you love", or "May He give your eye rest in those whom you love". Awn al-Ma'būd sharḥ Abī Dāwūd.

2 Abū Dāwūd (5227).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6290), Muslim (2184), Abū Dāwūd (4851), and at-Tirmidhī (2827).

4 Al-Bukhārī (6288), Muslim (2183), al-Muwaṭṭa' (2/988), and Abū Dāwūd (4852).

5 Abū Dāwūd (4852).

ON THE PROHIBITION OF A WOMAN INFORMING HER HUSBAND OR ANYONE ELSE OF THE BEAUTY OF ANOTHER WOMAN'S BODY UNLESS THERE IS SOME NEED ALLOWED BY THE SHARĪ'AH, SUCH AS A DESIRE FOR HIM TO MARRY HER

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A woman should not embrace another woman and then describe her to her husband as if he were looking at her."¹

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF SAYING 'WITH CLOSE UNION AND SONS'

It is makrūh to say to a person who gets married: 'With close union and children.' One should only say: 'May Allah bless you,' and 'May Allah bestow blessings upon you,' as we have already mentioned in the chapter on marriage.

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ لَكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu lak.

بَارَكَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْكَ.

Bāraka-llāhu 'alayk.

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF SAYING TO AN ANGRY
PERSON 'REMEMBER ALLAH' AND SUCHLIKE

An-Naḥḥās related that Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Abī Yaḥyā—who was one of the cultured 'ulamā' who were fuqahā—said: "It is makrūh to tell anyone when they are angry 'Remember Allah,' because of the fear that his anger may incite him to disbelief. Likewise, one should not say 'Invoke blessings upon the Prophet,' for the same reason."

STUDIOUSLY AVOIDING SWEARING AN OATH BY SAYING:
'ALLAH KNOWS WHAT WAS THUS' OR SUCHLIKE

Among the ugliest and most objectionable things that most people are in the habit of uttering when they want to swear an oath and they abstain from saying 'By Allah'—because they dislike to break their oath, or out of veneration of Allah ﷻ, or to protect oaths—is to say: 'Allah knows it was not like that,' 'It was certainly like that,' etc. These expressions are dangerous. If the one who utters them is certain that the matter was in fact so, there is no harm. If, however, he is in doubt about it, then it is the vilest of utterances because it leads to telling lies about Allah ﷻ. He is saying that Allah ﷻ knows something which he is not certain of. There is another fine point about it which is even uglier than this, which is that he is describing Allah ﷻ as knowing the matter contrary to the way that it actually was. If that is the case then it is kufr, and so people must avoid this expression.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (5240), Abū Dāwūd (2150), and at-Tirmidhī (2793).

DISAPPROVAL OF SAYING IN DU'Ā, 'O ALLAH, FORGIVE ME IF YOU WISH' OR 'IF YOU WILL'

It is makrūh to say in du'ā, 'O Allah, forgive me, if You wish' or 'if You will'. One should be positive in asking.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you should say 'O Allah, forgive me if You wish', [or] 'O Allah, have mercy on me if You wish.' Instead he should be resolute in the request, for no one can compel Him."¹

One narration in Muslim reads: "But he should be absolutely resolute and have great desire, for nothing that Allah gives is too great for Him."²

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Anas ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "When any one of you says a du'ā he should be resolute in his request and not say 'O Allah, if You wish then grant me', for there is no one who can compel Him."³

DISAPPROVAL OF SWEARING AN OATH BY ANYTHING OTHER THAN THE NAMES AND ATTRIBUTES OF ALLAH ﷻ

It is makrūh to swear an oath by anything besides Allah ﷻ and His attributes, whether by the Prophet ﷺ, the Ka'bah, the angels, the Trust, life, the Spirit and so on. The most improper of these is to swear by the Trust.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Umar ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah forbids you to make oaths by your parents,⁴ so whoever would take an oath should swear by Allah or be silent."⁵

One narration in the Ṣaḥīḥ reads: "So whoever would swear an oath should only swear an oath by Allah or else he should be silent."⁶

We relate many reports about the severe censure of swearing by the Trust, including the following.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Buraydah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Whoever swears an oath by the Trust is not one of us."⁷

1 Al-Bukhārī (6339), Muslim (2679), al-Muwatta' (1/213), Abū Dāwūd (1483), at-Tirmidhī (3492), and an-Nasā'ī in 'Amal al-yawm wa al-laylah (582).

2 Muslim (8:2679).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6338) and Muslim (3678).

4 Grandparents and ancestors are included in ābā ('fathers').

5 Al-Bukhārī (6646), Muslim (1646), Abū Dāwūd (3250), at-Tirmidhī (1534), and an-Nasā'ī (7/4-5).

6 Al-Iḥsān bi-tartīb Ṣaḥīḥ Ibn Hibbān (4359).

7 Abū Dāwūd (3253) and al-Futūḥāt (7/114). Al-Mundhirī states that the chain of this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ, whereas as-Sakhāwī grades it as ḥasan.

DISAPPROVAL OF SWEARING MANY OATHS IN BUYING, SELLING, ETC., EVEN IF THEY ARE TRUE

It is makrūh to swear oaths excessively in business transactions, etc., even if one is telling the truth.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Qatādah رضي الله عنه reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Beware of excessive oaths in buying and selling, for it produces sales but then produces loss."¹

DISAPPROVAL OF CALLING A RAINBOW 'THE BOW OF QUZAH'

We relate in the Hilyat al-awliyā' of Abū Nu'aym, from Ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه, that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Do not say 'The bow of Quzah', because Quzah is a shayṭān; say instead 'The bow of Allah', for it is an assurance of safety for the people of the earth."²

I say that Quzah is written with a ḍammah on the qāf and a fathah on the zāy. According to al-Jawhārī and others, it is not declined. The common people say 'Qudah', with a dāl, which is incorrect.

THE DISAPPROVAL OF A MAN WHO IS AFFLICTED BY [COMMITTING] ACTS OF DISOBEDIENCE TELLING OTHERS
ABOUT THEM UNLESS THERE IS SOME BENEFIT IN IT

It is makrūh for a person afflicted by some act of disobedience or the like to inform others about it. On the contrary, he ought to repent to Allah ﷻ, abstain from it immediately, regret what he has done, and resolve never to return to the likes of it. These are the three conditions of repentance without which it will not be valid. If one informs his Shaykh or someone like him, in the hope that once he has informed him he will be able to teach him a way out from his act of disobedience, or something that will save him from falling into the like of it, or to show him why he commits it, or to pray for him, or suchlike, there is no harm in informing him; on the contrary, it is good. It is only makrūh if those beneficial conditions are not fulfilled.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "All of my Ummah are forgiven except those who [disobey Allah ﷻ] openly. An example of [disobeying] openly is that a man does a deed at night and then gets up in the morning, after Allah ﷻ has concealed it for him, and he says: 'O So-and-so, last night I did such-and-such and such-and-such.' He has spent the night with his Lord, Who concealed it, and then he gets up and exposes that which Allah has concealed about him."³

¹ Muslim (1607) and an-Nasā'ī (7/247).

² Hilyat al-awliyā' (2:309).

³ Al-Bukhārī (6069) and Muslim (2990).

IT IS PROHIBITED FOR A MAN'S SLAVE OR SOMEONE LIKE THAT TO SPEAK ABOUT SOMETHING THAT WILL CAUSE HIM PROBLEMS

It is ḥarām for a person charged with responsibility (mukallaf) to speak to a man's slave, wife, son or servant etc., about something that will degrade him in their sight, unless what they say involves enjoining good and forbidding evil. Allah ﷻ says: "Help one another in righteousness and piety, but help not one another in sin and rancour."¹

﴿وَتَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْبِرِّ وَالتَّقْوَىٰ ۖ وَلَا تَعَاوَنُوا عَلَى الْإِثْمِ وَالْعُدْوَانِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also said: "Not a word does he utter but there is a Vigilant Guardian with him."²

﴿مَا يَلْفِظُ مِنْ قَوْلٍ إِلَّا لَدَيْهِ رَقِيبٌ عَتِيدٌ﴾

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever causes a man's wife or slave to be disaffected is not one of us."³

I say that khabbaba ('causes to be disaffected'), is written with a khā' and then a bā' which is repeated, and it means 'ruined him and rendered him disaffected', or 'deceived him'.

WHAT OUGHT TO BE SAID ABOUT MONEY SPENT IN OBEDIENCE TO ALLAH ﷻ

One ought to say about money that was spent in obedience to Allah, 'I spent' etc. For example: 'I spent a thousand on my Hajj,' 'I spent two thousand on my military expedition,' and similarly 'I spent on entertaining my guest,' or 'on circumcising my boys,' or 'on my marriage,' etc. One should not say, as many ordinary people do: 'I was forced to pay (gharimtu) for my hospitality,' 'I lost (khasirtu) on my Hajj,' or 'I wasted (ḍayya'tu) on my journey,' etc. The upshot is that 'I spent' and the like should be used for acts of obedience; 'I lost,' 'I was forced to pay' and 'I wasted' should be used for acts of disobedience and undesirable acts, and should not be used for acts of obedience.

WHAT MANY PEOPLE SAY IN THE PRAYER BEHIND THE IMAM: 'YOU ALONE WE WORSHIP AND FROM YOU ALONE WE SEEK HELP'

One of the things that are prohibited is that which many people say during the ṣalāh: when the imam says, 'You alone we worship and from You alone we seek help,'⁴ and

¹ Qur'ān 5:2.

² Qur'ān 50:18.

³ Abū Dāwūd (2175) and al-Futūḥāt (7/118). The narrators of the chain of a similar narration in at-Ṭabarānī's al-Awsaṭ are trustworthy.

⁴ Qur'ān 1:5.

a person led in prayer says 'You alone we worship and from You alone we seek help'. This is one of those things that one ought to give up and beware of, for the author of al-Bayān—one of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues—says, "This invalidates the prayer unless one intends by it recitation." Although there are some other views about this, and apparently some people do not agree with him, one should still avoid it; for even if it does not invalidate the prayer, it is makrūh in that context. And Allah knows best.

WARNING AGAINST PEOPLE SAYING ABOUT TAXES
'THIS IS THE SULTAN'S RIGHT' AND SO ON.

Another thing that is strenuously forbidden and warned against is something which people and their likes say about the taxes exacted from those who buy and sell, etc. They say "This is the Sultan's right" or "You must [pay] the Sultan's right" and similar expressions terming them a 'right' or an 'obligation'. This is one of the most deplorable things and ugliest innovations, so much so that one of the 'ulamā' has said: "Whoever calls this a 'right' is a disbeliever and has left the religion of Islam." But the correct position is that he has not become a disbeliever unless he believes that [innovated tax] to be a right even though he knows that it is unjust. The correct position is that one should say that it is a 'tax' or 'the Sultan's imposition' or another similar expression. And success is by Allah.

THE DISAPPROVAL OF ANYTHING BEING ASKED FOR "BY THE COUNTENANCE OF ALLAH ﷻ" OTHER THAN PARADISE

It is makrūh that anything other than Paradise should be asked for "by the Countenance of Allah ﷻ".

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that Jābir ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Nothing should be asked for 'by the Countenance of Allah' except Paradise."¹

THE DISAPPROVAL OF REFUSING SOMEONE WHO ASKS
BY ALLAH ﷻ OR INTERCEDES THROUGH HIM

It is makrūh to refuse to give something to someone who asks by Allah ﷻ and intercedes through Him.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'i, with isnāds of the two Ṣaḥīḥ books, that Ibn 'Umar ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If someone seeks refuge by Allah, give him refuge; if a person asks by Allah ﷻ, give him; if a person invites you, respond; and if a person treats you well, repay and reward him. If you cannot find anything to reward him with, make du'ā' for him until you think that you have repaid him."²

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1671). As-Sakhāwī comments that this hadith is gharīb.
² Abū Dāwūd (1672), an-Nasā'i (5/82), and al-Futūḥāt (7/119). As-Sakhāwī grades it as ḥasan.

ABOUT SAYING 'MAY ALLAH PROLONG YOUR LIFE'

The best known position is that it is makrūh to say, "May Allah prolong your life".

Abū Ja'far an-Naḥḥās says in his book Ṣinā'at al-kitāb, "Some of the 'ulamā' regard the saying 'May Allah prolong your remaining' as makrūh and some give a concessionary licence for it."

Ismā'il ibn Ishāq said, "The first to write 'May Allah prolong your life' were the heretics".

It is narrated that Ḥammād ibn Salamah, may Allah have mercy on him, said that the way the [early] Muslims used to write [a letter] was thus: "From So-and-so to So-and-so. Then: peace be upon you. I praise to you Allah besides Whom there is no other god. And I ask that He bless Muḥammad and the family of Muḥammad." Then [later] heretics innovated this formula of writing that begins, 'May Allah prolong your life'.

ON SAYING TO ANOTHER PERSON 'MAY MY FATHER AND MOTHER BE YOUR RANSOM' OR THE LIKE

The chosen and correct position is that it is not makrūh for a person to say to someone else 'May my father and mother be your ransom' or 'May Allah make me your ransom'.

Well-known hadiths in the two Ṣaḥīḥs and elsewhere prove the permissibility of doing so, whether or not the parents are Muslims or disbelievers; but some of the 'ulamā' regard it as makrūh if they are Muslims.

An-Naḥḥās said, "And Mālik ibn Anas regarded 'May Allah make me your ransom' as being makrūh, but some [scholars] regarded it as permissible."

Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ said, "The majority of 'ulamā' regard it as permissible, whether the person who would be the ransom is a Muslim or a disbeliever."

I say that innumerable instances confirming that it is permissible are narrated in ṣaḥīḥ hadiths, and I have drawn attention to a good number of them in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim.

ARGUING, DISPUTATION AND LITIGATION

Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī says: "Mirā' (arguing) means casting aspersions on someone else's speech to show mistakes in it without any purpose other than to show contempt for the one who said it and to show your superiority over him." He also says: "As for jidāl (disputation), it denotes arguing to do with showing the madhḥabs and confirming them." He adds: "As for khuṣūmah (litigation), it means contending in order to take in full some purpose, whether financial or otherwise. Sometimes it is initiated and sometimes it is raised as an objection, but arguing always means just raising an objection."¹ These are the words of al-Ghazālī.

¹ Iḥyā' 'ulūm ad-dīn 3:118.

Know that disputation can be for the truth or for falsehood. Allah ﷻ says: "Dispute with the People of the Book only in the kindest way."¹

﴿وَلَا تُجَادِلُوا أَهْلَ الْكِتَابِ إِلَّا بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ﴾

He ﷻ also says: "And dispute with that which is best".²

﴿وَجَادِلْهُمْ بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ﴾

He ﷻ also says: "No one disputes Allah's Signs except those who disbelieve."³

﴿مَا يُجَادِلُ فِي آيَاتِ اللَّهِ إِلَّا الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا﴾

If disputation is engaged in in order to arrive at the truth and to confirm it then it is praiseworthy. If it is done to repudiate the truth or it is mere disputation without knowledge then it is blameworthy. The texts that are narrated concerning its being permitted or being reproved reveal this position in detail. Mujādalāh has the same meaning [as jidāl]. I have explained all of that at great length in Tahdhīb al-asmā' wa-l-lughāt.

One of [the wise] said: "I have never seen anything that does away with the Dīn, diminishes manliness, wastes pleasure, or occupies the heart more completely than litigation."

If you object that there is sometimes no avoiding litigation to obtain one's rights, the answer is, as Imam al-Ghazālī replied: "Severe censure is only [applicable] to those who litigate falsely or without knowledge, such as someone who is entrusted by the judge and then deputises in litigation before knowing on which side the truth lies, and so litigates without knowledge.

"Included in the censure also is someone who seeks his right but does not confine himself to the measure of his need, and instead altercates and lies in order to cause harm and to gain power over his opponent. The same applies to someone who mixes hurtful words in his litigation for which there is no need in order for him to obtain his right, as is also the case for someone motivated simply by pure obstinate rejection in order to overcome his opponent and break him—and this too is reprehensible.

"As for a litigant who supports his arguments according to the way of the Sharī'ah, without altercation and excess or extra obstinate persistence beyond what is necessary and without intending obstinate rejection or hurt, what he is doing is not unlawful; but it is more fitting that he abstain from it provided he can find a way to do so, since controlling one's tongue in litigation to the extent of being [altogether] fair and just is impossible.

"Litigation makes the breast boil with rancour and stirs up anger, and when anger stirs the consequence is such malice between the two parties that each of them takes pleasure in causing hurt to the other and is grieved at what causes the other pleasure, and so each sets his tongue free to attack the other's honour. Hence anyone who litigates exposes himself to these character defects. The least [danger] that lies in it is the heart's being occupied to such an extent that it enters into his ṣalāh and his thoughts are busy with argumentation and litigation, so that his state is no longer correct.

¹ Qur'ān 29:46.

² Qur'ān 16:125.

³ Qur'ān 40:4.

"Litigation is the beginning of evil, as are disputation and arguing, so one ought not to open the door of litigation without some pressing need to do so from which there is no escape; and when doing so one must preserve one's tongue and heart from all the ill effects of litigation."¹

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "It is enough wrong action for you that you continuously litigate."²

And it is narrated of 'Alī ؓ that he said: "Litigation has dangers."

I say that quḥam, 'dangers', is written with a ḍammah on the qāf and a fathah on the hā, and means 'things that cause destruction'.

DISAPPROVAL OF SPEAKING IN GUTTURAL TONES BY SPEAKING AFFECTEDLY ETC.

It is makrūh to speak in guttural tones by speaking affectedly, or to exert oneself in speaking affectedly in rhymed prose and eloquent language, and in artificially constructed introductions as affectedly eloquent speakers habitually do, and in their elaborate speeches, because all of that is reprehensible affectation. The same applies to affected rhymed prose, as is also the case with seeking out petty details of case endings (i'rāb) and barbarous usages when talking to ordinary people. Speakers should use words which their audience will understand clearly and easily.

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Abū Dāwūd that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah hates orators among men who chew [words] with their tongues as the cow chews the cud."³ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan hadith.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ related that the Prophet ﷺ said: "May those who exaggerate be destroyed."⁴ He said it thrice. The learned say that mutanaṭṭi'in ('those who exaggerate') are those who go to great lengths over things.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Jābir ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The dearest among you to me, and those [who shall be] closest to me on the Day of Judgment, are the best of you in character. And the most disliked of you, and the furthest from me on the Day of Judgment, are windbags, those who speak affectedly, and the mutafayhiqūn." They said: "We know windbags and those who

¹ Iḥyā' ulūm ad-dīn (3:119).

² At-Tirmidhī (1994).

³ Abū Dāwūd (5005) and at-Tirmidhī (2857).

⁴ Muslim (2670).

speak affectedly, but who are the mutafayhiqūn?" He said: "Those who are arrogant."¹ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith, and adds that tharthār (a windbag) is someone who talks a great deal, while mutashaddiq (someone who speaks affectedly) is someone who behaves arrogantly towards people while talking and addresses them in an unseemly or indecent manner."

Know that this rebuke does not apply to those who make the wording of their sermons and discourses elegant, provided that there is no exaggeration and overstatement, because the objective here is to awaken the hearts to the obedience of Allah ﷻ and beautiful words have an evident effect in this.

DISAPPROVAL OF EVEN PERMISSIBLE SPEECH AFTER ṢALĀT AL-'ISHĀ'

It is makrūh, after performing the ṣalāh of 'Ishā', to engage in conversation that is permissible at other times. By permissible talk I mean talk which one may equally well engage in or leave. Conversations that are ḥarām or makrūh at other times are even more ḥarām and deplorable at that time. Good conversation, like scholarly discussions, stories of the pious, and talk of good character and conversations with guests, is not makrūh but mustaḥabb. The authentic hadiths confirm this. Similarly, there is no harm in conversation with a valid excuse or prompted by events that occur. The hadiths concerning everything I have mentioned are very well-known, but I will allude to some of them in summary fashion and point out a good number of them.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Barazah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to dislike sleeping before 'Ishā' and conversation after it.²

Numerous hadiths make concessions for conversation about the matters we have mentioned above, including the hadith of Ibn 'Umar ؓ in the [same] two Ṣaḥīḥs that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said the salām after performing the ṣalāh of 'Ishā' during the last part of his life, he said: "Do you see this night of yours? After one hundred years there will not remain anyone who is on the face of the earth today."³

Another example is the hadith of Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī ؓ, in the same two Ṣaḥīḥs, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ delayed the ṣalāh of 'Ishā' until the twilight had disappeared. Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out and led the Companions in ṣalāh. When he had completed his ṣalāh he said to those who were present: "Be at ease; I will teach you something. Rejoice in the good news that part of Allah's favour upon you is that there are no people but you who are praying at this hour."⁴

Another example is the hadith of Anas ؓ in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that [the Companions] waited for the Prophet ﷺ and he came to them when almost half the night had passed. He led them in ṣalāh: that is, 'Ishā'. He [Anas] said: "Then he addressed

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2019).

² Al-Bukhārī (568), Muslim (647), Abū Dāwūd (398), and at-Tirmidhī (168).

³ Al-Bukhārī (564), Muslim (2537), Abū Dāwūd (4348), and at-Tirmidhī (2252).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (567), Muslim (641).

them saying, '[Other] people have performed ṣalāh and gone to sleep, but you have continued to be in ṣalāh for as long as you were waiting for ṣalāh.'¹

Another proof is the hadith from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه about him spending the night in the house of his maternal aunt Maymūnah رضي الله عنها. He said that the Prophet ﷺ performed the ṣalāh of 'Ishā' and then went to his family and spoke to them and asked, "Has the little boy gone to sleep?"

Another proof is the hadith from 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Bakr رضي الله عنه who reported the story² about [Abū Bakr's] guests and him holding back from them until he had prayed 'Ishā'. Then he came and spoke to them and spoke to his wife and his son, speaking to them repeatedly. This hadith is found in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

There are many like these and they are innumerable, but in that which we relate there is more than enough.

THE RULING ON CALLING THE LATER 'ISHĀ' 'AL-ʿATAMAH', CALLING MAGHRIB 'AL-ʿISHĀ', AND CALLING ṢUBḤ 'GHADĀH'

It is makrūh to call the later 'Ishā' al-ʿAtamah because of the well-known ṣaḥīḥ hadiths on the subject. It is also makrūh to call Maghrib al-ʿIshā'.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī from 'Abdullāh ibn Mughaffal al-Muzanī رضي الله عنه—written with ghayn—that he reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not let the desert Arabs overrule you with respect to the name of your prayer of Maghrib." He said: "The desert Arabs say that it is 'Ishā'."³

[If anyone objects that there are] hadiths about naming 'Ishā' al-ʿAtamah, such as the hadith "If only [people] knew what is in aṣ-Ṣubḥ and al-ʿAtamah, they would come to them even if it were crawling on their hands and knees," the response is twofold.

First, their point is to make it clear that the prohibition is not such as to render this ḥarām, but for the sake of being careful.

Second, that it was feared that the people addressed thus might be unclear as to what he meant if he had called it 'Ishā' [since the desert Arabs used that term for Maghrib].

As for calling aṣ-Ṣubḥ Ghadāh, there is no disapproval of that according to the correct position, and there are very many ṣaḥīḥ hadiths employing the term al-Ghadāh. A group of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues say that this is disapproved of, but that is not the case. There is no harm in calling Maghrib and 'Ishā' 'the two 'Ishā's'. There is no harm in calling 'Ishā' 'the later 'Ishā'. Although it is narrated from al-Aṣma'i that he held that one should not say 'the later 'Ishā', that is an obvious mistake.

It is reliably transmitted in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Any woman who has put on scent should not attend the later 'Ishā' together with us."⁵

That is reliably established from the words of an innumerable group of Compan-

1 Al-Bukhārī (572), Muslim (640) and an-Nasā'i (1/268).

2 Al-Bukhārī (117) and Muslim (763).

3 Al-Bukhārī (602) and Muslim (2058).

4 Al-Bukhārī (563).

5 Muslim (444).

ions in the two Ṣaḥīḥs and elsewhere, and I have explained all that, together with its evidentiary proofs, in Tahdhīb al-asmā' wa-l-lughāt. And all success is by Allah.

IT IS ḤARĀM TO DIVULGE A SECRET IF THERE IS HARM OR HURT IN DOING SO

It is forbidden to reveal secrets. The hadiths in this regard are many. It is ḥarām if it entails harm and hurt.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Jābir رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If a man tells another man something and he turns away, it become a trust." According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

ON THE DISAPPROVAL OF ASKING A MAN
NEEDLESSLY ABOUT WHY HE HIT HIS WIFE

It is makrūh to ask a man why he struck his wife, except in the case of [strict] necessity.

We cited the authentic hadiths about keeping silent about things in which there is no benefit at the beginning of the chapter on safeguarding the tongue.

We mentioned this ṣaḥīḥ hadith: "Part of the goodness of a man's Islam is that he disregard that which does not concern him."²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb رضي الله عنه related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "A man should not be asked why he beats his wife."³

WHAT IS RELATED ABOUT POETRY; WITH AN EXPLANATION OF THE RULING ON IT

With regard to poetry, we relate in the Musnad of Abū Ya'lā al-Mawṣilī, with a ḥasan isnād, that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked about poetry and said, "It is speech, the good of which is good and the bad of which is bad."⁴

The 'ulamā' say that this means that poetry is like prose, but that to confine oneself to [expressing oneself] exclusively in verse is blameworthy. It is recorded in authentic hadiths that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ listened to poetry and instructed Ḥassān ibn Thābit رضي الله عنه to satirise and disparage the disbelievers. It is reliably established that he ﷺ said: "In some poetry there is wisdom."⁵ It is also recorded that he said: "For the ¹ Abū Dāwūd (4868) and at-Tirmidhī (1960). Ibn 'Allān comments that this hadith is ḥasan on the strength of other hadiths (li-ghayrihi).

² Al-Muwatta' (2/903), at-Tirmidhī (2318), and Ibn Mājah (3976).

³ Abū Dāwūd (2147) and al-Futūḥāt (7/140). Ibn Ḥajar states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ, in Tanbih al-akhyār.

⁴ Abū Ya'lā (4760).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (6145) and Abū Dāwūd (5010).

innards of any of you to be filled with pus would be better for him than for them to be filled with poetry.”¹ And all of that is in accordance with what we have mentioned.

EMPLOYING ALLUSIONS FOR MATTERS WHICH ONE IS TOO SHY TO MENTION

Among the things that are forbidden are indecency and obscene language. The authentic hadiths about this are many and well-known. What it means is expressing things that are base in explicit words, even if they be accurate and the speaker truthful. This happens often with words referring to sexual intercourse. It is essential that allusions be used to express this in comely words whose implication is readily understood. This is mentioned in the Mighty Qur’ān and the noble and authentic Sunnahs. Allah ﷻ says: “Approaching your wives on the nights of the fasts is permitted to you”².

﴿أَحِلَّ لَكُمْ لَيْلَةَ الصِّيَامِ الرَّفَثُ إِلَى نِسَائِكُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: “And how could you take it when you have gone in unto one another?”³

﴿وَكَيْفَ تَأْخُذُونَهُ وَقَدْ أَفْضَى بَعْضُكُمْ إِلَى بَعْضٍ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “And if you divorce them before touching them. . .”⁴

﴿وَإِنْ طَلَّقْتُمُوهُنَّ مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ تَمْسُوهُنَّ﴾

According to the ‘ulamā’, one ought, in this and other expressions one is too shy to mention directly, to use allusions that can be understood. So intercourse with a woman could be referred to as ‘going to’, ‘visiting’, ‘living with’ or ‘falling upon’. One should not say openly ‘copulate’, ‘have sex’, and suchlike. Likewise, allusion should be made to urinating and defecating by saying ‘discharging one’s need’ or ‘going to the open spaces’. One should not say explicitly ‘excrement’, ‘urine’, and so on. Likewise, bodily defects like leprosy, halitosis, or body odours should be referred to in seemly words that can readily be understood. Other examples should be considered along with what we have mentioned.

Know that all this applies when there is no need to be explicit; but if there is a need to make something clear or to teach, or if one is afraid that the person one is addressing will understand the allusion [literally] or misunderstand its purport, then one has to speak directly so that correct understanding is achieved. That is how the

1 Al-Bukhārī (6155), Muslim (2257), Abū Dāwūd (5009) and at-Tirmidhī (2855).

2 Qur’ān 2:187.

3 Qur’ān 4:21.

4 Qur’ān 2:237.

hadiths which state such things explicitly must be interpreted, meaning [directness is permissible] in case of necessity as we mentioned, because achieving understanding in this respect is more important than merely being good-mannered. And all success is by Allah.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “A believer does not regularly defame or curse, nor is he vulgar or obscene”.¹

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Anas ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Never does vulgarity enter into anything without blemishing it; and never does modesty enter into a thing without adorning it.”²

THE PROHIBITION OF REBUFFING ONE’S FATHER OR MOTHER ETC.

It is extremely harām to rebuff or turn away from one’s mother or father. Allah ﷻ says: “And your Lord has decreed that you worship none but Him, and that you be good to [your] parents. Whether one or both of them attain old age in your life, say not to them a word of contempt, nor repel them, but address them in terms of honour. And from compassion lower to them the wing of humility, and say: “Lord, bestow on them Your Mercy even as they cherished me in childhood.”³

﴿وَقَضَىٰ رَبُّكَ أَلَّا تَعْبُدُوا إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ وَبِالْوَالِدَيْنِ إِحْسَانًا ۚ إِمَّا يَبْلُغَنَّ عِنْدَكَ الْكِبَرَ أَحَدُهُمَا أَوْ كِلَاهُمَا فَلَا تَقُلْ لَهُمَا أُفٌ وَلَا تَنْهَرُهُمَا وَقُلْ لَهُمَا قَوْلًا كَرِيمًا *
وَاخْفِضْ لَهُمَا جَنَاحَ الذَّلِيلِ مِنَ الرَّحْمَةِ وَقُلْ رَبِّ ارْحَمْهُمَا كَمَا رَبَّيَانِي صَغِيرًا﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Amr ibn al-‘Āṣ ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “It is a major sin for a man to curse his parents.” [Those present] asked: “Messenger of Allah, does a man curse his parents?” He replied, “He may curse a man’s father and so the man curses his father [in return]; he may curse a man’s mother so he curses his mother [in return].”⁴

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Ibn ‘Umar ؓ report- ed: “I had a wife and I loved her, but [my father] ‘Umar ؓ disliked her. He told me: ‘Divorce her.’ I refused, and ‘Umar went to the Prophet ﷺ and told him about this. The Prophet ﷺ said: ‘Divorce her.’”⁵ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1978).

² At-Tirmidhī (1975) and Ibn Mājah (4185).

³ Qur’ān 17:23–24.

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (5973), Muslim (90), Abū Dāwūd (5141), and at-Tirmidhī (1903).

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (1583) and at-Tirmidhī (1189).

THE PROHIBITION OF LYING, AND AN EXPLANATION OF TYPES OF LIE

THE TEXT OF the Qur'ān and the Sunnah corroborate the view that lying is totally ḥarām and that it is one of the ugliest sins and the vilest defects. Those texts apart, there is general consensus in the Ummah that it is unlawful, and so there is no need to cite individual texts. It is only important to mention the exceptions and explain them in detail. The following hadiths, whose authenticity is agreed upon, are sufficient as a deterrent against [lying].

We relate in both of the Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The signs of a hypocrite are three: when he speaks he lies, when he promises he breaks his promise, and when he is given a trust he betrays it."¹

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-ʿĀṣ رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There are four traits which, if they are all present in a person, make him a complete hypocrite; and if there is any one of them in him, he possesses one of the traits of hypocrisy until he abandons it. If he is trusted he betrays, if he speaks he lies, if he makes a pact he breaks it, and if he argues he is abusive."²

The exceptions are as follows.

We have already related in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim, from Umm Kulthūm رضي الله عنها, that she reported that she heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "He is not a liar who makes peace between people by saying [something] favourable."³ That is all that there is in those two Ṣaḥīḥs. Muslim adds in a report of his that Umm Kulthūm said: "I did not hear him give a concession for the things people say except for three things," namely: war, making peace between people, and a man talking to his wife or a wife to her husband. This hadith explicitly permits some lying if there is benefit.

The 'ulamā' have defined what is allowed. The best definition that I have seen is that given by Imam Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, who says: "Speech is a means to ends, so in any praiseworthy objective that can be achieved either by truthfulness or by lying, lies are ḥarām because there is no need for them. If it can be achieved by lying but not by truth then it is permissible to lie, if the objective is permissible. It is wājib if the objective is wājib. So if a Muslim is hiding from a wrongdoer and someone is asked about him, it is wājib to lie in order to hide him. Likewise, if someone has a trust or deposits in his possession or someone else's and an oppressor asks about it, wanting to seize it, it is wājib to lie in order to conceal it, to the extent that if he informed him about the deposit he had and the wrongdoer took it by force, the person entrusted with the deposit who had divulged it would be obliged to stand surety for it. If [the wrongdoer] got him to swear an oath, it would be obligatory for him to swear an oath and to dissemble in his oath. If he swore an oath and did not dissemble, he would have violated the oath according to the soundest position, but some say that he would not have violated the oath.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (33), Muslim (59), at-Tirmidhī (2633), and an-Nasā'ī (8/117).

² Al-Bukhārī (34), Muslim (58), Abū Dāwūd (4688), at-Tirmidhī (2634), and an-Nasā'ī (8/116).

³ Al-Bukhārī (2692), Muslim (2605), Abū Dāwūd (4921) and at-Tirmidhī (1939).

"The same applies if the purpose is war, or to put things right between people, or to cause the heart of an injured person to incline to pardon the one who caused the injury, if that cannot be achieved by any other means than a lie, in which case lying is not ḥarām. This applies when it is impossible to achieve the goal except by lying."¹

The precautionary principle in all of this is that one dissemble, the meaning of which (tawriyah) is that one intend by one's expression an authentic meaning which is not a lie with regard to oneself even if it is a lie literally. However, if one does not intend this but uses an expression which is a lie, it is not ḥarām in the above-mentioned circumstances.

Abū Ḥamid al-Ghazālī said: "The same applies to anything that is linked with a valid intended objective, whether it be for oneself or someone else. As for that which is for oneself—for example, if a wrongdoer seizes one and interrogates one about one's wealth in order to seize it—then one has the right to deny it. Or if [for example] the ruler asks one about some indecent thing between one and Allah, exalted is He, that one has done then one has the right to deny it and to say: 'I have not committed adultery,' or 'I have not drunk [wine],' for example. The hadiths about prompting those who have confessed to [infringements of] the ḥudūd (limits of Sharī'ah) to retract their confessions are very well-known. An example of [permissible lying for the benefit of] someone else would be if one were asked about one's brother's secret but one denies [knowledge of] it, or suchlike. One ought to compare the harm done by lying to the harm consequent on telling the truth: if the harm caused by telling the truth is the greater, one has the right to tell a lie. If the opposite is the case, or one is unsure, then it is ḥarām to tell a lie. Whenever it is permissible to lie, if the factor that makes it permissible is some motive of one's own then it is mustaḥabb not to lie. Whenever it concerns someone else's interests, it is not permissible to be casual about another person's rights. The sound and prudent course is to refrain in every case in which it is permissible except when it is obligatory."²

Know that lying is defined by the Ahl as-Sunnah as giving information about a thing which is contrary to what or how it is, whether intentionally or out of ignorance. However, it is not a sin when done in ignorance; but it is a sin when done intentionally. The proof cited by our [Shāfi'i] colleagues is the qualification in the saying of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "Whoever deliberately invents a lie about me, let him prepare his place in Hell-Fire."³

¹ Iḥyā' ulūm ad-dīn (3:137).

² Iḥyā' ulūm ad-dīn (3:138).

³ Al-Bukhārī (1291) and Muslim (3). See an-Naẓm al-mutanāthir, by al-Kattānī, p. 20.

EXHORTATION TO BE CERTAIN OF WHAT ONE SAYS, AND PROHIBITION OF PASSING ON ALL THAT ONE HEARS

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And pursue not that of which you have no knowledge. Truly the hearing, the sight, and the heart shall all be questioned about."¹

﴿وَلَا تَقْفُ مَا لَيْسَ لَكَ بِهِ عِلْمٌ إِنَّ السَّمْعَ وَالْبَصَرَ
وَالْفُؤَادَ كُلُّ أُولَئِكَ كَانَ عَنْهُ مَسْئُولًا﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "Not a word does he utter but there is a Vigilant Guardian with him."²

﴿مَا يَلْفِظُ مِنْ قَوْلٍ إِلَّا لَدَيْهِ رَقِيبٌ عَتِيدٌ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Truly your Lord is [ever] on the watch."³

﴿إِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَبِالْمُرْصَادِ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from Ḥafṣ ibn 'Āṣim, the eminent Tābi'ī, that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "It is falsehood enough for a man to speak about everything that he hears."⁴

Muslim relates this by two routes, one of which is thus and the second of which is from Ḥafṣ ibn 'Āṣim from the Prophet ﷺ as a mursal without mentioning Abū Hurayrah; but the narration that establishes that it was Abū Hurayrah has preference, because increase in reliability is acceptable. This is the chosen sound position which the people of fiqh and uṣūl and the people of careful investigation among hadith scholars hold to: if a hadith is narrated by two routes, one of which is mursal and the other of which is connected back, the one that is connected back has priority, and the hadith is judged to be ṣaḥīḥ and it is valid to use it in proof in anything such as legal rulings and suchlike. And Allah knows best.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ said: "It is falsehood enough for a man to speak about everything that he hears".⁵ We also relate the like of this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim from 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ﷺ, and there are numerous traditions in this category.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Abū Mas'ūd ﷺ,

1 Qur'ān 17:36.

2 Qur'ān 50:18.

3 Qur'ān 89:14.

4 Muslim (5) and Abū Dāwūd (4992).

5 Muslim (5).

or Hudhayfah ibn al-Yamān ؓ, related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "What an evil mount for a man is: 'They claim. . .!'"¹

Imam Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī says, in a text which we relate from him in Ma'ālim as-Sunan: "The point of this hadith is that when a person desires to achieve some purpose or wants to travel to a land he rides his mount in order to reach his destination. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was comparing what a man says by way of introduction to what he has to say to this mount. People only say 'They claim' about things that have no chain of transmission and which are not established and are cited only for rhetorical purposes. The Prophet ﷺ criticised that way of narrating. He instructed that one should make certain about anything that one cites and make sure that it is reliable, and not relate it until it can be ascribed reliably." Those are the words of al-Khaṭṭābī. And Allah knows best.

334

INSINUATION AND DISSEMBLANCE

KNOW THAT THIS is one of the most important chapters because it is one those things employed a great deal which it has become a general necessity [to deal with], so we need to take the trouble to define it properly. Anyone who considers it ought to think about it and act by it. We have already mentioned the extreme unlawfulness of lying and the danger of giving the tongue free rein. This chapter [offers] a means of being safe from doing so.

Know that dissemblance and insinuation means saying something that has an obvious meaning, but by which you intend also another meaning similarly expressible, which is the opposite of the apparent one. This is a type of deception and trickery.

The 'ulamā' have declared that if some Sharī'ah-sanctioned interest demands that the person addressed be misled, or if there is a need which cannot be achieved except through lying, there is no harm in it. If that is not the case then it is makrūh but not ḥarām, except when it causes a person to accept a falsehood and deny the truth, in which case it becomes ḥarām. That is the general rule in this matter.

As for the texts that exist on the subject, there are those that permit [such insinuation] and those that prohibit it, and they need to be interpreted in detail, as we have explained. Those that prohibit it are as follows.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with an isnād in which there is some weakness but which Abū Dāwūd did not declare to be weak (which necessitates that it be ḥasan in his view, as we have explained before) that Sufyān ibn Asīd—with a fathah on the hamzah—ؓ reported: "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say, 'It is a grave

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4972).

betrayal to tell your brother something which he accepts from you as true although you are lying.”¹

And we relate from Ibn Sirīn, may Allah be merciful to him, that he said: “[The possibilities of] speech are too extensive for a cultivated person to [need to] lie.”

An example of permissible insinuation is the following, which an-Nakha‘ī, may Allah be merciful to him, said: “When something you said reaches a man, say: ‘Allah knows what of that I said,’ so that the listener imagines it to mean denial, but what you mean is: ‘Allah knows the thing I said.’”

An-Nakha‘ī also said: “Do not say to your son ‘Shall I buy you some sugar?’ Say instead, ‘What do you think if I were to buy you some sugar?’”

An-Nakha‘ī used to tell his maid when a man was asking for him: “Tell him, ‘Look for him in the mosque.’” Others said, “My father went out some time ago.”

Ash-Sha‘bī used to draw a circle and say to the maid: “Place your finger in it and say, ‘He is not here.’” Similar to this is what people customarily say to those who invite them to food: “I have an intention,” leading others to imagine that they are fasting, but meaning “I intend not to eat.” Similarly when asked “Have you seen So-and-so?” one might reply “I have not seen (ra’aytu) him,” meaning “I have not hit his lung (ri’ah).” There are many like these.

Even if someone swears an oath on this basis and dissembles in his oath he does not violate his oath. Whether he swears by Allah ﷻ, or on pain of divorce² or something else, neither divorce nor anything else should ensue. This applies provided that the Qāḍī has not made him take an oath because of an allegation or claim against him, in which case what is taken into account is the Qāḍī’s intention if he made him swear by Allah ﷻ. If he has made him swear upon pain of divorce, what is taken into account is the intention of the person swearing the oath, since it is not permissible for the Qāḍī to make him take an oath on pain of divorce, in which respect he [the Qāḍī] is like any other person. And Allah knows best.

Al-Ghazālī said: “One of the unlawful lies which necessarily make someone a deviant is the kind of exaggeration which has become customary, such as saying ‘I told you a hundred times,’ or ‘I looked for you a hundred times,’ because it is not said with the intention of stating the actual number of times but with a view to exaggeration. Thus, if he only looked for him once it is a lie; but if he did look for him an unusually large number of times then it is not a lie even if it did not amount to a hundred times. Between these two extremes there are varying degrees to which the person who exaggerates is exposed to the risk of lying.”³

I say that the proof that harmless exaggeration is permissible and is not considered a lie is [a hadith] which we relate in the two Ṣaḥīḥs: that the Prophet ﷺ said: “As for Abū Jahm, he never takes his staff off his shoulder; as for Mu‘āwiyah, he has no belongings.”¹ It is known that [the latter] had clothes to wear and [the former] put down his staff when he went to sleep and at other times. And Allah knows best.

¹ Abū Dāwūd (4971).

² That is to say, he takes an oath to divorce his wife if the truth of the matter about which he swears the oath is not as he claims.

³ Iḥyā’ ulūm ad-dīn (3:140).

335

WHAT TO DO IF ONE HAS SAID SOMETHING UGLY

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: “And if an incitement to discord is made to you by Shayṭān, seek refuge in Allah.”²

﴿وَأَمَّا يَنْزَغَنَّكَ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ نَزْغٌ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “Those who fear Allah, when assailed by an evil impulse from Shayṭān, remember Allah, and at once they can see.”³

﴿إِنَّ الَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا إِذَا مَسَّهُمْ طَائِفٌ مِّنَ الشَّيْطَانِ تَذَكَّرُوا فَإِذَا هُمْ مُبْصِرُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: “And those who, having committed an act of indecency or wronged themselves, remember Allah and ask forgiveness for their sins—and who can forgive sins except Allah?—and never persist knowingly in [the wrong] they have done. For such the reward is forgiveness from their Lord, and gardens with rivers flowing underneath—an eternal dwelling. How excellent a recompense for those who work!”⁴

﴿وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا فَعَلُوا فَحِشَةً أَوْ ظَلَمُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ ذَكَرُوا اللَّهَ فَاسْتَغْفَرُوا لِذُنُوبِهِمْ وَمَن يَغْفِرِ
الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَلَمْ يُصِرُّوا عَلَىٰ مَا فَعَلُوا وَهُمْ يَعْلَمُونَ * أُولَٰئِكَ جَزَاءُ وَهُمْ مَّغْفِرَةٌ مِّن
رَّبِّهِمْ وَجَنَّاتٌ تَجْرِي مِن تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا وَنِعْمَ أَجْرُ الْعَامِلِينَ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever swears an oath and says in his oath ‘By al-Lāt!’ or ‘By al-‘Uzzāl!’ should say ‘There is no god but Allah.’ And whoever says to his companion: ‘Come, let me gamble with you’ should give ṣadaqah.”⁵

Know that it is wājib for anyone who speaks or does something unlawful to hasten to repent. There are three basic elements in this: immediately desisting from the sin, ¹ This refers to Abū Jahm’s abhorrent trait of beating his wife. Al-Bukhārī (5321) and Muslim (1480).

² Qur’ān 41:36.

³ Qur’ān 7:201.

⁴ Qur’ān 3:135–136.

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (4860) and Muslim (1647).

feeling remorse at having done it, and resolving never to return to it. If the rights of a person have been infringed through his act of disobedience, there is a fourth condition which is wājib besides those three: to return whatever has been taken unjustly to its owner, or to be absolved by the latter. This has already been explained. When a person repents of a sin, he ought to repent of all sins. If he confines himself to repenting of one sin, his repentance for it will be valid. If he makes valid repentance for a sin but then he repeats the sin another time, he is guilty of the second offence and it is wājib for him to repent of it, although it does not nullify his repentance for the earlier [sin]. That is the position of the Ahl as-Sunnah, which is contradictory to the view of the Mu'tazilah. And success is by Allah.

336

WORDS WHICH SOME OF THE 'ULAMĀ' SAY
ARE MAKRŪH BUT WHICH ARE NOT

THIS CHAPTER IS necessary so that one may not be deceived by false statements and rely on them.

Know that the rulings of the Sharī'ah—which fall into five categories: wājib (obligatory), Sunnah, ḥarām (unlawful), makrūh (disapproved of), and mubāḥ (permissible)—are only established on the basis of evidence. The evidences of the Sharī'ah are well-known. Anything that has no evidence is not taken into consideration and does not need a reply since it is not authoritative proof; so one should not occupy oneself in replying to it. Despite this, the 'ulamā' have undertaken to cite evidence of the falsehood of [such rulings]. My purpose in this introduction is that when I state that a person said something was makrūh and I then say 'It is not makrūh', 'This is false' etc., there is no need to furnish proof of invalidity; if I mention it I will be doing so voluntarily. I have appended this chapter in order to distinguish error from truth, so that one may not be misled by the high standing of those to whom such false statements are attributed.

Note that I shall not name those who claim that these words are makrūh, so that their high standing may not be impaired or evil thought of them. It is not my purpose to impugn them. The intention is only to warn about the incorrect rulings that have been conveyed from them, whether or not these have been correctly attributed to them. If they have been conveyed from them correctly then it does not impugn their high standing, as is well-known. Some of them I ascribe to a valid motive, and so what the person said may be open to interpretation so that others may investigate it. Again, it is possible that his view is contrary to my view and his view may be supported by the ruling of the aforementioned imam to reach this ruling. And success is by Allah.

One example is Imam Abū Ja'far an-Naḥḥās's statement, in his book Sharḥ Asmā' Allāh, that one of the 'ulamā' held that it is makrūh to say "Allah has given charity to you," because, he said, "Those who give charity hope for reward". I say that this ruling is a manifest error and obnoxious ignorance and the mode of reasoning is very seriously corrupt.

It is recorded in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ observed about shortening the ṣalāh [when travelling]: "It is charity that Allah has given to you, so accept His charity."¹

There is also the statement cited by Imam Abū Ja'far an-Naḥḥās from the same person, that it is makrūh to say, "O Allah, free² me from Hell-Fire." He said: "Only those who seek reward set [a slave] free." I say: "This claim and proof is a most obnoxious error and the lowest form of ignorance of the rulings of the Shari'ah. If I had to cite all the authentic hadiths that are explicit about Allah setting free those whom He wishes of His Creation, this book would become long and tedious. Examples are the hadith, 'Whoever sets free a slave, Allah ﷻ sets free a limb of his from Hell for every limb of [the slave];'³ and the hadith, "There is no day that Allah ﷻ sets free more [of His] slaves from Hell-Fire than the Day of 'Arafah."⁴

REFUTATION OF WHAT PEOPLE SAY THAT IT IS MAKRŪH TO SAY, 'DO THIS OVER THE NAME OF ALLAH'

There is also the saying of one [of the 'ulamā'] that it is makrūh to say, "Do this over the Name of Allah," because the Name of Allah is over everything. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ and others say that this ruling is an error, for it is reliably recorded in authentic hadiths that the Prophet ﷺ told his Companions: "Slaughter [animals] over the Name of Allah:"⁵ that is, "saying 'In the Name of Allah'."

REFUTATION OF WHAT IS CITED AS BEING MAKRŪH TO SAY: 'MAY ALLAH UNITE US IN THE ABODE OF HIS MERCY'

Also relevant is what an-Naḥḥās related from Abū Bakr Muḥammad ibn Yaḥyā—a jurist, man of letters and scholar—who said, "Do not say 'May Allah join us together in the abode of His mercy', because the mercy of Allah is too vast to have an abode". He also said, "Do not say 'have mercy on us by Your mercy.'" I say that we do not know of any proof of what he said about these two expressions and there is no evidence to justify what he said, because what the person who spoke about 'the abode of Mercy' meant was Paradise, meaning 'May He unite us in Paradise, which is the abode of permanence, and the abode of sojourn, and the place of settledness'. Those

¹ Muslim (686), Abū Dāwūd (1199), at-Tirmidhī (3037), and an-Nasā'ī (3/116).

² A 'taqa means 'to liberate', in the sense of setting a slave free.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6715) and Muslim (1509).

⁴ Muslim (1348) and an-Nasā'ī (5/251–252).

⁵ Muslim (1960).

who enter it will only do so by the mercy of Allah. Moreover, those who enter will remain there forever, safe from any worries and misfortunes. This can only be gained by the mercy of Allah: it is as though one were to say, 'unite us in an abode which we gain by Your mercy'.

REFUTATION OF THE ARGUMENTS THAT IT IS MAKRŪH
TO SAY: 'O ALLAH, RESCUE US FROM HELL-FIRE. O ALLAH, GRANT US THE INTERCESSION OF THE PROPHET ﷺ'

An-Naḥḥās related that the aforementioned Abū Bakr said: "One should not say 'O Allah, rescue us from Hell-Fire!' nor should one say 'O Allah, provide us with the intercession of the Prophet ﷺ,' because he will only intercede for those who had been doomed to Hell-Fire."

I say that this is vile error and manifest ignorance. Were it not for the danger of people being deceived by these words and the fact that they are mentioned in books, I would not have dared to speak about it. How many hadiths are there in the Ṣaḥīḥ [collections] that hearten the true believers by promising them the intercession of the Prophet ﷺ? Such as his ﷺ saying: "Whoever repeats what the mu'adhdhin says, my intercession is lawful for him,"¹ and so on.

The jurist Imam al-Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Faḍl 'Iyād, may Allah have mercy on him, spoke well when he said: "The salaf asking for the intercession of our Prophet ﷺ, as well as their eagerness for it, is known from extensive transmitted sources." He continued: "On this basis, one does not pay attention to the disapproval of whoever said that to be makrūh because it is only for wrongdoers. For it is recorded reliably in hadiths in Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim and elsewhere that that intercession will also be made for people who shall [then] enter Paradise without being taken to account, as well as for others in order to raise their high rank in Paradise." He further said: "Every intelligent person is aware of his shortcomings and that he is in need of pardon, fearful that he may be among those doomed; but the person who made this ruling is necessarily obliged not to pray for forgiveness and mercy, as both are only for sinners. And this goes against what we know of the du'ās of the salaf and the khalaf (the pious early Muslims, and those who followed them)."²

REFUTATION OF THE ALLEGATION THAT IT IS MAKRŪH
TO SAY: 'I RELY ON MY LORD, THE GENEROUS LORD'

Another of them is what an-Naḥḥās narrated from the aforementioned: "Do not say 'I rely on my Lord, the Generous Lord.' Say 'I rely on my Generous Lord.' I say that there is no basis for what he said.

¹ Muslim (385).

² Ikmāl al-mu'lim (1:566).

REFUTATION OF THE ALLEGATION THAT IT IS MAKRŪH
TO CALL THE ṬAWĀF OF THE HOUSE [OF ALLAH]
A 'CIRCUIT' OR A 'CIRCUMAMBULATION'

Another example of these is that it is cited of a group of scholars are cited as having disapproved of calling the ṭawāf around the Ka'bah a shawṭ (circuit) or dawr (circumambulation), and held that what should be said if it is once around [the Ka'bah] is ṭawfah and if two then ṭawfatān, three ṭawfāt and if seven times ṭawāf.

I say that we know of no basis for what they said. Perhaps they disliked these usages because they were terms used in the times before Islam. The correct and preferred opinion is that there is nothing disliked about it, for we relate from the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Abbās ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ؐ instructed [the Companions] to walk briskly in three circuits (ashwāt), and nothing prevented him from instructing them to walk briskly in all of the circuits except solicitous concern for them."¹

THE RULING ON SAYING 'WE FASTED RAMAḌĀN',
'RAMAḌĀN HAS COME,' AND SUCHLIKE

Further examples are the phrases 'we fasted Ramaḍān', 'Ramaḍān has come,' and similar phrases, if one means the month itself.

There is disagreement over whether it is disliked or not. A group of early scholars considered it disliked to say merely 'Ramaḍān', without calling it a 'month'. This was related from al-Ḥasan al-Baṣrī and Mujāhid. According to al-Bayhaqī, the chains of transmission for both of them are weak. The position of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues is that it is disliked to say 'Ramaḍān has come,' or 'Ramaḍān has entered,' or 'Ramaḍān is present,' and so on, without any accompanying indication that it is the month; but if indication is made, it is not disliked. One may say "I have fasted Ramaḍān," "I prayed [throughout] Ramaḍān," "Fasting is obligatory in Ramaḍān," "the blessed month of Ramaḍān has come," and suchlike. That is what our colleagues say, as do two Imams who also transmitted it: the most judicious of judges Abū al-Ḥasan al-Māwardī, in his Kitāb al-Ḥāwī, and Abū Naṣr Ibn aṣ-Ṣabbāgh in his ash-Shāmil. Others of our colleagues have also transmitted this from the Companions without qualification, relying for proof on the following.

We relate in the Sunan of al-Bayhaqī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ said: "Do not say 'Ramaḍān', for Ramaḍān is one of the names of Allah ؑ. Say, 'the month of Ramaḍān'."² This hadith is weak; al-Bayhaqī himself considered it weak and its weakness is manifest. No one has mentioned Ramaḍān as being one of the Names of Allah in all of the numerous works compiled on it.

The most correct view—though Allah knows best—is that which Imam Abū 'Abdullāh al-Bukhārī held to in his Ṣaḥīḥ, as well as more than one of the 'ulamā' who investigate thoroughly, that there is absolutely no disapproval [of saying 'Ramaḍān' without saying 'month'] however one says it. This is because disapproval can only be determined by the law, and nothing is reliably established about it; on the contrary, its permissibility is reliably established in hadiths, and the hadiths about it in the two Ṣaḥīḥs and other sources are too numerous to count. If I were to collect them together I would hope to have hundreds of narrations. However, the point will be more than established by citing one hadith which will suffice in place of all the others.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (1602) and Muslim (1266).

² Al-Bayhaqī (4:201).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim from Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه, that the Messenger of Allah said: "When Ramaḍān comes, the doors of Paradise open, the doors of Hell are closed and Shayṭāns are chained up".¹

Some of the versions in the two Ṣaḥīḥs read, "When Ramaḍān enters. . ."²

One version in Muslim states: "When Ramaḍān was. . ."³

In the Ṣaḥīḥ it states: "Do not anticipate Ramaḍān [with fasting]. . ."⁴

The Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī states: "Islam is built upon five pillars . . . fasting in Ramaḍān."⁵

The likes of these are many and are very well-known.

REFUTATION OF THE ALLEGED DISAPPROVAL OF SAYING 'SŪRAT AL-BAQARAH', ETC.

It is transmitted from the earlier generations that it is disapproved to call [chapters of the Qur'ān] 'Sūrat al-Baqarah', 'Sūrat an-Nisā', 'Sūrat ad-Dukhān', or 'al-Ankabūt', 'ar-Rūm', 'al-Aḥzāb' and so on.

They contend that one should say "the Sūrah that has Baqarah mentioned in it" or "the Sūrah that has an-Nisā' mentioned in it", and so on.

I say that this is wrong and contrary to the Sunnah. The use [of such names for Sūrahs] has been reliably recorded in innumerable places, as in his saying رضي الله عنه: "The last two verses of Sūrat al-Baqarah—whoever recites them at night, they will suffice him." This hadith is in both Ṣaḥīḥ collections.⁶

Examples abound and are innumerable.

REFUTATION OF ALLEGATIONS THAT IT IS MAKRŪH TO SAY, 'ALLAH SAYS IN HIS BOOK. . .'

An example is reported from Muṭarrif, may Allah have mercy on him, that he disapproved of saying "Allah الله says in His Book. . .". According to him one ought to

1 Al-Bukhārī (1898) and Muslim (1079).

2 Al-Bukhārī (3277) and Muslim (2:1079).

3 Muslim (2:1079).

4 Al-Bukhārī includes this hadith as a ta'liq in Fasting, in the chapter "Can one say 'Ramaḍān?'" and there is something similar in (1914), and in Muslim (1082).

5 Al-Bukhārī (8) and Muslim (16:20).

6 Al-Bukhārī (4008) and Muslim (807).

say "Allah ﷻ said. . . ." It appears that he disapproved of this because "Allah says" is muḍāri', which necessitates that it be in the present or future tense, whereas Allah's ﷻ word is His Speech and it is eternal.

I say that this view is unacceptable. This usage is established in ṣaḥīḥ hadiths, in many ways. I have alluded to these in *Sharḥ Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim*¹ and my book Ādāb al-qurrā'.² Allah Most High has said in the Qur'ān, "And Allah speaks the truth".³

﴿وَاللَّهُ يَقُولُ الْحَقَّ﴾

And in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim it is [stated] that Abū Dharr ﷺ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ says:⁴ 'Whoever produces a good action shall have a ten-fold reward.'"⁵

﴿مَنْ جَاءَ بِالْحَسَنَةِ فَلَهُ عَشْرُ أَمْثَالِهَا﴾

In the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī there is [a hadith] commenting on the verse "you will not attain piety until you spend. . .". Abū Ṭalhah said: "O Messenger of Allah, Allah says:⁶ 'You will not attain piety until you spend'".⁷⁸

﴿لَنْ تَنَالُوا الْبِرَّ حَتَّى تُنْفِقُوا...﴾

337

SUPPLICATIONS (DA'AWĀT) WHICH ARE MUSTAḤABB AT ALL TIMES

KNOW THAT [THE subject matter of] this chapter is very extensive, and it is not possible to penetrate it deeply, or to fully grasp even one-tenth of it; but I shall allude to the most important of its sources.

The first of these da'awāt are those mentioned in the Qur'ān, of which Allah ﷻ has informed us from His Prophets, blessings and peace be upon them, and from the best people; these are numerous and very well known.

¹ Sharḥ Ṣaḥīḥ Muslim (7:84).

² Ādāb al-qurrā' (153).

³ Qur'ān (33:4). This expression is in the muḍāri' tense.

⁴ "Says" is in the muḍāri'.

⁵ Qur'ān (6:160).

⁶ "Says" is in the muḍāri'.

⁷ Qur'ān (3:92).

⁸ Al-Bukhārī (4554).

Besides those there are what are authentically transmitted as having been employed by the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, or those he taught to others. There are very many in this category, a number of which have been mentioned in the previous chapters. Here I will mention ṣaḥīḥ ones, as well as the du'ā's found in the Qur'ān and those quoted above. And all success is by Allah.

We relate, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, from the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, and Ibn Mājah that al-Nu'mān ibn Bashīr ؓ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "Supplication is worship itself."¹ According to at-Tirmidhī this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a sound isnād, that 'Ā'ishah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to regard comprehensive du'ā as mustaḥabb and leave out anything else.²

We relate in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: "There is nothing more noble in the sight of Allah than du'ā."³

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever is pleased for Allah ﷻ to answer his prayers in times of difficulty and hardship should say du'ā' abundantly in times of ease."⁴

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Anas ؓ reported that the du'ā' that the Prophet ﷺ most often said was: "O Allah,⁵ grant us good in this world and in the Hereafter, and protect us from the punishment of Hell-Fire."⁶

اللَّهُمَّ آتِنَا فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ حَسَنَةً وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ

Allāhumma ātinā fi-d-dunyā ḥasanatan wa fi-l-ākhirati ḥasanatan wa qinā 'adhāba-n-Nār.

Muslim added in his narration: "He said, 'And whenever Anas wanted to supplicate with a single supplication he would supplicate with it and when he wanted to supplicate with a [longer] du'ā' he would include this one in it.'"

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn Mas'ūd reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I ask You for guidance, godliness, modesty and prosperity."⁷

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْهُدَى وَالتُّقَى وَالْعَفَافَ وَالْغِنَى

Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-hudā wa-t-tuqā wa-l-'afāfa wa-l-ghinā.

1 Abū Dāwūd (1479), al-Futūḥāt (7/191), and at-Tirmidhī (3244), who states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. As-Sakhāwī grades it as ḥasan.

2 Abū Dāwūd (1428) and al-Futūḥāt (7/192). As-Sakhāwī grades it as ḥasan.

3 Ibn Mājah (3829) and at-Tirmidhī (3367), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb. As-Sakhāwī grades it as ḥasan gharīb thanks to its supporting narrations.

4 At-Tirmidhī (3379), who states that this hadith is gharīb. There are, however, narrations which support it, such as the one reported by al-Hākim (1/544), who grades it as ṣaḥīḥ; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

5 In the Qur'ān this du'ā' begins Rabbānā ('Our Lord'), rather than Allāhumma ('O Allah').

6 See Qur'ān (2:201). Al-Bukhārī (6389), Muslim (2690), and Abū Dāwūd (1519).

7 Muslim (2721) and at-Tirmidhī (3484).

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ṭāriq ibn Ashyam al-Ashja'i, a Companion, narrated that when a man embraced Islam the Prophet ﷺ taught him the ṣalāh and instructed him to supplicate with these words: "O Allah, forgive me, have mercy on me, guide me, grant me health, and sustain me."

اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَارْحَمْنِي وَاهْدِنِي وَعَافِنِي وَارْزُقْنِي.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa-rḥamnī wa-hdinī wa-āfinī wa-rzuqnī.

According to another report by Muslim, Ṭāriq related that he heard a man ask the Prophet ﷺ: "What should I say when I supplicate to my Lord?" He replied: "Say: O Allah, forgive me, have mercy on me, grant me health, and sustain me; for these will suffice for your worldly life and your life in the Hereafter."¹ اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَارْحَمْنِي، وَعَافِنِي وَارْزُقْنِي.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa-rḥamnī, wa-āfinī wa-rzuqnī.

We also relate from the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "O Allah, Turner of hearts, turn our hearts to You in obedience."² اللَّهُمَّ يَا مُصَرِّفَ الْقُلُوبِ صَرِّفْ قُلُوبَنَا عَلَى طَاعَتِكَ.

Allāhumma yā Muṣarrifa-l-qulūb, ṣarrif qulūbanā 'alā ṭā'atik.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah reported that Allah's Messenger ﷺ said: "Seek refuge with Allah from the hardship of tribulation, the befalling of misfortune, evil destiny, and the glee of enemies."³

[اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ] مِنْ جَهْدِ الْبَلَاءِ، وَمِنْ دَرَكِ الشَّقَاءِ،

وَمِنْ سُوءِ الْقَضَاءِ، وَمِنْ شِمَاتَةِ الْأَعْدَاءِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min jahdi-l-balā', wa min daraki-sh-shaqā', wa min sū'i-l-qadā', wa min shamātati-l-a'dā'.

According to a narration from Sufyān he said: "There are three [misfortunes that were originally mentioned] in the hadith, and I have added one; but I do not know which it is."

We relate in the same Ṣaḥīḥs that Anas reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from feebleness and laziness, and from cowardice, old age and avarice; I seek Your protection from punishment in the grave, and I seek Your protection from the trials of life and death."⁴

¹ Muslim (2697, 34, 36).

² Muslim (2654), with a slight variant in the wording.

³ Al-Bukhārī (6616), Muslim (2707), and an-Nasā'ī (8/269-270).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (6367), Muslim (2706), Abū Dāwūd (1540), at-Tirmidhī (3481), and an-Nasā'ī (8/257-258).

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْعَجْزِ وَالْكَسَلِ، وَالْجُبْنِ وَالْهَرَمِ وَالْبُخْلِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ الْمَحْيَا وَالْمَمَاتِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min al-'ajzi wa-l-kasal, wa-l-jubni wa-l-harami wa-l-bukhl, wa a'ūdhu bika min 'adhābi-l-qabr, wa a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-l-mahyā wa-l-mamāt.

Another narration adds: "...and the burden of debt and being overpowered by men."

...وَضَلْعِ الدَّيْنِ، وَغَلَبَةِ الرِّجَالِ.

*Wa ḍala'i-d-dayn, wa ghalabati-r-rijāl.*¹

I say that ḍala'i-d-dayn, 'the burden of debt', means its serious nature and the heaviness of carrying it, and al-mahyā wa-l-mamāt means 'life and death'.

We relate again from the same Ṣaḥīḥs that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Amr ibn al-Āṣ narrated that Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq رضي الله عنه related that he said to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "Teach me a du'ā to supplicate with in my ṣalāh." He replied: "Say: O Allah, I have done my soul much harm and no one forgives sins but You, so grant me Your forgiveness and have mercy on me. You are the Most Forgiving, the Most Merciful."²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي ظَلَمْتُ نَفْسِي ظُلْمًا كَثِيرًا، وَلَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ فَاعْفِرْ
لِي مَغْفِرَةً مِنْ عِنْدِكَ، وَارْحَمْنِي، إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Allāhumma innī ḡalamtu nafsī ḡulman kathīrā, wa lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant, fa-ghfir lī maghfiratan min 'indika wa-rḥamnī, innaka Anta-l-Ghafūru-r-Raḥīm.

I say that [this hadith] is related with either kathīran 'much' with a thā' or kabīran 'great [harm]' with a bā', as we have already explained in the chapter on the adḥkār of the ṣalāh. So it is mustaḥabb when making supplication to say kathīran kabīran 'much great [harm]', thus combining the two. Although this du'ā is narrated with respect to the ṣalāh it is a good and precious ṣaḥīḥ [narration] and is mustaḥabb in every place on any occasion. One narration reads, "[in my ṣalāh] and in my house".³

We relate in both Ṣaḥīḥs that Abū Mūsā al-Ash'arī رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to supplicate with this du'ā: "O Allah, forgive me my sins, my ignorance, my excesses in my affairs, and that which You know better than I. O Allah, forgive me those sins which I committed seriously or in jest, by mistake or deliberately, and all of that [is my fault]. O Allah, forgive me my past and future sins, those I have committed in secret or in public, and that which You know better than I. You are the Bringer Forward and the Sender Back, and You have power over all things.”¹ اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي خَطِيئَتِي وَجَهْلِي وَإِسْرَافِي فِي أَمْرِي، وَمَا أَنْتَ أَعْلَمُ بِهِ مِنِّي، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي جِدِّي وَهَزْلِي، وَخَطِيئِي وَعَمْدِي، وَكُلَّ ذَلِكَ عِنْدِي، اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي مَا قَدَّمْتُ وَمَا أَخَّرْتُ، وَمَا أَسْرَرْتُ وَمَا أَعْلَنْتُ، وَمَا أَنْتَ أَعْلَمُ بِهِ مِنِّي، أَنْتَ الْمُقَدِّمُ وَأَنْتَ الْمُؤَخِّرُ، وَأَنْتَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (2893).

² Al-Bukhārī (834), Muslim (2705), at-Tirmidhī (3521), and an-Nasā'ī (3/53).

³ The Ṣaḥīḥ of Ibn Khuzaymah (2705), as-Sunan al-kubrā of an-Nasā'ī (9936), Abū Ya'lā (32), and Ibn as-Sunnī (159).

Allāhumma-ghfir li khaṭī'atī wa jahlī wa isrāfī fī amrī, wa mā Anta a'lamu bihi minnī. Allāhumma-ghfir li jiddī wa hazlī, wa khaṭa'i wa 'amdī, wa kullu dhālika 'indī. Allāhumma-ghfir li mā qaddamtu wa mā akhkhart, wa mā asrartu wa mā a'lant, wa mā Anta a'lamu bihi minnī. Anta-l-Muqaddimu wa Anta-l-Mu'akhkhir, wa Anta 'alā kulli shay'in qadīr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say in his du'ā': "O Allah, I seek Your protection from the evil of that which I have done and the evil of that which I have not done."² اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا عَمِلْتُ وَشَرِّ مَا لَمْ أَعْمَلْ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min sharri mā 'amiltu wa sharri mā lam a'mal.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Ibn 'Umar ؓ narrated: "One of the du'ā's of Allah's Messenger ﷺ was: 'O Allah, I seek Your protection from the cessation of Your bounty, from the transformation of the well-being You grant, from Your sudden vengeance, and from all that occasions Your displeasure.'"³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ زَوَالِ نِعْمَتِكَ، وَتَحَوُّلِ عَافِيَتِكَ، وَفَجَاءَةِ نِقْمَتِكَ، وَجَمِيعِ سَخَطِكَ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min zawālī ni'matik, wa taḥawwulī 'āfiyatik, wa faj'ati niqmatik, wa jamī'i sakhaṭik.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Zayd ibn Arqam ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from feebleness and laziness, from cowardice and avarice, from senility, and from punishment in the grave. O Allah, grant my soul its godliness and purify it, for You are the best of those who purify it. You are its Guardian and its Master. O Allah, I seek Your protection from knowledge

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6398) and Muslim (2719).

² Muslim (2716), Abū Dāwūd (1550), and an-Nasā'ī (3/56).

³ Muslim (2739) and Abū Dāwūd (1545).

that does not benefit, from a heart that is not utterly humble, from a self that is insatiable, and from supplications that are not accepted.”¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْعَجْزِ وَالْكَسَلِ، وَالْجُبْنِ وَالْبُخْلِ، وَالْهَرَمِ
وَعَذَابِ الْقَبْرِ، اللَّهُمَّ آتِ نَفْسِي تَقْوَاهَا، وَزَكَّاهَا، أَنْتَ خَيْرُ مَنْ زَكَّاهَا،
أَنْتَ وَلِيِّهَا وَمَوْلَاهَا، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ عِلْمٍ لَا يَنْفَعُ، وَمِنْ قَلْبٍ
لَا يَخْشَعُ، وَمِنْ نَفْسٍ لَا تَشْبَعُ، وَمِنْ دَعْوَةٍ لَا يُسْتَجَابُ لَهَا.

Allāhumma innī a‘ūdhu bika mina-l-‘ajzi wa-l-kasal, wa-l-jubni wa-l-bukhl, wa-l-harami wa ‘adhābi-l-qabr. Allāhumma āti nafsī taqwāhā wa zakkīhā. Anta Khayru man zakkāhā, Anta Waliyyuhā wa Mawlāhā. Allāhumma innī a‘ūdhu bika min ‘ilmin lā yanfa‘, wa min qalbin lā yakhsha‘, wa min nafsīn lā tashba‘, wa min da‘watin lā yustajābu lahā.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that ‘Alī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “O Allah, guide me and rectify me.”

اللَّهُمَّ اهْدِنِي وَسَدِّدْنِي.

Allāhumma-hdinī wa saddidnī.

According to another report he said: “O Allah, I ask You for guidance and rectitude.”² اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ الْهُدَى وَالسَّادَ.

Allāhumma innī as‘aluka-l-hudā wa-s-sadād.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Sa‘d ibn Abī Waqqāṣ ؓ narrated that a Bedouin came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: “Teach me something that I can say.” He ﷺ replied: “Say: ‘There is no god but Allah, One without partner. Allah is incomparably greatest and abundant praise is due to Allah. Glory be to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds. There is no power or strength except by Allah, the All-Mighty, the All-Wise.’” He said: “Those are for my Lord; what is there for me?” He said: “O Allah, forgive me, have mercy on me, guide me, sustain me, and grant me health and well-being.”³ The narrator had some doubt about “And grant me health and well-being.”

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَحْدَهُ لَا شَرِيكَ لَهُ، اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ كَبِيرًا، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ كَثِيرًا،
سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ، لَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ الْعَزِيزِ الْحَكِيمِ.
اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَارْحَمْنِي وَاهْدِنِي وَارْزُقْنِي وَعَافِنِي.

¹ Muslim (2732), at-Tirmidhī (3567), and an-Nasā‘ī (8/260).

² Muslim (2725).

³ Muslim (2696).

Lā ilāha illa-llāhu waḥdahu lā sharīka lah, Allāhu akbaru kabīrā, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi kathīrā, Subḥāna-llāhi Rabbi-l-‘ālamīn. Lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāhi-l-‘Azīzi-l-Ḥakīm.

Allāhumma-ghfir li wa-rḥamni wa-hdinī wa-rzuqnī wa ‘āfinī.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, put right for me my religion, which is the preservation of my affairs; put right for me my worldly life, in which is my existence; put right for me my Hereafter, to which is my return; make life an increase for me in every good; and make death for me a release from every evil."¹

اللَّهُمَّ اصْلِحْ لِي دِينِي الَّذِي هُوَ عِصْمَةُ أَمْرِي، وَاصْلِحْ لِي دُنْيَايَ الَّتِي
فِيهَا مَعَاشِي، وَاصْلِحْ لِي آخِرَتِي الَّتِي فِيهَا مَعَادِي، وَاجْعَلِ الْحَيَاةَ
زِيَادَةً لِي فِي كُلِّ خَيْرٍ، وَاجْعَلِ الْمَوْتَ رَاحَةً لِي مِنْ كُلِّ شَرٍّ.

Allāhumma aṣliḥ li dīni-lladhī huwa ‘iṣmatu amrī, wa aṣliḥ li dunyāya-llatī fihā ma‘āshī, wa aṣliḥ li ākhirati-llatī fihā ma‘ādī, wa-j‘ali-l-ḥayāta ziyādatan li fī kulli khayr, wa-j‘ali-l-mawta rāḥatan li min kulli sharr.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, unto You I surrender myself, in You I believe, in You I put my trust, to You I turn in repentance, and with Your help I dispute. O Allah, I seek refuge by Your power—there is no god but You—lest You lead me astray. You are the Ever-Living Who does not die, while jinn and mankind do."²

اللَّهُمَّ لَكَ أَسْلَمْتُ، وَبِكَ آمَنْتُ، وَعَلَيْكَ تَوَكَّلْتُ، وَإِلَيْكَ أُنَبْتُ، وَبِكَ
خَاصَمْتُ، اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِعِزَّتِكَ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ أَنْ تُضِلَّنِي،
أَنْتَ الْحَيُّ الَّذِي لَا يَمُوتُ، وَالْجَنُّ وَالْإِنْسَانُ يَمُوتُونَ.

Allāhumma laka aslamt, wa bika āmant, wa ‘alayka tawakkalt, wa ilayka anabt, wa bika khāṣamt. Allāhumma innī a‘ūdhu bi-‘izzatika—lā ilāha illā Anta—an tuḍillanī. Anta-l-Ḥayyu-lladhī lā yamūt, wa-l-jinnu wa-l-insānu yamūtūn.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā’ī and Ibn Mājah that Buraydah رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ heard a man say: "O Allah, I ask You because I bear witness that You are Allah, there is no god but You, the One, the Unique, the One Who does not beget and is not begotten and to Whom no-one is equivalent." He ﷺ said: "You have asked of Allah ﷻ by the name which, if asked by it, He gives, and if implored by it, He responds and accepts."³

¹ Muslim (2720).

² Al-Bukhārī (7383) and Muslim (2717).

³ Abū Dāwūd (1493), Ibn Mājah (2857), al-Futūḥāt (7/211), at-Tirmidhī (3471), and al-Ḥakīm (1/504).

According to another report he said: "You have asked Allah by His Greatest Name." According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a hasan hadith.¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ بِأَنِّي أَشْهَدُ أَنَّكَ أَنْتَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ الْأَحَدُ
الصَّمَدُ، الَّذِي لَمْ يَلِدْ وَلَمْ يُولَدْ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ كُفُوًا أَحَدٌ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka bi-annī ashhadu annaka Anta-llāhu lā ilāha illā Anta-l-Aḥadu-ṣ-Ṣamad, alladhī lam yalid wa lam yūlad wa lam yaku-l-lahu kufuwan aḥad.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī that Anas ؓ reported that he was sitting with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ while a man was performing ṣalāh, then supplicated, saying: "O Allah, I ask You because to You belongs all praise. There is no god but You, the Benefactor, Originator of the heavens and the earth. O Owner of Majesty and Honour, O Living, O Self-Subsisting." The Prophet ﷺ then commented: "He has supplicated to Allah ﷻ by His Supreme Name; if called on [by it], He responds; and if asked [by it], He gives."²

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ بِأَنَّ لَكَ الْحَمْدَ، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ الْمَنَّانُ، بَدِيعُ
السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ، يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ، يَا حَيُّ يَا قَيُّوْمُ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka bi-anna laka-l-ḥamd, lā ilāha illā Anta-l-Mannān, Badī'u-s-samāwāti wa-l-arḍ, yā Dha-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrām, yā Hayyu yā Qayyūm.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī, an-Nasā'ī and Ibn Mājah, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that 'Ā'ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to supplicate with these words: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from the trials of Hell-Fire, the punishment of Hell-Fire, and the evil of riches and poverty."³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ فِتْنَةِ النَّارِ وَعَذَابِ النَّارِ، وَمِنْ شَرِّ الْغِنَى وَالْفَقْرِ.

*Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min fitnati-n-Nāri wa
'adhābi-n-Nār, wa min sharri-l-ghinā wa-l-faqr.*

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī from Ziyād ibn 'Ilāqah from his paternal uncle, whose name was Quṭbah ibn Mālik ؓ, who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I seek Your protection from abhorrent qualities of character, deeds and caprices."⁴ At-Tirmidhī states that this is a hasan hadith.

who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees. As-Sakhāwī grades it as hasan.

1 Abū Dāwūd (1494) and at-Tirmidhī (3475).

2 Abū Dāwūd (1495), at-Tirmidhī (3538), Ibn Mājah (3858), an-Nasā'ī (3/52), and al-Ḥākim (1/503–504), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees. As-Sakhāwī grades it as hasan.

3 Abū Dāwūd (880), at-Tirmidhī (3489), an-Nasā'ī (8/278) al-Futūḥāt (7/214), and Ibn Mājah (3838). As-Sakhāwī mentions that this supplication contains wording from a ṣaḥīḥ hadith found in the books of al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

4 At-Tirmidhī (3585) and al-Futūḥāt (7/214). As-Sakhāwī grades this hadith as hasan.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ مُنْكَرَاتِ الْأَخْلَاقِ وَالْأَعْمَالِ وَالْأَهْوَاءِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min munkarāti-l-akhlāqi wa-l-a'māli wa-l-ahwā'.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī that Shakal ibn Ḥumayd ؓ—which is written with a fathah on the shīn and the kāf—said: “Messenger of Allah, teach me a du'ā.” He replied: “Say: O Allah, I seek Your protection from the evil of my hearing, the evil of my sight, the evil of my tongue, the evil of my heart, and the evil of my sperm.”² According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ سَمْعِي، وَمِنْ شَرِّ بَصَرِي، وَمِنْ

شَرِّ لِسَانِي، وَمِنْ شَرِّ قَلْبِي، وَمِنْ شَرِّ مَنِيِّي.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika min sharri sam'ī, wa min sharri baṣarī, wa min sharri lisānī, wa min sharri qalbī, wa min sharri maniyyī.

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Anas ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ؐ used to say: “O Allah, I seek Your protection from vitiligo, insanity, leprosy, and [all] severe illness.”³ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْبَرَصِ وَالْجُنُونِ وَالْجُذَامِ وَسَيِّئِ الْأَسْقَامِ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika mina-l-baraṣi wa-l-junūni wa-l-judhāmi wa sayyi'ī-l-asqām.

We also relate from them both that Abū al-Yasar, the Companion ؓ—written with a fathah on the yā' and the sīn—reported that the Messenger of Allah ؐ used to supplicate saying: “O Allah, I seek refuge with You from destruction, from a fatal fall, from drowning, from fire, from senility, and from Shayṭān leading me astray at the time of death; and I seek refuge with You from dying for Your Cause whilst fleeing; and I seek refuge with You from dying from a sting or bite.”⁴ This is the wording of Abū Dāwūd; another narration adds, “And anxiety.”⁵

إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْهَدْمِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ التَّرَدِّي، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْغَرَقِ
وَالْحَرَقِ وَالْهَرَمِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ أَنْ يَتَخَبَّطَنِي الشَّيْطَانُ عِنْدَ الْمَوْتِ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ أَنْ أَمُوتَ فِي سَبِيلِكَ مُدْبِرًا، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ أَنْ أَمُوتَ لَدِيغًا.

Innī a'ūdhu bika mina-l-hadm, wa a'ūdhu bika mina-t-taraddī, wa

¹ That is, “of the private parts.”

² Abū Dāwūd (1551), at-Tirmidhī (3487), an-Nasā'ī (8/259–260), and al-Ḥākim (1/533), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees.

³ Abū Dāwūd (1554) and an-Nasā'ī (8/271).

⁴ Abū Dāwūd (1552) and an-Nasā'ī (1/282–283).

⁵ Abū Dāwūd (1553).

a'ūdhu bika mina-l-gharaqi wa-l-ḥaraqi wa-l-haram, wa a'ūdhu bika an yatakhabbatani-sh-Shayṭānu 'inda-l-mawt, wa a'ūdhu bika an amūta fī sabilika mudbirā, wa a'ūdhu bika an amūta ladīghā.

We also relate from them both, with ṣaḥīḥ isnāds, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, I seek refuge with You from hunger, for it is an evil bedfellow; and I seek refuge with You from treachery, for it is an evil companion."¹

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْجُوعِ فَإِنَّهُ يَبْسُ الضَّجِيعُ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الْخِيَانَةِ فَإِنَّهَا يَبْسُ الْبِطَانَةُ.

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika mina-l-jū'i fa-innahu bi'sa-d-ḍajī, wa a'ūdhu bika mina-l-khiyānati fa-innahā bi'sati-l-biṭānah.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Alī ؓ narrated that a slave who had contracted to buy his freedom came to him and said: "I am unable to pay the price for my freedom, so help me." He ؓ replied: "Should I not teach you words that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ taught me? If you had debts like mountains Allah would settle them for you. Say: "O Allah, suffice me with what You have made lawful so that I do not need anything You have made unlawful, and make me independent of all but You by Your generosity."² At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ اكْفِنِي بِحَلَالِكَ عَنْ حَرَامِكَ، وَأَغْنِنِي بِفَضْلِكَ عَمَّنْ سِوَاكَ.

Allāhumma-kfinī bi-ḥalālika 'an ḥarāmik, wa-ghninī bi-faḍlika 'amman siwāk.

And we relate from the same source that 'Imrān ibn al-Ḥuṣayn ؓ reported that the Prophet ﷺ taught his father Ḥuṣayn two things to say when supplicating: "O Allah, inspire me with right guidance and give me refuge from the evil of my self."³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ اَلْهِمْنِي رُشْدِي، وَأَعِزَّنِي مِنْ شَرِّ نَفْسِي.

Allāhumma alhimnī rushdī, wa a'idhnī min sharri nafsi.

We relate in both books⁴, with a weak isnād, that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to supplicate saying "O Allah, I seek Your protection from dissension, hypocrisy, and bad character."⁵ اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الشَّقَاقِ وَالنِّفَاقِ وَسُوءِ الْأَخْلَاقِ.

1 Abū Dāwūd (1547) and an-Nasā'ī (8/263).

2 At-Tirmidhī (3558).

3 At-Tirmidhī (3479), who states that this hadith is gharīb. Ibn Hajar grades it as ḥasan.

4 The Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and the Sunan of an-Nasā'ī.

5 Abū Dāwūd (1546) and an-Nasā'ī (8/264).

Allāhumma innī a'ūdhu bika mina-sh-shiqāqi wa-n-nifāqi wa sū'i-l-akhlāq.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Shahr ibn Hawshab narrated that he asked Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها: "Mother of the Believers, what was the most frequent du'ā' of Allah's Messenger ﷺ when he was with you?" She replied: "His most frequent du'ā' was: 'O Overturner of hearts, make my heart firm in Your religion.'" At-Tirmidhī says that this hadith is hasan.

يَا مُقَلِّبَ الْقُلُوبِ ثَبِّتْ قَلْبِي عَلَى دِينِكَ.

Yā Muqalliba-l-qulūb, thabbit qalbī 'alā dīnik.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Ā'ishah رضي الله عنها reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to say: "O Allah, grant me good health in my body, and grant me good health in my eyesight, and make it outlast me. There is no god but Allah, the Forbearing, the Most Generous. Glory be to Allah, Lord of the Exalted Throne. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds."² اللَّهُمَّ عَافِنِي فِي جَسَدِي، وَعَافِنِي فِي بَصَرِي، وَاجْعَلْهُ الْوَارِثَ مِنِّي، لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْخَلِيمُ الْكَرِيمُ، سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ، وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ.

Allāhumma 'āfinī fī jasadī, wa 'āfinī fī baṣarī, wa-j'alhu-l-wāritha minnī. Lā ilāha illa-llāhu-l-Ḥalīmu-l-Karīm. Subḥāna-llāhi Rabbi-l-'Arshi-l-'aẓīm, wa-l-ḥamdu li-llāhi Rabbi-l-'ālamīn.

We relate in [the same source] that Abū ad-Dardā رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The du'ā' of Dāwūd عليه السلام was: 'O Allah, I ask You for Your love, the love of those who love You, and deeds that make me attain Your love. O Allah, make Your love more beloved to me than my own self, my family, or cool water.'" At-Tirmidhī states that this is a hasan hadith.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ حُبَّكَ وَحُبَّ مَنْ يُحِبُّكَ، وَالْعَمَلَ الَّذِي يُبَلِّغُنِي حُبَّكَ، اللَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْ حُبَّكَ أَحَبَّ إِلَيَّ مِنْ نَفْسِي، وَأَهْلِي، وَمِنْ الْمَاءِ الْبَارِدِ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka ḥubbaka wa ḥubba man yuḥibbuk, wa-l-'amala-lladhī yuballighunī ḥubbak. Allāhumma-j'al ḥubbaka aḥabba ilayya min nafsī wa ahlī wa mina-l-mā'il-bārid.

We relate in [the same book] from Sa'd ibn Abī Waqqāṣ رضي الله عنه who reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The supplication of Dhū an-Nūn to his Lord while he was in the belly of the fish was, 'There is no god but You. Glory be to You, indeed I have ¹ At-Tirmidhī (3517). It is reported from Anas in the book by al-Hākim (1/526), who states that it is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² At-Tirmidhī (3476), who states that this hadith is hasan gharīb.

³ At-Tirmidhī (3485).

been one of the wrongdoers.' No Muslim supplicates with this for anything without his prayer being answered."¹ According to al-Hākim Abū 'Abdullāh, this has a ṣaḥīḥ isnād.

لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ سُبْحَانَكَ إِنِّي كُنْتُ مِنَ الظَّالِمِينَ.

Lā ilāha illā Anta subḥānaka innī kuntu mina-ẓ-ẓālimīn.

We relate in [the book of at-Tirmidhī] and in the book of Ibn Mājah that Anas رضي الله عنه narrated that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked: "Messenger of Allah, which du'ā' is the best?" He replied: "Ask your Lord for well-being and exemption in this world and the Hereafter." Then he came back the next day and asked: "Messenger of Allah, which du'ā' is the best?" He told [the man] the same thing. Then he came back on the third day and asked him the same question, and he replied: "If you have been granted good health and well-being in this world and you have been granted them in the Hereafter, you have triumphed."² At-Tirmidhī says that this hadith is ḥasan.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that al-'Abbās ibn 'Abd al-Muṭṭalib رضي الله عنه reported, "I said, 'Messenger of Allah, teach me something that I can ask of Allah ﷻ.' He said, 'Ask Allah for well-being.' I then waited a few days and then I came and said, 'Messenger of Allah, teach me something that I can ask of Allah ﷻ.' He said: 'O 'Abbās, uncle of Allah's Messenger, ask Allah for well-being in this world and the Hereafter.'"³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

We also relate from Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه, who narrated: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ supplicated with many du'ā's but we did not memorise any of them. I said, 'Messenger of Allah, you have supplicated with many du'ā's, but we have not memorised any of them.' He replied: 'Should I not show you one that combines all of them? Say: O Allah, I ask You for the good that Your Prophet Muḥammad asked of You, and I seek refuge with You from that which Your Prophet Muḥammad sought refuge. For You are the One Whose help is to be sought, and only by You can it be attained; and there is no power or strength except by Allah.'"⁴ At-Tirmidhī says that this hadith is ḥasan.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مِنْ خَيْرِ مَا سَأَلَكَ مِنْهُ نَبِيُّكَ مُحَمَّدٌ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَنَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا اسْتَعَاذَ مِنْهُ نَبِيُّكَ مُحَمَّدٌ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَأَنْتَ الْمُسْتَعَانُ وَعَلَيْكَ الْبَلَاغُ، وَلَا حَوْلَ وَلَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka min khayri mā sa'alaka minhu Nabīyyuka Muḥammadun ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa na'ūdhu bika min sharri ma-sta'ādha minhu Nabīyyuka Muḥammadun ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam. Wa Anta-l-Musta'ānu wa 'alayka-l-balāgh, wa lā ḥawla wa lā quwwata illā bi-llāh.

1 At-Tirmidhī (3500).

2 Ibn Mājah (3847) and at-Tirmidhī (3507), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb by this line of narration.

3 At-Tirmidhī (3509) and Ibn Mājah (3848).

4 At-Tirmidhī (3516), who states that this hadith is ḥasan gharīb.

We also relate in it that Anas رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Be constant (alizzū) in saying, O Possessor of Majesty and Honour."¹ يَا ذَا الْجَلَالِ وَالْإِكْرَامِ.

Yā Dha-l-Jalāli wa-l-Ikrām.

We relate it also from the Book of an-Nasā'i, from Rabi'ah ibn 'Āmir, a Companion رضي الله عنه.² Al-Hākim states that the hadith's isnād is ṣaḥīḥ.³

I say that alizzū is [written] with a kasrah on the lām and a shaddah on the zā. It means 'adhere to this supplication and repeat it often'.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās رضي الله عنه reported that the Prophet ﷺ used to make du'a saying: "O my Lord, help me and do not assist [others] against me;⁴ aid me and do not aid [others] against me;⁵ plot for me and do not plot against me;⁶ guide me and make guidance easy for me; and help me against those who harm and oppress me. O my Lord, make me grateful to You, remembering You, fearful of You, obedient to You, and submissive—or repentant—to You. Accept my repentance and wash away my sins; accept my supplication and establish my proof.⁷ Guide my heart, make my tongue righteous, and remove my heart's vile traits."⁸

رَبِّ أَعِينِي وَلَا تُعِنِّ عَلَيَّ، وَانصُرْنِي وَلَا تَنْصُرْ عَلَيَّ، وَامْكُرْ لِي وَلَا تَمْكُرْ عَلَيَّ، وَاهْدِنِي
وَيَسِّرْ هُدَايَ إِلَيَّ، وَانصُرْنِي عَلَى مَنْ بَغَى عَلَيَّ، االلَّهُمَّ اجْعَلْنِي لَكَ شَاكِرًا، لَكَ ذَاكِرًا،
لَكَ رَاهِبًا، لَكَ مَطْوَعًا، إِلَيْكَ مُخْبِتًا—أَوْ مُنِيبًا—تَقَبَّلْ تَوْبَتِي، وَاغْسِلْ حَوْبَتِي، وَأَجِبْ
دَعْوَتِي وَثَبِّتْ حُجَّتِي، وَاهْدِ قَلْبِي، وَسَدِّدْ لِسَانِي، وَاسْلُلْ سَخِيمَةَ قَلْبِي.

Rabbī a'innī wa lā tu'in 'alayy, wa-nṣurnī wa lā tanṣur 'alayy, wa-mkur lī wa lā tamkur 'alayy, wa-hdinī wa yassir hudāya ilayy, wa-nṣurnī 'alā man baghā 'alayy. Allāhumma-j'alnī laka shākirā, laka dhākirā, laka rāhibā, wa laka miṭwā'ā, ilayka mukhbitā—aw munībā. Taqabbal tawbatī, wa-ghsil ḥawbatī, wa ajib da'watī, wa thabbit ḥujjatī, wa-hdi qalbī, wa saddid lisānī, wa-slul sakhīmata qalbī.

And in a narration of at-Tirmidhī there is: "...tender-hearted, penitent."

¹ Ibn Mājah (3522); and al-Hākim (1/498–499), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ, and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

² as-Sunan al-kubrā of an-Nasā'i (7669).

³ al-Mustadrak of al-Hākim (1:499).

⁴ This means, 'Help me to obey You and do not give power to those who would prevent me from obeying You.'

⁵ This means, 'Give me power over the kāfirūn and do not give them power over me.'

⁶ This means that Allah makes one perform acts of obedience but does not accept them from one.

⁷ That is, 'against Your enemies in this world and the Hereafter'.

⁸ Abū Dāwūd (1510), at-Tirmidhī (3546), Ibn Mājah (3830), and al-Hākim (1/519–520), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees.

أَوَاهَا مُنِيبًا.

Awwāhan munīban.

I say: "As-sakhīmah with a fathah on the letter sīn, and a kasrah on the letter khā, is 'spite' and its plural is sakhā'im. That is the meaning of as-sakhīmah here."

Another hadith reads, "Whoever draws forth his sakhīmah in the pathway of the Muslims, then may there be upon him the curse of Allah," by which is meant 'faeces'.

We relate in the Musnad of Imam Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, as well as from the Sunan of Ibn Mājah, that 'Ā'ishah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to her: "Say: 'O Allah, I ask of You all good, that which is immediate and that which is in the future, that which I know and that which I do not know. And I seek refuge with You from all evil, that which is immediate and that which is in the future, that which I know and that which I do not know. I ask You for Paradise and words and deeds which bring one close to it. And I seek refuge with You from Hell and words and deeds which bring one close to it. I ask You for the good that Your slave and Messenger Muḥammad asked for, and I seek refuge with You from the evil that Your slave and Messenger Muḥammad sought refuge from. And I ask You, in [all] that You have decreed for me, to make its outcome rightly guided.'"¹ Al-Ḥakim states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ مِنَ الْخَيْرِ كُلِّهِ عَاجِلِهِ وَآجِلِهِ، مَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْهُ وَمَا لَمْ أَعْلَمْ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ الشَّرِّ كُلِّهِ عَاجِلِهِ وَآجِلِهِ، مَا عَلِمْتُ مِنْهُ وَمَا لَمْ أَعْلَمْ، وَأَسْأَلُكَ الْجَنَّةَ وَمَا قَرَّبَ إِلَيْهَا مِنْ قَوْلٍ أَوْ عَمَلٍ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنَ النَّارِ وَمَا قَرَّبَ إِلَيْهَا مِنْ قَوْلٍ أَوْ عَمَلٍ، وَأَسْأَلُكَ خَيْرَ مَا سَأَلَكَ عَبْدُكَ وَرَسُولُكَ مُحَمَّدٌ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا اسْتَعَاذَكَ مِنْهُ عَبْدُكَ وَرَسُولُكَ مُحَمَّدٌ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ، وَأَسْأَلُكَ مَا قَضَيْتَ لِي مِنْ أَمْرٍ أَنْ تَجْعَلَ عَاقِبَتَهُ رَشَدًا.

Allāhumma innī as'aluka mina-l-khayri kullihi 'ājilihi wa ājilih, mā 'alimtu minhu wa mā lam a'lam, wa a'ūdhu bika mina-sh-sharri kullihi 'ājilihi wa ājilih, mā 'alimtu minhu wa mā lam a'lam, Allāhumma innī as'aluka-l-Jannata wa mā qarraba ilayhā min qawlin aw 'amal, wa a'ūdhu bika mina-n-Nāri wa mā qarraba ilayhā min qawlin aw 'amal. Wa as'aluka khayra mā sa'alaka 'abduka wa Rasūluka Muḥammadun ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa a'ūdhu bika min sharri ma-sta'adhaka minhu 'abduka wa Rasūluka Muḥammadun ṣalla-llāhu 'alayhi wa sallam, wa as'aluka mā qaḍayta lī min amrin an taj'ala 'āqibatahu rashadā."

¹ Aḥmad (6/137) and Ibn Mājah (3846). Ibn 'Allān states that this hadith is reported by Ibn Ḥibbān and al-Ḥakim in their Ṣaḥīḥs, and that it is ḥasan.

I have found in the Mustadrak of al-Ḥākim that Ibn Mas'ūd رضي الله عنه reported that the du'ā' of Allah's Messenger ﷺ used to be: "O Allah, we ask You for that which causes Your Mercy and deserves Your forgiveness; for safety from all sin; for the reward of all virtue; for the attainment of Paradise; and for salvation from Hell."¹ Al-Ḥākim states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ according to the conditions of Muslim.

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا نَسْأَلُكَ مُوجِبَاتِ رَحْمَتِكَ، وَعَزَائِمَ مَغْفِرَتِكَ، وَالسَّلَامَةَ مِنْ
كُلِّ إِثْمٍ، وَالْغَنِيمَةَ مِنْ كُلِّ بَرٍّ، وَالْفَوْزَ بِالْجَنَّةِ، وَالنَّجَاةَ مِنَ النَّارِ.

Allāhumma innā nas'aluka mūjibāti raḥmatik, wa 'azā'ima maghfiratik, wa-s-salāmata min kulli ithm, wa-l-ghanīmata min kulli birr, wa-l-fawza bi-l-Jannah, wa-n-najāta mina-n-Nār.

Another narration in [al-Mustadrak] is from Jābir ibn 'Abdullāh رضي الله عنه, who related that a man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: "My sins, my sins!" He said this twice or thrice. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ then told him: "Say: O Allah, Your forgiveness is vaster than my sins, and Your Mercy is more hopeful for me than my deeds." The man said those words, and then [the Prophet] ﷺ said: "Repeat." [The man] repeated them and then he ﷺ said: "Repeat." [The man] repeated them. Then [the Prophet] ﷺ said to him: "Stand up; Allah has forgiven you."² اللَّهُمَّ مَغْفِرَتُكَ أَوْسَعُ مِنْ ذُنُوبِي، وَرَحْمَتُكَ أَرْجَى عِنْدِي مِنْ عَمَلِي.

Allāhumma maghfiratuka awsa'u min dhunūbī, wa raḥmatuka arjā 'indī min 'amālī.

Also in [al-Mustadrak] there is a report from Abū Umāmah رضي الله عنه that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah has an angel who has been assigned to those who say: 'O Most Merciful of those who show mercy.' If a person says it three times, the angel tells him: 'The Most Merciful of those who show mercy has turned towards you, so ask.'"³ يَا أَرْحَمَ الرَّاحِمِينَ.

Yā Arḥama-r-Rāḥimīn.

¹ Al-Ḥākim (1/525).

² Al-Ḥākim (1/543), who comments that none of the narrators' reputations have been impugned; and adh-Dhahabī agrees.

³ Al-Ḥākim (1/544).

THE ETIQUETTES OF DU'Ā'

KNOW THAT THE chosen position of the jurists, the hadith scholars and the masses of the 'ulamā' of all parties of early and later generations is that du'ā' is mustahabb. Allah ﷻ says: "And your Lord has said 'Call on Me; I will respond to you.'"¹

﴿وَقَالَ رَبُّكُمْ ادْعُونِي أَسْتَجِبْ لَكُمْ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "Call on your Lord with entreaty and in secret."²

﴿ادْعُوا رَبَّكُمْ تَضَرُّعًا وَخُفْيَةً﴾

The [Qur'ānic] verses in this regard are many and well-known.

As for the authentic hadiths, they are too well-known to cite and too obvious to mention; and we have already cited enough of these recently in the da'awāt. And success is by Allah.

We relate in the Risālah of Imam Abū al-Qāsim al-Qushayrī ﷺ that he said: "People disagree as to whether du'ā' is better than silence and contentment. Some hold that du'ā' is worship, because of the aforementioned hadith, 'Du'ā' is worship,'³ and because du'ā' is [a way of] showing one's need for Allah ﷻ. Others hold that silence and calmness in the face of Allah's decree is more perfect, and contentment with what has been ordained is more fitting. Others say that one should be a person who makes du'ā' with his tongue but is contented in his heart, so that he fulfils both of these [virtuous acts]."

Al-Qushayrī says: "It is more fitting that one say that moments differ. In some cases du'ā' is better than silence and it is the correct etiquette, and in some cases silence is better than du'ā' and it is the correct etiquette. That can only be known at the time. If one finds in one's heart an indication to make du'ā' then du'ā' is more fitting, and if one finds an indication to be silent then silence is more perfect."

He also says: "It is correct to say that if there is a share for the Muslims in it or Allah ﷻ has a right to it, du'ā' is better, because it is worship. If it is for oneself, silence is better."

He also says: "One of the conditions of du'ā' is that one's food be lawful. Yahyā ibn Mu'adh ar-Rāzī ﷺ said: 'How can I supplicate to You while I am disobedient? And how can I not supplicate to You when You are Generous?'"

One of the rules of making du'ā' is [to have] presence of heart. The proof of this will be quoted later, if Allah wills. Some say that what is meant by du'ā' is to manifest one's poverty, for in any case Allah ﷻ does whatever He wants.

¹ Qur'ān 40:60.

² Qur'ān 7:55.

³ Abū Dāwūd (1479) and at-Tirmidhī (3244).

Imam al-Ghazālī states in *al-Ihyā'*¹ that the etiquettes of du'ā' are ten.

First, waiting for auspicious times, like the Day of 'Arafah, the month of Ramaḍān, Friday, the last third of the night, and the time before daybreak.

Second, taking advantage of especially favourable circumstances, such as during prostration, when armies join battle, when rain falls, when the iqāmah is called for ṣalāh, and after it. I [Imam an-Nawawī] say: [at times] when one's heart is soft.

Third, facing the qiblah, raising the hands, and passing them over the face at the end.

Fourth, lowering the voice to a point between silence and being [readily] audible.

Fifth, not making an affectation of rhyme, which has been interpreted as a transgression [of adab] in du'ā'. It is preferable to restrict oneself to those da'awāt that have been transmitted, for not everyone is good at du'ā' and so one might be in danger of transgressing.

Some say that one should supplicate with the tongue of humility and need, not with a tongue of eloquence and fluency. It is said that the 'ulamā and the abdāl do not exceed seven phrases in du'ā', and this is attested to by what Allah ﷻ says: "Lord, condemn us not if we forget or fall into error. [Lord, lay not upon us a burden like that which You laid upon those before us. Lord, lay not upon us a burden that we have not the strength to bear. Pardon us, forgive us, and have mercy on us. You are our Protector, so grant us victory over the disbelieving people]".² He ﷻ has not mentioned more than this in any du'ā' [prescribed for His] servants.

﴿رَبَّنَا لَا تُؤَاخِذْنَا إِنْ نَسِينَا أَوْ أَخْطَأْنَا ۚ رَبَّنَا وَلَا تَحْمِلْ عَلَيْنَا إَصْرًا كَمَا حَمَلْتَهُ عَلَى الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِنَا ۚ رَبَّنَا وَلَا تُحَمِّلْنَا مَا لَا طَاقَةَ لَنَا بِهِ ۗ وَاعْفُ عَنَّا وَاعْفِرْ لَنَا وَارْحَمْنَا ۚ أَنْتَ مَوْلَانَا فَانصُرْنَا عَلَى الْقَوْمِ الْكَافِرِينَ﴾

I say that similar to this is the saying of Allah ﷻ in Sūrat Ibrāhīm: "[Remember] when Ibrāhīm said, 'Lord, make this city a place of security, and protect my sons and me from worshipping idols.'"³

﴿وَإِذْ قَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ رَبِّ اجْعَلْ هَذَا الْبَلَدَ آمِنًا وَاجْنُبْنِي وَبَنِيَّ أَنْ نَعْبُدَ الْأَصْنَامَ﴾

The preferred view, held by the masses of the 'ulamā, is that there is no restriction

¹ Ihyā' ulūm ad-dīn (1:304).

² Qur'ān 2:286.

³ Qur'ān 14:35. He means that this long du'ā' does not exceed seven requests. "When Ibrāhīm said, 'My Lord, make this land a place of safety and keep me and my sons from worshipping idols. My Lord, they have misguided many of mankind. If anyone follows me, he is with me; but if anyone disobeys me, You are Ever-Forgiving, Most Merciful. Our Lord, I have settled some of my offspring by Your Sacred House in an uncultivated valley. Our Lord, let them establish ṣalāh. Make the hearts of mankind incline towards them and provide them with fruits, so that perhaps they may be thankful. Our Lord, You know what we keep hidden and what we divulge. Nothing is hidden from Allah either on the earth or in heaven. Praise be to Allah Who, despite my old age, has given me Ismā'il and Ishāq. My Lord is the Hearer of Prayer. My Lord, make me and my descendants people who establish ṣalāh. My Lord, accept my prayer. Our Lord, forgive me and my parents and the believers on the Day the Reckoning takes place.'" on [the number of phrases], and that it is not makrūh to say more than seven: on the contrary, it is mustahabb to say as much du'ā' as possible.

Sixth, humble entreaty, humility and fear. Allah ﷻ says: "They were ever quick to perform good works; they used to call on Us in yearning and awe and humble themselves before Us."¹

﴿إِنَّهُمْ كَانُوا يُسْرِعُونَ فِي الْخَيْرَاتِ وَيَدْعُونَنَا رَغَبًا وَرَهَبًا ۖ وَكَانُوا لَنَا خَشِيعِينَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Call on your Lord with humble entreaty and in private."²

﴿ادْعُوا رَبَّكُمْ تَضَرُّعًا وَخُفْيَةً﴾

Seventh, being committed in one's request, being convinced it will be accepted and having sincere hope of that. The proofs of this are numerous and well-known. Sufyān ibn 'Uyaynah, may Allah be merciful to him, said: "No-one should be prevented by what he knows about himself from making du'ā', for Allah ﷻ answered the most evil of His Creation, Iblīs, when "he said, 'Give me respite until the Day they are resurrected.' [Allah] said, "Be among those given respite."³

Eighth, persistence in making du'ā' and repeating it thrice. One should not be impatient about its acceptance and think [the response] slow.

Ninth, beginning one's du'ā' with the remembrance of Allah ﷻ. I [Imam an-Nawawī] say: "And praying for blessings upon His Messenger ﷺ, after praising and extolling Allah. One should also conclude the du'ā' the same way."

Tenth, the most important of them and the essential thing for acceptance, is repentance, remedying injustices, and turning towards Allah ﷻ.

THE BENEFIT IN DU'Ā' DESPITE THE FACT THAT NOTHING CAN UNDO DESTINY

Imam al-Ghazālī says: "If it be asked: 'What is the benefit of du'ā' when destiny cannot be avoided?' then know that one of the things that are predestined is the avoidance of tribulation by means of du'ā'. Du'ā' is the means of warding off tribulations and for the existence of mercy, just as a shield is the means of defence against a weapon and water is the cause of plants coming out of the earth. As a shield wards off an arrow, so they oppose one another; it is likewise with du'ā' and tribulation. It is not a condition of acknowledging and accepting destiny that one not carry a weapon, for Allah ﷻ says: "They should be on their guard and keep hold of their weapons."⁴

﴿وَلْيَأْخُذُوا حِذْرَهُمْ وَأَسْلِحَتَهُمْ﴾

1 Qur'ān 21:90.

2 Qur'ān 7:55.

3 Qur'ān 7:14-15.

4 Qur'ān 4:102.

So Allah ﷻ decrees the event and its means and cause. Among the benefits [of making du'ā'] are those things we have already mentioned: presence and attention of the heart and neediness, which are the pinnacle of slavehood and gnosis of Allah. And Allah knows best."

339

A PERSON'S DU'Ā' AND USING HIS PIOUS DEEDS
AS A MEANS OF IMPLORING ALLAH ﷻ

WE RELATE IN the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Ibn 'Umar ﷺ related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "Three of those who were before you were travelling one day when nightfall made them seek shelter inside a cave which they entered. A boulder fell from the mountain and closed off the cave with them inside. They said: 'Nothing can save you from this boulder except supplicating to Allah ﷻ through your pious deeds.' One man of them said: 'O Allah, I had two very aged parents and I never gave any of my family or slaves anything to drink before them. . .'" He recounted the rest of the long hadith, and that each of them said about his own pious deed: "O Allah, if I did this seeking Your Countenance, deliver us from the predicament we are in.' [The mouth of the cave] opened a little after each of their du'ā's and opened completely after the du'ā' of the third. And so they walked out."¹

I say that aghbiqū, with a ḍammah on the hamzah and a kasrah on the bā', means 'I give to drink'.

Al-Qāḍī Ḥusayn, one of our [Shāfi'i] colleagues, and others said something about the ṣalāh for rain which means: "It is mustaḥabb for one who is afflicted with difficulties to make du'ā' by means of his pious deeds." They cite this hadith as proof. Other views have been expressed about this, however, inasmuch as [such a du'ā'] contains a suggestion of less than total neediness towards Allah ﷻ, and what is called for in du'ā' is being in need. However, the Prophet ﷺ told this hadith in praise of them, so it indicates that he ﷺ considered their action to be correct. And success is by Allah.

AMONG THE BEST THINGS SAID BY THE SALAF ABOUT DU'Ā'

Among the best things that have been conveyed from the first generations concerning du'ā' is what has been reported about al-Awzā'i, may Allah be merciful to him, who said: "The people went out to pray for rain. Bilāl ibn Sa'd stood up among them. He praised Allah and extolled Him, then said, 'You who have assembled, do you not admit to having done wrong?' 'Yes,' they replied. So he said: 'O Allah, we have heard Your words "There are no grounds for complaint against those who do good"¹ and we have confessed to doing wrong. Is not Your forgiveness, then, for the likes of us? O Allah, forgive us, have mercy on us and grant us rain.' He raised his hands and they raised their hands; and they were granted rain.

¹ Al-Bukhārī (3465), Muslim (2743), and Abū Dāwūd (3387).

اللَّهُمَّ إِنَّا سَمِعْنَاكَ تَقُولُ: ﴿مَا عَلَى الْمُحْسِنِينَ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ﴾ وَقَدْ أَقْرَرْنَا
بِالْإِسَاءَةِ، فَهَلْ تَكُونُ مَغْفِرَتُكَ إِلَّا لِمِثْلِنَا؟ اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لَنَا وَارْحَمْنَا وَاسْقِنَا.

Allāhumma innā sami'nāka taqūlu: "Mā 'ala-l-muḥsinīn min sabil" wa qad aqrarnā bi-l-isā'ah, fa-hal takūnu maghfiratuka illā li-mithlinā? Allāhumma-ghfir lanā wa-rḥamnā wa-sqinā.

In this same sense someone composed in poetry [in the metre ṭawīl]:

I do wrong, often straying, but [His] Pardon is vast;
without those wrong actions there could be no pardon.

340

RAISING THE HANDS IN DU'Ā' AND PASSING THEM OVER THE FACE

WE RELATE FROM the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ reported that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ raised his hands in du'ā' he did not lower them until he had wiped them over his face.²

We relate in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās ؓ also related a similar hadith, and in the isnād of both of them there is some weakness.

Although Ḥāfiẓ 'Abd al-Ḥaqq, may Allah be merciful to him, stated that at-Tirmidhī considered the former ṣaḥīḥ, it is not said in any of the reliable manuscript copies of at-Tirmidhī that it is ṣaḥīḥ. On the contrary, he said that it was a gharīb hadith.

¹ Qur'ān 9:90.

² At-Tirmidhī (283), Abū Dāwūd (1485), and Ibn Mājah (3866). Ibn Ḥajar writes in Bulūgh al-marām that this hadith is ḥasan, thanks to other narrations which support it.

REPETITION OF DU'Ā'

WE NARRATE IN the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ liked to make du'ā' thrice and to ask for forgiveness thrice.¹

KEEPING THE HEART ATTENTIVE IN DU'Ā'

KNOW THAT THE purpose of du'ā' calls for presence of heart, as has been explained earlier. The proofs of this are too numerous to count, and the knowledge of this is too evident to discuss. We will cite one hadith on the subject in order to gain the blessing.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Supplicate to Allah while you feel certain of acceptance; and know that Allah ﷻ does not respond to the du'ā' of a forgetful, distracted heart."² The isnād has weakness in it.

THE MERIT OF MAKING DU'Ā' FOR PEOPLE IN THEIR ABSENCE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "And those who came after them say 'Lord, forgive us and our brethren who came to faith before us.'"³

﴿وَالَّذِينَ جَاءُوا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ يَقُولُونَ رَبَّنَا اغْفِرْ لَنَا وَلِإِخْوَانِنَا الَّذِينَ سَبَقُونَا بِالْإِيمَانِ﴾

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1524), an-Nasā'ī in ʿAmal al-yawm wa al-laylah (457), and Ibn as-Sunni (370).

² At-Tirmidhī (3474).

³ Qur'ān 59:10.

Allah ﷻ says: "And seek forgiveness for your sins, and for the men and women who believe."¹

﴿وَاسْتَغْفِرْ لِذَنْبِكَ وَلِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says that Ibrāhīm ؑ prayed: "Lord, forgive me, my parents, and [all] believers on the Day the Reckoning takes place."²

﴿رَبَّنَا اغْفِرْ لِي وَلِوَلَدَيَّ وَلِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ يَوْمَ يَقُومُ الْحِسَابُ﴾

Allah ﷻ says that Nūḥ ؑ said: "Lord, forgive me, my parents, whoever enters my house in faith, and [all] believing men and believing women."³

﴿رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَلِوَلَدَيَّ وَلِمَنْ دَخَلَ بَيْتِي مُؤْمِنًا وَلِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ﴾

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū ad-Dardā' ؓ reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: "No Muslim slave [of Allah] makes du'ā' for his brother in his absence without an angel saying: 'And the same for you.'" According to another report in Muslim, Abū ad-Dardā' ؓ related that Allah's Messenger ﷺ used to say: "The du'ā' of a Muslim man for his brother in his absence is answered; at his head there is an angel who has been [specially] appointed. Every time he makes du'ā' for his brother's welfare, the appointed angel says: Āmīn, and the same for you."⁴

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that Ibn 'Umar ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "The du'ā' that is answered most rapidly is the du'ā' of one absent person for another who is absent."⁵ According to at-Tirmidhī [this hadith] is weak.

344

THE DESIRABILITY OF MAKING DU'Ā' FOR THOSE WHO TREAT ONE WELL, AND A DESCRIPTION OF THAT DU'Ā'

MANY THINGS [THAT fall within the scope of] this chapter have already been mentioned in the relevant chapters. The best of these are the following.

We relate from the book of at-Tirmidhī that Usāmah ibn Zayd ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Whoever is treated well and says 'May Allah reward

1 Qur'ān 47:19.

2 Qur'ān 14:41.

3 Qur'ān 71:28.

4 Muslim (2732, 2733) and Abū Dāwūd (1534).

5 Abū Dāwūd (1535) and at-Tirmidhī (1981), with a slight variation in the wording.

*you with goodness' has exerted himself fully in praise and gratitude."*¹ At-Tirmidhī described this hadith as ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

جَزَاكَ اللَّهُ خَيْرًا.

Jazāka-llāhu khayrā.

Not long ago, in the chapter on safeguarding the tongue, we quoted from a ṣaḥīḥ hadith his words ﷺ: "... and if a person does something good to you, repay and reward him. If you do not possess anything with which to reward him, make du'ā' for him until you think that you have recompensed him."

345

THE DESIRABILITY OF SEEKING DU'Ā' FROM VIRTUOUS PEOPLE, EVEN IF THE ONE WHO REQUESTS IS OF A HIGHER STATION
THAN THE ONE WHO IS ASKED, AND DU'Ā' IN NOBLE PLACES

KNOW THAT THE hadiths on this subject are innumerable, and there is unanimity about this matter. Among the best evidence in proof of it is that which we relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī. 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ﷺ narrated: "I asked the Prophet ﷺ for permission to perform 'Umrah. He granted me permission and said: 'Do not forget us, my brother, in your du'ā'.' He said something that was more pleasing to me than owning the world."

According to another report he said: "Let us share in your du'ā', my brother."³ According to at-Tirmidhī, this is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith; and we have already cited it among the adhkār for travellers.

346

THE PROHIBITION OF SUPPLICATING AGAINST ONESELF, ONE'S CHILDREN, SERVANTS, WEALTH, ETC.

WE RELATE FROM the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ṣaḥīḥ isnād, that Jābir ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do not supplicate against yourselves, do not

¹ At-Tirmidhī (2036).

² Abū Dāwūd and an-Nasā'ī.

³ Abū Dāwūd (1498) and at-Tirmidhī (3557).

supplicate against your children, do not supplicate against your servants, and do not supplicate against your wealth. Do not [make your du'ā'] coincide with a moment from Allah in which a gift is obtained and [your supplication] is accepted from you."¹

Nila, 'is obtained', is written with a kasrah on the nūn and a sukūn on the yā', and it means the moment of response in which the seeker obtains and is given what he seeks.

Muslim narrates this hadith at the end of his Ṣaḥīḥ and says: "Do not supplicate against yourselves, do not supplicate against your children, and do not supplicate against your wealth. Do not [make your du'ā'] coincide with a moment from Allah in which He is asked for a gift and He answers you."²

347

PROOF THAT A MUSLIM WILL BE GRANTED HIS REQUEST WHEN HE MAKES DU'Ā', AND THAT HE SHOULD NOT BE IMPATIENT ABOUT ITS ACCEPTANCE

ALLAH ﷻ SAYS: "When My servants ask you concerning Me, I am indeed close. I respond to the prayer of the supplicant when he calls on Me."³

﴿وَإِذَا سَأَلَكَ عِبَادِي عَنِّي فَإِنِّي قَرِيبٌ أُجِيبُ دَعْوَةَ الدَّاعِ إِذَا دَعَانِ﴾

Allah ﷻ has also said: "Call on Me; I will respond to you."⁴

﴿ادْعُونِي أَسْتَجِبْ لَكُمْ﴾

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that 'Ubādah ibn aṣ-Ṣāmit ﷺ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "There is no Muslim on the earth who makes du'ā' to Allah ﷻ without Allah either granting it to him or averting from him an equivalent evil, provided he does not supplicate for a sin or for the cutting off of family ties." One of [those present] said: "Then we will do more [du'ā']." [The Prophet ﷺ] replied: "Allah is more."⁵ At-Tirmidhī states that this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

Al-Ḥākim Abū 'Abdullāh also narrates it in al-Mustadrak 'ala aṣ-Ṣaḥīḥayn, from Abū Sa'īd al-Khudrī's narration, adding: "...or He will store up for him a reward equivalent to it".

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥs of al-Bukhārī and Muslim that Abū Hurayrah ﷺ report-

1 Abū Dāwūd (1532) and Muslim (3006).

2 Muslim (3009).

3 Qur'ān 2:186.

4 Qur'ān 40:60.

5 At-Tirmidhī (3568) and al-Ḥākim (1/493), who states that this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ; adh-Dhahabī agrees.

ed that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The prayer of any of you will be answered, provided he does not lose patience and say 'I supplicated but [my prayer] was not answered.'"¹ According to at-Tirmidhī, this hadith is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ.

348

SEEKING FORGIVENESS

THIS CHAPTER IS the most important one to know about, and the one whose content it is most vital to apply. I have deliberately left it to last, in order to gain Allah's blessing by completing [this book] with goodness. We ask Him for goodness for me, for those whom I love, and for all the Muslims.

Allah ﷻ says: "And ask forgiveness for your sin, and celebrate the praises of your Lord night and morning."²

﴿وَأَسْتَغْفِرُ لِدُنْيِكَ وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ بِالْعِشِيِّ وَالْإِبْكَارِ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "And ask forgiveness for your sin, and for the believers, men and women."³

﴿وَأَسْتَغْفِرُ لِدُنْيِكَ وَلِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ﴾

Allah ﷻ has also said: "And seek the forgiveness of Allah; Allah is ever Most Forgiving, Most Merciful."⁴

﴿وَأَسْتَغْفِرِ اللَّهَ إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ غَفُوراً رَحِيماً﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "For the righteous are gardens near their Lord, beneath which rivers flow. Therein shall be their eternal home, with spouses purified and Allah's good pleasure. Allah is All-Seeing of His servants: those who say 'Lord, we have indeed believed, so forgive us our sins and save us from the agony of Hell-Fire'—those who show patience, who are truthful [and sincere], who worship devoutly, who spend [for the Cause of Allah], and who pray for forgiveness before dawn."⁵

﴿لِلَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ جَنَّاتٌ تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا وَأَزْوَاجٌ مُطَهَّرَةٌ

¹ Al-Bukhārī (6340), Muslim (2735), Abū Dāwūd (1484), and at-Tirmidhī (3602).

² Qur'ān 40:55.

³ Qur'ān 47:19.

⁴ Qur'ān 4:106.

⁵ Qur'ān 3:15-17.

وَرِضُونُ مِنَ اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ بَصِيرٌ بِالْعِبَادِ * الَّذِينَ يَقُولُونَ رَبَّنَا إِنَّنَا فَاغْفِرْ لَنَا ذُنُوبَنَا
وَقِنَا عَذَابَ النَّارِ * الصَّابِرِينَ وَالصَّادِقِينَ وَالْقَانِتِينَ وَالْمُنْفِقِينَ وَالْمُسْتَغْفِرِينَ بِالْأَسْحَارِ ﴿

Allah ﷻ says: "And Allah would not punish them while you are in their midst, nor would He punish them while they ask for forgiveness."¹

﴿وَمَا كَانَ اللَّهُ لِيُعَذِّبَهُمْ وَأَنْتَ فِيهِمْ وَمَا كَانَ اللَّهُ مُعَذِّبَهُمْ وَهُمْ يَسْتَغْفِرُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And those who, having committed an act of indecency or wronged their own souls, remember Allah and ask for forgiveness for their sins—and who can forgive sins except Allah?—and do not persist knowingly in [the wrong] that they have done."²

﴿وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا فَعَلُوا فَحِشَةً أَوْ ظَلَمُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ ذَكَرُوا اللَّهَ فَاسْتَغْفَرُوا لِذُنُوبِهِمْ
وَمَنْ يَغْفِرِ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ وَلَمْ يُصِرُّوا عَلَى مَا فَعَلُوا وَهُمْ يَعْلَمُونَ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Whoever does evil or wrongs his own soul but afterwards seeks Allah's forgiveness will find Allah Most Forgiving, Most Merciful."³

﴿وَمَنْ يَعْمَلْ سُوءًا أَوْ يَظْلِمْ نَفْسَهُ ثُمَّ يَسْتَغْفِرِ اللَّهَ يَجِدِ اللَّهَ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And seek your Lord's forgiveness, then turn to Him in repentance."⁴

﴿وَأَنِ اسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّكُمْ ثُمَّ تُوبُوا إِلَيْهِ﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "Then [I said], 'Ask forgiveness from your Lord, for He is Oft-Forgiving.'"⁵

﴿فَقُلْتُ اسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّكُمْ إِنَّهُ كَانَ غَفَّارًا﴾

Allah ﷻ says: "And o my people, ask forgiveness of your Lord, and then turn to Him in repentance. . ."⁶

﴿وَيَا قَوْمِ اسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّكُمْ ثُمَّ تُوبُوا إِلَيْهِ . . .﴾

The verses about seeking forgiveness are many and well-known. [Enough] admonition has been imparted by some of what we have mentioned. As for the hadiths

1 Qur'ān 8:33.

2 Qur'ān 3:135.

3 Qur'ān 4:110.

4 Qur'ān 11:3.

5 Qur'ān 71:10.

6 Qur'ān 11:52.

that exist concerning seeking forgiveness, it is impossible to study them in full, but I will allude to some examples.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that al-Agharr al-Muzanī ؓ, a Companion, reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "My heart becomes forgetful and I ask Allah for forgiveness one hundred times a day."¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Abū Hurayrah ؓ reported that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say, "By Allah, I ask Allah for forgiveness and repent to Him more than seventy times a day."²

We relate, also from the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī, that Shaddād ibn Aws ؓ reported from the Prophet ﷺ: "The foremost of all the formulae for seeking forgiveness is for the slave [of Allah] to say, 'O Allah, You are my Lord, there is no god but You. You created me and I am Your slave, and I am bound to [fulfil] Your covenant and Your promise to the best of my ability. I seek Your protection from the evil that I have done, acknowledging Your favour upon me and admitting my sin. So forgive me, for none forgives sin except You.' Whoever says this with conviction during the day and then passes away before the evening will be one of the people of Paradise; and whoever says it with conviction during the night and then passes away before the morning will be one of the people of Paradise."³

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبِّي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ، خَلَقْتَنِي وَأَنَا عَبْدُكَ، وَأَنَا عَلَى عَهْدِكَ
وَوَعْدِكَ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُ، أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ شَرِّ مَا صَنَعْتُ، أَبُوءُ لَكَ بِنِعْمَتِكَ
عَلَيَّ، وَأَبُوءُ بِذَنْبِي، فَاغْفِرْ لِي، فَإِنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

*Allāhumma Anta Rabbī lā ilāha illā Ant, khalaqtanī wa anā
'abduk, wa anā 'alā 'ahdika wa wa'dika ma-staṭa't. A'ūdhu bika min sharri mā ṣana't, abū'u laka bi-ni'matika 'alayya wa abū'u bi-dhanbī, fa-ghfir lī fa-innahu lā yaghfiru-dh-dhunūba illā Ant.*

I say that abū'u 'I acknowledge'—with a ḍammah on the bā' and a hamzah after the extended wāw—means 'I confirm and acknowledge'.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd, at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah that Ibn 'Umar ؓ reported: "We used to count the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying one hundred times in one sitting: 'Lord, forgive me and relent towards me. You are the Oft-Relenting, the Most Merciful.'"⁴ At-Tirmidhī says that this is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي، وَتُبْ عَلَيَّ إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ التَّوَّابُ الرَّحِيمُ.

Rabbi-ghfir lī wa tub 'alayya. Innaka Anta-t-Tawwābu-r-Raḥīm.

1 Muslim (2702) and Abū Dāwūd (1515).

2 Al-Bukhārī (6307) and at-Tirmidhī (3255).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6306), at-Tirmidhī (3390), and an-Nasā'ī (8/279).

4 The text has an 'extended hamzah', which must be a mistake.

5 Abū Dāwūd (1516), at-Tirmidhī (3430), Ibn Mājah (3814), and Ibn as-Sunnī (458).

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and Ibn Mājah that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās رضي الله عنه narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever adheres to seeking forgiveness, Allah will give him an escape from every constriction and relief from every worry, and will provide for him from where he does not expect.”¹

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim that Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “By Him in Whose hand is my soul, if you did not sin Allah would do away with you and bring a people who would sin and then ask for forgiveness from Allah ﷻ; and then He would forgive them.”²

And we relate from the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd that ‘Abdullāh ibn Mas‘ūd رضي الله عنه reported that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ liked to make du‘ā thrice and to ask for forgiveness thrice.³ This hadith was cited not long ago, in the general chapter on da‘awāt.

We relate in the books of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that one of Abū Bakr aṣ-Ṣiddīq’s رضي الله عنه freed slaves narrated that Abū Bakr reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “He is not persistent (in sin) who asks for forgiveness but then repeats it, even if he does so seventy times a day.”⁴ According to at-Tirmidhī, the isnād is not strong.

We relate in the book of at-Tirmidhī that Anas رضي الله عنه related that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: “Allah ﷻ says, ‘Son of Adam, if you supplicate to Me and have hope in Me I will forgive you, whatever your [transgression may be]; and I do not care. Son of Adam, even if your sins reached up to the clouds in the sky, if you asked Me for forgiveness I would forgive you. Son of Adam, even if you came to Me with sins enough almost to fill the entire Earth, if you then came to Me without assigning partners to Me I would come to forgiveness enough almost to fill it.’”⁵ At-Tirmidhī describes this hadith as ḥasan.

I say that ‘anān as-samā’, with a fathah on the ‘ayn, means clouds, the singular being ‘anānah. Some say that ‘anān means those clouds that are visible to you, which face you and appear to you when you raise your head towards it. As for qurāb al-arḍ, ‘enough almost to fill the entire Earth’, it has been narrated with a ḍammah on the qāf and with a kasrah, but the ḍammah is what is well-known. It means [an amount] that would approximately fill it. Among those who state that it is spelt with a kasrah is the author of al-Maṭālī.

We relate in the Sunan of Ibn Mājah, with an excellent isnād, that ‘Abdullāh ibn Busr رضي الله عنه—with a ḍammah on the bā’ and with a sīn—reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Excellent good fortune to him who finds in his book of deeds much seeking for forgiveness.”⁶

1 Abū Dāwūd (1518), Ibn Mājah (3819), and an-Nasā’ī (456).

2 Muslim (2749).

3 Abū Dāwūd (1524).

4 At-Tirmidhī (3554) and Abū Dāwūd (1514).

5 At-Tirmidhī (3534) and ad-Dārimī (2791). As-Sakhāwī grades this hadith as ḥasan in his referencing of an-Nawawī’s Arba‘īn.

6 Ibn Mājah (3818) and an-Nasā’ī (455). The author of az-Zawā‘id states that the chain for this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ and that its narrators are trustworthy.

We relate in the Sunans of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever says: I ask for the forgiveness of Allah, besides Whom there is no god, the Living, the Self-Subsisting, and I repent to Him will have his sins forgiven even if he has fled from the battlefield.”¹ According to al-Hākim this hadith is ṣaḥīḥ, according to the criteria of both al-Bukhārī and Muslim.

أَسْتَغْفِرُ اللَّهَ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ، الْحَيُّ الْقَيُّومُ، وَأَتُوبُ إِلَيْهِ.

Astagfiru-llāha-lladhī lā ilāha illā Huwa-l-Hayyu-l-Qayyūmu wa atūbu ilayh.

I say: “This subject is very extensive and abridging it is more appropriate than going into details, so we will confine ourselves to just this amount.”

ABOUT SAYING: ‘I SEEK FORGIVENESS OF ALLAH AND I TURN IN REPENTANCE TO HIM’

One of the things that are related to seeking forgiveness is that which is reported of ar-Rabī‘ ibn Khuthaym ؓ, who said: “Let none of you say ‘I ask forgiveness of Allah and I turn in repentance to Him,’ so that it is both a sin and a lie if he does do so. Instead one should say ‘O Allah forgive me and relent towards me.’” اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَتُبْ عَلَيَّ.

Allāhumma-ghfir lī wa tub ‘alayy.

What he says about ‘O Allah forgive me and relent towards me’ is sound; but as for disapproving of saying ‘I ask forgiveness of Allah’ and calling it a lie, no one will agree with him on that, because the meaning of ‘I ask forgiveness of Allah’ is ‘I seek His forgiveness’—and there is no lie in this. It is sufficient refutation of it to cite the aforementioned hadith from Ibn Mas‘ūd.

Al-Fuḍayl ؓ observed, “Asking for forgiveness without abandoning sin is the repentance of liars.” This is close to what Rābi‘ah al-‘Adawīyyah ؓ said, “Our asking forgiveness needs much asking of forgiveness.”

While clinging to the covering of the Ka‘bah, a desert Arab said: “O Allah, my asking for forgiveness in spite of persistence is iniquity, and to abandon asking for forgiveness in spite of my knowledge of the vastness of Your pardon would be feebleness. How much love You have shown me in spite of Your lack of need of me, and how much hatred I have shown You in spite of my need for You! O You Who fulfil when You promise, and forgive and pardon when You threaten, include my great transgression within Your immense pardon, o Most Merciful of those who show mercy.”

¹ Abū Dāwūd (1517) and at-Tirmidhī (3572). Al-Mundhirī states that the chain for this hadith is good and continuous.

THE PROHIBITION OF STAYING SILENT ALL DAY

WE RELATE IN the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd, with a ḥasan isnād, that ‘Alī ؓ narrated: “I memorised [this] from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: ‘One is no longer an orphan after puberty, and there is no keeping silent from day to night.’”¹

We relate in the Ma‘ālim as-Sunan of Abū Sulaymān al-Khaṭṭābī that he said in his commentary on this hadith: “One of the rituals of the days before Islam was to keep silent. An individual would keep silent for a day and a night without talking. So they were forbidden this—meaning, in Islam—and [people] were commanded to do dhikr and to say good things”.

We relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī that Qays ibn Abī Hāzim, may Allah be merciful to him, narrated that Abū Bakr visited a woman named Zaynab from Aḥmas, and he noticed that she was not speaking. He asked: “What is wrong with her that she does not speak?” They said: “She went on Hajj in silence.” He told her: “Speak, for this is not lawful: this is one of the acts of the Days of Ignorance.” She then spoke.²

THAT WAS THE last thing I intended [to discuss] in this book, but I [then] thought that I should add to it hadiths that will complete its intrinsic worth, if Allah ﷻ wills, being the hadiths that are the cardinal points of Islam, and which I had gathered in the book on zuhd (asceticism, detachment) that I have compiled. I have also compiled them elsewhere³ at length, and will refer to them here. Scholars differ widely about them; but despite the divergences between their verdicts about them and what I have added to them, there is consensus about thirty hadiths.

1. Firstly there is the hadith from ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ, “Actions are only judged according to intentions,”⁴ which was explained at the beginning of this book.
2. ‘Ā’ishah ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “If anyone introduces something in this concern of ours that does not belong to it, it is to be rejected.”⁵

¹ Abū Dāwūd (2873).

² Al-Bukhārī (3834).

³ In his Arba‘īn (Forty Hadiths).

⁴ Al-Bukhārī (1) and Muslim (1907).

⁵ Al-Bukhārī (2697), Muslim (1718), Abū Dāwūd (4606), and Ibn Mājah (14).

3. An-Nu'mān ibn Bashīr ؓ said, "I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: 'The lawful is clear and the unlawful is clear, and between them are dubious things which many people do not know about. So whoever protects himself from the dubious has made his religion and his honour sound. Whoever falls into the dubious will fall into the unlawful, like a shepherd who herds his flock around a protected pasturage which they are on the point of grazing on. Every king has his protected pasturage, and the protected pasturage of Allah ﷻ consists of the things that He has made unlawful. Know that in the body there is a piece of flesh; if it is sound, the whole body is sound and if it is corrupt, the whole body is corrupt. Certainly, it is the heart.'"¹
4. 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ؓ related: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ told us, and he is the most truthful and believable [of all people]: 'The physical form of every one of you is [assembled] in the womb of his mother for forty days as a drop of sperm; then he is a clot of blood for the same period; and then he is a piece of flesh for the same period. Next, an angel is sent to blow the spirit into him, and is then commanded to [write] four statements: to write down his provision, his lifespan, his deeds, and whether he is destined for ill or for good. So, by Him but Whom there is no god, any of you might do the deeds of the inhabitants of Paradise until there is no more than an arm's length between him and it, and then his written [destiny] overtakes him and he does the actions of the inhabitants of Hell-Fire and enters it. And any of you might do the actions of the inhabitants of Hell-Fire until there is no more than an arm's length between him and it, and then his written [destiny] overtakes him and he does the actions of the inhabitants of Paradise and enters it.'"² We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥs [of al-Bukhārī and Muslim].
5. Al-Ḥasan ibn 'Alī ؓ said: "I memorised [this] from Allah's ﷻ Messenger ﷺ: 'Leave that which causes you doubt for that which causes you no doubt'".³ We relate this in at-Tirmidhī and an-Nasā'ī. At-Tirmidhī says that it is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith. Yaribuka, or yuribuka, "causes you doubt", has either a fathah or a ḍammah on the yā'; but [yaribuka], with a fathah, is more well-known.
6. Abū Hurayrah ؓ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Part of the goodness of a man's Islam is that he abandon that which does not concern him."⁴ We relate it in the books of at-Tirmidhī and Ibn Mājah and it is ḥasan.
7. Anas ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "None of you is a real believer until he likes for his brother what he likes for himself."⁵ We relate this hadith from the two Ṣaḥīḥs.
8. Abū Hurayrah ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Allah ﷻ is Pure

1 Al-Bukhārī (52), Muslim (1599), Abū Dāwūd (3329), at-Tirmidhī (1205), and an-Nasā'ī (7/241).

2 Al-Bukhārī (3208) and Muslim (2643).

3 At-Tirmidhī (2520) and an-Nasā'ī (8/327-328).

4 At-Tirmidhī (2318) and Ibn Mājah (3976).

5 Al-Bukhārī (13), Muslim (45), an-Nasā'ī (8/115), and at-Tirmidhī (2517).

and He accepts nothing but the pure. Allah has commanded the believers to do that which He commanded the Messengers to do. Allah ﷻ says: 'O Messengers, eat of the things [which are] good and pure, and do righteous deeds; I am All-Knowing of that which you do.'¹

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الرُّسُلُ كُلُوا مِنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ وَاعْمَلُوا صَالِحًا إِنِّي بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ عَلِيمٌ﴾

Allah ﷻ also says: "O you who believe, eat of the good things that We have provided for you."²

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا كُلُوا مِن طَيِّبَاتِ مَا رَزَقْنَاكُمْ﴾

[The Prophet ﷺ] then spoke of a man who has travelled a journey and is dishevelled and covered with dust. He lifts his hands heavenwards and says: "O my Lord, my Lord!" But his food is ḥarām, his drink is ḥarām, his clothes are ḥarām and he has been nourished by the ḥarām, so how can that [call] be answered?³ We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim.

9. The hadith, "There is [to be] no causing harm or returning harm."⁴ We narrate it in the Muwattaʿa as a mursal, and in the Sunan of ad-Dāraquṭnī and others by other lines, which are continuous; and it is ḥasan.

10. Tamīm ad-Dārī ﷺ reported that the Prophet ﷺ said: "The Dīn is sincere good counsel (naṣīḥah)."[Those present] asked: "For whom?" He replied: "For Allah, His Book, His Prophet, the leaders of the believers, and the Muslims in general."⁵ We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim.

11. Abū Hurayrah ﷺ related that he heard the Prophet ﷺ say: "Whatever I have forbidden you, abstain from it; and whatever I have commanded you to do, do as much of it as you can. For those before you were only ruined by their many questions and disagreements with their Prophets."⁶ We relate it in the two Ṣaḥīḥs.

12. Sahl ibn Sa'd ﷺ narrated that a man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: "Messenger of Allah, show me a deed which if I do it Allah will love me and people will love me." He said: "Be abstinent in the world, Allah will love you; Be abstinent with respect to what people have and people will love you."⁷ This ḥasan hadith we relate from the book of Ibn Mājah.

13. 'Abdullāh ibn Mas'ūd ﷺ related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "The blood

1 Qur'ān 23:51.

2 Qur'ān 2:172.

3 Muslim (1015).

4 Al-Muwattaʿa (2/745) and Ibn Mājah (2340). Ibn Ṣalāḥ observes that there are various channels of transmission for this hadith which collectively strengthen each other and render the hadith ḥasan.

5 Muslim (55) and at-Tirmidhī (1927).

6 Al-Bukhārī (7288), Muslim (1337), at-Tirmidhī (2681), and an-Nasā'ī (5/110).

7 Ibn Mājah (4102).

of a man who bears witness that there is no god but Allah and that I am the Messenger of Allah cannot be lawfully shed unless for one of three [reasons]: a man who is or has been married who commits adultery, or as a life for a life [i.e. if he has killed someone], or if he renounces his religion and breaks away from the community.”¹ We relate this in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

14. Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “I have been commanded to fight people until they bear witness that there is no god but Allah and that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah, and they establish ṣalāh and pay the zakāh. If they do that, their blood and wealth are safe from me, except according to the right of Islam; and their reckoning is up to Allah ﷻ.”² We relate this in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

15. Ibn ‘Umar رضي الله عنه related that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: “Islam is built on five things: bearing witness that there is no god but Allah and that Muḥammad is the Messenger of Allah; establishing ṣalāh; paying zakāh; performing Hajj; and fasting in Ramadān.”³ We relate this in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

16. ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Abbās رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “If people were given according to their claims, men would claim other people’s wealth and blood. But proof is incumbent on the one who claims, and swearing an oath [is incumbent] on him who denies [the claim].”⁴ [This hadith] is ḥasan in this wording, and part of it is in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

17. Wābiṣah ibn Ma‘bad رضي الله عنه narrated that he went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, who asked: “Have you come to me to ask me about goodness (birr) and sin (ithm)?” He replied: “Yes.” [The Prophet ﷺ] said: “Ask your heart for a judgement. Goodness is that towards which the self is at ease and about which the heart is serene. Sin is that which becomes agitated in the self and which goes agitatedly to and fro in the breast, even if people repeatedly give you a judgement [as to something being permissible].”⁵ This is a ḥasan hadith, which we have related in the Musnads of Aḥmad and ad-Dārimī and elsewhere.

In the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim there is [a hadith] from an-Nawwās ibn Sam‘ān رضي الله عنه from the Prophet ﷺ who said: “Goodness is good nature, and sin is that which becomes agitated in your self and which you would hate people to discover.”⁶

18. Shaddād ibn Aws رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah has decreed excellence (iḥsān) for everything. So when you kill, do the killing excellently, and when you slaughter [an animal], perform the slaughter excellently; and let each

1 Al-Bukhārī (6878), Muslim (1676), Abū Dāwūd (4352), at-Tirmidhī (1402), and an-Nasā’ī (7/90–91).

2 Al-Bukhārī (25) and Muslim (22).

3 Al-Bukhārī (8), Muslim (16), at-Tirmidhī (2736), and an-Nasā’ī (8/107).

4 Abū Dāwūd (3619), at-Tirmidhī (1343), and an-Nasā’ī (8/248). Parts of this hadith can be found in al-Bukhārī (4552) and Muslim (1711).

5 Aḥmad (4/228) and ad-Dārimī (2/248).

6 Muslim (2553).

of you sharpen his knife and let him put the animal at ease.”¹ We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim.

19. Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should speak well or keep quiet; whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should honour his neighbour; and whoever believes in Allah and the Last Day should honour his guest.”² We relate this in both Ṣaḥīḥs.

20. Abū Hurayrah رضي الله عنه narrated that a man said to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: “Advise me.” He said: “Do not get angry.” The man repeated [his request] several times, and he ﷺ replied: “Do not get angry.”³ We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī.

21. Abū Tha‘labah al-Khushanī رضي الله عنه reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: “Allah ﷻ has made certain things obligatory, so do not neglect them; He has defined certain limits, so do not transgress them; and He has forbidden certain things, so do not violate them. He has kept silent about certain things as a mercy to you, not out of negligence, so do not investigate them.”⁴ We relate this in the Sunan of ad-Dāraquṭnī, with a ḥasan isnād.

22. Mu‘ādh رضي الله عنه narrated: “I said: ‘Messenger of Allah, tell me of a deed which will make me enter Paradise and keep me far from Hell.’ He replied: ‘You have asked about a great matter, but it is easy for those for whom Allah ﷻ has made it easy. Worship Allah and do not associate anything as a partner with Him, establish ṣalāh and pay zakāh, fast the month of Ramaḍān, and perform the pilgrimage to the House [of Allah].’ Then he said: ‘Shall I not show you the doors of good? Fasting is a shield; ṣadaqah extinguishes sin just as water extinguishes fire; and the ṣalāh of a man in the middle of the night.’ Then he recited ‘They withdraw their sides from beds. . .’ until he reached ‘. . . they do.’ Then he said: ‘Shall I not inform you of the apex of the matter, its main pillar and its pinnacle?’ I said: ‘Yes, do, Messenger of Allah.’ He said: ‘The apex of the matter is Islam, its main pillar is ṣalāh and its pinnacle is jihād.’ Then he said: ‘Shall I inform you of the foundation of all of this?’ I said: ‘Yes, Messenger of Allah.’ He took hold of his tongue and said: ‘Restrain this.’ I asked: ‘Messenger of Allah, will we be taken to task for what we say?’ He said: ‘May your mother grieve for you! Does anything cast people into Hell-Fire on their faces—or on their nostrils—but the harvest of their tongues?’”⁵ We relate this in at-Tirmidhī, and he says it is ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ. [In] dhirwat as-sanām, ‘pinnacle’ [dhirwah] is the highest part of [the sanām or camel’s hump] and it has a kasrah on the dhāl and a ḍammah. Milāk al-amr, ‘foundation’, is written with a kasrah on the mīm, and means ‘its purpose’.

1 Muslim (1955), Abū Dāwūd (2815), at-Tirmidhī (1409), and an-Nasā’ī (7/227).

2 Al-Bukhārī (6018), Muslim (47), and Abū Dāwūd (5154).

3 Al-Bukhārī (6116) and at-Tirmidhī (2021).

4 Ad-Dāraquṭnī (4/84), and al-Futūḥāt (7/365). Abū Nu‘aym in al-Hilyah, Ibn as-Sam‘ānī, al-‘Irāqī and Ibn Ḥajar grade it as ḥasan, while Ibn as-Ṣalāḥ grades it as ṣaḥīḥ.

5 Qur’ān (32:16–617).

6 At-Tirmidhī (2619) and Ibn Mājah (3973).

﴿تَتَجَافَى جُنُوبُهُمْ عَنِ الْمَضَاجِعِ﴾...﴿يَعْمَلُونَ﴾

23. Abū Dharr and Mu'adh ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Fear Allah wherever you are; follow up bad deeds with good deeds and you will eradicate them; and treat people with good character."¹ We relate this in the book of at-Tirmidhī, and he says that it is hasan; and according to some reliable recensions he says it is hasan ṣaḥīḥ.

24. Al-'Irbād ibn Sāriyah ؓ said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ admonished us with an exhortation from which our hearts filled with fear and our eyes wept. We said: 'Messenger of Allah, it seems as though this is a farewell admonition, so counsel us.' He said: 'I counsel you to fear Allah, and to listen and obey even if a slave is made your leader. Those of you who live on will witness many disputes. I advise you to hold on to my Sunnah and the Sunnah of my rightly-guided Caliphs who take the right way; bite onto it with [your] molars. Beware of newly introduced matters [in religion], for every innovation is error.'"² We relate this in the Sunan of Abū Dāwūd and at-Tirmidhī and [the latter] says that it is hasan ṣaḥīḥ.

25. Abū Mas'ūd al-Badrī ؓ reported that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "One of the things people grasped from the words of earlier prophetic messages is: 'If you do not have modesty and shame, do as you please.'"³ We relate this in the Ṣaḥīḥ of al-Bukhārī.

26. Jābir ؓ reported that a man asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ: "Do you think that if I pray the obligatory ṣalāhs, fast Ramaḍān, consider the lawful lawful and the unlawful unlawful, and do not add anything to that, I will enter Paradise?" He replied: "Yes."⁴ We relate this in Muslim.

27. Sufyān ibn 'Abdullāh ؓ related: "I said, 'Messenger of Allah, tell me something about Islam which I will not ask anyone about besides you.' He replied, 'Say: "I believe in Allah," and then go straight.'"⁵ We relate this in Muslim.

According to the learned, this hadith is one of the concise yet comprehensive sayings of Allah's Messenger ﷺ. It corresponds to the words of Allah ﷻ: "Truly those who say 'Our Lord is Allah' and then go straight shall not be feared for, nor shall they grieve."⁶

﴿إِنَّ الَّذِينَ قَالُوا رَبُّنَا اللَّهُ ثُمَّ اسْتَقَمُوا فَلَا خَوْفٌ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَا هُمْ يَحْزَنُونَ﴾

According to the majority of scholars, the meaning of the verse and the hadith is "Believe, and cling to obedience to Allah ﷻ."

¹ At-Tirmidhī (1988) and al-Futūḥāt (7/373). Ibn 'Allān comments that this hadith is hasan thanks to its numerous chains of transmission.

² Abū Dāwūd (4608), at-Tirmidhī (2678), Aḥmad (4/126-127), and Ibn Mājah (42).

³ Al-Bukhārī (5769) and Abū Dāwūd (4796).

⁴ Muslim (15).

⁵ Muslim (38) and at-Tirmidhī (2412).

⁶ Qur'ān 46:13.

28. This is the hadith transmitted by 'Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb ؓ about the questions of Jibrīl ؑ concerning Imān, Islām, Ihsān and the Hour. It is well-known in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and other books [of hadith].¹

29. 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās ؓ narrated: "I was behind the Prophet ﷺ one day, and he said: 'Boy, I am going to teach you some things. Be mindful of Allah and He will be mindful of you. Be mindful of Allah and you will find Him in front of you. If you ask, ask of Allah; and if you seek help, seek help from Allah. And know that if the Ummah were to unite to benefit you with something, they could only benefit you with something that Allah had destined for you—and if they united to harm you with anything, they could only harm you with something that Allah had destined to befall you. The pens [of destiny] have already been lifted and the pages have dried.'"² We relate this in at-Tirmidhī, and he states that it is a ḥasan ṣaḥīḥ hadith.

According to a narration from someone other than at-Tirmidhī, he ؓ said: "Be mindful of Allah and you will find Him in front of you. Come to recognise Allah in times of ease and He will recognise you in times of difficulty. And know that what missed you could not have come to you, and what has befallen you could not have missed you." According to another narration he ؓ said: "Know that with patience comes help, with distress comes relief, and with hardship comes ease." This is a hadith of tremendous rank.

30. With this I shall finish [this list of key hadiths] and conclude this book, and so we will cite it with an isnād that is original. We ask Allah ﷻ for a conclusion of goodness.

Our Shaykh al-Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Baqā' Khālīd ibn Yūsuf of Nābulūs and then later of Damascus, may Allah have mercy on him, informed us, saying: Abū Ṭālib 'Abdullāh, Abū Manṣūr Yūnus, Abū al-Qāsim al-Ḥusayn ibn Hibat Allāh Ibn Miṣrī, Abū Ya'lā Ḥamzah and Abū aṭ-Ṭāhir Ismā'il informed us saying: al-Ḥāfiẓ Abū al-Qāsim 'Alī ibn al-Ḥusayn [this being] Ibn 'Asākir informed us and said: the Sharīf Abū al-Qāsim 'Alī ibn Ibrāhīm ibn al-'Abbās al-Ḥusaynī, the [Imam] who delivered the khuṭbah in Damascus, informed us and said: Abū 'Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn 'Alī ibn Yaḥyā ibn Sulwān informed us and said: Abū al-Qāsim al-Faḍl ibn Ja'far informed us and said: Abū Bakr 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn al-Qāsim ibn al-Faraj al-Hāshimī informed us and said: Abū Mus-hir narrated to us and said: Sa'īd ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz narrated to us from Rabī'ah ibn Yazīd from Abū Idrīs al-Khawlānī who reported that Abū Dharr ؓ narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ stated that Jibrīl ؑ said that Allah ﷻ says: "O My slaves, I have made oppression unlawful to Myself and I have made it unlawful between you, so do not oppress one another. O My slaves, it is you who make mistakes day and night and I am the One Who forgives sins, and I do not care. So ask Me for forgiveness and I will forgive you. O My slaves, all of you are hungry except those whom I have fed, so ask Me for food and I will feed you. O My slaves, all of you are naked except for those whom I have clothed, so ask Me to clothe you and I will clothe you. O My slaves, even if the first and the last of you, men and jinn, had the most sinful hearts of any man among you, that would not decrease My kingdom in the least. O My slaves, even if the first and the last of you, men and jinn, had the most pious hearts of any of you, that would not increase My kingdom in the least. O My slaves, if the first and the last of you, men and jinn, were on a single plain and they asked Me and I gave every one of them whatever they asked, that would not diminish My Kingdom except by as much as the sea is diminished when a needle is dipped into it once. O My slaves, it is only your deeds that I keep against you. So whoever finds good should praise Allah ﷻ, and whoever finds anything other than that should blame none but himself."

¹ Muslim (8), at-Tirmidhī (4695), and an-Nasā'ī (8/97).

² At-Tirmidhī (2516), and Aḥmad (1/307).

Abū Mus-hir reported that Sa'īd ibn 'Abd al-'Azīz said: "When Abū Idrīs related this hadith he would kneel."

This is a ṣaḥīḥ hadith which we relate in the Ṣaḥīḥ of Muslim and elsewhere.¹ The narrators of the isnād, from me up to Abū Dharr ؓ, are all from Damascus, and Abū Dharr ؓ came to Damascus. A number of special merits are combined in this hadith, such as the soundness of its isnād and its text, the shortness of the isnād, and its having a chain of Damascus men, may Allah be pleased with them and may He bless them. Furthermore [this hadith] comprises explanations of tremendous principles of the roots of the Dīn and its branches, and etiquettes, fine points of the heart, and so on. And all praise belongs to Allah.

We have related from Imam Abū 'Abdullāh Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, may Allah Most High have mercy on him and be well pleased with him, that he said: "The people of Syria have no nobler hadith than this one."

CONCLUSION

THAT IS THE end of what I intended to [include] in this book. Allah the Most Generous has blessed it, as much as it deserves, with valuable and useful lessons, subtle points of various branches of knowledge and important matters related to them, excellent inner truths (ḥaqā'iq) and what is sought from them, and commentary on the āyāt of the Mighty Qur'ān and what is meant by them; authentic hadiths and explanations of their purport; and explanation of some points regarding the science of chains of narrators, the details of jurisprudence and the workings of the heart, among other things. Allah is the One Who is to be praised for that, and for His innumerable other favours. It is out of His Benevolence that He has guided me to this [material] and granted me the ability to compile it, made it easy for me, helped me, and blessed me in completing it. To Him belong praise, gracious bestowal, bounty, superabundance and gratitude. I hope, by the grace of Allah Most High, for the du'ā' of a pious brother which will benefit me by bringing me near to Allah, the Most Generous; and I hope that some of it may benefit any Muslim who is seeking goodness, and that I may help him to perform those actions which bring the pleasure of our Lord.

¹ Muslim (2577) and at-Tirmidhī (2497).

I entrust to Allah, the Most Generous, the Gracious and Merciful—for myself, my parents, our loved ones, our brothers, those who have done good to us, and all of the Muslims—our religion, our trusts and our concluding deeds, and all that Allah Most High has blessed us with. I ask Him, Incomparably Perfect is He, that all of us may follow the path of guidance, and for protection from [lapsing into] the states of the people of deviation and stubbornness, together with consistency in that and all other virtues, and increase in them. I implore Him to grant us success in doing what is right in all words and deeds, and in following in the footsteps of those endowed with insight and intellect, for He is the Vastly Generous and Ceaseless Giver. I have no success except by Allah; on Him do I rely, and to Him I turn in repentance. Allah is sufficient for me, and how excellent a Guardian! There is no power or strength except by Allah, the All-Mighty, the All-Wise.

All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of the Worlds, the First and the Last, the Manifest and the Hidden. May His most perfect and complete blessings and peace be upon our Master Muḥammad, the best of all of His Creation, as often as those who remember Him remember Him and whenever those unmindful of His remembrance are unmindful—and upon all the Prophets and their families, and all righteous people.

THE END OF THE BOOK

The compiler, Abū Zakariyyā Muḥyī al-Dīn, may Allah pardon him, said:

“I completed [this work] in Muḥarram of the year 667 [A.H., equivalent to September–October 1268], except for a few words that I added thereafter. I give all Muslims permission to transmit it.”

May Allah bless our Master Muḥammad and all his family.

CHAIN OF TRANSMISSION

In the name of Allāh Alone, and blessings and salutations be upon the one after whom there will be no Prophet.

To proceed, I have authorized all those who come across this book or look through it with my chains of transmission. I narrate Kitāb al-Adhkār, named as Hilyat al-Abrār, by Imām Muḥyī ad-Dīn Abū Zakariyyā Yaḥyā an-Nawawī on the authority of my father Shaykh Muḥammad and my uncle Shaykh ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān; both from their father Shaykh Abū Bakr ibn Shaykh ‘Abdullāh al-Mullā; from Sayyid Aḥmad ibn Zaynī Daḥlān; from ‘Uthmān ibn Ḥasan ad-Dimyāṭī.

[Another chain.] [My father and my uncle] both also narrate on the authority of Shaykh Khalifah ibn Ḥamd an-Nabhānī; from Sayyid Muḥammad Amīn Riḍwān al-Madanī; from Shaykh Surūr ibn Muḥammad al-Zawāwī ad-Damanhūrī; from Sayyid Ḥasan al-Quwaysanī.

Both [Dimyāṭī and Quwaysanī] narrate from al-Amīr al-Kabīr; from Shams Muḥammad ibn Sālim al-Ḥifnī; from Shaykh Muḥammad ibn ‘Alī al-Yamanī al-‘Alawī; from Muḥammad ibn Sa’d al-Dīn; from Muḥammad Ibn at-Tarjumān; from ‘Abd al-Waḥhāb al-Sha‘rānī; from Burhān ibn Abī Sharīf al-Maqdisī; from al-Badr al-Qabbānī; from Muḥammad Ibn al-Khabbāz; from the author, Imām Muḥyī ad-Dīn Abū Zakariyyā’ Yaḥyā ibn Sharaf ad-Dīn an-Nawawī.

[Another chain.] I narrate it also from our Shaykh, Muḥammad Yāsīn ibn Muḥammad ‘Isā al-Fādānī al-Makkī; from Ḥabīb ‘Aydarūs ibn Sālim al-Bār; from his father. He [Fādānī] also narrates from Sayyid Ḥusayn ibn Muḥammad al-Ḥabshī; and both of them from ‘Allāmah Sayyid Aḥmad ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Aydarūs al-Bār; from al-Wajīh ‘Abd al-Raḥmān ibn Muḥammad al-Kuzbarī; from his father Muḥammad al-Kuzbarī the Middle; from his father ‘Abd al-Raḥmān al-Kuzbarī the Elder; from Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn ‘Aqīlah; from Abī al-Asrār Ḥasan ibn ‘Alī al-‘Ujaymī; from Najm Muḥammad al-Ghazzī; from his father Badr Muḥammad al-Ghazzī; from al-Ḥāfiẓ as-Suyūṭī; from Shaykh al-Islām ‘Alam ad-Dīn al-Bulqīnī; from Abū Ishāq Ibrāhīm ibn Aḥmad at-Tannūkhī; from Shaykh ‘Alā’ al-Dīn ibn al-‘Aṭṭār, from its author, Imām an-Nawawī.

And blessings and salutations be upon our Master Muḥammad, and upon his Family and Companions.

Written by the one in need of the forgiveness of his Lord
YAḤYĀ IBN SHAYKH MUḤAMMAD IBN ABĪ BAKR AL-MULLĀ

بسم الله الرحمن الرحيم. الحمد لله وحده والصلاة والسلام على من لا نبي بعده:
أما بعد: فقد أجزت كل من وقف أو تصفح هذا الكتاب بأسانيد. فأروي كتاب الأذكار
المسمى بحلية الأبرار للأمام محي الدين أبي زكريا يحيى النووي عن والدي الشيخ محمد والعم
الشيخ عبد الرحمن عن والدهما الشيخ أبو بكر بن الشيخ عبد الله الملا عن السيد أحمد بن
زيني دحلان عن عثمان بن حسن الدمياطي (ح)
كما يرويه عن الشيخ خليفة بن حمد النبهاني عن السيد محمد أمين رضوان المدني عن
الشيخ سرور بن محمد الزواوي الدمنهوري عن السيد حسن القويسني
كلاهما عن الأمير الكبير عن الشمس محمد بن سالم الحفني عن الشيخ محمد بن علي
اليمني العلوي عن محمد بن سعد الدين عن محمد بن الترجمان عن عبد الوهاب الشعراني عن
البرهان بن أبي شريف المقدسي عن البدر القباني عن محمد بن الخباز عن المؤلف الأمام
محي الدين أبي زكريا يحيى بن شرف الدين النووي (ح)
وأرويه أيضا عن شيخنا محمد ياسين بن محمد عيسى الفاداني المكي عن الحبيب عيدروس
بن سالم البار عن أبيه، والسيد حسين بن محمد الحبشي.
كلاهما عن العلامة السيد أحمد بن عبد الله بن عيدروس البار عن الوجه عبد الرحمن
بن محمد الكزبري عن أبيه محمد الكزبري الأوسط عن أبيه عبد الرحمن الكزبري الكبير عن
محمد بن أحمد بن عقيلة عن أبي الأسرار حسن بن علي العجيمي عن النجم محمد الغزي عن
أبيه البدر محمد الغزي عن الحافظ السيوطي عن شيخ الإسلام علم الدين البلقيني عن أبي أسحاق إبراهيم بن أحمد التنوخي عن الشيخ علاء الدين بن العطار عن مؤلفه الأمام النووي.
وصلّى الله على سيدنا محمد وعلى آله وصحبه وسلم.

كتبه الفقير الى غفران ربه

يحيى بن الشيخ محمد بن أبي بكر الملا

KIRAH al-Amr is the definitive compilation of words of remembrance and glorification of Allah, and supplicatory prayer to Him, the Lord of the Universes, as related from His final Messenger, the Prophet Muhammad (may Allah bless and exalt him). Obedience and devotion lie at the very heart of the al-Kitāh, the relationship between creature and Creator. As part of the Ishtihāq or Prophetic Way, they are a divinely appointed means of approaching Allah Most High for all our needs, and of making use of all the moments of daily life to strengthen our worship, the existential and cognitive unity that is the hallmark of Muslim spirituality. Also covered are the vital principles of speaking only what is good and avoiding the vice of the tongue.

The author, Master of the Yahud Ibn Sharaf al-Nawawi (1233-1295), devoted his entire life to the pursuit of sacred knowledge. He is revered throughout the Islamic world as one of its greatest authorities. Among his most famous writings are the Arba'in, a collection of forty Hadiths, a commentary on the habits of Islamic Muslims and Kitāh al-Kitāb.

Designed as a reference guide and a source of inspiration, this volume presents a clear and elegant English translation of Imam al-Nawawi's classic, together with the text of every single prayer and invocation, both in Arabic letters and in romanisation. Also included are all the author's statements about those Hadiths which he related personally from his own teachers, and his guidance on the correct spelling and meanings of rare words and names. Finally, al-Nawawi's comments on the sources of Hadiths are supplemented by further scholarly notes.

THE ISLAMIC PUBLISHING HOUSE
www.itharab.co.uk

ISBN 9781906149198

9 781906 149198

KITAB AL-ADHAR is the definitive compilation of words of remembrance and glorification of (dhikr), and supplicatory prayer to (du'a'), the Lord of the Universe, as related from His final Embassy, the Prophet Muhammad (may Allah bless and exalt him). Dhikr and du'a' lie at the very heart of the deen, the relationship between creature and Creator. As part of the Sunnah or Prophetic Way, they are a divinely appointed means of approaching Allah Most High for all our needs, and of making use of all the moments of daily life to strengthen our tawhid, the existential and cognitive Unity that is the hallmark of Muslim spirituality. Also covered are the vital principles of speaking only what is good and avoiding the sins of the tongue.

The author, Shihab al-Din Yahya ibn Sharaf al-Nawawi (631-676/1231-1277), devoted his entire life to the pursuit of sacred knowledge. He is revered throughout the Sunni world as one of its greatest authorities. Among his most famous writings are the Arba'in, a collection of forty Hadiths; a commentary on the Sahih of Imam Muslim; and Kitab al-Adhkar.

Designed as a reference guide and a source of inspiration, this volume presents a clear and elegant English translation of Imam al-Nawawi's classic, together with the text of every single prayer and invocation, both in Arabic letters and in romanisation. Also included are all the author's statements about those Hadiths which he related personally from his own teachers, and his guidance on the correct spelling and meanings of rare words and names. Finally, al-Nawawi's comments on the sources of Hadiths are supplemented by further scholarly notes.

DAR AL-FAROOQ PUBLISHING
WWW.DARALFAAROOQ.CO.UK

ISBN 978-1-906907-94-8

9 781906 949198